"The Senate shall appoint a committee on committees to consist of seven members, one of which shall be the Lieutenant Governor who shall act as chairman, which committee shall appoint the standing committees," which motion prevailed.

Senator Brant: "I would like to request that the Lieutenant Governor make a few remarks to the Senate at this time."

Lieutenant Governor Dahl: Honorable Senators, ladies and gentlemen and fellow citizens: To again have the pleasure and privilege to address this honorable assembly once more as your presiding officer I most certainly feel that to me has been accorded a great honor by the people of North Dakota.

"Two years ago, when I addressed this august assembly as your Lieutenant Governor we met under the confusion, toil and uncertainty of a Nation engaged in war, in which the State of North Dakota played no small part.

"The responsibilities of reconstruction of our economic problem and the rehabilitation of those who sacrificed so much during this time of strife naturally rests upon the shoulders to a great extent of you, the members of the Thirtieth Legislative Assembly, to promote a sound and constructive program for the future welfare of our state and its peoples.

"Tomorrow we will hear a message from the Governor, who will report on the condition of the State and make recommendations for the future. The last six years North Dakota has been blessed with the most fruitful period it has ever experienced, and with an administration operating with prudence and frugality has placed our State in an enviable position economically among the States of the Nation. With bulging treasuries it's easy to become over-generous and promote programs of abnormal expenditures and soon deplete the surplus.

"Legislation involving great expenditures of public funds should be carefully scrutinized and it would be well at such times to reflect a moment upon those years known as the "desolate thirties" that we all experienced.

"I wish to extend to you all the full cooperation of my office and the desk force during this legislative session. It shall be my endeavor to serve you unbiased regardless of your political faith. Let us be tolerant of the minority because, after all, the constructive criticism of the minority are the very pillars which sustain our democracy and our great heritage this American republic built upon free enterprise and individual rights.

"Thank you."

Senator Brant moved that the President appoint a committee on committees to consist of seven members, one of which shall be the Lieutenant Governor who shall be the chairman of the committee, which motion prevailed.

The President appointed as such committee Senators

Brant, Brunsdale, Olson of Mountrail, Day, Stucke, Page, Nelson of McKenzie, O'Brien and Streibel.

Senator Bond moved that the Senate recess for a ten minute period for the purpose of selection of seats, and that the new members remove all papers and personal effects from the desks they now occupy and retire from the floor while the old members are selecting their seats, which motion prevailed.

The Senate reconvened at the expiration of the recess.

Senator Bridston: "Since I can remember in the State Senate it has been customary to give the position of President Pro Tem to the member of the majority faction who has served the longest. Every Senator in this session that came here prior to 1939 has been so honored and the session of 1939 became famous because at that time a group of energetic renegades came to this body, and out of this group there are six left: Senators Troxel, Raschko, Morgan, Braun, Flatt and myself.

"Various suggestions were made as to the method of selection of the President Pro Tem. One suggestion was made to put the names in a hat and draw. Some of the members were kind enough to tell me they wanted to support me. Others in this group of six had supporters, and I am pleased to announce at this time that of this group, in perfect harmony, five have withdrawn for consideration as President Pro Tem in favor of the farmer from Ransom, Senator Flatt. At this time it gives me great pleasure to place his name in nomination before this august body.

Senator Bond: "The twenty-ninth legislative district, Ward County, is pleased to second the nomination of the gentleman who is such an efficient farmer, and I congratulate him that in these dry years he could get the money to come up here and serve the State."

Senator Streibel: "Ordinarily it is embarrassing to place a second nomination, especially when a man as famous as Senator Flatt has been nominated, but I am not in the least embarrassed because I know Senator Flatt so well. I know that Senator Flatt won't take offense at anything I say.

"As Senator Bridston has said, it is customary to elect the President Pro Tem from the majority faction. I attended the Legislative Research Committee meetings and we decided that certain problems had to come before the Legislature, so the suggestion was made that the two men who formulated the rules meet with the League faction in the House, with the ROC faction in the House, and with the Senate. I accepted it as a compliment. There are no factions here. But just because one has the advantage I don't think they should take advantage of it. I think it was Disraeli who once said that next to knowing when to take advantage of an opportunity the most important thing in life is to know when to forego an advantage. Now I know all these men here are broadminded enough to realize that.

"When I place Dr. Stucke's name here as a nominee you will find that there is a very great difference in age. I am not saying that in following the precedent set before Senator Flatt should not be nominated, but we all know that if Senator Stucke's life is going to be lived like the average man's life he does not have many sessions left. Senator Flatt is young, industrious and he will have many more years to enjoy it. The law of averages tells us Senator Stucke is not going to last many more sessions, and I am sure that every man here will be satisfied with Dr. Stucke.

"He has served the State and McLean County continuously since 1931 and that is the best endorsement of his work down here. He is familiar with parliamentary procedure, in fact he is familiar with everything that goes on, and he is the most affable man you will find in the Senate. It gives me great pleasure to put in nomination Senator Stucke."

Senator Bridston: "I think it is only fair to inform the members of this body, especially the new members,—I presume that the old members remember—that the majority faction, before we adjourned in 1945, called a little caucus and at that time voted unanimously to elect Senator Stucke as President Pro Tem for the interim. He served as President Pro Tem during the impeachment trial and it was my pleasure and honor at that time to make the nominating speech, so as an outstanding member of the minority faction he has been honored."

Senator Streibel: "He had the same honor that the members of the Legislature has—that is to serve without due compensation."

Senator Brunsdale: "I certainly would be pleased if we had lived under a different sort of precedent before, as it bars us in the selection of a President Pro Tem. If I recall correctly, and I don't think I am mistaken, we have selected a President Pro Tem for the session from the majority and at the end of the session we have selected generally, and at all times except the last time, a President Pro Tem for the interim from the majority. The man who served as President Pro Tem from the majority for the interim was not honored again to serve as President Pro Tem during a session. I know my friend Dr. Stucke doesn't need the two dollars a day and I think what should warm his heart as much as anything else is that this Senate at the last session honored him as President Pro Tem."

ROLL CALL

The question being on the election of the President Pro Tem, the roll was called and Senator Flatt had 28 votes; Senator Stucke, 19; absent and not voting, 2.

Those voting for Senator Flatt were:

Bond	Frojen	Raschko
Brant	Krenz	Rue
Braun	Lofthus	Sandness
Bridston	Mehlhoff	Shure

Kamrath	Olson, Mountrail	Wahlund
Leno	O'Brien	Wolf
Lichty	Peterson
Lynch	Reinke

Absent and not voting:
 Bilden Thatcher

So Senator Flatt was declared elected as President Pro Tem.

Senator O'Brien: "I voted for Dr. Stucke. That indicates no lack of regard for my friend Senator Flatt. Both men are gentlemen of the first water, both are able legislators and both, I am sure, would be equally capable as presiding officer. The only thing that determined my vote, at least the deciding factor, was that I and my colleague in the Democratic party, without any consultation with me, automatically classed us with the majority faction. I do not think that is the proper thing to do. I have nothing to complain about the majority faction. I have nothing but the best of feelings for both factions but I am going to say now that I am not going to be classed automatically as a member of the majority faction. I will be with them when I believe they are right and with the minority when I believe they are right, and the only deciding factor will be my best judgment. I will be glad to attend both caucuses if I am invited, I will make no speeches, and I will reveal nothing confidential."

A Committee from the House was received and informed the Senate that the House was now organized and ready to do business.

Senator Sandness announced that the Committee appointed to notify the House that the Senate was organized and ready to do business had completed its work and asked that the Committee be discharged, which request was granted.

President Pro Tem Flatt: "I want to express my appreciation for this honor, and it is an honor. The compensation that we get out of returning year after year to our Senate body certainly isn't for material gain—like money—or personal prestige, or what not. It seems to me that we come here and repeat coming here for two reasons. One of them probably is that inbred desire in every man to serve his country, to be a patriotic citizen, to look after the welfare of the community in which he lives, and his County, and his State. The other reason, I think, why we come back here probably is most important—the fellowship, the friendships, the hatreds, the loves, that we make one for another. I remember my first session, I was kidded a lot because I was young. One of the older Senators used to take a lot of delight in razzing me—friendly, of course, but when the session was over he took my hand and tears came into his eyes and he told me he liked me. He told me I had worked into his heart a little bit. Let me ask you that we don't wait until that last hour or that last twenty minutes of parting for that smile, that expression of our comradeship. The finest men I have ever met were in the Senate and I appreciate that very much.

"Again I want to thank you for this honor. This is all I can say, and I probably don't deserve this honor as much as a lot of people, but I appreciate having been elected President Pro Tem."

Senator Brunsdale moved that the Senate do now adjourn, which motion prevailed.

