

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSEFifty-seventh Legislative Assembly

* * * * *

Bismarck, March 21, 2001

The House convened at 1:00 p.m., with Speaker Bernstein presiding.

The prayer was offered by Pastor Bob Nordvall, Charity Lutheran Church, Bismarck.

The roll was called and all members were present except Representatives Nicholas and Rennerfeldt.

A quorum was declared by the Speaker.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. MUELLER: Mr. Speaker: I rise on a point of personal privilege and request that my remarks be printed in the Journal.

REQUEST

REP. MUELLER REQUESTED that his remarks be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.

Ladies and gentlemen, I am proud to rise today in recognition of National Agriculture week. This is a prime opportunity to everyone to reflect upon the contributions agriculture has made to progress and prosperity in the world. North Dakota farmers and ranchers are to be acknowledged and celebrated for their hard work and dedication to feeding the world.

The face of agriculture has changed dramatically in recent years. Today's farmers and ranchers compete in a global market, a new economy, that presents challenges and opportunity. Today's farmer is a businessman, an entrepreneur, a soil scientist and a conservationist, a mechanical engineer, an animal caretaker, an accountant, a computer programmer and a financial planner. More than likely, that farmer is also a spouse and parent, active in the community and church. That same farmer is also ready to come to a neighbor's aid when trouble strikes.

North Dakota farmers and ranchers are meeting those challenges with courage.

Agriculture is still our leading industry--$2.8 billion industry with exports valued at more than a billion dollars.

More than 90 percent of the land in North Dakota - almost 40 million acres - is dedicated to farming and ranching.

Agriculture and ag-related businesses and industries employ thousands of North Dakotans.

Our farms and ranches provide food and habitat for 75 percent of the state's wildlife.

Although the past few years have been tough, the ag economy will survive because its goal is a noble one: feeding the world. During this National Agriculture week, and always, let's show our appreciation for the contributions of North Dakota farmers and ranchers. Favorable policy decisions and support at the supermarket will help this all-important industry thrive in the 21st century.

26.1-26-04.1. Fees.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, an insurance producer acting as an agent of an insured as provided under section 26.1-26-07 may charge a consumer a fee if:
 - a. The fee is disclosed to the consumer in a manner that separately identifies the fee and the premium and states that the insurance producer is entitled to receive a commission from the insurer for selling, soliciting, or negotiating the insurance;
 - b. The fee is not calculated as a percentage of the premium;
 - c. The fee is not refunded, forgiven, waived, offset, or reduced by any commission earned or received for any policy or coverage sold;
 - d. The amount of the fee and the consumer's obligation to pay the fee are not conditioned upon the occurrence of a future event or condition, such as the purchase, cancellation, lapse, declination, or nonrenewal of insurance;

- e. The insurance producer discloses to the consumer that the fee is being charged by the insurance producer and not by the insurance company, neither state law nor the insurance company requires that the insurance producer charge the fee, and the fee is not refundable;
 - f. The consumer consents in writing to the fee; and
 - g. The insurance producer, in charging the fee, does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, national origin, religion, disability, health status, age, marital status, or geographic location and does not unfairly discriminate between individuals of essentially the same class and of essentially the same hazard or expectation of life.
2. - a. Private passenger automobile.
 - b. Homeowners, including coverage for tenants or condominium owners; owner-occupied fire, dwelling, or property coverage; personal umbrella liability; or any other personal lines-related coverage whether sold as a separate policy or as an endorsement to another personal lines policy.
 - c. Individual life insurance.
 - d. Individual sickness or accident insurance.
 - e. Disability income policies.
 - f. Credit insurance products.
3. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an insurance producer acting as a broker for the insured under section 26.1-26-07 may charge a fee for insurance producer services in connection with a policy issued if the producer provides the consumer with prior disclosure of the fee and of the services to be provided.
4. In the event of a dispute between an insurance producer and a consumer regarding any disclosure required by this section, the insurance producer has the burden of proving that the disclosure was made."
