"This legislative assembly, while we may think highly of ourselves as individuals and as a group, get to be pretty thorny at times, to the employees who are very faithful to all of us and we are fortunate in that regard that we have filled the position of desk reporter one who, if we were to give her a nickname, rather than her name of Ruth, the name would be Rose.

"Ruth Smith is truly a rose, not only on the desk force, but in the entire assembly.

"It is not news to the members who have previously served here, that Ruth will take care of our legislative needs and desires that are reasonable — and I assure you new members that before very long you will have this experience.

"Mrs. Smith is one of North Dakota's outstanding, and most faithful public servants.

"I could spend a great deal of time extolling the virtues of this wonderful person but it is suffice to say that I think this is one of the highest honors, and personal privileges, to place in nomination for the office of the desk reporter, the name of Ruth Smith.

"I move the nomination of Ruth Smith as desk reporter."

So Ruth Smith was declared elected as Desk Reporter and was sworn in by the Acting Speaker.

The Acting Speaker announced that the next order of business would be the election of a Speaker.

Rep. Bier: "Mr. Speaker, fellow members of the house — I am very proud to have the opportunity to place in nomination the name of Rep. Ernest Johnson of the 23rd District for the position of Speaker of the House for the 41st Legislative Session. Ernie, as most of us know him, was first elected to serve in the 1959 Session and has won reelection five times since. He has proven himself to be one of the hardest working people in the Legislature, and has taken an interest in all legislation whether it be in his committee or not. He is a fighter for what he believes to be right but he would never take an unfair advantage of anyone. His fairness and integrity are unquestioned.

"Ernie served as Chairman of the House Education Committee during the last session and did a tremendous job in that difficult position. He was a member of the full L.R.C. Committee during the post biennium and Chaired the Subcommittee on Education.

"Representative Johnson has the experience, he has the leadership ability, he is fair and honest, and he will be a Speaker we can all be proud of.

"It is a great pleasure to put forth the name of Representative Ernest Johnson as a nominee for the position of Speaker of the House for the coming legislative session."

Rep. Peterson of Williams: "Mr. Speaker, fellow representatives — I speak on behalf of the candidacy of Ernest Johnson because I feel that he has many of the qualifications necessary to become Speaker of the House: tolerance, patience, conscientious, humbleness, desire. But most of all he is a dedicated Legislator; dedicated to the betterment of North Dakota for all people, both now and in the future. Because of this, and for many more reasons, which I am sure all of you are aware of, I am proud to second the nomination of Ernest Johnson for Speaker of the House of Representatives."

Rep. Hoffner: "It is my pleasure and distinct honor to place into nomination the name of a legislator I've known for many years. Rep. Giffey served his first session in 1961 and has had the confidence of his area every election since. Rep. Giffey has devoted many days of time to public service. He served as majority floor leader in the 1965 session and did a commendable job in that position.

"I feel this assembly would do real well to elect Rep. Giffey as its speaker for the 41st legislative session. Thank you."

Rep. Sanstead: "I wish to second the nomination of Rep. Giffey. I have served in three sessions with him when he was floor leader and assistant floor leader. He has served in every session with distinction.

"The people of Don Giffey's area have re-elected him because they know he has served them well.

"And he will serve well as Speaker of the House.

"Thank you."

MESSAGE

to the

Organizational Session
41st Legislative Assembly

December 3, 1968

By Governor William L. Guy

We meet today in an historic session of the Legislature. We are gathering a month after your election, by authority of the recently adopted constitutional amendment, to organize for greater efficiency that we have ever been able to achieve in a legislative session before.

I congratulate each one of you for winning your legislative race. I know, from examining the results, that there were dozens of races won by a handful of votes in the last election. But whether you won by many votes or only a few votes, your responsibility is the same.

I thank you also for presenting yourself as a candidate to represent the citizens of your district. It is always tempting to let someone else seek the public responsibility of being a candidate or legislator. It is also becoming increasingly popular to be free of winter responsibility in order to visit warmer climates during our cold season. But there are compensations in public service. You will look back on your legislative careers as among the most profound and satisfying experiences of your lives.

It is the nature of man not to come to grips with the problems that plague him if the solutions to those problems require the agreement of a majority. We meet in this session to consider solutions for problems confronting people of our districts and of our state. We should not take ourselves too seriously, for if we do little or nothing in this session the affairs of state and man will continue on pretty much as before, and few voters, if any, would be lastingly critical. And if we excel in this session, the progress made will be accepted as a natural occurrence, and the credits will fade rapidly like an early morning fog.

But let there be no question that North Dakota does have problems. Many of these problems have been with us for decades. We have almost made ourselves comfortable with these problems. All of these problems have solutions.

I can detect no mandate, no public outcry, no swelling public opinion that is directing this legislative session toward greatness. As a matter of fact, this session is beset with fewer pressures than many of the past. It would be possible to have no more controversy in this session than to jockey over the makeup of committees.

But this session will be as we make it. There are challenges of major proportions lying ready for you if you wish to take them up in this session. There are decisions and solutions which have been ignored over the years, decisions still awaiting a session of lawmakers imaginative enough and bold enough to make them.

There are decisions which, when eventually made, will affect our people and our state for generations to come. These decisions could determine whether we will or will not expect a continually higher quality of life in the future in North Dakota.

There are decisions which must be made as to how much and what kind of local and state government is best for us. Will North Dakota government continue in its present weak and proliferated form to occupy an ineffectual position in the federal system? Or will it join the parade of states that have come alive to compete for the right to be called progressive?

The youth of our nation are becoming increasingly aware of the hypocrisy of their elders who curse the inadequacies of our political system, but who do not lift a finger to improve matters. If North Dakota is to grow and progress, it must do things with a little more style and class than other states more naturally endowed. With our small population and with the absence of grave social problems plaguing other states, North Dakota is in excellent position to lead other states in strengthening its state and local government.

I will present to you shortly a proposed Executive Budget. This budget will be balanced as to proposed expenditures and anticipated revenue. This is a basic budget which, if approved, would continue our state government pretty much as it has been operated in the past, with few innovations.

There are many changes in our state government and in our state services that could be made without major budgetary change. There are other programs which, if adopted, would cause a need to raise new tax revenue. The fact that a program or a proposal is not budgeted for in this budget should not be construed as opposition to new programs by me.

The Attorney General has ruled that the Governor, during the legislative session, is not only the Chief Executive Officer of the state, but he is also a part of the legislative process. Everything that I have said in this short message relating to the Legislature and its challenges, its strengths and its weaknesses, I also apply to myself.

To some, this is your first legislative experience. To others, it is a familiar process. As far as I am concerned, I believe a legislative career is too important and too short to have to wait in the wings for seniority.

Therefore, I value the advice and counsel of you new legislators as well as that of the veteran legislators.

I have enjoyed the relationship that I have had with the Legislature in past sessions. I believe that we will get along well together and that we will look back upon the session starting in January as a very constructive and progressive session.

I welcome you to our Capital City and I give you my best wishes for a smooth organizational session."

ANSWER TO NOTICE TO CONTEST

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONTEST FOR A HOUSE SEAT FOR THE TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT, STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA.

Now comes the contestee, Wesley Belter, and for his answer to the Notice herein filed admits that he was a candidate in the general election of November 5, 1968, for the House of Representatives for the Twenty-second Legislative District, North Dakota, by reason of his nomination as a candidate thereto by the Republican Party in the preceding primary; that on November 8, 1968, the regularly organized Board of Canvassers of the Twenty-second Legislative District, North Dakota, announced the election of said contestee, Wesley Belter, to said office.

The contestee, Wesley Belter, for his answer to the Notice dated November 27, 1968, and signed by Florence Thompson, District Chairman of the Twenty-second District Democrat Party, respectfully alleges:

The contestee denies generally each and every allegation and thing contained in contestant's Notice, except so much thereof as is hereinafter specifically admitted, qualified or explained.

The contestee does not have sufficient knowledge or information on which to base a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraphs one (1) and three (3) and, therefore, denies the same and places the contestant on her proof thereof.

3.

The contestee denies that the allegation contained in paragraph two (2) of contestant's Notice is material to the seating of Wesley Belter as a Representative from the Twenty-second Legislative District.

4.

The contestee alleges that even if the errors as cited in contestant's Notice were made by the election boards of the City of Page and Dows Township, Wesley Belter is entitled to be seated in the North Dakota House of Representatives.

5.

The contestee alleges further that an error was made by the Board of Canvassers in certifying the votes in the City of Buffalo, North Dakota, wherein the figure for the candidates herein were incorrect and listed as Belter, forty-seven (47) and Powers, seventy-two (72), whereas said vote as certified by the election board of the City of Buffalo, was Belter, seventy-four (74) and Powers forty (40), and error of fifty-nine (59) votes in favor of Powers.

And for a further and separate defense herein, the contestee alleges that the Notice as filed herein on the 27th day of November, 1968, did not comply with Section 16-14-01 of the North Dakota Century Code governing contests of legislative assembly elections, which requires that a written notice be given to the member whose seat is contested within ten (10) days after the result of the election has been determined by the Board of Canvassers; said certification of the Board of Canvassers having been issued on November 8, 1968.

WHEREFORE, contestee, Wesley Belter, prays that the House of Representatives of the State of North Dakota reject contestant's petition and seat said Wesley Belter as the duly elected representative from the Twenty-second District, North Dakota.

Dated at Bismarck, North Dakota, this 4th day of December, 1968.

 11a joint
 12 printing committees of the House and Senate, shall be delivered
 13 before 9:00 a.m., of the following calendar day to the chief clerk, 14 who shall cause a copy of the same to be placed immediately on 14a the
 15a desk of each member. The committee on revision and correction

81 introduced after the thirty-fifth day, except upon the 82 approval of a majority of the Committee on Delayed Bills or 83 upon two-thirds vote of the House.
- 84 45. DISPOSITION OF MEASURES
85 ((Every bill, or resolution referred to a committee,
86 except appropriation bills must be returned to the House with 87 the committee report thereon, not later than the tenth day
88 after it is referred, or twenty days after the session
88a commences,
89 whichever is later unless upon application of the committee,
90 an extension of time is granted within which to consider it.
90a In
91 case the same is not reported as required by this rule and 92 such time is not extended, it shall automatically go on the 93 calendar of bills without recommendation. The same rule
93a shall
94 apply to House bills not reported back by the forty-first and 95 Senate bills not reported back by the fifty-seventh day.))
- 96 No bill or resolution, except an appropriation measure, may be
97 held in a Committee for more than fourteen legislative days after 97a it is
98 referred to the Committee unless an extension of time is granted 98a by the
99 House. All such House bills and resolutions, other than 99a appropriations
100 bills, shall be reported back to the House no later than the thirty-

101 eighth legislative day, and if not so reported back shall 101a automatically
 102 be placed on the calendar without recommendation. The same 102a rule shall
 103 apply to Senate bills and resolutions not reported to the House
 104 by the fifty-seventh legislative day.

105 47. REPORT OF COMMITTEES

106 The report of a committee shall be for passage, for indefinite 107 postponement, for amendment or without recommendation. If for 107a amendment,
 108 the proposed amendment shall be fully set forth in the report. If 108a such 109 report is adopted, the bill shall thereupon go on the calendar for 109a the
 110 next legislative day for action of the House as to amendment
 110a under the
 111 Sixth Order of Business, when the House, by a majority vote of 111a the
 112 members present may adopt or reject such amendments or may 112a commit the
 113 bill to the committee of the whole. No action shall be taken upon 114 amendments until a full mimeographed or printed copy of the 114a report is
 115 in the hands of the members. Upon receiving the report, the 115a Chief Clerk
 116 shall cause copies thereof to be made and placed on the desk of 116a each
 117 member. Provided, however, that upon a two-thirds vote of the 117a members-
 118 elect, this ((rule)) may be suspended, and the amendment
 118a acted on
 119 immediately after the report of the committee.

120 If a report or motion recommending a bill for passage without 121 amendment is adopted, the bill shall go on the calendar for the 121a next
 122 legislative day for second reading and final passage.

123 If a report or motion for indefinite postponement is adopted, it
 124 shall have the effect of entirely removing the bill or resolution 124a from
 125 before the House for that session, unless revived by a motion to re-
 126 consider. The passage of a motion for the adoption of a report
 127 recommending amendments has the effect of adopting the report
 127a but
 128 not the amendments.

129 If the committee report is not divided, it is in order for any 130 member to move that a report for passage, for indefinite 130a postponement,
 131 for amendment, or without recommendation be substituted for the 131a regular
 132 committee report and if such motion carries, it shall be substituted
 133 for the regular committee report.

134 62. NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RECONSIDER

135 Except on the ((forty-fifth)) fortieth and sixtieth
 135a legislative 136 days of the session, when notice or intention to move the 136a reconsidera-
 137 tion of any bill or joint resolution shall be given by a member, the 138 clerk of the House shall retain the said bill or joint resolution 138a until
 139 the end of the next legislative day, excluding Sundays, unless the 140 same has previously been disposed of. When a member, in 140a explaining
 141 his vote, states to the House that his vote is for the purpose of re-

142 consideration, such statement shall be deemed to be notice of such 143 intention.

144 63. (((WHO MAY MOVE))) MOTION FOR

144a RECONSIDERATION

145 Any member who votes on the prevailing side of a question, 146 ("prevailing side of a question" shall be that side which voted 147 "Aye" on a question that passed, and "Nay" on a question that 148 failed), or who did not vote on the question, may move a

148a reconsidera-
149 tion of the (((same))) question, which motion shall be decided 149a by a

150 majority vote of the members-elect. In case of a bill, joint 150a resolution,

151 or amendment to the Constitution, (((such))) the motion to

151a reconsider,

152 if made after the end of the next legislative day, shall require a 153 two-thirds vote of the members-elect. No (((such action)))

153a motion to
154 reconsider may be (((taken))) made unless the (((measure)))
154a matter

155 is in possession of the House.

156 SECTION 2.) Joint Rule No. 8 is hereby amended as follows:

157 8. LIMITATION OF MESSAGING BILLS

158 Whenever a time shall have been previously fixed for an 158a adjourn-

159 ment of the Legislature before the constitutional limitation thereof
160 no bill that shall have passed one House shall be sent for

160a concurrence

161 to the other on (((either))) any of the last four legislative days
162 of the session, and in case no such time for adjournment is fixed,

163 other than the constitutional limitation, no bill that shall have

164 passed one House shall be sent to the other for concurrence after 164a the

165 (((forty-third))) fortieth legislative day of the session except 165a bills

166 introduced after the first (((twenty))) fifteen days of the session
167 by the Committee on Delayed Bills or introduced with the

167a concurrence

168 of two-thirds or more of the members of the House of introduction.

169 SECTION 3.) Joint Rules Nos. 16, 17, 18, and 19 are hereby 169a created

170 to read as follows:

171 16. UNCONTESTED BILLS — CONSENT CALENDAR

172 Each standing committee may report an uncontested bill or 173 resolution out of committee and may include in its committee

173a report a

174 recommendation that it be placed on the consent calendar. As

174a used in

175 this rule, "uncontested bill" (or "resolution") means any bill or 176 resolution, except those containing appropriations, which receives

177 a do-pass or do-pass-as-amended recommendation from the

177a committee to

178 which it is referred, by unanimous vote of the members present

178a provided

179 a quorum is present.

180 Following the adoption of a committee report, or the adoption
180a of

181 committee amendments thereto if any, all bills or resolutions

181a reported

182 by the committee as uncontested shall be placed on the consent

182a calendar

183 by the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House,

183a and

184 shall be known as "consent calendar bills" (or "resolutions").

184a Any
 185 consent calendar bill or resolution which is amended from the 185a floor
 186 shall cease to be a consent calendar bill or resolution and shall be 187 placed on the regular calendar. Upon objection of any member 187a to the
 188 placement or retention of any bill or resolution on the consent
 189 calendar, such shall cease to be a consent calendar bill or 189a resolution and
 190 shall be placed on the regular calendar. No consent calendar bill
 191 or resolution shall be considered for adoption on the same
 192 legislative day it is placed on the consent calendar.
 193 17. CONSIDERATION OF BILLS ON CONSENT CALENDAR
 194 Bills or resolutions on the consent calendar are not 195 debatable, except that the President of the Senate or the Speaker
 196 of the House shall allow a reasonable time for questions from the 197 floor and shall permit the proponents of such bills or resolutions
 198 to answer such questions. The question of the final passage of 198a more
 199 than one bill or resolution contained in the consent calendar may 200 be voted upon in a single roll call vote provided that such roll
 201 call vote is upon either bills or resolutions and not upon both 202 in the same roll call vote. Immediately prior to voting on the 203 first consent calendar bills or resolutions, the President of the 204 Senate or the Speaker of the House shall call to the attention
 205 of the members the fact that the next roll call will be the roll
 206 call on the bills or resolutions on the consent calendar.
 207 The consent calendar shall be considered immediately 208 prior to the consideration of bills and resolutions on second 208a reading
 209 and final passage in the regular calendar.
 210 18. JOINT SESSIONS
 211 Joint sessions of the House and Senate shall be allowed

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Ruth Smith, a long time employee of this body, has asked to be relieved of her duties as Desk Reporter. This request was made personally to your Speaker.

I am sure that I speak for every member of this body when I say that Ruth's absence in the family of legislators will be just as noticeable as would any member of our body being absent after an equally long tenure of service as that of Ruth Smith.

I also speak for every member when I say that her many years of service have been so useful to all that have worked with her, including the many who, over the years, have been on the Desk Force.

I do want to express my thanks, along with all of the members of this body to Ruth Smith, for her many years of faithful and dedicated service.

So, at this point, the body will have to elect a Desk Reporter.

The Speaker announced the next order of business would be the election of Desk Reporter.

Rep. Davis: "Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it is an extreme bit of good fortune on my part that the Williams County Delegation is not present at this time, and I am sure we all agree with Speaker Johnson on his comments about Ruth Smith and those of us who have served several sessions recognize her ability at the Desk, her helpfulness and we all enjoyed working with her. It is my privilege at this time to place in nomination for the office of Desk Reporter the lady who I am sure all of you, as you become acquainted with her, will find to be extremely able and efficient in her performance at the Desk. It gives me great pleasure at this time to place in nomination the name of Barbara King as Desk Reporter.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

Mr. Speaker:

Your House Election Contest Committee relating to the election contest in the 22nd Legislative District, composed of part of the County of Cass, North Dakota, respectfully reports the following:

That a special House Election Contest Committee was appointed by the Speaker of the House pursuant to House Resolution No. 2 of the Forty-first Legislative Assembly, consisting of Representatives Dick, Chairman, Powers, Burke, Lundene, W. Erickson, (Representative Eagles was duly appointed by Speaker Johnson to replace Representative Powers, who was unable to serve), to investigate the charges made by Florence Thompson, District Chairman of the 22nd District, Democrat-NPL, on behalf of Anna Powers, candidate for the House of Representatives for the 22nd Legislative District, contesting the right of Wesley Belter to hold that House seat for the following reasons:

1. That five votes in the City of Page, North Dakota, were not counted for Anna Powers by the election board.
2. That at Tower City, North Dakota, two more votes were cast for the President of the United States than voters who voted at the polls.
3. That one vote in Dows Township was not counted for Anna Powers.