MESSAGES

3. Messages from one House to the other shall be communicated by the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives, unless the House transmitting the messages shall especially direct otherwise.

AMENDMENTS

4. It shall be in the power of either House to amend any amendment made by the other to any bill or resolution.

5. In every case of a difference between the two Houses upon any subject of legislation, if either House shall request a conference and appoint a committee for that purpose, the other House shall also appoint a committee. Such committee shall meet at such hour and place as shall be agreed on by the chairmen; and state to each other, verbally, or in writing, as either may choose, the reasons of their respective Houses, and confer freely thereon; and they shall be authorized to report to their respective Houses such modifications as they think advisable.

6. It shall be in order for either House to recede from any subject matter of difference existing between the two Houses at any time previous to a conference whether the papers on which difference has arisen are before the House receding formally or informally, and a majority shall govern except in case where two-thirds are required by the Constitution, and the question having been put and lost, shall not be again put the same day, and the consideration thereof in other respects shall be regulated by the rules of the respective Houses.

On the opening day of the Legislative Assembly or as soon thereafter as may be, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House shall each appoint a committee of five from their respective bodies to act as a joint committee to agree upon and formulate a plan whereby the Journals of the Senate and the House, together with other public documents which may be of special interest, may be mailed to the various sections of the state.

66. MEMBERS RETAIN SEATS

When the Senate adjourns the members shall keep their seats until the President announces the adjournment.

67. PROCEDURE ON HOUSE BILLS

Senator Streibel: It seems that about fifty-nine years ago a great event occurred, an event that somehow escaped the observation of our historians. This event was brought about by one of our pioneer women, who was then about twenty years of age, giving birth to her first child, a boy. This boy was named Joseph. What the parents had in mind when they named him "Joseph" we have no way of knowing. It couldn't have been for the reason that he was the favorite son because he was the first and only one. It is probable that they had Joseph's economic ability in mind when he saved for Pharoah the grain during the good years that they might not suffer during the lean years. But be that as it may, it is a fact that ever since he became of age he has participated in civic affairs, so much so that his County honored him by sending him down here as a member two years ago, and he, in turn, has since honored Richland County. This happens to be Senator Reinke's birthday, and I think it would afford him pleasure, as well as us, if, after the session, we would take out a little time to congratulate him upon the occasion.

Senator Brunsdale moved that the Senate do now recess until 1:30 p. m., January 21, 1947, which motion prevailed and the Senate stood recessed.

Senator Rue moved that a committee of one be appointed to escort the Honorable Charles R. Robertson to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

The President appointed Senator Rue as such committee of one.

Congressman Robertson: Mr. President, Members of the North Dakota Senate: I am honored to be permitted to appear before you and I assure you I didn't come here with any expectancy of making a speech. I realize full well you have many problems that must call for your immediate consideration and what I have to say will be very brief.

I am happy to come back to North Dakota and I am particularly happy to see this legislative assembly at work. As I view the situation from Washington I am concerned deeply with the problems that confront you, the members of the Legislative Assembly, within our State and I urge upon you to deal sincerely and fairly with these problems because surely you are the expression of our type of government at work. If the legislation within the State is properly dealt with there will be little need—or much less need, if you please,—for the concentration of power in Washington as has been the case in the last several years. It is strange how people have become accustomed to refer their interests and affairs to Washington. That can only be corrected when the Legislative Assembly and the governments within the States measure up to their full responsibility. I have every reason to believe that the Legislative Assembly of North Dakota has measured up to its responsibilities, but I urge you not to relinquish this responsibility. Only by keeping within the States the power within the Legislative Assembly can this type of government be made to work.

Naturally, special groups inspired by economical desires prefer that power be placed in Washington. They can then approach one particular place to express their views and attempt to attain their ends. If it becomes necessary to deal with forty-eight different States the question is different and more difficult of attainment and better for the welfare of the country at large. So I say, as one who comes before you from the Congress of the United States, to keep strong government within your State and mine because by that process your country will be better served.

Senator Brunsdale moved that the remarks of Congressman Robertson be printed in the Journal, which motion unanimously prevailed.

Senator Brunsdale moved that the Senate do now recess until 1:30 p. m., January 23, 1947, which motion prevailed and the Senate stood recessed.

Senator Streibel requested that the Senate be on the fourteenth order of business, which request was granted.

Senator Streibel: "When, on last Thursday Senate Bill No. 77 failed to receive the required amount of votes for passage, we placed ourselves in an embarrassing position. Senate Bill No. 77 was the hundred percent tax base measure upon which were predicated 24 bills that attempted to correct our mill rate levy. This created a situation where at present, millions of dollars have been appropriated by the Senate without one proposed tax measure, of any consequence, in existence with respect to our many local subdivisions.

How we can disregard the dire need of our local subdivisions so completely is difficult to understand. If after this legislative assembly adjourns, the mill levy in some of our subdivisions is too limited, no one but the 30th Legislative Assembly will be to blame. Unless this body adopts the policy of home rule, our mill rate will again be as it has been in the past, much too low.

At this time, Mr. President, I move that the Committee on Finance and Taxation be requested to revise the proper bills now based on 100% tax base and amend them to conform with the 50% tax base to the extent that the most distressed district receive adequate relief," which motion prevailed.

Senator Brunsdale moved that Senate Bills Nos. 78 to 101, inclusive, be now printed, which motion prevailed.

Senator Streibel: "I am opposed to Bureaus and Commissions if you have an elected official that achieves the same purpose. Under this Bill the State is giving away all the property it owns with respect to wildlife. The only good reason I can see for the six-man commission is that one commissioner can pass the blame and the responsibility to the other members.

"If we set up this precedent of giving away State Departments to certain associations what is there to stop future Sessions from giving our State Tax Department to the Taxpayers Association, or our Attorney General's Department to the State Bar Association? To my way of understanding democracy, this request of the so-called Wildlife Association is the most undemocratic request I have encountered in all my years as a member of this Senate.

"Why give our Game and Fish Department away for nothing to one particular association? Why not offer it for sale to the highest bidder and maintain our roads with the proceeds? We should get at least a half million dollars for it as I understand they have that amount cash on hand. More sense in that than giving it free, gratis, to this so-called Wildlife Association. Are we legislators or are we guillible school children?

"If the North Dakota Banker's Association came into this Senate and asked us to hand over to them The Bank of North Dakota, would we do it? That is exactly what we are, in this Bill, asked to do with our State Game and Fish Department. If the Farmer's Union comes in to this Senate with a Bill that will turn over to them the North Dakota-owned State Mill and Elevator lock, stock and barrel will the members of this Senate body vote for such special privilege? I am sure you would not, and if we display an ounce of gray matter we will not give our State-owned Game and Fish Department away to any association or associations.

"Please bear in mind that on two previous occasions this Bill has been killed in this Legislature. Perhaps we've not here in North Dakota had enough government by Bureaus and Commissions during the past few years, or have we?"

Senate Bill No. 138. A Bill for an Act Creating a North Dakota Game and Fish Commission Consisting of Six Members, Providing for the Manner of Selection, Appointment, and Removal of Members of Such Commission, Defining the Powers and Duties of the Commission, and Transferring Certain Powers and Duties Now Conferred Upon the Game and Fish Commissioner and Governor to the Commission; Providing for the Appointment, Term, Compensation and Powers and Duties of a Director, Game Wardens, Conservation Officers and Other Employees; Providing for the Collection of Fees and Charges and the Expenditure of the Same, and Repealing Sections 20-0201, 20-0202, 20-0206, 20-0208, 20-0210, 20-0211, 20-0402, 20-0403, 20-0602, 20-0605, 20-0702, 20-0703 of the North Dakota Revised Code of 1943 and Sections 20-0203, 20-0207, 20-0209 and 20-0212 as Amended by the 1945 Session Laws of the State of North Dakota and Repealing All Acts or Parts of Acts in Conflict Herewith, and Providing a Savings Clause.

Senator Wahlund: "Mr. President:

In view of what I know about Credit Unions I cannot support this measure. There is no reason why anybody cannot or should not belong to one, whether he is a farmer, a wage earner, or a businessman, anywhere in North Dakota.

A Credit Union is an organization of individuals, banded together to establish their own credit needs. A lifetime membership costs only fifty cents. Then you proceed to buy a share of stock which costs five dollars, either by weekly contributions or a flat payment for a share. Then you are eligible for a loan. Now, Credit Union loans are basically for provident or productive purposes. The rates are one percent per month on unpaid balances. The rates may be lower but never any more than one percent per month. You must have co-signers on these loans as the Board deems necessary, and on a loan over fifty dollars they usually want it secured.

Some Credit Unions insure the deposits as well as their loans.

Now in the event of death of a shareholder his beneficiary receives double the amount of the deceased's deposits in the Credit Union, but not to exceed one thousand dollars. If the loan is insured the loan is cancelled in the event of death.

