Rep. Nygaard moved that the Acting Chief Clerk appoint a committee of three to escort the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to the rostrum, which motion prevailed, and the Acting Chief Clerk appointed as such committee Reps. Nygaard, Beede and Link.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was then escorted to the rostrum and administered the oath of office to the members present.

The Acting Chief Clerk announced that the next order of business would be the election of the Speaker.

Rep. Brown: "One of the greatest privileges of serving in a democracy is having the privilege of serving in an elected office. After one is elected, that privilege of democracy is beginning to mold the brotherhood of man in an understanding that produces a free country.

Today I have the privilege of presenting to this august body the name of a veteran legislator, who in my freshman year proved to me, although we were on opposite sides of the aisle, that this brotherhood will produce and will bring peace and harmony into this world. This individual has served in the North Dakota House of Representatives since 1941. He has been through much turmoil. One of his hobbies is participating in sport and in recent years in being an arbitrator in baseball. He has maintained his ability to call the plays behind the plate even at the request of the opponents, in their home town. This is one of his attributes that make him an outstanding individual who has human understanding for the rights of individuals to serve with him in a free democracy. He is a true Christian and is a real American. The father of seven children—a man who has the highest ideals of Americanism, and of these United States, to consider and perpetuate those programs which put forth good sound American citizens.

One of my privileges in this House of Representatives is to have the unusual privilege and opportunity to present to this body the name of that individual for the Speaker of this 35th Legislative Assembly, Ben J. Wolf of McIntosh County."

Rep. Beede: "I have the honor of rising to second the nomination of Ben Wolf. Perhaps you will bear with me a little if I do just reminisce a bit. Fourteen years ago my good friend Rep. McInnes and I had an easy time of it — when the House of Representatives assembled. We spent our time down in the restaurant drinking coffee and visiting while up here in the House of Representatives, the members struggled and voted on who should be their speaker. I think they voted for three or four days on just that one issue. There are not very many here today who were here then, and perhaps there aren't very many here who voted for me for Speaker, but one of those, who fourteen years ago voted for three or four days for me for Speaker was my good friend, Ben Wolf.

Now of course that is not the reason why I am rising to second the nomination of Ben Wolf. I know Ben personally — have known him for years. He came into the House in 1941 when I was minority floor leader. He has worked with me through many sessions and from his work with me, I have knowledge of how his mind works. I know him to be eminently fair. I know him to be fair to the minority groups because he himself has been a member of the minority group on many occasions. I know that he has the qualities and the capabilities to preside over this session so that the proceedings of this session will be carried forward with speed and dispatch. And I say this without in any way minimizing the qualifications of anyone else who may be nominated. One of the fine things about our North Dakota House of Representatives is that we have so many members that are well qualified to occupy the high position of Speaker. In Ben Wolf we have one of the best — so Mr. Chief Clerk, it is with a lot of pride and with a lot of satisfaction that I second the nomination of Ben Wolf as Speaker of this session.

Mr. Poling: "Mr. Chief Clerk, I wish to nominate a man for Speaker of the House. The man I will nominate has every qualification needed for such a responsible position. He was born and raised in Williams County, North Dakota. I personally have known him all his life. He has almost without exception been honest, courteous and a friend to his fellowmen. In his many years as a public servant he has never been accused of being unfair. He has always given an extra share, above and beyond the call of duty, to his people. He will always continue to do so — to do otherwise would be an impossibility for this man. He has served six terms as a representative from the 45th legislative district. He has served the people of North Dakota exceedingly well. We owe him a vote of confidence and of appreciation. Let us show him our faith in him — our confidence in him — our thanks to him for what he has done for us. Ladies and Gentlemen, I appeal to you as fairminded, sympathetic lovers of the underdog to vote for my friend, and your friend, Lloyd Esterby, as Speaker of the House of Representatives."

Rep. Rolfsrud: "In a nation such as ours where the people govern themselves, it is essential that we have the mechanics of a two-party system. It befalls to the lot of some of us to be a part of the minority and at our caucus last evening, we selected a candidate who has served in this House for the past six sessions. He is a man who if elected as Speaker of the House would carry out his duties in this position in such a manner that the people of the State of North Dakota would know that there would be no special privileges granted to anyone and there would be justice to all.

It is a great privilege on my part at this time to second the nomination of my good friend and co-worker, Rep. Lloyd Esterby."

Rep. Fitch moved that the nominations be closed and that the House proceed to ballot on candidates for Speaker, which motion prevailed.

ROLL CALL

The question being on the election of the Speaker of the House, the roll was called and the acting chief clerk announced that there were 94 votes for Rep Wolf; 17 votes for Rep. Esterby; and two passed.

Those voting for Wolf were:

Those voting for Esterby were:

Andre	Magnuson	Sjaastad
Berntson	Nicolson	Skaar
Burk	Olson, Griggs-	Solberg
Gronhoyd	Steele	Tescher
Larson	Poling	Wilkie
Link	Rolfsrud	Witteman

Those Representatives who passed were:

Esterby Wolf

So Rep. Wolf was declared elected as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Rep. Schuler moved that the Acting Chief Clerk appoint a committee of two to escort the newly elected Speaker to the rostrum, which motion prevailed and the Acting Chief Clerk appointed as such committee Reps. Schuler and Goebel.

Chief Justice Grimson administered the oath of office to the Speaker.

Speaker Wolf: "Members of the 35th Legislative Assembly: You have just given me the highest honor within your power when you have elected me your Speaker of this House of Representatives. But with every honor goes great responsibility and I shall accept this responsibility to act as your Speaker during the 35th Legislative Assembly. I can assure you that I am going to try and be fair to each and every one of the members elected regardless of party affiliation. We have a big job to do in North Dakota. The voters are looking forward to our work that we have before us. And I know that every one of the members here, regardless of party affiliation, is going to do all he can, to the best of his ability. We have a division this year — the first time in my experience — in my sixteen years — that we have the division that we have today. So you can realize that I will have quite a job to keep the majority group together and at the same time be fair to the minority group, and keep all working together.

"Now, I am happy to see so many of the old members that were elected, back here, and I am happy to see the new faces. I want to assure you, my friends, that the door to the Speaker's office will always be open. Any advice or any help that I can give you, in my humble way feel free to see me there, regardless of whether you are a Democrat or Republican because after all we have a job to do in the State of North Dakota and if we work together I think we can achieve and accomplish the goals that we are here for.

"Another reason why I realize that I have a great job to perform is that as I look back, I have served under seven different Speakers and I will have to say that regardless of faction they were the fairest Speakers ever, in my book. I hope I can meet somewhere near to the job that they did — and then I think you will have to say that I did a good job. Every one of those Speakers did a grand job.

"In closing these few remarks, I want to thank you for the wonderful support that you have given to me and will ask that you continue in the big job that we have to do."

The Speaker announced that the next order of business would be the election of Chief Clerk.

Rep. Vinje: "Mr. Speaker: It is my observation that if we are to have a smoothly working assembly, it is necessary to have the proper employees. We have a very capable man as Speaker and the man I am going to nominate as Chief Clerk is Mr. Gerald Stair. I can assure you that he has all the necessary qualifications to make a very efficient Chief Clerk. Jerry, as he is commonly known to many of you, has been in and out of the legislative chambers since 1943. Last year he served as Assistant Chief Clerk, and even under the capable leader that we had last year, and the capable Chief Clerk, I can remember that on occasion the Assistant Chief Clerk had to untangle some parliamentary matters. He has that ability, I assure you. I am pleased and happy today, especially so, because Arlan Stair, his father, and a former member of this House, and I were good friends and school-mates — I am especially happy to nominate Gerald L. Stair as Chief Clerk.”

Rep. Stockman: “I second the nomination.”

Rep. Brown moved that the nominations be closed, which motion prevailed.

ROLL CALL

The question being on the election of Gerald L. Stair as Chief Clerk, the roll was called and there were: Ayes, 113; absent and not voting, none.

Those voting for Gerald L. Stair were:

Aamoth	Heller	Petterson
Anderson, Cass	Herman	Poling

So Gerald L. Stair was declared elected as Chief Clerk.

Rep. Vinje moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the newly elected Chief Clerk to the rostrum, which motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed as such committee, Reps. Vinje and Bjerkan.

The Speaker administered the oath of office to the newly elected Chief Clerk.

The Speaker announced that the next order of business would be the election of a Desk Reporter.

Rep. Fitch: "I am about to place in nomination the name of a young lady for the office of desk reporter, and I hardly think it is necessary for me to make any remarks if you will read the House journals for the past fifteen or twenty years — You will know what has been said because I have said everything possible about Ruth Smith that I can think of because I have nominated her so many times. You all know that she is efficient and attractive and I place in nomination the name of Ruth Smith for desk reporter."

Rep. Link: "I can't refrain from commenting on the very complimentary remarks that Rep. Fitch has bestowed upon our efficient desk reporter. Perhaps he is in a better position to know than myself, but I certainly join in and wish to second the nomination of Ruth Smith as desk reporter."

Rep. Gefreh moved that the nominations be closed, which motion prevailed.

ROLL CALL

The question being on the election of Ruth Smith as Desk Reporter, the roll was called and there were: ayes, 113; nays, 0; absent and not voting, 0.

Those voting for Ruth Smith were:

Gress	Divide	Watt
Gronhovd	Olson, Griggs-	Wheeler
Halcrow	Steele	Wilkie
Halverson	Ostrem	Witteman
Harding	Overbo	Mr. Speaker
Haugland	Paulson

So Ruth Smith was declared elected as Desk Reporter and the oath of office was administered by the Speaker.

The Speaker announced that the next order of business was the election of a sergeant-at-arms.

Rep. Anderson of Cass: "I want to place in nomination the name of Arthur Laske, a former member of this House. He has served for five sessions. He is pretty well acquainted with the job of Sergeant-at-Arms. I am sure that he will make a very good Sergeant-at-Arms."

Rep. Watt: "I want to second the nomination of Arthur Laske."

Rep. Simonsen moved that the nominations be closed, which motion prevailed.

ROLL CALL

The question being on the election of Arthur Laske as Sergeant-at-Arms, the roll was called and there were: ayes, 113; nays, 0; absent and not voting, 0.

Those voting for Arthur Laske were:

Gress	Divide	Watt

Halcrow	Steele	Wilkie
Halverson	Ostrem	Witteman
Harding	Overbo	Mr. Speaker
Haugland	Paulson

So Arthur Laske was declared elected as Sergeant-at-Arms and was sworn in by the Speaker.

Rep. Fitch: "Mr. Speaker, I think on behalf of this House of Representatives it is now time to thank the distinguished senator from Richland County, Senator Morgan, for the very fine service that he has rendered this House over these many, many years. It was my privilege to nominate Ken Morgan for every job that he has held in this House for over twenty years and every job he has done well and efficiently. On behalf of myself, and I am quite sure of all the older members, I wish to tell Senator Morgan that we appreciate the very fine work that he has done.

"In addition to that, Mr. Speaker, I think it has been the practice of this House to pay the Chief Clerk of the previous session for his mileage and his time in organizing the House so that we can get started to work promptly and efficiently. Senator Morgan has again performed that work and therefore I move that the House pay him the Chief Clerk's salary for six days and mileage to and from his home, for the work that he has done in getting this 35th legislative assembly under way."

Rep. Goebel: "I second the motion."

Rep. Link: "I wish to join in the remarks extended in thanking Senator Ken Morgan for his many years of service to the House of Representatives in the North Dakota legislature."

Senator Morgan: "Thank you, Folks — to the members that I have known a good many years and the new members, let me say that it has indeed been a pleasure and I shall miss you all."

The question being on six days pay and mileage for Kenneth L. Morgan, the roll was called and there were: ayes, 113; nays, 0; absent and not voting, 0.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

By NORMAN BRUNSDALE, Retiring Governor

To the Thirty-Fifth Legislative Assembly and Biennial Report to the People of North Dakota:

INTRODUCTION

In accordance with a custom of long standing, I appear before you now to deliver my message as a retiring governor. Naturally many thoughts come to mind on a farewell occasion. I am particularly aware that there is also much unfinished work left for a successor to complete. Developments of statewide importance have been started and will require your attention and that of a succeeding administration.

It has been my good fortune to have served with many of you who are members of this, the 35th Legislative Assembly; and for the past six years it has been both a privilege and an honor for me to work with many of you as Governor of the state. To all of you with whom I have been associated in solving the problems confronting the state of North Dakota, in advancing its interest in every way through the enactment of legislation, and to you who are serving as legislators for the first time, go my best wishes for a successful and fruitful session.

My relations with state officials during my tenure have been on a friendly basis. I have enjoyed cooperation in a high degree from nearly every one of them. This has been so in spite of factional or party affiliation. In fact, I have been the recipient of their good will and support in the conduct of state affairs. In turn, I have tried to assist them as conscientiously and effectively as I could. It has been a pleasure to learn to know so many able, loyal and friendly people.

The past six years have been eventful in many respects. Generally speaking, our state has reaped bountiful crops, with the exception of such grains as were seriously affected by 15-B rust during the years of '53 and '54. The state also has been blest with adequate moisture during this period, the exception being in limited areas (generally in the western and southern sections of the state), and in 1956 the drought was particularly severe in several of our southwestern counties. 1956 was, for the areas that suffered crop losses as a result, the year of the most destructive drought damage since the 1930's. Counterbalancing this severe drought damage over a limited area in this state is the exceptionally high crop yields received in most of the rest of the counties of the state. North Dakota, as a result, in 1956 produced the best crop of any state in that tier of states south of the 49th Parallel to the Rio Grande.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Great development of our natural resources has required the attention of the Legislature and of the state officials in greater degree during the past six years than at any time in the history of the state. The discovery of oil is one reason for this. The oil development is progressing at a much slower pace, it is true, but there are a total of 27 oil fields in the state. A wildcat well in southern Billings County, near the Slope County border, has recently been brought in which is the beginning of one more field. However, because of inadequate proven reserves, a pipeline to take the oil production out of the state has not been built, thus limiting maximum daily allowable production generally from 30 to 40 thousand barrels.

I believe that the encouragement given to the oil industry through wise legislation and moderate taxation has been of sizable assistance in furthering the oil development. Some legislation or amendments will be needed from time to time, but I do not believe much is necessary at this time. Because of the cost of regulation and supervision of the oil industry by the State Geology Department I believe you should give consideration to a plan of deducting this cost from the total severance tax collected before any division is made between the counties and the State. One-fourth of one percent does not pay more than half of this cost at the present time.

