Sixty-eighth Legislative Assembly of North Dakota

HOUSE BILL NO. 1279

Introduced by

Representatives Roers Jones, Heinert, Jonas, Louser, Schauer, Thomas Senators Barta, Larson, Lee

- 1 A BILL for an Act to amend and reenact section 65-01-15.1 of the North Dakota Century Code,
- 2 relating to the presumption of compensability for firefighters and law enforcement officers.for an
- 3 Act to create and enact section 65-01-15.2 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to
- 4 compensability for cardiac events for firefighters and law enforcement officers; to amend and
- 5 reenact sections 65-01-15 and 65-01-15.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to
- 6 documentation required for firefighters and law enforcement officers and the presumption of
- 7 compensability for firefighters and law enforcement officers; to provide for retroactive
- 8 application; and to declare an emergency.

9 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

10 SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-01-15.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is-11 amended and reenacted as follows: 12 65-01-15.1. Presumption of compensability for certain conditions of full-time paid 13 firefighters and law enforcement officers. 14 Any condition or impairment of health of a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement 15 officer caused by lung or respiratory disease, hypertension, heart disease, or an-16 exposure to a bloodborne pathogen as defined by section 23-07.5-01 occurring in the 17 course of employment, or occupational cancer in a full-time paid firefighter, is-18 presumed to have been suffered in the line of duty. The presumption may be rebutted 19 by clear and convincing evidence the condition or impairment is not work-related. 20 2 As used in this section, an occupational cancer is one which arises out of employment 21 as a full-time paid firefighter and is due to injury due to exposure to smoke, fumes, or-22 carcinogenic, poisonous, toxic, or chemical substances while in the performance of 23 active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.

Sixty-eighth Legislative Assembly

	I
1	3.	a. A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit
2		provided under this section unless that full-time paid firefighter or law
3		enforcement officer has completed five years of continuous service and has-
4		successfully passed a medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of 5		such a condition. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense, a medical
6		examination upon employment, for any employee subject to this section.
7		b. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no
8		expense, at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years
9		of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three-
10		years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic-
11		medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of 12		the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact
13		with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and
14		infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including-
15		measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and
16		diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating
17		cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.
18		c. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk-
19		group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future
20		medical examination.
21		d. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered
22		under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a-
23		compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of 24		the condition nor the period of disability may exceed fifty-six days.
25		e. This section does not affect an employee's responsibility to document that the 26		employee has not used tobacco as required under section 65-01-15. Results of 27		the examination must be used in rebuttal to a presumption afforded under this-
28		section.
29	     4.  	For purposes of this section, "law enforcement officer" means a personan individual
30		who is licensed to perform peace officer law enforcement duties under chapter 12-63-
31		and is employed full time by the bureau of criminal investigation, the game and fish-

Sixty-eighth Legislative Assembly

	5
1	department, the state highway patrol, the parole and probation division, the North
2	Dakota state university police department, the North Dakota state college of science
3	police department, the university of North Dakota police department, a county sheriff's
4	department, a city police department, or the parks and recreation department pursuant
5	to section 55-08-04.
6	5. The presumption does not include a condition or impairment of health of a full-time
7	paid firefighter or law enforcement officer, who has been employed for ten years or
8	less, if the condition or impairment is diagnosed more than two years after the
9	employment as a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer ends. The
10	presumption also does not include a condition or impairment of health of a full-time
11	paid firefighter or law enforcement officer, who has been employed more than ten
12	years, if the condition or impairment is diagnosed more than five years after the
13	employment as a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer ends.
14	SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-01-15 of the North Dakota Century Code is
15	amended and reenacted as follows:
16	65-01-15. Yearly documentation required for firefighter and law enforcement officer.
17	Except for benefits for an exposure to a bloodborne pathogen as defined by section
18	23-07.5-01 occurring in the course of employment, a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement
19	officer who uses tobacco is not eligible for the benefits provided under sections
20	65-01-15.1 and 65-01-15.2, unless the full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer
21	provides yearly documentation from a health care provider which indicates the full-time paid
22	firefighter or law enforcement officer has not used tobacco for the preceding two years.
23	SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 65-01-15.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is
24	amended and reenacted as follows:
25	65-01-15.1. Presumption of compensability for certain conditions of full-time paid
26	firefighters and law enforcement officers.
27	1. Any condition or impairment of health of a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement
28	officer caused by lung or respiratory disease, hypertension, heart disease, or an 29	exposure to a bloodborne pathogen as defined by section 23-07.5-01 occurring in the 30	course of employment, or occupational cancer in a full-time paid firefighter, is

