Initial fraud alerts. Upon the direct request of a consumer or an individual acting on behalf of or as a personal representative of a consumer, who asserts in good faith a suspicion that the consumer has been or is about to become a victim of fraud or related crime, including identity theft, a consumer reporting agency that maintains a file on the consumer and has received appropriate proof of the identity of the requester shall include a fraud alert in the file of that consumer. The consumer reporting agency shall continue that alert along with any credit score generated in using that file, for a period of not less than ninety days beginning on the date of the request, unless the consumer or the consumer's representative requests that the fraud alert be removed before the end of the period and the agency has received appropriate proof of the identity of the requester for that purpose.

Extended fraud alerts. Upon the direct request of a consumer or an individual acting on behalf of or as a personal representative of a consumer, who asserts in good faith a suspicion that the consumer has been or is about to become a victim of fraud or related crime, including identity theft, a consumer reporting agency that maintains a file on the consumer and has received appropriate proof of the identity of the requester shall:

1. Include a fraud alert in the file of that consumer and continue that alert along with any credit score generated in using that file, during the seven-year period beginning on the date of the request, unless the consumer or the consumer's representative requests that the fraud alert be removed before the end of that period and the agency has received appropriate proof of the identity of the requester for that purpose; and
2. During the five-year period beginning on the date of the request, exclude the consumer from any list of consumers prepared by the consumer reporting agency and provided to any third party to offer credit or insurance to the consumer as part of a transaction that was not initiated by the consumer, unless the consumer or the consumer's representative requests that the exclusion be rescinded before the end of that period.

Police reports - Judicial determination of factual innocence.

1. An individual who has learned or reasonably suspects that the individual's personal identifying information has been unlawfully used by another, as described in section 12.1-23-11, may initiate a law enforcement investigation by contacting the local law enforcement agency that has jurisdiction over the individual's residence. The law enforcement agency shall take a report of the matter, provide the individual with a copy of that report, and begin an investigation of the facts. If the suspected crime was committed in a different jurisdiction, the local law enforcement agency may refer the matter to the law enforcement agency where the suspected crime was committed for further investigation of the facts.
2. An individual who reasonably believes that the individual is the victim of identity theft may petition the district court in the county in which the alleged victim resides or in which the identity theft is alleged to have occurred, or the court, on its own motion or upon application of the state's attorney, may move for an expedited judicial determination of the individual's factual innocence, if the perpetrator of the identity theft was arrested, cited, or convicted of a crime under the victim's identity, if a criminal complaint has been filed against the perpetrator in the victim's name, or if the victim's identity has been mistakenly associated with a record of criminal conviction. Any judicial determination of factual innocence made under this section may be heard and determined upon declarations, affidavits, police reports, or other material, relevant, and reliable information submitted by the parties or ordered to be part of the record by the court. If the court determines that the petition or motion is meritorious and that there is no reasonable cause to believe that the victim committed the offense for which the perpetrator of the identity theft was arrested, cited, convicted, or subject to a criminal complaint in the victim's name, or that the victim's identity has been mistakenly associated with a record of criminal conviction, the court shall find the victim factually innocent of that offense. If the victim is found factually innocent, the court shall issue an order certifying that determination.

3. After a court has issued a determination of factual innocence under this section, the court may order the name and associated personal identifying information contained in court records, files, and indexes accessible by the public deleted, sealed, or labeled to show that the data is impersonated and does not reflect the defendant's identity.
4. A court that has issued a determination of factual innocence under this section may vacate that determination if the petition or any information submitted in support of the petition is found to contain any material misrepresentation or fraud.

Enforcement - Powers - Remedies - Penalties. The attorney general may enforce this chapter. In enforcing this chapter, the attorney general has all the powers provided in this chapter or chapter 51-15 and may seek all remedies in this chapter or chapter 51-15. A violation of this chapter constitutes a violation of chapter 51-15. The remedies, duties, prohibitions, and penalties of this chapter are not exclusive and are in addition to all other causes of action, remedies, and penalties as provided in chapter 51-15 and as otherwise provided by law.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 52-04 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Agency" or "bureau" means job service North Dakota.
2. "Client company" means a person that contracts to receive services, within the course of that person's usual business, from a staffing service or that contracts to lease any or all of that person's employees from a staffing service.
3. "Knowingly" means having actual knowledge of or acting with deliberate ignorance or reckless disregard for the prohibition involved.
4. "Staffing service" means an employer in the business of providing the employer's employees to a client company to perform services within the course of that client company's usual business. The term includes a professional employer organization, a staff leasing company, an employee leasing organization, and a temporary staffing company. The term "staffing service" must be broadly construed to encompass an entity that offers services provided by a professional employer organization, a staff leasing company, an employee leasing organization, or a temporary staffing company, regardless of the term used.
5. "Temporary staffing" or "temporary staffing service" means an arrangement through which an employer hires its own employees and assigns the employees to a client company to support or supplement the client company's workforce in a special work situation, including an employee's temporary absence; a temporary skill shortage; a seasonal workload; or a special assignment or project with a targeted end date.

The term does not include an arrangement through which the majority of the client company's workforce has been assigned by a temporary staffing service for a period of more than twelve consecutive months.

6. "Unemployment insurance tax rate" means the rate calculated or assigned under sections 52-04-05 and 52-04-06.

8. "Workforce" means some or all of the employees of a transferring employer.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 52-04 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Staffing services - Payment of unemployment insurance taxes.

1. If a staffing service exclusively provides temporary staffing services, the staffing service is considered to be the employee's employer and the staffing service shall pay unemployment insurance taxes at the staffing service's unemployment insurance tax rate. If a staffing service provides temporary and long-term employee staffing services, the staffing service is subject to the reporting and tax requirements associated with the type of employee provided to the client company.
2. For the purposes of long-term employee staffing services provided by a staffing service, the staffing service shall:
 - a. Report quarterly the wages of all employees furnished to each client company and pay taxes on those wages at the client company's unemployment insurance tax rate; except as otherwise provided under subsection 3.
 - b. Maintain complete and separate records of the wages paid to employees furnished to each of the client companies. Claims for benefits must be separately identified by the staffing service for each client company.
 - c. Notify the agency of each client company's name and unemployment insurance account number and the date the staffing service began providing services to the client company. The staffing service shall provide the agency with the information required under this subdivision upon entering an agreement with a client company, but no later than fifteen days from the effective date of the written agreement.
 - d. Supply the agency with a copy of the agreement between the staffing service and the client company.
 - e. Notify the agency upon termination of any agreement with a client company, but no later than fifteen days from the effective date of the termination.

f. Share employer responsibilities with the client company, including retention of the authority to hire, terminate, discipline, and reassign employees. If the contractual agreement between the staffing service and a client company is terminated, the employees become the sole employees of the client company.

3. For the purposes of long-term employee staffing services provided by a staffing service, upon authorization of the agency, the staffing service may be considered to be the employee's employer and the staffing service shall pay unemployment insurance taxes at the staffing service's unemployment insurance tax rate. The agency may not make an authorization under this subsection unless one of the following requirements is met:

a. In the case of a client company unemployment insurance tax rate that is higher than the staffing services tax rate:

(1) The staffing service:

(a) Calculates the difference between the staffing service's tax rate and the client company's tax rate;

(b) Applies the difference to the wages to be earned by the employees furnished to the client company in the following completed calendar quarter; and

(c) Notifies the agency that such application would, if the staffing service's tax rate were applied to those same wages, cause a reduction in the tax due on those wages which does not exceed five hundred dollars.

(2) If the reduction under paragraph 1 exceeds five hundred dollars, at the written request of the staffing service, the agency may make a written determination that it is appropriate to allow the staffing service to use the staffing service's unemployment insurance tax rate.

b. The staffing service includes in its contract with the client company a requirement that if the client company's unemployment insurance tax rate is higher than the staffing service's tax rate, the client will arrange to make payment to the agency, pursuant to subsection 4 of section 52-04-06, in the amount necessary to cause the client company's unemployment insurance tax rate should it be recomputed to be determined by the agency to be equivalent to the staffing service's unemployment insurance tax rate. Before the agency makes an authorization under this subdivision, the agency actually must receive payment of the amount required to cause the determination that the client company has complied with this subdivision.

c. The staffing service demonstrates to the agency that the staffing service has entered an agreement with a client company that has an unemployment insurance tax rate that is, at the time of execution of the contract, equal to or lower than the staffing service's tax rate.

4. If a staffing service enters a contract with a client company that has an unemployment insurance tax rate that is lower than the staffing service's tax rate, the agency shall determine the following year's tax rate for the staffing service by calculating a blended reserve ratio using the proportion of that client company's total wages paid for up to the previous six years to the total wages paid for up to the previous six years for all of that staffing service's client companies whose furnished workers are considered the staffing service's employees for unemployment insurance tax purposes pursuant to subsection 3.
5. Both a staffing service and client company are considered employers for the purposes of this title. Both parties to a contract between a staffing service and a client company are jointly liable for delinquent unemployment insurance taxes, and the agency may seek to collect such delinquent taxes, and any penalties and interest due, from either party. This chapter does not modify or impair any other provisions of the contract between the staffing service and the client company not relating to the requirements of this subsection concerning liability for payment of taxes on the wages paid to workers furnished by the staffing service to the client company, and the means of determining the tax rate to be applied to those wages.
6. The agency shall determine whether a person is a staffing service. If the agency determines a person is a staffing service, the agency may further determine if the person is a temporary staffing service. The agency's determination must be issued in writing, and within fifteen days of the date of issuance of that determination, a person aggrieved by that determination may appeal that determination. The appeal must be heard in the same manner and with the same possible results as all other administrative appeals under this title. In making a determination under this subsection, the agency may consider:

 - a. The number of client companies with which the staffing service has contracts;
 - b. The length of time the staffing service has been in existence;
 - c. The extent to which the staffing service extends services to the general public;
 - d. The degree to which the client company and the staffing services are separate and unrelated business entities;
 - e. The repetition of officers and managers between the client company and staffing service;
 - f. The scope of services provided by the staffing service;
 - g. The relationship between the staffing service and the client company's workers;
 - h. The written agreement between the staffing service and the client company; and
 - i. Any other factor determined relevant by the agency.

7. The agency may require information from any staffing service, including a list of current client company accounts, staffing assignments, and wage information. A client company shall provide any information requested by the agency regarding any staffing service.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Subsection 4 of section 52-04-06 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

4. a. After each year's rate schedule has been established, an employer may pay into the fund, or cause to be paid into the fund on the employer's behalf, an amount in excess of the contributions required to be paid under this section. That amount must be credited to the employer's separate account. The employer's rate must be recomputed with the amount paid pursuant to this subsection included in the calculation only, except as allowed by subdivision b, if that amount was paid by April thirtieth of that year. Payments may not be refunded or used as credit in the payment of contributions.
- b. An employer that enters a contract with a staffing service, other than a temporary staffing service, may make the payments authorized by this subsection at any time during the rate year and the agency will determine if that payment is adequate to allow the staffing service to comply with subsection 3 of section 2 of this Act; however, the employer's tax rate will remain in effect for the remainder of the tax year. The agency will deposit any payment received pursuant to this subsection immediately and will credit it to the employer's separate account, but the agency will apply the payment to the calculation of the employer's tax rate for the following rate year. In order to take advantage of this subdivision and subsection 3 of section 2 of this Act, an employer may not be delinquent in its unemployment insurance tax payments on the date on which the payment authorized by this subdivision is made.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 52-04-08 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

52-04-08. Succession to predecessor's experience record - Impact of substantial common ownership, management, or control.

1. An employing unit that in any manner acquires all or part of the organization, business, trade, workforce, or assets of another employer and continues essentially the same business activity of the whole or part transferred, ~~must~~ may upon request be transferred in accordance with such regulations as the bureau may prescribe law and any relevant rules adopted by the agency, the whole or appropriate part of the experience record, reserve balance, and benefit experience of the preceding predecessor employer, unless the agency finds that the employing unit acquired the business solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a lower unemployment insurance tax rate. ~~Provided that if~~ If the predecessor files a written protest against such transfer within fifteen days of being notified of the successor's application, the transfer will not be made.
2. When an employing unit in any manner acquires all or part of the organization, business, trade, workforce, or assets of another employer,

~~the bureau the agency shall transfer all or the appropriate part of the experience record, reserve balance, whether positive or negative, and benefit experience of such predecessor to the successor if it finds that (a) the predecessor was owned or controlled by or owned or controlled the successor directly or indirectly, by legally enforceable means or otherwise or (b) both the predecessor and successor were owned or controlled either directly or indirectly, by legally enforceable means or otherwise, by the same interests there was, at the time of acquisition, substantially common ownership, management, or control of the predecessor and the successor.~~

3. When a part of an employer's experience record reserve account and benefit experience is ~~to be~~ transferred under this section, the portion of the experience record and reserve account transferred must be in the same ratio to the total experience record and reserve account as the average annual payroll of the transferred organization, trade, business, workforce, or assets is to the total average annual payroll of the predecessor.
4. An employing unit's experience record may not be transferred in an amount that results in the successor and predecessor portions totaling more than one hundred percent of the predecessor's history.

SECTION 5. Section 52-04-08.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

52-04-08.1. Implementation of federal anti-SUTA dumping legislation.

The agency shall implement section 52-04-08.2 to ensure necessary compliance with section 303(k) of the Social Security Act [Pub. L. 108-195; 42 U.S.C. 503]. The agency shall adopt rules and procedures necessary to ensure compliance with that section. The agency may issue necessary subpoenas, in accordance with sections 52-06-23 and 52-06-25, to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter.

SECTION 6. Section 52-04-08.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

52-04-08.2. Transfers of unemployment insurance experience - Recalculation of rates - Definitions - Civil and criminal penalties.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the following applies regarding assignment of penalty tax rates and transfers and acquisitions of businesses:

1. a. If an employer transfers all or a part of its trade or business to another employer and at the time of the transfer there is substantially common ownership, management, or control of the two employers, the unemployment experience attributable to the transferred trade or business is transferred to the employer to which the business is transferred. The rates of both employers must be recalculated and made effective on the first day of the quarter in which the transfer took effect. The transfer of any of the employer's workforce to another employer is considered a transfer of trade or business under this subsection if, as a result of the transfer, the transferring employer no longer performs the trade or business in which the transferred workforce was engaged, and the trade or business is performed by the employer to which the workforce was transferred.

- b. If, following a transfer of experience under subdivision a, the agency determines that a substantial purpose of the transfer of trade or business was to obtain a reduced unemployment insurance tax rate, the experience ratings of the employers involved must be combined into a single account and a single unemployment insurance tax rate must be assigned to that account.
- 2. If a person, who at the time of acquisition is not an employer under this title, acquires the trade or business of an employer, the unemployment experience of the acquired business may not be transferred to that person if the agency finds that the person acquired the business solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a lower unemployment insurance tax rate. Instead, the person must be assigned the applicable new employer rate calculated under section 52-04-05. In determining whether the business was acquired solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a lower unemployment insurance tax rate, the agency shall use objective factors that may include the cost of acquiring the business, whether the person continued the business enterprise of the acquired business, how long the business enterprise was continued, and whether a substantial number of new employees were hired for performance of duties unrelated to the business activity conducted before acquisition.
- 3. If a person knowingly acts or attempts to transfer or acquire a trade or business solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a lower unemployment insurance tax rate or knowingly violates any other provision of this chapter related to determining the assignment of an unemployment insurance tax rate, or if a person knowingly advises another person in a way that results in a violation of those provisions, the person is subject to the civil penalties provided in this subsection.
 - a. If the person is an employer, the employer must be assigned, in lieu of that employer's experience rate, the highest rate assignable under this chapter for the rate year during which the violation or attempted violation occurred and the three rate years immediately following that rate year. However, if the employer's experience rate is already at the highest rate for any year of that four-year period or if the amount of increase in the person's experience rate imposed under this subdivision would be less than two percent for any year of the four-year period, the penalty unemployment insurance tax rate for the year must be determined by adding a rate increment of two percent of taxable wages to the calculated experience rate.
 - b. If the person is not an employer, the person is subject to a civil penalty of not more than twenty-five thousand dollars. Any civil penalty collected must be deposited in the penalty and interest account established under section 52-04-22.
- 4. In addition to the civil penalty imposed under subsection 3, any person that knowingly violates this section or knowingly attempts to violate this section is guilty of a class C felony.

SECTION 7. LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL STUDY - PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYER ORGANIZATIONS. The legislative council shall consider studying, during the 2005-06 interim, the feasibility and desirability of requiring professional employer organizations operating in North Dakota to register with the state. The study must include consideration of how other states address the issue of registration of professional employer organizations. The legislative council shall report its findings and recommendations, together with any legislation required to implement the recommendations, to the sixtieth legislative assembly.

