11 rules, must be withheld from an inmate and deposited in a separate account for the 12 inmate and may not be made available to the inmate until the inmate's release 13 from the penitentiary, except as authorized by the warden. The remainder of an 14 inmate's earnings must be made available to the inmate on a regular basis.
- 15 2. Inmates may, in writing, authorize the warden or designee to deposit any of their 16 accumulated earnings from the prison industries, hobby, work release, or any other 17 prison program in an interest-earning account in the Bank of North Dakota for the 18 benefit of the inmate. The account must be a two-signature account requiring the 19 inmate's signature and that of an authorized designated officer or employee of the 20 state penitentiary for withdrawal.
- 21 3. The warden may directly deposit an inmate's funds from sources outside of the 24 North Dakota account or if it is necessary for the benefit and protection of the

1 inmate, the warden, upon written explanation to the inmate, shall deposit an 2 inmate's funds from sources outside the penitentiary into a Bank of North Dakota

12 inmate's penitentiary account or Bank of North Dakota two-signature account, 13 without the inmate's signature, to meet the inmate's legitimate financial obligations.
14 Before the funds may be withdrawn, the inmate must first receive written notice
15 and be provided a penitentiary administrative hearing with the right to ~~penitentiary~~
16 ~~staff assistance and the right to appeal~~ according to the director of the department
17 of corrections and rehabilitation rules. An inmate is not entitled to prior written 18 notice, administrative hearing, or right to an appeal to the department of 19 corrections and rehabilitation when funds are to be withdrawn for payment of a 20 court-ordered obligation, including child support, provided the inmate has had 21 notice and an opportunity to be heard in the court proceedings.

- 22 5. The warden may pay an inmate all funds in the inmate's spending account, less 23 the inmate's outstanding obligations to the penitentiary, when the inmate is
