REQUEST

Rep. Backes requested a recorded roll call vote on House Bill No.

Rule 335 as a basis for a decision concerning a member who voted orally after the key was closed. A better source for my decision would have been House Rule 318.

It is the policy of the chair that members who are present in the chamber must, in accordance with House Rule 318, vote when the question is put, unless they are excused by the House.

In practice, this policy means that, when the electronic roll call machine is being used, a member must utilize his individual voting station prior to the time that the chair directs the Clerk to close the key and record the vote. A member who fails to vote before the Speaker announces that the key is closed will not be comporting with the requirements of House Rule 318.

For the purposes of this policy, the directive by the Speaker to the Clerk to close the key and record the vote is the equivalent of closing the vote. Of course, following announcement of the vote pursuant to House Rule 336, any member may demand verification of the vote, or can explain his vote, pursuant to House Rules 337 and 338.

James A. Peterson
Speaker of the House
