Cecil Crandell was declared elected. The Acting Speaker appointed Reps. Wagner and Boustead to escort Cecil Crandell to the rostrum, where he was sworn in by the Speaker.

The Acting Speaker announced that the next order of business would be the election of a Speaker.

Rep. Boustead: "Mr. Speaker, Members of the Assembly:

"It is indeed a real pleasure for me to have this opportunity to nominate the candidate as Speaker of the House for our Forty-second Legislative Assembly. Rep. Bier comes from the 31st District and farms near Hazelton, North Dakota, and certainly is not a stranger to most of us today. He is about to commence his seventh term in this body, and through the years I am sure all of you will agree Rep. Bier has proven his ability to get the job done. He is a gentle person, but firm in his conviction and belief. I am pleased to submit the name of Rep. Howard Bier as Speaker of the House."

Rep. Olienyk: "Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

"I wish to second the nomination of Howard Bier as Speaker of the House of Representatives. Having served in this body the past eight years, I have come to know Howard and to respect him for his intelligence, dedication and his ability as a Legislator. All of these attributes qualify him as Speaker of the House. I believe he will be most fair in making difficult decisions and ruling as the presiding officer.

"The people of Howard's district have re-elected him six times because he has served them well and has their confidence. I also am confident that he will perform with distinction as Speaker of the House. It is a real pleasure to second the nomination of Howard Bier."

Rep. Giffey: "Mr. Speaker, Members of the Forty-second Legislative Assembly:

"Very soon we members will select one of our own to preside over this North Dakota House of Representatives. We will make this selection by the democratic process of voting for candidates.

"Through the years, many are privileged to serve in this distinguished body, but relatively few are so honored to preside over this house.

"To be selected to preside, one must have first worked hard to get the respect and trust of his fellow members.

"I would like to place the name of such a member in nomination for the office of Speaker of the House for the Forty-second Legislative Assembly.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, it is with a great deal of pride and honor that I offer for your consideration the name of Gerhart Wilkie, Representative from the 9th Legislative District."

Rep Solberg:

"I am happy to have the privilege of seconding the nomination of a man who has been my colleague in this Legislative body for the last fourteen years.

"You who have served with Rep. Wilkie are well aware of his qualities of responsibility, dedication and honesty. These qualities are not limited to his Legislative work but are typical of his day-to-day life in his home community.

"His has been a career of service to his home, his church and his community. Despite his legislative duties and active farm work, he has found time to serve on numerous boards and civic projects. In every case his good judgment has contributed to success in these areas.

"It is a sincere pleasure for me to second the nomination of Rep. Gerhart Wilkie for Speaker of the House."

Rep. Wilkie: "Mr. Speaker and members of the Forty-second Legislative Session:

"First of all, I want to congratulate Representative Bier for his victory as Speaker for the 1971 Session.

"He is deserving of this honor. When I accepted the nomination at our caucus last night, they didn't give me much time to campaign, so I am pleased with the number of votes I got.

"Seriously, I couldn't have lost to a more qualified and respected man than Howard Bier. Knowing Howard as I do, I know his decisions will be honest and fair to each one of us regardless of our party affiliations. With his leadership the 1971 session will run smoothly and I am sure that all the Democrat-NPL members feel the same way.

"I want to thank my fellow Democrat-NPL members for the honor they have bestowed upon me and the support they have shown. It was appreciated and maybe in 1972 we will do better. So again, Howard, congratulations from all of us.

"Mr. Speaker, I now move that the Chief Clerk be directed to cast a unanimous ballot for Rep. Howard Bier for Speaker of the House for the 1971 Session."

Rep. Wilkie's motion prevailed, and Rep. Howard Bier was unanimously elected as Speaker.

Rep. Streibel moved that the Acting Speaker appoint a committee of two to escort the newly elected Speaker to the rostrum, which motion prevailed and the Acting Speaker appointed as such committee Reps. DeKrey and Welder.

Rep. Streibel moved that the Acting Speaker appoint a committee of two to escort Chief Justice Teigen to the rostrum. The motion was seconded and Reps. Strinden and Giffey were appointed to such committee.

Rep. Howard Bier was then sworn in by Chief Justice Teigen.

Rep. Johnson: "It gives me a great deal of pleasure at this time to give to one of my colleagues for many years the gavel which he will use to keep decorum in this body. I feel that Rep. Bier is very much entitled to this high position. I know that he is a man of fairness, that he is interested in good government, and he is interested in procedure. I need not tell those of you who have served in this body for a number of years the respect and admiration that the State of North Dakota holds for this man. I only hope that this body will in its deliberations be as honest and sincere and co-operative with its new Speaker as they were to me in the 41st Session. It gives me a great deal of pleasure and honor to turn over this gavel to Rep. Bier, and may you have the success and joy of serving in this next Legislative Session. My congratulations to you, Rep. Bier."

Rep. Bier: "Mr. Speaker — Fellow Members of the House:

"I wish to express my sincere thanks to each of you for the honor you have bestowed upon me by electing me as your presiding officer for the coming session.

"As I reflect back upon the past Speakers I have known from both parties, and the traditions of fairness and justice they have all set, it is my wish and my prayer that I may follow in their footsteps in a like manner. I shall surely try. I know I will make mistakes, but I ask your indulgence for these first few days as we move into the hard work of the session ahead of us.

