A quorum was declared present.

Rep. Holand moved that the Chief Clerk appoint a committee of three to escort the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker appointed as such committee Reps. Holand, Baker and Bubel.

Chief Justice Morris was then escorted to the rostrum and administered the oath of office to the 111 members present.

The Chief Clerk announced the next order of business would be election of Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Rep. Holand: I wish to place in nomination for the position of Speaker of the North Dakota House of Representatives a member whom I consider as being highly deserving of this honor and most capable of filling this position. I feel that the selection of this particular person would be a most fortunate choice for this body. I believe this for a number of reasons. The first reason why this is true is the fact that this man whom I have in mind is a person who has devoted practically all of his life to farming and to the general field of agriculture. We who are living in North Dakota are very dependent upon agriculture as our means of livelihood. This is one of the principal assets that has been bestowed upon us—our rich fields and our fertile lands. Practically all of our economy is based upon agriculture, whether we live on farms or whether we happen to live in cities. Certainly the selection of a man who has devoted his lifetime to this field would be a most fortunate selection by this organization. I feel also that the selection of this young man would be a fortunate choice for another reason, that is the fact that he comes from the western part of North Dakota. In checking the records as to the choice of Speakers down through the years it has happened that most of the Speakers have been in the eastern and central part of our state. The western part of North Dakota is playing a very important part in the economy of our state and nation. After those people out there recovered from that very severe drouth they have shown their very fine caliber by bouncing back, you might say and making western North Dakota play a very essential and important part in our economy. There is a diversified form of agriculture. They contribute a great deal to our state in many ways and it is but a fitting recognition of that important sector of our state that we should select someone from that section of North Dakota for the position and the honor of Speaker of this group. Then finally I believe that his choice would be a fortunate one for still another reason and that is the fact that I am convinced that he would do an excellent job for us. This person has served in this session four times and he is now going on his fifth term. He is very well trained and qualified in this work. He would be very, very fair and reasonable to all groups and all factions. In short, I think he would do an excellent job as Speaker, and so my fellow representatives, it gives me a great deal of pleasure and I feel that it is a high honor to be able to place in nomination a fine North Dakotan and a worthy fellow Representative for the office of Speaker of this session, Mr. Leo Sticka of Stark County. Thank you.

Rep. Wolf: Mr. Chief Clerk and Members of this Assembly. I rise to nominate a man from the western part of the state in order to get a man from the west. I believe we are pretty much agreed that the western part of the state should be honored by the position of Speaker during this session. Now, this man I have in mind, the name I am going to mention later on, and I know you are all going to be familiar with that name, I believe, and I know according to the records, his father served three sessions in this House—1925, 1927 and 1929—prior to this young man coming to the session. Now, I also know that he has worked in this House. Before he was elected a Member of the House he was Bill Clerk and I know this man spent more time, as far as your legislative machinery is supposed to function, than any other man that I ever served with. He knows the ropes, all the angles, and also how to go about things in the legislature, better than any one of us in here. He has served you for the last two sessions as Floor Leader and I believe you can all agree he has done a wonderful job. I don't think there is any member on either side of the aisle that can complain about his fairness. He has always been fair, honest, conscientious in his decisions and I know if I should get the support of this assembly to select this man as Speaker, he is going to do a wonderful job and we will have a harmonious session to work together for the interest of all the people of the State of North Dakota as we did in the 1949 session. I think we had a wonderfully fine session in 1949 and this happens to be my sixth session and this man that I am about to place in nomination is none other than my good friend Walter Bubel of Oliver County and I deem it a great honor and a privilege to make this nomination, and I hope that I can get the backing of this assembly to elect Walter Bubel as Speaker of this legislative assembly.

Rep. Hafner: It gives me great pleasure to second the nomination of Walter Bubel. He is a man as has been stated from the west of the river. He is from my district, a district composed of Mercer, Oliver and Dunn. He is a farmer. He lives on his farm. He is a man that is progressive, active, honest and I know that if he is elected Speaker of the House he will make us a wonderful Speaker.

Rep. Langseth (Eddy-Foster): I would like to second the nomination of Walter Bubel. We are proud to have such a man in our midst and to place his name in nomination before the House here for the highest honor that it is possible for this body to give. He is a man with the highest qualifications. As Floor Leader he has demonstrated his ability and he has the respect of all members regardless of faction. Walter Bubel has always been a tireless worker for the good of the State of North Dakota and he has demonstrated that he is dependable, impartial and fearless in the discharge of his duty. We will make no mistake in conferring on Walter Bubel this honor which he so highly deserves, as we know that he will do as fine a job as presiding officer as any man can do. I take pleasure in seconding the nomination of Walter Bubel for Speaker.

Rep. Fitch: I take pleasure in seconding the nomination of the gentlemen from western North Dakota, the cowboy county of North Dakota, Stark County. I know that Mr. Sticka will be fair, impartial and I am very confident he will be an excellent presiding officer and again I say we from the eastern part of the state desire to second the nomination of Rep. Sticka.

Rep. Monke: Mr. Chief Clerk I also rise to second the nomination of Leo Sticka of Dickinson for the position of Speaker.

Rep. Link: Mr. Chief Clerk I rise to second the nomination of our good floor leader and our friend Walter Bubel not only because he is from the western end of the state but for other reasons as well. Having served with Walter in the legislature here, having served with him on one of the important legislative committees, having had the opportunity of observing his activities and the remarks and observations of those who have known him longer than I have, his fine parliamentary record here in the House of Representatives, it behooves us to consider Walter Bubel for the important job of Speaker of the House of Representatives. Your McKenzie County delegation heartily seconds the nomination of Walter Bubel as Speaker of the House.

Rep. Levine: Mr. Chief Clerk, coming from the north-eastern section of the state I do not believe we should pick the Speaker necessarily from any particular section but on account of his qualifications and what we know of his past record. I have worked with Walter Bubel for a good many sessions and so have a good many others in this House. I think they will all agree with me that he is probably the best qualified and as fair as any man could possibly be so I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of Walter Bubel.

Rep. Klefstad: We in this House have been blessed with wonderful Speakers and we are going to be blessed with a wonderful Speaker regardless of which one of the two candidates we elect. It has been my privilege to work with one of the candidates in the few sessions I have been here. He was one of the first members of this group whom I could call by his first name and whom I could sit across the table from and he would call me by my first name and he is a man who is a friend, I believe, of all the members of this house. There is no man who could be elected but what there is a little resentment but I think if we forget resentment and forget the prejudices, which we will have to forget anyway, and work with the representative whose nomination I am happy to second, we can help to have another session of unity and harmony. For the number of new members present I want to say that I know they can sit down across the table from him and he will render them every assistance. He will give them aid and comfort in their trouble as he did for me, and it is with great pleasure that I second the nomination of Leo Sticka.

Rep. Beede: I rise to second the nomination of Walter Bubel. At the same time I heartily agree with the sentiments expressed by the last Representative for I know that whichever way the vote goes we are going to have a good man as Speaker of the House of Representatives. But we in America believe in the American way. That is the way whereby a young fellow starts from the ground and works his way up in any business, profession or in any group of people. Walter Bubel started in this legislature, you might say, from the ground up. He came here as an employee and he worked several sessions in various capacities in which he demonstrated his ability always working from one job to a better job, better fitted to his capabilities. Now he has gone on demonstrating those capabilities and I say he certainly has demonstrated to all of us his worth and ability, so much so that if we are going to go by the old American way of awarding those who have worked their way up from the ground, then we should cast our vote for Walter Bubel.

Rep. Wollitz moved that the nominations be closed.

Which motion prevailed.

Passed:

Bubel Sticka

Rep. Bubel moved that the vote by which Rep. Sticka was elected Speaker be made unanimous. Which motion prevailed.

Rep. Sailer moved that the Chief Clerk appoint a committee of two to escort the newly elected Speaker to the rostrum. Which motion prevailed.

The Chief Clerk appointed Rep. Sailer and Rep. Weber as such committee. The committee escorted Rep. Sticka to the rostrum.

Rep. Baker moved that the Chief Clerk appoint a committee of two to escort the Chief Justice to the rostrum to administer the oath of office to the Speaker. Which motion prevailed.

The Chief Clerk appointed Reps. Baker and Acheson as such Committee, which Committee escorted the Chief Justice to the rostrum where he administered the oath of office to Rep. Sticka as Speaker of the House.

Speaker Sticka addressed the House as follows: Fellow Members of this Assembly. There are times, occasions in a person's life when words will not adequately express the sentiments that prevail in a man's inter sanctum. You have just bestowed upon me the highest honor that is within your power to bestow upon any one of your members. I shall be forever grateful to all of you. Realizing my own limitations I will say that I need the cooperation of each and every one of you of the minority faction, as well as of the majority.

We are not meeting in normal times. It matters little or not too much what we say here, but it is what we do here in the next sixty days. Our job has been somewhat more complicated recently by the events and affairs in other parts of the world. You and I will readily admit that basically we are an agricultural state. In looking over the membership of this House we see people from all walks of life, a cross-section of the population of the people represented in the membership of this House. I am sure that each and everyone of you came here with the same idea in mind, that before we leave here, North Dakota, its population, shall have been served. To that end I pledge myself and once more let me say thank you for the kindness you have bestowed upon me. Thank you.

The Speaker called for nominations for the position of Chief Clerk.

Rep. Fitch: The gentleman I am going to propose as Chief Clerk I doubt will have any opposition at all. He has served in this house in every capacity that I can think of from page boy on up. He has been one of the most efficient Chief Clerks we have ever had and I am simply going to say that I propose the name of Kenneth Morgan of Walcott for the position of Chief Clerk.

Rep. Bubel: The name that Mr. Fitch has just placed in nomination, Mr. Kenneth Morgan, is very well known to the older members of this assembly, and especially myself. When I first started to work here in the 1937 session it was Mr. Morgan who helped me over a lot of the rough spots. I know from that experience that he is very capable and he has served us in the capacity of Chief Clerk. There is no doubt he can handle the job and we will make no mistake at this time if we elect Kenneth Morgan as Chief Clerk.

Rep. Holand moved the nominations be closed, which motion prevailed.

The oath of office was administered to Kenneth L. Morgan by Speaker Sticka.

Rep. Bubel moved that the House extend its thanks to Mr. George Olson for coming back and opening the Thirty-second Legislative Session and for the fine job he did at the last session, also that Mr. Olson be paid per diem for five days and mileage for coming to Bismarck to open the session, as has been customary in the past.

Which motion prevailed.

Rep. Fitch moved that the mileage voted for Chief Clerk Olson be considered to be from Tacoma, Washington, to Bismarck and return. Which motion prevailed.

George Olson:

Gentlemen, I want to thank each and every one of you for the expression of good wishes that you have just passed. It was a pleasure and a privilege to have served this group as their Chief Clerk in their 1949 legislative session. I enjoyed every minute of it and I know Mr. Morgan, your incoming Chief Clerk, who has had ample experience, will conduct the affairs of this desk in a very efficient and outstanding manner. It so happens that the 14th of October Uncle Sam called me to active duty in the Air Force. For a good many of you, it may be the first time you have seen the new Air Force uniform. A lot of people still think I am a Canadian down here on leave. I want to thank you again and some time after the first of February I am going to be stationed at Albuquerque, New Mexico, and you will be hearing from me either by wire or letter because I want to keep all the members of this House informed as to my whereabouts and if any of you get down in that area Mrs. Olson and I extend a cordial welcome to each and every one of you to stop in. Maybe the best we can do is a cup of coffee but you have that invitation.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A Senate Committee of three, Senator Shure, Chairman, informed the House that the Senate was organized and ready to do business.

Rep. Callahan: Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to place in nomination the name of John Koehn as Assistant Chief Clerk. John Koehn comes from Cavalier County and we are proud of this fine young man. He has served as Assistant Chief Clerk during the 1947 session and it gives me great pleasure at this time to present the name of John Koehn as Assistant Chief Clerk.

So John Koehn was elected Assistant Chief Clerk.

Rep. Bubel: About the first time I ever went into a North Dakota legislative assembly was back in 1925 when my father was a member and at that time there was a young lady acting as Desk Reporter of that session and that is the lady I have in mind now to place in nomination for Desk Reporter for this session. The members of that 1925 session were well pleased with her work and also at further sessions of the legislature for they kept re-hiring her. Then she moved over to the Senate and after she was over there and taught them how to run the Senate she went to Washington where she was employed by former Senator Nye and so now she not only knows about the legislative procedure in the state but she also knows about the procedure in our national capital. It gives me great pleasure to present the name of Margaret O. Sheehan for Desk Reporter for the Thirty-second legislative assembly.

Rep. Langley: I would like to place before this assembly the name of Oswald Kruisk. Mr. Kruisk has been a Door Keeper or Sergeant-at-Arms, in fact he has been working around this door for about ten years so I will not try to tell you anything about him. All of you who have been here any time before this session are pretty well acquainted with Ozzie, as we call him. He is from my county and I am pleased at this time to place his name before this assembly as a candidate for the office of Sergeant-at-Arms.

Rep. Wadson: I want to second the nomination of Oswald Kruisk. The past two sessions I have served here in this house I think Ozzie had the job of Sergeant-at-Arms, or as Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms. I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of Oswald Kruisk for the position of Sergeant-at-Arms.

Rep. Klefstad: I may have to sit beside the Sergeant-at-Arms so I naturally want to be one of the fellows that seconded his nomination. I second the nomination of Oswald Kruisk for the position of Sergeant-at-Arms.

Rep. Fuglestad: I also want to second the nomination of Oswald Kruisk. We know he is a man that can take care of the job, whether it is to keep people out or keep us in.

Rep. Wolf: I also wish to second the nomination of Oswald Kruisk, and I further move that the nominations be closed. Which motion prevailed.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR AANDAHL

To the Thirty-Second Legislative Assembly and Biennial Report to The People of North Dakota:

It was with regret that I found it necessary, in response to another public duty, to leave the state in advance of this joint legislative session and yield the privilege of personally saying farewell. There is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing, however, that as a result of the splendid work done by the Legislature during the three previous sessions while I was governor and a wholesome atmosphere of friendly working cooperation among all departments during that period, the government of our state is now in excellent condition. As I leave the Governor's Office, I am also happy to reflect that it is being taken over by the Honorable Norman Brunsdale, an able statesman of wide experience, sincere purpose and great confidence in the American way of doing things. I am sure that the Legislature will work with him in finding wise answers to the many problems that lie ahead. In this message it is my intention to outline a few conclusions that have come from my experiences and that I hope will be helpful in achieving that purpose.

HIGHWAYS

During the 1949 session the Legislature appropriated $8,849,376.00 from the state's general fund to match federal aid in highway and bridge construction. About the same amount will be required for federal matching during the next biennium. All regular and currently established state highway revenue is needed for maintenance and the retirement of highway anticipation certificates authorized in 1944. In fact it is not enough for those purposes, but if snow removal costs, which come out of maintenance, do not run too high, the department will get along. IT IS ALMOST IMPERATIVE, HOWEVER, THAT ENOUGH ADDITIONAL MONEY BE FOUND TO MATCH ALL AVAILABLE FEDERAL AID FOR NEW CONSTRUCTION. By keeping the construction program going, as it has during the past four years, at the rate of about $9,000,000.00 per year, which the matching of all federal funds will do, the cost of snow removal and maintenance is gradually reduced and the state is steadily getting more miles of the kind of roads that all the people want. Definite suggestions will be made during this session for proper financing. ROAD WORK FINANCING SHOULD BE KEPT ON A CASH BASIS. Do not authorize bonds or more certificates. During the past six years the state has followed that policy even to the point of not issuing the certificates authorized in 1944 much faster than the cash in the sinking fund would retire them. HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION IS A CONTINUING, NEVER ENDING RESPONSIBILITY AND UNDER PRESENT NORTH DAKOTA CONDITIONS SHOULD BE PAID FOR AS IT IS DONE, NOT OBLIGATING THE FUTURE BOTH FOR ITS WORK AND THE PRESENT WORK.

BALANCED BUDGET

The report of the state Budget Board, which you now have, has been carefully prepared. Two members and the director visited the institutions and then many days were spent here at the Capitol determining the final figures. The recommendations of the budget board will well take care of all institutions and departments during the next two years and are just nicely within the state's estimated income. The state had apparently reached the peak of postwar prosperity more than a year ago and tax revenue under established rates has shown a sizable reduction since then. THE STATE, LIKE PRIVATE BUSINESS, MUST ADJUST ITSELF TO CHANGING ECONOMIC CONDITIONS. If it is going to remain financially strong and able to do effectively and continuously the many things desired by the people, it must keep its normal operating expenditures within the estimated income and maintain in its various funds a reasonable working balance. THERE WILL BE MANY REQUESTS FOR INCREASES IN THE RECOMMENDED APPROPRIATIONS, BUT I URGE THE LEGISLATURE, AND PARTICULARLY ITS APPROPRIATION COMMITTEES, TO STAY CLOSE TO THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE BUDGET BOARD EXCEPT FOR SUCH MINOR CHANGES AS MIGHT BE JUSTIFIED BY NEW INFORMATION. The Legislature should look for additional opportunities to save and reduce appropriations. With the present size of the state's total appropriation and less than twenty per cent of the revenue to the general fund available from property tax against only the uncollected portions of which certificates of indebtedness and registered warrants can be issued. THE LEGISLATURE SHOULD NEVER ADJOURN WITH LESS THAN A $5,000,000.00 UNENCUMBERED BALANCE IN THE GENERAL FUND after appropriations have been carefully weighed against anticipated income. The state currently has such a balance of a little better than $10,000,000.00.

JOIN FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY

Recently Congress has enacted amendments under which employees of the state and its political subdivisions can be covered by social security. It would seem advisable now to dissolve our state Old Age and Survivors Insurance Act both to avoid duplicating functions of government and to give employees interchangeable credit toward social security benefits from both state and private employment.

AID WATER DEVELOPMENT

In the Missouri Basin there is a tremendous federal water development program well along in the construction stage. Much work is being done in North Dakota. The success, particularly in local use of potential benefits, is dependent upon initiative and cooperation at the state and community level. Our Game and Fish Department, with the aid of local groups, is making excellent progress in the planning and early construction state. Much has been accomplished in limited areas in flood control and supplying municipal water. Provision for the generation and equitable distribution of low cost hydroelectric power seem to be well under way.

The development of irrigation, however, poses more difficult problems. Federal reclamation law is geared primarily to arid public lands where nothing grows without water. We are on the eastern frontier of irrigation where rainfall is sufficient only intermittently for reasonably good crops.

Our state irrigation laws are modeled somewhat after those of the arid public land areas. They need some amendment to stimulate the development of irrigation and yet we must be mindful of the rights of well established dry land farmers whose land will be irrigated if we are to have development. Irrigation will give our state a dependable source of winter feed for livestock and with the production of other specialized crops have a sizable stabilizing and expanding influence on agriculture.

It is important to speed our work at the state level. The overall federal plan gives North Dakota an opportunity for its equitable share of irrigation development. Water rights, however, basinwide are established by prior use, and we must develop our equitable potential before it is used somewhere else. Fifty years from now there will be very little unclaimed water in the Missouri Basin. Now is the time to get busy. I ask that the Legislature give close attention and support to the suggestions and work of the state Water Commission.

REFRAIN FROM PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF BUSINESS

It is fully in order to give some consideration to this subject following an indorsement of the federal water development program in the Missouri Basin. Full comprehensive development of this enormous river system is so expansive, the multiple benefits of many single projects are so widely dispersed, the repayment for reimbursable portions of the initial construction cost extended so far into the future and the intangible and unassessable benefits are so large that the basic development immediately gets beyond the scope of private enterprise and becomes a public function if it is going to be accomplished. The objective of the program, however, should not be to give government ownership to anything that can be effectively done by private enterprise. Its big purpose should be to conserve and make more abundantly available a neglected inexhaustable great natural resource for the use of the people through the avenues of private enterprise. With our local cooperation this can be accomplished.