(Commerce Committee)

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION TAX RATES

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 52-04-05 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the determination of unemployment insurance tax rates.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 52-04-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

52-04-05. Determination of rates.

1. As used in this section:

- a. "Income needed to pay benefits" means the estimate of benefits payable in a given calendar year less the estimate of interest to be earned by the unemployment insurance trust fund for that calendar year.
- b. "Solvency balance" means the income needed, whether a positive or negative figure, in a given rate year to reach the solvency target over the number of years remaining of the period within which the solvency target is to be reached plus the estimate of the amount of income needed to pay benefits.
- c. "Trust fund reserve" excludes all Reed Act [42 U.S.C. 1103] cash.

2. For each calendar year, the bureau separately shall estimate the amount of income needed to pay benefits and ~~maintain a~~ shall estimate the amount of income needed to reach a solvency balance in the unemployment compensation insurance trust fund, that as of October 1, 1989, is equal to twenty-five percent of the average annual amount of benefits paid. On each October first after October 1, 1989, the amount of the trust fund reserve must be sixty percent of the average annual amount of benefits paid. The average annual amount of benefits paid must be computed by dividing the total amount of benefits paid and projected to be paid during the previous thirty-six months by three. On January 1, 2000, the required amount of the trust fund reserve becomes a targeted moves toward the solvency target amount as determined under this subsection. The solvency target is an average high-cost multiple of one. The average high-cost multiple is the number of years the bureau could pay unemployment compensation, based on the reserve ratio, if the bureau paid the compensation at a rate equivalent to the average benefit cost rate in the one calendar year during the preceding twenty calendar years and the two calendar years during the preceding ten calendar years in which the benefit cost rates were the highest. "Reserve ratio" means the ratio determined by dividing the balance in the trust fund reserve at the end of the calendar year by the total covered wages in the state for that year. "Benefit cost rate" means the rate determined by dividing the unemployment compensation benefits paid during a calendar year by the total covered wages in the state for that year. The computation of the reserve ratio and benefit cost rate must exclude the wages and unemployment compensation paid by employers covered under section 3309 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended [26 U.S.C. 3309].

3. The initial trust fund reserve solvency target ~~will~~ must be achieved over a seven-year period from January 1, 2000. After the solvency target required by this section is reached, the calculation of the solvency target must be continued and, if the trust fund reserve as of December thirty-first of any year is less or greater than the solvency target, the rates must be adjusted so that one-fifth of the difference between the solvency target and the current trust fund reserve is estimated to be collected in the following rate year.

4. Progress toward achieving the targeted amount of the trust fund reserve solvency target is measured by reducing any difference between one and the average high-cost multiple of the state by an amount that is at least equal to the ratio of the number of years left to reach the targeted amount of the trust fund reserve solvency target to the difference between the trust fund reserve and the targeted amount. If the calendar year annual average insured unemployment rate is above three percent and has increased one hundred ten percent of the average of the preceding two calendar years, a tax rate will be set to provide for fifty percent of the additional revenue needed for the trust fund to be derived from tax rate increases and the remaining fifty percent becomes a drawdown against the trust fund reserve. In setting tax rates, the amount of the trust fund reserve may not be allowed to fall below three hundred percent from a standard margin of error for the targeted amount of the trust fund reserve. The executive director may make reasonable adjustments to the tax rates set for a calendar year to prevent significant rate variations between calendar years. ~~When the trust fund reserve is being rebuilt, rates will not be lowered until the target level is reached. If while achieving the trust fund reserve target the trigger of above three percent insured unemployment rate and an increase of more than one hundred ten percent of the average of the two preceding years has been in effect for two or more consecutive years, the period of time to achieve the trust fund reserve target is extended to seven years from the end date of the last year in which the trigger was in effect. If this trigger has been in effect for one year, the amount of tax increase toward achieving the targeted amount of the trust fund reserve must be determined using the number of years remaining of the seven-year period, excluding the year the trigger is in effect.~~

2- 5. Rates must be determined as follows:

- a. The income ~~required~~ needed to pay benefits for the calendar year must be divided by the estimated taxable wages for the calendar year. The result rounded to the next higher one one-hundredth of one percent is the average required rate needed to pay benefits.
- b. If the positive employer maximum rate is at least one percent, the positive employer minimum rate is the positive employer maximum rate minus nine-tenths of one percent. If the positive employer maximum rate is less than one percent, the range for the positive employer minimum rate must be at least one-tenth of one percent and must be less than two-tenths of one percent (the minimum of one-tenth of one percent plus the increment of one-tenth of one percent), with the positive employer minimum rate equal to the positive employer maximum rate minus a multiple of the increment one-tenth of one percent as provided in subsection 2 of section 52-04-06 to fall within the range described above. Within the table of rate schedules for each calendar year, a rate schedule may not be used if it would generate less income than any rate schedule preceding it on the table of rate schedules. The negative employer minimum rate is the positive employer maximum rate plus five and one-tenth percent necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits is at least one percent, the positive employer minimum rate necessary to generate the amount of income necessary to pay benefits is the foregoing positive employer maximum rate, minus nine-tenths of one percent. If the positive employer maximum rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits is less than one percent, the range for the positive employer minimum rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits must be at least one-tenth of one percent and must be less than two-tenths of one percent, with the positive employer maximum rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits equal to the positive employer maximum rate, as used in this subsection, minus a multiple of the increment one-tenth of one percent as provided in subsection 2 of section 52-04-06 to fall within the range described above. Within the table of rate schedules to be utilized for each calendar year to establish the tax rates necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits, a rate schedule may not be used if it would generate less income than any rate schedule preceding it on the table of rate schedules. The negative employer minimum rate needed to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits is the positive employer maximum rate as described in this subsection plus five and one-tenth percent.

- c. The positive employer maximum rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits must be set so that all the rates combined generate the average required rate for income needed to pay benefits, multiplied by the ratio, calculated under subdivision d, needed to reach the solvency balance. The negative employer maximum rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits is the negative employer minimum rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to pay benefits plus three and six-tenths percent. However, the maximum rate must be at least five and four-tenths percent.
- d. The tax rate necessary to generate the amount of income needed to reach a solvency balance must be calculated by dividing the solvency balance by the amount of income estimated as needed to pay benefits and multiplying the resulting ratio times each rate, within the positive and negative rate arrays, as determined under this section to meet the average required rate needed to pay benefits as defined by subdivision a. The ratio calculated under this subdivision must also be multiplied by any rate calculated as required by subsection 6 to arrive at a final rate for a new business. All results calculated under this subdivision must be rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of one percent.

- ~~3.~~ 6. a. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, an employer's rate may not be less than the negative employer minimum rate for a calendar year unless the employer's account has been chargeable with benefits throughout the thirty-six-consecutive-calendar-month period ending on September thirtieth of the preceding calendar year. If an employer in construction services has not been subject to the law as required, that employer qualifies for a reduced rate if the account has been chargeable with benefits throughout the twenty-four-consecutive-calendar-month period ending September thirtieth of the preceding calendar year. If an employer in nonconstruction services has not been subject to the law as required, the employer in nonconstruction services qualifies for a reduced rate if the account has been chargeable with benefits throughout the twelve-consecutive-calendar-month period ending September thirtieth of the preceding calendar year. ~~During the building of the trust fund reserve, the rate assigned to an employer may not exceed one hundred thirty percent of the previous year's rate for that employer and an employer may not receive more than a ten percent decrease in that employer's rate from the previous year's rate, for the calendar years 2000, 2001, and 2002. However, this rate limitation provision for calendar years 2000, 2001, and 2002 does not apply to an experience-rated employer that was a new employer the previous year, a negative employer that was a positive employer the previous year, a positive employer that was a negative employer the previous year, an employer that has failed to file a report, a new employer, and an employer that chose to make payments in lieu of contributions. The executive director may provide any negative employer whose contributions paid into the trust fund are greater than the benefit charges against that employer's account, for a minimum of three consecutive years immediately preceding the computation date or subject to the law as required, with up to a thirty percent reduction to that employer's rate for any year if that employer has in place a plan approved by the bureau which addresses substantive changes to that employer's business operation and ensures that any rate reduction provided will not put the employer account back into a negative status.~~
- b. An employer that does not qualify under subdivision a is subject to a rate determined as follows:
- (1) For each calendar year new employers must be assigned a rate that is one hundred fifty percent of the positive employer maximum rate or a rate of one percent, whichever is greater, unless the employer is classified in construction services. However, an employer must be assigned within the negative employer rate ranges for any year if, as of the computation date, the cumulative benefits charged to that employer's account equal or exceed the cumulative contributions paid on or before October thirty-first with respect to wages paid by that employer before October first of that year.

- (2) New employers in construction services must be assigned the negative employer maximum rate.
 - (3) Assignment by the bureau of an employer's industrial classification for the purposes of this section must be the three-digit major group provided in the North American industrial classification system manual, in accordance with established classification practices found in the North American industrial classification system manual, issued by the executive office of the president, office of management and budget. Employers who are liable for coverage before August 1, 2001, remain under an industrial classification under the two-digit major group provided in the standard industrial classification manual unless they are classified in the construction industry within the standard industrial classification code.
4. 7. An employer who has ceased to be liable for contributions shall continue its established experience rating account if it again becomes liable within three years from the date that it ceased to be liable providing that the employer's experience record has not been transferred in accordance with section 52-04-08. ~~Such~~ The employer's rate, however, must be determined in accordance with subsection ~~3~~ 6.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS AND STUDENT DISQUALIFICATION

AN ACT to amend and reenact subsection 2 of section 52-04-07 and subsections 1 and 6 of section 52-06-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to charging of certain benefit payments to reimbursing employers' accounts, charging of benefits to base-period employers, and to the definition of a full-time student who would be disqualified from receiving benefits under the unemployment compensation insurance system.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsection 2 of section 52-04-07 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

2. Notwithstanding subsection 1, an employer's account may not be charged for any of the following:
 - a. With benefits paid to an individual for unemployment that is directly caused by a major natural disaster declared by the president pursuant to section 102(2) of the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 [Pub. L. 93-288; 88 Stat. 143; 42 U.S.C. 5122(2)], if the individual would have been eligible for disaster unemployment assistance with respect to that unemployment but for the individual's receipt of unemployment insurance benefits.
 - b. With benefits paid to an individual who; ~~during the base period;~~ either:
 - (1) Left the employment of a the base-period employer voluntarily without good cause or with good cause not involving fault on the part of the base-period employer; or
 - (2) Who was discharged from employment by the base-period employer for misconduct.
 - c. As provided under section 52-06-29.
 - d. With benefits paid to an individual who is in training with the approval of ~~the bureau~~ job service North Dakota.
 - e. With benefits paid to an individual who is subsequently determined not entitled to receive the benefits.
 - f. With benefits paid to an individual who is currently employed part time with that employer when the hiring agreement between the individual and the employer has not changed since the individual commenced work for that employer. This subdivision does not apply to an employee of a temporary help firm.

²²⁶ SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subsections 1 and 6 of section 52-06-02 of the North Dakota Century Code are amended and reenacted as follows:

1. For the week in which the individual has left the individual's most recent employment voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer, and thereafter until such time as the individual:
 - a. Can demonstrate that the individual has earned remuneration for personal services in employment equivalent to at least eight times the individual's weekly benefit amount as determined under section 52-06-04; and
 - b. Has not left the individual's most recent employment under disqualifying circumstances.

A temporary employee of a temporary help firm is deemed to have left employment voluntarily if the employee does not contact the temporary help firm for reassignment before filing for benefits. Failure to contact the temporary help firm is not deemed a voluntary leaving of employment unless the claimant was advised of the obligation to contact the temporary help firm upon completion of an assignment and advised that unemployment benefits may be denied for failure to contact the temporary help firm. As used in this subsection, "temporary employee" means an employee assigned to work for a client of a temporary help firm; and "temporary help firm" means a firm that hires that firm's own employees and assigns these employees to a client to support or supplement the client's workforce in a work situation such as employee absence, temporary skill shortage, seasonal workload, a special assignment, and a special project.

This subsection does not apply if ~~the bureau~~ job service North Dakota determines that the individual in an active claim filing status accepted work which the individual could have refused with good cause under section 52-06-36 and terminated such employment with the same good cause and within the first ten weeks after starting work.

This subsection does not apply if the individual left employment or remains away from employment following illness or injury upon a physician's written notice or order; no benefits may be paid under this exception unless the employee has notified the employer of the physician's requirement and has offered service for suitable work to the employer upon the individual's capability of returning to employment. This exception does not apply unless the individual's capability of returning to employment and offer of service for suitable work to the employer occurs within sixty days of the last day of work. However, the cost of any benefits paid under this exception may not be charged against the account of the employer, other than a reimbursing employer, from whom the individual became separated as a result of the illness or injury. ~~The bureau~~ Job service North Dakota may request and designate a licensed physician to provide a second opinion regarding the claimant's qualification; however, no individual may be charged fees of any kind for the cost of such second opinion.

This subsection does not apply if the individual left the most recent employment because of an injury or illness caused or aggravated by the employment; no benefits may be paid under this exception unless the individual leaves employment upon a physician's written notice or order, the individual has notified the employer of the physician's requirement, and there is no reasonable alternative but to leave employment.

For the purpose of this subsection, an individual who left the most recent employment in anticipation of discharge or layoff must be deemed to have left employment voluntarily and without good cause attributable to the employer.

For the purpose of this subsection, "most recent employment" means employment with any employer for whom the claimant last worked and voluntarily quit without good cause attributable to the employer or with any employer, in insured work, for whom the claimant last worked and earned wages equal to or exceeding eight times the individual's weekly benefit amount.

This subsection does not apply if the individual leaves work which is two hundred road miles [321.87 kilometers] or more, as measured on a one-way basis, from the individual's home to accept work which is less than two hundred road miles [321.87 kilometers] from the individual's home provided the work is a bona fide job offer with a reasonable expectation of continued employment.

This subsection does not apply if the individual voluntarily leaves most recent employment to accept a bona fide job offer with a base period employer who laid off the individual and with whom the individual has a demonstrated job attachment. For the purposes of this exception, "demonstrated job attachment" requires earnings in each of six months during the five calendar quarters before the calendar quarter in which the individual files the claim for benefits.

6. For any week of unemployment if such individual is a student registered for ~~full attendance~~ a full-time curriculum at, and is regularly attending, an established school, college, or university, ~~except as provided in subdivision a of~~ and the scheduled class hours are the same time period or periods as the normal work hours of the occupation from which that individual earned the majority of the wages in that individual's base period, unless that individual is authorized to receive benefits while in training pursuant to subsection 3 of section 52-06-01. However, this disqualification does not apply to ~~full-time postsecondary~~ students registered for a full-time curriculum who have earned the majority of ~~their wage credits~~ the wages in their base period periods for services performed during weeks in which the individual was so registered and attending school as a full-time postsecondary student. As used in this subsection, the term "full-time curriculum" means a course load of twelve or more credit hours or a course load found to be equivalent by rule adopted by job service North Dakota.

UNEMPLOYMENT TAX RATE APPEALS, HEARINGS, AND STATUS

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 52-04-10, subsection 3 of section 52-04-11.1, and section 52-04-17 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to appeals from employer tax rate notices, administrative hearings concerning corporate officer personal liability, and questions of employer status for unemployment compensation insurance purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 52-04-10 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

52-04-10. Contributions for ensuing year - Notification - Review. The bureau shall promptly make a determination and notify each employer of the employer's rate of contributions as determined for each ensuing year by the end of the first full week of December, but not later than December tenth, of the preceding year. ~~Such~~ The rate of contributions must be computed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. ~~Such~~ The determination becomes conclusive and binding upon the employer unless, within fifteen calendar days after the mailing of the notice thereof to the employer's last-known address, or in the absence of the mailing, within fifteen calendar days after the delivery of such notice, the employer files an application for review and redetermination, setting forth the employer's reasons therefor. If the bureau grants such review, the employer must be notified promptly thereof and must be granted an opportunity for a hearing, but a written appeal of the determination. However, no employer shall have standing, in any proceeding involving the employer's rate of contributions or contribution liability, to contest the chargeability to the employer's account of any benefits paid in accordance with a determination, redetermination, or decision pursuant to the provisions of chapter 52-06, except upon the ground that the services on the basis of which such benefits were found to be chargeable did not constitute the services performed in employment for the employer and only in the event that the employer was not a party to such determination, redetermination, or decision or to any other administrative proceeding under this chapter in which the character of these services was determined. For purposes of this section, an employer was not a party to the determination any such proceeding if notice of the determination, redetermination, or decision and the employer's right to appeal the determination, redetermination, or decision was not mailed or personally delivered to the employer. The claimant agency and director shall share necessary information, including the person's full name, social security number, and amount and type of debt, through a mutually convenient method to timely achieve a setoff of a prize.
2. The director shall establish a debt setoff process in which a lottery prize claim of an amount equal to or greater than six hundred dollars must be used to setoff a delinquent debt owed to or collected through a claimant agency.