Development of the water conservation program has progressed to the point that North Dakota is soon approaching the time when water can be made available for irrigation purposes through a diversion canal from the Garrison Reservoir. The survey and detailed investigations that have been made by the Bureau of Reclamation is about complete and its report will be filed sometime in the early part of 1957. It will soon be possible to learn what the cost-benefit ratio will be and what charge will be made for bringing water to the farmlands in the irrigable areas to the east. This canal will not be built, of course, until there is assurance enough farmers are sufficiently interested in forming irrigation districts and agreeing to contracts of reimbursement required by the Bureau. At the earliest it will be 1960 to '61 before any water will be made available for use if there is no delay in the program. If there is no support for or interest in irrigation in the near future the state itself will lose the priority to those waters, and if they will be pre-empted by other states south of us they undoubtedly will never be available to us again. Fortunately, the Garrison Diversion Conservancy District Act passed by the 34th Legislative Assembly will be awake to the responsibilities involved in this program. Our Water Conservation Commission will also be abreast of the situation in all respects.

It isn't, however, only the farmlands that will need this water. There are municipalities which will need it to replace their presently dwindling or inadequate supply. It will be needed also for industrial purposes as well as for domestic use; yes, even for navigation.

The water development program in North Dakota, as far as the Missouri River development is concerned, can be of immense and untold benefit by permitting a larger percentage of the younger population of this state to remain in the state. Because part of the land can be irrigated to the point that there will always be an assurance of fodder and feed for livestock, thus eliminating the possibility of selling foundation stock in periods of drought, many farms could be reduced to half their present size and still bring a better return to both of the operators than to one today.

FISCAL PROBLEMS

You have had an opportunity to study, at least in part, the report of the Budget Board. In the introduction to it there is a summary which gives you the essential figures both as to income, particularly to the General Fund, and also the appropriations approved by the Budget Board out of that same fund. You will find that the estimated General Fund balance on July 1 of 1957 will be about $2,859,000.00. The estimated income for the biennium of 1957-'59 is $30,000,000.00, making a grand total of $32,859,000.00. It is safe to say that the State General Fund levy which, during the past year, has been 3 mills on property will have to be increased to 4 mills. An additional 1-mill levy on all taxable property for the next biennium will add another $1,281,000.00. This figure, however, is not to be found in the introduction to the Report. But, adding that amount to the previous total we find there will be available $34,143,000.00 for appropriations in the coming biennium. The Budget Board allowed or approved total appropriations of $31,427,508.82. Thus, on July 1 of 1959 on this basis there will be a balance of $2,700,000.00 approximately. I believe that is as small a General Fund balance for the end of the biennium as should be permitted.

To those who are serving their first session in the Legislature, it may be appropriate to state that the General Fund is drawn upon for the payment of all costs of operation and maintenance of the charitable and penal institutions and the institutions of higher learning of the state, and in addition thereto, the cost of operation of all departments of the state government, exclusive of the Highway Department.

You are going to be confronted with requests, in fact demands, that certain budgets be increased. Also Appropriations not considered by the Budget Board will be submitted for consideration. In fact, requests from the institutions and the departments of government chargeable to the General Fund were in excess of $11,000,000.00 beyond the total estimated income to the General Fund. The Budget Board had no other choice but to trim the budgets submitted, and in doing so giving consideration to many factors too lengthy to explain. It can also be mentioned that requests for buildings or improvements were given no approval except as they pertain to the State Hospital and the Grafton institution for sewage disposal lagoons of $150,000.00 and $125,000.00 respectively. An item of $700,000.00 for a school building at the Grafton institution was approved subject to funds being made available.

In the 1955 session I made a recommendation of $1,550,000.00 for a ward building at the Jamestown Hospital and also $500,000.00 for a new school building at the Grafton institution, the money to be appropriated from the Welfare Fund surplus. That recommendation was not approved by the Legislature. Unless this source is tapped now, I do not know where this session of the Legislature is going to find funds for that purpose in addition to other extraordinary requests. But, appropriations for such buildings come as close to being a matter of welfare for the general public as almost any other use of public funds. In fact, those most concerned with welfare in this state have not opposed such use of those funds. Hence, my recommendation of two years ago is repeated.

The Sales Tax Act passed by the 1955 session, or the 34th Legislative Assembly, provided that sales tax funds could be used, seven-twelfths "for the purposes set forth in the State Equalization Fund Law or for other educational purposes specifically authorized by the Legislature. The remaining five-twelfths of said trust fund shall be used and dispersed only for the payment of appropriations to be expended by the Public Welfare Board for the purpose authorized by law or for other welfare purposes specifically authorized by the Legislature". From this language it is apparent that the last Legislative Assembly permitted the use of funds of the sales tax surpluses for other purposes than Equalization and Welfare in the strictest sense. It is to be noted, however, that there was an objection especially in the Senate of the 34th Legislative Assembly to this change from previous sales tax legislation. Particularly was the objection raised by those who didn't want to see the Equalization Fund used for any other purposes than it heretofore had been used for. I am aware of that objection on the part of many people who insist that the sales tax shall remain as earmarked or dedicated revenue for all time regardless of the fact that it is re-enacted every two years.

Deducting sizable revenues eventually results in financial or fiscal problems that cannot be solved without the elimination of such dedicating. As much as possible, tax income should be placed in the General Fund and appropriated therefrom each legislative session.

Dedicating state revenues in North Dakota dates from the time the Federal government required the states to set aside in a special fund all gas tax money and motor vehicle license money for highway construction or maintenance under penalty of losing Federal highway grants-in-aid. There may have been instances otherwise when tax income was earmarked in the past, but none to a great extent do I recall.

When the initiated acts dividing the sales tax revenue, seven-twelfths to the Equalization Fund and five-twelfths to the Welfare Fund, was approved not much concern was given to it because the General Fund was beginning to be the recipient at that time of a large amount of delinquent taxes that had accumulated during the '30's, and especially in the early '40's. During the wartime this piled up into sizable surpluses in the General Fund, with the result that millions were set aside for one purpose or the other, particularly for highway construction, for buildings and for veterans welfare. For many years there was no need to be concerned about dedicated funds such as each sales tax act provided. The time has come when built up surplus money in both the Equalization and Welfare Funds could be used to balance in part demands made upon the General Fund as mentioned heretofore. Dedicating public income often results in a scramble to be included as special recipients of such funds. Already there is agitation for dedicating revenue for our institutions of higher learning and for the Korean bonus. If we keep on long enough dedicating General Fund money, there won't be much for the Legislature to do except to divide such funds and to provide for those functions of government represented by people not influential or powerful enough to have dedicated income. The business of the Legislature is at every session to pass on appropriations for all governmental functions, whether they are state departments, institutions of higher learning, charitable or penal institutions, or distribution of monies collected by the State for the benefit of political subdivisions, municipalities, etc. When all this is left to the Legislature I believe we are helping to preserve our form of government more fully, and all concerned will receive more equitable treatment.

There is a request in for another $5,000,000.00 to be set aside for the School Construction Fund from the Equalization Fund. My only answer to it is that an enforcement of our present assessment laws will eliminate such a fund entirely. Legislation which will provide for full and true assessment of property has been given much consideration by the Research Committee. With proper safeguards as to limitations written into the law of taxing districts' budgets, more equitable distribution of the property tax burden can result. Thus, a school district which cannot bond for more than half enough money to build a new school building under present assessments and must borrow an equal amount from the School Construction Fund has incurred the same liability as if it could have voted a bond issue to finance the entire building cost in the first place. In other words, if property were assessed at its full and true value as the law requires, even at a fifty percent tax base, I doubt that there is a school district in North Dakota that would need to resort to a School Construction Fund loan. I hope our assessment laws can be amended to produce these results.

Surely any attempt to seriously remedy the assessment of property will require sizable safeguards so that taxes will not increase unduly during the period of adjustment. A suggestion has been made of 3 percent over the year before. Of course, if a local school district votes an increased levy under present laws I assume it will still be permitted to do so under any proposed legislation.

The Sales Tax Surplus, based on figures that have been made available to me, will be on July 1 of 1957 $15,100,000.00 after all appropriations for this biennium have been paid. Adding to it $5,000,000.00 already loaned from the School Construction Fund, this makes a total of $20,100,000.00. There are several hundred thousand dollars not accounted for here as interest on some of these monies.

To those who contend that the sales tax surplus should not be touched, my recommendation is to divert for two years to the General Fund not to exceed a levy of one-half of one percent on all sales. With this income some of the requests that have been made by the institutions of higher learning, the charitable and penal institutions and the departments of government, exclusive of highways, can be met. On the other hand, if there is objection to such a procedure or to using any of the surplus sales tax money for needed expenses of these three, I believe the rate of the sales tax levy should be reduced to fit the essential needs which the sales tax laws hitherto enacted have provided.

I have gone to some length setting forth my views as to the state's fiscal problems. In part I have done this because I realize that additional income must be made available to the General Fund for worthwhile requests. In my opinion, the elected officials of this state should receive a salary at least fifty percent greater than they are receiving today. Funds should be made available so that this can be done. The officials receiving $5,000.00 per year on the basis of 1939 or 1940 dollars are receiving the equivalent of about $2,500.00 at that time. I realize that under the Constitution any salary increase cannot be made available to these people during this biennium; however, if funds are made available, I think some expense allowance should be made to those who receive only $5,000.00 per year. The salaries of other officials would then be raised effective in the 1959-1961 biennium if legally possible.

There are also other people whose services are not adequately rewarded. We have them in all our institutions and departments of government. The Budget Board generally approved an increase of about five percent for these people, but could go no farther. Competent service deserves adequate pay. It is unfortunate that it cannot be made available now when the General Fund estimate for the next biennium is greater than it has been for any biennium of the last six years. Inflation is catching up with us constantly, and the usual surplus funds no longer can be tapped.

GOVERNMENTAL REORGANIZATION

In 1941 there was submitted to the Legislature a Governmental Survey Commission report. Of the recommendations contained in it very few have been adopted. I would recommend that consideration be given to that report once again—not with the idea of adopting any drastic changes at this session of the Legislature, but that the Interim Legislative Research Committee give consideration to those recommendations. Many of them deserve consideration and are as worthwhile today as they were then. Such measures as are recommended and would meet with your approval and would not require constitutional amendments could be submitted at the next session of the Legislature. Those requiring constitutional amendments will require more study, and perhaps if some of them are found desirable, proper resolutions could also be adopted at the next session.

Copies of this report are available as well as copies of another report made by a committee financed by the Public Works Administration.

CONCLUSION

May I also express to you the satisfaction that I have had in working with many of you these past six years. I hope that the cooperation you have given me you will also accord to my successor, the Honorable John E. Davis. I am sure that with him in the Governor's chair and with your assistance, your experience in matters of legislation and his experience in many other fields in addition to those of public office, the State of North Dakota is fortunate in this combination and it will fare well in the years to come.

Your deliberations at this session will be watched by the people of North Dakota for many reasons, particularly because the working majority in both Houses is large. However, they will watch you to see if you make the proper use of that working majority for the good of the state and for a statesmen-like performance of your deliberations. If every consideration is given to that phase of your legislation, and if there is a complete absence of self in your support of that legislation, I think that North Dakota—besides entering upon a new era in its economic development because of oil, water and the beneficial use of its other natural resources—will also be entering upon another period most significant because men and women like you are working together in harmony in such large numbers. Wise and effective leadership will be needed to hasten these new developments if the prosperity of the state and its people produced thereby will reach out to a larger proportion of its population than ever before.

You will, as a result, be having the fortunate responsibility of doing this in a measure that will help to promote greater progress in other fields of endeavor—particularly new industry of the kind related to our present natural resources development or, for that matter, any new industry which will help to keep our younger generation in the state.

I have high confidence in you, that your legislative activity during this 35th Legislative Session will receive the approval of the people who sent you here. I admit yours is a sizeable task, but I have every confidence that what you will accomplish this session will be for the greatest good. May I congratulate you on being elected to serve the State as legislators once again. Particularly may I say to those who are elected for the first time, that your experience will be as satisfying to you as the degree of interest and study you put into your work, whether it be on the floor or on committees. Your judgment as to what to do should be determined after you have given thorough study to the questions involved, seeking the advice and such information as trusted friends, officials, and legislators can give you where you, yourselves, do not find the answers.

Lastly, may I express my sincere thanks to each and every person employed by the State and to the officials I have been associated with the past six years for all the kindness and consideration they have shown me and the assistance they have given me in carrying on the duties of my office. I assure them and every one of you that I will take as keen an interest in the affairs of North Dakota in private life as I have done as its Governor.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

By JOHN E. DAVIS, Governor

To the Thirty-Fifth Legislative Assembly and Biennial
Report to The People of North Dakota

INTRODUCTION

In compliance with the Constitution of our State, I have the honor of presenting to you my Legislative Message and report to the people of North Dakota.

I wish to begin with a tribute to our retiring Governor, Norman Brunsdale. He deserves his enviable reputation for sound judgment and for wise administration of state affairs. He is respected for his integrity and fairness to a degree seldom found in any position in public or private life. Our State has been fortunate to have had such a man as its Chief Executive for the past six years.

As I prepared this communication to you, I was struck by the similarity of problems before us today with those which have been considered by previous Legislative Assemblies. They seldom yield to final settlement, but instead grow more difficult and complex and must be attacked again and again as conditions change. The task ahead will not be easy. However, the legislative experience of the older members and the fresh approach of the new members of this Assembly provide a balanced background for judiciously and wisely solving legislative matters that will be brought before you.

As your new Governor, it is my desire to cooperate and assist in any way possible in your deliberations so we can unite our efforts to provide solutions to our many problems for the best interest and well-being of our State.

Therefore, I present this message on state affairs dealing with subjects of paramount importance.

FISCAL POLICIES

The big problem confronting you as members of this Legislative Assembly is how to provide the money for the many governmental functions and responsibilities.

The continued increase in the enrollment at our state colleges makes a continuing building program imperative, which, in turn, requires constantly larger amounts for operating expenses. The needs of our institutions and the general administration of the State are a challenge to your financial ingenuity.

Highway development remains one of the big problems of the State and is of concern to every highway user. The new federal highway program demands that we make every effort to meet the requirements necessary to obtain maximum construction in our State by matching all federal moneys available to us.

There has been substantial progress made in meeting the needs for institutional buildings and highway construction during recent years. This was made possible by the accumulation of reserves in the General Fund during the war years, when construction was necessarily deferred, but those reserves have been exhausted and the profits from state-owned institutions have been largely used or earmarked.

In accordance with their duties, the Budget Board has made a detailed and comprehensive report on appropriations requested by all departments, schools, institutions, and agencies. After reviewing these requests the Budget Board made its recommendations which will balance expenditures with estimated income.