Our state has had a sizable experience in public ownership, some of it good and some of it bad. From time to time proposals are made for new and additional ventures. If the field is being or can be handled by any of the forms of private enterprise—individual ownership, partnership, corporation or cooperative—government should leave it alone. To do otherwise is to drift gradually into socialism. A careful analysis of any good field of business should indicate a possible profit if the state took it over, but if we get into that trend there just is no place to stop short of complete socialism. We should not do it even to bring our state new industry that presently is located elsewhere.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE IS THE SPARKPLUG THAT HAS MADE AMERICAN PRODUCTION CLICK. It has given us a greater wealth of consumer goods available to the rank and file of our people than has ever been or ever will be possible under any other economic system. It is the tax base that supports our cherished form of government for a free people. WE IN GOVERNMENT SHOULD NOT ABSORB

THE ESTABLISHED OR POTENTIAL FUNCTIONS OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE.GOLDEN AGE

The past ten years have been a Golden Age in North Dakota prosperity even though shadowed by almost continuous federal deficit spending and the sorrow and trials of the impact of World War II and the present Korean outbreak. They have been ten years of record agricultural production and war created high prices. They have liquidated in sizable measure the private debts of the people and the public debts of the state and its political subdivisions and replaced them with reserve and saving accounts. They have given an opportunity to build anew many things that had been neglected in the past.

The School Land Department has moved out of apparent insolvency in its farm loan program to a point where the resale of acquired land shows a good profit. The Land Department of the Bank of North Dakota, after earlier using $19,564,448.39 of tax money for interest and principal on real estate bonds, has now almost completed a profitable sale of its remaining land. The state has reached an all time peak in road building and maintenance in both mileage and quality of work. The tax base for the common schools has been strengthened and associated with county and state equalization to a point where the schools can better reach the goals of modern requirements in education. State colleges and penal and charitable institutions have enjoyed the benefits of a broad building program and adequate appropriations for other purposes. Public health and welfare have had their share of attention. The State Mill and Elevator, the Bank of North Dakota and other established state businesses have reflected the trend of the period.

These things have all been accomplished for our state because the times were good and because there has been a sincere and honest attempt made by many people to take maximum advantage of those opportunities in a sound and substantial way.

The Legislature during the next sixty days is going to cut the pattern for our state government for the next two years. If the outbursts of political rivalry can be subdued and issues determined by an unbiased measure of their merit, the final decisions will be wise and will chart the course needed to safeguard the splendid accomplishments of the past and lead the way to new achievements ahead.

I have great confidence in the people of North Dakota and the members they have elected to represent them in the Legislature. They are the descendants and heirs of the rugged pioneers who braved the elements, settled this area and made a vast productive garden out of an unconquered wilderness. The problems of today are not merely those that effect us locally in our state, but also those that make us part of a great nation in a troubled world. Out of the deliberations now beginning will unfold the wisdom, the fortitude and the decision commanded by the deep responsibility placed upon this legislative body. Good luck and best wishes in the big task ahead.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR BRUNSDALE

To the Thirty-Second Legislative Assembly and Biennial Report to The People of North Dakota:

Introduction

We are meeting here today to witness the opening of the Thirty-Second Legislative Session and to install the recently elected officials of our state.

As one who has served in several legislative sessions of the past, I can appreciate the responsibility that is yours, and particularly can I do so as to those of you who have been elected for the first time. As the new governor of our state I am also assuming a new position. May our joint labors during this session keep us mindful of our responsibilities to our state and nation as the constitutions of each provide.

AMERICA TODAY

Our country today is in the most critical period of its history. War in Korea and our present relations with many nations of the world have brought this distressing realization to everybody's attention. The induction into the Federal Service last September of the 231st Engineer Combat Battalion, the alerting and the notice of induction into Federal Service on January 16th of 164th Infantry Regiment and the 188th Field Artillery Battalion of the North Dakota National Guard has impressed upon us the sacrifices America must make for her defense. We have often felt in the past that whatever was done to meet the problems facing us as a nation resulted in failure and frustration. Likewise the efforts of the United Nations have appeared quite powerless to cope with it all.

Our federal administration has now declared a national emergency. Congress will implement this decision with legislation that will prepare us for complete national defense. We hope time will permit mobilization of our resources and manpower so that another war can be avoided. As a result we may have to be prepared for controls similar in part, if not in scope to those imposed during World War II.

If emergency legislation by our state is deemed essential to conform to those adopted by the nation, I believe it should be limited as to the time it remains effective. Under our form of government time limitations on both the state and national level are important, lest the rights of the individual as guaranteed to him by the Constitution are unduly restricted or denied after the emergency is over.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Already measures have been adopted by counties and cities in the state for civilian defense. This is important in order to provide for extreme eventualities. Consideration should be given to the recommendations of the state director of civilian defense and his committee as to legislation that may be necessary.

THE 1950 MIRACLE CROP

In spite of a late and backward spring a crop was seeded a month to two months late in 1950. Swarms of destructive aphids, unfavorable weather, and a new form of rust which reduced the yield or destroyed fields of durum wheat in parts of the state alarmed us all for a time, yet North Dakota as a whole produced a good grain crop with yields in excess of those produced in 1949. Livestock raisers and dairy farmers as a whole were generally as fortunate as the grain farmer.

Good farming methods and in addition better varieties of seed developed in recent years by the Agricultural College, or seeds recommended by it, helped save the day for agriculture in North Dakota. 1950 produced a miracle crop.

Much credit is due the farmer and the men at our Experiment Stations. But, we are also thankful to Mother Nature and Him who controls Mother Nature. Barring a return of a new type of rust which made its first appearance the past year, conditions otherwise appear favorable for a good crop in 1951. But, we dare not rely on it exclusively as a source of financial protection, be we private citizens or public servants.

OUR TAX BURDEN

Information from Washington clearly indicates that federal taxes will be materially increased at the next session of Congress. Also, we know that legislation already passed by Congress will require us to pay increased taxes on part of the 1950 income. In view of this, except as stated elsewhere in this message, I do not believe new tax measures should be enacted. This does not preclude the reenactment of the present two cent sales tax, the proceeds of which are urgently needed to help finance our welfare and school equalization programs.

Political subdivisions of all classes are hard pressed for adequate revenues. Cities, towns, and villages, and particularly the first of these are clamoring for assistance. The decreased purchasing power of the dollar is responsible for much of their difficulty. Inflation affects us all, of course. A study by you of the financial problems of political subdivisions appears timely at this session.

VETERANS ADJUSTED COMPENSATION DEFICIT

The constitutional amendment passed by the people in 1948 provided for a bond issue of not to exceed $27,000,000.00 to finance the Veterans World War II adjusted compensation payments. The 1949 session also passed the necessary legislation to market these bonds and provide the method and means of redeeming them. The figure of $27,000,000.00 appeared ample at the time, based on statistics then available. However, we know now that the proceeds from the sale of these bonds are inadequate and that the deficit to meet legitimate claims still unpaid will be about $2,750,000.00. The intention was to compensate all veterans who can qualify under the 1949 act and it is our duty to provide the means.

The source from which the deficit in the Veterans Adjusted Compensation Fund should be paid requires some thought. The General Fund can be drawn on for part of the amount needed provided the recommendations of the Budget Board are not materially exceeded. More bonds can be issued in part if special new revenue is provided in addition to the revenue set aside for the retirement of the bonds presently outstanding in the amount of $27,000,000.00. I believe this method should not be resorted to if surplus funds are available elsewhere.

APPROPRIATIONS

maintenance and conduct of the departments of state government and state institutions, and for other purposes as provided by law. The Budget Board has made a study of these requirements and has submitted a comprehensive report which is now in your hands. The bills introduced by your appropriation committees, subject to such changes as your judgment may decide, when passed, will be a charge on the moneys in the state's general fund and special funds. As to the latter the amounts are limited by the size of the appropriation or by the balances in such funds. As to the General Fund the recommendations of the Board amount to $21,093,665.00.

The State Treasurer's report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, itemizes the revenue collections of the General Fund. Deducting the $1,700,000.00 decrease in state income taxes for the year 1950 it indicates that the General Fund income for the next biennium will be somewhat less than twice that of the 1949 fiscal year. Based on the amount thus arrived at it is apparent that the total of all recommendations made by the Budget Board will not permit of substantial increases.

STATE HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Since 1945 there have been constructed approximately 3,460 miles of new state highways in North Dakota, subdivided into the following types:

- 976 miles gravel
- 741 miles of oil surface
- 85 miles of concrete
- 1658 miles of grade

The construction of the above mileage has been or will be paid for from the proceeds of the sale of Highway Anticipation Certificates amounting to $12,360,000.00 as provided for by the Initiated Act of 1944 and the appropriation of $8,349,376.00 passed by the Thirty-First Legislative Assembly. These funds for the most part were matched by a like amount of federal money. The state has or will have matched all federal allocations up to July 1, 1951. Because the one cent gas tax originally passed for construction purposes can be used only to retire the unredeemed certificates outstanding after July 1, 1951, new revenue must be provided if the highway construction program is to continue. The state's share of the three cent gas tax and one half of the motor vehicle license money are needed for highway maintenance and snow removal.

If we are to continue in North Dakota with a highway construction program, it means funds must be provided to match $8,512,483.00 federal money made available to the state for the biennium beginning July 1, 1951. The General Fund of the state can provide a part of the money needed provided this assembly finds new revenues amounting to about $5,000,000.00 for the biennium. I recommend a thorough analysis of the facts with the hope that the federal allocation can be matched.

I am moved to this decision because I believe the people of the state want the state-federal highway construction program to continue without interruption and I also believe they are willing to pay the cost thereof. Besides, good roads save on the transportation costs of those using them.

DEPARTMENT RECOMMENDATIONS

Recommendations from departments of state, state institutions and political subdivisions providing for changes and improvements in the conduct of their affairs will be submitted to you. The departments of state and our state institutions have filed detailed reports of their activities containing much pertinent information. I am sure they will command your attention and be useful to you in your deliberations. The Legislative Research Committee has had numerous hearings on a variety of tentative legislation and as a result will introduce bills on behalf of state departments and others who have appeared before it. You will benefit from the study it has given to the subject matter involved. I am sure also numerous proposals may be presented which will require appropriations not included in the Budget Board's report. Desirable as some of these may be, the question if they are essential for the welfare of all and within the state's ability to pay at this time should govern.

CONCLUSION

I have outlined for you some of my views on the legislation you will consider. There are other problems facing us which have not been enumerated. As legislators you have also, because of information gained from experience and study, problems to present and as the people's representatives you have the right and duty to call attention to these in order to get the judgment of those serving with you. In our deliberations, however, we can all agree to the American principle that legislation is primarily for the benefit and protection of all the people and not for a comparative few at the expense of the many.

You can rely on my cooperation as your governor, and I am sure the cooperation of all state officials are available to you at all times. We pledge to you our assistance during the Thirty-Second Legislative Session.

In closing I wish to pay tribute to the administration that has preceded the one now beginning. Governor Aandahl and those who have worked with him have given the state admirable service during their terms of office. North Dakota can be thankful for the able management they have given the state's business the past six years.

AND SEVENTEENTH DAY

The Chair appointed Rep. Sailer and Rep. Johnson as such committee, and the committee escorted Vernon Johnson to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: I am sure the members of the House would like to have a word from you, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson: Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: When I was Speaker I used to get quite a kick out of this, but now I am the victim, it is not so funny.

Before I came out here, I had an inkling of the quality and spirit of the membership of the House. When I was talking to Rep. Fleenor before he ran for the legislature I told him "you are going to enjoy the experience, this is a nice bunch of fellows and you will have a very nice time" and he came back about a week ago and I asked him if he didn't find the fellows to be a pretty nice bunch and he said "they tell me that they are even nicer than they have ever been in the past" but I thought that he must have been talking to some of the ROC majority.

But seriously, as the session gets under way, having served some four sessions, when the session gets under way you will have an inkling of how a person gets a yearning to get back and you think of some of the things that have happened before and you just want to get back once in a while. For instance, here is Leo Sticka, the Speaker, and I can remember one of the sessions I was here and he and Ray Schnell were sitting in the delegation from Stark County and now one is Speaker of the House and one is Lieutenant Governor. And of course, as you look back you can't help but think of some of the interesting events that have happened and the interesting characters in here and as I think back over the four sessions that I have served I think probably the two most interesting characters were Bill Bauers, who passed away this past summer, and a fellow from my county, Mr. Williams. I think that one of the highlights of the sessions that I was here was the time when Bill Bauers used to make those speeches for the parimutuel betting, and one thing and another, I think the classic remark of all of the times I spent here was the remark that Williams made. Mr. Williams was a dyed in the wool "dry" and of course there were several members that egged him on—some of the wets—honest wets—egged him on. One day Mr. Williams was discussing one of these temperance bills and he said, and it was probably one of the most classic remarks made—he waved his fists and he said: "I will fight you fellows on that until Hell freezes over and then I will fight you on the ice."

Another thing I remember, and it is quite humorous now, especially now that I know you fellows a little bit better than I did at that time, and that was during one of the sessions that I was here. I remember Ed Sailer and Ray Thompson sat alongside each other and if there ever were a pair of love-birds it was the two of them.

I notice by the write-ups that you are making the same gripes that have always been made as far as the membership in the House is concerned. I see that you are complaining about the acoustics and some are complaining about the recess for coffee and a little later on when you have longer sessions you are going to complain about the weather that is present here in the House, the air-conditioning. I know that in the first session that I was here and some of you can well remember, but those of you that have been here only the last two sessions don't remember, what it was like before we had the roll call system. I think that caused some of the most interesting controversies and arguments. I can remember back in those days it used to take from six to ten minutes for a roll call and that is when your Chief Clerk gained his spurs. It was about this time in each session after he had been chief clerk for about two weeks that he was able to read the names from memory and in those days as you got into the session further and had a long calendar and you realized it was going to take approximately ten minutes for a roll call—Well, to get a recess for coffee was really a major operation. But of course in those days we had Donald Haugen here and he was a past master at making that motion. But sometimes when they didn't get the motion for recess for coffee the fellows would sneak out eight or ten at a time and would miss two or three roll calls and then of course they would begin bobbing up and wanting to know how they voted on such and such a bill. But Ken knew who they were and how they were going to vote and invariably the answer was "yes." Another thing that was very common and distasteful about the oral roll call was the fact that it lent itself to a lot of fellows getting up and saying: 'I want to explain my vote and I want it recorded in the 'Journal' and then they would talk for half a page of print explaining their vote, and why they were opposed to the bill, and then they would end up by saying 'I vote aye.' And on a really close issue there was of course always the question or the excuse of explaining the vote to get up and do a little arguing especially after the motion to close debate had carried, and that was a way to get up and explain their vote and argue some more.

Then there was one other thing that always amused me about the old oral roll call system. On a close vote the fellows would sit around and keep tab and in those days Billy Crockett was here, and Ken Fitch and Billy Crockett were generally on opposite sides but Ken, of course, was always very helpful to Billy and wanted him to be sure to prevail on his legislation and be just right on it and Billy was always interested in the chain-store tax and this time the vote was nip and tuck and both of them were keeping track. Billy had slipped up and he asked Ken how it came out. Ken told him that he was going to lose out and that he had better change his vote. Billy changed his vote from aye to no for the purpose of reconsideration, and the measure lost 57 to 56. And I don't think Billy ever did get over it.

This past session brought to mind the first three sessions that I served and that was on account of the very close vote on the Speakership and with Ralph Beede back here I am reminded of the session that Ralph was Speaker. I think we worked a whole week before we finally got a speaker and then the compromise was Ralph as Speaker in name and the opposite faction had all of the Chairmen and we had a 50-50 division on the committees. And you can well imagine when any legislation carried one way or the other, whoever sold out came in for a lot of heat. But seriously, it is a pleasure to be back and I have always enjoyed the time that I spent here and always have had a great deal of admiration for our legislative system. I thought the editorial that the Fargo Forum carried as the session started was a very fine description of our democratic processes, and I feel that this legislature is doing an outstanding job. I enjoyed every minute that I spent in the legislature and I can truthfully say that if I ever decided to come back I would like to come back as a member of the House and I would be willing to make that statement in the Senate. I thank you very kindly.

Rep. Beede: I wish to explain my vote and have it recorded in the Journal. The only reason, so far as I am concerned, that this bill was introduced, was to save the state possibly, and the counties possibly, a large expenditure of money, and as far as I know, those that voted for the bill had that in mind when they voted.

Rep. Holand: I also wish to explain my vote and have my remarks recorded in the Journal. I appreciate the motives of Rep. Beede in introducing this bill in the legislature, and his desire to save the state money. However, considering the small amount of money that would be saved to the State of North Dakota by such a bill, and the confusion that would result, and the undesirable condition that would be generated in all the political parties through such a bill, it would more than offset the small saving to the State of North Dakota.

So the motion was lost.

The question now being on the motion of Rep. Fleck that House Bill No. 595 be indefinitely postponed, the motion carried, and House Bill No. 595 was indefinitely postponed.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the fifth order of business.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Enrollment and En-grossment respectfully report that they have examined the following bills and find the same correctly Engrossed:

House Bill No. 584

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Judiciary to whom was referred House Bill No. 541, have had the same under consideration and recommend that the same be amended as follows:

In the title of the bill at the end thereof strike out the "period" and insert a "comma" in lieu thereof and the following clause "and declaring an emergency."

After the word "he" on line 11 of the printed bill, insert the words: "will in a later and separate action". Change the word "demands" to "demand".

Strike out all of line 47 after the comma following the figures "1951". Strike out all of the lines 48 to 63, inclusive, and all of line 64 up to and including the word "value" and the period following the word "value", and insert the following:

"and the sale of the mortgaged premises has failed to satisfy in full the sum adjudged to be due and the costs of the action, the plaintiff may, in a separate action, ask for a deficiency judgment, if he has so indicated in his complaint, against the party or parties personally liable for that part of the debt and costs of the action remaining unsatisfied after the sale of the mortgaged premises. Such separate action for a deficiency judgment must be brought within ninety days after the sale of the mortgaged premises. The Court, in such separate action, may render a deficiency judgment against the party or parties personally liable, but such deficiency judgment shall not be in excess of the amount by which the sum adjudged to be due and the costs of the action exceed the fair value of the mortgaged premises. In case the mortgaged premises sell for less than the amount due and to become due on the mortgaged debt and costs of sale, there shall be no presumption that such premises sold for their fair value. In all actions brought for a deficiency judgment and before any judgment can be rendered therein, the determination of the fair value of the mortgaged premises shall first be submitted to a jury at a regular term or to a jury empaneled for that purpose, and no deficiency judgment can be rendered against the party or parties personally liable unless the fair value of the mortgaged premises is determined by such jury to be less than the sum adjudged to be due and the costs of the action. Fifteen days notice of the time and place when or where such fair value of the mortgaged premises shall be so determined shall, in all cases, be given, as the Court may direct, to the party or parties against whom personal judgment is sought. At such time and place such party or parties may offer evidence to show the fair value of the mortgaged premises even though they may not have otherwise appeared in the action for a deficiency judgment. Any deficiency judgment so obtained shall be enforced by execution as provided by law, except that no execution shall be enforced after three years from the date of the rendition of such deficiency judgment."

Renumber the lines accordingly.

At the end of the printed bill place another section reading as follows:

"SECTION 4. EMERGENCY.) This Act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.

So the bill passed and the title was agreed to, and the emergency clause was declared carried.

Rep. Ekren moved that the vote by which House Bill No. 541 was passed be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Wolf: I want to explain my vote and have it recorded in the Journal. I feel that with this inflated dollar today, it is the wrong time to pass such a measure and my second reason is that while our young men are in Korea it is a wonderful time for somebody to come in and pick up this property while they are lying in foxholes over there. I vote "no."

Rep. Rohde: I am voting against this bill for several reasons. The bill does not guarantee or say that the Federal Land Bank will come in here and make loans, or make them in such quantity as to be of any use to the people of North Dakota, and second, all it provides is for the deficiency judgment. The banks are full of money. We have all kinds of loan sharks and shysters around the country who are going to take advantage of this deficiency bill. When the borrower has gone broke, he will not be able to finance an attorney to watch their actions in court. There are many other reasons why we should vote "no" on this bill. Another further reason is that we have the FHA which works very well in our county. The FHA sets up a complete unit and gives expert counsel and expert advice and therefore we have no call for this deficiency judgment at this time. Therefore I vote "no."

Rep. Holand: I wish to explain my vote and have it printed in the Journal. The reason why I voted in favor of this bill is because I am satisfied that the safeguards offered to the debtor under this bill are more important and meaningful than those now available under our present emergency deficiency statute and I also voted for the bill because I feel there is a real need in the state of North Dakota for the type of credit that this will make available.

