Constitutional Amendments

To be voted on at the next general election.

§ 45. Each member of the legislative assembly shall receive as compensation for his services for each session eight dollars per day, and ten cents for every mile of necessary travel in going to and returning from the place of the meeting of the legislative assembly on the most usual route. [Laws 1925, page 314.]

§ 82. There shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state at the times and places of choosing members of the legislative assembly, a secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of insurance, three commissioners of railroads, one attorney general and one commissioner of agriculture and labor, who shall have attained the age of twenty-five years, shall be citizens of the United States, and shall have the qualifications of state electors. They shall severally hold their offices at the seat of government, and, with the exception of the commissioners of railroads, for the term of two years and until their successors are elected and duly qualified, but no person shall be eligible to the office of treasurer for more than two consecutive terms. Of the commissioners of railroads elected at the general election in 1926, the one having held his office for the longest time shall serve for six years; the one having held his office the next longest time shall serve for four years, and the one having held this office the shortest time shall serve for two years, provided, however, if two or more such commissioners shall have held such office an equal or no length of time, the one having the highest vote shall serve for the longer term; thereafter one commissioner of railroads shall be elected every two years, and shall hold his office for a term of six years and until his successor is elected and qualified.