It is estimated the General Fund, at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1957, will have a balance of $2,858,937. The estimated General Fund income for the next biennium is $30,000,000. The Budget Board set forth total appropriations of $31,427,508 for the next biennium out of the General Fund so it can readily be seen that this fund could be exhausted at the end of another two years. It is possible to augment the General Fund by transfers from special accounts. This has been done in the past by the Legislative Assembly to provide funds for highway construction.

I do not believe the taxpayers of the State can stand substantial increases in taxes on property or income. The federal burden on income and the local burden on property, foreclose any state increase in these fields, except as it will apply to raising revenue for payment of the Korean Adjusted Compensation bonds. I am recommending later in this message that these bonds be handled in the same manner as World War II Adjusted Compensation bonds which were retired with several special taxes and a property tax levy.

Our state economy is dependent on agriculture. The cost of production is increasing, due mainly to the inflationary trend of our national economy which adversely affects farm and ranch income as well as all businesses serving the needs of our people. While 1956 was generally good for the economy of our State, there were several areas, particularly in the west, which suffered severe losses from drought. Any tax increases would be an extra hardship on our citizens living in those counties.

You will have before you proposals for increasing and equalizing the tax on the users of our highways. These proposals deserve your careful consideration.

I believe that consideration should be given to a broader use of our sales tax revenue. While the use of this revenue must be restricted to education and welfare, it seems that some of the needs of the blind, the senile at Jamestown, the handicapped at the Grafton School, as well as the needs of higher education might be met from this source.

As the sources of new tax moneys are limited, it becomes essential that we use the revenues available to the best possible advantage. While the requirements must be met as far as possible, every department, institution, school, and agency must realize that economy is necessary. Economy and efficiency in all phases of government make for good government. In my judgment, it is imperative that we retain the sound financial condition of our State.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The dynamic progress of North Dakota will be measured by what we do in a positive way to encourage and promote our economic and industrial potentials, and what we do to encourage the development and use of our natural resources. Attention throughout the state has been focused on this field of development, so I recommend your consideration be given to the establishment of an Economic and Industrial Council with an executive director who is a specialist in the field of promotion to carry on this work at a state level. The task ahead is to sell North Dakota and the opportunities we have in our state as well as promote the use of industrial ideas generated by the people who now live in North Dakota.

This area of industrial development is intensely competitive in the United States today and already many of our cities in North Dakota have emphasized the need for work in this field. North Dakota has many valuable natural resources known to all of you such as the tremendous deposits of lignite, clay, oil and water. Power generated by the Garrison Dam and adequate supplies of water are essential for many industries. Being an agricultural state, greater effort and thought must go to determining what projects are most feasible for the processing and use of what we produce on our farms and ranches.

We need to push this development to expand the opportunity for labor and the youth of our state. New industries together with agriculture will provide the basis for a growing and thriving state.

In making this proposal, I am suggesting a new agency of state, but I suggest a legislative review of the Research Foundation to formulate a plan to consolidate this under the economic council or to transfer the personnel and responsibility for research to one of our colleges.

The council should be a board appointed by the Governor and representing a cross section of business and agriculture which would make recommendations on the policies for our economic development and act as advisors to the executive director. The director would be appointed by the Governor and be responsible to the Governor. These recommendations are merely suggestions, for I have confidence that your deliberations will bring forth the elements of this development program which will function and operate to best advantage. Our experiences with the oil development since the first discovery well points up the tremendous contribution industry can make to our economy. This new wealth has brought new business, attributed to our small but steady growth in population, and created new employment opportunities. Recent discoveries of new fields enhance the value of oil to North Dakota and give further proof that many areas are still to be tested and drilled before the full potential is known. We must continue our fair treatment to this industry and encourage more exploration and development. Any proposal to increase taxes affecting this industry should be moderate.

AGRICULTURE

In North Dakota farming is our basic and primary industry upon which the entire state is dependent, directly or indirectly. Therefore, it must be recognized that our general well-being is attributed to the prosperity of our farms and ranches. We must in the field of agriculture maintain and provide necessary funds for a program of aggressive research designed to develop better seeds, and to do all other things that will help agriculture. The use of fertilizer emphasizes the need for an adequate soil testing laboratory at Fargo. Research dollars spent in finding new seeds, analyzing soils, preventing disease, and experimentation in animal production and more efficient farming methods will materially assist our farmers and ranchers in operating more productive and successful units.

REA and RTA have brought a new era of convenience and comfort and have contributed much to rural living besides providing greater efficiency in many farm operations. RTA is rapidly spreading over the state. This means another step forward in rural development and all steps necessary should be taken to foster and safeguard this program.

Industrial and economic development discussed as a separate subject previously in this report will promote our basic industry by working to build processing plants using agricultural products.

During 1956 several areas in our State suffered severe crop damage from hail. The western part of the State produced a small crop and insufficient feed for livestock, creating an economic hardship. In areas where needed, efforts should be made to assure federal aid and assistance in 1957.

Soil conservation is of paramount importance in North Dakota and the achievements in this field on our farms and ranches are outstanding. Cooperation of the local districts, the state committee, and federal agencies is worthy of highest commendation. The work carried on is bringing immeasurable benefit to North Dakota, and must be supported and continued.

MENTAL HEALTH

It has taken a long time for us to recognize the fact that mental illness is similar to physical illness and no stigma attaches to either. The modern concept makes necessary a modification of our laws for admission to the State Hospital and also a modification of the treatment given to patients.

Voluntary admission to the Hospital is becoming an accepted practice. The treatment is aimed at cure, not merely institutional care. The records show that, while a modern, intensive treatment program is expensive, the cost of permanent long time care of patients is even more costly. Returning mental patients to their families and society is worth the cost many times over.

Great advancement has been made in treatment and the administration of our Jamestown Hospital has placed emphasis on securing trained personnel and specialists in this field. Improved facilities at Jamestown and at Grafton have brought some relief to over-crowded conditions, but much has yet to be done in this area before we can say the job is well done and we have discharged our responsibilities to provide adequate treatment and housing.

I would like to recommend that consideration be given to an appropriation sufficient to build another ward unit at the Jamestown Hospital to relieve the congested condition still existing, and which would provide better living conditions for many older persons residing in the Hospital who require institutional care. However, in view of budgetary requirements, I can only ask that you keep this need in mind when planning the future building needs of our institutions.

The condition at the Grafton institution is even more acute. I recommend the Legislature appropriate $700,000 from such funds as you deem advisable to construct a ward unit. This will make it possible to care for many mentally retarded children who are on the waiting list seeking admission. The construction of a new ward building at the State School at Grafton is only a partial solution to the problem. I refer you to the study made by the Legislative Research Committee, and I ask that you give careful and deliberate consideration to their recommendations upon the care of mentally retarded and tubercular persons.

STATE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM AT SAN HAVEN

In view of the decreased number of patients at this Hospital because of modern methods used in the treatment of tuberculosis it may be desirable to consider other uses for these facilities and the construction of a smaller hospital unit at the University of North Dakota in connection with the Medical Health Center for tubercular use and treatment.

The new sanatorium facility could be constructed with moneys available for the Medical Center, and with additional federal aid available for hospital construction, the project could be started without delay.

The Sanatorium at San Haven could be converted into a facility to handle retarded patients from Grafton or any other use deemed advisable by the Legislature. This conversion would make it possible to care for 250 to 300 patients and could be done at a nominal cost when compared to providing new facilities at Grafton to handle the same number of patients.

BLIND SCHOOL

The people of North Dakota, by the amendment of our Constitution, approved the transfer of this school from Bathgate to the campus at the University of North Dakota. A site is available for the school at the new location. While no funds appear to be available to construct the new school out of the General Fund, it would be possible to make an appropriation from sales tax moneys for this facility and thus discharge a responsibility given to you by the citizens of North Dakota. The preliminary estimates indicated $800,000 would be required for this school building.

EDUCATION

The educational program of this state and nation are of fundamental importance in preparing our youth to take their proper place as citizens in our great Republic and all efforts must be put forth to improve the training and education of our young people.

Studies have been made of the educational needs in North Dakota and reports will be submitted to you with recommendations for changes in a number of school laws. The matters of reorganization of school districts to provide better economic units to support the present financial needs, of increased standards of teacher qualifications and certification, and of solving school financial problems will be presented to you. These are a few of many problems on education to be discussed and considered by this legislative session.

You must analyze the needs of our schools of higher education. Increased enrollments and the prospect for continued growth in the number of students at our colleges points up the importance of a long range building program to provide adequate facilities for the future. The requirements of our rapidly expanding mechanization of industry and agriculture indicates the need for trained workers with vocational education. As teacher standards increase, the teachers' colleges will receive many more high school graduates. The trend, nationwide as well as in North Dakota, is for an increasing percentage of the high school graduates to select careers requiring higher education.

Our educational problems are big but I have confidence that your ingenuity and foresight will wisely use the limited funds available in improving and solving many of these important matters.

WATER DEVELOPMENT

The North Dakota Constitutional Convention was told that year in and year out, North Dakota had just a little less rainfall than needed but that the water needed to make up the deficit was flowing down the Missouri River. It took a half century in time and a quarter century of prodding by farseeing people of the State to do something about it. Today we have the Garrison Dam, backing up waters which may be used for irrigation, municipal purposes, recreation and wild-life, as well as generating electricity for the people of this area.

The work is far from finished. If the economic report of the Bureau of Reclamation is favorable for the Garrison Diversion Project we must vigorously implement this development. This is essential to safeguard for our use the water available at the Dam and to build a more secure agricultural economy. This will stabilize and diversify a large segment of our agriculture and provide a better basis for industrial development. How better can we promote the general welfare of North Dakota?

HIGHWAYS

Highway construction and maintenance is a most important responsibility of our state government. It requires a large share of tax revenues to provide a continuing program of improvement of highways throughout our state. Everywhere you go there is interest in road matters. Therefore, adequate and necessary funds for our highway program must be made available so the Highway Department can match federal allocations for the interstate system as well as for the primary and secondary system.

Officials of the Highway Department will present detailed statements of what has been accomplished and explain the proposed plan for the next biennium. I shall therefore confine my remarks to a general statement.

It is my observation that the proposed highway budget for the next biennium, July 1, 1957 to June 30, 1959, would create a deficit at the end of that time. This is a serious situation which can only be solved by making additional funds available during this session.

During the session, more information will be available to you for study and I hope your decision will be favorable for the continuation of a progressive better roads program, based on a policy of paying as we build by matching all federal moneys available to our state.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

One of the most disturbing conditions in North Dakota today is the ever-mounting number of deaths, injuries, and loss of property resulting from highway accidents. The daily headlines warn us this is a serious problem and is of grave concern to each citizen. Highway enforcement officers will do all they can to reduce this ever-mounting toll of highway accidents and highway engineers will continue to design and build roads for greater driving safety, but the driving public must be aroused to the immediate need for exercising self-discipline to observe with prudence and caution all driving laws and regulations. The program of the North Dakota Safety Council has great merit and if properly implemented should be a tremendous factor in arousing the necessary public support for all citizens to join in this safe driving crusade. Greater stress on driver education and responsibility should be emphasized in school curriculum so our young people become indoctrinated with the absolute need for cautious, careful driving habits.

The Highway Patrol represents the state arm of traffic law enforcement. Recommendations will be made for increasing the number of Highway Patrolmen. This is desirable if funds for this purpose are available. It can, in part, be accomplished if certain inspection and enforcement responsibilities are transferred to the Highway Patrol as suggested by the Legislative Research Committee.

Highway safety must become not only the responsibility of the agencies of traffic enforcement in our state but of each citizen behind the driver's wheel.

LABOR

The health and safety of labor are primary responsibilities of the State of North Dakota. In case of accident, the worker and his dependents must rely for protection upon the Workmen's Compensation Law. It is essential that the beneficial provisions of this law be administered promptly, efficiently and humanely.

Proposals will be submitted to you for improvements in the administration of the Workmen's Compensation program. We must be certain that sufficient funds are provided to employ qualified personnel for administration of the law for the greatest protection of the workmen.

KOREAN BONUS

The people of North Dakota have voted authority for the issuance of bonds not to exceed $9,000,000 to pay adjusted compensation to veterans of the Korean War. I recommend that the mandate of the people be immediately carried out by providing for the payment of the bonus to Korean veterans or their dependents and provision be made for the retirement of the bonds on a basis similar to that used under the World War II bonus plan.

INDIANS

The status of our Indian population requires clarification. Under the decision of our Supreme Court, the Indian living on government-held land is subject only to federal or tribal laws and not to state law. Yet these Indians vote and help make the laws to which they are not subject. The Federal Government protects their property from taxation but seeks to shift responsibility for their welfare to the State. This indefinite status breaks down law and order on Indian reservations.

The last legislative session sought to remedy this situation by the adoption of a constitutional amendment which would permit the state to exercise jurisdiction over the Indians. This was defeated by the voters in the June Primary of 1956.

I recommend that the Indian Affairs Commission and the Legislative Research Committee be authorized to meet with representatives of the Federal Government and representatives of the several tribes in an effort to work out a practical solution to an intolerable condition.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND OASIS

Under consideration has been the advisability of transferring all state employees to Social Security and the elimination of OASIS. I urge this session of the Legislature to make these necessary changes. As a matter of fact, this change will bring greater continuing benefits to public employees and is a responsibility which can be handled to advantage by the Federal Government.

I specifically call to your attention that the OASIS fund will have a responsibility to those receiving payments from this fund today and to all employees until the transfer of responsibility has been made to Social Security. This liability must be provided for in any measures adopted by the Legislature.

GOVERNMENTAL REORGANIZATION

Economy and efficiency in state government must always be recognized as a duty in both legislation and in administration. Wherever there is duplication, it should be eliminated. If it is possible to consolidate responsibilities within a department or between departments of state that will give the proper service, it should be done. In this field the Legislative Research Committee has made a detailed study and will submit to you a report with recommendations for certain changes designed to improve these functions and should result in economies. These are not drastic reform measures but changes which will be beneficial and provide a realistic and logical approach to making government better. I would recommend that provisions be made for a continuing study of governmental organization and activities to evaluate and recommend changes in government to promote economy and efficiency. Such a study could be carried on during the interim between legislative sessions by a legislative committee, assisted by interested citizens of the State.

Now that the two-party system has been restored in North Dakota politics, I believe the time has come to completely review our election laws and particularly make changes that will establish party responsibility.

I specifically recommend a means be provided for the establishment of party registration as we had in our state years ago.