I further voted for this bill because I have great confidence in the agricultural economy and in the future of the State of North Dakota, sufficient to invite others to join with us in this enterprise.

Rep. Jansonius: I want to explain my vote and have it recorded in the Journal. I voted against this bill for the reason that there is a joker in this bill a mile high. There is nowhere in the bill a definition of "fair value" regardless of what anybody says. Fair value is not defined in the bill. Secondly because we have in the city of Bismarck a tremendous number of people who financed their homes. Home values are based entirely upon supply and demand and in a case of a national emergency, with a lot of people pulling out of town, you will find values going way down, and there would be sales leaving a deficiency judgment in all instances.

Rep. Frank: I want to explain my vote and have it recorded in the Journal. The reason I voted for House Bill No. 541 was because my people back home wanted the bill passed. I believe that law was made in good faith. The young people want that law and I shall not stand in their way.

On the other hand, should certain persons or agencies take advantage of this law with the intention of defrauding they should be treated according to law.

House Bill No. 528. A Bill for an Act Making an Appropriation for the Purpose of Defraying the Expenses of the Maintenance and Operation of the State Highway Department.

Was read the second time.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES House of Representatives Washington, D. C.

January 23, 1951

Mr. Kenneth L. Morgan, Chief Clerk
House of Representatives
Capitol Building
Bismarck, North Dakota

Dear Mr. Morgan:

Today I contacted the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railroads and have done what I could to convey the necessity of sending more box cars into North Dakota and especially into the northeast region.

These offices report that they have received numerous complaints and have informed us that they are in the process of increasing the flow of empty cars into the area over the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo Railroad lines to a point where, in their opinion, enough cars will be going in each day to take care of the situation.

Sincerely yours,
FRED G. AANDAHL
Member of Congress

So the resolution was adopted.

Rep. Bubel requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Bubel called attention to the fact that Mr. Alex Euler, a student from the University of Munich, Germany was present in the House Chamber.

Rep. Bubel moved that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort Mr. Alex Euler to the rostrum, and that he then be invited to address the House, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker appointed Reps. Bubel and Saumur as such committee, and they escorted Mr. Euler to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House, I present to you Mr. Alex Euler of Munich, Germany. Now, Mr. Euler, go right ahead and tell us whatever you want to.

Mr. Euler: Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Representatives, thanks. This is the first time in my life I ever spoke to a House of Representatives and I must say it is an honor and a pleasure for me. I never like to speak. I do not make large words. I think I would not be a great and good representative like you. I had an opportunity yesterday to speak in the house of the Senate, and I want to repeat to you, I have seen many parliaments and a few days ago I came from Washington and I have seen the parliament of Washington, D. C., and I must tell you that this Chamber is the most beautiful Chamber I have seen in my life. Especially I am impressed by this voting system. I never saw it before. I think you can save much time with this system.

You heard already that I am a student from Munich University. We were selected by the office of the High Commissioner in Germany and I am very happy that I can be here. I am studying political science and in Germany I studied law; and I think it is a very great opportunity for me that I can see now this session, and I thank you very much.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Mr. Euler.

Rep. Holand: I should like to ask the gentleman a question inasmuch as we have a little time. I would like to ask him this—whether he thinks that a regime such as the Hitler regime would ever have happened in Germany if they had had such representative and democratic groups ruling their country?

Mr. Euler: I think they had representatives. We had, in Germany, democrats. We have, especially now. But under the Hitler system we had no democratic system. It was very bad and we didn't like that time under Hitler. We didn't like it but we could not do anything against it. I am living now in the American zone, and you know Germany is separated into different zones, the French, the British and Russian and American. It could be that I am in the Russian zone instead of the American but I am in the American. But it could be the same thing. I am in the Russian zone, or my brother is in the Russian zone. I could do nothing against the system there. It was the same under Hitler. The individual could not do anything. There were a few groups and they tried it, but without success.

Rep. Bubel moved that the remarks of Student Alex Euler be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker announced the following committee to attend the funeral of former governor Walter J. Maddock: Reps. Halcrow, Saumur, Mollet, Fleck and Maher.

Rep. Sailer requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Sailer moved that Speaker Sticka be named by the House as a sixth member of the committee to attend the Maddock funeral, and requested that the Chief Clerk put the motion to the assembly. The motion was put and carried.

The Speaker announced that the House would be on the ninth order of business.

Fingal, N. D.
Jan. 26, 1951House Chamber
Bismarck, N. Dak.

Dear Sir: I had the occasion to visit both House and Senate. Spent two weeks in your city of Bismarck. Went up to the Capitol every day there was a session. Got the key from your Sergeant at Arms. Had a good time. Met most all of the House members and a lot of the Senate members. I want to say you have a swell bunch of members in both houses. They all seem to be trying to fulfill the wishes of their people at home. Also I want to say I never saw one of those members down town or any place else under the influence of liquor. We often hear people say that all the members go to the session for is to have a good time and that they forget their people at home. I think both factions will get along fine, and will take care of all bills that come up before them, and will finish the session, when the grand march comes, arm in arm.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. WADESON

A communication addressed to Hon. Leo Sticka, Speaker of the House of Representatives, signed by Acting Director Charles L. Rep. Stormon of Rolette moved that the communication be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

Bureau of Service

Washington 25

January 26, 1951

The Honorable Leo Sticka, Speaker
North Dakota Legislative Assembly
Bismarck, North Dakota

My dear Mr. Speaker:

This will acknowledge receipt of Senate Concurrent Resolution "F" requesting this Commission to take such action as may be necessary to insure an adequate box car supply for the early movement of durum grain.

The box car supply in the State of North Dakota is not unlike that which obtains in many other sections of the country. Shortages and blocked elevators in the States of Nebraska, Eastern Colorado, Kansas, Montana, South Dakota, and other granger states are being reported to this office daily, while, on the other hand, daily loadings are far in excess of a year ago, running as high as 30%.

Since January 11th of this year, there has been a movement of empty grain box from the East to the West in excess of 1,000 daily, and this movement will continue for some time, and with this relief now on the way, it is felt that gradual relief will be experienced in the State of North Dakota and adjacent states. This Commission is not unmindful of your situation, and every effort will be made to protect the movement of grain at the earliest practicable moment. Service Agents representing this Commission are out in the field checking at railroad terminals and stations, and assisting in every way possible to effect release of box cars and other equipment to increase the available supply.

We will continue to take such action that will increase the car supply to shippers of all territories, so that all will receive an equitable share of the available equipment.

Very truly yours,
CHAS. L. HARRISON,
Acting Director.

A communication signed by Gordon C. Luick, addressed to his father, Senator Luick of Richland County, relative to the proposed non-refund gas tax was read, and referred to the Committee on Finance and Taxation.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the fifth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Senate Chamber
 Bismarck, January 29, 1951

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to transmit:

Senate Bill No. 26
 Senate Bill No. 27
 Senate Bill No. 69
 Senate Bill No. 73
 Senate Bill No. 123

Which the Senate has passed and your favorable consideration is requested.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the eighth order of business.

Rep. Fleck moved that the editorial carried in the Bismarck Tribune on January 27 entitled "Foley for the Hall of Fame" be read from the desk and printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

FOLEY FOR THE HALL OF FAME

Quite naturally The Tribune is pleased that seven members of the state legislature should see fit to introduce a bill providing for erection of a statute of the late James W. Foley in the national Hall of Fame in Washington.

"Jim" Foley, as he was called by the thousands who knew him personally and by his writings, was a Tribune man. It was The Tribune that first recognized the simple beauty of his poetry, that first published many of his verses and that gave him his first job as a writer.

Hence it is only natural that The Tribune should take pride in the fact that the man now being suggested as a fitting nominee by this state for Statutory Hall should be Jim Foley.

Actually, though, Jim Foley was first and foremost a man of the people and a man of North Dakota. In a way, he could be said to personify the pioneer who opened up North Dakota, the homesteader who peopled it, and the farmer who built it.

Jim Foley came to North Dakota with his father and mother on a Missouri river steamboat when his father, a soldier in the United States army, was ordered to Old Ft. Lincoln with his regiment.

As a boy, he lived in the Old West that was Medora and the Badlands ranching country around it. It was there that his first published verses appeared, in the old Badlands Cowboy, a weekly newspaper.

Later Foley took an active part in North Dakota state affairs, serving in several public offices. But his fame as a poet was growing rapidly, and eventually it took him into the lyceum circuit, in which he quickly became a national favorite.

Though he lived in California most of the time thereafter, he never forgot North Dakota; and there always was in his writings a seeming nostalgia for this country of his youth. He showed it in one of his best-loved poems, The Passing of the Prairie:

"They have turned it with their harrows, they have broken it with plows,
They have stuck it full of fence posts,
they have girded it with wire,
They have shamed it and profaned it with an automobile tire. . ."

And in A Letter Home:

"Like to come and see you, daddy, and perhaps I will some day;
Like to come back East and visit but
I wouldn't care to stay.
Glad you're doing well, and happy;
glad you like your country best,
But for me I always hunger for the freedom of the West. . ."

Foley wrote of simple things and of simple people. He was one of them, and it was them he loved.

Jim Foley led no armies to great victories, never became a noted statesman, did not accumulate large wealth for himself, as did so many others whose statues stand now in the nation's capitol.

But in his way, Jim Foley was probably as great as any of these and greater than many; for it was his gift to understand people and to be able to express the feelings of people. He was great in his friendships and his love for his fellow man and in his ability to bring solace and cheer and courage and smiles to those who needed them.

North Dakota would have to look long to find either a man more representative of North Dakota or more deserving of its honor. For he epitomized more than most of us the thoughts he expressed in the lines:

"But there's something in Dakota makes you live and breathe and feel;
Makes you bigger, broader, better; makes you know the worth of toil;
Makes you free as are her prairies and as noble as her soil;
Makes you kingly as a man is; makes you manly as a king—
And there's something in the grandeur of her season's sweep and swing
That casts off the fretting fetters of your East and makes you blest
With the vigor of the prairies—with the freedom of the West."

Humble Jim Foley's statue would stand proudly in our nation's Hall of Fame.

Rep. Johnson moved that the courtesies of the floor be extended to Bruce Kaldor of Hillsboro, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Lindberg of Burke-Divide moved that the courtesies of the floor be extended to former member Richard Owings of Lignite, and to Adolph Harms and Gunnar Gagnum of Bowbells, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Roen moved that the courtesies of the floor be extended to John Hanson, President, North Dakota Live Stock Breeders Association, of Amidon, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Holand: I understand that Reverend Wilde who has been extended the courtesies of the floor has spent a considerable amount of time over in parts of Europe about which we know very little. He has had some very interesting experiences and inasmuch as our calendar is such that we can easily take care of it this afternoon, I would move that a Committee of two be appointed to escort Rev. Wilde to the rostrum and that he be invited to address the House with regard to his experiences over there in Europe.

The motion was put and carried. The Speaker appointed as such committee Reps. Wadeson and Laske, who escorted Rev. Wilde to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House, Rev. Wilde.

Rev. Wilde: Mr. Speaker and Members of the House. This is the first time in my life that I see democracy in action. I never had the privilege in the country of attending sessions like this. I come from Russia. I escaped from Russia in 1927, first to Canada and then I came to live in the United States in 1943. I wish I could some time have the time to tell you how I enjoy to live in the United States, and what America means to me. I never realized there is such a country as this, and I think that 90% of the people in Europe do not realize it. It was almost unbelievable, and it still is like a dream to me that a person can go wherever he wants to go and say whatsoever he wants to say and worship as he wants, and also can attend sessions like this. To me this is again an eye-opener, how democracy works and I wish that all the people, no matter where they are, even under Communism from where I escaped, could realize the wonderful things that can be done under democracy. This is indeed a privilege for me to be here in this legislative assembly seminar. Twenty-five ministers are here today from North Dakota. Two Representatives from Cass County got us courtesy cards to sit here beside them. Now I know this would not happen in any other state. I do not want to say how I got away from Russia but to me to be a citizen of this country means more than anything else. Only three years ago I became a citizen. I became a citizen in two years because I am married to an American born citizen, so half of my home was American and half was from Europe. But I am very, very happy that I can live in this country where everyone is free. May God bless you in your sessions here and may he guide you, too. Thank you very much.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Rev. Wilde. We appreciate your kind words to us. I am sure it will be a source of enlightenment in our deliberations, to have you come up and make these remarks here this afternoon. Thank you again, Rev. Wilde.

Rep. Fitch moved that the remarks of Rev. Wilde be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the tenth order of business.

House Bill No. 557

House Bill No. 597

Were delivered to the Governor for his approval at the hour of 2:15 o'clock p.m., February 3, 1951.

REP. LEE, Chairman.

Rep. Bubel moved that the courtesies of the floor be extended to Math Dahl, former Speaker of the House and presently Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort Mr. Dahl to the Chair and that he be invited to address the House, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker appointed as such committee Reps. Bubel and Kleppe, who escorted Mr. Dahl to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: We are very glad to have you here with us, Mr. Dahl, and we are certainly highly honored to have you give us the wise counsel that you are capable of giving.

Mr. Dahl: Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: I did not come down this afternoon anticipating that I was going to have the honor of being presented from the rostrum here, but I am very happy that it has so happened. We have surprises every once in a while, everyone has that in their life. I don't know of anything in particular that I can go into in detail at this time other than to tell you that while listening for a few minutes here this afternoon, I noticed that you have a very nice feeling amongst you and that you have a little fun once in a while, too, which is absolutely all right. There has to be some fun occasionally, even in the legislative halls. You are assembled here as members of the House, and especially at this time when the nation and the state are confronted with the problems that they are facing, I don't think I need to say anything to you about how serious these problems are. I believe that you all feel the same way.

I do remember back in 1930, which the most of you remember, the sessions of 1931 and 1933 and 1935, when practically everybody in North Dakota was broke, or if they weren't broke they were badly bent, as the saying goes. Hardly any of the farmers, or the business men, were able to pay their taxes and the legislature then in those three sessions had as large a problem, perhaps in some respects more difficult problems, than you people have in this session. While money seems to be very plentiful changing from one individual to another or from one business firm to another, there doesn't seem to be much stop to it. It comes and it goes. You are asked, I realize it, for a lot of appropriations, considering the times that we live in, but I want to assure you that I have been following the appropriations very closely, not from a selfish standpoint but from the standpoint of what it takes to operate a state department in this day and age as compared with fifteen or twenty years ago, and I doubt very much that you are very different from what we were back in those 30's when money was scarce and no one could pay their taxes.

We were living then in the hope of the future, and I am not so sure that we are not now living under the same conditions, looking to the future, even though we have more money to take from. It still is about the same thing. So when you analyze the problems that the North Dakota legislature have to confront them, it is not very much different from what it has been in the past, and will perhaps be in the future. I want to leave one thought with you. It may not be of any value to you. But from what little experience I have had in legislative matters, which of course did not cover a great deal but it covered enough so I learned this—if you handle the taxpayers' money about the same way as you handle your own money, then I think that most people will be satisfied. I understand, of course, that we are all human and we may sometimes think that we have a favorite individual or favorite individuals or may have some pet issues or pet measures, but if they do not conform to the best interests of the state and the people within the state, we should be big enough to put the interests of the state first, and I am sure you all feel that way. I want to thank you for the opportunity of being here. It has been a pleasure. Thank you.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Mr. Dahl. It has been a pleasure to listen to your counsel and your words of encouragement. It is always a pleasure to hear from a man who has been where you now are. I always get quite a kick out of listening to the Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor. Maybe I should put it this way, I like the way he brings things out. Thank you, Mr. Dahl.

Rep. Baker moved that the House do now recess until 1:00 p.m., Monday, which motion prevailed and the House stood recessed.

KENNETH L. MORGAN, Chief Clerk.

Speaker Sticka: Judge Graham, according to the motion of Rep. Holand you are supposed to address the House, and we would like to have you do that at this time.

Mr. Graham: Mr. Speaker, and a part of my former fellow members of the House as well as new members. It is indeed a pleasure to be back here today and meet the old faces, and I hope to stay around a day or two and become acquainted with the new faces. I had the pleasure of serving the last four sessions here and I am sure that I enjoyed it, and that I made many friendships, and it is a great pleasure to be back and have the opportunity of renewing old acquaintances. Today we are so situated that we do not know whether or not we are in a cold war or a hot war, but it seems to me it is a war, whatever you may call it, and it seems to me that the situation is one of the gravest that we have had since this country started back in revolutionary times, and the only thing I can see that we can do is to support the people who are in power and authority and do just as we have done in the previous wars, and I believe that if we do that we will come out victorious. If we don't, then its going to mean an end of this country and I am sure that we all love and respect our country. I thank you.

Speaker Sticka: We wish to thank you, Judge Graham, for the words you have spoken from this rostrum and we hope that you will stay and make these new acquaintances such as you say you wish to do.

Rep. Fitch moved that the remarks of Mr. Graham be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

KENNETH L. MORGAN, Chief Clerk.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY AFTER RECESS
AND THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY

Bismarck, February 8, 1951

The House reconvened at 1:00 p.m., pursuant to recess taken, Speaker Sticka presiding.

Rep. Johnson moved that the Chair appoint a committee of three composed of Rep. Wilk, former Speaker Beede and former Speaker Levin to escort former Speaker Bergeson to the rostrum, and that he be invited to address the House, which motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed Reps. Wilk, Beede and Levin as such committee, and they escorted Mr. Bergeson to the Chair.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House, former Speaker Bergeson.

Mr. Bergeson: Members of the House: It seems quite natural in some ways to be here. It is really delightful to come back. I have made it an occasion to come back during each session since I was last here as a member of the House, and I find a great deal of pleasure in it. I have said to many of the fellows that it is like going back to school to a reunion of your old class. It is really surprising that while every time you see new faces, nevertheless many of the fellows who were here in my day are still here and on the job and all credit to them. I was one of those smart fellows that knew when to quit. I can't help but compare some of the things that I have observed from time to time when I have been here, with the situation as it was when I first came to the legislature in 1939.

It took us five days to wind up the last day of the session. We continued in session until Wednesday of the following week. Maybe I should not say this for the record, if it is being taken down. Anyway, the Journal for that year shows only one day so it was perfectly legal. But to that extent it has never happened since, although we did run over almost every session more or less.

But as the situation is now, there is not much occasion for the session not adjourning practically on time. I think that since 1945 you have completed your work on Saturday at the close of the 60th day, and there are some reasons for that. For one thing, you have this wonderful electric voting machine. In my day every roll call—somebody timed it—took about seven minutes. You can imagine that if it took you seven minutes every time you punch the buttons on your desk and record your vote upon the machine, about how much time you would be spending here on legislation. I would judge that it took us pretty nearly one-third of our working time here in the sessions merely to record our votes. Now you have 90% of that time at least to devote to better and more careful consideration of the proposed legislation before you. Then there are some other changes. I had something to do with the bill which created the legislative research committee. One of the first things that that committee did was to, you might call it "stream-line," the rules of this house. Ralph Beede and I are quite familiar with that because we both worked on it. It used to be that when we came down to the session there were not any bills for us to consider. It would ordinarily take two or three weeks before there would be a sufficient amount of proposed legislation for us to work on. That is not true today because your legislative research committee has been on the job and has quite a lot of work for you to begin upon as soon as your committees are appointed. It used to be that bills were introduced up to about the 35th day. That is not true any more. You don't have as many bills as we used to have because the bills have to be in here, I believe by the 25th day. In my first session, 1939, there were approximately 750 bills and resolutions that had to be disposed of. Your total is approximately one-third less. It used to be that the bills had to be transmitted to the other house by the close of the 50th day, and you had only 10 days left in which to consider the bills that had been sent over from the other house, and I can tell you that really rushed one. Now you have 15 days. Those are just a few illustrations of what has been brought about by the work of the legislative research committee. In addition to that you have the benefit of the actual research that committee does. I was quite interested in the report that they made on a request that this legislature made of them two years ago with reference to automobile liability insurance. It seems to me that the committee did a very careful and searching piece of work, and that you then have the benefit of all of that work and that research and can act so much more intelligently upon the problems that are before you. It was a pleasure for me to note that both Houses have so definitely endorsed the idea. I don't have any quarrel with anybody who introduces a bill to do away with the committee, nor with anyone who feels that it should be dispensed with, because, as a matter of democracy those things should be brought before a legislative body like this and the opportunity given for the expression of opinion on that kind of a proposition just the same as upon any other kind of a proposal that comes before you. I am glad to note that everything is going along harmoniously. Back in Fargo every once in a while somebody thinks I am in the legislature and they say: "Why aren't you in Bismarck?" and I tell them that I have things so well organized that you do it in the right way and I don't have to be here. I thank you.