This insurance is paid for by the earnings of the Credit Union.

There are around eighty Credit Unions in operation in the State. I believe they are within reach of every one of us; if not, there should be new ones set up and put in operation. Now, in view of the operations and benefits of Credit Unions to the people who want to arrange for their own credit needs I cannot support this measure.

We must try to teach people more self-responsibility. Too many throw all responsibility on County, State and Federal government.

If we can be taught or trained to have some responsibility to our government the better it will be for all, and a Credit Union, my friends, for establishing the individual's credit needs is a step in that direction. When this is done there will be no room for the unscrupulous lending agencies we have been hearing so much about at this session."

Senator Day moved that Senate Bill No. 145 be amended as follows: In line 66 of the printed Bill, after the word "penalty" strike out the rest of the line, strike out all of lines 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72 and 73, and on line 74 strike out the words "in the discretion of the Court.", and that the lines and sections and subsections of the Bill be renumbered and re-lettered; which motion prevailed.

Senator Day moved that the rules be suspended, and that Senate Bill No. 145 be considered properly re-engrossed and placed upon second reading and final passage, as amended, which motion prevailed.

 117 accommodations accorded on the maximum rent
 118 control date to warrant such increase or 119 decrease, or that the maximum rent set by the 121 than the rent generally in effect in such 122 area on such date for like accommodations;

154 person, to appear and testify and produce documents,
155 or both, at any designated place.

156 3. If a subpoena issued, as provided for in this 157 Act, is disobeyed, the board or governing body may 158 apply to any judge of the district court for an order
159 requiring the attendance of such witness and the pro-

176 person has engaged in or is about to engage in any 177 such acts or practices, a permanent or temporary 178 injunction restraining or other order shall be 179 granted without bond.

180 5. In the event of a conflict between the board
181 and any governing body as to an application to a

"All forms of enterprise, private and cooperative, should be allowed to deduct patronage refunds made to their customers from taxable incomes.

No tax immunity should be given to enterprises on funds owed to customers but retained without patron's authorization."

The National Association of Cooperatives thereby endorses the principle embodied in Senate Bill 201.

Corporations today pay the regular corporation tax on their profits without any deductions for dividends to stockholders. Senate Bill 201 still gives cooperatives an advantage over corporations.

This legislation will also encourage the payments of patronage refunds in cash which will be welcomed by thousands of cooperative members."

RILIE R. MORGAN, Chairman

Senator Morgan moved that the report be adopted, which motion prevailed and the report was adopted.

Senator Day requested that the Senate be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Senator Day: "Mr. President: Your Judiciary Committee, when conducting a hearing on Senate Bill No. 51, which was a Bill introduced at the request of the Insurance Department and calculated to put fraternal societies, with respect to their investments, etc., on the same basis as other life insurance companies, found the opposition to that Bill particularly strong from representatives of the National Farmers Union Life Association of Denver, Colorado. After the Judiciary Committee reported that Bill out favorably for passage at the request of those representatives, you will remember that for several days—until it became almost a common joke in this body—we requested that consideration of the Bill be postponed until the following day in order that additional time might be given to those who wanted to appear before the Judiciary Committee in opposition to the measure, and we conducted several postponed hearings, after which the Committee voted to proceed and recommend the Bill for passage, and it was passed.

In the course of one of the hearings that we held it developed that this particular insurance company, which writes most—or the greatest volume of its business—in the State of North Dakota but is organized under the laws of Colorado, had been refused a license to do business in this State by a former Insurance Commissioner, and later when the new administration and the present administration came in, again this insurance company was refused a license to do business, but apparently they are continuing to do business in our State anyway, from evidence submitted to the Committee. Both the Department and the representatives of the insurance company indicated that the other ought to bring some kind of a lawsuit to settle the matter.

The Judiciary Committee felt that they should look into the matter further in order to get to the merits of the particular situation and try to settle it without the necessity of litigation, if possible. At that point I contacted, on my own volition, some of the representatives of this company and suggested to them that I would be willing to cooperate in order to organize an investigation into the merits of this situation with the least possible publicity, having in mind that they were the ones who might suffer from unfavorable publicity if it were not carefully handled, and the suggestion that with their cooperation this could be handled without name-calling and without diverting the issue from the actual controversy between the Department and the insurance company. My suggestion seemed to fall on fertile ground, and I thought that an understanding was reached, until this blast came in the North Dakota Union Farmer, which was the next communication I had.

After that the Judiciary Committee again considered the matter and voted unanimously to come before this body and ask for authority to investigate this situation. It is not my purpose, nor is it the purpose of any member of the Judiciary Committee, to persecute or prosecute anyone. I do not believe that any member of the Judiciary Committee has any malice in his mind, either way. But each one, I believe, feels that we should investigate the merits of this situation irrespective of pressure and irrespective of any name-calling there may be, and come up with a report that you are entitled to of what the facts are.

Gentlemen, if this insurance company is not in financial condition or if it does not handle its affairs in such a manner that it should have a license in this State, then we should do something to see to it that it does not represent to the people of our State that it is entitled to do business here and we should see to it that it does not take money out of this State for policies that may not be paid. If, on the other hand, as they claim, their practices are sound, their investments are sound, and that there is nothing that they have to hide, then I am sure they would welcome an investigation that would clear up this controversy that has been extending over two antagonistic administrations in that Department, and we, of course, in that case would be duty bound to see to it they got the vindication they are entitled to under the circumstances and are given a license so that they can operate in this State.

We requested at the time we had this hearing that each side file with our Committee the papers pertaining to this matter. I think it was the thought of some of us, at least, that that might be all that was necessary. The papers were furnished—at least some of them. I checked them over—and one of two other members of the Committee did—and immediately we discovered that—just to give an illustration—one examination report on file, when exhibited to the Insurance Department, an employee of that Department suggested that that report was, in at least twenty-eight particulars, not an accurate report.

It appeared that the only way to get to the bottom of the situation would be to have an investigation where we could examine witnesses and hear each one tell their side of it. It is not our purpose in suggesting this investigation that we spend a lot of money and have a protracted investigation that will run into months. It is our thought that we should be able to complete the investigation before adjournment of this Legislature.

Mr. President: I move that the Judiciary Committee of the Senate of this 30th Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota be authorized and directed: (1) To make a complete and thorough investigation of the business affairs, investments, practices, organization, management, operation and control of the National Farmers Union Life Association, of Denver, Colorado. (2) That the said Judiciary Committee be given power to procure any necessary legal, accounting and stenographic assistance necessary. (3) That said Committee be given full power to summon witnesses, within and without this state, to take their testimony under oath, and to require the production of all necessary records of every kind and description belonging or appertaining to such National Farmers Union Life Association, wherever such records may be found. (4) That said Committee be given full access to the records of the North Dakota State Insurance Department and (5) that said Committee make a report of its findings to the Senate.

JOHN H. WORST

1 WHEREAS, John H. Worst, one of North Dakota's
 2 most distinguished citizens, who in the early days

3 of statehood resided in Emmons county and who was 4 called to his eternal reward on September 25, 1945;

5 WHEREAS, he was born in Ashland county in the 6 state of Ohio on December 23, 1850 and during his 7 early manhood he lived on the farm until he was 8 sixteen years of age when he entered Smithville
9 Academy, Ohio for several terms until he was 10 prepared to teach school. He also attended Salem
11 College, Indiana one year and finally entered
12 Ashland University, Ohio. In 1889 this institution
13 conferred upon him the degree of LL.D. In 1870
14 he was engaged in the newspaper business editing the 15 Fairfield County Republican at Lancaster, Ohio.
16 He was a delegate to the Ohio state convention, which 17 nominated Hayes for governor for the third time and 18 he took an active part in that campaign;

19 WHEREAS, in 1883 he came to Dakota Territory and 20 took a homestead forty miles southeast of Bismarck
21 near Williamsport, Emmons county where he had a farm
22 and engaged extensively in the raising of sheep. In 23 the fall of 1883, at the organization of Emmons
24 county, the county commissioners appointed him county
25 superintendent of schools. He was continuously
26 reelected to this office until 1889 when he resigned
27 to take the office of state senator. At the expiration 28 of his term, he was reelected. He served during the 29 first, second, and third sessions of the legislative 30 assembly;

31 WHEREAS, in 1894 he was elected Lieutenant Governor
32 and was the presiding officer during the session of 33 1895. During that year he was appointed president
34 of the North Dakota Agricultural College and 35 Director of the Experiment Station, for the school
36 year beginning July 1, 1895. He held this position
37 until March 1, 1916. After leaving the Agricultural 38 College he served one year as managing editor of 39 the Daily New Rockford State Center. He then made
40 his home with his children in California and Montana;