CORPORATION AND COOPERATIVE LAWS

You will have for consideration proposals to modernize the corporation and cooperative laws of the State. The corporation laws, particularly, are antiquated and should be revised. Many corporations doing business in North Dakota are forced to incorporate in other states to obtain flexibility necessary under modern competitive conditions of doing business.

Our cooperative laws have developed piecemeal so it is often difficult for the cooperative itself to tell which Act is applicable. A revision of these laws will be helpful.

CONCLUSION

I have presented my views upon some of the legislation you will consider. You as legislators have a reservoir of information and sound experience that can provide sound answers to the questions confronting you.

We have a tremendous job. Decisions must be made to provide for the basic needs of our citizens, but we must always be mindful of the effect of additional taxation upon the economy and welfare of our state.

As we begin our deliberations, we must never forget that democracy is dependent upon the vigorous participation of its citizens and elected representatives. A new awareness of the meaning of liberty comes to us all as we watch the struggle for life itself in many foreign countries. To insure the freedom of this or any country, the functions of government must be kept responsive to popular will. Governmental power must be kept as near to the governed as possible. Certain fields of responsibility have been assigned to state government. We must shoulder these obligations if our present state-federal system of government is to be retained.

The challenge is to build without destroying through taxation the aggressive spirit and incentives that have been the driving force in the betterment of individual and community life in our State.

In conclusion, may I restate my confidence and that of the people of North Dakota in you as elected representatives to chart a course that will provide this commonwealth with the state of well-being that is desired by all our citizens. May God give you guidance in these important deliberations you are about to undertake.

It was a pleasure for a great number of legislators this past weekend to be the guests of various groups of people and organizations throughout the eastern section of North Dakota. It was our great privilege to be principally the guests of our hosts, the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce. In our tour they conducted us through Mayville, Grand Forks, Devils Lake, and intermediate points.

Our first stop gave us the privilege of viewing the campus of the Mayville State Teacher's College. Time did not permit us to make a tour of the buildings, but we viewed them from the outside and I believe we have a better understanding of what the appearance of the Mayville State Teacher's College is, and what the possible needs might be and a little more about their operations. From that point we moved on to the city of Grand Forks where we were cared for entirely by the Chamber of Commerce. Through their courtesy and care, we were privileged to visit the greater portion of the University of North Dakota, one of our fine institutions. We were also privileged through their courtesy to visit the State Mill and Elevator and see its operation; we were privileged to see the Minn-Kota Cooperative Power plant; we saw the Bureau of Mines, the co-pilot plant adjoining the campus of the University; we saw the proposed site for the Blind School; we saw the air base, located near Grand Forks—All of this time we were cared for and conducted through all of these various places that I have just mentioned, by guides that explained the operations of these various units and it was certainly very highly educational, and we certainly want the delegation from these various counties in which we visited to know that we appreciated what was done for us in their communities.

On our return trip it was our privilege to visit the Deaf School at Devils Lake. We also, while there, had a very nice luncheon provided for us by the Devils Lake Chamber of Commerce. We also had the opportunity to visit the Inventor's Congress, the first of its kind, I believe, in the nation. Devils Lake, as a community, and others that have worked with that Congress, are to be congratulated on a venture that is new, and I think will be very beneficial to the people of North Dakota.

We, as members of the House, will want all of these individuals that were concerned with our travels over the weekend to know that we highly appreciate the courtesy that was extended to us on that tour."

Rep. Link: "Mr. Speaker, it would be merely repetitious for me to attempt to enlarge upon what Rep. Nygaard has so aptly stated in explaining so well that most enjoyable and educational tour that so many of us took part in. But I do want to add to his comments my own thanks and appreciation as well to the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce and those others in points intervening, who made this trip what is was. Also thanks more particularly to the Grand Forks delegation here in the House, who took the load upon their shoulders of arranging, and so well providing, for the orderly manner in which this mass migration was handled. I would like to mention; and thank, the members from Grand Forks County, Reps. Trydahl, Bye and Lowe.

I believe it would be appropriate to mention for the enlightenment of those who did not attend, and for the general information of any interested parties over the state, that neither the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce, nor the heads of any of the institutions that we visited, tried to use this opportunity to attempt to influence, (or shall we put it more clearly, 'lobby'). I believe that all will agree with me that their wants, desires and needs as they saw them, were suggested to the group, but in fairness I want all to know that no undue pressure or lobbying of any kind was exerted on this trip — and for this courtesy, their hospitality and consideration, I want to join in extending thanks to the entire group that took part in this very fine tour."

Rep. Fitch requested the courtesy of the floor for Judge Burton Gaynor, world traveler and lecturer of Washington, D. C., which request was granted.

Rep. Tescher moved that the absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Gefreh moved that the House do now adjourn, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks of Mr. Schatz be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Schatz: "Mr. Speaker and Ladies and Gentlemen: I don't know whether you have any lady members but I am going to include the ladies. We have one in the House in South Dakota, but I don't know how many you have here.

I didn't expect to stand up here before you today when I crossed the state line. I was more or less raised in North Dakota, but the last time that I visited in the House was in the old capitol building. This is such a big, lavish lay-out that I feel lost in a deal like this. We think we have a pretty good setup in South Dakota, but we have nothing like this that you have here.

I am going to tell something on this fellow here. Just about a week before the legislatures convened in both states we were discussing and trying to guess what was going to happen—how they were going to organize in your state and in our state—and I said to Ben, 'I think you are going to be the next Speaker of the House in North Dakota.' Now, I am glad that I said that.

Ben said to me, 'How are you going to come out in South Dakota?' I said, 'That is the big question'. We had eighteen Democrats and seventeen Republicans elected and it is kind of a miracle that I am here today, but unfortunately one of the Democrat brothers got sick and couldn't come so that left it a seventeen and seventeen deal. The night before we organized one of the Republicans had to resign within six hours before the senate convened and the Governor appointed another Republican, and we finally beat them after all.

I would like to say something about our senate down there. We have a House divided. We have the Democrats all on one side and we call that the "Cherokee strip", and we have the Republicans on the other side. It has been quite a battle and every once in a while, one of our good Republicans gets over in the Indian territory and helps scalp the boys on the other side, so we are having quite a time.

I want to say that I greatly appreciate being here today. I didn't expect to be recognized and come up here on the rostrum. I am very happy to greet the Speaker here. I have known Ben many years and am certainly happy to see him up here. I know he will do a good job.

Again I want to thank you for the privilege of speaking before you."

The only thing he could think to ask was why they were building the capitol over a mile from the town and he was told that it was obvious that before many years the capitol would be in the center of the city. Since that time, of course, the old capitol has outlived its usefulness and is gone, and we are now if not completely surrounded by the city, at least there are now buildings on all sides of the capitol.

Mr. Bryce also remarked that the people of Bismarck, with whom he talked, thought that Bismarck, North Dakota, was the most important place in the world because Bismarck is in the center of North Dakota, and North Dakota is in the center of this continent, and this continent is in the center of the world — therefore Bismarck must be the most important place in the world. While I don't necessarily root for Bismarck, I will say that I think the State of North Dakota is a most important place, New York not withstanding.

It is difficult to talk about Lincoln. There have been over five thousand books written about him, and no one knows how many speeches made about Lincoln. It would be idle to recite to you Lincoln's life, the bare facts of his career, and it seems to me that in celebrating his birthday, as we do, today, that we, in the west, have a peculiar reason for doing so and I think we ought to consider more why this legislature, for example, should suspend its business and meet in this type of session to talk about Abraham Lincoln. We have had many great heroes in this country—military heroes and civilian ones too. We have had many great patriots, but I think none have been closer to the hearts of the American people than Abraham Lincoln. And I think we might examine for a moment why, because to me it explains his greatness and explains why we do, year after year, commemorate the anniversary of his birth. The bare essentials are that he came from the poorest surroundings that any one could ask—although he wasn't the first American president to have been born in a log cabin, he was the first to come from as low a place in the economic and social scale. He had no advantages except those that he created for himself. He had practically no education except what he got for himself. He had many disappointments and heartbreaks. He had a personal life that would, and has, driven many greater men down to the depths of despair, but he didn't bow down to despair. He didn't do a lot of things—just because he didn't do them. The story is told that one time he was at a political meeting where Senator Douglas was the host. Whether by design or otherwise, in addition to a pitcher of water on the sideboard, there was also a pitcher of liquor of some kind. Somebody asked Lincoln to have a drink. He said "No". They asked him "Are you a member of some temperance society?" He said "I am not a member of a temperance society, except I don't drink." That was Lincoln. That was his way—what he didn't do, he didn't do—what he did do, he did.

Lincoln entered politics at a fairly early age, after a period of complete despair—after his prospective bride had died of fever. He was elected several times to the Illinois legislature. He didn't particularly distinguish himself there except that he built a reputation among all who knew him for several things. One was his absolute integrity and one was exactly speaking his mind—and when I say "exactly", that is just what I mean. He had the faculty for saying exactly what he meant. There was no evasion and no circumvention. He said what he meant in language of the people and that the people understood.

Lincoln would have liked very much to have been the United States Senator from Illinois, but he never was. He did go to Congress but he went to Congress during the Mexican War. He didn't exactly ingratiate himself by proposing on the floor of the House, the so-called "Spot Resolution", in which he called on President Polk to designate the exact spot where American blood had been shed by Mexicans. The Mexican War was popular in Illinois. They were very patriotic for several regiments had performed valiantly in this war and so for a time he was called "Spotty Lincoln" in Illinois after his so-called "Spot Resolution". In fact he disturbed and defied his popularity in Illinois. His term in Congress was only one. He came back completely discouraged and he decided that politics was not for him—that he might just as well practice law. He applied himself to the study and practice of law and of course his study of law was entirely upon his own account, with very few facilities available to him but he started the study of law with the same vigor that he started everything in which he believed. While to some people he was always a small-town, backwoods lawyer, the truth is that he soon became one of the leading lawyers of Springfield. He didn't always represent the poor and defenseless, though he often did, but he also represented the railroads and other corporations. One time he had to sue the railroad for his fee, and after looking Mr. Lincoln over, they decided to pay his fee and keep him on their side.

There is nothing stated that he was directly concerned with abolishing slavery. He was never an abolitionist. He was concerned with slavery. In the eastern part of the United States, there were many men most vocal in the cause of abolishing slavery—Charles Sumner, Thaddeus Stevens, Wendell Phillips. Lincoln certainly had not declared himself for abolishing slavery because Mr. Phillips called him "The Slaver from Illinois". He took a legalistic approach to slavery. He had the courage to take men at their word. Slavery was guaranteed in the constitution of the United States, as a property right. Lincoln believed it should be declined, but not forced on the face of the country—he didn't believe that that would work. Lincoln didn't believe in force. But finally something happened—two men that you may not remember, ran for office and in 1826 enacted the Missouri Compromise, which was going to end the "free soil" and the "slavery" question forever. They believed in those days, that a pronouncement could settle problems forever. The Missouri Compromise drew a line across the United States from the east to the west—below that you could have slaves—above that was free soil. That compromise was sacred—men sacrificed their careers to achieve it, but in 1854, Senator Acheson, who was strongly pro-slavery was opposed by Mr. Benton. It was a vigorous campaign and at that time it was proposed to create the states of Kansas and Nebraska. They were north of the Missouri Compromise line. Senator Acheson, apparently assisted by Senator Douglas, probably the leading man of his party at that time, coined the phrase "popular sovereignty" which provided that the people of Kansas and Nebraska, and the people of other new states should decide whether their soil should be slave or free. There was great excitement in the United States for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. That fired Abraham Lincoln. It was against all his principles. It indicated to him that slavery was becoming more powerful and instead of dying out that it was increasing, and that it intended to encroach upon the rest of the country. He began to make speeches. He made one speech called the "Lost Speech". We don't know what he said because the man who had been taking notes of Mr. Lincoln's speeches, was so carried away that he threw down his pencil and paper. He could no longer do anything but listen to it. We would like to have had that speech—but we don't have it.

Mr. Lincoln soon made a reputation for himself among political circles, as a man who spoke the same peculiar doctrine and the thoughts of the people. Lincoln had the faculty for doing that—he spoke what the people felt in their hearts, but that they themselves could not articulate, so he plunged into the fight—not against slavery, but for the country. By that time he could see evidences of dis-union. To him, I think, nothing more horrible could have been in prospect than the dismemberment of this country. He was proposed as a vice presidential candidate but he didn't make it. However, in 1865 in the "Wigwam" in Chicago, after showing an amazing strength on the first ballot against William Seward, the self-proclaimed at least, leader of the Whig party, which had become the Republican party by that time, on the third ballot, he was nominated. Pandemonium broke loose among the people. He was the people's candidate. He had enumerated his doctrine in speeches. He had spoken his mind, clearly and he had a hand in the framing of the party platform. He had written his supporters to make no commitments in his behalf. Fortunately they didn't completely accede to that advice. Lincoln never campaigned. When anyone asked him what he stood for, he said "I have already given that—all you have to do is look to what I have already said." He left the decision entirely in the hands of the people. Such a campaign is inconceivable today.

Lincoln was elected. It has been the misfortune of a number of presidents of the United States to be president during a war. It has not been the misfortune of any other president besides Lincoln to have taken office only a few short days before one of his own countrymen, with pride in his heart, fired the cannon on Fort Sumter and thus began the so-called "irrepressible conflict". Lincoln had outlined his stand in a series of famous debates when running for the Senate against Stephen Douglas. Opposition at that time was expressed in four presidential candidates. Lincoln did not, in that election, receive a majority of the votes of the people, yet he spoke for them. Lincoln, almost as soon as he took his seat in the White House, was faced, not with a country to administer but with a rebellion. How he met that, I think, most of you know. Times were discouraging. The North thought, as we thought some years ago when war with Japan was talked about, that it would be a matter of a week or so to go down there and win the battle. Members of Congress drove out in the carriages from Washington to watch the first battle at Bull Run, as though they were spectators in an arena. They rode so close, in fact, that some of them did not get back to Washington but were captured. This was a tremendous blow to morale in the North, but things got even worse. They went down and down. Thousands upon thousands of loyal young men and older ones, too, were cut down and family after family had someone in their family who had lost their life. The North got discouraged. Lincoln was often discouraged but some people thought he didn't appreciate the gravity of things. Some people were shocked that Lincoln often started a cabinet meeting by telling stories for the first ten or fifteen minutes—and they were not always stories that the cabinet members could take home with them! But Lincoln was approaching a goal. He was a man who held steadfast to his purposes, but he was willing to compromise, willing to talk and willing to negotiate. Lincoln went on several foolish errands in the hopes that he could stop the conflict. He went down to several so-called "peace conferences" that were dreamed up by visionaries. He was looking for promises for peace and he said "Yes, I want peace—there is only one thing you need to do to insure peace tomorrow—lay down your arms, and acknowledge the sovereignty of the United States of America."