"To you new members I say 'Welcome'. You are starting an experience as a Legislator that you will never regret. There will be many times when you will be discouraged and disappointed but that will pass and you will find that the friends you make on both sides of the aisle will last a lifetime, and the sense of accomplishment will make the hard work and the frustrations fade away.

"As your Speaker I offer my friendship and help to each of you. If I can be of service, please feel free to drop in my office and see me.

"I extend my sincere thanks to Rep. Boustead and Rep. Olienyk for their kind words and to each of you who worked in my behalf. A special thanks to Rep. Wilkie for his kind motion.

"With the deepest of gratitude from the bottom of my heart, I thank you for this honor."

A committee of three from the Senate was received and advised that the Senate was organized and ready to transact business.

Speaker Bier: "For my first official act, I have the pleasure and honor of making a presentation to former Speaker Johnson. It is the gavel that he used to rap the 41st and 42nd Legislative Assemblies into session. I am sure that this gavel will be something that he will treasure all of his life, and it is with real pleasure that I present this to former Speaker Johnson."

Rep. E. Johnson: "Thank you, Rep. Bier, and all of you for those kind words. Yes, I will cherish this gavel for the rest of my life, and it will find a place in my office where I can see it every time I go in there. I invite any and all of you if you get down into my area to drop in and see me. It was through our township near Dazey that General Sibley marched through.

"In leaving, I want to say that I hope you will forget the hard and harsh raps of the gavel I made, and remember only the kind and soft ones. With this I must say thank you, and God bless you all."

Speaker Bier announced that the selection of seats by the members would be the next order of business.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE TO ORGANIZATIONAL SESSION

Forty-second Legislative Assembly

December 8, 1970

Representatives — Senators — Ladies and Gentlemen:

"There is always drama and excitement when the Legislature convenes to occupy these dramatically beautiful House and Senate Chambers.

"The air in this Chamber is charged with expectancy. You who are new at this work must be in awe of the responsibility you have won and which you will fulfill at these desks and in these halls. I know that feeling of wonderment because it was my privilege once to be a new legislator.

"Those of you who are returning have been drawn back by a renewed sense of challenge and the warm friendships of this unique fraternity which is the Legislature. I sense that friendship rekindling itself today.

"The Attorney General has ruled that the Governor, during the legislative session, is not only the Chief Executive Officer of the State, but he is also a part of the legislative process.

"I will be working closely with the Legislature in the coming months, either in a personal way with each of you, or with your elected leaders. I welcome and value your advice and counsel at any time.

"I congratulate you for winning your election race. There is great satisfaction in winning, but we must never lose sight of the fact that we represent not only those who voted for us, but also those who voted for our opponents.

"Many races were won or lost by a handful of votes. This should give us reason to pause to think out our positions and decisions carefully.

"From long observation, I have noticed time and again that it is the nature of man not to come to grips with the problems that plague him if the solutions to those problems require the agreement of the majority.

"Some might say that this tendency to avoid solving problems capable of solution is good for us. They reason that if we overcome too many of our problems, then life might lose its challenge and be less interesting. Almost always, this reasoning is done by those who do not personally have to share in the problem.

"Problem-solving in politics and government comes most easily when we stop worrying about who gets the credit or the blame. Credit and blame are transitory things and seldom live longer than yesterday's newspaper.

"We have problems facing us in North Dakota. Some of these problems have been with us a long time; and like a mole on the end of your nose, we continue to live with these problems because we have become used to having them around.

"Our session starting in January can come and go, and its record might fade quickly into obscurity. Or it can rise to the challenge and make its achievements monumental, memorable, and lasting. This session will be exactly as you and I make it.

"I have presented an Executive Budget to you. It is balanced with recommended levels of expenditures within the projected revenues from existing tax programs. This budget will continue state services pretty much as they are in the present biennium.

"Much remedial legislation can be enacted without requiring substantial funding. However, there may be other programs which would require new sources of revenue if adopted. The fact that a proposed new program is not included in the Executive Budget should not be construed as opposition to that program by me.

"Our state is one of only a few that are free of debt. Our taxpayers have wisely preferred to pay as they go. We must admit, however, that our taxpayers are making a substantial effort to support their government. North Dakota ranks eighth among states in the percent of each $100 of personal income that goes for state and local taxes.

"We must seek equity among taxpayers and we must plug loopholes, but we should think carefully before accepting the need for new taxes.

"Next month, you will return to these Chambers for the intensive sixty-day session. The extra time provided by this pre-session organizational meeting, plus the excellent work of the Legislative Council this past biennium, will make you the best prepared Legislature we have had.

"My message to the 42nd Legislative Assembly on the condition of the state with recommended measures will be released in sections before we convene in January. This will give you more time for pre-session consideration and there will be more opportunity to receive public reaction.

"I know we will work hard together. I see no reason why we cannot look back on the 42nd Legislative Session as a long stride forward in the affairs of our state. I give you my best wishes for a smooth organizational session."

Rep. Streibel moved that the Joint Session be dissolved, which motion prevailed, and Lt. Gov. Larsen declared the joint session dissolved.