41 WHEREAS, the crowning work of Mr. Worst's life
42 was in connection with the Agricultural College,
43 which he built up from a small and struggling
44 beginning to an institution that was recognized
45 as having a foremost place among the agricultural 46 colleges of the country. During his administration, 47 a large number of buildings were erected and the 48 faculty grew from less than twenty to over sixty and 49 the attendance from a mere handful to twelve hundred.
50 He was especially interested in the problems of the 51 farmer and through his activity laid the foundation

61 in order to bring millions of acres of state

Instrumental prelude

Invocation—Rev. Paul G. Hayes

A quartette, composed of Orland Heskin, Edward Cole, Richard Baska and Dr. Norvel Brink, sang "The Old Rugged Cross"

Short biography of Senator Thatcher—Rev. Paul G. Hayes

Lieutenant Governor Dahl: "In speaking today for this legislative body at this occasion, I know that the esteem by which our departed colleague was recognized by his fellow men is too great a problem for me to put into words. Senator Thatcher was a congenial, mild-tempered, sound thinking man. This is best attested to by the people of his own community and his constituents of the 28th legislative district who honored him time and time again by choosing him first to serve as a member of the House of Representatives and later a member of the Senate, a position he has held continuously since 1935 up to the time of his demise. The late Senator was a mild mannered man and as presiding officer of the Senate, I can truly say when questions arose of a nature that carried close lines of divided opinion, Senator Thatcher showed himself able to appreciate the human side of life and never let himself become involved to a point of detraction from the dignity of the position he held. For me, it has been a pleasure to serve and to know our departed friend, to work with him as a member of the Senate during the sessions of 1939 and 1941, and later serve as presiding officer of the Senate where I often appreciated his deliberations and statesmanship. It has been said all men are born equal. Probably we do not remain so during our course of life, but one thing is certain, that when the journey of this earthly life is completed, we again become equals. The compensation is the same for the humble as for the proud; for the poor as for the rich to be again absorbed by the bosom of mother earth and become as a grain of sand in the mystery of creation. No doubt, a marble slab will be erected to mark the place of rest with an epitaph born in the very recesses of the human mind and chiseled into the marble as a monument to stand against the elements of time in memory of our departed colleague, but the greatest and most enduring monument memorializing this man is his own record as a public servant and a friend to man engraved upon the minds of his constituents and recorded upon the pages of the history of this State. Our friend and colleague has contributed a noble service, may his soul inherit eternal peace."

The quartette sang "Face to Face."

Rev. Paul G. Hayes:

"We have gathered here, the family and friends, the neighbors and fellow comrades in the Senate, to pay our last words of tribute to the memory of Senator William A. Thatcher. It was my privilege to know him only during his last illness, but in that time he expressed his faith in Christ and united with the Church.

In thinking of his passing, I should like to refer to the story of a Persian King, who wore a ring on which he had engraved a maxim, true and wise, "Even this shall pass away." The King was very wealthy, but his wealth never stirred his pride, for by a glance at his ring he knew that even this, his wealth, would pass away. He enjoyed the oft-repeated and long-continued revels of his court, but he knew how insubstantial they were, for even this, his pleasure, would pass away. When he was sorely wounded on the field of battle, the pain was hard to bear, but he was patient for he knew that this, too, would pass away. They built to his honor in the public square of the capitol city his statue, carved in stone. The King, disguised, unknown, stood before his sculptured name, and mused, "What is fame?" And answered his own question, "Even this shall pass away." A writer has put this story into verse, and I'd like to read the last stanza, as follows:

"Struck with palsy, sere and old,
 Waiting at the gates of gold,
 Said he with his dying breath;
 'Life is done, but what is death?'
 Then in answer to the King,
 Fell a sunbeam on his ring.
 Showing by a heavenly ray,
 'Even this shall pass away'."

Those words express clearly one of the most important ideas that can come to human beings. Death seems so permanent, so irrevocable, but it is only a passing, momentary experience. True, Senator Thatcher will never again resume his former occupations, will never again mingle with us in the same experiences we enjoyed with him before. But he has already gone on to new and different and more glorious experiences.

The King was right. Death is fleeting. It is the experience of a moment. It passes. It is like going through the curtains into another room of the Father's House. It is like laying aside an old suit and putting on a new one. It is like junking an old 1937 jalopy, and driving home in a new 1947 model. It is laying aside an old worn-out, diseased body, and going forward into eternal life in a new and different body.

That's the teaching of the Christian religion which our friend embraced. The body dies, the man survives. It was true of Jesus Christ, our Saviour. He was surely put to death. He just as certainly survived death, continuing to influence His disciples, transforming them into His own likeness. He leaped the gulfs of death and has continued as a personal living Lord to influence the history of humanity across the centuries. Today there are probably more people under the influence of His personality than at any time previous in the history of humanity.

Furthermore, Jesus Christ was declared to be the first fruits of them that slept. Those who follow in His train, like their Master, pass on into an eternity of glorious life. Truly, as the Apostle Paul asserts, "He abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel." It is our Christian faith that because He lives, we, too, shall live.

Because we hold this faith, several other things are true. One is that our confidence in God makes it easier to bear pain and suffering. Faith enables us to meet the issues of life and rise triumphant over its difficulties. I wonder if you know the way in which this thought is expressed by Edmund Vance Cooke? Let me quote his lines,

“Did you tackle that trouble that came your way
 With a resolute heart and cheerful?
 Or hide your face from the light of day
 With a craven soul and fearful?
 Oh, a trouble’s a ton, or a trouble’s an ounce,
 Or a trouble is what you make it,
 And it isn’t the fact that you’re hurt that counts,
 But only how did you take it?”

I would not minimize the sufferings that come through accident and disease. They are very real. Senator Thatcher suffered terribly, but I am glad to tell you that he met his pain with great fortitude and courage. One attitude that helps us bear pain with triumphant faith is that we know that the sufferings of this present life are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. His sufferings are not worthy to be compared with the splendor of the life that is now opening out for the Senator. That new life will be as much higher than this present life as this present life is higher than that of an unborn babe.

One other thing follows from a simple faith in eternal life. It is this, that we will live day by day preparing ourselves to be ready for the enjoyment of that better country. How shall we get ourselves ready? Let me say it in the words of Henry Van Dyke, who wrote—

“Four things a man must learn to do
 If he would make his record true:
 To think without confusion clearly;
 To love his fellow-men sincerely,
 To act with honest motives purely;
 To trust in God and Heaven securely.”

When we think clearly, love sincerely, have honest motives, and trust God in simplicity, life takes on marvelous meaning. When we make our confession of Christ as Saviour from sin, all these things begin to take place in our lives. To state that in Old Testament terms, we can say with Micah, “What doth the Lord require of Thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.” And that is what Jesus is saying to us in the New Testament, “Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and all thy mind, with all thy soul, and with all thy strength,” and “thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.”

Prayer and benediction—Rev. Paul G. Hayes.

Senator O'Brien: "Last Saturday the Legislature met in joint session to honor the memory of former members who have died during the past two years. I knew it was a solemn occasion and I was sure it would be so observed. Imagine my astonishment, therefore, when the speaker, launched forth on a political talk instead of using his considerable talent as a public speaker to deliver an eloquent memorial address. During the course of his remarks some of the men, whose memory we were presumed to be observing, must have turned over in their graves several times.

"In my opinion, the speaker's talk was in extremely poor taste on such an occasion and I, for one, want to censure him for making it. I would suggest to members of this Senate, who in the future may be called upon to arrange for memorial services, that, if they engage a politically ambitious speaker to deliver the address, they just make it perfectly clear to him that he is to speak at a memorial services and not at a political rally.

Senator Brunsdale: "You will recall the other day that I made a motion on this floor that a committee of the Senate be authorized to confer with a committee of the House as to the program on February twenty-second, although at that time it had already come to our attention that it was not going to be a memorial session. We were told, and the Senator from Ransom was the one who brought it to our attention, that the House was going to have a Washington Day program. I moved, as stated before, that the committee of the Senate be instructed to go to the House and to confer with the House Committee if the Senate would be permitted to introduce a Senate memorial resolution at that meeting. Of course, not knowing exactly what kind of a program it was to be, it was not very easy to anticipate whether we should or should not introduce memorial resolutions at that time.

The House agreed to the request of the Senate committee and the House, because of the Senate request as to memorial resolutions, also introduced a similar resolution on its part.

With this explanation I hope to clear up, as far as the Senate is concerned and as far as the committee it concerned, that we, as a Senate, were taking part only to the extent of introducing memorial resolutions. The House session was not intended as a memorial program and it was an after-thought as far as a memorial service was concerned. This is my understanding. I hope this explanation will take care of some of the objections which the Senator from Walsh has made."

