

Number of North Dakota Residents Receiving State-Supported Home and Community-Based Services - 2007 and Potential Number in 2020

The schedules below provide information on the number of qualified service providers and the number of individuals receiving home and community-based services in December 2007 under the Medicaid personal care option, service payments for elderly and disabled (SPED), expanded SPED programs, and the Medicaid waiver for home and community-based services. There are a number of individuals receiving home and community-based services which are not reflected on these schedules since they are paying for services privately or from other sources. The schedules also project the potential number of home and community-based service recipients of these programs in 2020 based on the number of home and community-based recipients in 2007 as a percentage of total population by age category applied to population projections for 2020.