The House reconvened with Speaker Bier presiding.

Rep. Streibel moved that the Speaker appoint a committee of three to notify the Governor and the Senate that the House is organized and ready to conduct business, which motion prevailed, and the Speaker appointed as such committee, Reps. Haugland, Dick and Solberg.

Rep. Streibel moved that the House adopt as its temporary rules for the 42nd Legislative Assembly the rules of the 41st Legislative Assembly with the following amendments:

REMARKS TO THE OPENING SESSION 42nd Legislative Assembly January 5, 1971

By Governor William L. Guy

Introduction

Ladies and gentlemen of this 42nd Legislative Assembly — officers of the Executive and Judicial branches of our state government — citizens and friends of North Dakota:

Today we begin two months of work representing the people of our various legislative districts. It is a high honor that your constituents have given you in electing each of you to positions in this Legislature.

In this assembly's membership, there is a broad spectrum of expertise in many fields, as well as years of experience. Many of you are veteran legislators who have learned how to steer the ship of state by legislation; but just as important, there are many new members in this body who bring with them the zeal and fresh approach so necessary in making our representative form of government a living thing. I respect both the wisdom of the old-timers in this assembly and the power of exciting innovation which can be expected from new members.

As a state, we are part of a federal system which includes the national government and local entities of government as well. It has been popular for some years to bemoan the growing strength of the national government in our federal system. This may be true, but it is my observation that the states and local government have given up much of their responsibility by default.

Hopefully, our Constitutional Convention delegates and the voting public will provide us with a basic document to make it easier for North Dakota to strengthen its position within the federal system. But we need not blame our Constitution for all of the failures or omissions which have led to federal government encroachment. We must ask ourselves what can we do as a state that we are not doing to answer the needs of our people?

I am required in Section 75 of the North Dakota Constitution to communicate to the Legislative Assembly, by message, information on the condition of the state and recommend such measures as I shall deem expedient.

Much of the message, already released by sections, deals with the condition of the state, but coupled with it are some recommendations, sometimes general and sometimes specific. Occasionally over the years, I have been criticized for being too specific in proposing solutions to problems. At other times, I have been criticized for being too general and not setting forth the specific solution to a problem. The crack in the floor between these two positions is wide and deep, but I have never tried to use it as a place to hide in.

I know this Legislative Assembly will not feel confined by any recommendation that I make. I would much prefer that together we seek solutions to our problems after careful study and debate, with little regard for pride of authorship.

Our state is one of the more fortunate in not being in debt. My budget recommendations have been on the conservative side because I believe we are in a period of national economic adjustment which is difficult to project for the years ahead.

I wish to compliment Budget Director Ralph Dewing and Budget Analyst Dale Moug for their careful and intense review of the budgetary needs of all state departments and institutions. Whereas the Executive Budget may seem at first glance to be too general in setting forth recommended levels of expenditures and projected income, I know you will find Mr. Dewing and Mr. Moug very capable and willing to substantiate their findings in great detail. This is not to say that there is not room for change and differing judgments in the Executive Budget.

I must compliment the Legislative Council on their work in the interim. I believe our legislative research is excellent and would compare favorably with states which have far greater resources than we do.

Some of the recommendations in my message are the result of Legislative Council work in this biennium or in previous bienniums. Many of the recommendations in my message are the result of study and proposals of various state departments and agencies. The fact that a legislative proposal does not appear in my message is not an indication that I think it of lesser importance than those included.

I want to work closely with you in this session and I welcome your individual views at any time. However, because of the committee organization of the assembly, most of my work will bring me in contact with legislative leaders and committee chairmen.

I know that by approaching our job in a serious manner and in good faith in one another, we can eliminate or at least fully understand our differences.

We have, as our state's leaders, a very limited time in which to do those things that should be done. Our political stars shine brilliantly but for a moment and then recede into time. Our appointed time on this earth is now.

There is a tendency to procrastinate under our democratic system of government. But I firmly believe it is far better to try a partial or imperfect solution than to permit a problem to continue to plague us for lack of the perfect solution.

For many of you, these sixty days will be the most interesting sixty days in a lifetime. I am looking forward to the record that will be achieved by the 42nd Legislative Assembly.

Environmental Management and Natural Resource Conservation

There is no single concern before us today which is more important to our children and their children than conservation of our limited natural resources and the wise management of our delicate environment. It is impossible to make that statement too strongly. None of us can completely comprehend the magnitude of what we must be concerned about.

Adlai Stevenson put it well when he said, "We all travel together, passengers on a little spaceship, dependent on its vulnerable supplies of air and soil; all committed for our safety to its security and peace, preserved from annihilation only by the care, work, and I will say the love we give our fragile craft."

It is already too late in many places in our nation to recover the quality of life that once existed. But because North Dakota is a young state and because we are sparsely populated, there is yet time to take prudent action to safeguard our natural resources and wisely manage our environment.

We are now aware that there will be a continuing confrontation between the need to supply our growing population with new jobs, through development of our natural resources and the management of our environment, while at the same time we do everything possible to preserve our ecological balance and conserve limited natural resources. This will require low voices and reasoned accommodation on both sides of the confrontation.