Senator Brant requested that the Senate be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Senator Brant moved that the Senate comply with the request of the House to return House Bill No. 42, which motion prevailed.

Senator Young: "Mr. President and Members of the North Dakota Senate: I fell very much at home in coming back here. I often times wish, when things get hot in Washington, I could sit back in that old seat I always sat in. In fact, you members of the Senate are in no small degree responsible for my being in Washington. It is through your association, and the experience gained here, and the friendship and support of you fellows that made it possible for me to be a member of the United States Senate. The experience I gained here, I can tell you frankly, has helped me tremendously in Washington. There is not much difference in legislative procedure there than here. You probably have different subjects to deal with—particularly international—but by and large the legislative procedure is much the same as here. I believe there is more good, honest horse sense per square foot in the North Dakota Senate than there is in the United States Senate. I often wish we could pick an Agriculture Committee, or an Appropriations Committee, from the North Dakota Senate.

In Washington there is largely a battle between three segments of our economy—business and industry, farmers, and labor. It is through a good balance of income between these three groups that we find it possible to have prosperity in this nation. When one gets out of line with the other we always have a depression. I don't think there has been any long extended period of prosperity in the United States when farm income was low, and I believe it is generally recognized in Congress now that farm income cannot again be allowed to go to the level of the late '29's and '30's. We in the farming industry (and may I say there are only four real farmers in the United States Senate) probably have more at stake than anyone else. We have less protection than anyone else. Labor has collective bargaining, closed shops, unemployment compensation, social security, and many other rights. Industry can raise their prices constantly as their costs increase. In fact, in many cases they have an extreme monopoly which I believe is dangerous to our free enterprise. Right now figures from the Bureau of Internal Revenue show that four hundred thirty-five corporations own fifty-one percent of all the corporations in the United States. I don't approach this from a radical viewpoint but I do believe that if we are to prevent communism and socialism from taking over the United States we must be on guard.

In the field of agriculture we are in a most precarious position. Right now we have the Spiegel amendment which guarantees ninety percent of parity for the next two years. Even though we have this law there are many now advocating its abandonment. You can pick up almost any eastern daily newspaper and find columns, editorials and other news items severely criticizing this supporting price program. When this amendment expires we, in Agriculture, are going to have to write a long-range, permanent program that will provide economic security to the farmers without any great expense. If there is any great expense attached to it we will find ourselves in constant trouble in getting necessary appropriations. It is very interesting to know that in this support program, contrary to the figures presented constantly in the press, there has been a profit of 138 million dollars in the support price program. Subsidy payments were not a payment to the farmer at all but were payments to the consumer to pay part of their grocery costs. It involved tremendous amounts of money. I think since the inception of the Commodity Credit Corporation program in support of farm prices something over thirty billion dollars has been involved.

I know you are busy and I don't like to take any more of your time except for maybe just another passing comment or two.

In the Senate we will soon have before us the appointment of Lillienthal. The Atomic Bomb Committee has been holding hearings for about a month now. I received many letters, pro and con, on the subject. As yet I am one of the thirteen members of the Senate who hasn't committed himself because I don't think any member should commit himself until after the Committee has made its report. You have practically every scientist supporting Lillienthal. They just can't understand why these long hearings. He is supported by two of the great industries who helped manufacture the atomic bombs. He is supported by eighty percent of the newspapers. He will be supported by Mr. O'Neil of the Farm Bureau. But on the other side you have the statement of Senator Taft. He believes that Lillienthal's policy toward Russia has been too soft. I hope I can make a statement out here how my vote will be, but frankly I do not know at the present time.

Just a word about how the Senate operates. It is not much different than here. In Agriculture it is almost non-political. Under the re-organization plan we have thirteen members, seven Republicans and six Democrats. Two outstanding members are Democrats. I have reference to Senators Russell of Georgia and Ellender of Louisiana. On the Republican side we have Thye, who is going to work out very well, Aiken of Vermont, who is probably the best man in Agriculture, and Senator Capper, who is getting very old. It is rare when politics is brought into that Committee.

On Appropriations we have twenty-one members, twelve Republicans and nine Democrats, and you will find more politics. The Committee is sub-divided into twelve sub-committees, and each Republican has the chairmanship of a sub-committee. The one of which I am chairman is legislative expense. That has to do with all the expense of Capitol Hill, and even that involves appropriations of some ninety million dollars, and I am very fearful that my appropriations will be further out of line than any of the rest. I am subjected to probably the toughest lobby of all. Just the day before I left the Atomic Bomb Committee came to me and presented a budget of 254 thousand dollars, just for that committee alone. The Appropriations Committee will ask for approximately 250 thousand dollars. I don't know much about the needs of the Atomic Bomb Committee, but in Appropriations we need many experts if we are going to get any economies. You have to have men who are trained for the work. The men we are hiring are strictly non-political. As yet not one name being considered is at all political. In fact, most of them are on salaries from fifteen to twenty-five thousand dollars a year, and we can only pay ten thousand dollars. There are perhaps two or three good men we can hire who want to get experience in the committee. For that reason we might be able to hire a few men at salaries far lower than they are receiving now.

I have taken up far more time than I should, but in closing I want to state that if I do something wrong in Washington you members of the Senate can't entirely get away from any blame because I think most of you are responsible for my election, and even those who didn't, I don't think ever said a mean word about me—at least I didn't hear of it.

Thank you very much."

Senator Brunsdale moved that the remarks of Senator Young be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Senator Brunsdale made a substitute motion that action on House Bill No. 23 be laid over one legislative day, which motion prevailed.

Senator Day requested that the Senate be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Senator Day: "A few days ago there came into my hands what has come to be known as the "black hand letter". The first page of the document is a life-size hand in black, represented to have blood dripping from it covering almost the entire page and represented on that page as covering the State of North Dakota and entitled "The Legislative Strangle". Attached to that page are three pages of what I consider to be false propaganda and intimidating material that should not be permitted in the United States mails or anywhere else.

In the Judiciary Committee the President of the North Dakota Farmers Union was asked whether he was the author of this literature and he admitted, under oath, that he wrote the letter, that he signed it, and that he caused it to be sent to several thousand people in the State of North Dakota through the United States mails. I asked him whether he would be willing to supply the Chairman of the Committee with a list of the names and addresses of the people to whom that piece of literature was sent. He readily agreed. That was yesterday. This morning, when the Committee met, he explained that he could not supply that list because he found out, he said, that the Board of Directors had passed a Resolution that would prevent the supplying of any of these mailing lists to anyone and, therefore, he had no authority. He is President of the organization and on its Board of Directors. One of the Directors was in Bismarck and in the Committee room. The other members are in the State of North Dakota (their names and addresses were given). He was asked if he would contact the members of the Board.

He stated he did not believe that would be of any avail. He was then asked, if the Committee subpoenaed this information he would obey the subpoena. His attorney answered for him, in effect, that he would advise, if that contingency should occur, that they were not liable to supply the information because the request was beyond the scope of the Committee. In that respect I believe the attorney was correct.

Gentlemen, the black hand is the symbol of an ancient society that originated in Sicily several centuries ago. It was the symbol, when attached to missiles and messages, which meant certain death to whoever received anything with the signature of the black hand. Later on, in California black hand societies at different times were organized and reached a certain stage before they were stamped out. In New York, also, terrorists organized black hand societies. There is a book known as "The Black Hand". It is not uncommon to find the black hand as a symbol in intimidating literature.

Gentlemen, I want my position at this moment to be thoroughly understood, especially by members of this Senate. This does pertain to the matters that the Committee is investigating because specific mention is made of all the Bills we are considering. Particular reference is made to the Chairman of the Committee, of course. And in that respect this particular matter becomes more of a personal matter than a matter of the Committee. I want the Senate to understand in connection with a motion I am about to make that I do not regard this particularly as evidence that the Committee will consider in connection with the matter, except insofar as it is evidence of the type of representations officers of the insurance company seem to think are proper in dealing with their policyholders and representations they make to them. However, this particular matter is pertinent, referring to the particular Bills under consideration.

Now, I would like to ask the Senate for authority to subpoena these names and addresses that the President of that company said he had and at first agreed to supply, in order that we may have an opportunity to send to the people who received this literature the proper representation of the facts. They are, I understand, mostly residents of the State of North Dakota. Now, this probably was a very injudicious thing to do and I think proper steps should be taken in connection with it. However, I believe that the Judiciary Committee is going to be judicious enough not to be influenced either way by matters such as this but will decide the matter under investigation before it upon the merits as this Senate sent it out to do. However, on this corollary matter, at this time I move that the Judiciary Committee be authorized to subpoena any books, files, papers, records or documents said Committee may desire from the Insurance Department, the North Dakota Farmers Union, or any person, firm or corporation, and pertaining to any matter the Committee desires to inquire about."

