To administer the provisions of this bill it is anticipated that the services of a full-time attorney and clerk typist will be needed. In addition to this; funds will be needed to make the necessary publications. The total sum of $45,000 would be needed for the biennium. This would include such items as social security, retirement contribution, etc. We have no special information on the revenues that might be produced by this bill, but the report of the Legislative Research Council for the State of South Dakota (Sixth Biennial Report 1961-1962) might be helpful. The North Dakota Legislative Research Council has this report.