After four years, the people, including the men who were going out to be killed, to be shot at, to be fed hard tack and raw bacon (and very little of that), put Lincoln back in office. People believed in him. There was only one time that Lincoln did not speak what the people had in their minds and that was after Lee surrender his sword to General Grant at Appomattox Courthouse in 1865. Washington was ablaze; they had illuminated bonfires and torches; the populace was excited and Lincoln — when a lesser man would have exalted in his victory — would have proclaimed his part in it and would have humbled his foes — all Abraham Lincoln had to say that night (and while it disappointed the people that night, it doesn't disappoint posterity) — all he had to say that night was about his plans for binding up the wounds of the conflict; his plans for reconstruction and the rehabilitation of the broken country. And it is the great tragedy of all America that only a few days later he was cut down by an assassin. His successor, Andrew Johnson, didn't represent the people as Lincoln did. He didn't speak their language because he probably didn't hear their heart speaking. No one knows what might have been accomplished had Lincoln lived. Had he been able to apply the charity and wisdom of his belief that all men are created free.

One time Lincoln, in a few sentences wrote out what he thought of as a democracy. He said "I would not be a slave so I would not be a master. This is my idea of a democracy. Any other idea that says much less than that is that much less than a democracy. No slavery and no masters, only a free people. That is the heritage of living left to us."

Abraham Lincoln was cut down, at the age of fifty-six. His real public career was limited to four years, yet in that time he has left the real meaning of America and that was the turning point of America, when the union was saved. In the thirty years after 1865, as many people came to the United States as lived in the country in 1830. We, in the west, I think, owe our position to the fact that a man had the courage to follow his principles through — come what may — to compromise with nothing; to keep on to his main goal and with the courage and fortitude and the feeling that he had that after all the fight was over and the issue was settled — that he could then say "With charity for all and with malice toward none." With faith to do the right as God gives us to do the right and that is the only standard, I think, that we need from here on."

- 1 SECTION 1.) Any personal property, including
- 2 without limitation livestock, brought, driven or coming
- 3 into this state at any time during the year and which
- 4 shall remain in the state for a period not less than
- 5 thirty days, shall be subject to taxation and shall be
- 6 assessed for all taxes, levied or leviable for that
- 7 year in the county in which the same shall thus be and
- 8 remain, in the same manner and to the same extent,
- 8a except
- 9 as hereinafter otherwise provided, as though such pro-
- 10 perty had been in the county on the regular assessment
- 11 date if such property has not been regularly assessed
- 12 for the year in some other county of the state. Nothing
- 13 herein contained shall be construed as authority to
- 13a assess
- 14 or levy an additional tax against any merchant or dealer

15 within this state on goods, wares or merchandise
 15a brought
 16 into the county to replenish the stock of such merchant 16a or
 17 dealer, so long as such addition does not materially 18 increase the inventory or stock which has been duly 18a assessed
 19 to such merchant or dealer as of the regular assessment
 20 date.— This Act does not apply to motor vehicles
 20a brought,
 21 driven or coming into this state by any nonresident
 22 migratory bona fide agricultural workers temporarily
 23 employed in agricultural work in North Dakota where 23a said
 24 motor vehicles are used exclusively for transportation
 25 of agricultural workers.

26 All personal property governed by section 1 shall be 27 immediately assessed and the tax thereon collected as 28 hereinafter provided.

29 SECTION 2.) If such personal property is brought 30 or driven or comes into any county before April first,
 30a the
 31 tax levied or to be levied thereon shall be the full 32 amount of the tax computed as provided by law, but if 33 brought, driven or coming into the county after April
 34 first the tax levied or to be levied against such prop-
 35 erty shall be prorated according to the ratio which the 36 number of months remaining in said calendar year bears
 37 to the total number of months in said year. For the 38 purpose of determining such taxes, the levy made 38a during
 39 the previous year shall be used if the levy for the 40 current year has not been made.

41 SECTION 3.) The owner or the agent, manager or 42 foreman of any person, firm, corporation, or asso-43 ciation bringing livestock into this state after 44 the first Monday in March shall immediately after 45 said livestock crosses the state line, forward to 46 the county auditor of the county into which the live-47 stock is moved, a registered or certified letter in-48 forming the auditor of the name of the owner of such 49 livestock, the number thereof, the brand thereon, and 50 their ages and sex, together with the time and place at 51 which they were brought across the state line and where 52 now located in the county. The livestock sanitary board
 53 shall at least once each month furnish from its own 54 records to the assessor or auditor of the county into 55 which such livestock is moved, a list of the number and 56 kind of livestock so moved, together with the name of 56a the
 57 owner thereof.

58 SECTION 4.) The county auditor upon receipt of 58a such
 59 letter or other information, that livestock has been 60 brought into his county from outside of the state, after 61 the first Monday in March in any year, shall 61a immediately
 62 proceed to assess the property in the same manner as is 63 provided for the assessment of omitted property in

64 sections 57-1401 and 57-1403 of the North Dakota
64a Revised
65 Code of 1943, and shall give notice thereof as provided 65a in
66 section 57-1402 of the Code, and the board of county
66a com-
67 missioners shall hear complaints with respect thereto 67a and
68 shall review and equalize such assessments as provided 69 in section 57-1404 of the North Dakota Revised Code of 70 1943, and the county auditor shall enter such property
71 on the tax lists as provided in section 57-1404.

72 SECTION 5.) If any owner of livestock driven into 73 the state as hereinbefore provided intends to move said
74 livestock from the county of entry to another county of 75 this state for grazing purposes, he shall file with the 76 county auditor in each county notice to that effect,
77 giving the number and kind of livestock and the brand
78 thereon, and the time he intends to graze such livestock
79 in each county, and the county auditor of each county
80 shall prorate the tax on such livestock in proportion to 81 the amount of time the livestock shall be in each county.

82 SECTION 6.) No personal property governed by 83 section 1 shall be removed from the state without the 84 payment of the personal property taxes levied or to be 85 levied against such property for the current year as 86 herein provided. If a township, district or county
87 officer learns or believes there is danger that such 88 personal property which has been so assessed and against 89 which taxes have been or will be levied will be removed 90 from the state without payment of the taxes so levied
91 and without leaving sufficient property to pay the whole
92 of such taxes, he shall report such fact to the sheriff, 93 who shall collect such taxes in the same manner as is 94 provided in section 57-2216 of the North Dakota Revised 95 Code of 1943. Such taxes may also be collected in the 96 same manner as is provided in sections 57-22211 and
97 57-22212 of the 1953 Supplement to the North Dakota
97a Revised
98 Code of 1943.

99 SECTION 7.) The fact that such property may 100 have been assessed in another state for the current year
101 shall not prevent its assessment in this state. The 102 provisions of section 57-0211 of the Code to the effect
103 that all personal property shall be listed and assessed 104 annually with reference to its value on April first of 105 each year are inapplicable to property governed by this 106 Act. The provisions of section 57-0217 of the Code that 107 if a person has been assessed and can make it appear to 108 the assessor that he has paid, or is held for the tax of 109 the current year on the property in another state, are 110 likewise inapplicable to property governed by this Act.
111 The provisions of section 57-2304 of the Code allowing 112 one of the grounds for refund or abatement to be that the 113 property has been assessed more than once in the same
114 year are not applicable to property governed by this Act
115 unless such assessments have been made in this state.

And when so amended recommend the same do pass.

Rep. Berntson requested that the House be on the eighth order of business, which motion prevailed.

On motion of Rep. Berntson the courtesy of the floor was extended to: Former member and Speaker of the House of Representatives, Palmer Levin, from Walsh County.

Speaker Wolf appointed Reps. Berntson and Isakson to escort Mr. Levin to the rostrum to address the House.

Rep. Isakson moved that the remarks of Former Speaker Palmer Levin be printed in the journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Levin: "Mr. Speaker, Members of the House—This looks rather familiar—I spent ten consecutive sessions as a member of this body and I enjoyed it. I certainly appreciate the privilege that you have extended to me this afternoon by being asked to appear on this platform.

I realize that you are busy and I am not going to take up very much of your time because there never has been a time yet but what it seems to be crowding toward the end of the session. You have probably got about the same problems as usual. They may look involved, and they probably are involved but this group has always got together and solved them, and the state went along on an even keel. I am sure that you will do it again.

I appreciate seeing Ben up here. He used to sit in about the second row and he was on his feet pretty regularly and had to be recognized on the floor.

I just came back from Oregon and while there I went up to the state capitol as I am interested in legislative matters and as I was only fifty miles from there. I just wanted to see how they performed there. I found that people are pretty much the same everywhere. They have about the same problems out there. The biggest ones are taxes and highways, which seem to also be our biggest problems.

There was one thing that I didn't quite agree with out there—the Speaker had to stand all the time. There was not a chair to sit on while the House was in session and the Speaker stood all the time. I think that would make it a lot harder than to have a nice soft chair like Ben is sitting on now!

With these few words I want to say "Thank you"—and I have certainly enjoyed being here."

Subsequent to the making of such levy for a term of five years the board of county commissioners may in their discretion without holding an election on such issuance, issue and sell negotiable serially maturing bonds in the name of the county, within the county's constitutional debt limit payable solely from the revenues derived from said county memorial fund levy for the purpose of financing the erection of such memorial, or memorials.

Rep. Fristad: "I would like to explain my vote and have it recorded in the journal. I am not voting no because I don't believe any of these parties are not entitled to more mileage but I don't believe in having the mileage paid in so many different ways. I would like to bring to the attention of the members that we passed the game and fish department appropriation and those wardens, traveling over all kinds of roads, get 7½ cents a mile. One living near my place took two of his crank case pans but he only got 7½ cents a mile. They have to go on all kinds of roads and they don't just drive where they would like to go. Sometimes they have to go at sixty miles per hour to catch people.

I don't think we should favor some small group and give them ten cents a mile. I don't think that 7½ cents a mile is enough but I think it should be equalized."

MESSAGE TO THE HOUSE

Senate Chamber

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to transmit:

Senate Bill No. 59

Which the President has signed and your signature is respectfully requested.

Rep. Fitch moved that a letter which he had received from Rev. George Parish be read by the Chief Clerk and printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Kenneth Fitch,
Bismarck, North Dakota

Dear Kenneth:

Ever since the N. D. Legislature went into session I have been following it as best I could in the Fargo Forum. I want now to send greetings to you and to all who are still in that body who remember me and would care to receive my greetings. I am sure some of those who remember me did not always go along with my ideas, however most of these men were very fair and I still regard them as friends, and if there were not so many miles between Bismarck and Lakeland, Florida I would one of these days blow in just to shake hands with the friends of the days when I was watching legislation in Bismarck. May I count on you to greet those who might be interested in receiving my greetings.

I know that a good many of the members I knew and respected very much are not in this session, however there are a good many former members still there. If I were there I would miss these former members very much. I do hope that real good men have taken their place. Just now I am thinking of a member of the House who is not a man but has been a strong tower for all good things, I mean, Rep. Haugland, greet her for me. I dare not name the men for fear I might leave out some of them. You will know them and if you have opportunity, greet them for me. You may be just too busy and if so, I will know why. I do wish, however, that you would tell Rep. Wolf that I am sure he has made a good Speaker.

It will not be long now until the final closing session will be very close. I hope and believe that when it does come you can all go home feeling that a good job has been done. I have missed being in this session but I am glad I did not have to face the cold north winds that sweep around Capitol Hill.

With kindest personal regards and my very best wishes,
 GEORGE O. PARISH

On motion of Rep. Saugstad the courtesy of the floor was extended to: A former member of the House, C. W. Baker from the 29th district and a committee of two was appointed to escort Mr. Baker to the rostrum to address the House. The Speaker appointed as such committee, Reps. Saugstad and Van Sickle.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks of Rep. Baker be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Baker: "Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker and the Honorable members of the legislature — You overwhelm me with your greeting. I thank you very much.

This is just a social call. I say that so that you who have already had the impulse to run down to the secretary of state's office to see what I am doing here, can save yourselves that trouble!

I wanted to come down and tell you what a good job I think you are doing. The newspapers speak all the time of the "harmony" that exists here. That doesn't suit me very well — don't forget that next year is an election year and we have to have some issues. So let's have at least one good political argument in this session — shall we?

Thank you very much for your courtesy."

The House reconvened at the Call of the Chair.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks of Mr. Waldron be printed in the House journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Waldron:

Because of this day, and the implications of February 22nd, in our National life, this 'summons to contemplation' is designated "LEGACY."

At the outset I wish to express a personal and deep appreciation to you, the members of House and Senate, of the 35th Legislative Assembly, for having conferred recognition upon me for literary effort. Such graciousness, I can assure you, is concrete evidence of "kind hearts and gentle people;"
to be the object of your regard is an accolade that invokes together, the humility of acknowledged inadequacy, attended by the fervent aspiration to be worthy.

I feel called upon to respond to your action in the following words:

In these halls of legislation, where is sprung a host of bills

Where recession and inflation mirror economic ills, —

Where the chosen at elections come on alternating years

To correct the imperfections and reduce the future's fears,

You are here from every county, putting answers into laws

With appropriating bounty for each necessary cause;

Welding, thru your thought and action, such a structure for the state

As will rise above a faction, and will keep the record straight.

Minds of men are here directed to a growing statehood's need

Where designs must be dissected, lest they speak the note of greed;

Hewing to the view impartial where each right is held secured,

All in commonweal to Marshall, for Equality Assured.

On, beyond this legislature, lives the impact of its skill

Carried through, in solemn nature, to reflect a people's will.

This the trust that here reposes; yours the hands that hold it true

Till the session's law discloses what spells honor back to you!

Today, as we look at George Washington, how do we see him? As a distant, an austere, or unapproachable figure? As one out of a dim and hallowed past? To see him so, is to superficially appraise him.

It is hard to see that History is today that just went by. It reminds one of the little boy who said, "Grandfather, were you on Noah's Ark?" His grandfather said, "No". "Well, then Gramp how does it happen you weren't drowned?"

We should see Washington as he was, a vital, a warm and vibrant person; a human, endowed with great wisdom and perception, but whose love for his fellow beings can be sensed and re-kindled, in his own words.

What was he like? He was a planter and a good one; in his today, he practiced crop rotation even as we now practice crop rotation; necessity required that his farming be self sufficient; he took care of his own; he diversified his farming, for completeness; he raised crops sufficient to feed all his own people on the plantation, which is just another word for farms. His farm manager, incidentally, was Lund Washington.