Which motion prevailed.

Senator Day: "I move that the expenses incurred by the Judiciary Committee in the investigation that is now being conducted be paid from Legislative Expense."

Which motion prevailed.

Senator Brunsdale moved that the Senate do now recess until 12:30 p. m., February 28, 1947, which motion prevailed and the Senate stood recessed.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

The House of Representatives,
Thirtieth Legislative Assembly
Bismarck, North Dakota

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt appreciation for the consideration and kindnesses shown by all of you in the recent loss of our beloved husband and brother, William A. Thatcher.

Mr. Thatcher enjoyed close friendships with many of you, and the lovely flowers and your thoughtfulness will be long-remembered.

While it is difficult to express one's appreciation adequately, our thanks come to you from our full hearts.

In grateful remembrance,

Mrs. William A. Thatcher

To the Members of the Thirtieth Legislative Assembly:

Mr. G. A. Gilbertson, during his many months of illness was much concerned and interested about his work in the office of Secretary of State and also much concerned about the work of the Legislature. He dearly loved his work and all his associations with the members of your body. "Honesty and service to all" was his motto.

I cannot tell you how much my husband appreciated and how grateful he was for the honor you, the Legislature, have shown him by passing "House Concurrent Resolution T". There are things that cannot be measured in words and this is one of them.

To each one of you individually I want to say "thank you." I assure you it will always be a most cherished memory.

May God bless you all.

KENNETH L. MORGAN, Chief Clerk.

Mr. President: I have the honor to inform you that the House has concurred in the Senate amendment to House Concurrent Resolution "FF".

KENNETH L. MORGAN, Chief Clerk.

House of Representatives

Bismarck, March 7, 1947

Mr. President: I have the honor to inform you that the motion to appoint a new Conference Committee on Senate Bill No. 38 was laid on the table.

KENNETH L. MORGAN, Chief Clerk.

Senator Day requested that the Senate be on the eighth order of business, which request was granted.

Senator Day: "Your Judiciary Committee was charged with the responsibility, or additional responsibility, of conducting an investigation pursuant to a motion which was made and which may be found in the Senate Journal on page 625, to investigate the controversy that appeared to exist between the National Farmers Union Life Insurance Association of Denver, Colorado, and the Insurance Department of our State. Your Committee spent several days in taking testimony on both sides. We organized our committee pretty much as a Court, permitting the Insurance Department to be represented by an attorney and to introduce such evidence and present such witnesses as they desired; we permitted the Insurance company to be represented by its attorney and to present such witnesses and introduce such evidence as it desired. It appeared, however, that the whole controversy involved matters highly technical in nature and complicated. It was impossible for your committee in the time allotted to make a complete enough investigation of the matters that came to our attention to be able to reach any final conclusion as to whether a license should or should not have been issued to this company. Parenthetically I may mention that the former Insurance Commissioner of the State of North Dakota had revoked the license of this company, and then when the present Insurance Commissioner came into office he, too, revoked the license because in the meantime there had been a Commissioner, you will remember, who was in office just a few days while the impeachment trial was on who had reinstated the license of this company.

Evidence was submitted to the committee on one or two points that were undisputed by the insurance company. On one point, for instance, it was conceded that two or three years ago (I have forgotten the exact date) loans of company funds had been made to officers of the insurance company aggregating about twenty thousand dollars. It seems that these loans, however, were subjected to criticism by the insurance department were sold and disposed of and at the present time there are no loans on the company's books to officers of the company. The comptroller of the company, who was its chief witness, admitted that that type of loans, if legal, were at least unethical. Considerable criticism by former insurance commissioner and the present one was leveled at the company's practice in making loans, saying that their procedure was rather loose and careless. The evidence on that point was not too conclusive, indicating, however, that loans were made before abstracts and other papers were completed and in the files in some cases. In that respect, however, it was shown that all irregularities with respect to such loans had now been corrected and that the files were complete.

Another objection that had been made was that excessive loans were made, in view of the size of the company and the amount of money it had to invest, and some criticism was made of the fact that 60 percent of the money they had in their investment portfolio had been made on single purpose properties, and possibly in excess. However, it was shown that in every case those loans were current. They were not in default at the present time with respect to principal or interest.

The Insurance Department was asked by your committee what their specific objection was at this time to issuing a license to this company. Their reply was that, in their opinion, for two reasons they should not issue a license. First, because of what they called a charter violation. Their point was that under the laws a benevolent society, or fraternal, which they claim to be, was not properly classified as a fraternal unless they complied with the legal definition of fraternals, which includes, among other things, ritual, initiation, a lodge, and other things. The significance of that particular point is this: if they qualify as a lodge or as a fraternal insurance association they are not subject to State taxes on their premiums which commercial insurance companies are subject to. So, when they apply for a license as a fraternal they are not entitled to such a license unless they are a fraternal. I think the committee unanimously agreed that the evidence before it was not sufficient to justify a conclusion as to whether they were or were not properly a fraternal society. The second objection that the Commissioner made at this time was that certain investments now in the company's investment portfolio were not under the law proper investments and needed to be taken out of the portfolio before the calculation could be made of the company's assets and liabilities, and that when that was done the company was insolvent within the meaning of the law. The insurance company's contention in that respect is that those investments are legal, that they are proper, and that they are, therefore, solvent.

Now, that point also involves legal questions and questions of fact that your committee did not have time to investigate properly.

Therefore, your committee recommends that appropriate legal proceedings be instituted by the Commissioner of Insurance of this State within sixty days to determine the company's status and right to be licensed. Otherwise that the Insurance Commissioner issue a license to the company to do business in this State. In the opinion of the committee the Insurance Department should have instituted such proceedings some time ago.

Mr. President, a complete transcript of all of the testimony taken in this investigation was made and a copy of it has been furnished to each member of the Legislature.

At this time, Mr. President, I move that the committee report be adopted, be printed in the Journal, and that the committee be discharged."

Which motion prevailed.

Senator Day: "Mr. President: I asked the Senate to authorize this committee to issue a subpoena which was very broad in its terms, calculated to authorize a subpoena to secure from the Farmers Union a list of the names and addresses of the persons to whom they mailed what is commonly, in this Legislature, known as the black hand letter. I never asked the Committee to issue that subpoena because at the next meeting of the committee after the authority was given the President of the North Dakota Farmers Union was asked whether, in view of the authority given to the committee, if a subpoena were issued he would comply. On advice of his counsel he indicated that there was not, in effect, any subpoena that could be issued by this Senate or the Legislature in this respect that he would obey. That left the committee with two alternatives: either to issue a subpoena, summon him before the bar of the Senate and try him for contempt of the Senate: or to ignore the matter. The time was short and I felt that, under the circumstances, we had accomplished our purpose. It had been demonstrated that he was not interested in permitting any further explanation to be given to the people, the thousands of citizens of this State to whom the black hand letter was sent. I may say, Mr. President, that since it became headline news material that he was defying the Senate committee in that respect, after agreeing in the first place to furnish it to us, so that we might send a copy of our report to these thousands of people who had this black hand letter, that I received from members of the Farmers Union in all parts of the State, communications asking they be sent such material as I had in mind sending. One letter in particular listed a large number of people in one community asking that I send it to them. I am sending to all of those who sent me that request a complete statement of the material that will be in the Senate Journal in connection with this matter, and in addition, in some cases where a group is involved, a complete copy of the testimony entered in this case insofar as it goes. In spite of this little by-play, if you may call it that, I endeavored, as chairman of this committee, and I know every member of the committee endeavored, to see to it that such matters as that did not in any way influence the judicial attitude of the committee in examining this whole matter, or attempting to do so, from an entirely impartial standpoint."

Senator Raschko moved that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 258 was passed be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, which motion prevailed.

Senator Bridston: "Since the 1941 Legislative Session, we have worked diligently on a program for the Fire and Tornado Fund whereby we first eliminated an insurance racket that smelled to the high heavens. Since then we have endeavored to have the Fire and Tornado Fund recognized by the insurance industry as a company in an effort to enable the Commissioner of Insurance to contract for re-insurance or excess-insurance at net costs. This program, which includes Senate Bill 258, has eliminated all re-insurance, excess-insurance or catastrophe insurance on all public buildings in North Dakota with the exception of extraordinary industrial risks like the State Mill and Elevator at Grand Forks and the Twine & Cordage Plant at the Penitentiary. If the insurance industry would recognize our Fire & Tornado Fund as a company, it would eliminate all agents' commissions in placing of insurance on these two plants. Re-insurance or excess-insurance is exchanged and arranged for by companies between themselves directly. Large special hazardous risks like the State Mill and Elevator might find its best and most economical market in re-insurance concerns who cannot, because of the very nature of the business, become licensed in various states in one country. Re-insurance is international in its scope. In this way the re-insurance business differs entirely from direct insurance insofar as it does not deal with the public directly and because of this is not, cannot and should not be harnessed under State regulations.