3. If the director determines that a winning player owes a delinquent debt to or has a delinquent debt collected through a claimant agency, the director shall set off the amount of the debt from the prize due and notify the player, in writing, of the setoff. If the setoff accounts for only a portion of the prize due, the remainder of the prize must be paid to the player. The director shall transfer the setoff amount to the claimant agency unless the player notifies the director, in writing, within thirty days of the date of the notice of the setoff, that the player disputes all or part of the debt owed to or collected through the claimant agency. If the director receives a notification that the player disputes the setoff amount or claim upon which the setoff is based, the director shall grant a hearing to the player to determine whether the setoff is proper or the claim is valid, unless a review by a court is authorized under section 50-09-14. At a hearing, no issue may be reconsidered that the player has or could have previously litigated in a court or administrative proceeding.
4. The lottery is discharged of all further liability for the amount of any debt setoff paid to a claimant agency.
5. If two or more claimant agencies have delinquent accounts for the same player, the director shall apportion the prize equally among them. However, a setoff to the department of human services for child support payments has priority over all other setoffs.
6. If the prize is insufficient to satisfy the entire debt, the remainder of the debt may be collected by a claimant agency as provided by law or rule and resubmitted for setoff against any other prize awarded.
7. If two or more claimant agencies make adverse claims to all or a part of a prize payment, upon receipt of written notice from the claimant agencies setting forth their claims, the director may deposit, in accordance with section 32-11-02, the contested amount of the prize payment with the clerk of court in the district in which an action pertaining to the contested amount is pending or with a court-authorized depository. If one of the claims is for child support, the director shall transfer the setoff amount to the state disbursement unit before depositing any remaining prize payment or award. Any review of this transfer to the state disbursement unit must be done pursuant to section 50-09-14. Upon making the deposit or transfer, the state and its officials and employees are discharged and relieved from further liability to any person or claimant agency related to the prize payment.

Any moneys in the highway tax distribution fund must be allocated and transferred monthly by the state treasurer, as follows:

1. Sixty-three percent of such moneys must be transferred monthly to the state department of transportation and placed in a state highway fund.
2. Thirty-seven percent of such moneys must be allocated to the counties of this state in proportion to the number of motor vehicle registrations credited to each county. The state treasurer shall compute and distribute the counties' share monthly after deducting the incorporated cities' share. All the moneys received by the counties from the highway tax distribution fund must be set aside in a separate fund called the "highway tax distribution fund" and must be appropriated and applied solely for highway purposes in accordance with section 11 of article X of the Constitution of North Dakota. Provided, however, that in each county having a city with a population of ten thousand or more, the amount transferred each month into the county highway tax distribution fund must be the difference between the amount allocated to that county pursuant to this subsection and the total amount allocated and distributed to the incorporated cities in that county as computed according to the following formula:

- b. The share distributed to each city in the county having a population of less than one thousand must be determined by multiplying the population of that city by the product of 1.50 times the statewide per capita average computed under subdivision a.
- c. The share distributed to each city in the county having a population of one thousand to four thousand nine hundred ninety-nine, inclusive, must be determined by multiplying the population of that city by the product of 1.25 times the statewide per capita average computed under subdivision a.
- d. The share distributed to each city in the county having a population of five thousand or more must be determined by multiplying the population of that city by the statewide per capita average for all such cities, which per capita average must be computed as follows: the total of the shares computed under subdivisions b and c for all cities in the state having a population of less than five thousand must be subtracted from the total incorporated cities' share in the state as computed under subdivision a and the balance remaining must then be divided by the total population of all cities of five thousand or more in the state.

The moneys allocated to the incorporated cities must be distributed to them monthly by the state treasurer and must be deposited by the cities in a separate fund and may only be used in accordance with section 11 of article X of the Constitution of North Dakota; provided, that any incorporated city may use such fund for the construction, reconstruction, repair, and maintenance of public highways within or outside such city pursuant to an agreement entered into between the city and any other political subdivision as authorized by section 54-40-08.

If the contributor has less than ten years of service at termination of employment, the refund is payable either on application of the contributor or, if within thirty days after termination the contributor has not provided a written statement to the board waiving the refund and requesting the contributor's account remain in the fund, automatically.
- b. If the contributor has at least ten years of service at the date of termination, the contributor may apply for a refund of accumulated deductions instead of retirement benefits. By receiving the refund of accumulated deductions under this subdivision, the contributor forfeits all months of service to the date of refund and cannot use those months for any future benefit calculations.

2. A contributor who was paid a refund under subdivision a of subsection 1 may, upon reemployment, elect to repurchase the forfeited past service for the retirement program and the retiree health benefits program in accordance with the rules adopted by the board.
3. A member may elect to purchase qualified military service credit pursuant to the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 [Pub. L. 103-353; 108 Stat. 3150; 38 U.S.C. 4301-4307] at any time prior to retirement by submitting a valid application and paying the member portion pursuant to rules adopted by the board. The required contribution for the credit, including payment for retiree health benefits, must be made in the same manner and by the same party as would have been made had the employee been continuously employed. If the salary the member would have received during the period of service is not reasonably certain, the member's average rate of compensation during the twelve-month period immediately preceding the member's period of service or, if shorter, the period of employment immediately preceding that period, times the number of months of credit being purchased must be used. Employees must be allowed up to three times the period of military service or five years, whichever is less, to make any required payments. This provision applies to all qualifying periods of military service since October 1, 1994. Any payments made by the member to receive qualifying credit inconsistent with this provision must be refunded. If contributions are paid by the employer, they must be treated as employer contributions in determining tax treatment under this code and the federal Internal Revenue Code. If contributions are paid by the employer, they may not be included as gross income of the employee in determining tax treatment under this code and the Internal Revenue Code until they are distributed or made available. The employer shall pay these employee contributions from the same source of funds used in paying compensation to the employee or from the levy authorized by subsection 5 of section 57-15-28.1. The employer shall pay these contributions by effecting an equal cash reduction in the gross salary of the employee or by an offset against future salary increases or by a contribution of a reduction in gross salary and offset against future salary increases. If employee contributions are paid by the employer, they must be treated for the purposes of this chapter in the same manner and to the same extent as employee contributions made prior to the date on which employee contributions were assumed by the employer. If contributions are paid within ninety days of the date they became due, penalty and interest to be paid on delinquent contributions may be waived. An employer is required to submit contributions for any past eligible employee who was employed after July 1, 1977, for which contributions were not made if the employee would have been eligible to become vested had the employee participated and if the employee elects to join the public employees retirement system. The board shall report to each session of the legislative assembly the contributions necessary, as determined by the actuarial study, to maintain the fund's actuarial soundness.

²⁴⁴ SECTION 10. AMENDMENT. Subsections 9 and 10 of section 54-52-17 of the North Dakota Century Code are amended and reenacted as follows:

If the member is not repurchasing all of the credit originally refunded, the member must pay a pro rata amount of the refunded amount determined by dividing the refunded amount by the number of months of credit refunded, multiplying that amount times the number of months of credit the member seeks to repurchase, and adding interest at the actuarial rate of return. The member or the member's employer shall also pay to the retiree health benefits fund established under section 54-52.1-03.2 an amount equal to the actuarial cost to that fund for the additional credit. ~~being purchased. For credit before July 1, 1966, no contribution is required.~~

6. 5. Pursuant to rules adopted by the board, the board may allow a member to purchase service credit with either pretax or aftertax moneys, at the board's discretion. If the member elects to purchase service credit using pretax moneys, the requirements and restrictions in subsection 3 of section 54-52-05 apply to the purchase arrangement.
7. 6. In addition to service credit identified in this section, a vested member may purchase up to five years of service credit unrelated to any other eligible service.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

²⁵⁰ SECTION 1. A new subdivision to subsection 7 of section 6-08.1-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Recipient reports and grantor reports as required under sections 2 through 10 of this Act.

SECTION 2. Definitions. As used in sections 2 through 10 of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Benefit date" means the date on which the recipient receives the business incentive. If the business incentive involves the purchase, lease, or donation of physical equipment, the benefit date is the date when the recipient puts the equipment into service. If the business incentive is for improvements to property, the benefit date is the earlier of either when the improvements are finished for the entire project or when a business occupies the property. If a business occupies the property and the business incentive grantor expects that other businesses will also occupy the same property, the grantor may assign a separate benefit date for each subsequent business when that subsequent business first occupies the property.
2. "Business incentive" means a state or political subdivision direct cash transfer, loan, or equity investment; contribution of property or infrastructure; reduction or deferral of any tax or any fee; guarantee of any payment under any loan, lease, or other obligation; or preferential use of government facilities given to a business. To be considered a business incentive, the total assistance in all forms must be valued at twenty-five thousand dollars or more. Unless specifically provided otherwise, the term does not include:

- 5. "Grantor" means the state or any political subdivision that directly or indirectly grants a business incentive to a recipient.
- 6. "Political subdivision" means a unit of local government in this state which has direct or indirect authority to grant a business incentive. The term includes any authority, agency, special district, or entity created by, authorized by, under the jurisdiction of, or contracting with a political subdivision.
- 7. "Public purpose" includes assisting community development, increasing the tax base, directly creating employment opportunities, or indirectly creating employment opportunities through increased economic activity. Job retention is only a public purpose in cases in which job loss is specific and demonstrable.
- 8. "Recipient" means any individual or business entity that receives a business incentive.
- 9. "State" means any North Dakota state government agency that has the authority to directly or indirectly award business incentives.

SECTION 3. Scope - Public purpose - Notice.

- 1. The application of sections 2 through 10 of this Act is limited to business incentives provided by grantors to recipients, unless otherwise provided.
- 2. A grantor may not grant a business incentive to a recipient unless that business incentive meets a public purpose.
- 3. A state business incentive in the form of a direct cash transfer must be structured as a loan, a forgivable loan, or as a preferred share that includes provisions for surrender.
- 4. A political subdivision business incentive in the form of a cash transfer of money may be structured as a loan, a forgivable loan, or as a preferred share that includes provisions for surrender.

SECTION 4. Business incentive agreement.

1. A recipient must enter a business incentive agreement with each grantor of a business incentive. The grantor and the recipient shall sign the agreement.
2. If a business incentive benefits more than one recipient, the grantor shall assign a proportion of the business incentive to each recipient that signs a business incentive agreement. The proportion assessed to each recipient must reflect a reasonable estimate of the recipient's share of the total benefits of the project.
3. A business incentive agreement must include:
 - a. A description of the business incentive, including the value of the business incentive, which may be the amount of the incentive, the fair market value of the property conveyed to the recipient, or the fair market value of other in-kind benefits provided to the recipient; the type of incentive; and the type of district if the incentive is tax increment financing.
 - b. A statement of the public purposes of the business incentive.
 - c. Goals for the business incentive. The goals must include the number of jobs to be created and the average compensation of the new jobs created. The information on average compensation must include identification of the average benefits and the average earnings to be provided by the employer on all jobs to be created or retained in association with the incentive. The job and average compensation goals may include separate goals for the number of part-time or full-time jobs to be created or, in cases in which potential job loss is specific and demonstrable, goals for the number of jobs to be retained. In addition to other specific goal timeframes, the job and average compensation goals must contain specific goals to be attained within two years of the benefit date.
 - d. A description of the financial obligation of the recipient if the goals are not met. This financial obligation must include an exception for any unmet goal that results from an act of God or terrorism.
 - e. A commitment by the recipient to continue operations in the jurisdiction in which the business incentive is used for five years or more after the benefit date.
 - f. The name and address of the parent company of the recipient, if any.
 - g. A list of all financial assistance by all grantors for the project.
 - h. The recipient's obligation if the recipient does not fulfill the business incentive agreement.

SECTION 5. Failure to meet goals - Modification of goals.

1. At a minimum, the financial obligation provision of a business incentive agreement must require a recipient that fails to meet business incentive agreement goals to pay back to the grantor the assistance, prorated to reflect any partial fulfillment of goals. A grantor may extend for up to one year the period for meeting the business incentive agreement goals if the grantor determines that circumstances have made it impossible for the recipient to achieve the required goals. A grantor may extend the period for meeting business incentive agreement goals by another additional year by documenting in writing the reason for the extension and attaching a copy of the documentation to the grantor's next annual report. Notwithstanding the five-year commitment in the business incentive agreement, a grantor may authorize a recipient to move from the jurisdiction in which the business incentive is used within the five-year period after the benefit date if, after a public hearing, the grantor approves the recipient's request to move. If after extending the period for achieving the goals of the business incentive agreement for two years a grantor determines that a business incentive agreement goal of creation or retention of jobs has changed and justifies a decrease, after a public hearing, the grantor may decrease the job goals in the agreement to a lesser number or to zero and may adjust the average compensation goals to reflect changed circumstances. Justification for decreasing job goals may include that other public benefits adequately offset the failure to meet the initial job goals.

2. A recipient that fails to meet the terms of a business incentive agreement may not receive a business incentive from any grantor for a period of five years from the date of failure or until a recipient satisfies the repayment obligation under this section, whichever occurs first. For purposes of this subsection, if the recipient is an individual, the disqualification attaches to the individual and if the recipient is a business entity, the disqualification attaches to the business and to each owner or shareholder of twenty percent or more of the business.

SECTION 6. State grantor recipient reports.

1. The department shall create state grantor recipient report forms that include:
 - a. The name and address of the recipient;
 - b. The type, public purpose, and value of the business incentive;
 - c. The number of new jobs to be created or retained in association with the business incentive;
 - d. The average compensation of all jobs to be created or retained in association with the business incentive, including identification of the average benefits and the average earnings provided by the employer on all jobs created or retained in association with the business incentive;
 - e. The date the job and average compensation goals are expected to be reached;
 - f. A statement of goals identified in the business incentive agreement and an update on achievement of these goals, including the actual number of jobs created or retained and the average compensation of jobs created or retained at that point, including identification of the average benefits actually provided and the average earnings actually provided by the employer on all jobs created or retained;

- g. The location of the recipient prior to receiving the business incentive;
 - h. The name and address of the parent corporation of the recipient, if any;
 - i. A list of business incentives by all grantors for the project; and
 - j. Other information the department and grantor may request.
2. Each state grantor shall use recipient report forms created by the department to monitor the progress by each state grantor recipient in achieving business incentive agreement goals. At a minimum, each of these recipients shall provide the state grantor with an annual recipient report for two years following the benefit date or until the goals are met, whichever is later. If the business incentive agreement goals are not met, the state grantor recipient shall continue to provide recipient reports to the state grantor until the incentive is repaid. A state grantor shall file with the department a copy of each completed recipient report.
3. Before March 1, 2007, and each March first thereafter, a state grantor recipient shall file with the state grantor the recipient report for the previous calendar year. If a state grantor recipient fails to file a recipient report before March eighth, the state grantor shall mail the recipient a warning letter. If a noncompliant state grantor recipient fails to file the recipient report within fourteen days of the postmarked date of the warning letter, the recipient shall pay to the state grantor a penalty of one hundred dollars for each subsequent day until the report is filed. The maximum penalty under this section may not exceed one thousand dollars.

SECTION 7. State grantor reports. Before April 1, 2007, and each April first thereafter, each state agency that has granted a business incentive within the last five calendar years shall file an annual state grantor report with the department. The department shall create the state grantor report form required under this section. A state grantor report must include a list of all recipients, each recipient's business incentive agreement goals, and a report on each recipient's progress toward the goals. If the department does not receive a state grantor report before May first, the department shall issue a warning letter to the noncompliant grantor. If the department has not received a state grantor report from the noncompliant grantor before June first, that noncompliant grantor may not award any business incentive until the past-due grantor report is filed with the department.

SECTION 8. Compilation and summary - Report to legislative council.