Speaker Sticka: We want to thank former Speaker Bergeson for the kind words of encouragement he has given us here this afternoon and we are most happy that he was able to be with us and we hope he will stay with us for a few days and give us the benefit of his wise counsel. Thank you, former Speaker Bergeson.

Rep. Fitch moved that the remarks of Mr. Bergeson be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Levin requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Levin moved that the courtesies of the floor be extended to the group of Young Republicans from the University of North Dakota presently in Bismarck to visit the legislature and become acquainted with the way the state government operates, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the fifth order of business.

Rep. Esterby moved that the report be adopted, which motion prevailed, and the report was adopted.

Rep. Fitch moved that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort Gov. Brunsdale to the rostrum to hear the program to be given by the Nordic Choir, which motion prevailed. The Speaker appointed Reps. Fitch and Wolf as such committee and the Committee escorted the Governor to the rostrum.

Rep. Wolf moved that the Chair appoint a committee to escort Lt. Gov. Ray Schnell to the rostrum, which motion prevailed. The Speaker appointed as such committee Senator Kusler and Rep. Fuglestad.

Rep. Bubel moved that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort the Nordic Choir to the rostrum, which motion prevailed. The Chair appointed as such committee Reps. Bubel and Holand.

Rep. Holand moved that the House do now recess for the purpose of enjoying the concert to be given by the Nordic Choir, which motion prevailed, and the House stood recessed.

The Committee appointed for that purpose escorted the Nordic Choir to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the Senate and the House. At this time I will introduce to you Director Noble of the Nordic Choir of Decorah, Iowa.

Mr. Noble: It is our great privilege to be with you this afternoon. We have appeared before the legislatures of Iowa and South Dakota. Gov. Anderson of South Dakota wishes me to convey to you his warmest greetings. I would also like to say at this time that the Luther College is honored that your Governor Brunsdale is an alumnus of Luther College, having graduated from our Alma Mater in 1914. We are very proud of this fact.

The Choir rendered four beautiful selections.

Speaker Sticka: Ladies and gentlemen, I think that it is only fitting and proper that since our Governor is an alumnus of this same college that this choir represents that he should be permitted to extend our appreciation to the Choir for their very fine, and wonderful performance this afternoon.

Governor Brunsdale: Speaker Sticka, Members of the Legislative Assembly, Director Noble, and Members of the Nordic Choir of the Luther College of Decorah, Iowa. As the Director has stated, and as your Speaker has said, I am an alumnus of Luther College of Decorah, Iowa. A little bit further in the past, however, than the Director stated. I was a graduate of that college in 1913. If you should put a few things together you would probably realize how old I am. Furthermore, I probably should say to you that at that time it was a boys' college and not a coeducational institution as it is today so that at that time we had a men's chorus and not the kind of a choir that has entertained you this afternoon.

I am sure, my dear people, that the legislature and the other folks that are assembled here appreciate the time that you have taken, and the wonderful songs you have given them in your concert this afternoon. We hope to hear you this evening, as many of us as have the time to do so. Thank you, Director Noble, and the members of your choir.

The House reconvened following recess taken.

Rep. Wolf moved that the Delayed Bills Committee be discharged, which motion was lost.

Rep. Haugland requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Haugland: I am honored to have as my guest today Mrs. Sally Luther, representing the 30th Legislative District in the Minnesota House of Representatives. She is a young woman of wide experience, having been a staff writer on the Minneapolis Tribune prior to her resignation so that she might run for public office. I move that the courtesies of the floor be extended to Rep. Luther and that a committee be appointed by the Speaker to escort her to the rostrum so that she might address the House. The motion prevailed.

The Speaker appointed, as such committee, Rep. Haugland, and the members representing the 30th legislative district, Reps. Fristad, Schmidt and Helferich. The committee escorted Rep. Luther to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: We of the House of Representatives of the State of North Dakota certainly welcome you, and we wish you to address our Assembly. We think our Chambers are beautiful and you can tell us about yours, and about your work in the legislature of Minnesota.

Rep. Luther: Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives of North Dakota. It is certainly my pleasure to be here and I am appreciative of the courtesies extended to me. I am so thrilled to see your beautiful building which, of course, we hear about all over the United States, and even in Minnesota, and we know how unusual is the architecture and how much planning went into it. I also want to bring you, informally if I may, greetings from the Minnesota legislature, although they perhaps don't know I am being their emissary as I slipped away to come out and pay you this visit. I wanted to see Miss Haugland in action and to see all of you in action. I am not going to get homesick. I am quite accustomed to cigar smoke, I have gotten used to it in the last few weeks in the Minnesota State Legislature. I also am feeling at home because you have a woman in your legislature. We have two in ours, myself and Mrs. Coya Knutson who represents Clearwater and Red Lake Counties and who originally is from North Dakota. It is, as I said, a pleasure to be here. As Miss Haugland told you, I was a newspaper reporter before I decided to run for public office and one of the people who gave me much encouragement was Rep. Haugland from North Dakota. It was my good fortune to be able to write a newspaper story about her for the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune for which I worked, and she gave me lots of good advice, and perhaps unknowingly but I was salting it away for what I planned to do. For example she told me to remember that a lot can be accomplished by one individual if you are not particular about who gets the credit. And I am learning that that is true. Another thing she told me was that when you look for candidates to run for the state legislature you hit them with a hammer and if they bruise easily you cast them aside. I have begun to see how true that is, in Minnesota as in North Dakota, particularly in this last few days, because if you have been watching our activities as we watch yours you will see that we have been struggling with the problem of a no-strike-for-public-employees-bill and that House File 144 passed in the House on Wednesday and we have a school teacher strike going on in Minneapolis now and that was one of the reasons that this matter came before the legislature, although the bill that passed the House was state wide legislation. It was a very difficult bill to make up your mind on, especially if you had a youngster out of school on account of the strike, which was my particular case. Anyhow 144 has gone to the Senate, where it will be considered at length. Our Senate moves with great deliberation and perhaps it will be another ten days before the matter will be finished. Other issues have had to give way to this particular matter we have been discussing. I think perhaps you would be interested in some of the things which I and many others in the Minnesota Legislature consider very important, the Governor particularly having mentioned them in his inaugural address: Constitutional Revision for one, Fair Employment Practices for another, some reform in our marriage and divorce laws in Minnesota for another, Party Designation, which they are debating today. You know we elect our legislators without party designation. I am told we are the only state in the union that does that, and whether or not we shall go back to the party system is going to be very important. It will cause a very warm debate today, but I know it will carry over until Monday and Tuesday and longer than that. I know, too, that you have a very busy program with many of these same questions I have outlined for you on your agenda and I won't take up any more of your time. Two things I have learned very thoroughly. One is that the popular conception that legislators do not do much work is not correct. Legislators work hard. I have never seen people work harder. And I am concerned about the health of our legislators in Minnesota. Maybe we should be concerned about your health. In Minnesota we have a 90 day limitation, and toward the end of the legislature things pile up and they work night and day and don't even sit down to eat. We do not have a fine lunch room as you have here. We have a snack bar and the Senators and Representatives have to stand there and wolf down their sandwiches. I worry about that. But I know how swift comes the end of the session. I won't consume any more of your time knowing the same thing is true for you. I want to again thank you for this honor. I hope you will do me a further honor by returning this visit. After your session ends we will be continuing on into April. If any of you come to St. Paul and I hope you will, look me up and that particularly goes for Rep. Haugland. Thank you.

Rep. Fitch: Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks of Rep. Luther be printed in the Journal and a copy sent to Speaker Hartl of the Minnesota House of Representatives and to Rep. Bergerud and Rep. Dunn, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Fitch: I would like to address a remark or two to Rep. Luther. Some years ago, I believe the last time we had a Representative from Minnesota speak to us, it was just at the time we were considering the purchase of the electric roll call system. During that time Rep. Bergerud came to North Dakota and courteously we invited him to address the Assembly, and to outline the advantages of the roll call system. Following his remarks some gentleman from Cavalier County got suspicious and thought he was a lobbyist of the roll call people in New York and we immediately killed the bill and we had to wait two years for the roll call system.

Speaker Sticka: We wish to thank you, Rep. Luther, for addressing us here this afternoon and for visiting us in our Chambers. During your little discourse we have found out that your troubles are very similar to ours and if we interchange ideas like this I think it is wonderful, and we hope to see you back here again. If we come to Minneapolis or St. Paul we will look you up in your Legislative Chambers. Thank you.

The Speaker announced that the House would be on the fourth order of business.

LINCOLN DAY ADDRESS

Rep. Holand: Mr. Lieutenant Governor, Governor and Mrs. Brunsdale, Speaker Sticka, Honored Guests, fellow legislators and friends:

During the month of February, our thoughts as American citizens turn to the lives of two of our great Americans—George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. It is an honor to be called upon to address this gathering on the life of Lincoln. I approach this subject in all humility. During the short time available, it will be possible to touch upon only a few of the incidents and traits of his life.

The circumstances surrounding the birth of Abraham Lincoln were such that one would never have imagined that future generations of Americans would gather, some 140 years later, to honor his memory. He was born in the backwoods of Kentucky under the most lowly and impoverished of circumstances. The floor of their one room cabin was dirt packed. It had but one door and one small window in it.

On a day of February 1809, Thomas Lincoln, the father, stepped out of his cabin to a trail that went nearby. He asked a passing neighbor to tell Aunt Walters, the granny woman, that Nancy Lincoln would soon be needing help. On the morning of February 12, a Sunday, Aunt Walters was at the Lincoln cabin. Tom and Nancy welcomed into the world the person who was to become known as Abraham Lincoln. Little did the world realize that the course of history was being shaped by what was taking place in the backwoods of Kentucky on that morning.

Nor was there much in his family heritage that should cause one to believe that he would some day become a great man. His natural mother, Nancy, came from a supposedly illiterate and superstitious family. But what she lacked in family heritage and social training she more than made up in kindness and motherly love.

The Lincoln Family lived in Kentucky until Abraham was 7 years old when the moving bug again bit the Father. He then loaded his Family and their possessions on a raft and they floated down the Ohio River in search of a new home. What a sight that must have been. At a settlement named Posey the Lincolns tied up their raft. The family stayed there while Thomas invaded the wilderness in search of a new home. Upon finding a location, he returned for his family. Certainly no more humble cavalcade ever invaded the American wilderness than this one. It consisted of Thomas and his wife, Nancy, and their two small children. All of their early possessions were loaded on the backs of two borrowed horses. For a period of about a year their new home consisted of a shed that offered them protection on only three sides until a regular cabin could be built.

During his youth Abraham picked up whatever schooling he could. It had to be obtained in short spells since schools were not available in the backwoods. His formal education came to less than one full year. Yet through his reading, study and observation he became one of the best informed and educated men of his day.

One of the events that had a great influence on the life of Lincoln was the death of his natural mother, Nancy. The dreaded milk sickness had invaded the neighborhood and had taken several of their friends. Soon Nancy became sick, her tongue turned brownish and her feet and hands became cold. She called her young son to her bedside during her dying hours and she asked that he grow up to be a good and kind man—that he be good to his sister and his father. Certainly no more kindly man ever walked the American continent than Abraham Lincoln. When Nancy died, her coffin was made from logs taken from trees surrounding the Lincoln Cabin. Little Abraham whittled wooden pegs for the coffin with his jackknife. A minister was not available in the vicinity at the time and so the funeral service was not held until some time later, when an itinerant minister visited the area.

About a year later, Thomas Lincoln remarried. Abraham's new mother was also a fine woman and she was likewise to have a profound influence on his life. As one observes the great influence that these two women had on the life of Abraham Lincoln, one can appreciate the statement that "she who rocks the cradle, rules the world."

I have dwelt at some length upon the childhood and early influences in his life. As one studies his biography, it is obvious that the direction of his entire life was shaped and directed during his youth. We remember him for his kindness and understanding of others. While Lincoln was inherently thoughtful of others—his mothers developed this trait even further. We regard him as an exponent of the rights of the common man and even refer to him as the Great Commoner—which he was. It was from this stock that he came. Most of his life was lived with them. For their welfare, he devoted most of his energies.

You are all familiar with his varied experiences after his youth. He farmed, surveyed, ran a store, studied law and became a lawyer. He even had the experience of being a State Legislator in Illinois. The first time he ran for this office he was defeated. Two years later he ran for the same office again and was elected. However, like many legislators even to this day, he found himself short on cash to get through the session—so he found it necessary to borrow $200 from a friend. Like many legislators, he was unable to fully please his constituents and in his bid for re-election he was defeated.

Throughout the 1840's and 1850's of the last century Lincoln devoted himself to the practice of law. He always held a keen interest in government and civic affairs.

During this period of his life it was obvious that there remained some great purpose of his life that was as yet unattained. As events in the nation began to develop, the demand for his efforts in other fields began to crowd out his attention to his law practice. Throughout the nation and especially in the West and South, a new question was presenting itself. As each new territory and state was formed, the question arose "Is this to be a slave state or free?" Lincoln opposed the further extension of slavery, but he did not favor its abolition at this time.

As the storm gathered over the nation, the rail-splitter from the West took an increasingly active part in state and national affairs. He was the candidate of the newly formed Republican party for the office of U. S. Senator from Illinois in 1858. Perhaps it was fortunate that he was defeated for that office by Douglas. Had he been elected Senator, he might never have become President.

You are all familiar with the events that led to his being elected President of our country. When the time came for him to assume the office in March of 1861, his predecessor, President Buchanan, had already largely permitted the secession of several states. Thus this young nation, over whose destiny he was called upon to preside, was faced with a crisis never before presented to it. The Southern states insisted that they had the inherent and absolute right to secede whenever they should decide to do so.

But with this view, Lincoln was in firm opposition. He maintained that it was his duty to enforce the Constitution and the laws of the land, that under the constitution no state had the right to secede. He felt that if our country was to survive, it must be powerful enough to subdue rebellion and to force compliance with its laws if necessary. Lincoln dreaded the possibility of this nation being divided into small, independent bits, eyeing each other suspiciously from across unnecessary boundaries. It was his conviction that we were intended to be one people and he used his every effort to keep us as one nation. For his wisdom, his foresight and sacrifices, we honor him this day.

As the time approached for the making of the peace there was much public discussion as to the terms of the surrender. The Southern leaders had told their men that Lincoln was bloodthirsty. That if a surrender should become necessary, they could expect very harsh treatment. One element in the North was bitter and they did want revenge. But such was not Lincoln's spirit. The Confederate soldiers and officers were completely stunned when Gen. Grant merely asked that they lay down their arms and go home to their peaceful pursuits. They were even more surprised when it was ordered that their hungry and wounded men should be fed and cared for at once, that those who desired them should be given horses. This merely reflected the wishes of Lincoln as given in his second inaugural address, which was near the end of the War when he said "With malice toward none, with charity for all; with a firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work that we are in. To care for him who has borne the battle, his widow and his orphans, and to do those things that will achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all mankind."

It was unfortunate for our Nation that Lincoln was not permitted to live on to help unite the nation that he had saved. Had he been permitted to do so, the wounds of the Civil War would have been healed much sooner.

Last week it was our pleasure in the House of Representatives to have Rev. Wilde of Cass County address us. Rev. Wilde had escaped from Russia, where he had long lived in bondage and fear. He told us that he could hardly believe, even yet, that there could be such a place on this earth as the United States, where all of the people had such freedom, rights and opportunities. To much of the world, this land of ours is still a dream. To understand how it all came about, they would have to understand the lives of some of our great men and women. They would recognize them as persons who dared to contradict the beliefs of the centuries and to dream that such a nation as ours was possible. That large group of patriots would include such men as Washington—who devoted his life to our founding. It would include Thomas Jefferson, who dared to believe that all men were created equal, that they were endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these were life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It would include Lincoln, who believed in our unity as one Nation and in the worth and dignity of every person, regardless of his station in life. The story of America is a story of countless men and women, some great and some unsung, unselfishly seeking only the welfare and betterment of their fellow men.

What a privilege it is to be part of such a land. What a privilege it is to have any part in carrying this ideal forward. The most that we can wish for the people of other countries where democracy is unknown is that they might come to enjoy the blessings of living in a democracy such as ours. That there might rise up among them leaders such as the one whom we honor today who would seek to bring them freedom, liberty and the opportunity for a more abundant life for all their people.

Toward the end of his life, there was another occasion in which he participated, the significance of which was largely overlooked by the people of that time also. The battle of Gettysburg is regarded as being the turning point of the Civil War. Up to that time, the Confederate Armies under the able leadership of General Lee had been quite successful. General Lee now decided to swing North and capture Philadelphia, then take Washington and end the war in favor of the South. It was while he was on this mission that he rather unexpectedly stumbled unto the large army of General Meade in Southern Pennsylvania near a town named Gettysburg.

For three days the armies of the blue and the gray engaged in a vicious and bloody battle. At first it appeared that the Confederates would again win, but on the third day the Union forces emerged victorious. Lee's armies had been beaten. The tide of the war had turned. The cause of the Union had been saved.

A committee was chosen to establish a national cemetery of the battle grounds and to arrange suitable dedicatory exercises. They selected as the speaker of the occasion Edward Everett of Massachusetts who was regarded as being the orator of that day. Routine invitations to be present were extended to President Lincoln and the members of his cabinet. Lincoln agreed to be present and to say a few appropriate words. Thus it was that on the afternoon of Nov. 20, 1863, the Presidential train was seen rolling over the hills of Pennsylvania on towards Gettysburg. Inside one of the coaches Lincoln was at work on a short address, adding a few words here, and crossing out a word there.

On the afternoon of the dedication, a large gathering of Americans had assembled. The program was held on a hillside which was a part of the large battleground where so many Americans had recently died.

Edward Everett lived up to his reputation as a great orator and gave an excellent address. The presiding officer then called upon Lincoln for his "few appropriate remarks."

The log cabin President arose. He saw and felt the fresh graves about him. Then sensing the significance of the occasion, he challenged those Americans and all future Americans with his closing remarks when he said:

"It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great unfinished task remaining before us . . . That from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave their last full measure of devotion; that we here, highly resolve that these honored dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Rep. Wolf moved that the Joint Assembly be dissolved, which motion prevailed.

The House was called to order by Speaker Sticka.

Rep. Bubel moved that the address by Rep. Holand be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Fitch announced that due to poor health, Rep. Yirchott had left for his home and would not be able to return for the duration of the session. Rep. Fitch moved that the Chief Clerk be instructed to write Rep. Yirchott and express the sympathy of the members and their hope for his speedy recovery, also that his pay be continued and that the Chief Clerk be authorized to sign the payroll for Rep. Yirchott, which motion prevailed.

House Chamber
Bismarck, February 19, 1951

Mr. President: I have the honor to inform you that the House has concurred in the Senate amendment to House Bill No. 619.

KENNETH L. MORGAN, Chief Clerk.

Rep. Holand requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Holand called attention to the presence of a distinguished guest from Washington, D. C., who got his start in the North Dakota House of Representatives. Rep. Holand moved that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort U. S. Senator Milton R. Young to the rostrum and that he be requested to address the assembly, which motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed as such committee Rep. Holand and Rep. Olson of LaMoure. The Committee escorted Senator Young to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House: It is with a great deal of pleasure that I present to you the Hon. Milton R. Young, U.S. Senator from our State of North Dakota, Senator Young.

Senator Young: Mr. Speaker and Members of the North Dakota House of Representatives: I always look back on my service here in the State House of Representatives in 1933 with a great deal of pleasure. It is one of my most cherished memories. I think that we always have a mighty fine representation here in the legislature of North Dakota and I say that regardless of faction. For example, when it comes to economy, I don't think either party has any patent on it, and when it comes to real fellowship, I think oftentimes we find that our best friends and closest friends are sometimes in the other faction. I remember back in 1944 when a member of the House from Fargo got me into this race for Congress. I announced myself, and I was opposing my good friend from Grant and Sioux Counties, Ralph Beede. During the course of that campaign I sent out an advertisement through the state press association to all the newspapers of North Dakota. You put up a lump sum and if a certain paper doesn't carry your advertisement, afterwards your money is returned, that part of it that was not used. Some time about two months after election there was a little money refunded—some three or four papers did not carry the advertisement, and another one that did carry it, never charged for it. I found that my opponent in that campaign, Mr. Beede of Grant County, not only carried my advertisement but did not even make any charge for it. I don't think that happens too often in politics.