Senate Bill 258, without the House Amendment which has been adopted, would have allowed the Insurance Commissioner to enter the world re-insurance market for the best possible contract. Under the House Amendment, against which I protested both on the floor of the Senate and in the first Conference Committee, the Commissioner of Insurance is quite seriously handicapped in placing either re-insurance or excess-insurance on North Dakota's industrial risks. This, of course, may mean that the insurance on the State Mill and Elevator and the Twine Plant, which the Fire and Tornado Fund does not assume, has to be placed directly with North Dakota insurance agents. Sponsors of this amendment are, of course, fully aware of this, but I am surprised that the House and members of the so-called liberal faction of the Republican party, would become a party to this.

I vote "aye" for Senate Bill 258 because the other features of this Bill are necessary to the establishment of the State Fire and Tornado Fund on a safe and secure basis.

Which the President has signed.

W. J. TROUT, Secretary.

Senator Raschko moved that the President appoint a committee of one to escort Mrs. C. P. Dahl to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

The President appointed as such committee of one Senator Raschko.

Senator Raschko escorted Mrs. C. P. Dahl to the rostrum.

Senator Mehlhaff: "I deem this indeed a great pleasure and feel highly honored being the one chosen by this august body in speaking on behalf of the employees and the Senators of the Thirtieth Legislative Assembly.

"We have given considerable thought as to how we could in some small measure show our appreciation to you for the many courtesies you have shown us and for the fair and considerate manner with which you have helped us to establish ourselves as Members of the Senate.

We have agreed upon a little gift or token as being one way in which we could show at least in some small measure our gratefulness to our President. It was the opinion of the employees and the Senators that you'd never have accomplished what you have, nor possessed the knowledge and wisdom, but for the able assistance of your good wife, and in so doing we recognize that fact and in that token that we shall present to you this evening we make Mrs. Dahl a part of it.

There are times in our lives when we wish for things. I, too, tonight wish for something and that is, I wish that I would possess the power of speech to set forth the value, the joy and blessing that you brought upon this Senate as presiding officer. You have certain qualities and characteristics. Briefly I am going to point out some of them. You are saturated with sympathy and charity, graced with gentleness, clothed with the spirit which created in you a kind, generous, courteous character.

I am speaking for the entire assembly in saying that you have been an exceptionally efficient and impartial presiding officer, we not only like you as a presiding officer but we like you as a man and as a leader in the State of North Dakota. It is our sincere hope that you will continue long in the active career and in political destinies in the State and in the nation.

As a new member of the Senate I have observed quite frequently that you have a great understanding of the thought and action of every individual Senator. The quiet and unobtrusive manner in which you have performed your duties make them seem much easier than they are. Every individual Senator's problems you made your problems. Many times some of the Senators were lost as to the proper procedure, etc., therefore were in distress, in agony, full of sorrow to the extent of pain. You were always willing to depart your great knowledge and wisdom and reestablish us again and brought great comfort in that way. You have paid special attention to the new Members. Those of us who were inexperienced, weak and delicate I might say that you took them under your wings and showed them the fruit of the good spirit by being of special assistance to them. For that reason, I want to say we have every reason to be proud of you. Again I want to say it gives me great pleasure in having this privilege and opportunity to present you with this gift or rather a token that in the future years it will serve as a pleasant reminder of the many glorious, happy, friendly days we have spent here together. I have spoken to you from the bottom of my heart for I never did believe in flowery speeches which are only superficial but talk just as you have observed and described the man as we think he is.

This being the last evening and it looks like goodbye, gosh it hurts to say that. Never thought I would cry, can't help if there's a tear in my eye, 60 long days we have sweated, 60 long days we have cursed, but now that it's all over, I feel my heart would burst, sometimes we thought the going was tough, but it really wasn't so bad, when we think back over our gracious presiding Officer always willing to help so in that attitude "no" doesn't scare us a bit. We are going back into our County. We may not like some of the things we have done here, but nevertheless will have to do some more thinking to receive forgiveness from our friends at home. In behalf of the employes and Senators I herewith present this gift as a token of the esteem and respect for you as President of this 1947 Session."

Lieutenant Governor Dahl: "The instances when a person has been elected to the honorable office of Lieutenant Governor of our State twice are very few. It is an honor I enjoy with the Honorable A. T. Kraable and Walter Maddock who have previously been accorded this honor by the people of North Dakota. In presiding over this Senate the last two sessions, I can truly say I should never want or wish to be associated with a more fair and courteous group of men. This statement I wish to be accepted by the members of the so-called minority of this body as well as the so-called majority. I count among the so-called minority some of my very closest friends and advisors as presiding officer, which is so essential to the position that one holds presiding over this august body.

As presiding officer I sometimes liken it to a great contest between two good baseball teams. There never is a game played without a lot of curves being thrown, and in every game there is always a curve that just happens to cut the corner of the plate and everyone waits for the decision of the umpire. When the decision has been made, there are nine men who will shout "Kill the Umpire!" There will nine men who will shout, "Glory be!" That is the position that the presiding officer is placed in once in a great while, but the same as the ball game, so is the congenial feeling that is so prevalent among the members of this body, which is my experience, and that is that after all, when the game is over, regardless of who wins and who loses, it was a great game and everyone still feels very kind towards the umpire and that he should be left to let live.

In closing, let me say that I have no remorse or have no ill feelings toward any member that has sat in the Senate assembly of North Dakota while I was a Senator or while I was its presiding officer and Lieutenant Governor. I want to thank you each and every one for this beautiful token that has been presented to Mrs. Dahl and myself this evening, and it shall be one of the items that will be most highly appreciated in any memories of the future. Thank you!"

Mrs. Dahl: "From the bottom of my heart I want to thank one and all of you."

Senator Lichty: "As one of the minority group in this session I would like to offer the following as one of the concluding features of the session:

IMPRESSIONS:

State Senate—1947

Nineteen hundred forty seven
 With daily attentive reminds to Heaven,
 North Dakota Senators answered the call
 Day after day of President C. P. Dahl.
 Aiming to pass or amend our laws
 To stand the test, with least of flaws,
 With our Sargeant-at-Arms we dared not stall
 For the daily good rulings of C. P. Dahl.
 From Senator Wolf, circling to Senator Pile
 Forty nine Senators most of the while,
 With minds and hearts centering for the all
 Of that very fair procedure of C. P. Dahl.
 Secretary, clerks, stenographers and pages so fair
 For the year's law-making procedure to share,
 With these North Dakota Senators, short or tall
 Will ever remember President Dahl.

Doris King: "Mr. President, Honorable Senators and Employees: I have the distinct honor and privilege at this time on behalf of the Senate and the employees to present to our distinguished President pro tem, the man we have learned to love, to honor and obey, this small taken of our esteem."

Senator Flatt: "Members of the Senate: Doris: I want you to know that I appreciate your friendly remarks and, realizing with what high esteem you are held in this body, I feel that I have been personally flattered. I want the Members of the Senate to know that I appreciated this token of cooperation and friendliness, realizing that the gift without the giver is bare.

I am sure that in the years which I have served in this body, I have made friends with many men in all political factions. It is through this association that we either become bigger and better people or else go into a serious decay. In politics, we associate ourselves with all sorts of people. Kipling, in his poem, expressed this situation when he said "If you can talk to crowds and keep your virtue or walk with Kings nor lose the common touch, if neither loving friends nor foes can hurt you, if all men count with you but none too much." We learn to solidify ourselves so that crowds or Kings or riches or foes or friends cannot distract us from our personal way of life.

Again, may I thank you for this remembrance and may I close my remarks with this quotation "When that one great scorer comes to write against your name, he writes not that you won nor lost but how you played the game."

Senator Raschko: "It is a pleasure and a privilege, indeed, to be asked by this honorable body to make the presentation to the minority floor leader. I am sure we all agree that the minority factions has made a good choice when they selected the honorable Senator from Wells County as their leader during this legislative session. Being floor leader is a high honor but it carries with it specific duties and responsibilities. I know when I say that you will all agree that Senator Streibel has shouldered these responsibilities in a most laudable manner, not only to himself but to his faction. I know I can say without fear of contradiction, and it is my own honest opinion, that Senator Streibel has been fair in his deliberations and his guidance has been a big help for the Senate as a whole. His capabilities, and his knowledge of parliamentary procedure have been most helpful in the task of legislating.

So, now, Senator Streibel, on behalf of this Senate body and the employees, I am pleased to present to you this token of our esteem. We hope you and Mrs. Streibel will be able to make good use of it."

