14 private property from the animal's owner or custodian if probable cause exists to 15 believe that the animal is being held in violation of this chapter or rules adopted 16 under this chapter. Unless it is shown that there exists an exigency or occasion as 17 to require the immediate confiscation, an animal may not be seized until a hearing 18 is held allowing the owner or custodian to show cause why the animal should not 19 be confiscated. If exigent circumstances exist, an ex parte order may be issued 20 authorizing seizure of the animal if probable cause appears to the court that:
21 a. The animal is in immediate danger of being released into the wild, destroyed, 22 concealed, removed from the state, or sold or given to an innocent party.
23 b. The animal is infected with any contagious or infectious disease capable of 24 being spread to animals or humans.

25 All animals seized must be held subject to the order of a court of competent 26 jurisdiction. Whenever probable cause exists for a preconfiscation hearing, the 27 owner or custodian of the animal must be notified in writing that, on the day fixed 28 for a hearing, which may not be less than three days from the date of receipt of 29 notice, the owner or custodian may appear or show cause why the animal should 30 not be confiscated. Notice must be delivered to the owner or custodian by 31 personal service or registered mail to that person's last-known mailing address.

1 An affidavit of service or the post-office registration receipt signed by the owner or 2 custodian is prima facie evidence of service of notice.

3 2. Upon request by the person confiscating the animal, the board, the state 4 department of health, the game and fish department, any county sheriff's office,
5 city police department, or other peace officer may provide assistance in any action 6 to seize, impound, confiscate, or quarantine any animal suspected of being held or 7 possessed in violation of this title.

8 3. A court having jurisdiction of an alleged offense under this title or rules adopted 9 under this chapter may order the disposition of all animals that have been 10 confiscated. This order may be entered only after a hearing duly had upon proper 11 notice to the owner or custodian and after a finding by the court that the animal 12 was being held or possessed in violation of this title at the time it was seized.

13 4. When any nontraditional livestock is found to be held or possessed contrary to this 14 chapter, the court may:

15 a. Order the animal to be forfeited by its owner or custodian and that the animal 16 be destroyed or disposed of otherwise. The court may order disposition to a 17 zoo licensed by the animal care program of the animal and plant health
18 inspection service of the United States department of agriculture if the zoo 19 requests possession upon confiscation of the animal; or 20 b. Order the return of custody to the owner or custodian upon compliance with 21 all applicable state and local regulations governing ownership and possession 22 of nontraditional livestock, including payment of any license fees.

23 The court may award reasonable costs of seizure, care, and keeping pending 24 disposition, and attorneys' fees to the agency bringing an action to confiscate any 25 nontraditional livestock under this title.

26 5. Subject to section 32-12.2-02, the owner of an animal may bring a claim for money
27 damages, and may recover the amount of actual damages incurred during the time 28 of seizure, if the owner establishes that before the animal was seized under this 29 chapter, the agency knew or recklessly failed to determine that the animal, at the 30 time of seizure, was lawfully owned and licensed in this state or that the animal 31 was a domestic animal not subject to seizure under this chapter.

SECTION 8. AMENDMENT. Section 36-01-13 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

36-01-13. Diseased animal to be reported - Records exempt.

 4. ~~The~~ the state veterinarian or any other agent or representative of the commissioner; ~~or~~
 2. ~~Any law enforcement officer of the county or city in which the animal is present. Notice may be accomplished by sending, by registered mail, a copy of the order to the owner or keeper of the animal, or by having an agent or representative of the board, ~~or a law enforcement officer,~~ serve a copy of the order upon the owner or keeper of the animal. Within twenty-four hours after receiving notice of the order, the owner or keeper may file a protest against the killing of the animal with the board or with the person who has ordered the animal killed. The protest must state under oath, that to the best of the knowledge and belief of the person making the protest, the animal is not infected with any contagious or infectious disease. An examination of the animal or laboratory reports involved then must be made by three experts, one of whom must be

1 appointed by the board, one by the person making the protest, and the third by the two thus 2 appointed. All the experts must be persons learned in veterinary medicine and surgery and