I have found myself in a pretty big-time show in Washington.

Sometimes I wonder if I should not have stayed on the farm, or in the House here, or in the Senate. But I believe when it comes to good common horse sense, that the people of North Dakota, and the people of a legislative body like this, know just as much about it, if not a bit more, than most of those in Washington. I have noticed, for example, that the people of North Dakota are more alert to the dangerous world situation than are many members of Congress. Even though some committees, like the Foreign Relations Committee, and the Armed Services Committee, and the Appropriations Committee, hear inside information of what is going on in other parts of the world, and what the armed forces propose to do, and many other things, it somehow doesn't seem to have helped them to arrive at a definite decision. You will find about as much difference of opinion as to what we should do in this world situation. But I do find here sometimes that the people of North Dakota disagree as to what our action should be. For example I notice that you advocate that we evacuate our troops in Korea. That was the position that I have taken, but the poll which I have taken in North Dakota, the results of which will be available to the press on Wednesday, but I am going to divulge one part of it here today—the majority opinion of the people of North Dakota—that is according to this poll—I have had about 2500 answers now and will probably have 3000 to make available to the press—the majority of the answers are opposed to withdrawing from Korea. It is not a big majority however. There is a situation there that is a little different than it was two or three weeks ago. I still think it was a most unfortunate decision that took us into Korea. It was one of those decisions made by the President of the United States with a little group of people one Sunday night, a decision that took us into what may be a major war. It was contrary to what I believe is the spirit of our Constitution and what is good governmental policy. But, anyway, now we find ourselves in a position where it is not too easy to withdraw. We have lost a lot of face, which we might recoup, and should recoup if we can, if the losses are not too heavy. But on the other hand just how much can we gain? Just what are the odds against us? Our casualties so far are more than 50,000—besides what we are paying for the cost of the troops, the food and the equipment, and everything. We have almost our entire army tied up there. If we succeed in taking all of Korea, we will then have the problem of rehabilitating this whole country, of rebuilding practically all of the facilities, bridges, everything, for everything has been destroyed, and these poor miserable people didn't have much to start with. That will cost us probably a billion dollars or two billion dollars. Maybe even five billion dollars. What is it costing Russia, our real enemy who we ought to be doing everything we can to build up our defenses to fight in a war that one day might come? It is costing Russia practically nothing.

Lives are cheap over there. If they lose five million Chinese and Koreans, they wouldn't think much of that. No Russians are involved. They are sending over very little equipment, but on the other hand we are paying a terrific price and getting involved deeper and deeper. I notice a statement by Stalin the other day that they are going to drive us out of Korea; that we are going to meet certain defeat. I think that is entirely within their power to do, unless we want to send everything we have over there. For example, 200,000 or 250,000 troops. If the Russians want to send in a million and a half they can well afford to do it. It would be pretty tough going if they even sent in a million. That is a part of our problem, and I was in hopes that we would not get ourselves tied down too badly in that part of the world. In my opinion those people do not understand or appreciate what we are trying to do, but aside from that, I have not noticed and I don't think that you have noticed, any speeches or any legislators getting up and praising this great cause that we are fighting for in Korea. If you have heard or read any such speech I wish you would send me a copy or let me know. I don't want to detain you long. I know you are very busy.

I want to say this, I think this question of national defense is tremendously important. And along with it I think we are going to have to build such a defense in such a way that it won't entirely wreck our economy. If we do not do that, we will lose all our freedom here and bankrupt ourselves, and will neither be in a position to fight the war that one day may come or to preserve any semblance of democracy here.

Our appropriations this year will probably be Seventy Billion Dollars and along with that contract authorizations I would say of One Hundred Million Dollars. I had never heard of contract authorizations. You might authorize a building costing a billion dollars. You might appropriate five hundred million and give a contract authorization for the rest. That other five hundred million would not show up in the appropriation, but the next year you have to pay for it.

It is going to mean tremendously high taxes. It is going to mean that shortly we are going to have priorities for almost everything. It means that we are going to have a much lower standard of living. I don't think there is going to be any new water projects started. I don't think there should be. We are going to have to cut down wherever we can in non-defense spending and it means that maybe even this next year you are going to have to get priorities for almost everything you want to build. I think I might mention something about the road program. I don't want to in any way try to influence you but I think this is what is in prospect and it has been discussed. The road program may be quite severely curtailed. So far as this year is concerned there are definite commitments, but they have the problem of getting Federal matching funds, and the equipment and material that is needed to build the roads. I think most of the reason for that is that most of the older states, the eastern states, have their roads, the essential roads that they needed, built. It is a different problem with us out here. We never did get our primary road system built up. I think most of the eastern states will say: "Here is one program that we can save three or four million dollars on." I just want to pass that information on to you. This next year we ought to make it our maximum program to build roads. Of course, after this year, not only this program but every other non-military program and project will be severely curtailed.

It has been a great pleasure to address you for this few moments and I would like to stay around for a week and visit but I can't do that. I have to get back for we are going to have a few hot votes ourselves. Thank you.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Senator Young, very kindly. We are very happy to take time out to listen to your remarks, realizing the enormity of our problems here in the state legislature in comparison to the problems that you have in our national Congress, we can well see how troublesome it may be for you, at times, to try to do the best job for a nation rather than just a state, especially in times like these. Let me say again that we are happy to have had you with us and you are always welcome back home.

Rep. Bubel moved that the remarks of Senator Young be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the thirteenth order of business.

Rep. Leier moved that the vote by which House Bill No. 106 was passed be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Langley: I want to speak on this bill and have my remarks recorded in the Journal. I am for the indefinite postponement of Senate Bill No. 106. I feel that its passage would injure, if not destroy, the school reorganization program. The Education Committee passed bills allowing that per diem of county and state committees be discontinued, also the extra pay for the county superintendents, but recommended the indefinite postponement of Senate Bill No. 106. I have within the last few moments received four telegrams from Towner County. One of these telegrams reads as follows: "The reorganization of West Central District No. 2 is very satisfactory. We are opposed to passage of Senate Bill No. 106." Signed T. R. Stanton, Superintendent of Schools.

Here is one from my home town. And by the way, I have not solicited any of these messages. I think they got notice through listening to High Lights last night over the radio and they learned these bills were up for consideration today. One of these telegrams reads as follows: "Urge repeal of Senate Bill No. 106. Community heartily favors your stand. For the good of the redistricting bill, Senate Bill No. 106 must be repealed." Signed I. C. Johnson, Superintendent of Rock Lake, N. D.

Now, here is one from Cando, our county seat. "We oppose Senate Bill No. 106. Would kill school district reorganization." Signed Towner County Commissioners. And here is one from Egeland. These are from four different spots in our county. Egeland Community Club requests that school district reorganization plan remain as was passed in 1947. President, Egeland Community Club.

Senate Bill No. 107. A Bill for an Act to Amend and Reenact Subsection 4 of Section 21-0301 of the North Dakota Revised Code of 1943, Defining Value of Taxable Property and Assessed Valuation in Relation to Bond Issues by Political Subdivisions.

Speaker Sticka: Mr. Edgar Agnew, Mayor of Dickinson.

Mayor Agnew: Mr. Chairman, Governor Brunsdale, Senators and Representatives, Ladies and Gentlemen. For the first time in the history of the North Dakota Legislature, the people of North Dakota have elected a Speaker of the House and a President of the Senate from the same town. We from Stark County, in the city of Dickinson, are mighty proud of that fact. Before I make the presentation I am about to make, I want to read you a letter I have here:

February 21, 1951

Dear Ray and Leo:

This culminated from an idea I have been toying with ever since you, Leo, were elected Speaker of the House, at which time, in addition to the Presidency of the Senate, which we already had in you, Ray, Stark County and Dickinson were further honored with the Speakership of the House.

Now, such an unusual situation must of course be taken notice of by the rank and file of our citizens. And in order to contribute at least a small mite to commemorate this memorable event I thought that a double headed gavel would be about as appropriate as anything I could originate.

This gavel symbolizes the authority and power wielded, simultaneously, by the heads of both chambers of the present Legislative Session, as well as the community bond between them.

These weapons are of course only symbolic, certainly not very practical, but if you would see fit to use the large gavel for the joint session next Thursday, I will feel amply repaid for all my efforts. Make certain that you each use YOUR end of the gavel.

After the joint session you may do one of three things with the large gavel. Match each other for it; cut it in two and each take half; or present it to a museum.

The small gavels won't be any special problem I am sure. Each of you take one home with the rest of your relics.

I am quite certain that these animals are the only ones of their kind in existence.

Sincerely, your friend,
RAY THOMAS

P.S. If it should become necessary for you to admit where these gavels come from, please mention also Eckert Heid, who is Manual Arts Instructor at the Dickinson High School. He had a big hand in their shaping."

These gavels are made of North Dakota Badlands Cedar and at this time I would like to present this gavel to Lt. Governor Ray Schnell and to Speaker Leo Sticka.

Lt. Governor Schnell: Senator Day, and Rep. Fitch, you are both out of order. It is really beyond words to express the appreciation I feel to the citizens of Stark County and to the people of Dickinson for presenting a souvenir as valuable as this to Speaker Sticka and myself. The problem here will be how to divide this gavel. We can't hardly saw it in two. We could perhaps flip a coin and find out which one of us would be the owner of it, or perhaps we could present it to the museum of the State of North Dakota as a remembrance of the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. It is a swell gesture from the people at home and I hope that when we get back home that everybody there will be satisfied with the work we have done here in the two Houses.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Lieutenant Governor Schnell. I would like to add also my own sincere appreciation for being remembered in this fine manner on the occasion of this session. It gives us all satisfaction. We feel we have attained something and we are naturally thankful to the originators of the idea and to the people back home in Stark County. Lieutenant Governor Schnell, I have a suggestion to make insofar as this big gavel is concerned. I don't believe that in another two years you will be strong enough to handle this big gavel. We don't want to cut it up. I have a suggestion to make, Ray—I say "Ray" because we know each other that well—I believe that we should leave this gavel here in the State Historical Museum. If you have no objection I would like to have you present this gavel to Superintendent Russell Reid of the State Historical Society from this joint assembly to be kept on display in the museum in the years to come. How about that, Ray?

Lt. Gov. Schnell: Thank you, Leo. I will be glad to do that.

 4 laid down their labors on this earth and passed to eternal 5 rest.

6 William Lemke was born at Albany, Minnesota,

15 Charles R. Robertson was born September 5, 1887, on a 16 farm near Madison, Wisconsin, and was educated in the 16a public
17 schools of Wisconsin and Parker College. He was a well
17a known
18 business man and operated stores in Valley City,
18a Jamestown,
19 Wahpeton, and Bismarck. In 1940 he was a delegate to the 20 National Republican Convention in Philadelphia. He was

27 of North Dakota by these distinguished citizens and that 28 at this time we pause in our deliberations to pay tribute 29 to their honored memory.
30 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this resolution be 31 entered in the Journal of the Senate of this legis'lative

AN EULOGY
ON THE LIFE OF
GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON,
WHO DIED AT MOUNT VERNON, DECEMBER 14th, 1799,
IN THE 68th YEAR OF HIS AGE.

WRITTEN

At the request of the citizens of Newburyport, and delivered at the first Presbyterian Meeting-House in that town, January 2nd, 1800.

BY THOMAS PAINE, A. M.

"Oh! for a muse of fire, that would ascend
 "The brightest heaven of invention!
 "An empire for a stage, heroes to act,
 "And angels to behold the swelling scene!
 "Then should the MIGHTY SHADE again assume "His local habitation, and his name,
 "Mantling our sphere with his supernal glory!
 "Virtue and fame should pioneer his way
 "Thro' planets wonder-struck; while at his heels
 "Valor and victory (leasht in like hounds)
 "Crouch for employment!"

AMERICANS,

The Saviour of your country has obtained his last victory. Having reached the summit of human perfection, he has quitted the region of human glory. Conqueror of time, he has triumphed over mortality; legate of heaven, he has returned with the tidings of his mission; father of his people, he has ascended to advocate their cause in the bosom of his God. Solemn, "as it were a pause in nature," was his transit to eternity;—thronged by the shades of heroes, his approach to the confines of bliss;—paeaned by the song of angels, his journey beyond the stars;

The voice of a grateful and afflicted people has pronounced the eulogium of their departed hero—"first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen." That this exalted tribute is justly due to his memory, the scar-honored veteran, who has fought under the banners of his glory, the enraptured statesman, who has bowed to the dominion of his eloquence, the hardy cultivator, whose soil has been defended by the prodigies of his valor, the protected citizen, whose peaceful rights have been secured by the vigilance of his wisdom; yea, every fibre, that can vibrate in the heart of an American, will attest with agonized sensibility.

Born to direct the destiny of empires, his character was as majestic, as the events, to which it was attached, were illustrious. In the delineation of its features, the vivid pencil of Genius cannot brighten a trait, nor the blighting breath of Calumny obscure. His principles were the result of organic philosophy, his success of moral justice. His integrity assumed the port of command, his intelligence the aspect of inspiration. Glory, to many impregnable, he obtained without ambition;—popularity, to all inconstant, he enjoyed without jealousy. The one was his from admiration, the other from gratitude. The former embellished, but could not reward; the latter followed, but never could lead him. The robust vigor of his virtue, like the undazzled eye of the Eagle, was inaccessible to human weakness; and the unaspiring temperament of his passions, like the regenerating ashes of the Phoenix, gave new life to the greatness, it could not extinguish. In the imperial dignity of his person, was exhibited the august statute of his mind:

"See what a grace was seated on his brow,
 "An eye like Mars, the front of Jove himself,
 "A combination, and a form indeed,
 "Where every God did seem to set his seal,
 "To give the world assurance of a man!"*

Oppressed by the disconsolate sensibilities, which this melancholy occasion has excited, yet inspired by a veneration, which no sense of calamity can suspend, how shall the feeble eulogist of the moment retrace the path of the hero through the rugged acclivities of his fame,—how shadow the outlines of a life, whose influence on society has baffled the imitation of the wise,—how define the great proportions of a character, which, like the electric principle, can only be described by its effects? What wing of human description shall soar to the unclouded height of his talents, what chemistry of human judgment shall separate the elements of his virtues?—The magnificence of his deeds has outvied the heraldry of fancy—and the purity of his motives has bewildered the deductions of reason.

From his first appearance on the theatre of public life, ere the modest simplicity of enterprize had invited the decorations of artificial honor, ere the "hair-breadth escapes" of the Monongehala had elicited the native energies of heroism, to the maturest era of his excellence, when victory had nothing left to bestow, and Fame herself had despaired of rendering to his merits their equivalent reward, we behold the same undeviating course of magnanimous action, rising, like the sun, in gradual and majestic progression. In no situation, to which the emergencies of his country have called him, however insulated with peril, or fortified by prosperity, do we at any time detect his invincible equanimity, modified by incident. In no climax of fortune, do we behold him, dejected by obstacle, or elevated by success;—desperate in danger, or sanguine in triumph. Deliberate to concert, he was vigorous to execute;—intrepid to conquer, he was humane to forgive. In council, he united the calculations of the veteran, to the ruling impulse of the patriot;—in battle, he never shed the blood of an enemy but for victory, nor gained a victory but for his country.

As the director of that important and dubious contest, which issued in the establishment of our liberty and independence, he displayed an impressive grandeur of exertion, which marshalled into hostility the fluctuating vigor of his countrymen, and is still remembered with awe in the astonishment of nations. To the rapacious cabinet of the mother country, which had recently learnt, in the disastrous campaign of Braddock, that her glory was mortal, he had given his name a formidable estimation by his military prowess on that memorable occasion. In the enjoyment of an ample paternal domain, he was reposing under the groves of fame and philosophy, when the chafed lion of New-England "leaned on the daring huntsman, that had galled him," and boldly bade defiance to his power. The dawn of our revolution was overshadowed with clouds, that would have damped the ardor of any people, whose bosoms were not inspired by the uncontrollable enthusiasm of liberty. But what hope of success could this high-born principle, though stimulated by injury, afford to the unwarlike peasantry of a country, without arms, without discipline, without funds, without a leader, in contending with an empire, whose policy and valor had for centuries kept the nations of Europe in its toils? Yet, at this inauspicious juncture, when every prospect was enveloped with disaster, when unsuccessful opposition could promise no reward but aggravated oppression, when political infidelity had almost chilled with dismay the kindling fervor of Americans;—at this moment, so portentous, so gloomy, did the calm, inflexible, unassimilating Washington, relinquish without reluctance the magnificent retirement of wealth and honor; and, committing to the hazard of the contest, the pleasures, that allured him to seclusion, and the character, that attached him to life, appealed to the God of armies to attest a soldier's oath—"I will triumph, or die with my countrymen!"—Animated by his guiding intelligence, America woke to the consciousness of her powers; and, realizing the boast of the Roman hero, an army, organized by his creative discipline, arose at his command.

Through the vicissitudes of a war, singularly fluctuating in its fortunes, and desolating in its effects, he discovered a constant principle of action, which acquired no lustre from the brilliant exploits it achieved, but derived all its glory from its own original greatness. Self-dependent, and self-elevated, it disdained the fictitious aid of circumstance; and never did it shine with more splendor and energy, than when fortune had deserted him, and his country had despaired. The activity of fortitude, whose stability was reason, invigorated the operations of an intellect, whose object was liberty. What but this invincible constitution of soul, whose gigantic philosophy always rose with the difficulties it encountered, could have sustained the drooping cause of an half-conquered people at that momentous and almost hopeless crisis, when the banks of the Delaware were lined by a triumphant enemy, impatient for our subjugation; when the ranks of our brave defenders, thinned by battle, by famine and retreat, crimsoned—their flying encampments with the blood of their footsteps; when the fate of a continent was suspended on the incredible exertions of a night, and a conspiracy of the elements opposed the progress of the eventful enterprise! The mind, that was inaccessible to despair, was invulnerable to disaster; and at the instant, when the flags of our Invader were unclutched to fasten on his prey, when his pampered ambition was gloating on the spoils of unconditional submission, the distant thunder of the cannon at Trenton aroused him from his dreams of dominion, and convinced him that the resources of a Washington were not to be computed by the extent of his entrenchments, nor his activity to be palsied by a campaign of disasters.

To the pen of the historian must be resigned the more arduous and elaborate tribute of justice to those efforts of heroic and political virtue, which conducted the American people to peace and liberty. The vanquished foe retired from our respiring shores, and left to the controlling genius, who repelled them, the gratitude of his own country, and the admiration of the world. The time had now arrived, which was to apply the touchstone to his integrity,—which was to assay the affinity of his principles to the standard of immutable right. Enjoying the unbounded confidence of an emancipated people, whose filial reverence had associated in his character, a greatness, unexampled by patriotism, with a purity, unshaded by suspicion,—and commanding the implicit affections of an army of veterans, whose unliquidated demands, on the justice of an impoverished public, might have rendered them zealous instruments of ambition,—the deliverer of his country was now the arbiter of its fate. It was now the flood-tide of his glory, on which he had only to embark, and the current would have wafted him to his haven. That decisive moment in the existence of nations and men, on which the destinies of both are suspended, was now sitting on the dial's point of the crisis.—On the one hand, a realm, to which he was endeared by his services, almost invited him to empire; on the other, the liberty, to whose protection his life had been devoted, was the ornament and boon of human nature.—Washington could not depart from his own great self. His country was free;—he was no longer a general! Sublime spectacle! more elevating to the pride of virtue, than the sovereignty of the globe united to the sceptre of ages! Enthroned in the hearts of his countrymen, the gorgeous pageantry of prerogative was unworthy the majesty of his dominion. That effulgence of military character, which in ancient states has blasted the rights of the people, whose renown it had brightened, was not here permitted, by the hero, from whom it emanated, to shine with so destructive a lustre. Its beams, though intensely resplendent, did not wither the young blossoms of our independence; and liberty, like the burning bush, flourished unconsumed by the glory, which surrounded it.