4. That the closeness of the total vote and the likelihood of errors in counting and accepting or rejecting of ballots requires a re-examination of all ballots by the House of Representatives.

That the special House Election Contest Committee met and subpoenaed the ballots, poll books, and tally sheets of the general election held November 5, 1968, of the 22nd Legislative District.

That the House Election Contest Committee examined the poll books and tally sheets and made a recount of all the ballots cast in such district in the election and the results of the recount are as follows:

That in regard to the specific charges brought on behalf of Anna Powers, it was found that:

1. As to paragraph 1 of the Notice to Contest, five votes from the City of Page precinct had in fact not been counted for Anna Powers, which error was corrected.
2. As to paragraph 2 of the Notice to Contest, the charge did not concern the election contest, but an error was noted by the Committee, increasing Anna Powers' vote from the Tower City precinct from 37 to 38.
3. As to paragraph 3 of the Notice to Contest, all votes for Anna Powers had been counted, but errors were noted by the Committee which reduced Anna Powers' votes from the Dows Township precinct from 40 to 38.
4. As to paragraph 4 of the Notice to Contest, it was found that there were certain errors in counting and accepting or rejecting of ballots by local election boards, and that the results of the recount show that Wesley Belter has received a majority of the votes cast at the general election held November 5, 1968, for the office of Representative for the 22nd Legislative District.

Therefore, the special House Election Committee respectfully recommends that Wesley Belter be seated without prejudice as a duly elected Representative from the 22nd Legislative District, composed of a part of the County of Cass, and that the contest of election by Florence Thompson on behalf of Anna Powers be dismissed; and that all of the ballots, poll books, and tally sheets subpoenaed be returned to the appropriate officers of Cass County, North Dakota, and that the special House Election Contest Committee be discharged.

Representative Erickson moved the report be adopted, which motion prevailed.

That the results of the recount show that Simon Simonson has received a majority of the votes cast at the general election held November 5, 1968, for the office of Representative for the 23rd Legislative District, composed of Griggs, Steele, and part of Barnes Counties, North Dakota.

Therefore, the Special House Election Committee respectfully recommends that the House rescind its action in the conditional seating of Representative Brakke, and that Mr. Simon Simonson be seated without prejudice as a duly elected Representative from the 23rd Legislative District, composed of Griggs, Steele, and part of Barnes Counties, North Dakota, and all of the ballots, poll books, and tally sheets subpoenaed be returned to the appropriate officers of Griggs, Steele, and part of Barnes Counties, North Dakota, and that the special House Election Contest Committee be discharged.

REP. WAGNER, Chairman

Rep. Giffey moved that the report be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Wagner: "I request that the remarks I am about to make be printed in the Journal."

Rep. Wagner:

"Mr. Speaker:

I believe a few comments regarding the election contest in the 23rd district should be made.

"Immediately after appointment, the committee had to determine how the contest could be resolved. There was disagreement among the members, but by a three to two vote the committee decided to proceed with a recount.

"The Attorney General's office was contacted and the necessary court orders and other legal instruments were prepared. This was necessary in order to enable the Chief Clerk to pick up and deliver the ballots to the Capitol.

"The Attorney General's office was asked to prepare guidelines to be used by the committee. This included points of law which were to be considered in determining whether certain ballots should be accepted or rejected.

"The committee then hired four clerks to assist in the recount. The majority members of the committee selected two, and two were selected by the minority members.

"To expedite the count two teams were formed, with one Democrat committee member and clerk and one Republican member and clerk on each team. The two committee members on each team examined each ballot and reported the vote to the two clerks.

"When the count for a precinct was completed, the two clerks compared their totals. If the totals checked they were then compared with the precinct total recorded in the poll books. If these totals did not agree, the committee again counted the votes. No change was made in any precinct without a double check.

"Several ballots had to be discarded. The most prevalent reason was that the ballot was not stamped and initialed, or the ballot was stamped but not initialed. The law is quite specific on this point.

"Some ballots were discarded because three votes were cast for the office of representative when only two were allowed. Others were discarded because the committee could not determine the intent of the voter.

"When voter intent was a question the whole committee acted. This was probably the most difficult task the committee had. Considerable time was spent on several ballots.

"I believe it is significant to note that in not one single case where there was disagreement among the members as to the acceptability of a ballot, was the final vote on a partisan basis. In every case where the committee vote was divided, at least one member of each party was on each side of the question.

"The contestants were represented by counsel during the entire proceeding, and were allowed to examine questionable ballots.

"We found several errors in the total vote the election boards had reported. This can possibly be excused because of the long hours and tremendous work load of the election officials. However, I do not believe that there is any excuse for an election board not to stamp and initial a ballot. This carelessness deprives the person of one of the greatest rights we have in our country, the right to have his vote counted when determining who shall represent him in government.

"We must emphasize a better, stronger educational program for election officials. If a person exercises his right to vote, it should not be denied.

"I wish to thank the members of the committee, Rep. Giffey, Rep. Backes, Rep. Rundle, and Rep. Dawson. Their sense of fairness, diligence, and hard work in performing a sometimes unpleasant task is to be commended.

"The working papers and minutes of the committee are on file in the Legislative Research Committee office. This is done not only for the purpose of having a record of this committee's activity, but also to give a historical record and guideline for any future election contest committee. We hope this will not be necessary for many years."

MOTION

Rep. Wagner: "Mr. Speaker: I move that, as recommended by the report of the Special House Election Committee in the matter of the election contest in the 23rd Legislative District, the House rescind its action in the conditional seating of Rep. Brakke, and that Mr. Simon Simonson be seated without prejudice as a duly elected Representative from the 23rd Legislative District, composed of Griggs, Steele, and part of Barnes Counties."

The question being on the motion of Rep. Wagner, which motion prevailed.

Wesley Belter be seated without prejudice as a duly elected Representative from the 22nd Legislative District, composed of part of Cass County."

REMARKS TO THE OPENING SESSION

41st Legislative Assembly

January 7, 1969

By Governor William L. Guy

These are fast-changing times. During the past eight years, you and I have been witnesses to unbelievable and often unpredictable changes. These changes are affecting every facet of our lives. In eight years in office, I have seen North Dakota oil marketing shift from tank cars to an interstate pipeline.

During this period, we have watched miles of narrow-shouldered asphalt roads give way to four-lane concrete interstate highways.

We heaved a sigh of relief as sooty smoke stacks of central city steam-driven electric generators shut down when their efficiency did not compete with huge, coal field, thermo electric generators sending electric power as far as 500 miles to consumers.

A few years ago, I helped dedicate a gigantic North Dakota air base and rode in the first B52 Bomber to land on its runways. But I have seen those bombers fade as a war deterrent as they were replaced by a spider web of interconnected intercontinental ballistic missiles. I watched with interest as North Dakota changed from a isolationist inland state to an involved state on the front line of defense, containing more destructive nuclear power than any other.

I watched the caving clay banks of our huge, new, man-made Lake Sakakawea gradually build new and inviting sand beaches along hundreds of miles of North Dakota shoreline.

I visited state parks that were virtually vacant a few years ago, but I've counted more than 200 trailer-type camping units a night in those same parks in 1968.

I watched the trains take off passenger coaches, while at the same time our airport runways were lengthened or rebuilt to handle first the Electra, then the 707 Jet, and now the 727 Jet.

I inspected the earth-covered dutch ovens that were built for our Air National Guard in Fargo to house and service air-to-air atomic warhead rockets to be carried by our Air National Guard interceptors. I saw these same rockets become obsolete and abandoned because of new aircraft three years later.

We took part in a Pembina bus assembly plant dedication and were thrilled to see them triple their plant size a few years later.

In these past eight years, we saw our entire grain handling industry, with its bursting bins trying to contain a staggering national grain surplus, suddenly have to switch their mission because of empty bins and tanks. Today they struggle to find their proper role in grain marketing.

We have seen 1,351 school districts just eight years ago shrink to 499 school districts today

We sighed with relief as the 80 pound bags of commercial fertilizer gave way to gleaming liquid fertilizer tanks and the plastic hoses.

We watched with almost helpless dismay as one by one 10,000 farms ceased to exist these past eight years.

I felt great satisfaction and relief when many of our most poverty-stricken Indian citizens in North Dakota took the gigantic step from pitiful hovels, heated by wood fires in oil drum stoves, to comfortable, modern, electrically-heated apartments.

I remember that eight years ago, not a single psychiatrist lived in our state, but today there are 22.

We saw the "in thing" in North Dakota sports change from motor-scooters to snowmobiles, and from motor boats and row boats to sailboats and plush pontoon cruisers.

We watched the huge Oahe Lake as it formed, inundating and killing thousands of acres of bottomland trees as it opened a great new recreational area.

We noted the change in college newspapers where our youth once practiced the profession of journalism but now use journalism to probe the new outer limits of permissiveness.

We have seen the horizon of education broadened by Educational TV these past few years. I watched a North Dakota high school using its own TV filmed events.

We observed with satisfaction the new intensive care heart units being established at our large hospitals.

I was present at the dedication of a North Dakota Neuropsychiatric Institute.

I watched the foundations being built for a new Child Psychiatric Treatment Center at the State Hospital in Jamestown.

I laid a cornerstone at a new nursing home in 1961. Since then, we have seen 2,357 nursing home beds built across the state.

We observed an interstate highway being constructed as a multi-purpose project to impound recreational water. I caught some two-pound trout in that body of water only three years later.

You and I have seen the mail taken from the baggage cars of trains and given to trucks and now airplanes to deliver.

I was present at a library dedication at the University of North Dakota in 1961. Since then, more than $41 million of new dormitories, classrooms, research facilities and student centers have been built at our state colleges, changing the appearances of campuses in a manner which is startling to returning alumni.

We watched train depots and bus stations close these past eight years while new and larger and more elaborate gas stations were opened.

We observed telephone lines going underground and farm yard lights that stay on all night.

We have seen our monthly paychecks change from paper slips to computer cards that warn against folding or spindling.

We cheered when a dilapidated, 19th century streetcar barn was razed to make way for a beautiful new Highway Department Building.

I watched the days of delay in tracing stolen automobiles give way to a three-minute answer from the FBI computer in Washington.

We have seen the growing concern that not all youth can benefit from a college education, and that in this world of technology it will take far more vocational-educated technicians that we have been able to supply.

We watched the box cars of grain moving east to market, until a few years ago when the flow reversed to the point that nearly one-third of our wheat production moves west to markets in the Orient.

We have seen a new awakening among North Dakotans that national problems such as crime, racial unrest, and poverty are parts of our responsibility as Americans.

Yes, you and I have seen vast changes take place these past eight years. They were changes over which we had full control in some instances, and no control in others. We found that we must keep up or be overwhelmed.

And in this matter of rapid change, we have not now reached a plateau, nor will we ever reach a plateau where we can sit back and rest, insulated from the exhausting and bewildering efforts needed to keep abreast of change. The tempo of change will increase rather than diminish.

We, as legislators and state officials, can respond to change or we can waste great quantities of time, effort and tax money worshipping at the altars of the past. It is far better that we move ahead and sometimes be wrong than it would be to do nothing and be assured of mediocrity or inadequacy.

To those who seek a perfect time and a perfect solution before they will act, we will someday sympathize with them when their turn is past and they look back at what might have been.

Let us pull together, you and I, to do all we can in this session to keep out state and local government in step with change, for in this way we can create and enhance opportunity for those who seek the good life in North Dakota.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE TO THE 41st LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

January 7, 1969

By Governor William L. Guy

INTRODUCTION

Ladies and gentlemen of this 41st Legislative Assembly, and officers of the Executive and Judicial Branches of our state government, citizens and friends:

Each of us is honored and privileged to be elected by our fellow citizens to represent them in our democratic system of self-government. This session is the biennial test of how we as free people can effectively govern ourselves.

There is a constant vacuum of human need in this country. This human need is met various ways. It is met in part by our free enterprise economy, by private organizations and individuals, by our churches, and by the federal system within which our state and local governments play their roles.

It is fashionable to say that our federal government is moving too swiftly and too deeply into this continuing vacuum of human need and, in so doing, is encroaching on the rights of state and local government and private efforts.

Is it really true that the federal government is encroaching upon the rights of local and state government? To answer this, I think we need to realize that rights rest with people and not levels of government. It is responsibility with adequate authority that rests with the levels of government in our federal system. I know of no responsibilities or authority that have been taken over by the federal government where state and local government were effectively carrying out their responsibilities and authority.

Is our state and local government becoming weaker because of the federal government? If state and local government is becoming weaker, it is the fault of we the people and not the fault of the federal government. Our state and local governments will be only as strong and responsible as we citizens of North Dakota are willing to make them.

Today, we meet in one of the most splendid legislative chambers in the nation. The color and pageantry of this occasion staged in the elegant but dignified surroundings of this chamber must cause a tremor of excitement to run through all of us. I congratulate each and every one of you upon your election to this assembly.

You will find that each person elected to this Legislature brings with him or her some unique qualities that caused the voters of his or her district to place their confidence in them. There will be many warm friendships made in this session. Reputations will be built on actions taken here in this session.

I invite the counsel and friendship of all of you in these coming weeks. I will meet with the Republican and Democratic-NPL leaders as often as is possible so that we can reach timely understanding on proposed legislation.

Our North Dakota Constitution in Section 75 requires me to communicate to the Legislative Assembly by message, information on the condition of the state and recommend such measures as I shall deem expedient.

I wish to emphasize that the message to you is the result of consultation with many of you on both sides of the political aisle over the past months. In many instances, recommendations in this message are affirmations of proposals by the Legislative Research Committee or other boards, commissions and committees.

It would be impossible for me to mention all worthwhile bills that will be proposed in this session. I will, however, endeavor to set a tone for progress in this session by making as many general recommendations as I feel are required, without necessarily proposing any one of several alternate solutions to individual problems.

The important thing is that we do not procrastinate in seeking solutions to problems. I believe it would be far better that imperfect solutions be enacted into law than that the problem be permitted to exist for lack of the perfect solution.

CREATING AND ENHANCING OPPORTUNITY IN NORTH DAKOTA

The United States is a young nation — and North Dakota is an even younger state — so engrossed in growing up that we have scarcely paused to take stock or make plans for the future. If we were a nation which had reached its population peak and had leveled off, our national problems might be considered benign. But the opposite is true; our population continues to expand rapidly in America.

Across our nation, there are symptoms of very grave social diseases — air and water pollution, rising crime rates, extreme poverty, mountains of garbage, congested airways and highways, inadequate facilities for vocational and higher education, a health service system which can transplant hearts but provides absolutely no care for 30 million Americans, inadequate recreational facilities for young and old, and a federal government and Congress which are bogged down in bureaucracy, seniority and inertia.

These are the United States' problems of 1969 with a nation of only 200 million people. What will be the quality of life in America in the year 2000, when we have added an additional 100 million people to give us a population of 300 million?

Nearly all of our grave social problems are caused by overcrowding or underpopulation. Obviously, very soon our country must come to grips with the need for population distribution.

But how does this affect North Dakota, you ask. It affects us very directly. We have today very few of, and to only a very slight degree, the major social ills that plague the over-populated states. But North Dakota's underpopulation has its social ills, too. They are the other side of the coin of the social problems of overpopulation.

We lose highly productive people from North Dakota who move to other states. When we lose them, we lose a part of our tax base so necessary to provide increased governmental services demanded for greater quality in living. Our loss of population diminishes the need for and the effectiveness of such institutions as churches, schools and hospitals.

North Dakota has a grave concern that America do establish a national policy and the necessary programs needed to influence a wise population distribution in this country.

Is population growth really desirable in our state? Yes, I think we need to seek a growing population. But let's put it in more realistic terms. It is not people we seek, but rather we seek more job opportunities to be filled by people, especially our own youth who would want a career and home in North Dakota.

For many years, Florida sought an increased population. Then suddenly they were deluged by 600,000 Cuban refugees. It was then that Florida realized that it was job opportunities for people rather than people alone it sought.

What underlies any effort we might make in stimulating population growth in North Dakota? The key phrase is our need to create and enhance opportunity — North Dakota opportunity. One of the most important opportunities sought is that of a job paying a good salary or wage.

What is required to establish new job opportunities? The basic ingredient is the opportunity for profitable investment. Without investment, there are no jobs. We must constantly push ourselves as a state or as communities to create and enhance opportunities for profitable investment. And if we are successfully creating and enhancing opportunity for profitable investment and jobs, is this enough to hold our youth here? No, it is not enough.

In North Dakota, there is far more to this word "opportunity" than profitable investments or new jobs. We live in an age when people seek more than profit or work. They are seeking other types of opportunities as well. They will move to obtain these other types of opportunities. People move easily now a days. A person could quit his job in the morning on one side of the continent and be punching a time clock at a new job or enrolling in a school on the other side of the continent that evening.

Let's look at the other important opportunities other than work and investment. People seek opportunities for education — all kinds of education for themselves and their children. They want kindergarten, vocational training, primary and secondary education, special education, higher education, and educational television and radio. Are we in our communities and in our state doing our best to provide educational opportunities? Will people move here or stay here seeking educational opportunities?

Then there is the opportunity to obtain health services. People will move to be able to have medical or dental care, to be near nursing homes or hospitals, to have the benefit of psychiatric clinics or rehabilitation service. Are our North Dakota systems of health care as complete and as well organized in each community and in the state as they should be?

With the leisure time and vacations of today, people seek out opportunities for recreation. They want parks, swimming pools, hunting and fishing, golfing, bowling, and camping. Are we keeping up with this demand in our state and in our communities? We have so much going for us in outdoor recreation in North Dakota.

And last, but not least to many people, is the need for opportunity for cultural and spiritual enrichment. Many want to participate in or enjoy music, the theatre, libraries, art, their church activities. We should look around us to see if we could do more in North Dakota to provide or enhance opportunity for cultural enrichment and spiritual growth.

I have talked of the other opportunities that must be considered, in addition to profitable investment and job opportunities, if we are to provide an attraction to people seeking a place in which to live. The high mobility of people makes every community in our state and the state itself competitive with all other states and their communities.

I have stressed the word "opportunity." I do not want to leave the impression that what is desired by one person would necessarily be attractive to another. No one should be coerced or regimented to do anything. Only the opportunity should be there for those who would reach out and avail themselves of that opportunity.

Perhaps I am leaving the impression that population distribution and distribution of opportunity is a sole responsibility of government. This, of course, is not true. It is the responsibility of the private sector and of each community as well as of all units and levels of government.

What is the prime essential in creating and enhancing opportunity of all kinds? That prime essential is planning. Planning is perhaps the most misunderstood and maligned word in relating government, communities and private sector to the enhancement and creation of opportunity. Yet, there is nothing so essential as planning. Nearly all of our social and economic ills of this country and this state can be laid to a lack of, or faulty planning. Nearly all of our successes and achievements can be credited to skillful planning.