1       presumed to have been suffered in the line of duty. The presumption may be rebutted         2       by clear and convincing evidence the condition or impairment is not work-related.         3       2. As used in this section, an occupational cancer is one which arises out of employment         4       as a full-time paid firefighter and is due to injury due to exposure to smoke, fumes, or         5       carcinogenic, poisonous, toxic, or chemical substances while in the performance of         6       active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.         7       3. A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit         9       provided under this section unless that full-time paid service outside the         9       officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a         10       medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five.         12       state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon         13       employment, for any employee subject to this section.         14
3       2. As used in this section, an occupational cancer is one which arises out of employment         4       as a full-time paid firefighter and is due to injury due to exposure to smoke, fumes, or         5       carcinogenic, poisonous, toxic, or chemical substances while in the performance of         6       active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.         7       3. A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit         9       officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a         10       medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five         12       state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon         13       employment, for any employee subject to this section.         14       a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no         15       expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years         16       of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three         17       years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic         18       medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of         19       the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact         20       with and an exposure to hazardous m	1	ţ	presumed to have been suffered in the line of duty. The presumption may be rebutted
4       as a full-time paid firefighter and is due to injury due to exposure to smoke, fumes, or         5       carcinogenic, poisonous, toxic, or chemical substances while in the performance of         6       active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.         7       3. A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit         9       officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a         10       medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five         12       state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon         13       employment, for any employee subject to this section.         14       a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no         15       expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years         16       of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every year. The periodic         18       medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of         19       the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact         20       with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and         21       infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including         22       measurement of height, weight, a	2	k	by clear and convincing evidence the condition or impairment is not work-related.
5       carcinogenic, poisonous, toxic, or chemical substances while in the performance of         6       active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.         7       3. A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit         9       officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a         10       medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five         11       years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the         12       state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon         13       employment, for any employee subject to this section.         14	3	2. /	As used in this section, an occupational cancer is one which arises out of employment
6       active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.         7       3. A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit         8       provided under this section unless that full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement         9       officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a         10       medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five         11       years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the         12       state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon         13       employment, for any employee subject to this section.         14       a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no         expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years         16       of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three         17       years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic         18       medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of         19       the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact         20       with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and         21       infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examin	4	é	as a full-time paid firefighter and is due to injury due to exposure to smoke, fumes, or
<ul> <li>A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit</li> <li>provided under this section unless that full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement</li> <li>officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a</li> <li>medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five</li> <li>years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the</li> <li>state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon</li> <li>employment, for any employee subject to this section.</li> <li>a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no</li> <li>expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years</li> <li>of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three</li> <li>years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic</li> <li>medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of</li> <li>the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact</li> <li>with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and</li> <li>infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including</li> <li>measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and</li> <li>diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol tostindicating</li> <li>cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.</li> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive res</li></ul>	5	c	carcinogenic, poisonous, toxic, or chemical substances while in the performance of
8       provided under this section unless that full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement         9       officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a         10       medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five         11       years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the         12       state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon         13       employment, for any employee subject to this section.         14       a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no         15       expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years         16       of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three         17       years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic         18       medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of         19       the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact         20       with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and         21       infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including         22       measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and         23       diagnostic procedures includin	6	é	active duty as a full-time paid firefighter.
9officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a10medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five11years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the12state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon13employment, for any employee subject to this section.14a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no.15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered	7	3. /	A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit
10medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five11years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the12state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon13employment, for any employee subject to this section.14a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination.28c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall co	8	ł	provided under this section unless that full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement
11years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the12state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon13employment, for any employee subject to this section.14a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	9	c	officer has completed five years of continuous service and has successfully passed a
12state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon13employment, for any employee subject to this section.14a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination.28c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	10	r	medical examination which fails to reveal any evidence of such a condition. The five
13employment, for any employee subject to this section.14a. After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination.28c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	11	7	years of continuous service requirement may include full-time paid service outside the 14a.After the initial medical examination, an employer shall requireprovide at no15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b.If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	12	s	state. An employer shall requireprovide at no expense a medical examination upon
15expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b.If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	13	e	employment, for any employee subject to this section.
16of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b.If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination.28c.If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	14		aAfter the initial medical examination, an employer shall require provide at no
17years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic18medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b.If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination.28c.If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	15		expense at least a periodic medical examination as follows: for one to ten years
<ul> <li>medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of</li> <li>the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact</li> <li>with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and</li> <li>infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including</li> <li>measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and</li> <li>diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating</li> <li>cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.</li> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	16		of service, every five years; for eleven to twenty years of service, every three
19the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact20with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and21infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including22measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and23diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b.If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	17		years; and for twenty-one or more years of service, every year. The periodic
<ul> <li>with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and</li> <li>infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including</li> <li>measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and</li> <li>diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating</li> <li>cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.</li> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	18		medical examination, at a minimum, must consist of a general medical history of
<ul> <li>infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including</li> <li>measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and</li> <li>diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating</li> <li>cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.</li> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	19		the individual and the individual's family; an occupational history including contact
<ul> <li>measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and</li> <li>diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating</li> <li>cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.</li> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	20		with and an exposure to hazardous materials, toxic products, contagious and
<ul> <li>diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating</li> <li>cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.</li> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	21		infectious diseases, and to physical hazards; a physical examination including
24cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.25b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk26group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future27medical examination.28c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered29under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a30compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	22		measurement of height, weight, and blood pressure; and laboratory and
<ul> <li>b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk</li> <li>group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>medical examination.</li> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	23		diagnostic procedures including a nonfasting total blood cholesterol testindicating
<ul> <li>26 group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future</li> <li>27 medical examination.</li> <li>28 c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>29 under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>30 compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	24		cardiovascular health to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.
<ul> <li>27 medical examination.</li> <li>28 c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>29 under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>30 compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	25	t	b. If the medical examination reveals that an employee falls into a recognized risk
<ul> <li>c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered</li> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	26		group, the employee must be referred to a qualified health professional for future
<ul> <li>under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a</li> <li>compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of</li> </ul>	27		medical examination.
30 compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of	28	(	c. If a medical examination produces a false positive result for a condition covered
	29		under this section, the organization shall consider the condition to be a
31 the condition nor the period of disability may exceed fifty-six days. This section	30		compensable injury. In the case of a false positive result, neither the coverage of
	31		the condition nor the period of disability may exceed fifty-six days. This section