To the illustrious founder of our republic it was reserved, to exhibit the example of a magnanimity, that commanded victory—of a moderation, that retired from triumph. Unlike the erratic meteors of ambition, whose flaming path sheds a disastrous light on the pages of history, his bright orb, eclipsing the luminaries, among which it rolled, never portended “fearful change” to religion, nor from its “golden tresses” shook pestilence on empire. What to other heroes has been glory, would to him have been disgrace. To his intrepidity it would have added no honorary trophy, to have waded, like the conqueror of Peru, through the blood of credulous millions, to plant the standard of triumph at the burning mouth of a volcano! To his fame it would have erected no auxiliary monument, to have invaded, like the ravager of Egypt, an innocent, though barbarous nation, to inscribe his name on the pillar of Pompey!

Self, the grand hinge, on which revolves the principles and passions, that have swelled the obituary of nations, made not a unit in the calculations of a mind, which considered grandeur as the inseparable incident of rectitude;—which owed to fortune nothing of its glory, to enthusiasm nothing of its virtue. From “heaven's high chancery” had issued his commission;—he obeyed the godlike precept it contained;—he created a nation! The glorious work completed, so was his ambition. The reward of his labors was the enjoyment of that liberty he had protected from violation; and the boast of his pride was the cultivation of that soil he had defended from subjection. Amid the fondest caresses of fame, that pursued him to retirement,—blush ye heroic murderers of mankind!—never did the transcendent Washington, on the pinnacle of his greatness, design to be conscious, that by his talents his country was free,—that in her glory himself was immortal!

Public opinion has in all ages been as volatile as the air, that wafts it;—and the fate, which has attended the benefactors of their country, had been as chequered as the passions, and perverse as the ingratitude of man. A tyrant, sainted by the people he had enslaved, has been elevated to a niche in the Pantheon; while a hero, whose talents and services had propped a falling empire, has found at last a more faithful friend in the mastiff that conducted him, than in the nation he had protected. But it has been the peculiar lot of a Washington, to unite to an integrity, which could impeach the ambition of malice, the vigilance of an enterprise, which could arrest the decisions of fortune. Through the long labors of a life, which forms an epoch in history, never for a moment was he rivalled in the affections of his countrymen; and to the honor of Americans, be it recorded, that their gratitude to the man, who had established their independence, existed, at the period of impending anarchy, the only cementing bond of union, which preserved their jarring interests from a destructive collision.

The temporary structure of the old confederation, which had been planned merely for the purposes of a revolutionary government, when the passions of the people were united, was found, upon a brief experiment, to be totally incompetent to direct the affairs of an extending nation, when peace had restored the complicated occupations of life, and demanded a more uniform protection from the energies of law. The inconveniences, resulting from its defects, had given occasion to designing demagogues, who hoped to profit by a separation of the states, to foment divisions among a people, who too lightly valued the blessings they enjoyed. The union of the country was in danger; and the evil was of too baneful a nature to admit of a partial or dilatory remedy. But, how novel, how aspiring, was the hope of connecting, under one compact code of general jurisprudence, so many distinct sovereignties, each jealous of its independence, without impairing their respective authorities! The unbalanced bodies of the confederacy had almost overcome the attracting power, that restrained them; when the watchful guardian of his country's interests, the heart-uniting Washington appeared, the political magnet in the center of discord, and reconciled and consolidated the clashing particles of the system in an indissoluble union of government.

Possessing, as well from experience, as intuition, the master science, that could direct the impulses of human action; and invested, by the crowded benefactions of a life of glory, with a charm of eloquence, which impressed the convictions of reason on the pliant gratitude of his countrymen;—he ruled in the councils of that august body of statesmen and patriots, the fruits of whole cooperating talents was the present constitution of America. By the unanimous suffrage of an enlightened and confiding people, appointed to the administration of a government, in whole construction he had exerted so beneficial an influence, he brought, to the execution of that important and arduous trust, the energy of a mind, whose elevation could borrow no dignity from station, and the integrity of a heart, whose sensibility could receive no bias but from his country. With what wisdom and vigor he discharged the hazardous and thronging duties of an incipient magistracy, the revival of political harmony, the extended confidence of commerce, the unexampled increase of national credit and wealth, and the happiness and morality of the people, will furnish a more satisfactory evidence, than the most brilliant description of the panegyrist. In this unprecedented transition of office, his character had assumed a new and astonishing attitude;—the impenetrable hardihood of the conqueror was rivalled by the intelligent policy of the statesman. Pierced by the glance of his administration, party, like the recreant eye of the felon, shrunk abashed from his scrutiny;—and unnerved by the sanctity of his person, degeneracy, like the viper at Melita, fell harmless from his hand.—Appalled by the oppressive contemplation of his greatness, the “cloud-capt” crest of ambition was overawed by the majesty of virtue;—and, maddened to desperation by the invulnerable purity of his life, that snakes of ENVY recoiled upon the head of their mistress, and burrowed to the brain, that supplied their venom.

Exemplar of heroes! In what favored nation, or era, shall the exulting philanthropist record the existence of a character, uniting, like thine, in one bright constellation of talents, every civic and military glory, that blazons in legend, or beams in history?—Should we search in the archives of classic antiquity, we might find a wife and venerable Fabius, who, like thee, could “save a nation by delay; “*but never, like thee, could seize victory by enterprise, and outstride fortune by the foresight of philosophy!—We might behold the majestic Cincinnatus, who, like thee, in the vigor of Roman heroism, could return from the conquest of his country’s enemies, to his humble Mount Vernon beyond the Tyber;—but never, like thee, to protect from faction the liberties we had wrestled from invasion! We might trace the great Julius, extending the terror of his eagles, through realms, before unshadowed by their pinions;—we might follow him to the forum, and listen to an eloquence, like thine, when applauding senates instinctly moved at his control;—but where, in the map of thy victories, shall we find the banks of a Rubicon!

Encumbered with honors the father of his country once more returned to the unambitious abodes of his affection, followed by the tears and blessings of his fellow-citizens!—The glory, which had encircled the scenes of his action, could not be excluded by the solitude of retirement. He had de-vested the insignia of command—but his empire was not diminished. He had surrendered the badges of fame—but the gaze of the world did not suspend its veneration. The name of Washington was still a battlement to his country, under whose protection liberty exulted, at whose terrors hostility trembled.

Though remote from the causes of European contest, yet affected by the convulsions it excited, in vain had our nation attempted to maintain with honor an unprotected neutrality. Piracy plundered the ocean;—Invasion threatened our shores.—Again, were the eyes of America directed with trembling solicitude to her venerable deliverer; and, again did this man without example, this patriot without reproach, whose life was his country, whose glory was mankind, resign with alacrity, to the cause he had sworn to defend, the tranquil hope of repose, to which he had devoted the unclouded evening of a life of toils!—The character was perfect! Washington now touched “the highest point of all his greatness.” A more than human splendor surrounded him. The etherial spirit of his virtues towered above the globe they adorned, and seemed to meditate their departure to their native mansion.—Of the frailty of man, nothing now remained but his mortality; and, having accomplished the embassy of a benevolent Providence—having been the founder of one nation, and the sublime instructor of all—he took his flight to heaven;—not like Mahomet, for his memory is immortal without the fiction of a miracle;—not like Elijah, for recording Time has not registered the man, on whom his mantle should descend;—but in humble imitation of that omnipotent architect, who returned from a created universe, to contemplate from his throne the stupendous fabric he had erected.

The august form, whose undaunted majesty could arrest the lightning, ere it fell on the bosom of his country, now sleeps in silent ruin, untenanted of its celestial essence. But the incorruptible example of his virtues shall survive, unimpaired by the corrosion of time; and acquire new vigor and influence, from the crimes of ambition, and the decay of empires. The invaluable valediction, bequeathed to the people, who inherited his affections, is the effort of a mind, whose powers, like those of prophecy, could overleap the tardy progress of human reason, and unfold truth without the labor of investigation. Impressed in indelible characters, this legacy of his intelligence will descend, unsullied as its purity, to the wonder and instruction of succeeding generations; and, should the mild philosophy of its maxims be ingrafted into the policy of nations, at no distant period will the departed hero, who now lives only in the spotless splendor of his own great actions, exist in the happiness and dignity of mankind.

The sights of contemporary gratitude have attended the sublime spirit to its paternal abode; and the prayers of ameliorated posterity will ascend in glowing remembrance of their illustrious benefactor!—The laurels, that now droop, as they shadow his tomb with monumental glory, will be cultivated by the tears of ages;—and, embalmed in the heart of an admiring world, the temple, erected to his memory, will be more glorious than the pyramids, and as eternal as his own imperishable virtues.

Presentation - First Edition of Paine's "Eulogy to George Washington".....Senator Stucke

Acceptance for State Historical Society.....Russell Reid

Senator Stucke: Mr. President, Mr. Speakers, Members of the Supreme Court, Governor Brunsdale, and other members of the official family, Members of the House and Senate, Employees, Visitors: I am happy on this occasion to present to the State Historical Society an aged, worn, tattered document, the first edition of the Eulogy of George Washington by Thomas Paine, I came into possession of this—I would say—almost immortal document in Albany, New York. It is one of the very few copies of the first edition extant.

I want to take this opportunity, having no better place to leave it, this Eulogy by Tom Paine of General George Washington, than to present it—not to my native State of Minnesota, but to my adopted State of North Dakota to which I owe everything, folks.

Russell Reid, Custodian of the Historical Society, may I have the honor to present to you for safe keeping the Eulogy of George Washington by Thomas Paine.

Mr. Reid: I wish to thank you most sincerely, Senator Stucke. We are very proud and happy to have this very valuable and rare document in our files. We will promise to give it the very best of care, and I know that many people who come to our institution will be glad to see it, and it will last there for a long time. I think it is very fine of you to have acquired this fine document and to give it to us for safe-keeping.

Senator Stucke: Thank you, Mr. Reid.

Rev. A. E. Smith: Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Your Excellency the Governor, It is my privilege at this time to present, through you, Sir, to the State Historical Society, this illuminated copy of the prayer of George Washington for the Nation, which I used this afternoon to open this session. This illuminated copy was given to me when I was visiting at the Shrine of American democracy, Valley Forge, when I attended the National Boy Scout Jamboree in July of the past year, and it is my privilege, on behalf of the Episcopal Church in Bismarck and its members to present this copy to the State Historical Society. Thank you, Sir.

Mr. Reid: Thank you very much:

I will present them to you giving a short summary of their accomplishments and from whence they come. The first one is Eagle Scout Joe E. Thompson of Troop 102, of Fergus Falls, Minnesota, chosen as the outstanding scout in the Red River Valley Council with headquarters at Fargo. Then we have Life Explorer Scout Howard Stockman, of Troop 65, Williston, North Dakota, representing the Great Plains Council with Headquarters at Minot.

And then we have Star Scout Harris Hillestad of Troop 138 of Knox, North Dakota, representing Lake Agassiz Council with headquarters at Grand Forks.

These five scouts are representing more than 15,000 Boy Scouts, 12,000 of them in North Dakota, and they are here today to report on the accomplishments of North Dakota Scouts in 1950 and their plans for 1951.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on State and Federal Government to whom was referred Senate Concurrent Resolution "H," have had the same under consideration and recommend that the same be indefinitely postponed.

REP. SAUMUR, Chairman.

Rep. Langseth of Eddy-Foster moved that the report be adopted.

Rep. Holand moved, as a substitute motion, that Senate Concurrent Resolution "H" be placed on the calendar, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Pederson of Dickey called attention to the presence in the House Chamber of former member Con Bymers, and moved that mention thereof be made in the Journal and that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort Mr. Bymers to the rostrum and that he be invited to address the assembly, which motion prevailed. The Chair appointed as such committee Reps. Pederson and Larson of Dickey County and the committee escorted Mr. Bymers to the rostrum.

Sneaker Sticka: Members of the House, former Rep. Bymers of Dickey County.

Mr. Bymers: Members of this Assembly: Little did I think that they would ever march me down the aisle in this manner here. I used to get quite a kick out of it when they led them up here to the rostrum but I did not come here today with any intention of getting up here and talking to you. While I may have talked once in a while from down there among you, probably on a tax base bill or a sales tax bill; or it might have been on the municipal liquor store bill. I notice now that that is of a slightly controversial nature so I will refrain from talking on that—I don't want to get into any trouble.

I hope I can collect my mental faculties a little better than a young man we had down at Ellendale who was hurrying his young wife to the hospital to get what Walter Winchell calls "a bundle from Heaven," in other words, what is often referred to in these days as "an exemption." He was rather addled and confused and in a terrible hurry, and he paid no attention to traffic regulations and made all kinds of turns to the left, passing all kinds of cars. Finally he made it and got to the hospital and he went in—I don't think they call it a lobby in a hospital—but in the waiting room, at the registration desk, and his wife was sitting there as cool and calm as could be, and he was so confused that he could not think of his wife's name. He just didn't know what to write down there—and he turned to his wife and said: "Honey, are you sure you want to go through with this?" Well, that's about the position I am in. I don't know whether I care to go through with it. However, I fully realize that it may be rather late to be thinking about that now. I was in here yesterday and heard that "baseball game" in here. Of course, we have had a lot of things of that kind before—horse races and one thing and another, and the recollections that I have of the incidents that took place while I was a member of the legislature—sometimes when I am all alone by myself, going up and down the field, I get a kick out of thinking about it. I remember one time we passed a bill here that got away from some of the boys. It got over to the Senate and then we thought the thing had to be changed around a little and someone moved to get it back from the Senate, but the Senate refused to return it. We had to go over there and do quite a little lobbying in order to get the bill back. Another time we had to clear the corridors and had to get all of the people out of there. They were standing in here so thick they said:

"Get that Senate out of here" and the Sergeant-at-Arms marched the Senators out. All of those things are a part of this great democracy of ours. I don't believe there is another country in the world where the people can get together and write the laws which govern all of the people, like we do in the United States of America, and I believe the legislative assembly of North Dakota exercises that democracy as well if not better than any other state in the Union. Today, as I see it, this democracy is being challenged. Yesterday you had a Washington's Birthday program here, in memory of the man who was instrumental in setting up this form of government. This form of government has been challenged a time or two before. We have preserved it and we are going to preserve it again. As I see it the people owe to these leaders, to the government, all of the privileges that they have. The government owes us nothing. The government is yourselves. But the government, folks, is obligated to its people to the extent that whatever those people do in this economy of ours, they are going to be equitably and justly compensated for their efforts. If that is accomplished then I fear no danger of Communism in this democracy of ours. History has proven that governments that fail to recognize those needs in behalf of their people—that has been the breeder of Communism.

Now, the thing is that the world is getting smaller. We had national problems. Now we have world problems. Here the other day a man flew from Ireland over to this country in four hours. We have got to recognize these things. Leo, some day you may be getting up out here and going to church in New York and maybe watching a ball game in London or Paris in the afternoon and be back home at six o'clock in the evening, out riding on the range in Stark County. Those are the things you want to recognize. Well, folks, I did not come up here to talk to you. It is nice to meet you folks again. Being a member of the legislature you meet the swellest bunch of people. I have enjoyed every session and every minute that I have worked in here. It is a swell bunch of guys. I thank you.

Speaker Sticka: We wish to thank former Rep. Bymers for his remarks. I think it is pretty generally understood by us all, after listening to him, that he could still talk on one or two bills. Thank you again for being with us and coming up to visit us.

Rep. Halerow moved that the remarks of Mr. Bymers be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Fitch: In this assembly room this afternoon is one of the great citizens of the state, a former Speaker of this House, a man who at times has shown great influence in the guiding of legislation through the Chambers, both here and in the Senate. It seems to me we should show him the courtesies of this House by asking him to come to the rostrum and say a few words to us. I would move that you appoint a committee of two, consisting of myself and Palmer Levin, to escort the gentleman to the rostrum.

Rep. Wolf: Mr. Speaker, I move that the courtesies of the floor be extended to a friend of mine, J. L. Wylie from Wishek, and I ask that the records show that former Rep. A. J. Schmidt, who served here in 1945 is present here in the House Chamber today, and I want also to include in that motion former Rep. Bettenhausen who also is present here and I move that the courtesies of the floor be extended to them, and I move that Rep. Bettenhausen be appointed as a committee of one to act with Reps. Fitch and Levine to escort Mr. Crockett to the rostrum.

The motion was put and carried. The Speaker announced that Reps. Fitch and Levine and former Rep. Bettenhausen would escort former Speaker Wm. Crockett to the rostrum. The Committee escorted Mr. Crockett to the rostrum.

Rep. Fitch: Mr. Speaker, Members of the Assembly: In 1937 a committee was appointed to investigate the State Hospital at Jamestown. I now want to present to you that "insane committee" Mr. Crockett, Mr. Levin and Mr. Fitch.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House, Former Speaker William Crockett:

Mr. Crockett: Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of this Assembly: I don't know just what to say here. I have read the Journal a few times this year, somebody has sent it to me and I appreciated it. Everything seems to be going along fine, Mr. Speaker. I read the newspapers and one of them said it was a good thing. Bill Crockett wasn't here—that Bill Crockett and brother Lafe Twichell caused all the trouble. Mr. Speaker, I don't know what you want me up here for. You might get into some of that trouble and here you only have ten or twelve days left. Rep. Sailer down there said if I talked more than a minute he was going to shoot me. I can't say very much in a minute. Well, I k'nd of envy you people, you have things so easy now. You have got a streamlined legislature. You have a research committee doing the work for you and you have these committees changed around. I think former Speakers Beede and "Bergie" as I call him, streamlined this committee work.

I often wonder if it wasn't on account of Bergeson's trouble—You know he was Speaker of the House, and Brother Lafe was not here any more and he packed his committees so strong that he worked the men very hard. He gave me the best compliment I have ever had. I used to be on State Affairs when we controlled the House, and Lafe Twichell was Chairman when they controlled. But Bergie packed the State Affairs Committee 12 to 7 and I knew before he announced the members that he was not going to put me on the committee, although it was my due to be on the committee. He said Twichell is not here and Billy Crockett will control that committee. I always thought I had just a little ability but not that much. Well, Bergie kept on working the boys hard, but it was good for them. He put me on as Chairman of a Joint Committee. I think it was on "Public Buildings" and that committee has never met yet, in all these years. Well, you know, Bergie was having trouble and getting behind with his work and he recessed for 20 minutes. He wanted all the Chairmen of the committees to meet in the hearing room. I went down, too, and made it a point to be the last fellow to go in, so I could get out quicker. He looked up and saw me there, but I was a Chairman of a committee. Before they started to work I said "the committee on Public Buildings have all of their work finished, they are all caught up." I think it was after that that they streamlined the committees.

Another thing they have made easy for you—this electric voting system. Now I never did want any job but Mr. Fitch there and Mr. Levin will tell you that it used to take as much as ten or sometimes twelve minutes to call the roll and we thought that we should have this voting system. So we put our heads together and introduced the resolution. I think a committee was to go down to Louisiana in June or July. Of course, we expected the Governor would appoint us. But we didn't get to make the trip. He didn't appoint any legislators on that committee. But you have got it so nice and easy now that I am kind of envious of you. You have so much more time to play. Well, I have a speech in me but I know you people don't want it. I just want to say that I have had a lot of hard days work here. We just had to get into a few fights but we were all friends afterward. Every time I see any of those legislators we meet as friends. It was a fine experience and they were a fine bunch of fellows. I have often wondered where we are going from here, in this world crisis. You know, in government we have to legislate to control ourselves and naturally we have to find the money. But I can't see, fellows, where we are going to get the money to fight this global "police action" we are supposed to be fighting—I have a different name for it. If we are going to do that and if the people of this state and nation want to continue to have all the things that we have,—Well, I am afraid we aren't going to have enough money to do it. Now, I just want to say again that I thank you very kindly for this invitation, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House. I have certainly enjoyed it, and I want to meet the new members. As I look over the assembly here, those old familiar faces are getting fewer. I think that Dad Halcrow over there is the oldest man in the House in point of service, not in years but I believe in years of service. I am sure that Mr. Halcrow first came to this legislature some time in the early twenties and he has been here a long, long time. I want to thank you all again. Thank you.

Speaker Sticka: Former Speaker Crockett, you mentioned in your remarks that you have heard we have gotten along harmoniously in this session. In order to insure that we continue to get along harmoniously for the balance of the session, the Stark County citizens sent us a weapon. If you don't think this is going to help keep things harmonious, I don't know what will. (Exhibiting the two handled gavel presented yesterday) This was sent down for one of your good friends, the Lieutenant Governor, and myself. We have decided we are not going to break it unless we have to. Thank you for being with us, former Speaker Crockett.