1. Beginning in 2007 and annually thereafter, the department shall publish a compilation and summary of the results of the state grantor reports for the previous calendar year. Beginning in 2007 and annually thereafter, the department of commerce shall file the reports of the state grantors and the compilation and summary with the legislative council. The department shall organize the compilation and summary so that useful comparisons across time periods and across grantors can be made. The department may add other information to the compilation and summary as deemed necessary to evaluate business incentives.
2. The compilation and summary must include:

- a. The number of jobs targeted to be created or retained by each recipient receiving a business incentive in that year.
- b. The number of jobs achieved in comparison to the jobs targeted for each business year by year.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

²⁵⁵ SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsection 1 of section 57-02-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

1. "Agricultural property" means platted or unplatted lands used for raising agricultural crops or grazing farm animals, except lands platted and assessed as agricultural property prior to March 30, 1981, shall continue to be assessed as agricultural property until put to a use other than raising agricultural crops or grazing farm animals. Agricultural property includes land on which a greenhouse or other building is located if the land is used for a nursery or other purpose associated with the operation of the greenhouse. The time limitations contained in this section may not be construed to prevent property that was assessed as other than agricultural property from being assessed as agricultural property if the property otherwise qualifies under this subsection. Property platted on or after March 30, 1981, is not agricultural property when any four of the following conditions exist:
 - a. The land is platted by the owner.
 - b. Public improvements including sewer, water, or streets are in place.
 - c. Topsoil is removed or topography is disturbed to the extent that the property cannot be used to raise crops or graze farm animals.
 - d. Property is zoned other than agricultural.
 - e. Property has assumed an urban atmosphere because of adjacent residential or commercial development on three or more sides.
 - f. The parcel is less than ten acres [4.05 hectares] and not contiguous to agricultural property.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subdivision a of subsection 15 of section 57-02-08 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

- a. All farm structures and improvements located on agricultural lands.
- (1) This subsection must be construed to exempt farm buildings and improvements only, and may not be construed to exempt from taxation industrial plants, or structures of any kind not used or intended for use as a part of a farm plant, or as a farm residence.
- (2) "Farm buildings and improvements" includes a greenhouse or other building used primarily for the growing of horticultural or nursery products from seed, cuttings, or roots, if not used on more than an occasional basis for a showroom for the retail sale of horticultural or nursery products. A greenhouse or building used primarily for display and sale of grown horticultural or nursery products is not a farm building or improvement.
- (3) Any structure or improvement used primarily in connection with a retail or wholesale business other than farming, any structure or improvement located on platted land within the corporate limits of a city, or any structure or improvement located on railroad operating property subject to assessment under chapter 57-05 is not exempt under this subsection. For purposes of this paragraph, "business other than farming" includes processing to produce a value-added physical or chemical change in an agricultural commodity beyond the ordinary handling of that commodity by a farmer prior to sale.
- ~~(3)~~ (4) The following factors may not be considered in application of the exemption under this subsection:
- (a) Whether the farmer grows or purchases feed for animals raised on the farm.
- (b) Whether animals being raised on the farm are owned by the farmer.

57-38-31.1. Composite returns. Partnerships and subchapter S corporations may file a composite return on behalf of nonresident individual partners or shareholders in the manner prescribed by the tax commissioner. Any amount of tax paid by the partnership or subchapter S corporation on the composite return on behalf of a nonresident partner or shareholder constitutes a credit on the North Dakota return of the nonresident individual on whose behalf the tax was paid by the partnership or subchapter S corporation. Any return filed by a partnership or subchapter S corporation under this section is considered as the return of the nonresident individual partner or shareholder on whose behalf the return is filed. The tax under this section must be computed by multiplying the aggregate of the shares of North Dakota income reportable to North Dakota by the partners or shareholders included in the composite return by five and fifty-four hundredths percent.

1. For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
 - a. "Member" means an individual who is a shareholder of an S corporation; a partner in a general partnership, a limited partnership, or a limited liability partnership; a member of a limited liability company; or a beneficiary of a trust.
 - b. "Nonresident" means an individual who is not a resident of or domiciled in the state or a trust not organized in the state.

- b. A nonresident member whose only source of income within the state is from one or more passthrough entities may elect to be included in a composite return filed under this section.
 - c. A nonresident member that has been included in a composite return may file an individual income tax return and shall receive credit for tax paid on the member's behalf by the passthrough entity.
 - 3. a. A passthrough entity shall withhold income tax, at the highest tax rate provided in section 57-38-30.3 for individuals, on the share of income of the entity distributed to each nonresident member and pay the withheld amount in the manner prescribed by the tax commissioner. The passthrough entity is liable to the state for the payment of the tax required to be withheld under this section and is not liable to any member for the amount withheld and paid over in compliance with this section. A member of a passthrough entity that is itself a passthrough entity (a lower-tier passthrough entity) is subject to this same requirement to withhold and pay over income tax on the share of income distributed by the lower-tier passthrough entity to each of its nonresident members. The tax commissioner shall apply tax withheld and paid over by a passthrough entity on distributions to a lower-tier passthrough entity to the withholding required of that lower-tier passthrough entity.
 - b. At the time of a payment made under this section, a passthrough entity shall deliver to the tax commissioner a return upon a form prescribed by the tax commissioner showing the total amounts paid or credited to its nonresident members, the amount withheld in accordance with this section, and any other information the tax commissioner may require. A passthrough entity shall furnish to its nonresident member annually, but not later than the fifteenth day of the third month after the end of its taxable year, a record of the amount of tax withheld on behalf of such member on a form prescribed by the tax commissioner.

 - (1) The member has a pro rata or distributive share of income of the passthrough entity from doing business in, or deriving income from sources within, this state of less than one thousand dollars per annual accounting period;
 - (2) The tax commissioner has determined by rule, ruling, or instruction that the member's income is not subject to withholding;
 - (3) The member elects to have the tax due paid as part of a composite return filed by the passthrough entity under subsection 2; or
 - (4) The entity is a publicly traded partnership as defined by section 7704(b) of the Internal Revenue Code which is treated as a partnership for the purposes of the Internal

- c. A plant, with all additions thereto, which is designed for coal beneficiation.
- d. A gas-fired electrical generating facility, and all additions to the facility, which generates electrical power through the consumption of gas produced by the conversion of lignite from its natural form into gas and has a capacity of ten thousand kilowatts or more.

²⁹⁰ SECTION 4. A new subsection to section 57-60-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

"Repowering" means an investment of more than two hundred million dollars or one million dollars per megawatt of installed nameplate capacity, whichever is less, in an existing power plant that modifies or replaces the process used for converting lignite coal from its natural form into electric power.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Section 57-60-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-60-02. Imposition of taxes. There is hereby imposed upon the operator of each coal conversion facility a tax paid monthly for the privilege of producing products of such coal conversion facility. The rate of the tax must be computed as follows:

1. For all coal conversion facilities, except as otherwise provided in this section, the tax is measured by the gross receipts derived from such facility for the preceding month and is in the amount of four and one-tenth percent of such gross receipts. For purposes of this ²⁸⁹ Section 57-60-01 was also amended by section 4 of House Bill No. 1268, chapter 577.

²⁹⁰ Section 57-60-01 was also amended by section 3 of House Bill No. 1268, chapter 577.

subsection, "gross receipts" of a coal gasification plant do not include any amount that is received by the operator of the plant for production of synthetic natural gas in excess of one hundred ten million cubic feet per day. Gross receipts derived from the sale of a capital asset are not subject to the tax imposed by this subsection.

2. For electrical generating plants, the tax is at a rate of sixty-five one-hundredths of one mill times sixty percent of the installed capacity of each unit times the number of hours in the taxable period. All electrical generating plants that begin construction or completed repowering after June 30, 1991, are exempt from eighty-five percent of the tax imposed by this subsection for five years from the date of the first taxable production or from the date of the first taxable production after repowering from the plant. The board of county commissioners may, by resolution, grant to the operator of an electrical generating plant located within the county which begins construction after June 30, 1991, partial or complete exemption from the remaining fifteen percent of the tax imposed by this subsection for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the first taxable production or from the date of the first taxable production after repowering from the plant. Notwithstanding section 57-60-14, any tax collected from a plant subject to the exemption provided by this subsection must be allocated entirely to the county for allocation as provided in section 57-60-15. If a unit is incapable of generating electricity for eighteen consecutive months, the tax on that unit for taxable periods beginning after the eighteenth month must be reduced by the ratio that the cost of repair of the unit bears to the original cost of the unit. This reduced rate remains in effect until the unit is capable of generating electricity.
3. For electrical generating plants, in addition to the tax imposed by subsection 2, there is a tax at the rate of twenty-five one-hundredths of one mill on each kilowatt hour of electricity produced for the purpose of sale. For all electrical generating plants that begin construction or completed repowering after June 30, 1991, the production from the plants is exempt from the tax imposed by this subsection for five years from the date of the first taxable production or from the date of the first taxable production after repowering from the plant.
4. For coal gasification plants, the tax is the greater of either the amount provided in subsection 1 or thirteen and one-half cents on each one thousand cubic feet [28316.85 liters] of synthetic natural gas produced for the purpose of sale but not including any amount of synthetic natural gas in excess of one hundred ten million cubic feet per day.
 - a. For all coal conversion facilities, other than electrical generating plants, the production from the facilities is exempt from eighty-five percent of the tax imposed by this section for a period of five years from the date of first taxable production from the facility or for a period of five years from April 20, 1987, whichever is later. The operator of each facility applying for exemption under this subsection shall certify to the tax commissioner the date of first taxable production of the facility.
 - b. The board of county commissioners may, by resolution, grant to the operator of a coal conversion facility, other than an electrical generating plant, located within the county a partial or complete exemption from the remaining fifteen percent of tax imposed by this section for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the first taxable production from the facility. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 57-60-14, any tax collected which is based upon the production of a facility subject to the exemption provided by this subsection must be allocated entirely to the county for allocation as provided in section 57-60-15. If a board of county commissioners grants a partial or complete exemption for a specific coal conversion facility under this subsection, the provisions of subsection 2 of section 57-60-14 do not apply as that subsection relates to revenue from the specific coal conversion facility for which the partial or complete exemption has been granted.

6. For coal beneficiation plants, the tax is twenty cents on each ton of two thousand pounds [907.18 kilograms] of beneficiated coal produced for the purpose of sale, or one and one-quarter percent of the gross receipts derived from such facility for the preceding month, whichever amount is greater. Any amount of beneficiated coal produced in excess of eighty percent of the design capacity of the coal beneficiation plant is exempt from such tax.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act is effective for taxable events occurring after June 30, 2005.

SENIOR CITIZEN PROGRAMS

AN ACT to create and enact section 57-39.2-26.2 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to allocation of sales, use, and motor vehicle excise tax revenues to a state matching program for senior citizen services and programs; to amend and reenact subsection 5 of section 57-15-56 and section 57-39.2-26 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to a state matching program for senior citizen services and programs; to provide a continuing appropriation; to provide a statement of legislative intent; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsection 5 of section 57-15-56 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

5. The department of human services state treasurer shall provide matching funds as provided in this subsection for the amounts levied by counties and cities for senior citizen services and programs operated pursuant to funded as required by this section. The grants must be made on or before March first of each year and must be equal to the amount levied for the previous taxable year by each county or city within the limitations of legislative appropriations, provided that no such to each eligible county. A county receiving a grant under this section which has not levied a tax under this section shall transfer the amount received to a city within the county which has levied a tax under this section. A grant may not be made to any county or city which that has not filed with the department of human services state treasurer a required written report verifying that grant funds received in the previous year under this subsection have been budgeted for the same purposes permitted for the expenditure of proceeds of a tax levied under this section. The written report must be received by the department of human services state treasurer on or before February first of each year following a year in which the reporting county or city received grant funds under this subsection. A matching fund grant must be provided from the senior citizen services and programs fund to each eligible county equal to two-thirds of the amount levied in dollars in the county under this section for the taxable year, but the matching fund grant applies only to a levy of up to one mill under this section.

It is the intent of the legislative assembly that counties or cities allocate an amount equal to one-third of one mill of property tax revenue from their funds raised or received under section 57-15-06, 57-15-08, or 57-39.2-26.1, or any combination of those fund sources, for senior citizen services and programs for each taxable year. A continuing appropriation of state matching funds and expectation of a local matching fund effort is initiated because of the anticipated increase in state aid distribution fund allocations, with the intent of stabilizing matching funds for senior citizen services and programs at a funding level of one mill for all participating counties. A county is not required to provide the one-third of one mill matching funds if the county program can be covered with the funding from the state and the levy under this section in the county. It is also anticipated that this change in funding will allow reduction of mill levies under this section in some counties, which will allow allocation of unused amounts under section 57-39.2-26.2 among counties levying the statutory maximum amount for taxable year 2004.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 57-39.2-26 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-39.2-26. Allocation of revenue. All Except as provided by sections 57-39-26.1 and 57-39.2-26.2, all moneys collected and received under this chapter must be paid into the state treasury and must be credited by the state treasurer to the general fund. Moneys deposited with the commissioner as security for the payment of tax, penalties, or costs due must be deposited and accounted for as provided in subsection 3 of section 57-39.2-12.

SECTION 3. Section 57-39.2-26.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-39.2-26.2. Allocation of revenues to senior citizen services and programs matching fund - Continuing appropriation. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a portion of sales, use, and motor vehicle excise tax collections equal to the amount of revenue that would have been generated by a levy of two-thirds of one mill on the taxable valuation of all property in the state subject to a levy under section 57-15-56 in the previous taxable year must be deposited by the state treasurer in the senior citizen services and programs fund during the period from July first through December thirty-first of each year. The state tax commissioner shall certify to the state treasurer the portion of sales, use, and motor vehicle excise tax revenues which must be deposited in the fund as determined under this section. Revenues deposited in the senior citizen services and programs fund are provided as a standing and continuing appropriation for allocation as provided in subsection 5 of section 57-15-56. Any unexpended and unobligated amount in the senior citizen services and programs fund at the end of the 2005-07 biennium must be allocated among counties that levied the statutory maximum mill levy for taxable year 2004 in proportion to the dollars generated by those levies in those counties for that year but the allocation to any county may not exceed the difference between combined funding for the county's senior citizen services and programs for taxable year 2004 and the combined funding for those services and programs for taxable year 2006 and any remaining unexpended and unobligated amount at the end of any biennium must be transferred by the state treasurer to the state general fund.

SECTION 4. LEGISLATIVE INTENT - HOME-DELIVERED MEALS. It is the intent of the fifty-ninth legislative assembly that the department of human services encourage providers, to the extent possible, to allocate additional resources to make available more home-delivered meals for the biennium beginning July 1, 2005, and ending June 30, 2007.

SECTION 5. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act is effective for tax collections received after June 30, 2005.

GROUND WATER POLICY

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 61-01 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to findings and declaration of policy of the legislative assembly concerning the use of ground water for irrigation.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 61-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Findings and declaration of policy - Use of ground water for irrigation.

The legislative assembly finds that the use of ground water for irrigation purposes is vitally important to the economic future of this state. The reliance on processing plants for the consistent quality resulting from irrigation is an important factor in preserving this state's reputation for quality agricultural production. Therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that the state by and through the state water commission strongly discourages the conversion of agricultural water permits to any other use. Further, the legislative assembly declares that any feasible or reasonable alternative supply of water be made available for municipal or domestic use to enable the continued use of ground water for irrigated agriculture and agricultural processing.

WATER COMMISSION BONDS

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 11 of chapter 535 of the 1999 Session Laws, as amended by section 1 of chapter 559 of the 2001 Session Laws, as amended by section 1 of chapter 549 of the 2003 Session Laws, relating to the issuance of bonds for construction of an outlet from Devils Lake; to amend and reenact sections 61-02.1-01 and 61-02.1-02.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the water commission's authority to issue bonds for projects; to repeal section 61-02.1-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to bond issuance amount limits; and to declare an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 11 of chapter 535 of the 1999 Session Laws, as amended by section 1 of chapter 559 of the 2001 Session Laws, as amended by section 1 of chapter 549 of the 2003 Session Laws is amended and reenacted as follows:

Section 11. EXPIRATION DATE. ~~Except for the issuance of bonds for construction of an outlet from Devils Lake, the~~ The authority of the commission to issue bonds as provided in chapter 61-02.1 is effective through June 30, 2004 2007, and after that date is ineffective. ~~The authority of the commission to issue bonds as provided in chapter 61-02.4 for construction of an outlet from Devils Lake is effective through June 30, 2005, and after that date is ineffective.~~ However, the commission may continue to exercise all other powers granted to it under this Act and to comply with any covenants entered into pursuant to this Act.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 61-02.1-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

61-02.1-01. Legislative findings and intent - Authority to issue bonds.

1. The legislative assembly finds that some cities suffered serious economic and social injuries due to the major flood disaster in 1997 and other recent floods and are at significant risk for future flooding; and that construction of flood control or reduction projects is necessary for the protection of health, property, and enterprises and for the promotion of prosperity and the general welfare of the people of the state and that construction of any such projects involves and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state and concerns a public purpose. Therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that the state by and through the state water commission assist in financing the costs of constructing flood control or reduction projects through the issuance of bonds.
2. The legislative assembly finds that continued construction of the southwest pipeline project is necessary for the protection of health, property, and enterprises and for the promotion of prosperity and the general welfare of the people of the state and that continued construction of the southwest pipeline project involves and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state and concerns a public purpose. The legislative assembly also finds that current funding for the southwest pipeline project has become uncertain, and therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that the state by and through the state water commission assist in financing the costs of continued construction of the southwest pipeline project through the issuance of bonds.