In order to carefully examine the broad spectrum of environmental management and natural resource conservation in North Dakota, I asked the Natural Resources Council to establish task forces to make recommendations to me and to the Legislature. Eighteen task forces were established and more than one hundred North Dakotans who are authorities in their fields participated in the deliberations and recommendations of those task forces.

Some of the recommendations were for administrative change, or federal government action, or private enterprise initiative. But those major recommendations which I believe deserve your legislative support I submit to you for your consideration.

I propose that this Legislature be recorded in history as the first in our state to consider the comprehensive aspects of conservation, environment, and ecology.

Natural Resources and Environmental Management Council

Many states have established independent agencies for environmental management. This is necessary and appropriate in those states which can gracefully absorb the cost of this type of organization.

It is my recommendation that because of fund limitations and because of the nature of our state government organization, the Natural Resources Council be continued with a name change to Natural Resources and Environmental Management Council, with appropriate expansion of its mission. The Council is capable of bringing interdisciplinary study and action in most matters concerning state government in environmental management and natural resource conservation.

Conservation, Ecology, and Environmental Management Education

There is no problem before mankind which is more profound, timeless, and important than the preservation of his life through conservation and environmental management. It follows that decisions regarding these matters will be no better than popular understanding and public acceptance permits. Understanding based on education is the key to survival.

Of all the subject matter required for education in our primary and secondary school system, nothing outranks the importance of a strong understanding of the principles involved in ecology and environmental management.

I recommend that action be taken to establish requirements in this discipline for teacher certification for teaching at all levels. This discipline should be recognized as more universally important than any present required course. It should be established as a required subject in primary and secondary education in accredited school programs.

I recommend that all new teachers, after 1971, be required to qualify in the subject of ecology and environment in order to be certified for a life certificate.

Air Pollution Control

We must be cognizant of the air pollution that has long been with us in our state, as well as that which sweeps in upon us from other regions, or from new industry which might locate within our boundaries. We know too little about the effects of air pollution upon North Dakota at the present time.

Our air pollution law established in 1969 needs time and experience to test any strengths and weaknesses it might have. I would, however, recommend that Section 48-05-02 and Section 48-05-04 of the North Dakota Century Code be repealed and that the reference to "native" be stricken from Section 48-05-03.

I also recommend consideration of income tax credits for approved devices installed to control air pollution. We should follow the lead of states who have adopted laws governing open burning such as might occur in dump grounds, farm fields, oil fields, and of manufactured waste.

While this type of pollution may not seem overpowering in North Dakota air, nonetheless it is added to the total pollution of that fragile thin layer of life-giving air which envelopes the earth.

Land Use Planning and Zoning

Millions of Americans are suddenly becoming aware of the appalling cost of unwise use of our precious land resources. Public outcry concerning land use and abuse has reached a level that states can no longer ignore.

Without doubt, we face federal land use planning and zoning in the near future. The greatest hope for state and local determination of land use planning and zoning lies in the ability and willingness of state and local governments to get on with that responsibility before the federal government steps in. Land use planning and zoning is a big job and a continuing one, but I propose that we make a modest beginning.

We should provide for land use planning and zoning through a cooperative effort between state, county, township and city governments. Land should be zoned to prevent costly mistakes such as new construction in flood plains. We should zone to prevent destruction of agriculturally valuable top soil, to protect scenic beauty, to preserve natural forests and wetlands, as well as to provide areas that can be best developed commercially. These are only a few of the considerations in land use planning and zoning.

The public is rapidly changing its view about private owners' right to destroy or abuse our very limited land resources. More and more, public opinion is demanding that private use of land resources be consistent with proper use so as to assure preservation of this resource for the generations to come.

Water Pollution Control

Our state has been a leader in controlling water pollution. I consider the water pollution control law passed in 1967 to be sufficient at the present time.

We are in a period of adjustment with water pollution laws at the federal level and with surrounding states.

Many laws which might be enacted in other areas of environmental management might affect water pollution control. This would include land use zoning, herbicide, pesticide and commercial fertilizer use regulations, flood plain regulation, and anti-littering laws.

In order to bolster the financial resources of municipalities to constantly upgrade their water and sewage systems, I suggest legislative action to prohibit water and sewage user fees from being used for any other purpose.

I recommend that legislative action be taken to require operators of municipal waste treatment plant facilities to be trained and certified by our Department of Health.

Forest Land Management

North Dakota's forest resources are scant and very precious. Wherever possible, they should be preserved in their natural state, and ever-increasing annual tree plantings should be encouraged.

I recommend legislation to facilitate the exchange of land, as well as the acquisition of land, on which native woodlands and permanent wetlands exist.

I believe we should set a goal of at least 100,000 acres of native North Dakota woodland for preservation. This would require state zoning of these lands.

It would be appropriate to establish, through resolution, legislative direction for the preservation and protection of naturally wooded school lands under the administration of the Board of University and School Lands.

I urge you to encourage, by resolution, a federal Tree Bank Program similar to the better known Water Bank Program.

Fish and Wildlife Management

Fishing has been vastly improved through the program of the North Dakota State Game and Fish Department. Hunting of small game animals and large game animals and wild waterfowl has been excellent. But some species of upland game such as pheasants and prairie chickens have declined in numbers.