Mr. Crockett: If anyone knows where the first little gavel is, that I used, that was presented to me for this House, I wish they would let me know. I intended when I got through with that first session that that gavel was going to be my gavel. I don't know whether you would call it grand larceny or what but one night I forgot to lock it up in my desk and it was not there next morning. I don't know who has it but if any of you ever find out I would like to have that gavel. The gavel I used is the one that Carl Brunsdale, the brother of the Governor gave me. It was a big one made from an oak tree and an ash tree that had grown on the Brunsdale farm for 40 years. Thank you all very kindly.

Rep. Callahan moved that the remarks of Mr. Crockett be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Baker requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Baker moved that Senate Bill No. 13 be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations, which motion prevailed.

Johnson, Charles Hendrickson, and Gerald Nordquist of Washburn; to Clark Robinson of Coleharbor, and to 34 High School students of Mercer and their instructor, Mrs. Archie Kline, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Sommer moved that the absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

INTERNATIONAL ROLL CALL CORPORATION
3114 W. Marshall Street
Richmond 21, Virginia

February 22, 1951

Mr. Kenneth L. Morgan
Clerk of the House of Representatives
Bismarck, North Dakota

Dear Mr. Morgan:

If maintenance contract between the State and us for care of House and Senate machines is not desired at this session, then please deliver accompanying bill for Senate cards to the Clerk of the Senate, and place the two enclosed bills for House cards and service call in line for payment.

These bills for the service call and the House and Senate cards total $744.55. In addition we understand the House will want a new control panel installed, for which they should appropriate the sum of $4,250.00.

Of course if a mutually agreeable maintenance contract could be worked out to start with and cover this session, then all of the above charges would be nullified, and all of the above services would be considered as falling under the maintenance contract.

We are endeavoring at this moment to draft a form of maintenance contract that will meet the views of North Dakota officials insofar as we can do that, and we shall airmail this proposal directly to Mr. A. C. Johnson, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, as soon as possible, for the consideration of his Committee.

Perhaps under the circumstances it would be advisable for you to refer this letter and its entire contents to Mr. Johnson.

Sincerely,

INTERNATIONAL ROLL CALL CORPORATION,

(Signed) Marshall F. Thompson

Rep. Sailer requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Sailer moved that the House reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 45 was indefinitely postponed, and that the bill be placed on the calendar, which motion prevailed.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House, Dr. Carlson, of the Crippled Children's Home at Jamestown. Dr. Carlson, would you please address the assembly here for a moment or two.

Dr. Carlson: Honorable Members of the House. It is a privilege to address this distinguished group as a representative of crippled children. Yesterday it was a great thrill for me to be in the Senate when House Bill No. 540 was passed.

This legislature will go down in the history of education of crippled children as a legislature that has recognized the right of crippled children to an education. I think you are to be commended for your action in passing that bill which will give state support to the education of crippled children. I would like to say just a word or two about a pioneer effort in the field of special education, and that is the Crippled Children's Home in Jamestown. As many of you know, it is not state supported, but it is supported by the people of the state who give voluntary contributions because they feel that crippled children have a right to an education. So for ten years our school has been in operation. At the present time we have room for 61 dormitory students who stay at the school for ten months, who are given therapy and an education. The medical therapeutic team do all they can to help remove the handicap or at least minimize it to the greatest degree. Our aim is to return these students to society where they can be self-supporting and independent members of society. We don't try to keep them there for their full educational career. We try to get them back as quickly as possible to the public schools. I know that the time is short. The best way for you to see what we are doing at the school is to come and visit us, so at this time I would like to extend a personal invitation to each one of you to visit the school for Crippled Children in Jamestown whenever you are there. Visitors are welcome. Come at any time. We would like to show you what we are doing for the crippled children in our state. Thank you.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Dr. Carlson. We appreciate having you here with us today and we appreciate your invitation to us to visit the Crippled Children's School at Jamestown. We want to thank you for coming up this afternoon.

Rep. Holand moved that the remarks of Dr. Carlson be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

We are conscious of the fact that you are pressing toward adjournment, and we won't take much of your time. We, of Dickinson, have a great respect for the work you are doing here. We sent a class in political science here the other day and they sat in on committee hearings, a number of them, and on the general sessions of the House and the Senate, and I want to say to you that they came back with a very wholesome respect for their North Dakota legislature. That is a fine thing. If the weather had been more favorable we would have sent another group down. The eyes of the state are on you. You are conscious of that I am sure. Our eyes have been particularly on this young man who has been your presiding officer during this session. Throughout the several sessions that he has been serving us here, and serving the whole State of North Dakota, we have watched his development and growth as a man and as a legislator with a great deal of interest and a great deal of appreciation. We have had good representation, we feel, in all of the Representatives and Senators from our area, not only for our particular interests and needs but for those of the state, and we appreciate that very much. I want to say again that we have watched this young man's development with a great deal of interest and a great deal of pride, and we take a great deal of pride in the kind of a job he has done during this session. I think he has done a splendid, a magnificent job. So, on behalf of the Teachers College, we want to express our appreciation in the way of a small token. Mr. Harding has been sponsor of it. It was made in his department, and I am asking him to make the presentation.

Prof. Harding: Mr. Speaker, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to present to Leo this gavel that was made from Badlands cedar, in recognition of his many kindnesses and his thoughtfulness through the past years and through this session.

Speaker Sticka: President Scott, Professor Harding, at times like these words do not come just as they should. I wish to say this: I sincerely appreciate your thoughtfulness. I knew that your minds and your hearts were with us during this session. I will say that the House has been very kind to me. I have had no occasion to use the other gavel here very vigorously, and I hope that we can continue in that way.—Let me say to you people from Stark County, and for Stark County, I thank you. Your gift is deeply appreciated. I shall keep this gavel among my souvenirs and it will have its place—I would say one of the better places—among those souvenirs. Thank you again, President Scott and Professor Harding. Before you leave, I would like to have you use the gavel first. Just give us one rap of the gavel. (President Scott and Professor Harding each, in turn, rapped for attention with the gavel just presented to the Speaker.)

The Speaker announced the House would be on the fifth order of business.

Which the House requested.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

Rep. Wollitz moved that the absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Holand moved that the House do now adjourn, which motion prevailed and the House stood adjourned.

FIFTY-NINTH DAY

Bismarck, March 1, 1951

The House convened at 2:00 p.m., pursuant to adjournment taken, Speaker Sticka presiding.

Prayer by Rev. G. V. Schnaidt of the American Lutheran Church of Bismarck.

Roll Call: 111 members present, 2 absent. Those absent were: Reps. Stair and Yirchott.

Rep. Wollitz requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Wollitz moved that the courtesies of the floor be extended to former member Ray Thompson of Richland County and that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort Mr. Thompson to the rostrum, and that he be invited to address the Assembly, which motion prevailed. The Chair appointed as such committee Reqs. Fitch and Wollitz and the committee escorted Mr. Thompson to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: Ladies and Gentlemen, former member of the House, Ray Thompson. I am sure he has a word for us.

Mr. Thompson: Members of the House. This is an unexpected event. I know now how they feel when they lead them to the execution. I suppose I should not take very much time, but I would like to have about five minutes though, I know you fellows are busy. They tell me you are winding up your session early, or at least hope to do so, and I congratulate you on that. I have heard that things have been going along very harmoniously this session, and I congratulate on that, too. When I used to be down here things went not too harmoniously all the time and it was not my fault for I promoted peace and tranquility from the day the session opened until it closed. But you know, some of these fellows were a little uncooperative. They meant well. I remember especially the 1947 session when Richland County was honored by having its Speaker elected from our County. Mr. Johnson was elected Speaker. Mr. Johnson and I, not seeing eye to eye at all times, had a great deal of fun. I recall one evening when Manfred Ohnstad was in the Chair and the Speaker came down on the floor—he had a habit of doing that—after I had addressed the House, quite often the Speaker from Richland came down on the floor to answer me. I think I was ruled out of order three times in twenty minutes, and I had the satisfaction of ruling him out of order once. We had quite a bit of fun together and it seemed like it did not hurt me as much as it did him. When I got in a jam, or in a little trouble, and got called down it was just like pouring water off a duck's back, but it seemed like when I got the best of him it burned, but I will say that the gentleman from Richland was a good Speaker and I was proud to have served under him. Now, some of you new members, I will tell you a story about your Speaker. I had the honor of sitting alongside of your Speaker in 1947—I sat down there where Larson of Dickey is sitting. The Speaker sat alongside of me and he sort of objected to my voice being too loud now and then. He wanted to trade seats with me so he could get out on the aisle where he could get away at times but I refused to do it. I was going to keep him there on the spot.

The 1949 session opened and we drew for our seats. Mr. Sticka and I were very good friends, but he said: "Am I going to get away from that voice" and he ran down and sat where Rep. Frank is sitting at this time, with a deep breath of relief. But it so happened that Rep. Levin got to be Speaker and I got his seat and there we were again, right across the aisle from each other. So we were again in competition with our voices. Well, there are a lot of reminiscences I could give you. I remember one time a certain representative wanted to escort the Lieutenant Governor to the "rest room" instead of to the rostrum at an inaugural, and I could think of a few more things. One time—Here is a chance to pay off Ken Fitch. I wanted to make a speech and my friend from Richland ruled me out of order. I asked for unanimous consent to speak anyway, and Rep. Fuelestad objected so I failed of getting unanimous consent so then Rep. Fitch made a motion to let me talk on anything under the sun that I wanted to talk on. Thank you, Kenny.

Well, I just want to say one more word about a missing Representative. Every session there are missing faces. Some of them are missing due to their passing on, some of them move, some of them, as happened in my case, meet defeat at the hands of the voters. But I want to say a word about one who has passed on, a Representative that I enjoyed serving with very much. We had several differences of opinion and every once in a while he would get up and say "Gentlemen, today I know I am right, because Thompson and I agree." That was Rep. Clair Brickner. I want every one of the old members to know that I had the highest regard for Clair Brickner and no one felt more regret at his passing than I. That is all. I thank you for your kindness.

Speaker Sticka: Sitting here and listening to former Rep. Thompson I can remember—it is very true what he says about the time when we were neighbors on the floor of the House. And here I have been going along fine up to the next to the last day of the session. When I took the seat opposite where Rep. Frank is sitting, two years ago, Thompson followed me and sat right across the aisle. And here with only a day and half to go Rep. Thompson follows me right up to the rostrum.

We are glad to have heard from you former Rep. Thompson, and we are glad to know that you still have your voice. Thanks for coming and talking to us, Rep. Thompson.

Rep. Fitch: I personally want to thank the former representative and I move that his remarks be printed in the Journal and that a copy of them be sent to the Lidgerwood Monitor so they can publish that very fine talk in his home county. The motion was put and carried.

The Speaker announced the House would be on the third order of business.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Revision and Correction of the Journal have carefully examined the Journal of the Fifty-seventh Day after recess and Fifty-eighth Day and recommend that the same be corrected as follows:

On page 954, line 32, strike out the word "to" and insert the word "from"

On page 952, lines 4, 6 and 10, strike out House Concurrent Resolution "S" and insert Senate Concurrent Resolution "S"

And when so corrected recommend that the same be approved.

REP. EKREN, Chairman.

Rep. Ekren moved that the report be adopted, which motion prevailed and the report was adopted.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

A communication signed by the Cavalier County delegation was read.

Rep. Power moved that the communication be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

The raising of barley in North Dakota has become one of our farm industries that has brought considerable wealth to this state and one of which we are proud.

With North Dakota leading in this field, we the representatives from Cavalier County feel that the North Dakota State Barley Show at Osnabrock has done much towards the furtherance of good barley, extend the invitation to the members of this House to be with us at this show on March 16th in Osnabrock, so that a greater knowledge of this product of our farms may be had.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Senate Chamber
Bismarck, March 2, 1951

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to inform you that the Senate has refused to concur in the House amendment to Senate Bill No. 88 and the President has appointed as a conference committee to meet with a like committee from the House, Senators: Work, Streibel and Pyle.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

Senate Chamber
Bismarck, March 2, 1951

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to return Senate Bill No. 207 which the House requested.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

Senate Chamber
Bismarck, March 2, 1951

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to transmit:

Senate Bill No. 49
Senate Bill No. 57
Senate Bill No. 181
Senate Bill No. 188
Senate Bill No. 247
Senate Concurrent Resolution "G"
Senate Concurrent Resolution "P"

Which the President has signed and your signature is respectfully requested.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

Rep. Holand requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Rep. Holand: During this session of the legislature we have extended the courtesies of the floor to many outstanding persons. They have included persons from far and near, some well known and others not so well known.

Now I am going to move that the Speaker appoint a committee to escort a certain person to the rostrum who is visiting us here this afternoon whom I feel is deserving of recognition. To my mind she is worthy of our attention and a little bit of spotlight. I refer to none other than Mrs. John Leier. Mrs. John Leier has the distinction, which to my mind is very unique, and in fact is most outstanding and highly commendable, of being the mother of fourteen healthy, normal children. Included in that group are eight boys and six girls. Now, when someone pointed out to me who Mrs. Leier was, I could not believe it because when I looked over her way I found her to be extremely young and attractive. Now, Mr. Speaker, I move you that a committee of two be appointed, which committee shall not consist of any bachelors, to escort Mrs. Leier to the rostrum, and I move that she be requested to say a few words to our group.

The motion was put and carried. The Speaker appointed as such committee Reps. Leier and Hofstrand and the committee escorted Mrs. Leier to the rostrum.

Speaker Sticka: Members of the House, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to present Mrs. John Leier. Mrs. Leier, have you a few words for us?

Mrs. Leier: Well, I will try to say a few words. I think this was all a put up job here and I think if I had known about it I would have stayed at home. This is my first trip to the Capitol and I have enjoyed every bit of it. Thank you.

Rep. Stormon of Rolette: I believe Mr. Leier is also entitled to a hand. We should rise in honor of Mr. Leier. (All members rose to their feet)

Rep. Holand: It should be quite obvious that my remarks of yesterday with regard to North Dakota's shrinking population could not in any way be attributed to Mr. and Mrs. Leier.

Speaker Sticka: The Speaker would like to say that we are very happy to have had Mrs. Leier here with us this afternoon. We hope that some day some of the younger Leiers will come here as members of this House.

Rep. Stormon of Rolette moved that the remarks of Rep. Holand and Mrs. Leier and the Speaker be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

At this time the Speaker announced the following conference committee on Senate Bill No. 88: Reprs.: Sailer, Snortland and Anderson of Ransom.

Rep. Bubel moved that the House reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 207 was passed, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Bubel moved that Senate Bill No. 207 be placed on the calendar, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Bubel asked the unanimous consent of the House to suspend the rules for the purpose of amending Senate Bill No. 207, which consent was granted.

Rep. Bubel moved that Senate Bill No. 207 be amended as follows:

Strike out everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

ARTICLE III

A. It is considered that no Commission or administrative body is necessary to administer this Compact or divide the waters of the Yellowstone River Basin as between the States of Montana and North Dakota. The provisions of this Compact, as between the States of Wyoming and Montana, shall be administered by a Commission composed of one representative from the State of Wyoming and one representative from the State of Montana, to be selected by the Governors of said States as such States may choose, and one representative selected by the Director of the United States Geological Survey or whatever Federal agency may succeed to the functions and duties of that agency, to be appointed by him at the request of the States to sit with the Commission and who shall, when present, act as Chairman of the Commission without vote, except as herein provided.

B. All such rules and regulations shall be filed in the office of the State Engineer of each of the signatory States for public inspection.

F. In case of the failure of the representatives of Wyoming and Montana to unanimously agree on any matter necessary to the proper administration of this Compact, then the member selected by the Director of the United States

Geological Survey shall have the right to vote upon the matters in disagreement and such points of disagreement shall then be decided by a majority vote of the representatives of the States of Wyoming and Montana and said member selected by the Director of the United States Geological Survey, each being entitled to one vote.

G. The Commission herein authorized shall have power to sue and be sued in its official capacity in any Federal Court of the signatory States, and may adopt and use an official seal which shall be judicially noticed.

ARTICLE IV

The Commission shall itself, or in conjunction with other responsible agencies, cause to be established, maintained, and operated such suitable water gaging and evaporation stations as it finds necessary in connection with its duties.

ARTICLE V

A. Appropriative rights to the beneficial uses of the water of the Yellowstone River System existing in each signatory State as of January 1, 1950, shall continue to be enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation.

B. Of the unused and unappropriated waters of the interstate tributaries of the Yellowstone River as of January 1, 1950, there is allocated to each signatory state such quantity of that water as shall be necessary to provide supplemental water supplies for the rights described in paragraph A of this Article V, such supplemental rights to be acquired and enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation, and the remainder of the unused and unappropriated water is allocated to each State for storage or direct diversions for beneficial use on new lands or for other purposes as follows:

1. Clarks Fork, Yellowstone River
 - a. To Wyoming 60%
 - To Montana 40%

The quantity to which the percentage factors shall be applied through a given date in any water year shall be, in acre-feet, equal to the algebraic sum of:

4. The quantity of water, in acre-feet, that passed the point of measurement in the stream during the period from October 1st to that given date;

D. All existing rights to the beneficial use of waters of the Yellowstone River in the States of Montana and North Dakota, below Intake, Montana, valid under the laws of these States as of January 1, 1950, are hereby recognized and shall be and remain unimpaired by this Compact. During the period May 1 to September 30, inclusive, of each year, lands within Montana and North Dakota shall be entitled to the beneficial use of the flow of waters of the Yellowstone River below Intake, Montana, on a proportionate basis of acreage irrigated. Waters of tributary streams, having their origin in either Montana or North Dakota, situated entirely in said respective States and flowing into the Yellowstone River below Intake, Montana, are allotted to the respective States in which situated.

E. There are hereby excluded from the provision of this Compact:

1. Existing and future domestic and stock water uses of water: PROVIDED, That the capacity of any reservoir for stock water so excluded shall not exceed 20 acre-feet;
2. Devices and facilities for the control and regulation of surface waters.

F. From time to time the Commission shall re-examine the allocations herein made and upon unanimous agreement may recommend modifications therein as are fair, just, and equitable, giving consideration among other factors to:

- Priorities of water rights;
- Acreage irrigated;
- Acreage irrigable under existing works; and
- Potentially irrigable lands.

ARTICLE VI

Nothing contained in this Compact shall be so construed or interpreted as to affect adversely any rights to the use of the waters of Yellowstone River and its tributaries owned by or for Indians, Indian tribes, and their reservations.

ARTICLE VII

A. A lower signatory State shall have the right, by compliance with the laws of an upper signatory State, except as to legislative consent, to file application for and receive permits to appropriate and use any waters in the Yellowstone River System not specifically apportioned to or appropriated by such upper State as provided in Article V; and to construct or participate in the construction and use of any dam, storage reservoir, or diversion works in such upper State for the purpose of conserving and regulating water that may be apportioned to or appropriated by the lower State: Provided, That such right is subject to the rights of the upper State to control, regulate, and use the water apportioned to and appropriated by it: And provided further, That should an upper State elect, it may share in the use of any such facilities constructed by a lower State to the extent of its reasonable needs upon assuming or guaranteeing payment of its proportionate share of the cost of the construction, operation, and maintenance. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper State in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper State in a lower State.

B. Each claim hereafter initiated for an appropriation of water in one signatory State for use in another signatory State shall be filed in the Office of the State Engineer of the signatory State in which the water is to be diverted, and a duplicate copy of the application or notice shall be filed in the office of the State Engineer of the signatory State in which the water is to be used.

C. Appropriations may hereafter be adjudicated in the State in which the water is diverted, and where a portion or all of the lands irrigated are in another signatory State, such adjudications shall be confirmed in that State by the proper authority. Each adjudication is to conform with the laws of the State where the water is diverted and shall be recorded in the County and State where the water is used.

D. The use of water allocated under Article V of this Compact for projects constructed after the date of this Compact by the United States of America or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, shall be charged as a use by the State in which the use is made: Provided, That such use incident to the diversion, impounding, or conveyance of water in one State for use in another shall be charged to such latter State.

ARTICLE VIII

A lower signatory State shall have the right to acquire in an upper State by purchase, or through exercise of the power of eminent domain, such lands, easements, and rights-of-way for the construction, operation, and maintenance of pumping plants, storage reservoirs, canals, conduits, and appurtenant works as may be required for the enjoyment of the privileges granted herein to such lower State. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper

State in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper State in a lower State.