3. The legislative assembly finds that the Devils Lake basin is suffering and facing a worsening flood disaster; and that construction of an outlet from Devils Lake is necessary for the protection of health, property, and enterprises and for the promotion of prosperity and the general welfare of the people of the state; and that construction of the outlet involves and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state and concerns a public purpose. Therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that an outlet from Devils Lake be constructed with financing from the state water commission to provide flood relief to the Devils Lake basin.
4. The legislative assembly finds that there is a critical need to develop a comprehensive statewide water development program to serve the long-term water resource needs of the state and its people and to protect the state's current usage of, and the state's claim to, its proper share of Missouri River water.
5. In furtherance of the public purpose set forth in subsection 1, the state water commission may issue bonds under chapter 61-02 and the proceeds are appropriated for flood control projects authorized and funded in part by the federal government and designed to provide permanent flood control or reduction to cities that suffered severe damages as a result of the 1997 flood or other recent floods and to repay the line of credit extended to the state water commission under S.L. 1999, ch. 535, § 4. The commission may issue bonds for a flood control or reduction project only:
 - a. When:
 - (1) A flood control or reduction project involves a city that suffered catastrophic flood damage requiring evacuation of the major share of its populace;
 - (2) A flood control or reduction project includes interstate features and requires acquisition of private property to build permanent flood protection systems to comply with federal flood protection standards;
 - (3) The governing body of a city provides a written certification to the state water commission that the city has committed itself to contribute one-half or more of the North Dakota project sponsor's share of the nonfederal share of the cost to construct the project;

- (4) The United States army corps of engineers issues its approval of the flood control or reduction project;
 - (5) A project cooperation agreement, which contains provisions acceptable to the state engineer and is approved by the governor, is entered by the state of Minnesota or one of its political subdivisions in which the flood control or reduction project is to be constructed;
 - (6) A project cooperation agreement, which contains provisions acceptable to the state engineer and is approved by the governor, is entered by the state or one of its political subdivisions in which the flood control or reduction project is to be constructed;
 - (7) The governing body of the city has approved a financing plan for all amounts of the nonfederal share of a flood control or reduction project in excess of the amounts to be paid by the state; and
 - (8) ~~That no order for injunctive relief has been issued by a court of competent jurisdiction enjoining construction of the flood control or reduction project; and~~
 - ~~(9)~~ That the flood control or reduction project is designed to be cost-effective and that any impact on residential neighborhoods is minimized in an amount reasonably practicable as determined by the state engineer and approved by the governor;
 - b. When a flood control or reduction project in a city with a population as of the 1990 federal decennial census of at least eight thousand and not more than ten thousand has received significant federal funding through federal grants and funds from the United States army corps of engineers and the federal emergency management agency; or
 - c. When a flood control or reduction project in a city with a population as of the 1990 federal decennial census of at least four thousand five hundred and not more than six thousand has at least seventy percent of the land within the boundaries of the city located within the one hundred year floodplain as designated on a flood insurance rate map and the United States army corps of engineers issues its approval of the flood control or reduction project.
6. In furtherance of the public purpose set forth in subsection 2, the state water commission may issue bonds under chapter 61-02 and the proceeds are appropriated for construction of the southwest pipeline project and to repay the line of credit extended to the state water commission under S.L. 1999, ch. 535, § 4. The commission may only issue bonds under this chapter for continued construction of the southwest pipeline project when it is determined that the Perkins County water system will not make payment to the state water commission in the amount of four million five hundred thousand dollars or on January 1, 2000, whichever occurs earlier. If the Perkins County water system makes payment to the state water commission after January 1,

2000, the payment must be used to pay principal and interest on bonds issued for continued construction of the southwest pipeline project as provided in subsection 2 of section 61-02.1-04. If the Perkins County water system does not make payment to the state water commission, no benefits may accrue to the Perkins County water system.

7. In furtherance of the public purposes set forth in subsections 3 and 4, the state water commission may issue bonds under chapter 61-02 to finance the cost of one or more of the projects identified in this subsection; provided that:
 - a.
 - (1) The state water commission may only issue bonds for construction of an outlet from Devils Lake when either the state water commission or the United States authorizes construction of an outlet and either the state water commission or a federal agency has developed a plan addressing damage to basic infrastructure such as roads, culverts, and bridges; riverbank erosion; downstream flooding; and increased water treatment costs caused by or resulting from construction of the outlet;
 - (2) The outlet from Devils Lake to west Stump Lake must comply with any environmental impact statement or National Environmental Policy Act provisions required under federal law; and
 - (3) Bonds may not be issued if an order for injunctive relief has been issued by a court of competent jurisdiction enjoining construction of an outlet from Devils Lake to the Sheyenne River or to west Stump Lake.
 - b. The state water commission may only issue bonds to finance the nonfederal cost-share of the Garrison diversion unit when the Congress of the United States enacts legislation for the completion of the Garrison diversion unit, which may include the delivery of water to the northwest area water supply project; southwest pipeline project; Turtle Lake irrigation district; Nesson-Valley irrigation district; Elk Charbon irrigation district; the Williston irrigation project; the Oakes irrigation project; other irrigation; municipal, rural, and industrial water supply projects; augmented streamflow and ground water recharge projects; development of a Red River valley water supply; and delivery of Missouri River water to the Sheyenne River section.
8. This chapter does not affect the state water commission's authority to otherwise issue bonds pursuant to chapter 61-02 or section 61-24.3-01.
9. Notwithstanding this section, the state water commission may not issue bonds authorized under subsection 5 for a project unless federal funds have been appropriated for that project.
10. Notwithstanding this section, if bonds are issued under this chapter, any bonds subsequently issued after the first issuance must meet the same conditions as the bonds initially issued.

11. ~~Notwithstanding this section, except for a project listed in subdivision a of subsection 7 the state water commission may not issue bonds under this chapter unless the local project sponsor has agreed to repay the local project sponsor's share of any bonds issued for the entire nonfederal share of the cost of a project.~~

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 61-02.1-02.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

61-02.1-02.1. Funding - Statewide water development projects - Bond issuance amount.

1. The priorities for the statewide water development program ~~for the 2001-03 biennium~~ include municipal, rural, and industrial projects; irrigation projects; general water management projects, including rural flood control, snagging and clearing, channel improvement, recreation, and planning studies; flood control projects; and weather modification projects, which are authorized and declared to be in the public interest. The state water commission may provide the funds necessary to construct these projects from money appropriated to the state water commission from the resources trust fund, the water development trust fund, or by issuing bonds in an amount not to exceed ~~twenty~~ sixty million dollars plus the costs of issuance of the bonds, capitalized interest, and reasonably required reserves. The proceeds of any bonds issued under the authority provided in this section are appropriated to the state water commission for the purposes set forth in this section.
2. If the state water commission determines it is appropriate to do so, it may, in lieu of issuing or in combination with the issuance of bonds pursuant to ~~sections this section or section~~ 61-02.1-01 ~~and 61-02.1-02~~, for all or part of the state's cost share for the projects set forth in those provisions, use funds appropriated to it from the resources trust fund or the water development trust fund.

SECTION 4. REPEAL. Section 61-02.1-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is repealed.

The benefits of a project must be determined in the manner provided in section 61-16.1-17. Revenue from an assessment under this section may not be used for construction of a drain or reconstruction or maintenance of an existing assessment drain. Any question as to whether the board is maintaining a natural watercourse or is constructing a drain or reconstructing or maintaining an existing assessment drain must be determined by the state engineer. All provisions of this chapter apply to assessments levied under this section except:

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 61-35 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Conversion of water resource district water supply system to water district. A water resource district that has developed a water supply system under chapter 61-16.1 may convert that system to a water district as provided in this section. The water resource district board operating a water supply system may petition the state engineer to organize a district in the manner provided by section 61-35-02. The signatures of the water resource district's board of directors on the petition and a resolution adopted by the water supply system's users approving the petition suffice in lieu of signatures of owners of fifty percent of the real property in the proposed district, if the petition presenter provides evidence satisfactory to the state engineer that a sufficient number of members of the proposed district will subscribe or have subscribed to benefit units to make its operation feasible. The procedure for hearing and determination of disposition of the petition is as provided by this chapter. In any district organized upon the petition of a water resource board of directors, the following procedures apply:

1. After final approval of the petition by the state engineer, the secretary of the water resource board shall file a notice with the secretary of state.
2. Upon filing of the notice, the assets and liabilities of the water supply system become the assets and liabilities of the newly organized district without any further meetings, voting, notice to creditors, or other actions by the members of the board.
3. The officers and board of directors of the water resource district are the officers and board of the district.
4. The applicable laws of the state governing the water resource district board control the initial size and the initial terms of office of officers and the board, in lieu of sections 61-35-08 through 61-35-11.
5. The district shall bring its operation and structure into compliance with the requirements of section 61-35-08 regarding the number and qualification of directors, section 61-35-09 regarding new bylaws, section 61-35-10 regarding dividing its directors into classes, and section 61-35-11 regarding board meetings at the first annual meeting of the participating members and board. The new district has all the rights and all the property of the original water supply system and is responsible for all its obligations. Title to any property is vested in the new district with no reversion or impairment of ownership rights caused by the conversion to a district. A water supply agreement entered by a water resource district is binding for its term on a successor district organized by the water resource district, unless otherwise agreed in writing by all parties to the agreement. The right of any creditor may not be impaired by this section without the creditor's consent.

LAKE AGASSIZ WATER AUTHORITY BONDS

AN ACT to create and enact a new subsection to section 61-35-12 and sections 61-39-06, 61-39-07, 61-39-08, 61-39-09, 61-39-10, 61-39-11, 61-39-12, 61-39-13, 61-39-14, 61-39-15, and 61-39-16 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to issuance of bonds by the Lake Agassiz water authority; and to amend and reenact sections 61-39-01, 61-39-02, 61-39-03, and 61-39-05 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to water supply contracts and membership of and powers of the Lake Agassiz water authority.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new subsection to section 61-35-12 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Enter and perform long-term and short-term contracts for the purchase or sale of water and to pledge any and all income, profits, and revenues received by the district to secure payment of the district's obligations created by the contracts.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 61-39-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

61-39-01. Findings and declaration of policy. The legislative assembly declares that many areas and localities in eastern North Dakota do not enjoy adequate quantities of high-quality drinking water; that other areas and localities in eastern North Dakota do not have sufficient quantities of water to ensure a dependable, long-term supply; that greater economic security and the protection of health and property benefits the land and water resources of this state; and that the promotion of the prosperity and general welfare of all of the people of this state depend on the effective development and utilization of the land and water resources of this state and necessitates and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of this state and concern a public purpose. To accomplish this public purpose, it is declared necessary that a water authority to store and distribute water to eastern North Dakota be established to provide for the supply and distribution of water to the people of eastern North Dakota for purposes, including domestic, rural water, municipal, livestock, light industrial, and other uses, with primary emphasis on domestic, rural water, and municipal uses; and provide for the future economic welfare and prosperity of the people of this state, and particularly the people of eastern North Dakota, by the bulk purchase of water from the Garrison Diversion Conservancy District delivered by the Red River valley water supply project for beneficial and public uses. The Garrison Diversion Conservancy District may acquire, construct, improve, and own the Red River valley water supply project and the Lake Agassiz water authority may enter one or more contracts to provide for the authority to acquire bulk water from the Garrison Diversion Conservancy District and may enter water supply contracts with member cities and water districts for the resale of this water for consumption within or outside the state.

The legislative assembly acknowledges that North Dakota and Minnesota communities jointly use the Red River as a water resource. It is in the best interest of eastern North Dakota also to study and possibly provide for the water needs of those Minnesota communities through a Red River valley water supply project, particularly if that project maintains the use of the Red River for North Dakota communities.

In furtherance of this public purpose, the state water commission may provide for the issuance of bonds in accordance with chapter 61-02 to finance the costs of any project to deliver water to eastern North Dakota. This chapter does not abrogate or limit the rights, powers, duties, and functions of the state water commission or state engineer, but is supplementary to those rights, powers, duties, and functions.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 61-39-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

61-39-02. Lake Agassiz water authority created. The Lake Agassiz water authority consists of cities and water districts located in that part of the state which is included within the boundaries of Cavalier, Pembina, Walsh, Nelson, Grand Forks, Griggs, Steele, Traill, Barnes, Cass, Ransom, Sargent, and Richland Counties and that pay dues to the authority. Minnesota cities may join the authority, provided a portion of the city is located within five miles [8.05 kilometers] of this state, or if the city uses the Red River for its primary water supply. The authority is a governmental agency, body politic and corporate with the authority to exercise the power specified in this chapter, or which may be reasonably implied. Cities and water districts may pay dues to the authority as determined by the authority.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 61-39-03 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

61-39-03. Lake Agassiz water authority - Board of directors. The authority must be governed by a board of directors selected as follows:

1. One member from a city with a population greater than forty thousand located east of state highway 1 and north of state highway 200.
2. One member from a city with a population greater than forty thousand located east of state highway 1 and south of state highway 200.
3. One member from a city with a population of five thousand but not more than forty thousand located east of state highway 1.
4. One member from a city with a population of less than five thousand located east of state highway 1.
5. Two members from water districts located east of state highway 1 and north of state highway 200.
6. Two members from water districts located east of state highway 1 and south of state highway 200.
7. One member from water districts located east of state highway 1.
8. One member from a Minnesota city with a population of more than thirty thousand and which is located within five miles [8.05 kilometers] of this state.

City North Dakota city members must be selected for two-year terms by election by cities located east of state highway 1 during the annual meeting of the North Dakota league of cities in every odd-numbered year beginning in 2003. Water district members must be selected for two-year terms by election by water districts located east of state highway 1 during the annual meeting of the North Dakota rural water systems association in every even-numbered year beginning in 2004. The initial selection of members must be at a meeting held by the board of directors of the North Dakota league of cities and by the board of directors of the North Dakota rural water systems association. The initial city members shall serve until the annual meeting of the North Dakota league of cities in 2003 and the initial water district members shall serve until the annual meeting of the North Dakota rural water systems association in 2004. The initial Minnesota city is Moorhead, as it is an associate member of the authority. Moorhead will serve in this capacity until the league of Minnesota cities annual conference in 2006. During even-numbered years thereafter, Minnesota cities within five miles [8.05 kilometers] of the Red River or that use the Red River as a primary water supply may elect their representative. A member may designate an alternate to attend meetings and to act on the member's behalf. The board of directors may designate associate members who are nonvoting members of the board. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, within two years of the first delivery of water by the Red River valley water supply project, board members must be from a city or water district that has entered a water service contract with the ~~Garrison Diversion Conservancy District~~ Lake Agassiz water authority.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Section 61-39-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

61-39-05. Authority of the ~~district~~ Lake Agassiz water authority. The board of directors of the Lake Agassiz water authority may:

AN ACT to amend and reenact sections 65-01-09 and 65-05-05 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to subrogation and lien rights of the organization and reimbursement of benefits paid by the organization; and to provide for application.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-01-09 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-01-09. Injury through negligence of third person - Option of employee - ~~Fund~~ Organization subrogated when claim filed - Lien created.

When an injury or death for which compensation is payable under provisions of this title shall have been sustained under circumstances creating in some person other than the ~~fund~~ organization a legal liability to pay damages in respect thereto, the injured employee, or the employee's dependents may claim compensation under this title and proceed at law to recover damages against such other person. The ~~fund~~ organization is subrogated to the rights of the injured employee or the employee's dependents to the extent of fifty percent of the damages recovered up to a maximum of the total amount it has paid or would otherwise pay in the future in compensation and benefits for the injured employee. The organization also has a lien to the extent of fifty percent of the damages recovered up to a maximum of the total amount it has paid in compensation and benefits. The organization's subrogation interest or lien may not be reduced by settlement, compromise, or judgment. The action against such other person may be brought by the injured employee, or the employee's dependents in the event of the employee's death. Such action shall be brought in the injured employee's or in the employee's dependents' own right and name and as trustee for the organization for the subrogation interest of the organization. However, if the director chooses not to participate in an action, the ~~fund~~ organization has no subrogation interest and no obligation to pay fees or costs under this section and no lien. If the injured employee or the employee's dependents do not institute suit within sixty days after date of injury, the organization may bring the action in its own name and as trustee for the injured employee or the employee's dependents and retain as its subrogation interest the full amount it has paid or would otherwise pay in the future in compensation and benefits to the injured employee or the employee's dependents and retain as its lien the full amount it has paid in compensation and benefits. Within sixty days after both the injured employee and the organization have declined to commence an action against a third person as provided above, the employer may bring the action in the employer's own name or in the name of the employee, or both, and in trust for the organization and for the employee. The party bringing the action may determine if the trial jury should be informed of the trust relationship. If the action is brought by the injured employee or the employee's dependents, or the employer as provided above, the organization shall pay fifty percent of the costs of the action, exclusive of attorney's fees, when such costs are incurred ~~as the action progresses before recovery of damages.~~ If there is no recovery of damages in the action, this shall be a cost of the organization to be paid from the organization's general fund. ~~When there is~~ After recovery of damages in the action, the costs of the action, exclusive of attorney's fees, must be prorated and adjusted on the percentage of the total subrogation interest of the organization recovered to the total recovery in the action. The organization shall pay attorney's fees to the injured employee's attorney from the organization's general fund as follows:

1. ~~Twenty percent of the subrogation interest recovered for the organization when legal action is not commenced.~~
2. Twenty-five percent of the subrogation interest recovered for the organization ~~when action is commenced and settled~~ before judgment.
3. 2. Thirty-three and one-third percent of the subrogation interest recovered for the organization when recovered through judgment entered as a result of a trial on the merits or recovered through binding alternative dispute resolution.