This session has many important pieces of legislation which it could take up regarding such things as constitutional revision, strengthening state government through reorganization, and education.

But it is my hope that this session can carve its place in legislative history as the session which concerned itself deeply with the creation and enhancement of all phases of opportunity for North Dakotans.

Opportunities for Profitable Investment and Opportunities for Jobs

We seek in every way, and there are many ways, to create and enhance the opportunity for profitable investment in North Dakota. Only in this way can we expect to have more job opportunities in this state. It would be difficult to list all the factors that affect profitable investment in this state, but I will touch on some general categories of activity.

Credit

Sufficient credit at fair interest rates is required. Our state now has a hodgepodge of maximum interest rates under our usury laws. These rates range from a high of 30% for small loans, 18% for revolving charge accounts, 12% for Savings and Loans Association, 11+ % for installment loans, and 7% for loans not covered in the other categories.

There is no denying that the rapidly rising inflation of the last two years and the failure of Congress to act swiftly to correct a sadly unbalanced federal budget have caused new and irresistible upward pressures on interest rates.

I have held several meetings to study the availability of credit for North Dakota. I have consulted in these studies representatives of the Federal Housing Administration, Production Credit Associations, Farmers Home Administration, Savings and Loan Associations, Insurance companies, Commercial banks, Small Business Administration, the State Investment Board, and the Bank of North Dakota. There is general agreement that we cannot hold the line on interest rates if we are to continue to obtain sufficient loan money to operate and expand our North Dakota economy.

I therefore recommend that any borrower, including corporations, partnerships, and individuals, be exempted from the protection of the usury law on loans above $50,000. I also recommend that our interest ceiling be raised from 7%.

There might be merit in tying the maximum legal interest rate to the fluctuating legal maximum rate of interest paid on certificates of deposit. We need to also review the relationship of the maximum allowed interest rates of the various categories under our usury laws. I do not believe that the Savings and Loan Associations should be set aside as a class of lenders with its own maximum legal lending rate.

I come to these conclusions reluctantly because I realize that increased interest rates weigh more heavily on some borrowers than others. Some borrowers can pass on their increased cost of money by simply raising the price charged for their goods or services. Other borrowers have no place to pass the increased cost along and find higher interest rates a distasteful increase in the cost of living or doing business.

But it is apparent that many federal agencies and other lending institutions are circumventing our 7% ceiling to the disadvantage of those who do not circumvent that ceiling. It would be far better to be honest about our interest rate than to continue such subterfuges as discount points, service fees, and the like.

The Uniform Consumer Credit Code will be presented to this session. The truth in lending section of this code appears to be necessary for our state if we are to avoid coming under federal administration of this law as it becomes effective in federal law on July 1, 1969. There should be advantages in the states' working together to eliminate the patchwork of credit laws that have plagued interstate business. I recommend passage of the Uniform Consumer Credit Code.

The Bank of North Dakota can be made more responsive to industrial development credit needs. The Bank of North Dakota should be authorized to participate in local development corporations. It should also be directed to develop a special industrial loan insurance program through local development corporations.

We also need a coordinator at the Bank of North Dakota to assist business and industry with its financing. Such a coordinator would keep abreast of the many federal programs of finance, in addition to being in constant contact with major sources of financing such as large insurance companies, Savings and Loan Associations, commercial banks and the large financial centers.

The state trust funds administered by the Investment Board are being used more effectively to promote North Dakota economic activity than ever before. Major credit for this must go to the Director of Investments and the Investment Department of the Bank of North Dakota. Some day, through constitutional revision, the investment activity of the State Land Department should be included under the Investment Board.

Taxation

Our tax structure is a factor in profitable investment. Our personal property tax first enacted at the turn of the century, when everyone was either a shopkeeper or a farmer, continues to penalize those who are willing to invest their money to create jobs for others. Investors weigh the advantages of alternate investments available to them. If an investor wished to avoid the penalty of a personal property tax and the risk that comes with providing jobs for others, he could invest his money in an out-of-state corporation. His worries would be reduced, no new North Dakota jobs would develop, and he would have to pay a tax only on his dividend income. Should that same investor decide to invest in municipal bonds, he could avoid personal property taxes and all other taxes since income from these bonds is tax exempt.

Personal property taxes have always in the past and will continue in the future to weigh heavily on those taxpayers who need to own personal property in order to obtain a living. Personal property owners will continue to subsidize those citizens who earn their income without the need to own productive personal property.

Our personal property tax has retarded the growth of industry in this state and will continue to do so as long as it is in effect.

Business and industry want to pay their fair share of taxes, but no more.

The equalization between various classes of property should be continued through the refinement of the sales ratio study and the adoption of a mandatory county tax assessor supervisor.

Our citizens would have a better understanding of their taxes if we would eliminate the subterfuge of levying taxes against a percentage of assessed valuation and instead levied taxes against 100% true value. We would, of course, have to protect the taxpayers from tax increases at the time we adjusted to 100% true value.

We need to ask ourselves if real estate taxes and personal property taxes have sufficient flexibility and growth potential to provide revenues in a state with a growing economy and an increasing demand for government services. Other types of taxes have much more growth potential and move up and down with inflation and deflation.

Tax reform should be a part of any tax increase program which might be found necessary in this session.

Labor

We need to be concerned about wage levels and working conditions because our own youth are judging us in comparison to what is available to them outside of our state. North Dakota labor law has not adequately recognized the desirability of working people gathering together to take action to improve their lot. The industrial states have recognized the rights of their working citizens.

One of the myths that still prevails in some quarters in our state is that industry will seek to locate where substandard wages are paid and where working people are discouraged from organizing. Nothing could be further from the truth. We have tried that philosophy for nearly 80 years of North Dakota's existence; yet, we still find ourselves the least industrialized state in the union. If low wages and weak labor laws protecting the rights of workers could attract industry, then we should be one of the most industrial of all states.

I recommend that we start to rectify this oversight by repealing that law which now denies the majority of working people in an industry to contract with their employers for certain contract collective bargaining provisions. Our State Right to Work Law has protected no one but is driving our youth from this state to states where they can have such protection.

Our minimum wage laws continue to be unrealistic.

I believe the time has come when we should set an example in labor relations by permitting state and local government employees to legally organize to seek the same employment advantages as are available in competitive industry.

Economic Development Commission

In view of the very small annual appropriation that has been made to the North Dakota Economic Development Commission and recognizing the immensity of its mission, I have nothing but praise for it. I do not believe it could be made more effective by cutting down on its appropriation or by narrowing its mission. It has been bipartisan with majority control resting with the elected administration, as good government requires.

The commission has reached out to all special interests directly or indirectly involved in economic expansion in this state. Twice, a very well attended statewide conference has been held to get the best thinking possible from experts in all the sectors of our state's economy. We have followed up all reasonable recommendations that have been made seeking to improve the effectiveness of the commission.

Before we can evaluate our North Dakota Economic Development Commission, we must first be sure that we place all of the factors which affect North Dakota economic growth in proper perspective. Since statehood, we have tried several alternatives in stimulating economic growth. In the early years, we left this responsibility entirely to the private sector. Then a state government research department was established. The Economic Development Commission was implemented in 1957. Of all the methods attempted in the past, the Economic Development Commission seems to be the most adaptable to the requirements of 1969.

Tourism

No other industry has the potential for rapid growth in this state as does the tourism industry. Our highways, parks, reservoirs, historical attractions, tourist loops, Travel Division, Highway Patrol, Game and Fish Department, Outdoor Recreation Agency and others all have a major role to play in increasing the flow of tourists within and through our state. Dramatic progress has been achieved. A significant part of the progress made in tourism, but certainly not all of it, must be assigned to the Travel Division of the State Highway Department.

But in our enthusiasm to increase tourism by spending tax money for promotion, let us not overlook the other agencies that are an essential part of providing services and facilities for the traveling public. Tax dollars spent to develop tourism are probably recovered through increased tax revenues from new wealth generated by increased tourist spending.

Opportunities in Education

Education means many things to many people, but to most it means unlocking the door leading to a more satisfying life. Adult education, kindergarten, higher education, and vocational education are examples of the wide sweep of education in our lives. The opportunity to obtain education is one of the most compelling motivations in influencing people in their selection of a community in which to live.

We have made great progress in education in North Dakota, but we can do more. The Head Start Program has emphasized the value of kindergarten. The mounting demand for skilled craftsmen has underlined the need for vocational education. The great progress in Educational Television in other states seems to magnify our lack of progress here. We are told that in the years ahead, our adult working force will be retrained several times over. Yet, to find what agency is responsible for adult education in North Dakota only brings shoulder shrugs.

What can we do that is within our manpower and tax revenue capability to improve education in our state? There are many seemingly small actions which, if taken, would have a cumulative positive effect.

Regional school reorganization boards are recommended.

We need to reward accredited high schools in some manner in order to encourage accreditation.

All real property should support some high school district.

We need to protect the transportation rights of rural students taken into city schools by annexation.

We should make our Foundation Program more responsive by moving the school enrollment census date up to the current year in computing payments.

We should reduce the power of a few to thwart the wishes of the many by reducing the percentage required for approval in school bond and increased levy elections.

Ever larger school districts will create more instances where there will be a need to raise the upper limit of the state construction fund.

Our children should be allowed to go to a high school in any district without the payment of tuition if the receiving school district does not require it.

There is a growing demand for vocational education at the secondary level, as well as the adult and higher education levels. But unless a means is devised to coordinate and direct vocational education between these various levels, we can expect proliferation and a dilution of our efforts in vocational education. Some agency needs to have the prime responsibility for direction over all vocational education.

The slow growth of educational television in North Dakota reflects much of the same weakness of disorganization becoming apparent in our vocational education program. One state agency should be given prime responsibility over ETV. Under this agency, an administrative ETV Board might be made up of equal representation from the State Board of Public School Education and the Board of Higher Education, with an additional member or members representing other interests. Federal grants are available for ETV once a state agency is designated to apply for and receive them.

The State Library Commission has long been a concern of mine. It does not belong as a division under the Board of Administration. It would be better off as a division of an education-related department. The salaries needed to obtain an adequate State Library Commission staff would be seen in better perspective if the commission were a part of a department in which the staff is now being paid competitive salaries.

There will be objections to any movement of the Library Commission by those who view the activities of the Library Commission to be oriented to public libraries rather than school libraries. While this point is well taken, to fail to act now will delay the day of substantially improving the activity of the Library Commission. Large grants in federal funds are now handled by the Library Commission.

It has been said that North Dakota has more colleges and universities per capita than any other state. If this is true, it would have to be judged a mixed blessing. With the rapidly expanding knowledge that will be taught, it becomes imperative that careful curriculum planning and adjustment between institutions be undertaken. It is not only desirable to share curricula responsibilities between our North Dakota institutions of higher education, but we should also negotiate agreements with colleges in adjacent states. The interchange of college students across our state lines without the payment of out-of-state tuition is recommended.

The non-teaching employees of our educational institutions are too often overlooked. Without them, we could not open a school or college for business. The same concern expressed for teaching and administrative staffs in matters of income and working conditions should also be applied to the operating employees.

Education is an opportunity we seek. It is the responsibility of everyone, at the private level, local level and state level.

These recommendations to you have been made after discussing educational needs with representatives of the Legislative Research Committee, the various state agencies involved in education, and with members of professional associations and employee union groups made up of people in the field of education.

Opportunities for Cultural Enrichment

Perhaps it is because we are a young state, or perhaps it is the residual effect of our rugged western heritage, that has caused us to minimize the importance of cultural enrichment for our citizens. It is readily apparent, however, that North Dakotans, in ever increasing numbers, are seeking participation in the arts.

The Council on the Arts and Humanities deserves our continued support. There are many ways we can help to satisfy the hunger to refine the quality of our lives. We can encourage music, the dance, painting, photography, theatre, and other art forms in many ways as we consider education, library, historic preservation, and other legislation.

Many of our youth will move to a state or community which recognizes and provides opportunity for cultural enrichment.

Opportunities for Health Services

There are few things more important to our citizens than the enjoyment and protection of good health. Health service includes many things that are often ignored until the moment we need them. We must consider our medical college, our nurses schools, and nurse's aides training programs as essential. Smaller community hospitals, as well as larger city training and specialized treatment hospitals, must be provided.

Private practitioners in dental, medical, psychiatric and other healing arts must be available to the public. Clinics and psychiatric centers, as well as Welfare Social Service Centers, all provide a form of health care. Nursing homes and homes for the aged must be included in our health care system. Then, of course, there are the health care services provided through government which includes our institutions at Jamestown, Grafton and Dunseith.

It becomes very obvious, as we consider our citizens' health care needs in this land of space and low density population, that careful planning and organization of our health care system is required. To fail to plan is to leave serious deficiencies or force health costs to unnecessary heights.

We should regionalize our planning. This concept is already well under way. It should be our goal to provide as complete a spectrum of health care services in each region as soon as possible.

Closely related to health care services is environmental health. We suffer little as yet from air and water pollution. It would be much easier to establish stringent pollution control laws now than to do so after abuses have become established.

I am dismayed that in North Dakota, consumer protection in food processing and preparation varies widely from one community to another. There is serious dilution of effort and authority now spread among such agencies as district health units and local health units, the Department of Health, the Livestock Sanitary Board, the State Laboratories Department and the Dairy Division. This whole subject of consumer protection in this field needs careful scrutiny and correction.

We will be considering whether or not the state wishes to forestall federal meat inspection in North Dakota. On December 15, 1969, the federal meat inspection law becomes operative nationwide. We must decide in this session whether the state wishes to maintain control of meat inspection or turn it over to federal authorities by default. I do not believe that our state can supply the veterinarians or funds that would be required for state control of meat inspection.

The opportunity for Health Care in North Dakota is an essential if we are to hold our youth here or if we are to attract investments and new jobs to our state.

Opportunities in Recreation

There are those who believe you can build a tourist industry by advertising in The New York Times. There are those who believe that almost any new industry is waiting to come to North Dakota as soon as they receive a personal invitation delivered by hand at their home office. There are those who believe that our younger generation of North Dakotans should be satisfied with the same recreational facilities that satisfied their parents.

But none of these statements is true. A tourist industry will build as we provide facilities for recreation to attract people to travel in our state. We also know that the availability of recreation for employees and executives is one of the requirements that industry seeks before they select a new site for an industrial plant. We know, too, that in this generation of youthful affluence, shorter work weeks, and longer vacations, the demand for recreational opportunities of all kinds is mounting rapidly, especially among young people.

Recreation is a responsibility of many agencies in state government. They include such diverse activities as Highway Department rest areas, Game and Fish Department fish stocking, Water Commission water impoundment, Park Service picnic areas, State Forester-owned primitive camping and hiking areas, and Historical Society restored forts

Our communities must keep up with the demand for swimming pools, golf courses, skating rinks, ski slopes and public parks.

The Outdoor Recreation Agency has struggled to bring some coordination between these agencies and to develop a systematic process of upgrading recreational facilities. The Outdoor Recreation Agency also attempts to aid county park boards and municipalities in developing their local recreational facilities.

I recommend that the Outdoor Recreation Agency be continued and that they be given a grant of funds that could be allocated, as the need is demonstrated, among various state agencies. Some state agencies might feel justified in asking for their own recreation development funds to match with federal funds. In some instances, this may be justified. Generally speaking, however, I believe one large development fund serving several state agencies will provide for a more coordinated use of limited tax dollars.

We have great natural resources in outdoor recreation. We should not hesitate to improve on these resources. They are an important opportunity as we seek more quality in our everyday lives.

REVISING OUR CONSTITUTION AND REORGANIZING STATE GOVERNMENT

Our system of North Dakota state and local government is barely adequate in this day and age. We could improve it immensely. We could make it more efficient, more economical, more responsive to changing needs, and more responsible to the voters and taxpayers.

There are those who deplore what they believe to be growing encroachment by the federal government into state and local affairs. Yet, many of these same people do not understand that it is not the federal government which weakens states, but rather it is the state which determines its own strength and effectiveness.

State and local government can be strong and essential in the federal system if we decide that the time is now to make it so.

Strengthening state and local government can be done by two methods: (1) Constitutional revision and (2) Statutory change. Both methods are needed to do an adequate job. Neither of the two methods is necessarily dependent on the other. Revising our constitution does not require that we first change our statutes. And reorganization of state government does not necessarily require a change in our constitution.

I rate the modernization and streamlining of our North Dakota state constitution as a high priority project. There is no justification for our state to stagger under the millstone of our obsolete constitution when new states such as Hawaii and Alaska amply demonstrate what the advantages of a modern constitution are.

Our efforts at constitutional revision in North Dakota since 1960 reveal a dismal record in which only a handful of amendments have been accepted by the voters.

Apathy and failure to understand the need to revise our constitution have been the enemies of success.

I urge the Legislature to direct the call of a 98-person Constitutional Assembly of politically balanced representation from each legislative district. Their revision should then be submitted in total to the voters by initiation at a special election called only to consider the new constitution. A suitable plan must be devised to inform the voters of the need for constitutional revision and the proposed changes in our basic legal document. The constitutional revision, as agreed upon by the Constitutional Assembly, should not have to be submitted to the Legislature for approval before it is presented to the voters. To do so would destroy the worth of the Constitutional Assembly.

This suggestion on a procedure to obtain constitutional revision is the result of conversations with majority and minority party legislative leaders and other interested and informed North Dakotans.

A large quantity, but not all, needed statutory state government reorganization can take place without constitutional revision preceding it. We can go back to an excellent study on the subject by Governor John Moses, State Senator Milton Young and Representative Targie Trydahl in 1942. Generally, the recommendations of 27 years ago hold true today.

In reorganizing state government, there are several basic principles to guide us. We need desperately to match legal authority for officials to act with the legal or implied responsibility to act. The insulation of departments of state government away from the influence or direction of elected officials is not only an affront to democratic process, but it causes a breakdown in coordination, communication and efficiency of a state administration. Many boards, commissions, agencies and departments can and do ignore the citizenry as well as state elected executive officers because the law places them aloof from having to be responsible to anyone but themselves. State government is shot through and through with dozens of these situations.

As a general principle, all departments and agencies should be made a part of and responsible to the administration elected to power by the voters. And as a general principle, each agency and commission should be a division of a closely related department. Thus, agencies such as the Wheat Commission, State Seed Department, and the Livestock Sanitary Board should be divisions of the State Department of Agriculture. The State Library Commission should be a division of one of the departments of education. These are but examples of dozens of similar situations.

The reorganization of state government is decades overdue, and the specific proposals that could be made would be more than a single session of the Legislature could be expected to accomplish.

If we are sincere in wanting state government to be strong within the federal system, we need to make our state executive branch of government stronger. Any action to weaken the authority of a state's chief executive officers, or to permit the bypassing of these officers, is only to admit that the democratic process does not work and the demise of the state would be a good thing. I strongly oppose this kind of thinking.

I do not seek further power or authority for myself personally as Governor. Feel free to delay strengthening the hand of the Governor until 1973 if there is any misgiving about having it take place sooner. But state government reorganization should not be based on personalities or short-run political expediency.