Senator Streibel: "Mr. President, Mrs. Dahl, Members of the Senate and Employees: Again the hour that every legislator looks forward to has arrived. It is the time when we can let down our defense without any mental reservations and meet our colleagues, in a neighborly fashion. Someone told me the other day that if it wasn't for this hour of pleasure he would never care to come back. This is the third time I have been honored with a present which I don't think I deserve. It is said that if the public applaud and honor you, you had better try and find out where you have made a mistake. If it censures you, then look around to see where you have done some good. That may in some instances apply to the public at large, but this body I know is sincere when they present me with this gift for meritorious service. As I observe my wife in the gallery, looking at this wonderful gift instead of at me, I wonder if it wasn't because of her that I was presented with this gift. It is very likely that what Senator Mehlhaff said of the President when he attributed his good qualities to his good wife's influence, applies to me also. I have been here since 1937, but in all my experience, nobody has ever carried out its assignment with greater dispatch. If I may pick up one rosebud that was dropped as Senator Mehlhaff presented his verbal bouquet to the president and his good wife, it would be this: that the decorum was largely due to the manner in which our presiding officer conducted the affairs of the Senate. The chairman of the various committees also should receive a vote of thanks for handling their work in such an expeditious manner. I say it is difficult for me to express my true appreciation for this precious gift. I have formed a fraternal affection for so many of you that it is hard to put into words. If you gentlemen were a woman I could perhaps follow up my thanks with a kiss, but who would think of two whiskey fellows kissing each other. Even to kiss a woman has lost a lot of appeal, especially is this true now days when one knows that she gets the kiss and you get the makeup. It is always interesting to speculate what thought this or that mans' mind might harbor. We have had between 500 and 600 roll calls that went on record and many more such as those cast in committees and on committee reports which are not registered. However, enough was said and done to give one a good understanding what was the trend of thought during this assembly. The votes were not always unanimous, but whether we agreed or disagreed, I know every member of this body was sincere in his convictions. I saw more bills reconsidered this session than during any other session. That shows clearly that in spite of the fact that our work was finished on time, the consideration of the bills was not neglected. At this time, I can't help but say a few words in honor our departed colleague, Senator Thatcher, who belonged to this section. Always on these occasions I wonder who will be the next one to answer the call. Senator Thatcher entered his las roll call. When this body gathers again two years from now, some faces will be missing. Over someone's casket the minister's voice will say "Father In Thy Gracious Keeping, Leave We Now Thy Servant Sleep".

Should that fate befall me, I hope it can be said of me as it was said of Senator Thatcher. He was a swell fellow who did his work well. During the course of this session there have been differences of opinion which were brought out by heated discussions. Sometimes this or that Senator who lost might have felt that all his efforts were in vain. I don't know how often I voted aye or nay, but this I know, that quite frequently my vote did not prevail nor do I know for certain whether I was right or wrong. Time will decide that, but I know that the poet was right when he said "Life is a sheet of paper white, whereon each one of us must write his line or two and then comes night. Greatly begin though thou have time, but for a line be that sublime; not failure, but low aim is crime." In conclusion, I would like to say that Mrs. Streibel and I feel deeply grateful for this gift you have honored us with. Again I thank you Senators and employees all."

Senator Nordhaugen: "Mr. President: Senator Brunsdale—in a short while the 30th Legislative Session will have come to a close. In the closing of this Session, it will remind us of our old school days, of the days of commencement when we bid our school mates, with whom we have associated and worked with during our school career, goodbye.

Senator Brunsdale, you have been a real classmate; you have been a classmate in which to confide in the time of needy advice, with which to council and I can say frankly that the advice given has been fair, frank and unbiased and has been for the general betterment of everyone concerned. You, Norman, are regarded by this august body, your colleague Senators, of having many deep qualities. I have heard it said about the hallways and the corridors of this Legislative Assembly that Senator Brunsdale is without a question regarded as one of the finest men in this Legislature. That, Senator Brunsdale, is something of which you can feel proud when members of the Legislative Assembly have those high remarks and regard for you and they being of your majority faction and likewise of the minority faction, the sentiment and feelings of both groups being mutual.

The majority faction in their choice of selecting you their majority floor leader made a very wise selection. They did so with the utmost of confidence, knowing that you would lead them during the days which we are now about to finish, through the darkness into the light, and I know that they, the majority, will have the full cooperation of we, the minority, in joining in this expression of the Senators of the 30th Legislative Assembly in thanking you for the fine work and cooperation you have given to us.

Two years ago, our colleague and mutual friend, Senator Stucke of McLean, made the mention and spoke of you as being a semi-barrister, and he explained that a barrister was, in the legal profession, a lawyer; that you were as technical, as tough and as able as a lawyer, and through all your dealings that you were unselfish and fair.

On behalf of your colleagues of this Assembly and the employees of the 30th Legislative Assembly, it is my honor and privilege to give to you this package, which we hope you will accept in the same fine spirit as we are endeavoring to show by the giving of this small gift; might it be used in the carrying of your documents and any matters pertaining to your business and Legislative work throughout the coming years."

Senator Brunsdale: "Mr. President, Mrs. Dahl, Members of the Senate, Employees of the Senate: I have been referred to as the majority floor leader of the Senate. Many times I have realized that I have not done much to deserve that position. I think you should give proper respect and honor to those in the majority who have done more than anyone else—you should give it to the chairman of the various committees that have functioned in this Thirtieth Legislative Assembly. We have what I term an unwritten rule, for ever since I was elevated to this position of honor—and that is what I call it—the various chairmen were responsible for the legislation that came out of their committees. I am thankful to those who served in that capacity that they carried those responsibilities to the fullest measure of devotion.

I have been in the Senate quite a number of years, and I am not by far the oldest man in years, I am not by far the oldest man in point of service. I came here back in 1927. I suppose at that time I was very awed by what confronted me. I didn't know how long it would take before I would be able to get up and make a motion.

We have had probably the most peaceful session I have ever attended. There may have been sessions before my time, or before the days of the first World War, that were far more peaceful than this, but this has been a peaceful session. We have had our difficulties, surely—we are supposed to have them. If we didn't have them we wouldn't have proper representative government. But we have had a session freer of animosities of a personal nature than at any time I have ever known.

Years gone by I recall that I cast a vote in the Senate for a bill which provided that on every piece of stationery, and on every document published or printed by the State, there should be inscribed on it "Buy Dakota Maid Flour". I was particularly criticized by members of my faction for voting with the minority. At this session you voted not to repeal that provision of the law. At a later time I voted for the bill that is now law providing that the Governor of this State should have the veto power over deliberations of the Industrial Commission. I think I cast the deciding vote on that bill. I was particularly criticized at the time, and we still have it in effect today. I don't know whether it was good or bad, but there have been times when my judgment was justified. I served on the committee, which at the time was the minority, in the investigation of the building of this capitol. I wrote the minority report. Since that time most of the concussions of the minority have been justified. In this session sometimes you think of many measures that are of great importance but in all that time I can't remember more than three things I did that were in subsequent years of any great importance. In this session we have passed legislation to permit the political subdivisions to raise sufficient revenue to take care of their needs. In 1927 I was here and we voted on what at that time was the maximum tax levy limitations which have stood without change until the present time. Today we have raised those limitations to a degree that the State has not very much to say about what those maximum levies shall be. The responsibility has once again been turned back to the political subdivisions as they existed prior to 1927. Two years from now we will probably know whether those political subdivisions will live up to the responsibility as we hope they will, because after all that is their problem and that is what they should have as a responsibility. Prior to 1927 they did not live up to those responsibilities and the State took it away from them.

I want to say that I appreciate the kind words that have been spoken by the Senator from Benson and the kindness and consideration that every member of this Senate has shown me. I don't differentiate as far as friends are concerned between one faction or the other. I like them all. I express to you fellow Senators of the majority and minority, to the employees, my heartfelt thanks for all that you have done for me and I certainly appreciate the token you have presented to me. Thank you."

Senator Streibel moved that the President appoint a committee of three to inform the Governor that the Senate has finished its business and is about to adjourn sine die, which motion prevailed.

The President appointed as such committee, Senators Streibel, Brunsdale and O'Brien.

Senator Braun moved that the President appoint a committee of three to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has finished its business and is about to adjourn sine die, which motion prevailed.

The President appointed as such committee, Senators Braun, Morgan and Pyle.

Senator Streibel announced that the committee appointed to inform the Governor that the Senate has finished its business and is about to adjourn sine die had completed its work and asked that the committee be discharged, which request was granted.

Senator Braun announced that the committee appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate has finished its business and is about to adjourn sine die had completed its work and asked that the committee be discharged which request was granted.

Senator Bond moved that the Senate adjourn sine die, which motion prevailed.

And the Senate stood adjourned sine die pursuant to the motion of Senator Bond.