I recommend that fees charged for hunting and fishing licenses be increased. Part of these increased fees should be dedicated to the game and fish management and part should be used to establish a small departmental earmarked fund for the purchase of native woodlands. This latter action would augment that now under way in similar programs by the federal government in acquisition and leasing of North Dakota wetlands.

Water Management

North Dakota has made substantial progress in water resource management. The time is here for us to consider the feasibility of dividing the entire state into watersheds and establishing, by statute, local legal entities similar to our existing water management districts with responsibility for the development, control, utilization, and maintenance of all water and related land resources within each watershed.

The Souris-Red-Rainy River Basins Commission should complete its studies by 1972. These studies will be the foundation for projects in water resource management in the entire basin for many decades to come.

What is nearly complete in the Souris-Red-Rainy River Basin should now begin in the Missouri River Basin. I recommend that North Dakota continue its leadership in the development of basin commissions by appropriating funds in this session for participation by our state in an eventual organization of the Missouri River Basin Commission.

It is important that local and state government in each state in the Missouri Basin have as great a role in the planning of basin water resources as do the federal agencies which are already so active in water resource management.

Herbicide, Pesticide, and Commercial Fertilizer Residue Control

Because of the economic importance of the use of herbicides, pesticides, and commercial fertilizers in North Dakota, we need to move carefully in any program which might control their use. Nevertheless, we must recognize the potential for soil, food, and livestock contamination, as well as water pollution, which might be caused from these chemical products.

I recommend that you update the North Dakota Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act of 1947.

I also urge you to take under study the need to examine and license custom applicators of hazardous agricultural chemicals. There may be justification in this session to require dealers to be licensed by a state regulatory agency if they handle highly toxic and hazardous agricultural chemicals.

Spoil Bank Management

Because of the very extensive presence of commercial quantities of lignite coal lying close to the surface in our state, it is essential that we come to grips with the problem of long range spoil bank management.

There are complaints that our present spoil bank management laws are not adequate. It would be far better to strengthen them now than to try to superimpose change in later years after much mining has been done and mining companies have made their long range plans.

Soil Erosion

The slender slice of two or three inches of top soil is the well-spring of the vast majority of annual new wealth produced in our state. This thin slice takes centuries to develop; yet it can be destroyed forever in a matter of hours through water or wind erosion.

We must develop an incentive or a penalty system to induce landowners and operators to follow the best soil conserving practices known and available to us through present techniques.

The disregard of the needs of future generations to our precious top soil can no longer be overlooked. Abuse of the land by arrogance or stupidity should be prevented.

Incentive or penalty programs should be enacted to cause all lands to be protected by the most effective techniques in soil conservation. Landowners who suffer damages by inadequate conservation programs on adjoining lands must be protected under the law from such abuses as siltation and top soil drift onto their property.

Our soil conservation districts and our farmers have accomplished much in protecting precious top soil. The top soil abuse by relatively few owners and operators should no longer be tolerated.

Noise Pollution Abatement

Because of the use of machinery with high noise levels in our farming operations, North Dakota is reputed to have a higher incidence of hearing loss to its citizens than most other states.

It has been established that noise levels about 85 decibels can be permanently injurious to the human ear.

I am requesting that we pass a law that no machinery of any kind can be sold or used in North Dakota which operates at a noise level above 85 decibels after the model year of 1973. Engine manufacturers have hoodwinked the public that a high noise level is equated with power. This should no longer be acceptable in North Dakota. Our state should take the lead in bringing back that rare quality of life that comes with a reduced noise level.

Crude Oil and Non-renewable Resources

The task force on this subject reported that existing legislation appears to be adequate.

We are attempting to develop our crude oil and gas reserves with maximum conservation and anti-pollution measures in effect. By and large, I believe our crude oil industry and our extractive industry are properly concerned with conservation of non-renewable resources.

Maintenance of Scenic Values Along Our Highways

Roadside beauty contributes substantially to the quality of life enjoyed by our citizens. It is also a factor in providing a pleasant reception for our tourists.

I recommend that the Highway Corridor Control Board authority be expanded to include local roads as well as state highways. We also need to discover some device for arousing counties to their zoning responsibilities.

I recommend that legislation be adopted to encourage the clean-up of abandoned farmsteads along our highways through a program of taxing these farmsteads as public nuisances. Their presence is not only an eyesore, but they also represent a potential health and safety hazard to those who might trespass on the premises.

Maintenance of Scenic Values Along Our Rivers and Lakes

Our scenic lands along rivers and lakes are very limited. We should make every attempt to preserve and maintain them. I recommend legislation to establish a program for protecting, through zoning, those scenic lands adjacent to rivers, lakes, and also other natural phenomena such as valleys, buttes, and wetlands.

Those lands owned or controlled by the State through such agencies as the State Land Department and the State Game and Fish Department should be required to include in leases, necessary guarantees to protect scenic areas and to make these areas available to the general public whenever possible.

Reduction of Littering and Vandalism

There is little in the activities of man that is so inexcusable as is littering or vandalism. These two human weaknesses cost government and businesses millions of dollars each year.

I recommend that penalties for vandalism and for littering be made more severe. Since much of the littering includes non-destructible cans and bottles, we should consider methods of encouraging consumers and manufacturers to follow an orderly program for disposal.