Some students of government maintain that North Dakota has more local units of government per capita than any other state. Whether we can claim this dubious distinction does not matter, but it can safely be said that we have more local units of government than we need. We have more school districts than are needed, more townships than are needed, and more counties than are needed. We have made progress in school district reorganization, but there is no progress in township and county reorganization.

The 36-section township unit of government is as outmoded as the kerosene lamp. Local government such as township government should fill a need. If the need is nonexistent, the township should be abolished. There are large areas of North Dakota that have no organized townships at all.

Township government is justified as a unit of government by which property is assessed for taxation, roads and bridges are built and maintained, snow is removed from roads, and other projects such as weed and insect control are carried out.

The major reason for local tax assessment and the building and maintaining of local roads is to serve the needs of a school district. The continued growth of school districts, which often include all or parts of several townships, makes the 36-section township so obsolete that its continued existence works against the very justification for its existence.

Townships should be reorganized to coincide with school district boundaries and should grow simultaneously with school districts. In this manner, a separate set of officials would conduct township business in a manner which would take into consideration the needs of the school district. The school board, of course, would continue to operate the school district. It is impossible to obtain economical, broadly planned and equitably assessed local government under our present outdated township system.

Counties should join together for economy and greater service. County lines should be just as flexible and changeable as the school district boundaries they encompass.

The delivery of services on a regional basis at regional centers within the state is our greatest hope for bringing together the joint blessings of greater per capita governmental service at least per capita tax cost. As this takes place and there is no doubt of the trend toward regionalization, the need for the existence of counties will diminish.

There will be a move to extend the one man-one vote concept to county government. I would also suggest that the one man-one vote concept be applied to multi-senate seat legislative districts. These districts should be subdivided into single senator legislative districts. Political expediency should be subordinated to the integrity of democratic process.

STATE BUILDINGS

Section 54-44.1-03 of the North Dakota Century Code requires that the director of the budget develop a long term capital improvement budget for consideration by the Legislature.

Our state must be engaged in a constant replacement of obsolete buildings and the construction of new buildings to meet changing needs. The beautiful new Highway Department Building, the Administration Building at UND, and the Child Psychiatric Treatment Center at Jamestown are examples of state construction in recent years.

To fail to carry out a continuing program of building from one biennium to the next is to shift an unnecessary burden on future taxpayers, or it might mean that our state would be relegated to sub-standard performance for years to come.

We know of and recognize the need to keep current on college building construction. But there are other state services which must be served by construction.

I place the highest priority on the need for a new Bank of North Dakota building. Several Legislatures of the past have recognized the need by ordering architectural planning for a bank building. We have reached the point where this very valuable state institution is being retarded by the inefficiencies of its physical plant. The advent of electronic devices in banking calls for us to make substantial equipment changes that would be most efficiently adapted to a new building.

A building of second priority, in my judgment, is the proposed Highway Patrol Academy Building. With the increasing emphasis on law enforcement as a profession and with federal help available, I believe the time is here to construct a law enforcement training facility at Fraire Barracks. This building could be financed by a one time levy of 50 cents per driver when driver's licenses are issued.

A third building which deserves your attention is the proposed legislative wing.

A fourth project that deserves your support is the All Faiths Chapel at Grafton. Nongovernmental interests have labored valiantly to collect funds for the Chapel. I believe you should authorize state support for the remainder of the funds required.

A fifth project which is several years away is the construction of a Heritage Center on our Capitol Grounds. I believe that this building should eventually be the result of private as well as public funds. We need a center where the natural history, as well as the history of settlement and development of North Dakota, can not only be shown but interpreted to the public. Such a Heritage Center would be inspirational and educational, as well as a prime attraction for travelers from in and out of state.

There will be the question of how to finance buildings. Since buildings are quite permanent and do enhance the value of the state, I suggest that the State Board of Equalization be instructed to levy enough each year under the allowable four mill levy on real and personal property to finance state construction.

It is quite apparent that the problem of inflation will be with us for some years to come. Inflation is driving construction costs up at such a rapid rate that to delay constructing required buildings can result in a heavy penalty against budgets of the future.

PLANNING

Planning has been done in varying degrees for centuries. Some of it has been thorough and good, but too much of it has been sketchy and bad. The word "planning" strikes a discordant note with some people because they think of the Russian Five Year Plan, or they think of regimentation. To be opposed to government planning for reasons such as these is to fail to understand planning.

We are in greater need of planning in America today than ever before, because of our exploding population and accompanying congestion on the one hand, and the sweeping momentum of technology which is tumbling us around beyond our control on the other hand. North Dakota needs planning for the same reasons as do other states, but especially we need planning to increase our quality of life in this land of space, low population and limited resources.

Never before have we known as much about the science and technique of the growing discipline of planning as we do today. The computer has not only refined planning but presses us to undertake planning.

Planning as it is understood today means different things to different people. Some people see it as physical planning such as that done by engineers and architects as they plan cities, laying out streets, locating schools and parks, and providing for the right size water mains and sewer lines.

Other people believe it is program planning as is done by sociologists or educators as they lay out future programs to take care of increasing welfare needs, or prepare to teach an expanded curriculum to accommodate the ever-burgeoning store of knowledge.

Still others look at planning as the long range campaign to increase economic wealth in order to increase our gross product or per capita income. They see economists and business administrators engaged in such economic development planning.

Other people see planning as that new thing required by nearly all federal matching programs which must be accomplished before a state can qualify for federal dollars. They see the planners as lawyers or political scientists.

Planning, of course, is all of these things and more. But the quality of the results of planning depends upon the number of alternate solutions examined and compared, the accuracy and adequacy of basic data, the professional competence of the planner, as well as the availability and use of electronic planning devices such as the computer.

North Dakota state government needs to improve its ability to plan. Our state is very weak in this respect. The Division of State Planning in our state should be a division along with the Division of the Budget in the Department of Accounts and Purchases. A professional planner and a professional budget officer would complement each other. Such a division of planning should be responsible to the Governor. The division should be responsible for directing and coordinating the planning activities of state agencies, departments and institutions, as well as training personnel in the practice of planning. The State Planning Division should also be available for projects assigned by the Legislature.

There are very few professionally qualified planners in the Midwest. There may be as few as none in North Dakota. One of the gravest professional deficiencies in the under-populated states is the absence of qualified planners who understand the nature of space, small towns and rural countrysides.

I recommend that a graduate school in planning be established at one of our universities. In time this graduate school should be expanded to provide a complete undergraduate major in the discipline of planning.

We will not in the foreseeable future train and educate enough planners to satisfy the expanding needs of business, industry and government. Planning would permit us to anticipate problems before they occur instead of moving from crisis to crisis. Planning could save us tax dollars. It would raise the level of our vision from our shoe laces to the horizon.

CONCLUSION

The question of taxes will cast a pall over the activities of this legislative session. This has been true of every session since statehood. It is not unique to the 1960's. But when we look around us at the progress that we oftentimes take for granted, we must admit that it took some courage on the part of past legislators to levy taxes to bring about this progress. There were even years of desperation when a two cent sales tax was levied as a temporary measure to keep government functioning. Yet, we survived.

Each year, this nation and this state set aside a portion of each of our daily labors as a percentage of the national gross product to invest as tax money to improve our everyday lives. The control towers at the airports, our schools, the Interstate Highway system, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the county welfare programs, are all examples of the many things we do together by contributing tax money through our system of government.

We must seek economy and efficiency in government, but we should not let a sense of austerity so warp our aspirations that we forego our need to progress. Though I have given you a proposed budget to carry state government on at its present level, I recognize its inadequacies. I will, therefore, support your efforts to save public funds where such can be done without damage to an essential public service. I also will support increased taxation if and where it can be shown that such public expenditures will either return far more in subsequent tax revenue or will substantially raise the quality of what is already a good life in North Dakota.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Senate Chamber
Bismarck, January 13, 1969

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to transmit:

Senate Bill No. 36

Senate Bill No. 90

Senate Bill No. 100

Which the Senate has passed and your favorable consideration is requested.

LEO LEIDHOLM, Secretary

Rep. Streibel moved that a column by Wayne Lubenow of the FARGO FORUM containing a letter from Marine Dan Neuschwander to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Neuschwander, Fessenden, prior to his death in Vietnam on May 15, 1968, be printed in its entirety in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

LET DANNY SAY SOMETHING TO US ALL — POSTHUMOUSLY

Danny Neuschwander was a different kind of kid.

I mean, he lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Neuschwander, at Fessenden, N. D., and he was graduated from high school there and then he went to Grand Forks to attend the University of North Dakota.

Nothing different about that. Except at UND Danny contacted mononucleosis, was classified by his draft board as unfit for service.

That would be a big out for some guys. Not Danny. He came to Fargo, got all that changed, promptly enlisted in the Marine Corps.

And on 15 May, as the service puts it, Danny got zapped in Vietnam — killed down in a firefight in the I Corps north.

And shortly after, his parents got a letter from Danny — dated 8 May.

Let Danny tell it:

"Dear Mother and Dad and everyone,

"I haven't been able to write as I have been busy — too busy. Everything over here is fine. We didn't move and will probably stay in this area for quite awhile. The place is kind of — hot.

I have a new job — carry a M.79 grenade launcher. It looks like a sawed-off shot gun. (Picture in March Leatherneck ROTC). Decent weapons, put me next to the squadleader in the chain of command.

Everything has been happening lately. Guess a battalion of N. Va. (North Viet Army) moved in so am playing nighttime games with them. I guess that I've been getting too bored lately and enjoy the little action, keeps me awake. Captured a pair of NVA tennis shoes and other gear which I can send home. The shoes should fit Tom, so get some stamps over here and I will send them. They're pretty beat up but might be good for running around in (swimming) and a good conversation piece.

Also will have something for all (nephews and nieces) in about a week, so have them wait on a few packages. I'll probably send them to Fessenden and let you distribute them. (Send me the birthday list right away). Also have two special packages in July. Excuse my pen and writing.

Everyone — I am not writing this letter to scare you. Believe me, I am fine. I feel better than I ever have and I have found muscles and strength which I never had. We Marines just say guts and I have that too. I will definitely be home (8 months and?). No doubt and I will come home changed but changed only in a good way and because of all of you. I know what (because of dad and mom and all of you) what Americanism means.

Also Fessenden, N. D., must be the most beautiful city in the world as I can remember everyone I've ever met there and I remember almost every moment I've spent there. I grow older (mature) and the children are born and everything stays the same or improves.

I am making everyone a promise — that is why I am here — to promise Tom — Jerry — Mark — etc. Every young person in America, that they will never have to come here or anyplace similar. When we and the thousands with me finish up we will have peace and it will last for a long time.

There is no "Pepsi Generation" in the states when the chips are down. It's more like raise hell — love God, respect authority and give all for country. Go ahead and talk about the teen-agers and the young hippies and all the problems of youth and include the nuclear weapon.

I know I'll never be able to explain as to why I am here to all of you but only hope that you understand. I like it here, which is even harder to understand. Just guess I lost my temper listening to all the draft dodgers and the doves and 'Reds' saying that the U. S. couldn't fight ground warfare and also lost a lot of friends proving we could fight and can hate (Communists).

I'm also learning and growing. I know what it means to go to school without it being blown up the next day. To be able to drive down the highway without a weapon and security. To have one's own religion and not be afraid and to vote without the poll box exploding.

And I'm proud to be up north, to be where "the action is," and I'm proud and surprised to go without food and water and sleep for days. Got 15 hours sleep the last seven days, but we go on and fight and go on and go on.

Because this thing will end and we will win. And at the same time I am scared. Scared that the election will vote in a "dove," put in one and make all our efforts futile. I as much as anyone want this war to end, but don't end this war by quitting. If we quit all of us, (Marines, Army, Navy, Air Force) Americans — parents have done our job in vain — Republicans, Democrats, non-party, anyone who wants withdrawal will not get my vote and I will vote because I can vote!

Morality, society, religion, true freedom, tradition, never will you find a life like ours. I hope that you make sense in all of this. Just respect all of us (new generation). Forgive our social mores and believe in our future. You've probably figured out by now that most of the Marines here are 18-19 year old adults.

Look forward — look at the good future. It is there, I know — believe me. Well, enough of this.

I received your package, toothbrush, banana bread, brownies, etc. Packs take about a month, so the one mailed the 14 of April, might be here in two weeks. My requests for packages are crazy (escapism) but are appreciated. My check $525 is mixed up and delayed (maybe a month) no sweat.

I am fine — waiting for mail call and chow.

All my love,
Dan

Rep. Bernabucci requested the following remarks on the report of the minority of the Committee on Industry and Business on House Bill No. 64, be printed in the House Journal.

Mr. Speaker: I should like to urge the members of this House to adopt the report of the minority of the Committee on Industry and Business and place House Bill No. 64 on the calendar for second reading and final passage.

House Bill No. 64 eliminates the North Dakota Trade Commission, but does not repeal any part of the unfair trade practices act, which provides injunctive relief through the courts of this state to any individual who may be injured by unfair or unlawful competitive practices, with the attorney general and the several state's attorneys instructed to institute whatever action may be necessary in this regard. The unfair trade practices act, which would remain in force and full effect with the adoption of House Bill No. 64, consists of section 51-10 of the North Dakota Century Code, which in its 8 subsections clearly defines how cost is to be determined, what constitutes unfair advertising, prohibits schemes to sell or advertise goods below cost, and provides for the application of the provisions of the chapter as well as providing for the injunctive relief which I mentioned earlier. Thus, the Trade Commission itself, which was created by amending the section in 1965, is simply an additional entity, doing what any individual citizen could do in conjunction with the courts, the attorney general, and the state's attorneys, all of whom are paid from tax revenues to enforce the laws of the state of North Dakota, including section 51-10.

In eliminating the Trade Commission, this House has the opportunity to contribute further to the modernizing and streamlining of government by eliminating one of the many boards and commissions that tend to make our state government a bureaucratic jungle. By virtue of having been denied its appropriation in the 40th Legislative Assembly, the Trade Commission has not functioned officially for the past two years, with no apparent overall economic loss or injury to this State. This would seem to indicate that the commission is not a necessity.

In 1965 when the Commission was created, its budget was $48,000; but the proposed budget of the Commission for the coming biennium is $70,000. If this percentage rate of increase continues, future Legislatures will be looking at budgets for this Commission calling for amounts in excess of $200,000 within a few years, which would mean that the license fees made mandatory by the Commission would have to be increased from the original $2.50 per year to at least $5.00 and quite possibly $10.00, with the same fee being applicable to all retailers regardless of size. This for a body which due to its inability to function during the past two years has demonstrated that it is not necessary, and I submit that the time is long since past when we should begin eliminating unnecessary boards and agencies of government before the bureaucratic monster that we create by degrees engulfs and overwhelms the very citizens whom government is supposed to serve, not dominate.

If we are serious and genuine about modernization of government and economy in government, then let us begin, and continue to pursue those goals with justice and judgment. If we are not serious or genuine to that concept then I suggest we stop talking about it.

The question being on the motion of Rep. Bernabucci, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Streibel moved that the absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Streibel moved that the House now stand adjourned, which motion prevailed.

ROY GILBREATH, Chief Clerk

"My fellow colleagues of this 41st Legislative Assembly — it is a privilege and a pleasure for me to rise on behalf of House Bill 367 — a bill to prohibit discrimination against women jockeys.

"Since the time of our forefathers came to this country and in later years pressed westward to form this great state of ours — women have been the backbone of our state and nation. When ever there has been an individual or organization that has been a success, you will find the women behind the men — backing them all the way.

"There are several objectives to be accomplished here — one is that we will recognize the women of this state — and insure to them that they cannot be discriminated against as horse jockeys in any race held in accordance with the laws of this state.

"Secondly this state will take pride in being the first state in our United States to have placed this law on its statutes.

MOTIONS

Rep. Streibel moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Hon. Milton R. Young to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker E. Johnson appointed Reps. Sandness and Dick.

Senator Young addressed the Assembly.

Senator Young:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives.

"It does not seem like thirty-six years ago when I first came to this body. Those were tough years, money was scarce and so were votes. I was elected by a thirty-four vote majority, so I know what some of you think when you win by one, two, three or five votes.

"A short while ago one of my daughters-in-law dug up a letter sent out in the campaign of 1932. You hear about 30¢ wheat and things like that, and to some I think it is sort of a myth, but it was real. This letter was dated June 23, 1932. Let me read from it. 'I don't know why I would be interested in any legislation that wouldn't be good for all the farmers of North Dakota. I am having just as much trouble trying to make ends meet, in raising 30 cent wheat and $2.00 hogs, as any of the rest of the farmers.'

"Times were tough then, but I guess life was less complicated. We enjoyed ourselves. We appropriated as much as we could, but even then people couldn't pay their taxes."

The whole face of North Dakota has changed in this time, as you know. We have made great advances in everything, including educational institutions; a superb network of highways; our state has been made more beautiful and liveable by REA, with beautiful planting programs through the Soil Conservation programs; REA steam-generating plants, and a number of other things.

"There are some things that deeply concern me, however.

"Our population today is 55,000 less than it was in 1932. One reason is the great depression of the thirties and the drought for several years. We lost about 75,000 people, but we have been gaining some since then.

"I looked up some interesting figures to be used in getting more industry for North Dakota, which I discussed at some length on the Senate side. These figures relate to population then and now, and also appropriations.

"Our total appropriations for the biennium 1931 to 1933 was only $9.2 million for North Dakota. I understand your budget for this year is $165 million. This is a sizeable increase, but you have been doing a whole lot better than we have in Washington. In 1932 the total federal appropriation was $4.6 billion, or less than $5 billion. Today, that budget estimate — they call it an estimate but it is the budget request — is for $195 billion. Our total population in the United States has increased from 124 million to 202 million; while our population increased about 45%, our federal expenditures increased by about 450%.

"If we keep on moving in this direction for the next thirty-six years, there won't be much left of your paycheck after the federal government gets through. We will be much like Sweden is today. The federal government takes most of their paycheck, but tries to provide them with most of the necessities. Even in a country like Sweden, which has been able to stay out of wars, they have a hard time making a go of it.

"To give you a little idea of how these programs mushroom, Medicare and Medicaid started three years ago, but the appropriation this year was about $9 billion, and they will be asking for a supplemental appropriation in the next two weeks for about another $1 billion.

"Our biggest problem, of course, is the Vietnam war — our defense appropriations now are running better than $80 billion. I think we are going to work out of this.

"Some of these program might be abolished, such as O.E.O., which maybe should be, but some of the more necessary parts of it will be transferred to other agencies of the government.

"The Nixon Administration will be working along with present programs, trying to improve them and administer them better with less money, hopefully. I think in the matter of a year, President Nixon will have some programs of his own.

"In water pollution, there are some eight different federal agencies handling this. There should be one program and one agency responsible. Our interstate highway system program expires in about two years, and there will be a new Nixon program for that.

"We all know that uppermost in the minds of everyone is the war in Vietnam. I can't help but think that this will be brought to an honorable conclusion in the next six months. Maybe I am too optimistic, but it is uppermost in the minds of everyone, and President Nixon is particularly dedicated to bringing it to an honorable end.