This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper State in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper State in a lower State.

ARTICLE X

No water shall be diverted from the Yellowstone River Basin without the unanimous consent of all the signatory States. In the event water from another river basin shall be imported into the Yellowstone River Basin or transferred from one tributary basin to another by the United States of America, Montana, North Dakota, or Wyoming, or any of them jointly, the State having the right to the use of such water shall be given proper credit therefor in determining its share of the water apportioned in accordance with Article V herein.

ARTICLE XI

The provisions of this Compact shall remain in full force and effect until amended in the same manner as it is required to be ratified to become operative as provided in Article XV.

ARTICLE XII

This Compact may be terminated at any time by unanimous consent of the signatory States, and upon such termination all rights then established hereunder shall continue unimpaired.

ARTICLE XIII

Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to limit or prevent any State from instituting or maintaining any action or proceeding, legal or equitable, in any Federal Court or the United States Supreme Court, for the protection of any right under this Compact or the enforcement of any of its provisions.

ARTICLE XIV

The physical and other conditions characteristic of the Yellowstone River and peculiar to the territory drained and served thereby and to the development thereof, have actuated the signatory States in the consummation of this Compact, and none of them, nor the United States of America by its consent and approval, concedes thereby the establishment of any general principle or precedent with respect to other interstate streams.

ARTICLE XV

This Compact shall become operative when approved by the Legislature of each of the signatory States and consented to and approved by the Congress of the United States.

ARTICLE XVI

Nothing in this Compact shall be deemed:

(a) To impair or affect the sovereignty or jurisdiction of the United States of America in or over the area of waters affected by such compact, any rights or powers of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, in and to the use of the waters of the Yellowstone River Basin nor its capacity to acquire rights in and to the use of said waters;

(b) To subject any property of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities to taxation by any State or subdivision thereof, nor to create an obligation on the part of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, by reason of the acquisition, construction, or operation of any property or works of whatsoever kind, to make any payments to any State or political subdivision thereof, State agency, municipality, or entity whatsoever in reimbursement for the loss of taxes;

(c) To subject any property of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, to the laws of any State to an extent other than the extent to which these laws would apply without regard to the Compact.

ARTICLE XVII

Should a Court of competent jurisdiction hold any part of this Compact to the contrary to the constitution of any signatory State or of the United States of America, all other severable provisions of this Compact shall continue in full force and effect.

ARTICLE XVIII

No sentence, phrase, or clause in this Compact or in any provision thereof, shall be construed or interpreted to divest any signatory State or any of the agencies or officers of such States of the jurisdiction of the water of each State as apportioned in this Compact.

Chairman Sailer: Will the gentlemen named please come forward.

Reps. Holand, Baker, Bubel and Beede took their places on the rostrum.

Rep. Wolf moved that Reps. McLellan, Link, Jansonius, Stormon of Rolette and Johnson take their places on the rostrum in the special seats placed there for them, which motion prevailed.

Chairman Sailer: Will the gentlemen named please come to the rostrum.

Reps. McLellan, Link, Jansonius, Stormon of Rolette and Johnson took their places on the rostrum.

Chairman Sailer: I will call on Rep. Stormon of Rolette to make the presentation to Rep. Beede, the Assistant Minority Floor Leader.

Rep. Stormon (of Rolette): Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker, Representatives and Friends of the House of Representatives here assembled: Rep. Beede, will you arise? We are approaching the closing hours, perhaps minutes, of the Thirty-second Legislative Session of the State of North Dakota, and the time has come when this legislative assembly desires to pay tribute to those who have rendered particular service to this House and to the people of North Dakota. I have been chosen as the representative of this assembly to address you briefly and to express to you our sincere appreciation of the contribution that you have made to your State. I understand that you were born in the State of South Dakota but when just a few months old crossed the boundary lines to the south of us and went up almost to the Canadian border and lived in Rolette County, and in my home town of Rolla in former years, and was educated there. I first met you when you were a student at the University of North Dakota, before I moved to Rolette County. Your family has a long and honorable record of service to the community, in the city of Rolla and in the County of Rolette as well as in other sections of North Dakota. It is therefore a very special privilege that is mine to address you this evening, on this occasion. You have rendered particular legal service to this session. Your ability, your legal talents, have been recognized, and it was only this evening that you accomplished a legal victory in the legislative assembly in securing the Senate's acceptance of a bill in which many members of the House were greatly interested, involving tax titles, and this House pays particular tribute to you of appreciation. You have in former years presided over this assembly. You were returned as a member of the legislature to render service, and have served as an assistant minority leader. In that capacity you have not only rendered service to your minority party but you have likewise rendered particular service to the majority, and to the House, and to the legislature. In token and small appreciation of that excellent service that has been yours to render, and in behalf of the members of the Thirty-second Legislative Assembly I desire to present to you this small token of our appreciation. Congratulations, Rep. Beede.

Rep. Beede: Thank you, John. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chairman, Distinguished "Nine Old Men," Members of the Legislature: When John started he spoke my name, but after he continued talking I wondered who he was talking about because I was pretty sure he could not mean me. Anyway, this comes as a surprise to me because while in some way or other my name appeared on the letterheads as Assistant Minority Floor Leader, I want to say that Ben has really done the work and I really feel that Ben (Wolf) is more entitled to this than I am. But I sure want to express my gratitude for all those kind words. Even though they are not true we sometimes appreciate hearing them. Thanks, a lot.

Chairman Sailer: Thank you, Rep. Stormon and Rep. Beede. I shall next call on Rep. Link to make the presentation to Assistant Majority Floor Leader Rep. Baker—Rep. Link.

Rep. Link: Mr. Chairman, Members and Visitors of this House of Representatives, Distinguished Members on the rostrum, especially Rep. Baker. Rep. Baker, will you please rise? Rep. Baker and myself, ladies and gentlemen, I believe have a great deal in common. I believe that we are members of the same age group. We both are married and have little ones. I believe we came to our first session at the same time. We entered as freshmen in a freshman class and there is something about it—you seem to remember those who started in the legislative work the same time that you did. I can truthfully say that is particularly true in my case. The first session that Rep. Baker and I attended, we served on two committees together, namely Education and Labor Relations, and to me, being a freshman in the matter of legislation, I believe the matters that came up in those two committees seemed of the utmost importance—perhaps more so because we were freshmen, but yet I am certain that as time goes on they have still proven to be some of the most important measures that were taken care of in that session. In that connection I might digress a bit to make a remark or two here regarding my good friend, Rep. Baker. All of us in one way or another have some habits—petty or otherwise—that we have acquired because perhaps of a weakness or habits we have formed from sheer necessity. I could not help but notice one habit of my good friend, Rep. Baker, that sort of took hold of him quite soon after the beginning of the session, and for the benefit of the rest of the membership here I might state that I noticed every time Rep. Baker got up to address the assembly he arose from his chair, immediately moved to the back of his chair, firmly anchored his coat tail between his back and the front of the desk to his rear, and stayed in that position, firmly placed, at the back of his chair. I was only able to arrive at one conclusion and that was that he very firmly put himself in that position so that his superior, the majority floor leader, was unable to reach over and grasp his coat tail and pull him down into his seat. It has proven to be a most successful position for Rep. Baker on the many occasions that he has found it necessary to address the assembly. The Third House Party testified our friendship for Rep. Baker, and caricatured him so perfectly that we should also remember him as one of the congenial type of members that must always have that spot in our heart which we hold for a man whom we realize has the remarkable qualification of analyzing problems that he himself may not be personally interested in, but nevertheless being the good Representative that he is, takes it upon himself to study the problems and then do his duty either supporting or opposing that particular measure. I have found Rep. Baker to be that kind of a man. On behalf of the membership of the House of Representatives, it is my pleasure, and an honor, to present to you this token of our appreciation of your service to this, the 32nd legislative assembly. Rep. Baker, congratulations.

Rep. Baker: Thank you. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Assembly: I want to say that one of the things that I enjoy the most about the legislature is the opportunity it gives me to make new friendships, and of the three sessions that I have served, I think that this has been the richest of all in new friendships and in cementing old friendships. I have appreciated the opportunity of serving with you. I hope I have not been too obnoxious. I thank you very much.

Chairman Sailer: Thank you, Reps. Link and Baker. I shall next call on Rep. Johnson to make a presentation to Minority Floor Leader Rep. Bubel. Rep. Johnson.

Rep. Johnson: Walter, stand up. Walter and I have never been long-winded, so this is going to be a very short presentation message. I remember Walter back in the session of 1937 when he started in as Bill Clerk. He grew up in the legislature, in the House. He came from the bottom and now he is at the top, as Floor Leader of the minority group. I have a great deal of confidence, and I believe the rest of the members of the House have, in anything that Walter brings before the House, and in his explanation of a bill, giving his reasons for supporting or opposing it. I think you will agree with me that Walter has been very, very fair in all his dealings in this session of the legislature, and those previously in which he has served. There is only one thing that Walter lacks and that is that he doesn't speak quite loud enough. So two years ago we had to have that "mike" set up on his desk so that we could hear him. Walter, it has been a pleasure to serve with you in this 32nd Legislative Assembly. I have not taken too active a part myself but you have really been in there pitching. I will say that in my years of service with Walter, he has learned more parliamentary procedure than any other member of the House. He really is a parliamentarian in the legislature. On behalf of the members of the 32nd Legislative Assembly, Walter, I want you to accept this gift.

Rep. Bubel: Thank you. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chairman, Friends: There are times when you run out of words and don't know just what to say. I think if I could get into an argument with Rep. Johnson I would be better off. These are kind of touching times. However, I want to say that I have appreciated working here this winter with the majority faction. They have been very good to me. They haven't taken me over a barrel or over the coals too much, and especially Mr. Baker and Mr. Holand, the majority Floor Leader and his assistant. They have been very lenient with me. I think if they had gotten really rough I would not have been the parliamentarian that Mr. Johnson claims I am. I also want to express my appreciation to Mr. Beede, our Assistant Floor Leader. Although he says he did not do much work, I can assure you that he did a considerable amount of work. If I had the opportunity to help you fellows as minority floor leader I can assure you that it was a great deal of it due to his ability, and his work, and the information that I got from him that permitted me to give you that help. I also want to congratulate you, Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the minority faction, for the fair treatment you have given us, in committee assignments, in conference committee appointments, and in the way you have recognized us on the floor. We appreciate it. You have done a splendid job and we appreciate that. Now I want to thank all the employees and the members of this House who have been so generous in giving me this gift. Thank you.

Rep. Sailer: Thank you, Rep. Johnson and Rep. Bubel. The Chair will next call on Rep. Jansonius to make the presentation to the majority Floor Leader, Rep. Holand. Rep. Jansonius.

Rep. Jansonius: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker, Majority Floor Leader, Members and Friends, Mr. Holand: Some two months ago when this session started I heard the comment from many individuals that Mr. Holand was a very able man. Since that time I have found that he has more virtues than his ability because that alone would not have made him the floor leader that he has been. He has been extremely industrious. There has never been a bill that you could not consult him on, that he was not familiar with. In addition to that he has a personality that one can't help but admire, and he is always willing to help, especially the new members, at any time that they might ask him. I noticed that at the beginning of this session most of the people spoke of "Rep. Holand." Later it became "Holand" and the last few weeks it has been "Roy" that we have heard yelled around this room. I want to say, Mr. Holand, that in spite of the fact that I may have been a party to making it embarrassing for you at times, it was unintentional, and I want now to apologize if I have done that. I know the other members want to do the same thing. So on behalf of the 113 members of the legislative assembly we are glad to present you with this gift.

Rep. Holand: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker, Fellow Legislators and Friends: It has indeed been a pleasure for me to have had the opportunity I have enjoyed, with my other fellow representatives here who have sought in some small way to serve you during this session of the legislature. Rep. Bubel has stated that there are times when it becomes very difficult for one to find the words to fully express his thoughts. That is surely true at a time like this. That is especially true after a period of about fourteen days when one who is serving as a majority floor leader tries to have something to say about each of twenty or twenty-five bills that come on the calendar each day, and to try to say something different and something intelligent on each of the measures that comes up. As I have stated to you, in the last few days I feel that you folks who have been here as Representatives have cut out for yourselves an outstanding session of the North Dakota Legislature in the House of Representatives. I say that in all sincerity. I feel that you have done that because you came here with the thought in mind, and throughout your experience here you maintained that one thought and one objective, of doing what you considered to be absolutely the best for the people of the State of North Dakota. You have not allowed personalities to enter into the matter of legislation. You have not allowed personal likes or dislikes to color your thinking, and the legislation that you folks have enacted I feel has been outstanding toward the building of a better state for all of us. I wish to pay special tribute to the young members, to the new members, for the fine work that they have done, for their good sense in deciding when not to talk, and their good judgment when they did talk. I wish to pay special tribute to my opposition, to the Assistant Minority Floor Leader, Ralph Beede. I sincerely consider Ralph Beede to be one of the outstanding legislators that the State of North Dakota has ever had.

And Walter, I wish to pay tribute to you for the fine, outstanding work that you have done. I have never felt that it has been necessary for me to use the whip which I am supposed to have had, but which I don't feel that I have ever had to wield in order to put you in line, and the reason I felt that way was because, when differences arose, I felt that you were fully concerned about the welfare of the people, and that the best legislation was your sole objective.

I also wish to thank my assistant, Rep. Baker, for the fine work that he has done. In spite of the remarks regarding his coat tail I very rarely if ever found it necessary to use either the coat tail method or any other method in order to bring him into line as to what my thinking was on a certain measure or what the administration policy was supposed to be. I am glad I could serve with an assistant who had ideas and also the ability to express them, and who was so concerned about doing only the right thing. Likewise I wish to pay my respects and regards to our very capable and able Speaker that we have had during this session. I am convinced that when I sat at that desk down there about two months ago and arose to speak in nomination of Rep. Sticka as Speaker, and said so many fine complimentary things, that he has more than deserved all the compliments paid him at that time. He has done an outstanding job for us as Speaker. I also wish to make it plain that whatever little I have done has been because of the fine work that all of you people have done here, and that my own contribution has been very little, if any, to the total objective. And as I use this gift, whatever it may be, I am sure that I will think back upon the interesting times that we have had here, the many pleasant associations that we have enjoyed, and I shall feel that it is one of the real opportunities in my life, to have served with you ladies and gentlemen in trying to serve the people of the State of North Dakota. Thank you.

Chairman Sailer: Thank you, Rep. Jansonius and Rep. Holand. I shall now call upon Rep. McLellan to make the presentation to Speaker Sticka, Rep. McLellan.

Rep. McLellan: Mr. Chairman, Speaker Sticka, Members of the House of Representatives, Ladies and Gentlemen: As a new member of this assembly one thing that stands out in my thoughts in connection with this term has been the friendships that one makes with the members of this assembly, regardless of party or faction, and one of the friendships that I know I am going to cherish is the friendship of your Speaker, Leo Sticka. As I sit down there in front of him day after day, I have come more and more to admire him. I can see that he has a radiant personality, a friendly smile, a quick wit. He has a deep sense of fairness, and above all he has shown an outstanding ability in handling this House in a very efficient manner in getting the legislation taken care of in an expeditious way, and so, Speaker Sticka, it is indeed a pleasure for me to represent the membership of this House in presenting to you this gift, which we hope will remind you every time you look at it of the time you presided over this House for 60 days during the 32nd Legislative Assembly.

Speaker Sticka: Thank you, Rep. McLe'lan. Mr. Chairman, Distinguished Fellow Legislators on the rostrum, and Fellow Legislators in the Chambers, Ladies and Gentlemen: About two months ago, or rather, sixty days ago, I felt rather uneasy about being elected your Speaker. I knew what the responsibilities were that I was about to accept. It did not take very long, however, after working with you Members of the House of this 32nd Legislative Assembly, before I realized that you came here for a purpose. That purpose was to represent your districts to the best of your ability and to the best interests of the State of North Dakota. You and I had the same idea. When we talk about the harmonious way this session has gone along we can only charge it to that one thing, which in my estimation is the very honest truth, that we all came here to do that job. To the newer members of this assembly I wish to say "May you continue to come to this House and to participate in the conduct of the affairs of your state's household." We have tried to make it interesting for you. Perhaps at times it did not appear that way to you but nevertheless we have tried to do the best we could so that you might find the performance of your duties a little easier. To all of you, to each and every one of you, I wish to extend my sincerest, my heartfelt appreciation, for the splendid cooperation, the good will, that you have displayed throughout this session. I can't help but mention this one fact, the splendid treatment accorded me by the minority faction, the minority floor leader, Mr. Bubel, Mr. Beede the assistant floor leader—and I should like to include Mr. Wolf, and all of the members of the minority faction—to all of you in the minority faction I say "thanks, from the bottom of my heart for the splendid treatment I have had at your hands."

To my own faction I wish to extend my sincere and deep appreciation for the wonderful consideration, at the outset and during this session, which it has been my pleasure to experience.

It is only natural to feel that way. It is because of the treatment they have accorded me that we have progressed here as we have. I have deeply appreciated the cooperation between factions, and between the membership and the Speaker. I do feel that that has been the basis of our success here, insofar as getting along among ourselves is concerned. Insofar as the legislation we have passed is concerned, only time will tell. Naturally our constituents back home will evaluate very thoroughly what we have accomplished here in the way of reforms or corrections. If we have not succeeded entirely according to our own will, individually, that is not so necessary. The majority has again spoken. And that is our democratic form of government. To our majority floor leader and to his assistant, Mr. Baker, a hearty "thank you" for all the trouble that I have caused you in asking you so many times to take me out of a hole. I should like at this time also to say thank you to the Chairman of the Employment Committee, and the Members of the Employment Committee. They always have a headache at the beginning of every session. They have hired for us I would say the finest people that we have had in many a session, and I say that with all due credit to all the fine employees that we have had in previous sessions. We have had a wonderful group of employees and at this time I would like to ask the House membership to give the employees of the House a resounding round of applause. I think they deserve it. (Applause)

As we go to our homes after the close of this session, which I hope will be tonight, we will be having fond memories and recollections of this session, as we have had of those in previous years, but let me remind you of this one thing—We have formed friendships and associations here that will last beyond just one or two years—that will last for years and years to come. To each and every one of you I would like to wish you, first of all, a good share of health, and then prosperity and peace and I can only close with these words: "May God bless you all and be with you until we meet again," and let us hope it will be in two years from now if not sooner. Thank you, each and all for your part in making this a wonderful session.

Rep. Wolf moved that the special order of business be dissolved, which motion prevailed.

Speaker Sticka resumed the Chair.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks under the special order of business be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Fitch: At this time, Mr. Speaker, I am going to propose a motion. We have all told one another goodbye, and that we have enjoyed working with one another, and that is true. There are two of our members who are ill at this time, Rep. Stair, and Rep. Yirchott. I am going to move, Mr. Speaker, that the Speaker of the House write a letter to Mr. Stair and to Mr. Yirchott, shaking hands with them in spirit, and telling them that we hope and we wish for their speedy recovery. I make that as a motion.

The motion was put and carried unanimously.

At this time a committee from the Senate advised the House that the Senate had completed its business and was ready to adjourn sine die.

Rep. Fitch moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House had completed its business and was about to adjourn sine die, which motion prevailed. The Chair appointed as such committee Reps. Fitch, Johnson and Beede.

At this time the Chair appointed the following Representatives as members of the Legislative Research Committee: Reps. Leet, Nygaard, Holand, Bubel, Hofstrand and Lynch.

Rep. Holand moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Governor that the House had completed its business and was about to adjourn sine die, which motion prevailed. The Chair appointed as such committee Reps. McInnes, Trydahl and Welk.

Rep. Holand moved that the Speaker of the House be authorized and requested to write to the Mayor and to the governing body of the City of Bismarck, and thank them for the courtesies extended to the members of the legislature during their stay in the Capital City, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Fitch announced that the committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House had completed its business and was about to adjourn sine die, had performed its duty and requested that the committee be discharged. The request was granted and the committee was discharged.

Rep. McInnes announced that the committee appointed to notify the Governor that the House had completed its business and was about to adjourn sine die, had performed its duty, and requested that the committee be discharged. The request was granted and the committee was discharged.

Rep. Erickson announced that the Committee on Photography had performed its duty and requested that the committee be discharged. The request was granted and the committee was discharged.