In the case of vandalism of public property, I propose that the law require confiscation of automobiles used in transporting people to sites of vandalism or weapons used in vandalism. It seems that the most precious possession of many vandals is their automobile or gun.

Environmental and Conservation Regulatory Agencies

Those control boards which have been established to regulate conservation and environment should be reviewed closely as to their number of members and the special qualifications set forth in the law for membership.

I recommend that the majority membership on all such boards be representative of the general public interest and that the minority on such boards represent the special interests who are regulated or controlled.

Regional Coordination of State Services

Regional coordination of state services has sparked great interest across our state. It will be discussed often in this session. There has developed, however, a cloud of confusion and, in some instances, distortion as to what regional coordination of state services means and what it does not mean.

It does not mean the dissolving or weakening of county, township, or municipal government. It does not mean making life on the farms or in the small towns less attractive. It means just the opposite. It means making state services more available, efficient and less costly to all people, and especially those on farms and in small towns.

We have administered some state services by regional groupings of counties or parts of counties ever since North Dakota became a state. For example, the judicial system has long been administered in six districts or regions.

We are forced to keep up with the times. Vast changes have taken place in our society and economy since our state government was first instituted. High speed highways, automobiles, and aircraft have brought us all closer together. Radio, TV, and telephones have made talking to all parts of the state as easy as it is to speak to someone in the same room.

Many new services have been gradually added to the original basic state and local government services. These include such things as the parole supervision, vocational rehabilitation, school district reorganization, mental health treatment, medicare, social services for the poor, civil defense, Hill-Burton hospital planning, highway patrolling, and on and on.

Our original horse-drawn agricultural economy has been changed drastically by technology and farm programs. People and their investments have shifted from farming to more attractive alternatives in our cities or in other states. State government does not cause these economic changes and population shifts; it only tries to adapt itself to them.

Imperceptibly, but steadily, state and local governments have been experiencing a citizen demand for increased services.

One of the frailties of state government in North Dakota is that too many of its departments have developed as independent dynasties rather than integrated parts of total state government. These independent state agencies developed their own methods of delivering services to the people.

A few state services were delivered at the county or municipal level. But for many years, most state agencies organized their administrative and planning efforts by grouping counties into regions.

For example, in 1958, the Public Welfare Board began a grouping of counties to form eight regions. As far back as 1943, the Department of Health was administering and planning its many state services in county groupings making up five organized regions.

The information and data gained in the regions set up by one state agency should be applicable to the planning for state services by other state agencies. There is need to eliminate, where possible, overlap of state services at the local level. There is also need to fill some voids where some might not be receiving their share of state services.

As pressure mounts to hold down taxes and to make state services more efficient and more available to people on the local level, it becomes apparent that a much more coordinated effort needs to be made within state government.

Because some other states have successfully coordinated their state services through standard regions, I am convinced that North Dakota, too, will benefit by such organization.

We must find the best means of extending the myriad of state services that have been provoked by federal programs in recent years to every community, township, school district and county. High costs and the limited human resources in state government have made regional delivery and coordination our only hope.

After careful study and consultation between state agencies and the County Commissioners of all our counties, Executive Order No. 49 was promulgated.

I once again remind you that delivery of state services has been carried out by state agencies for too many years with little or no coordination. Executive Order No. 49 implements regional coordination of state services simply to integrate these services into a system of standard regions.

It is understandable how some confusion about the subject has developed. For example, a consulting firm hired by the Legislative Council has recommended the abolition of county welfare boards in favor of regional welfare advisory boards. Also, the Director of the Law Enforcement Council has suggested that regional delivery of some local law enforcement services such as regional jails might be an improvement. These two recommendations should not be confused as being a part of the Executive Order No. 49 directive. They must stand or fall on their own merits.

It would be simple to abolish coordinated regional planning and administration of state services and return to the former method of uncoordinated planning and administering state services which has grown up like Topsy over the years. If this were done, however, the local citizen and taxpayer would be the loser.

I recommend that this legislature give careful thought to improving the delivery of state services at local levels, with an objective of saving taxpayers' money. I do not recommend any action in this session which would force changes in township, municipal or county government unless such changes are brought about through democratic process expressed by the majority of the local citizens involved.

Water Resource Management

Potable water, like air, is an absolute essential for life. No city, no irrigation district, no industry, no county, no state, and no river basin can hope to grow beyond its available water.

North Dakota is not blessed with snowcapped mountains which slowly release water throughout the year. Much of our state is dependent on our annual rainfall and the efficiency by which we trap and use each drop of rain or flake of snow.

In the 1930's, the United States Government attempted to claim all of the unappropriated water in North Dakota. Since then, we have been laying counterclaims by Water Commission resolution and by irrigation and municipal usage.

The grip of the federal government's claim is illustrated by the fact that Minot has had to buy water from the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife at $25 per acre foot because the Lake Darling Dam was constructed with an agreement to give the Bureau the water rights on the Souris River.

Unless local entities such as water management districts, drainage districts, irrigation districts, county park boards, cities, and state agencies such as the Game and Fish Department and Water Commission are able to integrate their planning to lay claim to as much available water as possible, we will find counter-claims downstream prevailing or we will find the federal government gradually assuming an ever more dominant position of control.