"It has been nice to be with you. There is nothing I would appreciate more than being able to stay a couple of days and visit with you and attend some of your committee meetings. I don't think things have changed too much over the years. You operate under rules very similar to ours. There is one significant exception, and that is your voting machine here. I don't think we in the United States Senate will ever have one, or the House of Representatives with its 435 members. There is one big advantage to not having a voting machine; you don't have an aye and nay vote quite so often. We do have a slightly different system. Some 15,000 bills are introduced each year, but only about 25% of these are reported out. You have a better procedure, but with the number introduced, it just would not be possible to report out every bill introduced in the Congress.

"I enjoy coming back to see you, and appreciate the opportunity to speak to you. I have been coming back every session since 1932, and I hope that I can come back a couple more years.

"Thank you very much."

Commander Al Olenberger:

"I want you to know that it is a privilege for me as Department Commander of the American Legion of North Dakota to appear before this distinguished group today. We of the American Legion want to thank you for this privilege.

"Our purpose in being here today is to share with you the observance of our 50th Anniversary, and to relate to you some of our accomplishments of the past and our plans for the future. Our organization was founded in Paris in March of 1919, by a group of men dedicated to build an association of veterans whose primary devotion was to God and country. These men had a vision and they had a purpose, and the upper most ideals of that first caucus was the creation of a fraternity based upon firm comradeship, born of war service and dedicated to equitable treatment for all veterans, the disabled, their widows and orphans, national security for America and the promotion of patriotism and the combating of ideologies which recognize neither the honor nor the dignity of the individual.

"We have come a long way since that first caucus in Paris, and now have an organization in excess of 2,500,000 members and we have always tried to live up to the lofty ideals of that first caucus. The first fifty years of the American Legion's existence have been years of ever increasing waves of change for our state, nation and the world. Change is still the order of the day. Today's greatest challenge is whether man shall manage change or change manage man. It is to this challenge that the American Legion addresses itself during its golden years as it charts its course of service to a changing community, state and nation. With this thought in mind, this organization of service is tuned to its golden year theme "Forging The Future." As former servicemen and Legionnaires we are willing to accept and desirous to perform further service in the concerned role of citizenship. Our ranks will be strong in a continuing faithful service in the future. This we assure you on the American Legion Golden Anniversary and we can also assure you that this is not the beginning of the end in the American Legion, but it is only the end of the beginning.

"Thank you."

RECOGNITION

Rep. Olienyk escorted former Speaker of the House Leo Sticka, Stark County, to the rostrum.

Rep. Link moved that the remarks of former Speaker of the House Leo Sticka be printed in the House Journal.

Mr. Sticka:

"Speaker Johnson and Members of the House, it is a signal pleasure to be invited to appear before you. Just as the Speakers before me and those who followed me, I was nervous on my first trip up to the rostrum in 1951, and after being away for a few years, I feel much the same way.

"Nevertheless, I would like to tell you new members, you have joined a fraternity that is second to none. If you should serve but one term, or if you should return a number of terms, you will find that you have made friends, very special friends from every corner of the state and from every county. These people will always recognize you when you visit their counties, and will assist you when you might face an emergency.

"When you have completed your term in the Legislature, you are not entirely through. I, for one, have appointed myself a goodwill ambassador. I know the strain and stress that is the lot of the member of either body. The people who have never served here cannot fully appreciate that in passing reforms and corrections, you also must live under those same laws. In that respect I come to the defense of the Legislators whenever I have an opportunity. I can appreciate the pressures you are under, which today are even greater than a few years ago.

"There are probably only six people here today with whom I served. The complexion of the House has changed in many ways. You have carpeting, new chairs, and the people in the chairs are different. There is one member here now who was here when I came 26 years ago. Brynhild Haugland is still here. Does anyone appreciate what a person like that has done for our state? (Applause) The feeling is very mutual.

"Thank you very much, Speaker Johnson and Members of the House, I feel honored for giving me some of your precious time."

Rep. O. Solberg moved that the chair select a committee to escort the Hon. Earl McKeller to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker E. Johnson appointed Reps. O. Solberg and Link to escort Mr. McKeller to the rostrum.

Rep. Streibel moved that the remarks of the Honorable Earl McKeller be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. McKeller:

"Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with a great deal of pleasure today to be here to see you folks in action, and I want to thank you, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to say a few words on behalf of my two colleagues and myself, who represent rural constituencies in our Manitoba Legislative Assembly. We know the problems you must face.

"The rural problems are becoming greater because our people are moving continually from the rural areas to the city, which has greatly altered the representation in the Legislative Assembly. The farmers are going to have to fight and fight hard to get their message across.

"I imagine the farmers here today present their case very efficiently, and I know that all the members accept it and vote accordingly.

"I have two very good friends here, Oscar Solberg and Miss Haugland, with whom I served on the Board of Directors of the International Peace Garden. I have become well acquainted with your system of government through working with Miss Haugland, because she is a Republican and I am a Conservative, and we tend to relate our systems of government accordingly, and I have enjoyed working with Miss Haugland.

"I want to thank you for the support you have given to the International Peace Garden over the years. Our province has been a bit neglectful, but in the last two years they have awakened to the fact this will mean a great deal to us in tourist trade that we hope to get from your state and other states in the United States.

"Our Legislative Assembly meets in Winnipeg on February 27, and we will stay in session until the end of May, and if any of you are in Winnipeg, come and visit us, and we will show you around our city and Legislative buildings.

"I think your system of government has an advantage over our British system, since you have two chambers, and if one house does something wrong, the other house will correct it. We don't have that privilege, so when we do something wrong, we make the people live with it the next twelve months.

"I often wonder why you do not make use of this building every year. It is one of the most beautiful buildings I have been in, and it is something more people in our country should come and see, not only for its beauty within, but the beauty of it at night coming south on Highway 83. We congratulate the people of North Dakota for their foresight in constructing such a building in 1934.

"We in Western Canada have a terribly serious situation in the farming operations, and some of them can be corrected in the near future, but I think it is going to take considerable time for many of our farmers in Western Canada today to realize that they can go bankrupt with full granaries. We are restricted in the number of bushels of wheat we can sell, but not in the number of acres we can sow, which is the opposite of your system. International Grains Agreements make it difficult for a country like ours to compete. In days gone by it was easy to find importers, but now they are exporters. All farmers cannot switch to livestock, and each farmer is trying to make his own decision on how to meet this problem.

"Many of you here think all of the agricultural problems are on your side of the border, but the problems are the same on the other side, even though they might be turned around a little. With high costs and low prices, it is a case of survival of the fittest. If the agricultural industry is not strong in the states, it is not strong in Manitoba.

"I would like to bring you greetings from the Premier of Manitoba, and we wish you every success in 1969 and the years to come, as you are a part of the great country of the United States. We depend on you so much for leadership in the world. Canada depends on your decisions, not only in North Dakota but in Washington, D. C. You might get criticism in your country for trying to correct the problems in the Far East, but I think you should be congratulated because you are providing leadership to the world. I do think that your new President Nixon can bring peace about.

"In 1970, Manitoba celebrates its centennial, and I extend an invitation to anyone here to come up and visit with us. We have a five percent sales tax, and we will be happy to have you spend your money with us, and we will look after you in the best way Manitoba knows how.

"Thank you for the privilege of being with you, and saying these few words."

Rep. Rundle requested that his remarks on House Bill No. 22 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Rundle: "Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen. I would like to ask the question when the personal property tax bill is going to appear on the floor, and when some of the large appropriation bills are going to appear. Why are we hiding them? I said I would vote no on all appropriation bills until such time as we find some of these things out. I should be criticized on an educational bill, and I have been going along, but I have never called a halt. Will we go along to the end of the session until four in the morning, and then we will have to raise taxes? I want to know, and I think the people would like to know, particularly when the personal property tax bill is going to get on the floor, so we can find out how we are being treated. Will we keep this tax, spend all the money and at the last minute slap a 1¢ sales tax on everybody?

"I would like to have this answered."

MOTION

Rep. Streibel moved that the rules be suspended, that House Concurrent Resolution No. 35 be not referred to committee, not printed as a bill but printed in the journal, and placed on second reading and final passage, which motion prevailed.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 35

Introduced by Representatives Jenkins, K. Johnson, Davis, and Stoltenow.

A Concurrent Resolution requesting Secretary of Agriculture Hardin to investigate the manner and intent in which the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 is being administered, urging compliance with the intent of Congress and the prior pledges of the Agriculture Department, and requesting an interpretation of the "Rule of Reason".

1 WHEREAS, the United States Congress has enacted the Whole-
2 some Meat Act of 1967, which requires that livestock slaughtering
3 and meat processing firms meet minimum federal standards, so
4 as to insure the production of pure and wholesome meat for human 5 consumption; and

6 WHEREAS, the Secretary of Agriculture when testifying before
7 Congress, prior to the enactment of this legislation, assured
8 Congress, "The eligibility of an establishment for inspection
9 under the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 is based upon a qualified
10 evaluation of the operating procedures used by the establish-11 ment in the building, construction and physical facilities rather 12 than upon a separate evaluation of these factors", and further 13 indicated that there were no material specifications except that 14 a plant be clean and sanitary; and

15 WHEREAS, Dr. Robert K. Somers, the Deputy Administrator of 16 the Consumer Protection division of the Consumer and Market-
17 ing Service of the U.S.D.A. in testimony before Congress stated, 18 "Insofar as facilities are concerned, we would use a rule of 19 reason that anything capable of handling meat in a sanitary 20 manner would be accepted; and

21 WHEREAS, there is every indication that the Department
22 of Agriculture will break faith with Congress by deliberately
23 enforcing the Wholesome Meat Inspection Act of 1967 in a manner
24 totally inconsistent with the intent of Congress and their own
25 pledges, as given to Congress by the Secretary of Agriculture
26 and the Deputy Administrator of the Consumer Protection division
27 of the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A., by admin-
28 istering the Wholesome Meat Inspection Act of 1967 in a rigid,
29 uncompromising, excessively technical and totally unrealistic
30 manner; and

31 WHEREAS, ninety-six percent of the slaughtering and pro-
32 cessing firms in North Dakota are non-federally inspected
33 firms to which meat inspecting will apply, are an industry
34 grossing $17,517,000 in terms of sales from slaughtering,
35 processing, wholesaling and retailing, are employing 531
36 full-time and 188 part-time employees annually, earning 37 wages totalling $1,016,000 and are producing an annual net
38 income in excess of $777,000, totalling $1,793,000 in annual 39 income from non-federally inspected plants in North Dakota,
40 all as established by a study conducted at North Dakota State
41 University; and

42 WHEREAS, said study further revealed that relatively low 43 profit levels exist in the non-federally inspected firms to

44 which meat inspection will apply, suggesting that these firms
45 could not withstand major and abrupt financial requirements
46 in an attempt to gear-up for a stringent, excessively technical 47 and totally unrealistic inspection program with a relatively 48 short period of time; and

49 WHEREAS, the enforcement of the existing federal standards
50 will cause an undue hardship on the non-federally inspected
51 firms located in the State of North Dakota all to the advan-
52 tage of foreign meat importers who presently function under 53 standards ridiculously less severe than those imposed on dom-
54 estic firms; and

55 WHEREAS, the difficulties attendant with meat inspection
56 in rural North Dakota vary substantially from those created
57 by the enforcement of the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 in more 58 populous and industrialized states; and

59 WHEREAS, a survey of meat processors in North Dakota
60 revealed that only 27% would definitely continue operations
61 by remodeling and upgrading existing facilities, that 10%
62 would definitely discontinue operations, and that 63% would 64 continue operations only if the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967
65 were enforced realistically and in accordance with the Con-
66 gressional intent and policy as espoused by the Department
67 of Agriculture prior to the enactment of said act; and

68 WHEREAS, states may exempt themselves from federal meat
69 inspection program by establishing state programs for this 70 purpose; and

71 WHEREAS, the state of North Dakota is desirous of exempt-
72 ing itself from the extremely harsh standards of the federal 73 program; and

74 WHEREAS, the 41st Legislative Assembly of the State of 75 North Dakota will very probably be adjourned by the 15th day
76 of March, 1969;

77 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF 77a REPRESENTA-

78 TIVES OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE
78a CONCURRING

79 THEREIN:

80 That Secretary of Agriculture Hardin is hereby urgently
81 requested to carefully investigate the manner and intent
82 in which Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 has been administered and 83 forthwith direct the Consumer and Marketing Service of the 84 U.S.D.A. to bring their policy and regulations into compliance
85 with the intent of Congress and their own pledges as given to 86 Congress by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Deputy Admin-
87 istrator of the Consumer Protection division of the Consumer
88 Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A.; and

89 That a clear, concise and realistic interpretation of 90 the "Rule of Reason" be forthwith promulgated and published
91 so that the 41st Legislative Assembly of the State of North
92 Dakota can act accordingly and exempt itself from the pres-
93 ently oppressive characteristics of the meat inspection pro-
94 visions of the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967; and

95 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that if the time remaining is 96 insufficient to allow the Secretary of Agriculture to so act
97 that the State of North Dakota be given an extension of two 98 years in which to comply with the inspection provisions of 99 the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967; and

100 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Clerk of the House of 101 Representatives forward a copy of this resolution to Clifford
102 Hardin — Secretary of Agriculture, J. Phil Campbell, Jr. —
103 Under Secretary of Agriculture, and each member of the North
104 Dakota Congressional Delegation.

Was read the second time.

Rep. DeKrey requested that his remarks on House Bill No. 303 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. DeKrey:

"Mr. Speaker and Fellow Legislators. My name appears as a co-sponsor of House Bill No. 303. This has to do with game, and in this area, I will say that I well remember when the sky at times was black with the ducks in flight. I will say that 10,000 have stopped at my farm for a day or two on their way north in the spring of the year. I recall as a young man the rabbits I shot, literally from the front door. I recall the serenade of the coyotes, and I would stand terrified by these harmless pups singing their songs. Where are all these now? I see a few ducks, a rabbit is a rarity and there are no coyotes. Have we upset the balance of nature? I don't know.

"Deer spook my cattle. I have never shot one and never will. To me they are beautiful and, of course, protected after a manner. For a few days in the fall of the year, they are run to death. I have done my little part for them, and never begrudged them the small amount of grain or corn they consumed. It was the same with ducks. They also are protected. They were wasted.

"I further will say my losses to coyotes have never been as great as to my neighbors' dogs. These all are or were in the area of game. Where are they now?

"We now have fox. Certainly they are predators. I have watched them stalk my sheep at lambing time. They work beautifully, and are much smarter than you or I. I have no objection to hunting them, as I have suffered much loss at their foxy hands.

"I expect this bill will be defeated. However, by it being before us today, are we the Legislature not saying to these hunters using planes and snowmobiles, 'You must eventually accept control. Now why don't you come back to the Forty-Second Legislature with a control bill of your own, and so write your own ticket. We, the members of the Legislature, are yourselves, only in a different position.'

"Thank you."

Was read the second time.

MOTIONS

Rep. Boustead moved that the House reconsider its action on House Bill No. 183 by which it was indefinitely postponed, which motion failed on a division vote.

Rep. Gackle requested a recorded roll call vote on Rep. Boustead's motion to reconsider, which request was denied.

Rep. Gackle rose to a point of personal privilege.

Rep. Gackle:

"Members of the Assembly, I realize that it is Saturday and you all want to go home, and by the look of the vote there are a lot who have gone home already. I felt I would like to have this on the calendar because a lot of testimony has not been revealed, and you may also like to know there was a very close vote in the Committee on this — in fact it was 10 to 9 of a 19 member committee, and they perhaps should have asked for a Divided Report, but since that was not done, there are some things that should be revealed.

"I would like to say this, and I appreciate your patience and I appreciate the cooperation the Speaker has given me. When you look at this, you wonder where should we stop. Right now we have or are going to have before us in this Assembly a bill involving abortion, and I respect the sponsor of the bill for taking the courage to bring it out, but really, in all consistency, we can't pass that bill, when we have a law like this on the books passed by the same Legislative Assembly, and if you really think about it, it is certainly true, isn't it?

"I also have in my records some place our action taken two years ago, and the majority of the members are back, regarding the attempted suicide law, which we repealed, and only one member of the Transportation Committee opposed that, and it passed by a substantial majority. It is inconsistent when you repeal a law regarding an attempted suicide, and then have a law like this on the books.

"I have recently read now where doctors have proven that drinking alcohol and becoming intoxicated results in the death of your brain cells, and are we going to legislate against that?

"This bill does not mean that a helmet is going to save your life or something. I think man here has taken upon himself too much authority by a governmental agency, but I suppose if that is the way it is supposed to be, that is the way it is supposed to be. Myself, I put my faith and trust in the Almighty, and I trust this Assembly will consider some of the legislation we have to consider, and let's vote a little consistently, and let the people who should, use their responsibility."

MOTIONS

Rep. Wagner moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Hon. Thomas Kleppe to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker E. Johnson appointed Reps. Wagner and Aas.

Congressman Kleppe addressed the Assembly.

Congressman Tom Kleppe:

"Mr. Speaker, Members of the House:

"Thank you very much for that very nice reception and this warm introduction.

"At the outset I would like to take a little credit for the improvement in the weather. It has not been this good since Christmas, and it pleases me very much to see that the sun can shine. It makes us feel that Spring is a little closer.

"Since I last saw you, a number of things have happened in Washington. We seated Adam Clayton Powell. We have inaugurated a new President. We have sworn in a new cabinet — after some degree of deliberation. During the course of the inauguration, we had a number of North Dakota people down there, and I want you to know that the representatives you sent from this body were very representative, and we were pleased to have them there to participate in those festivities.

"As we think about the things that have taken place in the work we have to do, they fall in three specific categories. This administration admittedly has started slowly — which is intentional, and I think it is for the good. With the problems we have there and the difficult situations involved. When you look at the war in Viet Nam and its implications, rash and harsh movement in that direction would probably be a mistake. When you look at the areas of inflation, law enforcement, crime, and law and order, you know these are serious problems.

"In Viet Nam, it looks like we are going to have an improvement from the standpoint of being able to return some of our troops. I hope and believe within a period of six months, this will happen. I believe indications are strong that South Vietnamese are going to be able to take over a bigger job in defending their own country.

"What is going on in Paris? I am like you, we must wait and hope. Hope springs eternal, and this is the way we have to look at Paris. We finally got the round table problem taken care of, but nothing much has happened since. I don't know what the Paris talks will lead to, but militarily the war in Viet Nam has been won, but this doesn't help when 158 American boys were killed again last week. This continues and goes on and on. If we have won the war militarily, then there is a lot of re-structuring that must take place. Negotiations from the standpoint of the war itself are to bring about at least some improvement in that very nasty condition.

"This administration has taken it upon themselves to recognize that the number one problem is inflation. We have to do something about inflation. You have heard many speak about this money thing. It is a situation that affects every individual. It has to come to an end, and it is not going to happen by accident, and it is not going to happen by itself. It is going to have to be planned. It is going to have to be documented, and it is going to have to be supported.