Washington provided medical care for all his own. As we hunt and fish in North Dakota, he hunted and fished along the Rappahanock and the Potomac; as we like sports, he liked sports. His love for his people, the people of America, was as great as his love for his country. He dreamed, worked for, and saw ahead western expansion toward the Pacific.

Washington had the same kind of discouragements and disappointments, the same disillusionings, as touch us, though his may have been in far greater degree; he lost more battles than he won; here one day, he was maligned and abused by the discouraged and the malcontents; he had ill fed and ill clothed soldiers deserted by the thousands, decimated by obstacles too great for them to withstand.

Another special thing he had in common with you; he was a member of the legislature; the first provincial legislature; later he served in making laws as do you, when he was a member of the Continental Congress, and again served in making laws.

The fact of his great capacities, does not detract from his humanity; on the other hand, it enhances and augments that quality.

Washington's words are bright shining gems of ultimate wisdom; his capacity was such, that Patrick Henry said: "If you speak of eloquence, Rutledge of So. Carolina is the greatest orator; but if you speak of solid information, and sound judgment, Col. Washington is unquestionably the greatest man on the floor".

How close to one becomes the incidents of yesterday, when one happens to be in the atmosphere and amid the scene of historic happenings.

As you walk into the State house, overlooking downtown Boston, and turn, you suddenly see a bust of Washington, so well favored, that the eyes look vital and alive; you have the feeling he is looking at you. Down Freedom trail, at Old South Church, you may stand in the balcony, where Washington stood and surveyed the devastation caused by Burgoyne's soldiers; there you see many of our first president's personal effects, — a letter to his dentist, clothing used by him. Over in Philadelphia, you may stand in the room in which he sat, see his chair, and the pen with which he signed state papers and the desk at which he wrote.

You can close your eyes, a few feet from Liberty Bell, and say "here where I stand, he stood."

And nowhere, does his great heart shine so well as in his Farewell Address; in its words you can see why General Lee declared him to be "First in the Hearts of his countrymen".

Conscious of the propensity of man to misconstrue motives, he says, in great humility:

"Let it always be remembered to your praise, and as an instructive example, in our annals, that, under circumstances in which the passions, agitated in every direction, were liable to mislead, amid appearances sometimes dubious, vicissitudes of fortune often discouraging, in situations, in which want of success has countenanced the spirit of criticism, the constancy of your support was the essential prop of the efforts and a guarantee of the plans by which they were effected".

He bespoke the need that "union and brotherly affection be perpetual" and "that the free constitution, which is the work of your hands, may be sacredly maintained."

Toward the preservation of government, he inveighed his contemporaries, "to resist with care, the spirit of innovation, upon its principles, however specious the pretext. One method of assault may be to effect, in the forms of the constitution, alterations which will impair the energy of the system, thus undermining, what cannot be directly overthrown."

He inveighed against the baneful effects of party, which, if maintained in a spirit of revenge can wreck what it pretends to preserve.

(Have we not seen this very thing divide where we should be united presenting a solid front as a nation?)

As to non-usurpation, Washington says: "it is important, likewise, that the habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution in those entrusted with its administration, to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding, in the exercise of the powers of one department to encroach upon another."

He states, a great proven truth in the following:

"Of all the disposition of habits which lead to political prosperity, Religion and Morality are indispensable supports". He calls these "the great pillars of human happiness," and says that "the mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to respect and to cherish them"; that, "Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

Washington saw the danger of partiality toward one nation as against another. These are his words: "The nation which indulges toward another, an habitual hatred, or an habitual fondness, is to some degree a slave; it is slave to its animosity or its affection, either of which is sufficient to lead it astray from its duty and its interest."

There is this touching frankness and humility in Washington's farewell address:

"Though, in reviewing the incidents of my administration, I am unconscious of intentional error, I am, nevertheless too sensible of my defects not to think it probable that I may have committed many errors." In this he expresses the hope that his country "will never cease to view them with indulgence."

As he appeared before the other officers of the Continental army, to take their leave, men were moved; so was he; saying, "With a heart full of love and gratitude, I must now take my leave of you. I must devoutly wish that your latter days, may be as prosperous and happy, as your former ones have been glorious and honorable."

What man who then lived or now lives could not say that he was "first in the hearts of his countrymen?" all he asked in return — the esteem of his country and charity for his errors.

History's page may be inanimate and cold; but the present pulse of American life still feels the effect of that part of its life-blood transfused from the heart of George Washington.

You men, who make laws; who go thru the arduous task of composition, phrasing, re-designing, amending and perfecting for presentation the bills that become enacted upon the body of the law, have a common bond in succession, with the first distinguished artizans who conceived what the English statesman Gladstone called the most perfect document ever written by the hand of man", — that Constitution signed "Go Washington Presidt, and deputy from Va."

Each day of your session, you are the successors of men who have jealously guarded the terms of that document since its inception, the interpreters of its spirit and the preservers of its blessings. How well Washington knew the aims of state!

Sir William Jones, in stirring words, has given us a concept, as to WHAT CONSTITUTES A STATE.

"What constitutes a State?

Not highraised battlement or storied mound, thick wall or moated gate;

Not cities proud with spires and turrents crowned;

Not bays or broad armed ports,

Where, laughing at the storm, rich navies ride.

Not starred or spangled Courts, Where low-browed baseness wafts perfume to pride;

No—men, highminded men—with powers as far above all brutes endured, in forest field or glen,
 as beasts excell cold rocks or brambles rule;
 Men who their duties know; but know their rights, and knowing, dare maintain;
 Prevent the long aimed blow; and crush the tyrant while they rend the chain; These constitute a state; and sovereign law, that states collected will, oer thrones and globes elate, sits Empress, crowning good; repressing ill. - - -”

He who, as a successor, in the halls of legislation, can follow the aims, and achieve the unselfish attitudes of this legislator of yesterday, can render our state lasting benefits, and crown it with distinction. And this is a great state; when Washington looked westward, he dreamed of and envisioned future states stretching from the Potomac to the Pacific. Because of his devotion and that of millions of others sharing his ideals we have the legacy of North Dakota.

There is no one here who will deny the greatness of our state; a few months back, while sitting in my office one night, I felt impelled to put down thoughts of its excellence.
 The effort having been printed in the Bismarck Tribune, this last December, expresses a viewpoint you as Dakotans may approve.

Called “Legacy”, it goes thus:

When God made North Dakota, in the Time of Long Ago,
 Picked its portion for the planet, and the World its life
 would know,

While the earth was washed with waters, and the day was as the night,

There was method in its make-up, there was meaning in its site.

“I Shall Make a Land of Trails, as a Temper for Its Men—
 One of Beneficence Hidden for Discovery Again,
 That Each Generation’s Weakness May Be Culled and Driven Forth,

And the Fibre of My Peoples Shall Be Strengthened in the North!”

Deep he laced the basic stratas with the substance of His toil;

Down the aisles of endless ages laid the stone, the sand,
 the oil;

Bounded in confined preferment for the centuries to be—
 Stored their captive contents safely, as He sealed them from the sea.

Knowing man must grow by stages, and as proof of patient care,

He refined the vegetation into coal, and left it there;

Field on field of fuel folding; while He formed the human mind

With the culture of the seasons planting reason in the blind.

Then he capped it from corrosion, placed upon it, rock and shale,

Lime and clay to pack it firmly for the time of its avail.

Day by day, and year by year, as the sun rode in its sphere;

Age by age, was built the bounty of the treasures buried here.

On the ridged serrated surface, drove He, drifts of creeping ice,

And the years ran into millions, plied with formative device.
 Till the trickle of the waters filled the basins of the land—
 Sank into the lower regions, to be brought at man's command.
 O'er the last He laid a blanket, making soft the deep ravines;
 Draped the hills and levelled stretches with the boon of living greens.
 Thus the choicest of dominions, hammered from Eternal Plan,
 Was bequeathed, through ageless aeons, as a heritage to man.
 With Necessity a teacher for discovery of need.
 That there might be warmth and comfort, for the Image and its seed.
 Thus, the land men call Dakota, nurtured at Celestial nod,
 Shows to all who walk upon it, the beneficence of God.

We are the enriched recipients as Dakotans, through that chain of benefits the links of which were first tempered at Valley Forge, by Mount Vernons gifted son and his soldiers; and let us, on days like these, remember the hands and hearts of courage, devotion and sacrifice that bestowed these inestimable blessings for all who dwell in the valleys and on the plains of the Red river, the Sheyenne, the James, the Souris and the Missouri."

Hilleboe and Anderson of Cass.

Rep. Stockman moved that the remarks of Mr. Bergeson be printed in the journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Bergeson: "Members of the House: I am very happy that I happened to come in on the most memorable part of your deliberations so far during this session, and that was just before the noon hour when you had your debates and call of the House. It seemed like old times. We used to have many of those cases. As a matter of fact, as I looked over the membership here and see maybe less than twenty that were here at the time that I was a member of the House I can assure you that we had quite a different situation from what you have had this session. As the Speaker has told you, I was once Speaker of this House. That was in 1945 and we had a tie vote for several ballots and then adjourned until the next day and then we had to wheel a disabled member into the House in order to break the tie.

And as I recall in the session before, Ralph Beede, we had quite a time electing you as a Speaker.

As a matter of fact we were pretty evenly divided in those days. It reminds me of the lad who had been given a very strong reprimand by his mother in the form of a good walloping. Crying he went to his room, turned around and looked at himself in the mirror. 'Just as I thought', he said, 'she split me right down the middle.' And that is about the way we were — we were just about split down the middle most of the time, and we had to watch our Ps and Qs. It is different now from in my day. Instead of 14 committees, as you have now, with a sizable membership in each committee, we had 28 committees and some of them were very minor, and particularly some of the freshmen members that were on minor committees had very little to do. Under the present situation you all have a good many bills to consider and come to the deliberations with much more knowledge and information and can vote more intelligently on the bills.

It took us a longer time in our deliberations. We didn't have the voting machine — we had roll calls and roll calls — and it took a much longer time.

We, of course had a lot of fireworks. We had many more debates apparently than you have had during this session, but I don't think our accomplishments were any better for the reports I have had with reference to your session this year have been exceedingly good. It seems to me that you are keeping your feet on the ground. You are fortunate in having some old members here as I think this is the largest change of membership in the House that I have ever known, but from the oratory that I heard this morning I am satisfied that the sessions that are to come are going to have a lot of fine leaders. You are doing a good job and I know everything you do is for the best interests of the people of the state.

The best of luck to you — and thank you."

Rep. Wilkie moved that absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the House do now adjourn, which motion prevailed.

GERALD L. STAIR, Chief Clerk.

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY

Bismarck, February 25, 1957

The House convened at 2:00 p.m. pursuant to adjournment, with Speaker Wolf presiding.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. F. Brien of the First Lutheran Church of Mandan, North Dakota.

The roll was called and all members were present except Reps. Fitch, Fristad, Lee, Lynch and Van Sickle.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks of Mr. Lillehaugen be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Lillehaugen: "Mr. Speaker and Members of the 35th Legislative Assembly—This is rather unexpected that I should be called upon to occupy this position. You know I occupied a chair down there for several sessions but very seldom was in the position up here.

I am sure that all you folks realize what an important thing the human brain is. You know it is constantly at work from the day of your birth until we are supposed to make a speech. Now I am not here to make a speech but having an opportunity I might extend a greeting and I might say that it is nice to see the familiar faces. You have some young good looking faces that have taken our places and it is a pleasure to see them.

I served in this assembly for quite a few years. My first session was in the old capitol in 1927. Many of you fellows were not born at that time. I was a young fellow too. The next session was in 1933 and since 1943 I have served nine sessions and two special sessions. You know the general trend and the general sentiment was quite different back in 1927. Conditions were quite tense at that time. We had some hardboiled politicians with us then. L. L. Twichell, Dave Hamilton, Dell Patterson with his roaring voice. These men had a program and they were able to put it across. The tension was very tense at times, and the ink bottles used to fly from one aisle to the other when debate got too hot.

When I came back in 1933 the tension was along the same line. The new members were advised to be sure that we watch the opposition every moment because they wanted to put us on the spot and that they were dangerous. But we found later that things changed to some extent and I think this makes for constructive legislation. We may differ in our opinions in certain things but still we may be pretty good fellows and as I served longer, we found this out more and more when we mixed with the opposition. We may differ with them on particular bills but on the next bill we perhaps voted together. By that attitude and that friendliness I think we are creating better legislation.

It reminds me of what our former United States Senator, Lynn Frazier said after his first session. He said many of the senators were fine fellows to meet and fine gentlemen—you respect and honor them but still they don't vote with you when it comes to certain things. He illustrated by this story—Abe and Ike divided their estate and went into business on their own. After a few years Abe made a lot of money but Ike was not successful and was about to go broke so he went to his brother and asked him to lend him some money. Abe said he would but he would have to have 9% interest. Ike asked him what their dear Mother in Heaven would think when she saw Abe charging him 9% and Abe said that when their dear Mother looked down from Heaven it would look like 6% to her. From my experience it seems like we can get along with the opposition very well and when you meet a former member later on, it is just like meeting a member of the family.

Gentlemen, I am not supposed to make a speech here—you are busy and have other things on your mind.

I have been watching this session closely and you folks are doing a fine job. There are two committees that have been working very hard—Appropriations and Finance and Taxation. I served on the Appropriations a good many years. I found it was so easy to say "Yes" to all the requirements and then you are a good fellow. If you don't go along you are a thing of the past—or perhaps you never were. That is the way you are cornered. I feel the Appropriations this time has been very generous and I wonder if the Committee on Finance and Taxation can keep up with them. We folks out in the sticks are watching this very closely.

I thank you, Gentlemen and Lady for this opportunity. I certainly shall not take up any more of your time. I was mighty glad to drive into Bismarck today and it was a pleasure to be on the platform and address you."

Speaker Wolf resumed the Chair.

Speaker Wolf announced that the House would return to the thirteenth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Senate Chamber
Bismarck, March 4, 1957

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to inform you that the Senate has adopted the report of the Conference Committee on House Bill No. 798.

VIC GILBREATH, Secretary.

EIGHTH ORDER OF BUSINESS

On request of Rep. Van Sickle the courtesy of the floor was extended to: Mrs. J. E. Y. Kruger and Mrs. G. R. Van Sickle.

On motion of Rep. Sorlie the courtesy of the floor was extended to: Three Young Republicans from Traill county.