The above provisions as to costs of the action and attorney's fees ~~is~~ are effective only when the injured employee advises the organization in writing the name and address of the employee's attorney, and that the employee has employed such attorney for the purpose of collecting damages or of bringing legal action for recovery of damages. If a claimant fails to pay the organization's subrogation interest and lien within thirty days of receipt of a recovery in a third-party action, the organization's subrogation interest is the full amount of the damages recovered, up to a maximum of the total amount it has paid or would otherwise pay in the future in compensation and benefits to the injured employee or the employee's dependents, ~~and~~ no costs or attorney's fees will be paid from the organization's subrogation interest and the organization's lien is the full amount of the damages recovered up to a maximum of the total amount it has paid. The organization's lien is created upon first payment of benefits. The lien attaches to all claims, demands, settlement proceeds, judgment awards, or insurance payable by reason of a legal liability of a third person. If the organization does not receive payment of its lien amount within thirty days of the payment of any recovery and if the organization has served, by regular mail, written notice of its lien upon the employee or the employee's dependents and upon the third person, the third person, the insurer of the third person, the employee or employee's dependents, and the attorney of the employee or employee's dependents are liable to the organization for the lien amount. A release or satisfaction of any judgment, claim, or demand given by the employee or the employee's dependents is not valid or effective against the lien. An action to collect the organization's lien amount must be commenced within one year of the organization first possessing actual knowledge of a recovery.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-05. Payments made to insured employees injured in course of employment and to their dependents. The organization shall disburse the fund for

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05.1-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05.1-01. Rehabilitation services.

1. The state of North Dakota exercising its police and sovereign powers declares that disability caused by injuries in the course of employment and disease fairly traceable to the employment create a burden upon the health and general welfare of the citizens of this state and upon the prosperity of this state and its citizens.
2. The purpose of this chapter is to ensure that injured employees covered by this title receive services, so far as possible, necessary to assist the employee and the employee's family in the adjustments required by the injury to the end that the employee receives comprehensive rehabilitation services, including medical, psychological, economic, and social rehabilitation.
3. It is the goal of vocational rehabilitation to return the disabled employee to substantial gainful employment with a minimum of retraining, as soon as possible after an injury occurs. "Substantial gainful employment" means bona fide work, for remuneration, which is reasonably attainable in light of the individual's injury, functional capacities, education, previous occupation, experience, and transferable skills, and which offers an opportunity to restore the employee as soon as practicable and as nearly as possible to ninety percent of the employee's average weekly earnings at the time of injury, or to sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the average weekly wage in this state on the date the rehabilitation consultant's report is issued under section 65-05.1-02.1, whichever is less. The purpose of defining substantial gainful employment in terms of earnings is to determine the first appropriate priority option under subsection 4 which meets this income test set out above.
4. The first appropriate option among the following, calculated to return the employee to substantial gainful employment, must be chosen for the employee:
 - a. Return to the same position.
 - b. Return to the same occupation, any employer.

- c. Return to a modified position.
 - d. Return to a modified or alternative occupation, any employer.
 - e. Return to an occupation within the local job pool of the locale in which the claimant was living at the date of injury or of the employee's current address which is suited to the employee's education, experience, and marketable skills.
 - f. Return to an occupation in the statewide job pool which is suited to the employee's education, experience, and marketable skills.
 - g. ~~On-the-job training.~~
 - h. ~~Short-term retraining of fifty-two weeks or less.~~
 - i. ~~Long-term retraining~~ Retraining of one hundred four weeks or less.
 - j. ~~Self-employment.~~
5. If the employee's first appropriate option is an option listed in subdivision c, d, e, or f of subsection 4, the organization may pursue retraining of one hundred four weeks or less. If an option listed in subdivision a, b, c, d, e, or f, or g of subsection 4 has been identified as appropriate for an injured employee and the employee is initially released by the doctor to return to part-time employment with the reasonable expectation of attaining full-time employment, the organization shall pay temporary partial disability benefits under section 65-05-10 until the doctor determines the employee is medically capable of full-time employment.
6. a. If the vocational consultant concludes that none of the priority options under subsection 4 of section 65-05.1-01 are viable, and will not return the employee to the lesser of sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the average weekly wage, or ninety percent of the employee's preinjury earnings, the employee shall continue to minimize the loss of earnings capacity, to seek, obtain, and retain employment:
- (1) That meets the employee's functional capacities; and
 - (2) For which the employee meets the qualifications to compete; and.
 - ~~(3)~~ That will reasonably result in retained earnings capacity equivalent to the lesser of ninety percent of the employee's preinjury earnings or the state's current hourly minimum wage on the date the rehabilitation consultant's report is issued. If an employee is initially released to part-time employment by the doctor, the income test defined under this paragraph must be waived provided there is a reasonable expectation that the employee will return to full-time employment meeting the income test previously defined under this paragraph.

- b. Under section 65-05-10, the organization shall award partial disability based on retained earnings capacity calculated under this section.
 - c. For purposes of calculating partial disability based on a retained earnings capacity, an employee is presumed to be capable of earning the greater of the state's hourly minimum wage times the hours of release based on a valid functional capacities examination or the wages payable within the appropriate labor market. This presumption is rebuttable only upon a finding of clear and convincing medical and vocational evidence to the contrary. If the presumption is successfully rebutted, the employee may receive partial disability benefits based on a retained earnings capacity of zero.
- 7. The income test in subsection 3 must be waived when an employer offers the employee a return-to-work option at a wage lower than the income test as defined under subsection 3 or when the organization and the employee agree to waive the income test and the priority options.
- 8. Vocational rehabilitation services may be initiated by:
 - a. The organization on its own motion; or
 - b. The employee or the employer if proof exists:
 - (1) That the employee has reached maximum medical recovery;
 - (2) That the employee is not working and is not voluntarily retired or removed from the labor force; and
 - (3) That the employee has made good-faith efforts to seek, obtain, and retain employment.
- 9. Chapter 50-06.1 does not apply to determinations of eligibility for vocational rehabilitation made pursuant to this chapter.
- 10. If retraining is the first appropriate vocational rehabilitation option identified for an employee, the employee shall notify the organization of the acceptance of the retraining option on a form provided by the organization within thirty days from the date the employee receives notice of eligibility for retraining. If the employee fails to notify the organization of the acceptance of the retraining option within the thirty-day period, the organization shall calculate a retained earnings capacity as provided in subdivision c of subsection 6. A vocational rehabilitation allowance does not accrue as weeks of temporary total disability as defined in section 65-01-02 if the employee successfully completes a retraining program approved by the organization. If the employee fails to successfully complete a retraining program approved by the organization, the vocational rehabilitation allowance paid accrues against the maximum number of weeks of temporary total disability allowed pursuant to section 65-01-02. If an employee attempts and withdraws from an approved retraining program within the first twenty weeks following commencement of the retraining program, the employee, upon request, may receive no more than one hundred eighty-two weeks of temporary partial disability benefits calculated pursuant to subdivision c of subsection 6.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05.1-02.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05.1-02.1. Vocational consultant's report. The vocational consultant shall review all records, statements, and other pertinent information and prepare a report to the organization and employee.

1. The report must:
 - a. Identify the first appropriate rehabilitation option by following the priorities set forth in subsection 4 of section 65-05.1-01.
 - b. Contain findings of why a higher listed priority, if any, is not appropriate.
2. Depending on which option the consultant identifies as appropriate, the report also must contain findings that:
 - a. Identify jobs in the local or statewide job pool and the employee's anticipated earnings from each job; or
 - b. ~~Describe an appropriate on-the-job training program, and the employee's anticipated earnings;~~
 - c. Describe an appropriate ~~short-term or long-term~~ retraining program, the employment opportunities anticipated upon the employee's completion of the program, and the employee's anticipated earnings; or
 - d. ~~Describe the employee's potential for specific self-employment, limitations the employee might have in such a self-employment, any assistance necessary, and the employee's anticipated earnings.~~
3. The vocational consultant's report is due within sixty days from the date the vocational assessment is performed under this chapter. However, if the vocational consultant determines that ~~short-term or long-term training~~ retraining options must be evaluated because higher priority options are not viable, the final report is due within ninety days of the vocational assessment to allow the employee to assist in formulating the choice among the qualified training programs.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05.1-04 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05.1-04. Injured employee responsibility.

1. The injured employee shall seek, obtain, and retain reasonable and substantial employment to reduce the period of temporary disability to a minimum. The employee has the burden of establishing that the employee has met this responsibility.

2. If the injured employee is unable to obtain substantial employment as a direct result of injury, the employee shall promptly notify the organization under subdivision b of subsection 8 of section 65-05.1-01.
3. The injured employee shall be available for testing under subsection 6 or 7 of section 65-05.1-02, and for any further examinations and testing as may be prescribed by the organization to determine whether or not a program of rehabilitation is necessary. The injured employee also shall participate in remedial or other educational services when those services are determined to be necessary by the organization or the vocational consultant. If the employee is noncompliant with this subsection, the organization shall suspend benefits during the period of noncompliance.
4. If the first appropriate rehabilitation option under subsection 4 of section 65-05.1-01 is return to the same, modified, or alternative occupation, or return to an occupation that is suited to the employee's education, experience, and marketable skills, ~~or on-the-job training~~, the employee is responsible to make a good-faith work trial or work search. If the employee fails to perform a good-faith work trial, the organization may not pay additional disability benefits unless the employee meets the criteria for reapplying for benefits required under subsection 1 of section 65-05-08. If the employee meets the burden of proving that the employee made a good-faith work trial or work search and that the work trial or work search was unsuccessful due to the injury, the organization shall reevaluate the employee's vocational rehabilitation claim.
5. If the first appropriate rehabilitation option under subsection 4 of section 65-05.1-01 is ~~short-term or long-term training~~ retraining, the employee shall cooperate with the necessary testing to determine whether the proposed training program meets the employee's medical limitations and aptitudes. The employee shall attend a qualified rehabilitation training program when ordered by the organization. A qualified training program is a rehabilitation plan that meets the criteria of this title, is the approved option of the rehabilitation consultant, and commences within a reasonable period of time such as the next quarter or semester. The organization and the employee, by agreement, may waive the income test applicable under this subsection.
6. If, without good cause, the injured employee fails to make a good-faith work search in return to work utilizing the employee's transferable skills, the employee is in noncompliance with vocational rehabilitation. A good-faith work search that does not result in placement is not, in itself, sufficient grounds to prove the work injury caused the inability to acquire gainful employment. The employee shall show that the injury significantly impacts the employee's ability to successfully compete for gainful employment in that the injury leads employers to favor those without limitations over the employee. If, without good cause, the injured employee fails to attend specific vocational testing, remedial, or other vocational services determined necessary by the organization or the rehabilitation consultant, the employee is in noncompliance with vocational rehabilitation. If, without good cause, the injured employee fails to attend a scheduled medical or vocational assessment, fails to communicate or cooperate with the vocational consultant, or fails to attend a specific qualified rehabilitation program within ten days from the date the rehabilitation program commences, the employee is in noncompliance with vocational rehabilitation. If, without good cause, the employee discontinues a training program in which the employee is enrolled, the employee is in noncompliance with vocational rehabilitation. If at any time the employee is noncompliant without good cause, subsequent efforts by the employee to come into compliance with vocational rehabilitation are not considered successful compliance until the employee has successfully returned to the job or training program for a period of thirty days. In all cases of noncompliance by the employee, the organization, ~~by administrative order~~, shall discontinue disability and vocational rehabilitation benefits. If, ~~after issuance of the order~~, the period of noncompliance continues for thirty days following the date benefits are discontinued, or a second instance of noncompliance occurs without good cause, the organization may not pay any further disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits, regardless of whether the employee sustained a significant change in medical condition due to the work injury.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05.1-06.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05.1-06.1. Rehabilitation award.

1. Within sixty days of receiving the final vocational consultant's report, the organization shall issue an administrative order under chapter 28-32 detailing the employee's entitlement to disability and vocational rehabilitation services.
2. If the appropriate priority option is short-term or long-term training, the vocational rehabilitation award must be within the following terms:
 - a. For the employee's lost time, and in lieu of further disability benefits, the organization shall award a rehabilitation allowance. The rehabilitation allowance must be limited to the amount and purpose specified in the award, and must be equal to the disability and dependent benefits the employee was receiving, or was entitled to receive, prior to the award.
 - b. The rehabilitation allowance must include an additional twenty-five percent when it is necessary for the employee to maintain two households, when it is necessary for the employee to maintain two households and the employee elects to commute to and from school on a daily basis rather than maintain a second household and the distance from the employee's residence to the school or training institution is at least thirty miles, or when the employee meets other criteria established by the organization by rule.
 - c. The rehabilitation allowance must be limited to one hundred four weeks except in cases of catastrophic injury, in which case additional rehabilitation benefits may be awarded in the discretion of the organization. Catastrophic injury includes:
 - (1) Paraplegia; quadriplegia; severe closed head injury; total blindness in both eyes; or amputation of an arm proximal to the wrist or a leg proximal to the ankle, caused by the compensable injury, which renders an employee permanently and totally disabled without further vocational retraining assistance; or

- (2) Those employees the organization so designates, in its sole discretion, provided that the organization finds the employee to be permanently and totally disabled without further vocational retraining assistance. There is no appeal from an organization decision to designate, or fail to designate, an employee as catastrophically injured under this subsection.
- d. The rehabilitation award must include the cost of books, tuition, fees, and equipment, tools, or supplies required by the educational institution. The award may not exceed the cost of attending a public college or university in the state in which the employee resides, provided an equivalent program exists in the public college or university.
- e. If the employee successfully concludes the rehabilitation program, the organization may make, in its sole discretion, additional awards for actual relocation expenses to move the household to the locale where the claimant has actually located work.
- f. If the employee successfully concludes the rehabilitation program, the organization may make, in its sole discretion, an additional award, not to exceed two ~~months~~ months' disability benefit, to assist the employee with work search.
- g. If the employee successfully concludes the rehabilitation program, the employee is not eligible for further vocational retraining or total disability benefits unless the employee establishes a significant change in medical condition attributable to the work injury which precludes the employee from performing the work for which the employee was trained, or any other work for which the employee is suited. The organization may waive this section in cases of catastrophic injury defined by subdivision c of ~~subsection 2~~.
- h. If the employee successfully concludes the rehabilitation program, the employee remains eligible to receive partial disability benefits, as follows:
 - (1) Beginning the date at which the employee completes retraining, until the employee acquires and performs substantial gainful employment, the partial disability benefit is sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the difference between the injured employee's average weekly wages before the injury, and the employee's wage-earning capacity after retraining, as measured by the average wage in the employee's occupation, according to criteria established by job service North Dakota in its statewide labor market survey, or such other criteria the organization, in its sole discretion, deems appropriate. The average weekly wage must be determined on the date the employee completes retraining. The benefit continues until the employee acquires substantial gainful employment.

- (2) Beginning the date at which the employee acquires substantial gainful employment, the partial disability benefit is sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the difference between the injured employee's weekly wages before the injury, and the employee's wage-earning capacity after retraining, as determined under paragraph 1, or the employee's actual postinjury wage earnings, whichever is higher.
 - (3) The partial disability benefit payable under paragraphs 1 and 2 may not exceed the limitation on partial disability benefits contained in section 65-05-10.
 - (4) The partial disability benefits paid under paragraphs 1 and 2 may not together exceed one year's duration.
 - (5) For purposes of paragraphs 1 and 2, "substantial gainful employment" means full-time bona fide work, for a remuneration, other than make-work. "Full-time work" means employment for twenty-eight or more hours per week, on average.
 - (6) The organization may waive the one-year limit on the duration of partial disability benefits, in cases of catastrophic injury under subdivision c.
3. If the appropriate priority option is return to the same or modified position, or to a related position, the organization shall determine whether the employee is eligible to receive partial disability benefits pursuant to section 65-05-10. In addition, the organization, when appropriate, shall make an additional award for actual relocation expenses to move the household to the locale where the claimant has actually located work.
4. ~~If the appropriate priority option is on-the-job training, the organization shall pay the employee a disability benefit throughout the duration of the on-the-job training program. Upon completion of the training program, the organization shall determine whether the employee is eligible to receive partial disability benefits pursuant to section 65-05-10. In addition, the organization, when appropriate, shall make an additional award for actual relocation expenses to move the household to the locale where the claimant has actually located work.~~

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. Sections 1 and 2 of this Act become effective January 1, 2006.

