SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 11-28.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby created and enacted to read as follows:

POWERS OF RECREATION SERVICE DISTRICTS - LEVYING GENERAL TAXES. The board of recreation service district commissioners of a recreation service district created under the provisions of this chapter may, upon proper resolution of the board, levy a tax for general purposes in addition to all other levies permitted by law, not to exceed one mill on the net taxable valuation of property in the district."

acceptable.

To protect the integrity of the Senate from future embarrassing displays of power misused, the Senate must consider changing the way such inquiries are handled. To allow this sort of unfair, prejudicial harassment to be part of traditionally open North Dakota government is unfortunate. To allow it to happen again would be unforgivable.

It is for that reason that the following recommendations are included in this report:

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Chapter 54-03.2 sets forth the terms, conditions, specifications and requirements of a senate investigation committee. That section says, and I quote from 54-03.2-13, "Any person whose name is mentioned or who is otherwise identified during a hearing of an investigating committee, and who, in the opinion of the committee may be adversely affected thereby, may, upon his request or upon request of any member of the committee, appear personally before the committee and testify in his own behalf..." Although the law is clear and not ambiguous.

If that guarantee is not strong enough to protect the rights of those involved in this type of investigation, then it should be amended to more clearly spell out the intent of the senate. If there is no way to make the law strong enough to guarantee the rights of individuals, then we should adopt amendments to that section of the code which provide some type of penalty or disciplinary action for committee chairmen who knowingly and willfully violate the provisions of that section.

2. Any individual or individuals subject to investigation under 54-03.2 should be provided legal counsel if any possibility exists that charges and allegations under consideration may involve possible violations of law. This counsel should be provided at state expense, in order to protect the state from possible recrimination for violations of constitutional rights.

3. Duly conducted and legally acceptable investigations by respected and well established units of state government or law enforcement agencies should preclude identical review by the Senate under 54-03.2. This would be to prevent abuse of this power of investigation for political exploitation and limit its use as a means of carrying forth a personal or political vendetta.

4. At the conclusion of any investigation by a Select Senate Committee, a final report should be drafted by staff counsel and should be brought to the committee members for discussion as a committee, section by section. After all sections have been agreed upon by a majority of the committee, any members of the committee who dissent from the majority decisions should be given a reasonable length of time to prepare a minority report. When both the majority and minority reports have been prepared, they should be distributed to individual members of the senate at least one legislative day before they are to be considered by the full body.

5. Section 54-03.2-04 reads, "Each investigating committee shall adopt rules not inconsistent with the law or any applicable rules of the legislature, governing its procedures, including the conduct of hearings." Obviously, rules consistent with legislative procedure were not followed. Obviously, rules consistent with the law were not followed. In any future senate investigation, the committee rules, under which the committee is to function, should be made available to any interested party on request.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE:

It would be difficult, unreasonable and inappropriate for those of us in the minority party to make broad sweeping supportive statements on behalf of the former insurance commissioner, Mr. Byron Knutson. Many of us are not acquainted with him personally and have no idea of how he administered his department or have information relative to the charges leveled against him. We do, however, strongly object to the procedure used to deny a citizen of North Dakota his rights of due process and the lack of fair play and honor displayed by the Senate Investigation Committee in discharging their responsibility to this assembly.

Mr. President, we most heartily dissent from the report offered on March 25, 1981 by the Select Senate Committee on Insurance Department operations.

STATEMENT OF SENATOR STREIBEL, CHAIRMAN
1981 SELECT SENATE COMMITTEE ON
INSURANCE DEPARTMENT OPERATIONS

Senator Streibel: Mr. President, I thought I occupied enough of the Senate's time yesterday and I made a pledge to myself and maybe to some of the members of the Senate that I would be very hesitant to get up again and occupy the Senate's time. But some of the accusations that have been made prod me to reply.

The accusations that have just been placed in verbal presentation before this body would indicate that some of us of the committee are the ones that have attempted flagrant misuse of what are considered to be normal administrative practices in state government. Well, I submit to you I didn't ask for this job of serving on this committee, much more I didn't ask to be chairman of this committee, in fact, I didn't know until ten minutes before the committee was announced from the Senate desk that I would even be on the committee. I never "purported," as the past speaker just used purported, to infer for one minute that my report was anything but just that, my report. It doesn't take much more than 20-20 vision, and I can even read it without my glasses, it states on this cover, "Report of the 1981 Select Senate Committee on Insurance Department Operations." It doesn't take too much judgment to figure out which is the official report of the committee and which was mine.

Accusations such as "abuse and harass" have been stated and I quote "unforgivable." I would submit to the Senate that if you want to talk about what is unforgivable, that the conduct of state officials, occupying and physically being present in an office in the State Capitol Building when they are no longer a state official for 8 hours and 45 minutes on New Years Day, purporting to be conducting business of the state, with telephone calls at 12:03 AM to certain locales, which by coincidence just happens to be the home of the wife of the former state official, what can you conclude. I say that might be construed as harassment of the taxpayer. One thing we can be sure of, its a total waste of taxpayers' money, and if anybody can refute that maybe then we should look at criminal charges. We treated this quite lightly, we were quite benevolent, I thought, in our recommendations to the Senate. We could have come on a lot stronger and maybe we might be enticed to do just that. In fact, I think this thing should be continued during the interim. I think it would be interesting to the taxpayers of North Dakota to know just what kind of investment we got, what kind of rate of return they got on that money that was spent in December. The deeper you dig in this the more intriguing it becomes. I would urge any of you to go down and look at the register on the main floor of the