On motion of Rep. Nygaard the courtesy of the floor was extended to: Lief Bothner, Mayor of Harstad, Norway, and Christian Jakhelln, Representative of the Leader Exchange Program and Chairman of the Board of Research Associations, North Norway Economy, and a committee of Reps. Nygaard and Link was appointed to escort them to the rostrum to address the House.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks of Mr. Bothner be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Bothner: "Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: It is very pleasant to have a meeting with you and let me first give you greetings from Northern Norway to each of you here.

"I am sure it is not important for me to speak about Norway to you as I know a lot of you know that little country from beforehand. But maybe you may be interested in hearing in which way we are dealing after the war because we had those five years of occupation with the Hitler people and out of that a lot of the country, especially the northern part was in destruction. We have had to build it up again and I am glad to give you the information that we, during these years after the war, we have built it up very good again. In a political way, today, Norway is doing very good — not as good as you folks here but we are doing it sufficiently well.

"We have the same problems as you — with the taxes and all the other things. Perhaps you will ask me "What are you living on?" Then I will say for my personal district is that we are living on building ships, farming, industries and then, naturally, fisheries. We have had a lucky time after the war and we are very thankful for the good help the United States has given to our country — very thankful and I bring the heartiest thanks for that.

"And you are asking me: "What am I doing in your country?" "Why are you coming here?" Then I will have to answer that your State Department in Washington, D.C., especially invited us, and requested us to come over and see what you are doing here — see the American spirit, your industries and all kinds of things. And let me assure you gentlemen that we have seen a lot of things and if we happen to bring back a little, it will be sufficient to put it out in practical living. But I must say we have seen so much and our itinerary is so hard, it is very difficult for us to find out everything at each place and I will conclude my little speech to say — it is difficult for me to say but I could not say it in any other way — that if it might be your option to come over to us to Norway to visit us and to learn about us, you will be very welcome — there is a welcome for each of you and especially to the northern part of Norway, beyond the Artic circle, where my friend and I are still living and where the sun never goes down in the summer time.

"Welcome to Norway."

On motion of Rep. Kitzmann the courtesy of the floor was extended to: The band from Center, North Dakota, their director, Leonard Wickluand, the parents of the students and their drivers, Mrs. Ed Nelson, Mrs. Duncan Warren, Tom Gratz and Leonard Moore.

Rep. Brown: "We are now going to consider a very serious piece of legislation. One that may have far-reaching effect on the economy of our state. We all realize that legislative processes, means compromise and is an instrument employed to provide equitable protection and responsibility and benefits for a great number of our citizens. After re-appraisal of anticipated revenue and the appropriations made by this legislative assembly, your Finance and Tax Committee finds that if we are going to balance the budget, there has to be a juggling so as to equitably redistribute the burden and in order to fulfill our obligations for the education of our young people.

As firmly as I am opposed to doing anything that will discourage the industrial development of the state, I am sure that any industry interested in contemplating a move to our state is vitally concerned with a sound economic and educational system, so that their children may be assured of a good education.

With over-all concern for a sound stability of government economy, every one of us has to bear a fair share of the financial burden. After a serious consideration of all of the problems that are facing this legislature, we, in the Finance and Taxation Committee voted to increase the gross production tax, three-fourths of one percent. I hope this House will go along with the action of the Finance and Taxation Committee."

6 Research Committee, based on its study, for a county
7 assessment program was rejected by the Thirty-fifth
8 Legislative Assembly as being not desirable; and

9 WHEREAS, part of the reasons for rejection of the 11 away local control of assessment and place too much 11a control

12 in remote reaches of the state and county; and

13 WHEREAS, it appears that the defects of our present
14 assessment program could be corrected by retaining the 15 present framework of organization without creating new 16 offices and by improving present procedures;

17 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE 17a HOUSE

18 OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF NORTH
18a DAKOTA,

19 THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

20 That the Legislative Research Committee is hereby

- 30 2. Enact legislation that will raise farm income of 31 family-farmers to parity with non-farm income; and

32 3. Instead of reducing farm income where profits of

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION "C-2"

Introduced by Representatives Wheeler, Leet, Poling, Baldwin, Paulson and Rolfsrud

A concurrent resolution opposing repeal or change of the long and short haul clause of section four of the Interstate Commerce Act.

- 1 WHEREAS, there will be proposed and introduced in
- 1a the
- 2 Congress of the United States legislation providing for
- 3 repeal of the long and short haul clause of the fourth
- 4 section of the Interstate Commerce Act; and
- 5 WHEREAS, the repeal of the long and short haul clause
- 6 would permit railroad companies to assess lower rates and
- 7 charges for long hauls than for short hauls over the same
- 8 route in the same direction; and
- 9 WHEREAS, the charging of a higher rate for a short
- 9a haul
- 10 than for a longer haul, the shorter being included within
- 11 the longer, is now forbidden on North Dakota intrastate
- 12 traffic in Section 49-0409 of the North Dakota Revised
- 12a Code
- 13 of 1943; and
- 14 WHEREAS, the passage of such legislation will result
- 14a in
- 15 increased freight rates and charges on articles moving in
- 16 interstate commerce to and from North Dakota, partic-
- 16a ularly
- 17 on grain, lignite, and other commodities, to the detriment
- 18 of producers, shippers and consumers of the State of
- 18a North
- 19 Dakota; that it would encourage discriminations in rates

20 against small shippers in favor of large shippers that 21 would be against the public interest; and would, we 21a believe,

22 be in the end detrimental to the best interests of the 23 railroads themselves;

24 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE
 24a HOUSE OF

25 REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF NORTH
 25a DAKOTA, THE

26 SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

27 That the Congress of the United States is hereby

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION "D-2"

Introduced by Rep. Fristad

A concurrent resolution urging the state highway commissioner to consider loss of tax revenue and business to the state through lack of improvements of certain highways leading into the state in planning the highway improvements.

1 WHEREAS, a number of the state highways leading

1a into

2 the state from our borders badly need improvement; and

3 WHEREAS, because of lack of improvement of these

4 highways, many North Dakota residents find it more

5 convenient to go across our borders into other states
 6 to do their business and trading and residents along our 7 borders in other states do not come to their normal
 8 trading areas within North Dakota, thereby causing
 9 substantial loss of tax revenue to the state and business
 10 to its merchants;

11 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE
 11a HOUSE OF
 12 REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF NORTH
 12a DAKOTA, THE

So the bill passed as amended further by the Conference Committee and the title was agreed to.

Rep. Fitch moved that the remarks of the members on the special order of business be recorded in the House journal, which motion prevailed.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Rep. Fitch: Speaker Wolf, our Floorleaders, Members of the House: "This is the time in the session when we pause to recognize the quality of the leadership, the companionship, and the sincerity of our leaders, and most especially to our distinguished Speaker, Mr. Ben Wolf, do we pay tribute to his intelligence and to his faithfulness during this session."

Now, I want to recognize Rep. Esterby.

Rep. Esterby: "Honored Guest, Members of the 35th Legislative Assembly: It is customary that we do pause in our work to recognize the good work of our leaders. If it were not for the members that accept the responsibility and for the respect that we have for our floorleaders, it would be a tough job for the rest of us to pass on the legislation. The man that I am going to present to you has proven himself to be a very good worker for all of us. He has been honored by his group twice now to be the Assistant Floorleader. He is a very sincere man and you know that he must do a lot of work to be able to check on all the bills that we have had in this assembly to see to it that the wording is right, that everything is proper and then he can give us the merit and demerits of the matters in the bill. Now—Mr. Adam Gefreh—from the group here, we wish to show our appreciation for your good work and we want to present to you this little gift.”

Rep. Gefreh: “Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, who are my fellow members—A person is sort of caught unawares when he receives recognition such as this. It is much easier for me to get up on the floor to talk on the bills, which I have had some time to study, but I do want to extend my appreciation and thanks to all of you for presenting this gift to me.

There is no question in my mind, nor in the minds of any of you that serve here, that the honor of serving in the legislature is a very distinguished honor that we all highly cherish. The contacts that we make in the legislature and the friendships that result from them are of a very pleasant nature to us. And then when we consider the fact that we have the privilege of participating in making the laws for our state, we cannot but again feel that we have been greatly honored by having had that privilege. Then when a group such as we have here now, it is an additional honor to be elevated to a position of leadership—that is more than priceless, in my opinion.

Therefore from the bottom of my heart, I thank all of you. I have enjoyed thoroughly all the cooperation and work that all of you have done, and the way you have assisted the floorleaders in carrying on the legislation here has been very fine. And I thank you very much.”

Rep. Fitch: “Now I will recognize Mr. Schmalenberger, and Mr. Rolfsrud will also stand.”

Rep. Schmalenberger: “Mr. Chairman, Members of the Thirty-fifth Legislative Assembly: We again come to that time in our session when we reminisce a little bit and look back on what we have accomplished and who has made it possible for us to accomplish this. We have probably been in a history making session because this is the first time for many, many years that the minority and majority factions have been Republican and Democrat. This has probably not taken place in this House for quite a number of years.

It was with great appreciation that I accepted the honor of making the presentation to the assistant minority floorleader, Mr. Rolfsrud. I am sure, Mr. Rolfsrud, that you have helped very much, and pointed up to us, many things that we would not have thought of, and we certainly appreciate what you have done during this session of the legislature.

I herewith present to you two pieces of matched luggage. Now that doesn't mean that you should start to travel away but we hope you will use it and enjoy traveling with it—and that you will come back to us here some other session.”

Rep. Rolfsrud: “Rep. Schmalenberger, Rep. Fitch, Speaker Wolf, and Fellow Members of this Assembly: It was with a bit of surprise that I realized all of a sudden, that we were already close to the end of our session. It is with a bit of hesitation that I accept this very fine recognition in view of that fact that I have done so little to earn it. Our very fine minority floorleader, Rep. Link, has done such a very fine job that there has been very little for me to do. I discovered very early in the session, with the political alignment being what it is, that if I spoke for a bill, the bill seemed to be immediately killed—so I found that it was a bit on the wise side to say as little as possible. However, I will say this—that I have enjoyed the cordial treatment that we have received and the very fine friendly attitude that has existed in this session.

I want to say to our Speaker, Mr. Wolf, that we appreciate the recognition that he has given us. He has been very fair with us.

To all of you, for this present and this recognition, I want to say to you, from the bottom of my heart—Thank you, each and every one.”

Rep. Fitch: “Now I will recognize Rep. Brown, and Rep. Link will also please arise.”

Rep. Brown: “Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker, My colleagues in the Thirty-Fifth Legislative Assembly: I feel very privileged to have the opportunity to make the next presentation.

You know one of the things that we learn in serving in the legislative body, is to respect the abilities, the common sense and the feelings of your fellow man. I am reminded of a quotation in the ‘Texas Sun’ that goes something like this: ‘The most lovable quality anyone can possess is tolerance—the generosity that concedes to others the right to their opinions and their own peculiarities—the license that allows other people to be happy in their way and not in my way.’

In my athletic career my coach taught me to play hard and fair according to the rules, with respect to my opponent and give it everything I had. The man I am going to make a presentation to, is one of the perfect examples of a true statesman. Nothing deters him from continuing in his straightforward way. He is very serious. He is a man who is highly respected by his colleagues even his opponents, and he is adored by his lovely family.

There is another poem that goes like this:

‘When the one great scorer comes to write against your name, he writes not what you won or lost, but how you played the game.’

I am sure, Rep. Link, that when the great scorer comes to write the name of Art Link, it will all be written on the black side of the ledger and he will be rewarded for his generosity, his kindness, his great devotion to a great state.

Rep. Link, on behalf of all your colleagues in the House of Representatives, we present this slight token to you and hope that you will use it as you go through the years to record those things that will be of value to you as you reach the last stages of your life.

Congratulations, Art, on a wonderful job.”

Rep. Link: “Mr. Chairman, Speaker Wolf, Rep. Nygaard and other distinguished members of the legislature, and all of you here this afternoon.

I, like the others, knew this was coming but didn't realize that it was to be this afternoon. Consequently I am standing before you totally unprepared to make the proper remarks on this occasion.

I cannot, however, refrain from reiterating some of the statements that have been made already by others on this program.

I want first of all to express, not only for myself but on behalf of the minority party of this session of the legislature, our appreciation for the very fair and considerate manner that our Speaker, Mr. Wolf, has shown towards us. That same feeling of appreciation I extend to your majority floorleader, Mr. Nygaard and his assistant, Mr. Gefreh. These are not idle remarks—they are recognition that all of us must realize when we sit in an assembly such as this. I believe that this is one of the things that has made America great. I believe that it is one of the things that has made North Dakota one of the greatest states in this nation. It is one of the things that will keep America great and one of the things that will make North Dakota greater.

Each of us is dedicated to our principles and our ideals and all recognize on the part of the majority and the minority that each is entitled to those views.

It has been a pleasure for me to serve in this unusual capacity. I have really enjoyed serving and helping the minority and working with all those of you in the majority—You have been very fine, Lady and Gentlemen.

Again, as some of the others have said, from the bottom of my heart, I thank you for this very kind token of your appreciation.

Thank you very much."

Rep. Fitch: "The Chair will now recognize Rep. Chief Poling and Mr. Nygaard."

Rep. Poling: "Rep. Fitch, Speaker Wolf, Floorleaders and Members of the House: I knew about this occasion about two or three days ago when I was asked to make the presentation to the majority floorleader. I sat down and wrote about one thousand different kinds of speeches. When I read them over they didn't sound like me, so I think I will talk to you like I have talked during the fifty-nine days—just as the 'Old Chief' talks.

I am especially honored that you chose me to make this presentation. For one reason, and the biggest reason is that I don't know of a finer fellow than Rep. Nygaard, our majority floorleader and I think it is an honor to get to make this presentation—and I thank you, Fellow Members.

Rep. Nygaard, you know the position a majority floorleader has—it requires certain fundamental qualifications and I would say that one of those would be that you must have the patience of Job; you should have the wisdom of Solomon; you should also have a good knowledge of parliamentary procedure; you should also have a sense of fairness. I am glad to report to you that it is the unanimous decision of this House that you have all those qualifications to a very high degree.

Rep. Nygaard has another qualification, or let us say 'an asset', rather, and that asset is a love of his fellow man. Rep. Nygaard is undoubtedly one of the kind of people who inspired the poet to write: "Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man". I am sure that wherever Rep. Nygaard lives, his house will be by the side of the road.

With the thanks of every one here for a job well done, and with our esteem and affection, I want to present to you this wrist watch, as a token of our highest regard."

Rep. Nygaard: "Mr. Poling, Mr. Fitch, Speaker Wolf, Fellow Members of the Assembly, and other guests: It is a little hard to take a story such as the one you have just been told. It is hard to imagine that anything such as that could be possible. I haven't always trusted what Clarence has said, and I think he smeared it on a little thick this time too!