River Basin Commissions

The best mechanism to bring state and local entities together to integrate their plans and aspirations and to work with federal government planning without domination by them is the river basin commission.

In June of 1967, the Souris-Red-Rainy River Basins Commission was established by the National Water Resources Council as one of the first commissions authorized. Immediately, that basin commission began pioneering in the work that was scheduled for completion in five years.

The basin commission is charged with accumulating a vast amount of basic information needed in water and related land resource planning and project development. An inventory is required of all rivers, lakes, marshes, coulee systems, aquifers, land types, gradients, permeability and water retention qualities.

Data on cubic foot per second flows on mainstem rivers and tributaries at various points with high and low flow ranges is required. Ranges of lake levels and the associated average rainfall by months must be determined.

Water quality of organic and inorganic content at various points on streams, lakes, and aquifers must be determined. Pollution hazards from such sources as siltation, municipal sewage, industrial discharge and agricultural pesticides must be documented.

Aquifer reserves, drawdown, and rate of recharge must be determined. Flood frequency and potential losses at various danger points on rivers and tributaries must be projected. Drainage patterns, both natural and man-made, must be charted.

Irrigation under way and the potential for its expansion must be known. This includes land permeability, slope and drainage. Hydroelectric generation capability from the total head available on rivers must be calculated. Wild waterfowl wetlands must be mapped for preservation and enhancement.

All of this type of technical information is required for long range planning and for project development to meet the needs of our North Dakota citizens.

These needs would include flood control, municipal growth, industrial demand, pollution abatement, irrigation, river navigation, hydroelectric generation, waterfowl habitat, water recreation, drainage and reclamation, highway and bridge construction, water-related historic site preservation, and river bank stabilization.

The federal government agencies lend their massive support in a cooperative effort on basin commissions. Congress appropriates millions of dollars for its share of basin commission studies to every $100,000 that state and local governments are able to appropriate.

Secretary Hickel, in February of 1970, informed the National Governors' Conference that the Nixon Administration regards the river basin commission concept as the most effective tool in maintaining or enhancing water quality in river basins.

The Souris-Red-Rainy Basins Commission is scheduled to complete its work in 1972. I recommend your continued support of that commission.

But of even greater importance to our state and the Midwest is the formation of a Missouri Basin Commission. It is essential that we move quickly if all of our ten states in the Missouri Basin are to authorize and fund their states' participation in the coming biennium. I believe the majority of states in the Missouri Basin favor the formation of a commission.

I urge you to consider this proposal intensely and appropriate the funds suggested in my budget early in the session so that North Dakota by example, can encourage the other basin states to act in order to fund the proposal in their 1971 legislative sessions.

The Missouri Basin and its tributaries in North Dakota represent one of our most valuable and renewable natural resources. Unless we can show a reasonable plan of use for these resources in the years ahead, we can expect our Missouri River water resources will be claimed or diverted by others. Unless the ten Missouri states can work in concert, they could some day find Missouri River water diverted to other river basins.

Garrison Diversion Irrigation Unit

We must also strengthen our hand in preparation for irrigation to be accomplished in the Garrison Unit. This calls for research in livestock feeding under irrigated farming conditions, as well as greater efforts in sugarbeet research.

One of the most pressing needs in water resource development, whether it be for public use or in private irrigation development, will be improved methods of finance. So urgent is this matter that I recommend Legislative Council study of what financing will be required to allow water users to fully implement the Garrison Diversion Irrigation Unit.

Weather Modification

Weather modification continues to be an intriguing possibility in our state. I suggest a resolution of support to the federal government for its efforts in studying weather modification in our arid Upper Midwest area.

Other Projects and Programs

As support for the studies and planning in water resource development, I suggest resolutions of support for such other projects or programs as the Water Bank, the In-Lieu-of-Tax Payment Program for wetland acquisition by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, the small watershed programs, and such flood control projects as the Kindred Dam, Burlington flood protective works at Minot, and Pembilier Dam.

I would also recommend a strong resolution pointing to federal responsibility for the damage accruing to the Missouri River banks because of the mainstem reservoirs and violently fluctuating water releases to satisfy hydroelectric generation requirements and navigational needs downstream.

Constitutional Revision

The voters in the 1970 Primary Election provided our state a rare opportunity to review and revise its Constitution. In the General Election which immediately followed, ninety-eight people of exceptional ability and stature were elected to carry out the precious mandate to hold the first Constitutional Convention since statehood.

The preparation for this convention, as well as its work and the presentation of its final product, is a very fragile process. There is an urgent need that pre-convention preparation take place in order that the convention delegates are able to make their maximum contribution at least cost to the state. Plans must be cautiously laid so that the constitutional revision be the result of bipartisan agreement and that all actions surrounding convention deliberations be documented by competent staff with a sense of history.

Because the Legislature originated the constitutional amendment setting in motion the elections resulting in the decision by the voters to hold a Constitutional Convention, I ask you to devise a method of pre-convention preparation that would be acceptable to the delegates.

I pledge my assistance in any way that might facilitate the efficient and effective launching of the Constitutional Convention in April.