"If there is one thing that is going to measure the degree of success or failure of this new administration, it will be specifically in the area of crime and what is done about it in the City of Washington, D. C. — yours and my Federal City. The situation of crime in Washington, D. C. is beyond comprehension from the standpoint of just what is going on. It used to be tourists would come to town and enjoy the activities down town at night. Not so any more — and for good reason. It clearly is not safe. We still have a good number of normal people coming to town, living in the outskirts, who come down town to shop in the day time, but the night activities, plays, restaurants, theatres and so forth are difficult when you try to promote something like that, because people are just not going out at night because they are afraid, and their fear is justified, with robberies, rape, and the shootings. As a matter of fact, two young men walked into a Junior High School just before I came back here last week, and they wanted to get the money out of the safe, and they did take it. The Assistant Principal decided to fight them, but they shot him in the chest and killed him. It was $40 plus that was in the safe. This is happening every day. I repeat, the success or failure of this administration to a great degree is going to be centered on whether or not we can meet the problems facing us today in the area of crime in Washington, D. C. Already President Nixon has submitted to Congress a number of proposals to alleviate this crime problem, to increase the number of police officers, and increase the number of judges to handle cases, and to increase the penalties. All too often the area of enforcement has been so lax. If you look back to the April riots of 1968, you learn that less than 20 people of a total of hundreds arrested have been convicted on any kind of misdemeanor or felony. Then you can realize there is a void in the area of enforcing the laws we have. This is something that represents a tremendous challenge.

"This is the first day of the rest of your life. The responsibility and challenge to you individually are the same as those of us in Congress in Washington, because we are your chosen representatives. We can't go back to yesterday and accomplish anything. That is gone. We have to look to the minutes, the hours, the days, weeks, months and years ahead of us and what is good and right for this country. This system of ours and this country of ours and what it represents is far greater than what any of us as individuals believe and think.

"It gives me a great deal of pride and pleasure to be introduced and to walk into this chamber where you people represent our citizenry in North Dakota. It is the same feeling I have when I walk onto the floor of the House in Washington, and I hope that never leaves me because I feel imbued with a spirit of patriotism which circumscribes all boundaries of all kinds. A colleague is a colleague, and I don't care if he is Democrat, Republican or Independent. We must have a common goal, and that common goal has to be achieved, and it only can be achieved through cooperative effort, and it is this feeling that I believe will emanate from this Congress this year. I am looking forward to working within the framework of this administration.

"You have been very gracious to me, and God bless you in your determination and decisions here because it is so vital and important to everyone.

"Thank you."

Rep. Link moved that the remarks of Congressman Kleppe be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

MOTIONS

Rep. Powers moved that the House reconsider the action by which House Bill No. 303 was lost, which motion failed on a division vote.

Rep. Bernabucci moved that the House reconsider the action by which House Bill No. 289 was lost, which motion prevailed on a division vote.

Rep. Bernabucci requested unanimous consent of the House to amend House Bill No. 289, which request was granted.

In line 2 of the Bill delete the word "shall" and place in lieu thereof the word "may"

In line 2 of the Bill after the word "all" insert "or any part"

And renumber the lines accordingly.

Which motion prevailed.

Rep. Bernabucci moved that the rules be suspended and that House Bill No. 289 be deemed properly re-engrossed and placed on second reading and final passage, as amended from the floor, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Halcrow:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to discuss the matter contained in House Concurrent Resolution No. 19. The Federal Trade Commission has been studying the Unfair Trade Practices under the Justice Department, and they have not come up with the answer because of the very powerful lobbying interests that represent the oil industry in the United States of America. There are a lot of things going on in the pricing of petroleum products that are disturbing, not only to people outside of the major oil companies and the operators, but the independent jobbers as well, and there should be great concern among the people using the products.

"I wonder if many people understand what is going on when you have a gasoline war in at town. Let's take, for example, the town of Grand Forks. Grand Forks quite frequently has a gasoline war. The larger cities generally have the gas wars. You seldom find a gas war in the smaller towns of the state. Now what happens here. They may be selling gasoline in Grand Forks for 25¢ per gallon, and at Langdon, 100 miles from Grand Forks, you will find gasoline selling for 34.9¢ or 35.9¢ per gallon. What is happening here is that the major oil companies are reaping a harvest in the small towns at high prices, and then in the cities with the gasoline war, the smaller town subsidizes the city consumers. This has an adverse effect on the gasoline dealers in the smaller communities. I don't know how many of you are aware of the fact that in gasoline wars, the margin of profit is subsidized by the major oil companies in the particular stations they happen to own. This is a very discouraging situation and one that should be corrected. I don't know if this can be corrected through legislation, but I would suggest that perhaps the major oil companies in the industry should be taking a better look at what they are doing to themselves. They have other trade practices that I might tell you are very unethical and unpractical, and don't make any sense. They have what is known as the saturation of the market. You will find, staying with Grand Forks as the example, on Washington Avenue, four stations there would be as many as could make a fair margin of profit and pay decent wages. There is a high mortality rate in service station consignees.

"A man makes an investment in a station of some $20,000 or $30,000 and sets himself up as a lessee of one of those stations, and nine months later he is out of business because there just is not enough business to go around, and traffic does not warrant the number of outlets.

"These trade practices are very serious, and they do not do the oil industry any good nor do they do the consumers any good, and it has a depressing effect on the cities. I would direct to the oil industry that they had better get on the ball, and some of these unfair practices should be studied, and you should stop subsidizing the people of the cities at the expense of the people in the rural areas who are paying the high prices. It is time you took a look at this if you are really interested in the marketing of your products."

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Appropriations to whom was referred House Bill No. 9 has had the same under consideration and recommends that the same be amended as follows:

In the bill delete all of Section 2 from line 17 to line 23 inclusive.

The present Section 3 will now become Section 2 and a new Section 3 is added, as follows:

"SECTION 3.) Present annual individual salaries under $3,600 shall be increased by 10% the first year of the biennium and 5% the second year of the biennium. The total amount of all present salaries between the $3,600 and $6,000 range may be increased by 5% each year of the biennium, the amount of individual raises to be determined by the Department, Agency or Institution. The total amount of all present salaries exceeding $6,000 per annum may be increased by 3% each year of the biennium, the amount of individual raises to be determined by the Department, Agency or Institution.

It is not the intent of the Legislature to manage or classify salaries. It is, however, the intent of the Legislature to guarantee the salary increases specified for those employees now receiving an annual wage of less than $3,600.00."

And renumber the lines accordingly.

And when so amended recommends the same do pass.

Statement of the Purpose of the Amendment:

The workload request is reduced by 15 persons and it is the intent that so much of these moneys as is necessary shall be used to meet the requirements of the new Section 3 which increases the amount allowed by the governor's budget for merit raises by $63,230.00.

REP. MUELLER, Chairman

Rep. Kingsbury moved that the report be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Appropriations to whom was referred House Bill No. 11 has had the same under consideration and recommends that the same be amended as follows:

Line 8 delete the sum $495,000.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $486,000.00.

Line 9 delete the sum $2,084,100.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $2,012,500.00.

Line 15 delete the sum $11,213,854.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $11,607,754.00.

"SECTION 3.) Present annual individual salaries under $3,600 shall be increased by 10% the first year of the biennium and 5% the second year of the biennium. The total amount of all present salaries between the $3,600 and $6,000 range may be increased by 5% each year of the biennium, the amount of individual raises to be determined by the Department, Agency or Institution. The total amount of all present salaries exceeding $6,000 per annum may be increased by 3% each year of the biennium, the amount of individual raises to be determined by the Department, Agency or Institution.

It is not the intent of the Legislature to manage or classify salaries. It is, however, the intent of the Legislature to guarantee the salary increases specified for those employees now receiving an annual wage of less than $3,600.00."

And renumber the lines accordingly.

And when so amended recommends the same do pass.

Statement of the Purpose of the Amendment:

The committee amended the State Hospital appropriation to include federal grant moneys which are presently being received by the Hospital, but were not included in the governor's budget. The committee reduced salaries and wages by $375,500.00 to reflect the application of new Section 3 in the bill and to disallow the governor's recommendation of $127,000.00 for replacement of patient labor and $198,000.00 for 25 psychiatric technicians.

Reductions were made in the area of fees and services and supplies and materials to provide for a minimum budget for the next biennium.

It is also the intent of the committee that a separate accounting be made of expenditures and receipts relating to the adolescent center, mental health center, and the vocational rehabilitation programs, and that budget requests for these programs be submitted separately from the budget request for the State Hospital for the 1971-1973 biennium.

REP. MUELLER, Chairman

Was read the second time.

Rep. Dornacker requested that his remarks on House Bill No. 97 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Dornacker:

"This is the result of two years' work of a study commission, which commission consisted of seven Legislators, three citizen members and nine members of organizations — agriculture, labor, retail and wholesale trade.

"We researched all of our states to see what if any method was or had been used to eliminate personal property from tax roles.

"We found only five states do not have personal property in some manner as a base for local taxation. Alaska and Hawaii never have had it. New Jersey has a county option plan. Pennsylvania uses a county partial elimination set up. Minnesota has in the past year used a 3% increase in sales tax plus elimination of all personal property except the merchant has choice of inventory of fixtures.

"We tried many plans for size and equity.

"1. County option plan using income tax. This wouldn't work as it varied from less than one percent to over 10% as to county.

"2. Increase in sales tax. This would need an additional tax of 1½%.

"3. A tax on gross sales. This varied from .1% on wholesalers, .4% on retailer, 1½% on farmer. When we applied ½% across board they all objected as it raised the high turn over business and lowered the low turn over business.

"4. Elimination of only statutory mill levies. This would still require the assessor. 1% increase in sales tax would do the job here. This would mean that the state would pay about 105 mills in cities and 80 mills in townships. The balance would still be factored against your property and you would pay this.

"5. Assess salaries and profits at 25% and apply local mill levy. This has equity and would raise ample money but again would raise much opposition as to the shifting of tax burden. This is the most equitable but probably the least saleable as equity is hard to sell.

"6. Assess automobiles as a replacement. This would bring in considerable income but would result in much opposition from highway, county and city government.

"7. Many others such as partial elimination, elimination and no replacement, a Gackle plan, a Freeman plan, Klipstein proposal, a gross production tax and many other combinations of the above.

"In our study we always came back to income as a replacement and under the law we operated we had to come up with a proposal so the committee finally arrived at the two proposals that are in this legislature. The committee voted nine to seven for the Senate plan and ten to eight for the House plan. We are not in any general agreement except upon our further recommendations.

"A. That to accomplish this proposition and bring real equity in both real and personal property plus income and sales taxes it could be done much better if we had a constitutional convention.

"B. That a study be made of all taxation as we felt there are as great inequities in real, income, corporate taxations as there is in personal property taxation.

"BASIC PROBLEMS:

"This is a local tax and all of the money except the 21 mill, the 1 mill Medical levy and the up to four mills the state can add stays at home for local government.

"Mill levies were always our biggest problem. These have more to do with the amount you pay than the assessment. We found out much of the complaint on personal property was the dollars it cost but the taxpayer did not realize this was based on the mill levy he had wanted or voted for at home. Mill levies generally were much higher in larger cities than in the smaller city.

"The problem of the percentage of personal property also was always there. The state average is 20%. It varies in counties from low of 16% to a high of 30%. The western part of our state generally is the highest. This problem varies from a low of 15% in large cities to a high of 60% in small cities. It also varies greatly in townships as to eastern and western North Dakota. This varies from 14% in east to 40% in western North Dakota.

"The question is, is it equity to place the same percent of tax on a farmer to eliminate 14% of taxes and then eliminate 40% on another farmer. Is this more equitable than the present system? Many of our members felt this was creating greater problems than we were solving.

"We found there were 84 separate mill levies used against personal property in our state. We found that not all counties, cities or townships used all of these levies. Only six counties had bonds and interest for black top roads. Again the committee was not in general agreement as to what equity a return of 20% would create.

"We never could resolve the equity of a different level of tax on income as an equitable manner to finance local government. In the end for the sake of expediency we settled on different levels for the chance of salability of any plan.

"Deductions were another problem. Should we allow dependents? Federal Income tax? We finally decided that we did not use either of these as a factor in assessing personal property so we would not use it under these plans.

"Shifting of tax load was always a major problem. When you eliminate $500 from one person you have to add it to another or find five who will each pay $100 more.

"In our committee, as in this legislature, we have the same problem. It was more evident in our study commission. Our legislative members felt they had to represent all the people of North Dakota. The members of organizations could support a plan if it reduced the tax on its members. If it raised the taxes, they would oppose.

"LEGAL PROBLEMS:

"We always operated under the problem of what is legal and what our changes will result in court action.

"1. We had opinions from the Attorney General's office on these problems as they would arise: We were told that in the end the courts would decide but we attempted to draft a plan that would keep as clear as possible from court action.

"a. Bond issues have to be protected. The property we were eliminating was in most cases mortgaged property. The bond holders would have action if payment was not guaranteed. The problem is not as great where you only eliminate 20% or less as it is where you eliminate 40% of bond base. If we replace present bond issues we felt we were obligated to replace future bond issues. This we tried to do. However, we only replace the average of 20% and any district that is over 20% the future mill levy increases and bond issues will fall upon the remaining real estate.

"b. License money has to go for roads. This eliminated the potential of using tax on automobiles.

"c. Problem of equal treatment clause of constitution always lurks in the background. We use same state tax to pay back bond issues in state. What action has a citizen in a district or county that has no bond issues. We were advised that he has an action and the courts will have to decide.

"d. No legislative body can bind the next. Our problem was should we use dedicated fund or trust the next legislative body to appropriate the money. Will they honor our payback of 100% or if money is short only pay back 90% or 80%? The committee felt it did not care to use dedicated funds as this too could result in only having enough money to partially pay back loss and then result in pro-rated pay back.

"e. What will happen to other property in same class as the personal property we are now eliminating. Will they be able to ask that they too pay their personal property under the rate used on other personal property? We were advised this could be a possibility.

"We were and still are faced with the problem of referral. We looked at past elections and saw that this proposition had always lost by about three to one when placed on the ballot.

"We looked at the cross section of our state.

"We find that there is:

"130,000 salaried families.

"17,000 land owners who live off the farm and rent out. These are retired people, widows, children of former owners and people who own land as an investment.

"20,000 professional families, these are doctors, teachers, lawyers, architects, barbers, etc.

"40,000 farmer and rancher families.

"20,000 self-employed business families.

"From the standpoint of tax shift the taxes will be reduced on about 60,000 families. The taxes on the other 170,000 families will have to be increased to take care of the reduction of the 60,000. Our job was to convince these people that they owed a greater share of the tax load than they had been paying now.

"SOME OF THE QUESTIONS ASKED US:

"Under our present system if taxes go up it is because of higher assessments or higher mill levies, do we have any assurance under this plan that we will not have an increase?

"We had to tell them that you have none and if a future legislature raises the $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1% you have lost the local board of equalization plus the courts to get relief. All you can do is pay and hope two years later you can change enough legislators to reduce the tax.

"Do we have any assurance that future legislatures will continue to pay back the loss so real property will not in time take over all of the loss. We had to tell them there is no assurance.

"Does any plan such as these favor and give greater reductions to foreign and domestic corporations? We had to say it does. We had to say it will make it easier for foreign corporations to expand and compete with local merchants.

"Does this plan increase the money we will be sending to Washington in federal income tax? We had to say it will.

"Is the farmer taking a risk of having his home and buildings taxed? We had to say it greatly increases this possibility.

"Will this increase the tax burden on homes and land? We had to admit that it will.

"Does this plan give greater relief to large city businesses than small city businesses? We had to say it does.

"What happens to future bond issues and mill levy increases?

"We had to tell them that if you were in a district where the loss was not over 20% of assessed valuation, the growth factor would take care of this. However, if you were in a district such as rural or small city you would have to add the additional increase to real property.

"What effect will this have on new industry? We had to tell them it will not effect the industry but it will result in those who as individuals decide where industry is to go, hesitating to come to North Dakota as we then will have the highest individual income tax level over $15,000 income in the U.S.A.

"We had to tell them that we now will have a 10% or 11% corporate income tax and become one of the highest rates in the U.S.A. This will be offset by no inventory tax and can be reduced in case of foreign corporations by only paying the tax on percentage of profits as it applies to sales made in North Dakota.

"What effect will this have on education?

"We had to tell them that it will make it more difficult to increase foundation payments as now we will have not only schools but city, township, county coming to Bismarck to compete in the state's tax dollar. We had to tell them it will result in higher salaries as salaries are always negotiated on take home pay.

"In our hearings on the committee level and in the hearing during the session those who favored our bill represented about 60,000 families and those who opposed the bill represented 150,000 families.

"Our committee realized there were enormous problems in drafting a bill to make and change all of the additions from the time of our constitution until the present. We felt that the legislative committees would make further changes. We were right as you can see by the amendments. We still have problems and we still need many more amendments if we are to take this shift in taxation.

"Our committee felt the base year of 1969 would be the most realistic as it would have and factor in the most recent mill levy increases plus the new bond issues and the schools who had voted local mill levy increases. 1969 would also give equal adjustments to lease sites which now are assessed as real property. The legislative committees moved back to years of 1967-68-69 as an average. This factors in 1,600,000 dollars of pay back on real property of lease sites for two years in the average. This reduces the pay back on new bond issues and increased city and school levies so these cities will not get all of the money returned.

"Our present system is not as inequitable as we might think.

"We have told the rancher and the farmer that because you carry a greater load on land that we will not assess your home and buildings. We will not assess your machinery purchased the first year as you pay a greater load in sales tax.

"We have told our salaried that because you pay and have less real property that your major contribution is sales and income tax. We have not been wise when we started our individual income tax rate at a low level and placed an almost prohibitive level on higher incomes.

"Again we must realize that our salaried people will have to be paid enough salary to allow them to live after paying taxes or they will eventually leave our state. Basically any tax on salaries is going to result in increased wages.

"We have told our business people that we let you pass the sales tax onto the customer. Those of us in business likewise should and generally do pass on the taxes on inventories to the customer. There are cases where certain cities have much higher mill levies where this becomes a problem. However, the people in each city decide by vote what the mill levy shall be. This is a local problem not a state or legislative problem.

"Our basic problem is not in the amount we are assessed but in the mill levy applied against the assessment.

"When we use the same percentage of tax on profit we then create as great an inequity in reverse as we eliminate by going to the same rate on all business regardless of the local mill levy.

"We live in a technical age. If North Dakota is to grow and if we are to attract industry, bring skilled personnel, engineers and professional people to our state we cannot do this by creating the highest individual income tax in our nation. We should by rights be lowering this tax on our higher level so we can compete with management and other states in bringing these people to our state. House Bill No. 97 is not as dangerous as the Senate version Senate Bill No. 137 in this respect.

"The bill before us has several gross problems.

"1. On a permanent basis it will not raise enough money to continue to pay back the money eliminated.

2 years — $35,000,000.00 — Income

2 years — $39,760,000.00 — Payment

"We are $4,760,000.00 short of paying our replacement; this does not take into consideration growth factor nor does it consider the loss factor on income.