In spite of that, Clarence has been a very good friend of mine all these years and I hope he remains such as long as we both live.

It has certainly been an extreme pleasure and a very great privilege that I have had for the past two sessions in serving as majority floorleader of this House. I say that it is a privilege to deal and work with such people as you will find in the legislature in this state of North Dakota and possibly you will find the same in other states as well. But I can certainly speak with confidence about the quality of the people that are in the legislature in the State of North Dakota.

When you come here to go to work and you are thinking of, and your great concern is for, your people in your local area, and you are also concerned for the people of the State of North Dakota, and naturally when a group is as large as this assembly, there must be a difference of opinion as to the solution of our problem and concerns. You know my wife and I don't always agree on all problems, and there are just the two of us now, so you certainly see that with this many people there has to be difficulty.

It is a pleasure, and it is encouraging, to have the type of of people that we have to work with, such as Ben Wolf in this session, Ken Fitch in the last session, and Adam, Art and Rolfsrud—they are the kind of people that you can contact and know when you ask a question that they will give their honest and fair answer. It makes it a lot easier to work and makes it a very pleasant job. As long as I live, as I believe I have said before, the one point in my life that I will never forget will be the pleasure that I have received, and the honors that have been bestowed upon me while serving in the legislature of the State of North Dakota.

I certainly want to thank each individual if I don't get to personally thank you, though I hope that I will. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for this very fine gift that you have presented to me.

Thank you."

Rep. Fitch: "Now, Miss Haugland and Gentlemen, we come to what we call the main event and we have chosen to speak for the members of the House at this time, that very lovable, capable and distinguished citizen of North Dakota, Mr. Ralph Beede. I will also ask Speaker Ben Wolf to please rise."

Rep. Beede: "Mr. Speaker, Mr. Ex-Speaker, Members, Friends: At this time I wish that I had the eloquence and the vocabulary of my good friend, Murray Baldwin, or my good friend, Fay Brown. However I am nothing but a plain man and I can only speak plain words, but I assure you they come from the bottom of my heart, and knowing Ben as I do, I know that even though these words be plain, he himself is the kind of a plain man that will appreciate them.

The House may not be a continuing body as the Senate claims to be but we do have continuing traditions and ideals. We have had a man as our Speaker during this session who represents the very best of those traditions and ideals. He represents the very best of the traditions and ideals of the whole State of North Dakota—North Dakota representing as it does the country, the small towns, the villages and the cities.

Now this has been indeed a successful session and one of the reasons why it has been a successful session, of course, is because all of you have worked together in the right spirit of the traditions and ideals of our House.

Another reason is because we have had the kind of leadership as you have seen before you on the platform. That is the greatest reason to my mind—because we have had the leadership of a man like Ben Wolf. A man who has been fair; a man who knows how to carry on the best traditions of our assembly, so that the business may be transacted as it should be with the right kind of order and speed.

Now, I presume that perhaps in the mind of Ken Fitch here, and also perhaps in my mind, having stood on this platform previously on occasions of this kind, that we have some idea of what may be running through Ben's mind at this time. We don't know exactly but I know in Ben's mind is running something of the feeling that he has for every person in the membership of this House. The memory of the friendship of each and every one of you will be cherished, just as you will cherish the memory of this session and the friendships you have made here.

Let me say, Ben, that it is with a feeling of pride that I have been chosen to present to you a token of the high esteem in which you are held by all of the members of this assembly, because back in '41 when Ben first came to the session (and I don't think there is more than six or seven still here who were in that session)—but how well I remember how Ben helped and assisted me in my feeble efforts as minority floorleader at that time.

So it gives me a great sense of pride to be the means through which every one of you are expressing to Ben our greatest esteem for the service that he has given this House and the State of North Dakota during the time that he has been our Speaker.

Ben, I wish to present to you this token, with the greatest appreciation for your consideration.

Congratulations to you."

Speaker Wolf: "Chairman Fitch, Members and Floorleaders on both sides of the aisle, Friends: We have just ended our fifty-ninth day and the session is coming to a close. About fifty-nine days ago you honored me by selecting me as your Speaker of the House of Representatives. I wish to say again that this is the highest honor you have in your power to give to anyone. I have enjoyed being your Speaker. I have really appreciated it, all the way.

But one thing I want to assure you, that if I am ever elected again and come back here, that I think that if you serve as Speaker at one session that that is enough. You will then want to get back down on the floor with your fellow members and take part in the debates. That is what I used to do and I sure have missed that angle during this session. Some of the older members who served with me in eight prior sessions realize that, but some of you new members don't know me as well and don't know how I might take part in floor debates—but I assure you that I surely missed that part.

I made a promise to myself when I was elected Speaker of the House that I was going to stay out of the floor fights—I was just going to try and be a good presiding officer. I have tried my best to be fair to each and every one of you, regardless of party or faction affiliations. I have tried to recognize every one who got to their feet and wanted to speak on any subject. I hope that all of you have the feeling that I tried to be fair. If I have overlooked, or overruled, any individual, I can assure you that it was an oversight and not done intentionally. I do not want to be that kind of a Speaker, where in any legislature that he might be interested in he would buttonhole the members or rule somebody out of order. I don't want to be any part or anything like that.

As I have stated before, I believe on at least one other occasion, that a presiding officer over the House of Representatives, is very like a baseball umpire. There are certain rules that you have to live up to and if you are trying to do a good job, you have got to follow those rules. On one occasion I made a ruling and it was called to my attention that it was wrong and I stated so. A man has to be big enough to change his rulings if they are wrong. You have to change your decisions when you rule contrary to the rules.

Now one thing that I want to assure each and every one of you here is that I don't know whether I will be coming back to the session again. I am ambitious to run for the House again but I don't know if my people will elect me—but that is all that I am ambitious for—just to come back and be a representative again. If I do come back I am going to keep on working just as hard on the floor as I worked up here. If there is any help that I can give a young man I am always happy to do so. I know how I appreciated it when I got some help from fellows like Late Twichell, Fitch, Hofstrand, Ralph Beede, and other of the older members. It really gives you a lift. They can give you an idea of what motions to make and tell you not to be embarrassed, and this helps you a lot. So if I can be of any help to anybody in any capacity, I will surely be happy to do so.

I hope we can finish the next two days in the spirit that we are in now and that we can adjourn in a harmonious way. I think my friends on the Democratic side know that I have tried to be fair with them. I have made my decisions which were mine and mine alone. I stated before that I recommended all the chairmanships; I set up the committees with wonderful help of about five or six members that helped and assisted me but it was my sole responsibility, and I want to say that I have no apologies to make. I also want to say that each and every one of you worked hard on your committees. I followed you up and went into committee meetings and looked around—you may have wondered what I was trying to look for but I wanted to keep an eye on the members to see if you were working!

I spent a lot of time on the floor and when I saw four, five or six representatives in a huddle, I was always a little worried and I tried to be a mediator. I would sit down with them and talk it over. And if I heard of anything that was wrong I would do everything I could to correct it and try to keep the group together. I felt I had a great responsibility and I tried to work close with the floorleaders—majority and minority. I talked over a lot of problems with them and we tried to have a good session for the welfare of the taxpayers and the people of the State of North Dakota.

In closing, I will say this—I will never forget this token of appreciation as long as I live.

I thank you from the bottom of my heart.”

Rep. Haugland has been a very hard worker and I am free to speak for every member here — they all speak very highly of her and her work, that she has done down here.

At this time it is an honor and a pleasure for me to give this gift to you from your one hundred and ten friends in the House of Representatives."

Rep. Haugland: "Mr. Speaker, Rep. Fitch and Fellow Members of the House: I find words inadequate to express my thanks and appreciation for this gift, and for the kind words said here today. I only wish that I might merit a small part of these kind expressions.

Needless to say, I am very much surprised. This has probably been the greatest surprise in my ten sessions that I have been privileged to serve in the House.

These ten sessions have been a grand experience — I have appreciated the friendship and the respect of my fellow members. There are only four members here today that were here when I came in as a freshman legislator. They are Reps. Trydahl, Fitch, Hofstrand and McInnes.

We have had a very good session, presided over by a very fair and a very capable Speaker. I have been very much impressed by the fine contribution which has been made by the new members in the House in this session of this legislature.

It has been a joy to work with you all. You have made me very happy.

Thank you, Members of the House, for the lovely gift and for the fine recognition which you have given me here today."

EIGHTH ORDER OF BUSINESS

Rep. Anderson of Richland moved that the Senate be asked to return Senate Bill No. 251, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Schuler moved that Rep. Brown be asked to speak on behalf of the Employment Committee at this time, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Nygaard moved that the remarks of Rep. Brown be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Brown: "Members of the 35th Legislative Assembly: First of all I would like to digress and express my sincere appreciation to the other members of the Employment Committee. This is not an easy task but they have all cooperated in a very fine manner in hiring these employees and seeing that they had particular jobs during this session of the legislature.

I am sure that each and every one of you realize that this is not the easiest job in the world. There are lots of people to satisfy and probably in the normal course of your business, you would not so freely employ people as is done during the legislative session. However, under our system of government, 'To the victor belongs the spoils', and the minority is considered on a like basis, proportionate to their representation in hiring employees.

This Employment Committee has certainly been very diligent in their selections and at this time on behalf of that Employment Committee, I would like to pay tribute to what I consider the finest staff of employees that it has been my experience to work with during my experience in the legislative assembly.

I would like to start off first with an individual, to whom it normally, in this legislature, it falls to Rep. Fitch to pay tribute to. However, as I am speaking for the Employment Committee, I would like to make a few remarks about the lady who takes down all the happenings in this Assembly. I am sure you will not have been in this Assembly very long before you realize that the main cog in the operation and the work of the House of Representatives falls on the very able shoulders of that veteran of legislative work, Mrs. Ruth Smith.

Mrs. Smith is one of the most congenial individuals that I have ever known, which I am sure that each and every one of you has found. She is one of the most efficient people that I have ever had the opportunity of working with, and she is one of the most exacting of individuals. I am sure that each of you has found that here is a person who stands out in the annals of the North Dakota legislative assembly.

Close beside her is a young man who has earned merit in his position as Chief Clerk. Jerry Stair, a young man, whom a lot of us got to know a couple of years ago, has progressed in his work, conscientiously and sincerely and I am sure that the members of the 35th Legislative Assembly have seen evidence of the diligent manner in which he has performed his duties as Chief Clerk.

Close beside him is a newcomer to the legislative halls, Mr. Vic Stratton. Vic is the individual who has been a right hand man to the Chief Clerk. I am sure you have found that he is a very pleasing person. He is very cooperative and has brought merit to this legislative assembly.

One of the most important jobs of the legislative assembly is to act as watchdog of all the bills that come in to this assembly. Chick Swenson is not a stranger to this work and I know that all of the new members have come to appreciate the sincerity with which he has accepted his responsibility and the exactness with which he has performed this work and the concern as to the correctness of the bills which you have introduced. I am sure that we all share in our appreciation of this man.

This year for the first time we agreed to hire a chief page, and we selected that charming girl who won the hearts of all of us at last session, Mrs. Jeanne Dutt. She and her staff have performed admirably. I know all of us are going to feel a deep regret for not having a continuing association with this staff of pages.

Unfortunately we are not able to compensate our employees who do the bulk of the work in accordance with their ability.

Now in our right hand office, we have a staff of stenographers which no amount of money would repay for their efficient work and the way in which they have performed their duties. We have found Eleanor Vendt, our chief stenographer, to be one of the most capable individuals that you will ever come in contact with. When you stop and realize that there are 113 members of the House who are calling on them to take dictation and do other menial chores, and that they have the ability to bring in perfect work, I believe we all would like to express our appreciation to the stenographers who are standing to the right of the assembly right now.

You members of the legislature realize the importance of committee work, and if it were not for the efficient work of the committee clerks, who handle the affairs of the committees, we would not have progressed in the efficient manner on this side of the House, as we have under the able direction of our Speaker.

There are two people, whom practically none of us ever come in contact with, yet when we ourselves are home slumbering or enjoying ourselves on the light side, these two are doing their job as proofreaders. Mrs. Enola Eck and Mrs. Maude Grambs are our proofreaders and I have had some veteran legislators tell me that this is the closest to perfection that we have ever had in our proofreading. I am sure that many other members will agree.

We have doorkeepers, and cloakroom attendants—a few too many I know—but I am sure that in the final analysis we are going home satisfied that the State of North Dakota is better for having these people sit in and observe the operation of our democratic form of government. These folks will be great ambassadors back to the people in the grassroots as to the importance of continuing this free system of government.

From the bottom of our hearts, on behalf of the Employment Committee, and of every member, we say 'Thank You' to our efficient employees'."

Speaker Wolf announced that he would appoint as a Conference Committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate on Senate Bill No. 28, the following Representatives: Fitch, Brown and Dewey.

Rep. Beede: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain my vote. I voted 'Aye' rather reluctantly because I realize that the total amount here appropriated is a tremendous increase over the amount appropriated for the same purpose two years ago. I have not the exact figures but they run into several million dollars. In addition to this, there is the income which is not appropriated, which these schools received in the amount of over three million dollars.

The reason that I voted 'Aye', and as I said I voted reluctantly, is because I realize the financial condition of our state at this time, and the financial ability of many of us living in the western part of the state, at least to pay our taxes.

However, I am proud of the fact that the House of Representatives shows its willingness to appropriate such a large sum for the support of our schools of higher learning, so that the teachers there can have the needed increases of salaries. I feel that the schools of higher learning, and all those interested in the progress in the schools of higher learning, owe a debt of gratitude to each and every member of the House for so recognizing their needs and to the fullest extent possible, supplying the money to take care of these needs."

Speaker Wolf announced that he would appoint on the Interim Committee for the Workmens Compensation Bureau as provided in the House and Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, the following:

Reps. Fitch and Streibel.

EIGHTH ORDER OF BUSINESS

Rep. Short: "During the last few days, we have seen fit on several occasions to express the appreciation of this group for the courtesy and services extended to us during the legislative session. I think, inadvertently, perhaps, we have failed until this late moment to express our appreciation to the City of Bismarck, and more particularly to the Police Department in this city for the very considerate courtesy, it seems to me, of allowing us somewhat unusual parking privileges, and their unusual courtesy in handling our parking tickets.

The three members of this House from Burleigh County were more than considerate in their efforts to handle these parking violations. I hope they will be able to handle them from here on as well as they have handled them in the past.

I move, Mr. Speaker, that this House express its appreciation to the City of Bismarck and particularly the Police Department for the courtesy extended to us during this 35th legislative assembly.

Which motion prevailed.