SECTION 7. APPLICATION. This Act applies to all claims filed on or after the effective dates of this Act.

WSI REVOLVING LOAN FUND

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 65-05.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the establishment of a workforce safety and insurance educational revolving loan fund; and to provide a continuing appropriation.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 65-05.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Workforce safety and insurance educational revolving loan fund - Continuing appropriation.

1. The organization may establish a revolving loan fund to provide a low-interest loan to an individual who has suffered a compensable injury. The loan must be used to pursue an education at an accredited institution of higher education or an institution of technical education. In order to be eligible for a loan under this section, an individual must have obtained a high school diploma or its equivalent and either must be ineligible for retraining under this chapter or must have exhausted training and education benefits. The Bank of North Dakota and the organization shall establish eligibility requirements and make application determinations based on the established criteria. The application must require an applicant to demonstrate a viable education plan that will enable the individual to achieve gainful employment.
2. The total amount loaned annually under this section may not exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars. The maximum amount payable on behalf of an applicant may not exceed fifty thousand dollars and must be payable within five years. A loan must be repaid within a period not to exceed twenty years at an interest rate of one percent below the Bank of North Dakota's prime interest rate. The organization shall pay the Bank of North Dakota a negotiated fee for administering and servicing loans under this section. At the board's discretion, moneys to establish and maintain the revolving loan fund must be appropriated from the organization's workforce safety and insurance fund. The revolving loan fund is a special fund and must be invested pursuant to section 21-10-06. Investment income and collections of interest and principal on loans made from the revolving loan fund are appropriated on a continuing basis to maintain the fund and provide loans in accordance with this section. The board, as determined necessary, may transfer uncommitted moneys of the revolving loan fund to the workforce safety and insurance fund.

RATE STABILITY PLANS

AN ACT to create and enact five new sections to chapter 49-05 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to public utility rate stability plans.

VETO

March 30, 2005

The Honorable Jack Dalrymple
President
North Dakota Senate
State Capitol
Bismarck, ND 58505

Dear President Dalrymple:

I hereby veto SB 2278 and return it to the Senate for reconsideration.

SB 2278 would allow investor owned utilities to collect higher electric rates from North Dakota consumers to pay for a power plant during construction before the plant provides any power to consumers. This is a significant benefit to the utility company as it recoups its costs and collects a return on investment during the construction period that could range from six to eight years. Because SB 2278 provides this benefit to a company even for plants that are built outside of North Dakota, I have vetoed this bill.

I believe that this legislation should have been amended to apply specifically to plants built within North Dakota. This amendment was offered in committee, but it was not adopted. When new plants are built in North Dakota, our state receives huge benefits in quality jobs, new wealth and low cost power. Also, new plants in North Dakota are vital to help develop more transmission for the growth of wind energy. Without the amendment, this bill works against the best interests of our state by providing an incentive for plants built in another state.

Proponents of this bill argue that being allowed to charge consumers for a plant during construction, referred to as the rate stabilization method, may ultimately result in lower costs to the consumer compared to the conventional approach. But in those cases in which a company can actually show that consumers will benefit from the rate stabilization treatment, the PSC already has the authority to provide it under existing law.

Further, consumers may not benefit from rate stabilization treatment. Power plants may take from six to eight years to build. It may take an individual or business consumer many years to recoup those increased payments and for those who move from a particular service area or the elderly, for example, there may never be a corresponding benefit.

If North Dakota is going to enact a law to limit the discretion of the Public Service Commission in making its determination as to the best rate treatment, which this bill does, there must be a clear benefit to the North Dakota citizens in return.

In exchange for the economic incentive provided to the utility company, North Dakotans should receive the economic benefit gained from increased employment and new wealth provided by new plants, transmission or energy related facilities. I cannot sign this legislation, which does not contain these assurances for North Dakota consumers and which, in fact, may be counterproductive to North Dakota's effort to develop energy resources within our state.

Sincerely,

John Hoeven
Governor

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 49-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Rate stability plan for phasein of electric rate increases. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this title, a public utility planning the construction of an energy conversion facility, a major capital addition to an existing energy conversion facility in which the public utility has an ownership interest, a new transmission facility, a new renewable energy facility, or a new power purchase that is expected to have a material impact on rates, referred to collectively as an electric resource addition, may apply to the commission for a rate stability plan providing for the phasein of rate increases before the commercial operation of the electric resource addition. The commission may order that expenses associated with investigating the application made by the public utility for a rate stability plan be paid by the public utility in accordance with section 49-02-02. A rate stability plan approved by the commission may provide for the following:

1. Rate increases to be incrementally phased in before commercial operation of the electric resource addition; and
2. Any other conditions that benefit the public interest and may be imposed by the commission consistent with its findings in section 2 of this Act.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 49-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Approval of rate stability plan. The commission may approve a rate stability plan as provided in section 1 of this Act if:

1. The public utility applies for a rate stability plan before commencement of construction or purchase of an electric resource addition;

2. The public utility files with its application a full cost-of-service analysis as required for a general rate increase, including a projection of costs and revenues to the date of the anticipated commercial operation of the electric resource addition;
3. The commission provides notice and holds a hearing, if appropriate, in accordance with section 49-02-02; and
4. The commission finds that the rate stability plan serves the public need for adequate, efficient, and reasonable service; rate stability; financial stability of the public utility; reasonable capital costs; just and reasonable rates; a fair rate of return; and other considerations that benefit the public interest.

SECTION 3. A new section to chapter 49-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Annual review of rate stability plan. A rate stability plan approved by the commission involving an electric resource addition is subject to annual review until commercial operation of the resource addition. The public utility shall file annually an abbreviated cost-of-service analysis showing revenues, costs, and revenue requirements and a report of the progress of the construction showing accumulative construction costs and updated cost projections to complete the construction.

SECTION 4. A new section to chapter 49-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Filing of general rate case before commercial operation. Before commercial operation of the electric resource addition, a public utility shall make a general rate case filing with a full cost-of-service analysis, including the electric resource addition, in accordance with section 49-05-05. The commission shall adjust the public utility's rates to be charged by the public utility commencing with commercial operation of the electric resource addition in accordance with section 49-05-05.

SECTION 5. A new section to chapter 49-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Rate applications upon nonapproval of rate stability plan. If the commission does not approve a rate stability plan submitted pursuant to section 1 of this Act, nothing precludes a public utility from requesting a change in rates as otherwise authorized under this chapter.

Section 6 would have appropriated funds to study the archival storage requirements of the North Dakota Heritage Center, as an alternative to actually funding a facility for expanded storage.

The funding of the expanded storage facility at the Heritage Center was authorized in Section 1 of this bill, making a study unnecessary.

ESCROW ACCOUNT EXCESS AMOUNTS

AN ACT to amend and reenact subsection 2 of section 47-10.2-01 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to escrow account excess amounts.

VETO

April 26, 2005

The Honorable Jack Dalrymple
President
North Dakota Senate
State Capitol
Bismarck, ND 58505

Dear President Dalrymple:

I have vetoed SB 2174 and return it unsigned.

Current law provides that companies that service secondary mortgages may require an escrow account to be maintained in an amount equal to "three hundred dollars plus the amount necessary to pay real estate taxes, special assessments, and insurance premiums during that calendar year." [Emphasis added]. Section 47-10.2-01, North Dakota Century Code. Any amount in excess of this stated amount must be returned to the borrower upon demand, and failure to do so may result in a penalty of five hundred dollars, actual damages, costs and attorneys fees. Section 47-10.2-04, North Dakota Century Code.

Current law thus provides a "cushion" of three hundred dollars that may be held in escrow in addition to the amount necessary to make the annual payments of taxes, special assessments and insurance.

From the minutes and testimony presented in support of SB 2174, the intent of this legislation is to change the cushion that may be held in such escrow accounts from a flat dollar amount of three hundred dollars to one-twelfth, or one month's share, of the total annual payments for taxes, special assessments and insurance.

However, SB 2174 does not accomplish this intent. It states in its entirety that "any amount in an escrow account in excess of one-twelfth of the estimated total annual payments from the account" is defined as an "excess amount". It does not state that this is in addition to the amount required to make the total annual payments for taxes, special assessments and insurance.

Thus, what was meant to be the cushion is now the total amount that may be held in such escrow accounts. Clearly, this would defeat the purpose of an escrow account, which is to accumulate the amount needed to pay annual taxes, special assessments and insurance.

Because SB 2174 does not accomplish its intended purpose, and would create confusion in the marketplace, I have vetoed the legislation.

Sincerely,

John Hoeven
Governor

RE: Item veto of Sections 22 and 23 in HB 1015

Dear Speaker Klein:

I have signed HB 1015, but veto Sections 22 and 23 of the bill.

Providing a budget and recommended appropriations to fund that budget on a biennial basis is a constitutional duty of the executive branch of government. The legislature can neither add to nor diminish that constitutional duty. This bill attempts to tell the executive branch what it must include in its budget.

If enacted into law, Section 22 would require the executive budget to include recommendations as to expenditures in future biennia. Essentially, this provision would require that the executive budget include appropriation recommendations for the next three biennia, which is neither reasonable nor practical.

While we are willing to, and, in fact, do engage in a process of projecting future expenditures with the legislature during the legislative session, it is not appropriate for the legislature to direct the budget recommendations.

Section 22 also interferes with the constitutional obligation of the executive branch to recommend appropriation legislation, in essence, to recommend its executive budget.

It requires that the appropriation bills submitted by the executive be the legislatively approved budget from the prior biennium. Any executive recommendations, more or less, could only be submitted subsequently as amendments to the legislative budget.

Section 23 contains similar restrictions with regard to the executive branch recommendations for capital projects within the capital construction bill and, for the same reasons, is flawed.

For the reasons stated, I have signed HB 1015, but have vetoed Sections 22 and 23 of the bill.

RE: HB 1301

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I hereby veto HB 1301 and return it unsigned.

If enacted into law, HB 1301 would require that a detailed report of outstanding bonds and bonding authorizations be included in the executive budget recommendation.

This same information is already provided to the legislature in the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report issued by the Office of Management and Budget. Adding it to the executive budget recommendation is duplicative and not part of the budget recommendation. This makes the executive budget recommendation more difficult to use and understand.

Because the requirement is redundant, I veto HB 1301.

RE: Item Veto of Section 11 in SB 2012

Dear President Dalrymple:

I have signed SB 2012, the appropriation bill for the Department of Transportation, but disapprove and veto Section 11 of the bill.

Section 11 diverts motor vehicle excise taxes from the general fund to another fund before we have determined the revenue needs for future biennia.

This is particularly important because the legislature did not provide access to reserve funds in the budget stabilization fund should the $10 million ending fund balance be inadequate to meet the state's revenue needs.

This diversion of funds increases the risk of an allotment, or could force the calling of a special session of the legislature to deal with future revenue requirements.

For these reasons, I disapprove and veto Section 11 of SB 2012.

WHEREAS, Congress has the power and responsibility to enforce the guarantees contained in the 5th, 13th, and 14th Amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America, which guarantee to all persons the right not to be deprived of life without due process of law, the right to the equal protection of the law, and the right to be free from involuntary servitude and the power to enforce such guarantees includes the power to expand the definition of persons entitled to such guarantees; and

WHEREAS, abortion is a deprivation of the right to life and the right to the equal protection of the law and is the ultimate manifestation of the involuntary servitude of one human being to another;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

LAKE OAHE WATER RETENTION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the United States Army Corps of Engineers to retain sufficient water in the upper portion of Lake Oahe to ensure a stable water supply for the residents of the Standing Rock Indian Reservation and surrounding communities, complimenting the Governor and the Attorney General on their efforts, and urging them to continue their actions to ensure federal officials retain sufficient water in the upper portion of Lake Oahe to protect the health and well-being of the citizens of the area.

WHEREAS, the Pick-Sloan Project, as authorized in the Flood Control Act of 1944, as amended, provides major flood control benefits, recreational benefits, water supply benefits, hydropower benefits, and navigational benefits for the downstream states of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas through construction of large reservoirs in states lying upstream from these states; and

WHEREAS, the Pick-Sloan Project reservoirs have been in place for many years, thus providing downstream states in the Missouri River Basin all the benefits promised in the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, construction of facilities under the Pick-Sloan Project has, to date, resulted in billions of dollars in flood protection to downstream interests and has allowed these downstream interests to develop the original flood plain of the Missouri River for industrial, municipal, and agricultural uses; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has directed the United States Army Corps of Engineers to build, operate, and maintain all the features of the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, due to unprecedented drought in the upper Missouri River Basin, the upper basin reservoirs, including Lake Oahe, are at historically low levels; and

WHEREAS, the low level of Lake Oahe has made it difficult and expensive for residents of the Standing Rock Indian Reservation and surrounding communities to access the reservoir for drinking water and other domestic, recreational, and agricultural purposes, thus endangering their health and well-being;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to implement the 2003-04 emergency agricultural disaster assistance legislation in the same manner as the 2001-02 legislation.

WHEREAS, during the 2004 growing season, the state of North Dakota experienced severe and extreme weather conditions which had disastrous results to the agricultural economy; and

WHEREAS, the severe and extreme weather conditions also caused drought, which resulted in ranchers having to reduce the size of their herds; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress has enacted emergency agricultural disaster assistance legislation that parallels the agricultural disaster assistance legislation of 2001-02; and

WHEREAS, the United States Secretary of Agriculture is implementing the emergency agricultural disaster assistance legislation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-ninth Legislative Assembly urges the United States Secretary of Agriculture to implement the 2003-04 emergency agricultural disaster assistance legislation in the same manner as the 2001-02 legislation; to specifically include paragraph 83 of the 5-DAP handbook, which grants to the Farm Service Agency's Technical Committee the authority to provide quality loss payments according to commodity market discounts prevalent in each state; to use pertinent commodity price data to accurately calculate the value of a commodity for purposes of imposing the 95 percent cap; and to recognize losses associated with herd reductions during the year of loss and losses associated with continuing herd reductions due to drought conditions; and

A concurrent resolution urging the North Dakota Attorney General to support legal action to prevent the importation of live cattle and edible beef products from Canada and other countries where bovine spongiform encephalopathy is present.

WHEREAS, on January 4, 2005, the United States Department of Agriculture published a final rule relaxing restrictions on imports of live cattle and edible beef products from countries known to have bovine spongiform encephalopathy; and

WHEREAS, despite the discovery of bovine spongiform encephalopathy-infected cattle in Canada and the subsequent discovery of a bovine spongiform encephalopathy-infected cow that had been imported from Canada, and in contravention of the United States Department of Agriculture's preexisting policy and international practice not to accept cattle or edible bovine products from a country with bovine spongiform encephalopathy infection, United States Department of Agriculture representatives, up to and including the Secretary of Agriculture and other administration officials, made numerous statements in advance of any meaningful scientific analysis and before completion of the rulemaking process; and

WHEREAS, the United States Department of Agriculture's failure to apply precautionary principles inherent in the legislation it implements and its emphasis of certain economic interests and foreign policy concerns over the health and well-being of United States consumers, cattle, and cattle producers makes the United States Department of Agriculture's issuance of the final rule an action in excess of and inconsistent with its statutory authority; and

WHEREAS, the North Dakota cattle industry is best served by such decisions being based upon sound science rather than political and foreign policy consideration; and

WHEREAS, a legal action enjoining implementation of the United States Department of Agriculture rule and enjoining the importation into the United States of all live cattle from Canada and all edible beef products derived from cattle of Canadian origin has been filed in the United States district court in Billings, Montana; and

WHEREAS, a survey of key leaders representing cities, counties, reservations, public housing authorities, banks, realtors, apartment associations, builders, and statewide housing organizations found that three out of four key leaders expressed the need for the state to play a role in increasing the supply of adequate and affordable housing; and

WHEREAS, the quality of life for homeless individuals and families with children in this state is threatened by a lack of affordable and supportive housing and services; and

NONPROFIT GOVERNMENT SELF-INSURANCE STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the feasibility and desirability of authorizing nonprofit organizations to participate in a government liability self-insurance pool.