"2. It allows the larger business people to adjust the tax downward by incorporating and using profits as salaries. This will cause some legislature in the future to have to increase rates. Where will the increase fall, business or salaried or both.

"3. It allows business in border cities to pay only on the profits based on sales made in North Dakota. This privilege is not allowed to the small businessman or those who do not have customers in other states.

"4. It gives a decided advantage to foreign corporations and will in the end make our state a haven for outsiders at the expense of eliminating our North Dakota businessman who is the backbone of our cities. Who is the mayor of your city, who serves on the school board? It is not the employee of some large corporation who does not know how long he will be assigned to manage the business in your city.

"I have no choice but to oppose this bill as written. I know you will ask me why I didn't do a better job in writing it?

"I have to confess that after two years of study I do not know nor do I think we can draft an equitable bill without a constitutional convention. I believe we can do a better job in eliminating some of the inequities we have in our present system. I have bills in this house that will do this if this bill fails."

Rep. McDonald requested that his remarks on House Bill No. 97 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. McDonald:

"Mr. Speaker the following remarks I address to the people of North Dakota, the news media and this body, and I request that my remarks be printed in the Journal.

"Today we have the privilege of examining the results of our action two years ago when we passed House Bill No. 728 creating a special tax study commission and charging that commission with the responsibility of presenting a workable and acceptable solution to the replacement of the personal property tax to this session of the legislature. We have before us today House Bill No. 97 which is the fruition of the seed planted two years ago. But, before meeting the child I feel this body should first know the parents, the nineteen men who labored to bring forth the bill we are about to consider. The citizen members of the commission were:

Arlo Beggs, Jamestown
 Virgil Johnson, Fargo
 Donald Kirsch, Gladstone
 Minard McCrea, Valley City
 John McDonald, Grand Forks
 Delbert Moore, Forbes
 Oscar Nord, Churchs Ferry
 W. S. Russell, Mandan
 James Smykowski, Cayuga
 Alfred Strinden, Litchville
 W. A. Taft, Jamestown, and Eugene Thompson, Bismarck

"These citizen members were reinforced with Senators:

A. W. Luick, Fairmount
 Herbert Meschke, Minot, and Carroll Torgerson, Cooperstown

as well as Representatives:

Monty Burke, McKenzie

Peter Hilleboe, Fargo, and Francis Weber, Wheatland

with our esteemed colleague Eldred Dornacker as chairman. And they served. These men from small towns and large, the grain farmer and the cattleman, from labor and management, retail merchant and professional man, the Republican and the Democrat. Their dedication and determination will serve as an inspiration for years to come to those who strive for tax reform. It is not just to infer the bill before us has the total support of the total commission any more than it is just to say that every bill that passes has the total support of this body. But there is something of each of us in every law we enact, and there is something of each of these nineteen men in the bill before us. With this as background let us examine the bill itself.

"House Bill No. 97 was amended in committee, the amendments are of a technical nature and do not in any way interfere or alter the intent of the bill. I will not go into them as they were well explained by Rep. Dornacker in the Sixth Order yesterday.

"The heart of the bill, however, is in where the replacement moneys come from and how they are returned to the political subdivisions. For an explanation of that I yield to Representative LeRoy Larson.

(Larson explains the broadening of the sales tax base and yields to Representative Gene Dahl who explains the computation of income tax rates. Dahl yields to Representatives Richard Backes and Francis Weber who explains the pay back formula and then yields to Representative McDonald.)

"One of our greatest challenges, one of our greatest opportunities and indeed one of our greatest responsibilities at this Session is to repeal the most unjust and most cumbersome of our tax burdens — the personal property tax.

"Lest this Assembly forget the nature of this one part of our tax structure that we are here seeking to rid ourselves of forever, I would like to point out some of the reasons that make passage of House Bill No. 97 necessary.

The personal property tax is the most regressive . . . the most archaic . . . the most inequitable . . . the most costly . . . and the most detrimental tax that North Dakota carries on its books.

"It was first levied when the only concept of taxation at the local level was property taxation. There were no income taxes, no sales taxes, or any of the other taxes that have come into widespread use in this century. The personal property tax was imposed in the 1800's and we have continued to drag this monstrosity with us into the 1960's because we have lacked the courage and the imagination to solve the problems that its elimination creates. We should clearly understand that it is a tax from territorial days . . . and it is a tax for territorial thinkers.

"In addition to being inequitable in its basic premise, the personal property tax is inequitable in its administration. And in spite of over 80 years of effort . . . 40 legislative assemblies passing exemptions and additions . . . plugging and unplugging loopholes . . . the administration remains as inequitable as it was the first day an assessor gee-hawed his oxen to start his job.

"A few weeks ago a joint session of the House and Senate Business and Industry committees heard testimony on a piece of proposed legislation called the Uniform Code of Commercial Credit. Interestingly, in presenting this legislation to the committees Judge Burdick stated there was a great deal in the bill we would simply have to accept on faith. Relating this to the bill before us there is a degree of faith necessary when dealing with tax reform as well as interest rates.

"The majority of your Committee on Finance and Taxation recommends House Bill No. 97 for do pass with the full knowledge of imperfections, but with the conviction that this is a step in the right direction. And it is our feeling that we must make a beginning. To put debate into proper perspective it is necessary only to answer three questions:

"1. Are we really serious about replacing the personal property tax?

"2. Do we agree that the replacement should be based on the ability to pay?

"3. Are we satisfied with the payback formula?

"The timid who have always feared to venture forward will be paralyzed by fear of some unknown complication. My suggestion to the fearful is to move to the back of the line and seek the protection of those who are not afraid of the future.

"After 80 years, it is time to admit that there is no perfect solution and there never will be as long as men disagree over the concept of perfection. It is time to get down to business with a program of action."

Delete everything after the words "A BILL" and insert in lieu thereof the following:

For an Act to provide for a state youth authority for the placement, treatment and rehabilitation of delinquent and unruly children committed to its custody to provide for an advisory board and for contracting with other states.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. CREATION OF STATE YOUTH AUTHORITY — DIRECTOR.) A state youth authority is hereby created and established with such powers and duties as are prescribed by this Act. The state youth authority shall be created within the public welfare board, and its chief administrative officer shall be the executive director of the public welfare board, or his designee.

SECTION 2. STATE YOUTH AUTHORITY — POWERS AND DUTIES.) The state youth authority shall be the administrative agency which shall take custody of delinquent and unruly children committed to its care by the juvenile courts. Upon committing a child to the custody of the state youth authority the committing judge, the juvenile supervisor, law enforcement officers and other public officials shall make available to the state youth authority all pertinent data in their possession with respect to the child. Upon taking custody of a child, the state youth authority shall process the child through such diagnostic testing and evaluation programs as may be necessary to determine his disposition in his best interest and in the best interest of the state. In doing so, the state youth authority may utilize the psychological, psychiatric, vocational, medical, and other diagnostic testing services that are available, examine all the pertinent circumstances, and review the reasons for his commitment. Upon completion of the diagnostic testing and evaluation program, the state youth authority shall make disposition of the child as follows:

1. Place him in the custody of his parent, guardian, or in a foster home or suitable private institution licensed by the state for the care of children; or
2. Place him in the custody of the state industrial school or in a vocational, training, or similar institution for children or young adults within this state; or
3. Place him in the custody of a vocational, training, or similar institution for children or young adults in another state in the event that adequate facilities for his treatment and rehabilitation are not available within this state and the committing judge concurs in the placement.

Subject to the authority of the committing court and the Uniform Juvenile Court Act, the state youth authority shall retain jurisdiction of the child until he reaches the age of twenty-one years, and may change placement of the child at any time it appears to be in his best interest and in the best interest of the state.

SECTION 3. TEMPORARY CUSTODY.) The state youth authority may place a child committed to its custody in the temporary custody of the state industrial school, a vocational, training, medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other institution suitable for children within this state for not more than sixty days, in order to provide for diagnostic testing and evaluation pending disposition under section 2.

SECTION 4. CREATION OF STATE YOUTH AUTHORITY ADVISORY BOARD — MEMBERS — MEETINGS — POWERS AND DUTIES.) There is hereby created and established, with the powers and duties prescribed by this Act, a state youth authority advisory board which shall consist of a juvenile court judge designated by the chief justice of the supreme court, the superintendent of the state industrial school, and the superintendent of the state hospital.

The advisory board shall meet at such times and places as they may decide by majority vote, upon due notice to all members by the director. It shall be the duty of the advisory board to evaluate and recommend proposals for placement, custody, and rehabilitation programs for children committed to the custody of the central youth authority. The advisory board may also review specific initial placements and changes in custody and make recommendations to the director concerning them.

SECTION 5. STATE YOUTH AUTHORITY TO REPORT TO COMMITTING JUDGE — CONCURRENCE OF JUDGE FOR PLACEMENT OUT-OF-STATE.)

Within ten days after the completion of diagnostic testing and evaluation of a child, the director shall report the results thereof to the committing judge and the disposition made, if any, other than a temporary placement pursuant to section 3. The director shall review each placement every three months to determine whether a change in placement or program is necessary for the treatment or rehabilitation of the child, and shall report his findings and dispositions to the advisory board and the public welfare board.

SECTION 6. STATE YOUTH AUTHORITY TO CONTRACT WITH FACILITIES IN OTHER STATES FOR CUSTODY.)

a. The state youth authority is hereby empowered to contract with the appropriate agencies or departments of other states in order that they may receive custody of committed children for vocational, training, or other purposes contemplated by this Act. Before contracting with any agency or department of another state, the director shall assess the facilities that are offered by such department or agency, and, after contracting, forward to each district judge in the state a summary on the facilities that are furnished by such agency or department and such other information pertaining thereto as may reasonably be requested.

b. Any contract entered into shall provide for:

3. Participation in programs of youth employment, the crediting of payments received by children on account thereof, and the crediting of proceeds from the disposal of any products resulting from such programs.
4. Transportation of children to and from the other state.
5. 6. The submission of reports by each institution in accordance with section 7 concerning the progress of treatment or rehabilitation of each child placed in its custody.
7. Such other matters as may be necessary and appropriate to fix the obligations, responsibilities, and rights of both states.

Children under the jurisdiction of the state youth authority who are in the custody of an institution of another state shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of this state, and at any time may be removed therefrom for change of placement as provided in section 2. All children placed in custody in another state shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner and shall be treated equally with other children placed in custody in the same institution. Placement of a child in another state shall not deprive him of any legal rights he would have had if placed in an institution in this state.

SECTION 7. REPORT BY CUSTODIAN TO STATE YOUTH AUTHORITY.) Any person, agency, department, or vocational, training, or other institution, either within or without this state, that has received custody of a child under this Act, other than temporary custody, shall:

1. Submit to the director, in such form as he may reasonably prescribe, a quarterly report of the progress of the child; and
2. Submit to the director, as required by him and in such form as he may reasonably prescribe, any interim report of the progress of the juvenile he deems necessary in the interest of the child.

Quarterly and interim reports shall be made available to the court, the advisory board, and the public welfare board.

SECTION 8. PLANNING — DEVELOPMENT — ASSESSMENT OF EXISTING FACILITIES.) The state youth authority shall aid in the development of new or improved means of prevention, control, treatment and rehabilitation of children committed to its custody. It shall utilize research and other information available from all sources and, if necessary, initiate studies to aid in the general planning and development of appropriate programs for the placement, treatment and rehabilitation of children. The state youth authority shall assess existing programs and activities within the state, and keep informed of current developments relating to placement, treatment and rehabilitation of children.

SECTION 9. COOPERATION WITH OTHER AGENCIES AND DEPARTMENTS OF THE STATE — RIGHT TO INSPECT FACILITIES OF STATE INSTITUTIONS — RIGHT TO EXAMINE CHILDREN.) The state youth authority shall cooperate with and receive the cooperation of the board of pardons, the public welfare board, the board of administration, the state parole board, the state department of health, and such other agencies and departments of the state as may be necessary to carry out the objectives of this Act. The state youth authority may inspect at all reasonable times the facilities of those institutions within the state it is authorized to utilize under this Act, and may examine any child it has placed in the custody of such institution.

SECTION 10. COOPERATION WITH FEDERAL AGENCIES AND DEPARTMENTS.) THIRTY-SECOND DAY AFTER RECESS AND THIRTY-THIRD DAY

Bismarck, February 13, 1969

The House reconvened at 1:00 P.M., pursuant to recess taken, with Speaker E. Johnson presiding.

MOTIONS

Rep. Belter moved that a committee of three be appointed to escort Hon. Mark Andrews, U. S. Congressman from North Dakota, and Mrs. Andrews to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker E. Johnson appointed Reps. Belter, Hensrud and Mueller. Congressman Andrews addressed the Assembly.

Congressman Mark Andrews:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is always a privilege for a legislator to be in the company of other legislators, and particularly for a legislator like myself who has campaigned with most of you from the Eastern District. Mary and I have relaxed in your living rooms, and I have been known to take off my shoes and rest up from the campaign trail. We have visited with friends and neighbors together. Without the encouragement and support of people like Butch Mueller and Brynhild Haugland to help me along the way, I undoubtedly would not be serving in the Congress today. It is particularly gratifying for me to come back and say hello, and more particularly to say thank you.

"The challenges you face on a state level are remarkably similar to the challenges we have in Congress. One of the problems is money. I read in the newspaper one of your legislative leaders said the problems would be simplified if we had $10 million more that we could put in some place. That is always true. The newspapers say that we have a $3 billion surplus, when actually we have a $6 billion deficit, which will be covered by taking $10 billion from the trust fund, and the relief you on the state level should expect from us on the Federal level might not be coming for the next two years.

"The war in Vietnam will be resolved in the next five or six months. Here again, we have to take cautious steps in ending the out-right hostilities, and we do know we are not removing the demand for federal dollars for the defense establishment. When the cost of Vietnam has been taken out, we still face vast outlays of defense money expenditures. Fifty-eight percent of our Naval bottoms are over 20 years of age, while the Russian Navy has only one percent over twenty years of age, which indicates the job to be done in replacing this type of defense capability.

"Our Garrison Diversion Project called for massive expenditures to be built up over twenty years, to build a great state and more productive nation, and it is a worthwhile expenditure of our Federal government. North of Grand Forks, at the Sentinel Missile Site, our government will spend more than the cost of Garrison Dam in the very near future. Defense takes money that could otherwise be available for running our routine affairs and furthering our country's needs.

"You have a problem in North Dakota in that many of the tax dollars have been printed by the Federal government. We have an open-end deal on the Appropriations Committee which I am privileged to serve on. I wish the Federal government were on the same basis as you, where we have to make ends meet before we can decide on the budget for the year. We would be better off in the long run. The amount of gross tax income of North Dakota and local subdivisions divided by total income of the state is 23.9%. This is the highest in the nation. North Dakota is 46% higher than the average state in what you do for the people of North Dakota with what we have to do with.

"The Federal government is long overdue in setting up blocks, so we can give relief to people who are doing as much as you are in the State of North Dakota.

"Every time you buy a combine in North Dakota, you are assisting the people in Illinois or where this industry is located in the education of their children. We are losing here because we do not have the factories or plants. This cries out for adjustment. I believe we can get something done.

"Once again, it is a great privilege to be back. It is wonderful for Mary and me to visit with you. I don't want to overstay my welcome by talking too long. Thank you so much for taking the time and being so generous to us today."

Rep. Streibel moved that the remarks of Congressman Andrews be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

MOTIONS

Rep. Powers moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the State Dairy Princess Mary Karol Holden to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker E. Johnson appointed Reps. Powers and Simonson.

North Dakota Dairy Princess Mary Karol Holden addressed the Assembly.

Mary Karol Holden:

"I have been honored many times since I was crowned State Dairy Princess, but this appearance before my State Legislature is an honor beyond my dreams.

"As North Dakota Dairy Princess I have the privilege, honor and responsibility to speak up for the dairy industry. I enjoy this for two main reasons. The first is that I have a quality product to promote, and I am a foods and nutrition major at NDSU, and in every class the value of dairy foods is impressed on me. The infant can use milk as his only food source for the first three months of life. This almost complete nutrition is valuable to the growing teen for strong, sound bones as well as a healthy vibrant appearance. The growth spurt of the teens demands the almost complete nutrition of dairy foods. The adult, too, needs milk products for sound nutrition, the maintenance of strong bones and the vitality that dairy foods provide.

"The other main reason I am willing to speak up for the dairy foods (in addition to their own value) is my respect for the dairy farmers themselves. They are a hard working group of men who have the ambition to get up early in the morning seven days a week, fifty-two weeks a year to bring milk to the nation's table.

"I like dairy foods because of their variety — milk, ice cream, butter, and the wonderful world of cheeses. You know our American cheese is universal. We now have eye witness evidence that the moon is not made of Green Cheese. Commander Borman reported it. He told us, 'The moon is made of American cheese.'

"More seriously though, dairy foods are vital to the health of the nation, and it is up to you to keep dairying strong in our state."

Rep. Streibel moved that the remarks of Dairy Princess Mary Karol Holden be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

MOTIONS

Rep. Link moved that the House reconsider its action on House Bill No. 364 by which it was lost, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Hilleboe moved that the House Bill No. 364 be re-referred to the Committee on Education, which motion prevailed.

Delete lines 1 through 49 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. DEFINITION — JUSTIFIED MEDICAL TERMINATION OF PREGNANCY.) As used in this Act, "justified medical termination of pregnancy" shall mean the intentional ending of the pregnancy of a woman by the request of said woman, if unmarried and over the age of 18, or if said woman is unmarried and is under the age of 18 then at the request of said woman and her then living parent or guardian, or if said woman is married then at the request of said woman and her husband, or if said woman is married and is legally separated by court decree from her husband then at her request, by a licensed physician using acceptable medical procedures in a hospital duly licensed by the North Dakota State Health Department and fully accredited by the joint commission on accreditation of hospitals upon the unanimous written certification of the members of a special hospital board that:

1. Continuation of the pregnancy, in the opinion of the board based on a reasonable medical certainty, will result in:

a. the death of the woman; or

- b. the serious permanent impairment of the physical health of the woman; or
 - c. the birth of the child with grave and permanent physical deformity or mental retardation after consultation confirmed in writing over the signature of a cytogeneticist;
2. Less than sixteen weeks of gestation have passed and the pregnancy resulted from rape as defined in Section 12-30-01, subsections two through seven, or incest as defined by Section 12-22-06 of this Code, and the state's attorney of the county in which the alleged rape or incest occurred has certified to the committee over his signature that there is probable cause to believe that the alleged violation did occur.