1	does not affect an employee's responsibility to document that the employee has
2	not used tobacco as required under section 65-01-15. Results of the examination
3	must be used in rebuttal to a presumption afforded under this section.
4	4. For purposes of this section, "law enforcement officer" means a personan individual
5	who is licensed to perform peace officer law enforcement duties under chapter 12-63
6	and is employed full time by the bureau of criminal investigation, the game and fish
7	department, the state highway patrol, the parole and probation division, the North
8	Dakota state university police department, the North Dakota state college of science
9	police department, the university of North Dakota police department, a county sheriff's
10	department, a city police department, or the parks and recreation department pursuant
11	to section 55-08-04.
12	5. The presumption does not include a condition or impairment of health of a full-time
13	paid firefighter or law enforcement officer, who has been employed for ten years or
14	less, if the condition or impairment is diagnosed more than two years after the
15	employment as a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer ends. The
16	presumption also does not include a condition or impairment of health of a full-time
17	paid firefighter or law enforcement officer, who has been employed more than ten
18	years, if the condition or impairment is diagnosed more than five years after the
19	employment as a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer ends.
20	SECTION 3. Section 65-01-15.2 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted
21	as follows:
22	65-01-15.2. Presumption of compensability for cardiac events of full-time paid
23	firefighters and law enforcement officers.
24	1. A heart attack, stroke, vascular rupture, or other similar cardiac event, is presumed to 25	be a compensable injury when a full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer:
26	a. Engages in a situation involving strenuous physical law enforcement activity, fire
27	suppression activity, or emergency response activity, or participates in a training
28	exercise involving strenuous physical activity; and
29	b. The heart attack, stroke, vascular rupture, or other similar cardiac event occurs
30	no later than forty-eight hours after the full-time paid firefighter or law

Sixty-eighth Legislative Assembly

1		enforcement officer engaged or participated in the activity listed under
2		subdivision a.
3	2.	The presumption under subsection 1 may be rebutted by clear and convincing
4		evidence the condition or impairment was not work-related.
5	3.	This section applies to any full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer who has
6		less than five years of continuous service.
7	4.	A full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer is not eligible for the benefit
8		provided under this section unless the full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement
9		officer has successfully passed a medical examination that failed to reveal any
10		evidence of a cardiovascular condition.
11	5.	For purposes of this section, "law enforcement officer" means an individual who is 12		licensed to perform peace officer law enforcement duties under chapter 12-63 and is
13		employed full-time by the bureau of criminal investigation, the game and fish
14		department, the state highway patrol, the parole and probation division, the North
15		Dakota state university police department, the North Dakota state college of science
16		police department, the university of North Dakota police department, a county sheriff's
17		department, a city police department, or the parks and recreation department pursuant
18		to section 55-08-04.
19	SEC	CTION 4. RETROACTIVE APPLICATION. This Act applies retroactively to a claim for 20	workers	compensation benefits filed after October 1, 2021, regardless of date of injury. A
21	full-time paid firefighter or law enforcement officer who submitted a claim for benefits between
22	October 1, 2021, and the effective date of this Act may resubmit the claim if the initial claim was
23	denied l	by the organization for not being a compensable injury.
24	SEC	CTION 5. EMERGENCY. This Act is declared to be an emergency measure.	