WHEREAS, many nonprofit organizations in North Dakota qualify for 501(c)(3) recognition by the federal Internal Revenue Service; and

WHEREAS, 501(c)(3) organizations provide medical and recreational services, human services, and cultural activities that may not otherwise be available; and

WHEREAS, nonprofit organizations are generally supported through charitable contributions or government contracts; and

WHEREAS, many nonprofit organizations have experienced significantly increased insurance costs in recent years even though legal claims against nonprofit organizations in this state have been minimal compared to similar organizations in other states; and

WHEREAS, although political subdivisions in the state have maintained low insurance rates through a government liability self-insurance pool, nonprofit organizations have not been afforded the opportunity to participate in the self-insurance pool; and

WHEREAS, allowing nonprofit organizations to participate in a government liability self-insurance pool would reduce costs for political subdivisions that contract for services with nonprofit organizations and reduce the portion of contributions made by the public to nonprofit organizations which must be devoted to insurance costs; and

WHEREAS, a study of methods through which nonprofit organizations could be included within a government liability self-insurance pool may determine an effective solution for reducing insurance costs for nonprofit organizations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

WHEREAS, during the 2001-03 biennium, the state's inmate population increased 9.5 percent and reached an all-time high of 1,299 inmates in September 2004; and

WHEREAS, in 2001 drug crimes surpassed property crimes as the largest category of crimes for which offenders were incarcerated in the state's corrections system; and

WHEREAS, the increasing use and manufacture of methamphetamine by state residents has resulted in drug offenders being the fastest-growing segment of the state's inmate population for the third straight biennium; and

WHEREAS, recent developments in criminal justice indicate the emergence of a national movement in favor of treating, rather than incarcerating, nonviolent drug possession offenders; and

WHEREAS, these developments include drug courts, local policies that favor treatment, and statewide initiatives that divert nonviolent drug offenders to treatment instead of incarceration;

WHEREAS, there is a significant number of North Dakota children who have or are at risk of getting chronic physical, developmental, behavioral, or emotional conditions that require special health care needs; and

WHEREAS, in an attempt to address child special health care needs, North Dakota has adopted Part C of the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), which provides early intervention services for children from birth until age 3 and has adopted Part B, which provides ongoing early intervention services for children from age 3 to school; and

WHEREAS, although early intervention services offered under IDEA include case management and Medicaid, the qualifying requirements for these programs become more stringent under Part B, resulting in the eligibility disqualification of children during the transition from Part C to Part B; and

WHEREAS, 31 percent of the North Dakota children with special health care needs have inadequate health insurance; and

SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM STRENGTHENING URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the President and Congress to reform and strengthen the Social Security system in order to ensure its viability for future generations.

WHEREAS, the President is committed to keeping the promise of Social Security for today's retirees and those nearing retirement while strengthening Social Security for our children and grandchildren; and

WHEREAS, Social Security provides a critical foundation of income for retired and disabled workers; and

WHEREAS, Social Security benefits constitute 90 percent of total income for one-third of Americans over age 65; and

WHEREAS, 114,047 North Dakotans are receiving Social Security benefits; and

WHEREAS, 81,968 North Dakotans are receiving Social Security retirement benefits; and

WHEREAS, 12,652 North Dakotans are receiving Social Security disability benefits; and

WHEREAS, 19,427 North Dakotans are receiving Social Security survivor's benefits; and

WHEREAS, 4,740 North Dakota children under age 18 are receiving Social Security benefits; and

WHEREAS, the trustees of the Social Security trust fund estimate that doing nothing to fix the Social Security system will cost Americans, as well as their children and grandchildren, an estimated $10.4 trillion; and

WHEREAS, the trustees of the Social Security trust fund estimate that by the year 2018, the Social Security system will begin to pay out more in benefits than it takes in in revenues, with shortfalls growing larger with each passing year; and

WHEREAS, the trustees of the Social Security trust fund estimate that by the year 2042, when workers who are now in their mid-twenties begin to retire, the Social Security system will be bankrupt unless action is taken now to save it; and

WHEREAS, Social Security is sound for today's seniors and for those nearing retirement but needs to be reformed to ensure that Social Security is there for today's younger workers; and

WHEREAS, as a result of demographic changes, the current Social Security system will be unable to pay benefits scheduled for the children and grandchildren of today's beneficiaries unless enormous payroll tax increases or huge benefit cuts are enacted; and

WHEREAS, one of the tests of true leadership is to confront problems and not pass them on to the next generation; and

WHEREAS, to ensure the long-term viability of the Social Security system, the President and Congress can and should make some adjustments to improve its operation while preserving its essential character as the foundation of America's retirement system; and

WHEREAS, the President has vowed not to change benefits for today's retirees or near-retirees but desires that Social Security be permanently strengthened for our children and grandchildren, without raising payroll taxes; and

WHEREAS, the President favors voluntary personal accounts as part of a comprehensive solution to give younger workers the option to set aside a portion of their payroll taxes in an account they own and control; and

WHEREAS, workers who do not choose to have a personal account would continue to draw benefits as Americans have long done from the Social Security program; and

WHEREAS, personal accounts will provide Americans who choose to participate with an opportunity to share in the benefits of economic growth by participating in markets through sound investments;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-ninth Legislative Assembly urges the President and Congress of the United States to reform and strengthen the Social Security system in order to ensure its viability for future generations; and

INSURANCE REGULATION NONINTERFERENCE URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to oppose federal legislation that would impair, erode, and limit the ability of state governments to regulate the business of insurance.

WHEREAS, regulation, oversight, and consumer protection have traditionally and historically been powers reserved to state governments; and

WHEREAS, state legislatures are the proper governmental entities to determine public policy on insurance issues as enacted under the federal McCarran-Ferguson Act of 1945, which reserved the regulation of the business of insurance to the states; and

WHEREAS, state legislatures are more responsive to the needs of their constituents and are more knowledgeable regarding the market conditions that may exist in individual states and the need for unique insurance products and regulation to meet their specific market demands; and

WHEREAS, state legislatures and other organizations such as the National Conference of Insurance Legislators, National Conference of State Legislatures, and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners have recognized difficulties in the marketplace that have created regulatory hurdles in certain states or delayed speed-to-market of insurance products; and

WHEREAS, state legislatures, the National Conference of Insurance Legislators, and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners have and continue to address uniformity issues between states by the adoption of model laws that address market conduct, product approval, agent licensing, and rate deregulation; and

WHEREAS, many state governments derive general revenues from the regulation of the business of insurance, including $30,928,373 from premium taxes collected in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004, by the state of North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the proposed federal State Modernization and Regulatory Transparency (SMART) Act, which would create mandatory federal insurance standards preempting state law and undermining the sovereignty of state governments, is being contemplated by certain members of the United States Congress; and

WHEREAS, the proposed SMART Act would "federalize" insurance regulation and threaten the power of state legislatures, governors, insurance commissioners, and attorneys general to oversee, regulate, and investigate the business of insurance, thereby impairing, eroding, and limiting their ability to protect the interests of their constituents; and

WHEREAS, many states, including North Dakota, have recently enacted and amended state insurance laws to modernize market regulation and provide insurers with greater ability to respond to changes in market conditions;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

WHEREAS, North Dakota has diverse terrain and four distinct seasons that allow for the replication of similar terrain and weather conditions of unstable regions of the world; and

SCHOOL DISTRICT AND LIBRARY FUNDING STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study school district and library funding sources to determine if a method can be found to provide an incentive to reduce school district and library property tax levies.

WHEREAS, property taxes levied by school districts and libraries constitute a majority of all property taxes levied in the state; and

WHEREAS, school districts and libraries that reduce property tax levies receive a reduction in foundation aid allocations and reduced property tax levy authority in future years under current law; and

WHEREAS, school district and library funding sources should be examined to determine whether there are methods available to encourage reduction of property tax levies by school districts and libraries; and

WHEREAS, foundation aid allocations may encourage school districts and libraries to determine the maximum property tax levy that may be imposed and build a budget around that amount to avoid loss of state funding;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study school district and library funding sources to determine if a method can be found which would provide an incentive to reduce school district property tax levies; and

WHEREAS, many areas and localities in eastern North Dakota do not have sufficient quantities of water to ensure a dependable, long-term supply; and

WHEREAS, the state of North Dakota lost more than 500,000 acres of valuable river bottom lands as a result of construction in the Missouri River reservoirs under the federal Flood Control Act of 1944, causing an annual loss of millions of dollars in economic gross product and an additional annual loss in personal income as well as other serious impacts to individuals, political subdivisions, and North Dakota's Indian nations; and

WHEREAS, operation of the Pick-Sloan Missouri River dams has provided great benefits to the downstream states but relatively few benefits to the areas of the state directly affected by the project; and

WHEREAS, areas affected by the Pick-Sloan Missouri River dams have been working diligently to bring about some economic recovery to help alleviate the losses caused by the project during the last 50 years; and

WHEREAS, federal management of the reservoirs in North Dakota to ensure plentiful water deliveries to downstream states has led to dangerously low water conditions on the federally managed lakes in North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the overwhelming majority of the state's citizens prefer to receive long-term care services in the least restrictive environment, maintaining dignity and independence as long as possible; and

WHEREAS, long-term care services in North Dakota need to be directed toward institutionalization and alternative care; and

WHEREAS, the Uniform Trust Code provides a comprehensive model for codifying the law on trusts; and

WHEREAS, the Uniform Trust Code was completed by the Uniform Law Commissioners in 2001, with amendments in 2003; and

WHEREAS, the American Bar Association and AARP have approved the Uniform Trust Code; and

WHEREAS, at least 10 states have enacted the Uniform Trust Code and a majority of the states in the nation have created study groups to review the Uniform Trust Code before enactment; and

WHEREAS, the North Dakota Bankers Association, North Dakota Credit Union League, and State Bar Association of North Dakota opposed revising the law on trusts as proposed by Senate Bill No. 2122; and

WHEREAS, an interim study of the Uniform Trust Code would provide opponents of a comprehensive law on trusts as provided by the Uniform Trust Code the opportunity to identify the specific provisions that would be detrimental to settlors, beneficiaries, and trustees and those provisions that should be modified to make North Dakota unique in the area of laws governing trusts;

UCC REVISED ARTICLE 1 STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the feasibility and desirability of adopting Revised Article 1 of the Uniform Commercial Code, General Provisions.

WHEREAS, the Uniform Commercial Code governs commercial transactions, including sales and leasing of goods, transfer of funds, commercial paper, bank deposits and collections, letters of credit, bulk transfers, warehouse receipts, bills of lading, investment securities, and secured transactions; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of the Uniform Commercial Code is to establish a uniform set of rules to govern commercial transactions, which are often conducted across state lines; and

WHEREAS, since adoption of the Uniform Commercial Code in 1965, changes and developments in commercial law have resulted in revision of the entire Uniform Commercial Code between 1985 and 2003; and

WHEREAS, the Revised Article 1 clarifies when the Uniform Commercial Code is to apply to commercial transactions, allows parties to determine which laws best govern their transactions and thus promotes interstate business transactions, and promotes continued use and development of electronic transactions; and

WHEREAS, Minnesota, to which much of the commerce of this state flows, enacted Revised Article 1 in 2004; and

WHEREAS, the version of Article 1 introduced in North Dakota as Senate Bill No. 2143 (2005) was modeled on Article 1 as enacted in Minnesota; and

WHEREAS, continued economic development in this state depends on up-to-date commercial law and states outside the mainstream of advances in commercial law will be at a competitive disadvantage in attracting and maintaining commerce and industry; and

WHEREAS, the North Dakota Bankers Association and North Dakota Credit Union League opposed harmonizing the various articles of the Uniform Commercial Code through Revised Article 1; and

WHEREAS, an interim study of Revised Article 1 would provide opponents of harmonization of the various articles of the Uniform Commercial Code an opportunity to identify those provisions that should be unique to North Dakota;

WHEREAS, child care is the 10th largest occupation in the state, with annual revenues generated by the child care industry exceeding $123 million; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota families are very reliant on the child care industry, due in part to the fact the state has one of the highest rates of multiple jobholders in the nation; and

WHEREAS, a North Dakota family with a median family income for the state, $43,654 in 1999, spends approximately 10 to 12 percent of their gross earnings on the care of one infant; and

WHEREAS, availability of affordable, quality child care impacts the ability of the state to attract and retain businesses;

FENCE LAWS STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the laws pertaining to fences located outside the corporate limits of the state's cities and the relevancy of those laws in the 21st century.

WHEREAS, fences are a dominant feature of our lives and our history; and

WHEREAS, settlers have fenced millions of acres and countless rivals have seized post, rail, board, and wire to stake a claim for home and happiness; and

WHEREAS, the fences that skirt our properties define ownership and identity and allow neighbors and nations to divide and protect, as well as to offend and defend through the boundaries the fences build; and

WHEREAS, legislation regarding fences was first enacted in North Dakota in 1903 and remains substantially unchanged; and

WHEREAS, after more than 100 years, laws pertaining to fences, fence viewers, and attendant issues of liability should be reviewed to determine their relevancy in the 21st century;

HIGHWAY AND TRANSIT FUNDING REAUTHORIZATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the Administration and Congress to enact promptly a well-funded and multiyear reauthorization of highway and transit programs.

WHEREAS, the Transportation Equity Act of the 21st Century (TEA-21), authorizing funding for federal-aid highway, transit, and safety programs, expired on September 30, 2003; and

WHEREAS, federal aid has continued to be passed on to the states through a series of short-term extensions; and

WHEREAS, the short-term program extensions enacted by Congress have forced states and localities to delay construction of critical highway and transit projects, including safety improvements; and

WHEREAS, further delay will increase project costs and further dilute the purchasing power of federal transportation dollars; and

WHEREAS, a well-funded federal-aid highway and transit program is essential to the economy and quality of life in North Dakota by creating and maintaining jobs in North Dakota, facilitating commerce, and enabling North Dakotans to travel safely for business and personal activities; and

WHEREAS, the formula for distribution of funds in TEA-21 provided a substantial net influx of federal transportation funds to North Dakota, which is essential and proper because our state has long stretches of federal highways and relatively few citizens to finance, maintain, and improve these highways;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-ninth Legislative Assembly urges the Administration and Congress to enact promptly a well-funded and multiyear reauthorization of highway and transit programs; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that under any federal funding, North Dakota's share of overall program funds be at least as favorable as the state's share under TEA-21; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Secretary of the United States Department of Transportation, and to each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.

TAX AND EDUCATION FUNDING POLICY STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study state and local taxes and other funding sources that may be used to more equitably spread the responsibility for funding elementary and secondary education, reduce reliance on property taxes, and enhance equity and adequacy of funding for elementary and secondary education.

WHEREAS, continued concerns expressed by citizens about the current level of reliance on property taxes indicate that many citizens believe that existing tax and funding policy for elementary and secondary education is unfair to property owners and to students in property poor districts; and

WHEREAS, it is critical to all state citizens that adequate funding for elementary and secondary education be equitably allocated among tax types and taxpayers to provide stable and reliable funding to provide each student a comparable educational opportunity and allocate to each taxpayer an appropriate share of the cost of providing students a quality education; and

WHEREAS, rates and bases of taxes imposed by the state and political subdivisions must be thoroughly examined to determine whether they adequately and appropriately allocate tax burdens among taxpayers; and

WHEREAS, school funding equity and adequacy issues continue to be among the most difficult for the Legislative Assembly to resolve and have been the subject of court challenges; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of the state look to the Legislative Assembly to provide an adequate and equitable resolution of fair taxation and school funding equity and adequacy issues; and

WHEREAS, the complexity and interrelationship of equitable tax and funding policy for elementary and secondary education demands thorough study to develop proposals and background information as a starting point for consideration by the Legislative Assembly;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study state and local taxes and other funding sources that may be used to more equitably spread the responsibility for funding elementary and secondary education, reduce reliance on property tax revenue and ensure the property tax relief is permanent, and enhance equity and adequacy of funding for elementary and secondary education; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the interim committee to which the Legislative Council assigns this study may adopt and forward to the Legislative Council proposed legislation without committee recommendation; and

MARIS HOME RUN RECORD REINSTATEMENT URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the Commissioner of Major League Baseball to reinstate Roger Maris as holder of the single-season major league baseball home run record.

WHEREAS, during the first 127 seasons of major league baseball no player recorded more than the 61 home runs hit by Roger Maris in 1961; and

WHEREAS, in a span of four years the single-season high number of home runs from the first 127 seasons of major league baseball was surpassed six times by three players, and the likelihood of this occurrence is so statistically remote as to tax the faith of any baseball fan, and each player to perform this feat is widely suspected of using performance-enhancing substances; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has seen fit to conduct hearings to investigate the extent of usage of performance-enhancing substances by major league baseball players; and

WHEREAS, baseball fans, more than any other sports fans, cherish the records and history of the game and the integrity of the players who rightfully deserve to be recognized for excelling without cheating; and

WHEREAS, a thorough review of the validity of baseball records should be initiated by reinstating the Roger Maris single-season home run record, with the objective of reinstating the integrity of baseball by restoring records to those who have established them through physical and mental ability without the aid of performance-enhancing substances;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-ninth Legislative Assembly urges the Commissioner of Major League Baseball to reinstate the single-season major league home run record established by Roger Maris as the valid single-season home run record for major league baseball; and