SECTION 2. SPECIAL HOSPITAL BOARD — HOW CONSTITUTED — REQUIREMENTS OF BOARD PROCEEDINGS.) Any hospital duly licensed by the North Dakota State Health Department and fully accredited by the joint commission on accreditation of hospitals may elect to appoint a special hospital board for the purposes of this Act. Such board shall be appointed by the legal governing board of the hospital. In making such appointment the legal governing board of the hospital may establish such policies as it deems appropriate for the operation of such special hospital board provided that such policies are not in conflict with this Act, and such policies may limit the conditions within which such hospital will permit the intentional ending of the pregnancy to circumstances more restrictive than the provisions of Section 1 of this Act. The special hospital board shall consist of a committee of three licensed physicians who are members of the staff of the hospital where a proposed termination of pregnancy would be performed if certified in accordance with this Act. Such special hospital board shall meet regularly or on call for the purpose of determining the question of medical justification in each individual case. Written records of all proceedings and deliberations of the board shall be maintained as permanent records of the hospital, and such records shall be signed by each member of the board for each proceeding. The board's certification shall not take place until after there shall have been consultation with one or more persons specializing in that field of medicine most closely related to the specific case. Such consultant or consultants must be certified by an American Board and shall not be a member of the special board. The request for and the report of the consultant or consultants shall be in writing and shall be filed with the record of the board. The membership of such special hospital board may, by decision of the appointing authority, be made confidential to the general public. Each member of the special hospital board shall be responsible for making a direct evaluation of the patient prior to certification.

SECTION 3. APPOINTMENT OF BOARD NOT MANDATORY — LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY.) Nothing contained herein shall require any hospital to appoint a special hospital board or admit any patient for the purpose of justified medical termination of pregnancy or permit the intentional ending of the pregnancy within said hospital. No hospital shall be held liable for any damages by reason of its refusal or failure to appoint a special hospital board for the purposes of this Act, or by its refusal or failure to permit the intentional ending of a pregnancy within such hospital. The members of such special hospital board shall not be held liable for damages by reason of their decision concerning a request for a certification for justified medical termination of pregnancy. No physician shall be held liable for damages by reason of the decision of the special hospital board concerning a request for certification for justified medical termination of pregnancy. Any person who is a member of or associated with the staff of a hospital, or any employee of a hospital, in which a justified medical termination has been authorized may object in writing to such termination on moral or religious grounds and shall not thereafter be required to participate in medical procedures which will result in a termination of pregnancy. The refusal of any such person to participate shall not form the basis of any disciplinary or recriminatory action against such person.

SECTION 4. REQUIREMENT OF RESIDENCY.) The special hospital board shall not issue its certification determining that a justified medical termination of pregnancy condition exists unless the woman has been regularly residing within the State of North Dakota for not less than thirty days prior to the submission of her request. In making such determination the special hospital board may rely upon the affidavit of the woman making such request and the affidavits of not less than two other persons who are not related to the woman.

SECTION 5. REPORTS TO THE STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT.) Within thirty days following the intentional ending of a pregnancy under the provisions of this Act the hospital shall report such case to the State Health Department. Such report shall be in such form as is prescribed by the State Health Department and shall preserve the confidentiality of the patient. Any duly designated representative of the State Health Department shall be entitled to examine and review the complete records of a special hospital board. Such examination and review shall take place at the hospital where such special hospital board is appointed.

Rep. Strinden moved that Senate Bill No. 163 be re-referred to the Committee on Industry and Business, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Sandness moved to have the House reconsider its action by which House Bill No. 487 was indefinitely postponed, which motion failed.

Rep. Gackle rose to a point of personal privilege.

Rep. Gackle:

"Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

"House Bill 487, a bill disposing of the present location of the Edgeley Experiment Station and asking for an appropriation for purchase of land which would be more suitable for carrying out experimental programs, came out of committee for indefinite postponement. The explanation being that the appropriations were deleted for the Edgeley Station from Senate Bill No. 2, the Extension Division and Experiment Station Bill. I questioned the committee's action on the grounds that if they were intending to conform with the Senate's action, House Bill 487 was necessary because if there wasn't any appropriation made available for the continuance of the station, what legislative action was being planned for disposing of the land? Therefore, I moved for a substitute motion for the purpose of reconsideration and re-referring House Bill No. 487 to the Committee on Appropriations. This being denied, a motion for House Bill No. 487 to be laid over for one legislative day was accepted.

"The following day, Saturday, the House Finance and Taxation Committee, of which I am a member, met at 8:00 A.M. to take action on several bills. The House convened at 9:00 A.M., at which time they immediately went into Fifth Order, consideration of committee reports. House Bill No. 487 was once again considered for indefinite postponement, and there wasn't any explanation made. Arriving late on the floor to hear the committee report, I was unable to challenge the floor action in accepting the committee report.

"Today I have asked for reconsideration of our action on House Bill No. 487 primarily for the purpose to be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations. Therefore, I come before this assembly as a fellow legislator concerned about our state as a whole but also representing the people in my district and surrounding area, such as each one of us that are here, do. Oftentimes, as we consider legislation, it pertains to certain locations or segments of our society, and probably most of the time it doesn't concern us personally. Therefore, it is necessary for each one of us, if we are going to consider the problem which exists, to have a full understanding of the existing question which oftentimes is difficult if we are not directly involved.

"For a moment I wish to bring to the attention of each one in this assembly that the state's wealth has topped one billion dollars for the third consecutive year, and from this one billion dollars, agriculture contributed over 800 million. Of this 800 million dollars over half is from crops totaling almost one-half of the total one billion. Considering these figures, we, from the South Central part of the state, feel that further development and experiments must be carried on if we are going to continue to contribute substantially to the economy of this great state. Testimony in the committee certainly indicated that the area, as it is situated, has different climatic, soil and rainfall conditions than other parts of the state which carry out crop program developments at the various stations throughout the state.

"It wasn't my intention to belabor the consideration of House Bill No. 487, and had my questions been answered in a satisfactory way, I am sure those of us who are directly involved would have respected the decision of the committee report. I, therefore, humbly make this plea to you as members of the 41st Legislative Session of North Dakota to reconsider our previous action on House Bill No. 487, so that we may fully debate this issue, which may not directly concern you but, keep in mind, to many citizens of our society it is just as important for them as many things are for those of whom you are directly representing."

"A majority of the members of the House Committee on Finance and Taxation have joined me in introducing a bill which will result in the removal of the personal property tax. This bill differs from other bills on the same subject being considered by the Legislature in that it offers no replacement formula.

"This bill is introduced because of the feeling that this tax is becoming a political football and must be resolved before attention will be focused on such vital problems as county reorganization, governmental reform and educational needs.

"It is our judgment that to accomplish the removal of the personal property tax, it is necessary to divorce the repeal from the replacement. Because this is a county tax and because each county has a different set of circumstances, it figures that no one replacement formula will apply state-wide. But, with the belief that necessity is the mother of invention and projecting the need against enabling legislation possible at this session, we are sure of the ability of the political subdivisions to solve their own problems. We are also sure as long as the tax is in effect replacement formulas will be argued pro and con without consequence.

"This force action position was brought on by the publicly expressed pessimism of the majority leaders of both Houses that any action would be taken by this session of the Legislature on personal property tax."

The question then was on the motion of Rep. Aas to substitute the Report of the Minority for the Report of the Majority of the Finance and Taxation Committee on House Bill No. 416, which motion prevailed on a division vote.

Was read the second time.

Rep. Rundle requested that his remarks concerning House Bill No. 424 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Rundle:

"The Judiciary Committee, I thought, gave this bill a very fair and impartial hearing under rather difficult circumstances and recommends a do pass.

"It provides that a judge must keep his criminal records open to the public, including the news media, in reasonable hours.

"It has long been a concept in this state that the business of public officials should be done out in the open. This does not generally include the findings or proceedings of a court dealing with juveniles or with certain probationary cases.

"It came to the attention of the committee that a few judges have taken it upon themselves to hide from newsmen certain convictions. The committee felt that it is dangerous to allow the courts this power, although in most cases it may be wisely used.

"We recommend this bill for passage but we also want to sound a warning to newsmen not to abuse their privileges. They have a responsibility to the public to use their power fairly and wisely, both in the body of their news stories and in their headlines. Abuse of the power of the press might well lead to restrictions placed upon them by future legislatures."

14 41-09-05 (9-105) DEFINITIONS AND INDEX OF 14a DEFINITIONS.)

15 1. In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

16 a. "Account debtor" means the person who is obligated on 17 an account, chattel paper, contract right or general
18 intangible;

19 b. "Chattel paper" means a writing or writings which 20 evidence both a monetary obligation and a security
21 interest in or a lease of specific goods; a charter or 22 other contract involving the use or hire of a vessel
23 is not a chattel paper. When a transaction is 24 evidenced both by such a security agreement or a lease
25 and by an instrument or a series of instruments, the 26 group of writings taken together constitutes chattel
27 paper;

28 c. "Collateral" means the property subject to a security
29 interest, and includes accounts, contract rights and 30 chattel paper which have been sold;

31 d. "Debtor" means the person who owes payment or other
32 performance of the obligation secured, whether or not 33 he owns or has rights in the collateral, and includes 34 the seller of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper.
35 Where the debtor and the owner of the collateral are 35a not

36 the same person, the term "debtor" means the owner of 37 the collateral in any provision of the chapter dealing

- 38 with the collateral, the obligor in any provision dealing 39 with the obligation, and may include both where the 40 context so requires;
- 41 e. "Document" means document of title as defined in the 42 general definitions of chapter 41-01 (section 42a 41-01-11);

 43a other
 44 liens on real estate;
- 45 ((f.)) "Goods" includes all things which are movable at the 46 time the security interest attaches or which are fixtures
 47 (section 41-09-34), but does not include money,
 47a documents,
 48 instruments, accounts, chattel paper, general in-

 54 41-08-02) or any other writing which evidences a right
 55 to the payment of money and is not itself a security
 56 agreement or lease and is of a type which is in ordinary 57 course of business transferred by delivery with any 58 necessary endorsement or assignment;
- 59 i. "Mortgage" means a real estate mortgage or a similar 60 consensual interest such as a trust deed on real 61 estate, however denominated;
- 62 ((h.)) "Security agreement" means an agreement which 62a creates
 63 j. or provides for a security interest;
- 64 ((i.)) "Secured party" means a lender, seller or other
 64a person
 65 k. in whose favor there is a security interest, including
 66 a person to whom accounts, contract rights or chattel
 67 paper have been sold. When the holders of obligations

 72 engaged in the railroad or street railway business, the 73 electric or electronics communications transmission
 74 business, the transmission of goods by pipeline, or the

 181 interest in them exists under this chapter unless the 181a structure
 182 remains personal property under applicable law. The law
 182a of
 183 this state other than this title determines whether and

((5. When under subsections 2 or 3 and 4 a secured party has priority over the claims of all persons who have interests in real estate, he may, on default, subject to the provisions of part 5, remove his collateral from the real estate but he must reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real estate who is not the debtor and who has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any physical injury, but not for any diminution in value of the real estate caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity for replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation.))

1. a. This section governs the priority between a security interest in goods, including fixtures, and a real estate interest in the goods. The declaration in this section that certain goods are not fixtures is only for the purpose of the priority rules stated in this section, and does not determine whether an interest in the goods passes under a conveyance or mortgage of the real estate or whether the goods are part of real estate under the law of this state other than this title.
- b. For the purpose of this section and the provisions in part 4 of this chapter referring to fixture filing, the following definitions apply:
 - (1) Goods are "fixtures" when they are so related to particular real estate that under the law of this state other than this title an interest in the goods would pass as part of the real estate under a conveyance or mortgage thereof without specific mention of the goods, except as stated in this paragraph. Where ordinary building materials are incorporated in an improvement upon land, which improvement is itself not a fixture, the materials are real estate and not a fixture. An improvement upon land is not a fixture unless it is readily removable from the land. Readily removable factory and office machines and readily removable replacements of domestic appliances are not fixtures. Where the debtor is a tenant, goods which he has a right to remove are not fixtures but are personal property. Standing timber and growing crops and oil, gas and minerals before severance are not fixtures.
 - (2) The term "ordinary building materials" includes lumber, millwork, brick, tile, siding, roofing, cement, glass, wiring, piping and structural members, other than readily removable items of special value such as ornamental metal work, ornamental mantels and carved panelling.
 - (3) A "real estate interest" in goods including a fixture is an interest held solely by virtue of an interest in real estate and is not a security

- 270 interest under this chapter.
 271 (4) A mortgage of real estate is a "construction mort-272 gage" if it secures an obligation incurred for the 273 construction or improvement of real estate or 274 to the extent that it is a refinancing of a con-
 275 struction mortgage, and the record so indicates.
 276 (5) A "fixture filing" is the filing of a financing
 277 statement in the office where a mortgage on the re-
 278 lated real estate would be filed or recorded, which 279 conforms to the requirements of subsection 6 of 280 section 41-09-41.
- 281 2. Nothing in this title prevents the creation of a real 282 estate interest in a fixture pursuant to the law of this 283 state other than this title. A writing which as a real
 284 estate mortgage creates a real estate interest in a fixture
 285 may also provide for a security interest in the fixture,
 286 but the validity, perfection and priority of the security
 287 interest are governed by the provisions of this chapter.
 - 288 3. There can be no security interest in ordinary building
 289 materials after they become so related to real estate as to 290 be a part thereof, unless the structure of which they form
 291 a part is a fixture.
 - 292 4. Any security interest in goods which are not fixtures 293 under this section (other than goods wrongfully removed 294 from real estate) has priority over any real estate 295 interest in the goods.
 - 296 5. A real estate interest in a fixture of any encumbrancer
 297 or owner of the real estate who is not the debtor has 298 priority over a conflicting security interest except as 299 follows:
 - 300 a. The security interest has priority over a lien upon the 301 fixture by legal or equitable proceedings obtained
 302 after the security interest was perfected by fixture
 303 filing or otherwise.
 - 304 b. The security interest has priority over the real estate 305 interest (other than a construction mortgage to finance
 306 a construction or improvement including the fixture
 307 which is of record before the goods become a fixture)
 308 if the security interest is a purchase money security
 309 interest, the debtor has an interest of record in the 310 real estate, and the security interest is perfected by 311 a fixture filing before the goods become a fixture or 312 within ten days thereafter.
 - 313 c. The security interest has priority over an encumbrance
 314 if the debtor has an interest of record in the real
 315 estate and the security interest is perfected by a 316 fixture filing before the encumbrance is recorded.
 - 317 6. When a secured party has a security interest in a fixture
 318 and the security interest has priority over all real estate
 319 interests in the fixture, he may, on default, subject to 320 the provisions of part 5, remove his collateral from the 321 real estate but he must reimburse any encumbrance or 322 owner of the real estate who is not the debtor and who 323 has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any 324 physical injury, but not for any diminution in value of the 325 real estate caused by the absence of the goods removed or 326 by any necessity of replacing them. A person entitled 327 to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until 327a the
 328 secured party gives adequate security for the performance
 329 of this obligation.
- 330 SECTION 6. AMENDMENT.) Section 41-09-40 (9-401) of the 330a North

331 Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read 331a as

334 follows:

335 41-09-40. (9-401) PLACE OF FILING — ERRONEOUS
335a FILING —
336 REMOVAL OF COLLATERAL.)

- 337 1. The proper place to file in order to perfect a security 338 interest is as follows:
- 339 a. when the collateral is equipment used in farming
340 operations, or farm products, or accounts, contract
341 rights or general intangibles arising from or relating 342 to the sale of farm products by a farmer, or consumer
343 goods, then in the office of the register of deeds
344 in the county of the debtor's residence or if the 345 debtor is not a resident of this state then in the 346 office of the register of deeds in the county where 347 the goods are kept, and in addition when the collateral
348 is crops, as provided in subdivision b of this sub- 349 section ((in the office of the register of deeds in 350 the county where the land on which the crops are 351 growing or to be grown is located));
- 352 b. when the collateral is ((goods which at the time the 353 security interest attaches are or are to become 354 fixtures)) crops growing or to be grown, or when the 355 financing statement is filed as a fixture filing
356 (section 41-09-34) and the collateral is goods which
357 are or are to become fixtures, then in the office
358 where a mortgage on the real estate concerned would 359 be filed or recorded;
- 360 c. in all other cases, in the office of the secretary of 361 state.
- 362 2. A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place
363 or not in all of the places required by this section is 364 nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as 365 to which the filing complied with the requirements of this 366 chapter and is also effective with regard to collateral
367 covered by the financing statement against any person
368 who has knowledge of the contents of such financing
369 statement.
- 370 3. A filing which is made in the proper place in this state
371 continues effective even though the debtor's residence or 372 place of business or the location of the collateral or 373 its use, whichever controlled the original filing, is 374 thereafter changed.
- 375 4. If collateral is brought into this state from another
376 jurisdiction, the rules stated in section 41-09-03 determine 377 whether filing is necessary in this state.
- 378 5. Notwithstanding the preceding subsections, and subject 379 to subsection 3 of section 41-09-23, the proper place to 380 file in order to perfect a security interest in collateral, 381 including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is in the 382 office of the secretary of state. This filing constitutes 383 a fixture filing (section 41-09-34) as to the collateral
384 described therein which is or is to become fixtures.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Rep. Dahl:

"I voted NO on House Bill No. 385 for five reasons.

- "1. It was not included in the Governor's Budget.
- "2. No method of tax was proposed to raise the money or sustain its growth.
- "3. The Educational Broadcasting Council does not come under the Departments of Education, Vocational Education or Higher Education. I believe it should be controlled by responsible educational authorities.
- "4. The board members are chosen from the "East half" or the "West half" of the State. This bill should be rewritten to pick these members from the East or West Congressional District so as to define the areas more precisely and give more fair representation on a population basis.
- "5. A portion of the bill should have better defined what the legislative intent of the bill was to be. In practice when this board acts they will not know precisely or generally what the legislative intent was except to set up a means of diffusing knowledge."

House Bill No. 417. Rep. Bernabucci:

"House Bill 296 broadens the sales tax to include items already taxed by excise tax and, in effect, subjects those items to double taxation.

"This is a critical moment in the life of this legislature for within the next few minutes we will be making a substantial decision regarding our fiscal policy, a greater and more meaningful decision than has ever been made in any caucus thus far in this session.

"House Bill 296 would apply funds which have previously been used as possible replacements for personal property tax to the general fund to meet increased appropriations. If House Bill 296 should succeed and at the same time the personal property tax repeal should fail, either in the legislature or in the referral booth, then we will have imposed an increase in taxation without any corresponding tax relief or tax reform.

"The basic issue before us is simply this: Do we raise taxes to meet increased spending in each and every session of this legislature or do we make a concerted effort to control spending and match that spending with existing income? I firmly believe that the citizen-taxpayer of our state is already overburdened with excessive taxation and that this legislature would be breaking the faith with those who sent us here if we were to increase taxes without any corresponding relief or reform.

"I submit that our spending can be controlled to match the present levels of income and taxation but that effort will require that we depart from the concept of provincial politics and impose upon ourselves a degree of discipline that has become somewhat rare and uncommon in the American political scene. I am certain that such a change would be welcomed and praised by all the people of our state.

"I would implore and beseech the members of this House to uphold the recommendation of a substantial majority of your Committee on Finance and Taxation and indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 296."

Question was on the motion of Rep. Aas to adopt the Report of the Minority of the Committee on Finance and Taxation, which motion failed.
