POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REMARKS OF SENATOR CLEMENS

MR. PRESIDENT: VIETNAM VETERANS DAY

The US actions in Vietnam began slowly with the deployment of advisors in the early 1950's and expanded incrementally to include the deployment of combat forces in July 1965. the conflict continued until January 1973, when representatives of the United States, north and south Vietnam, and the Vietcong, signed a peace agreement in Paris. US forces returned home over the next few months, with the last military unit leaving on March 29, 1973. Today is the 50th anniversary of that date.

In the course of the war, over 58,000 Americans died and approximately 1,500 remain missing or unaccounted for. About 237 soldiers from North Dakota lost their lives, many more wounded and 9 still reported as missing or not returned.

Today on Vietnam Veterans' Day, we remember all those who have served and continue to serve.

REQUEST

SEN. KLEIN REQUESTED that the remarks of Sen. Clemens be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

SEN. DEVER rose on a point of personal privilege.

REMARKS OF SENATOR DEVER

MR. PRESIDENT: It is not the Soldier or the Sailor; it is not the Airman or the Marine who decide when and where we go to war. When the call to arms is issued, they are the ones who step forward.

They act out of love for country and a real sense of duty. They leave their loved ones at home and put themselves in harm's way for love of liberty.

Today, we commemorate the end of the Vietnam War and honor those who served there.

It was a difficult time for our country. It was a time of protest and riots. It somehow became okay to say "Hell no, we won't go!"

The soldiers and the sailors and the airmen and the marines went. One of the benefits of military service is the limited wardrobe they provide. The uniform is worn in battle and in peace and with honor.

When they returned from facing the enemy, many were advised that they should take that uniform off before they went to the airport. They bore the brunt of an angry country.

It wasn't until our country was attacked on our own soil on 911 that we came together as a country and recognized the appreciation that we should have and should have had for those who serve.

At public events, speakers began asking that all veterans stand and be recognized. At first, I didn't stand. I thought, "They don't need to honor me in that way, I was a Vietnam Era vet but I served in the Cold War, stationed in West Berlin."

Then I realized that it is good for the country. This country was founded as an exercise in self-government. It has existed, it exists today, and will only continue to exist if, and to the extent that the citizens recognize their responsibility to it. One of the ways they do that is in their recognition of sacrifices that many make to defend it.

No-one loves peace more than those who put themselves forward and fight for it. There are two people in our chamber who served in Vietnam – Asst. Sergeant at Arms Lyle Lauf and Senator Dave Clemens. Mister President, I say to them, "Thank you for your service and welcome home!"

REQUEST

SEN. KLEIN REQUESTED that the remarks of Sen. Dever be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.