We might try to profit by the experience of other states and, by legislative resolution, calling for separating the convention's final thirty days into two parts so that there would be a period of time between completion of the constitutional revision and final acceptance of the document by the convention, in order that public response might be measured.

I believe it would be in the best interest of the convention if it had its own staff rather than share any staff now employed in state government.

I also emphasize the deep historic significance of all correspondence, news articles, utterances, rough drafts, and proposals associated with this Constitutional Convention. This should be borne in mind by all who are associated directly or even indirectly with the convention. The preservation of these records should be directed by a competent archivist.

Experience in other states has shown that when the deliberations of Constitutional Convention delegates, committees, and staff are held independent of the established centers of the three branches of government, less interference and questionable influence result.

Perhaps we are fortunate to have a new Law Enforcement Training Center building due for completion about April 1, 1971. I would recommend that this facility be made available for offices for the Constitutional Convention committees and their staff. This would be for a period of only a little over a year.

For those rare instances when the full convention gathers, perhaps the nearby National Guard Armory or Bismarck Junior College facilities could be made available.

A resolution as to the use of state facilities for the Constitutional Convention delegates and staff would be in order.

Taxation

Taxation study and change will always be necessary. We must strive to bring greater equity between taxpayers, and we should simplify the taxpaying process. We must also be constantly aware that political subdivisions must depend on the Legislature to provide adequate local taxation if they are to properly carry out their legal responsibilities.

County Assessor

This Legislature should consider some major changes in our tax laws. I recommend a strong county assessor law which will strengthen the position of the present mandatory county director of tax equalization. Equity and efficiency will be served if we move from a position of more than 1700 part-time assessors to full-time professional tax assessors at the local level.

Full 100% Assessment

I believe we should, by legislative directive, move to 100% assessment of real estate as provided for, but not carried out, under present law. I would caution that if we move to 100% assessment of real estate, we should reduce mill levies in such a manner that this legislation would not, by itself, increase taxes.

One hundred percent assessment would simplify real property taxation and it would be easier for taxpayers to compare assessments between various classifications of real property.

Section 183 of our Constitution limits the indebtedness of political subdivisions, but that limit was predicated an assessment of full value of real property. The Legislature would want to set the bonded indebtedness limitations at whatever percent of full assessed value it might choose in order to restore to cities, school districts, and other political subdivisions the power to incur sufficient bonded indebtedness to carry out their responsibilities.

Income Tax

There is no excuse for our state's income tax to be so confusing and complex. I recommend that you establish the North Dakota income tax as a percentage of the federal income tax paid. This percentage could be based on a graduated table of rates designated to raise the present tax revenue. This would allow North Dakotans to fill out a postcard-size income tax return and it would save the State several hundred thousand dollars in administrative costs.

There should be built into such a tax, an authority by the Board of Equalization to adjust the state rate to achieve the collection of a specified statewide total of income tax collections in the event that Congress might adjust the federal tax rates up or down during a biennium.

Definition of Real Property

Real and personal property must be more clearly defined. I recommend that real property include land, buildings, and structures, and that any installations used only as a tool of the trade for specialized purpose be exempted as personal property, whether fixed to the land or buildings or not.

Tax Incentive for Business and Industry

The law passed by the 1969 Legislature to exempt new industry from real estate taxes and income taxes has worked well and I believe it will be beneficial to our state.

There is, however, need to more clearly define and possibly restrict tax incentives to only certain classes of business and industrial activity so that we do not have a proliferation of tax incentive applications from economic activities not contemplated or justified by the intent of the original law.

Federal Tax Sharing

We should, by resolution, encourage our Congressional Delegation and President Nixon to support legislation to appropriate federal funds for sharing with the states and their local governments. There is a wide difference in various tax sharing proposals. We need to be discerning in our support so that our strong state and local tax effort is recognized in any allocation formula.

Education

Our state continues to be a leader in education. The interesting achievements in the Grand Forks School District have received national attention. Some of the finest school plants in the nation have been built in North Dakota in recent years.

Our colleges and universities have made great forward strides and must rate at the top in quality and quantity of higher education given for each tax dollar spent.

But even with these outstanding examples of educational leadership, we must continue to explore ways of improving every school in our state because the school that our own child attends is the school that will be the influence on that child's life. We should consider ways of rewarding high school accreditation in order to gently urge such things as reorganization or greater local financial support which might be necessary to bring accreditation to more high schools.

I believe the responsibility for education is borne by all of us in this state. I, therefore, suggest that all school districts be required to belong to, or at least support, a high school district.

Our school district reorganization procedures are still not adequate when we realize that there are approximately fifty districts that operate no schools at all and there are high schools in operation with enrollments as low as a dozen students.

I believe it would be a step forward to provide regional school reorganization boards rather than the present county school reorganization boards.

I suggest that the laws which do not permit the majority of voters in a school district to increase their school bonded indebtedness or to increase their levies for general fund purposes grant too much power to a voting minority to determine the destiny of a school district.

I believe that high school students should be permitted to attend the school of their choice, and the receiving district should determine whether or not there should be a tuition charged.

I agree with those who point out that our school system has been geared to provide educations for college-bound students rather than those who would choose vocations. We must follow a program of gradual improvement in our vocational offerings at the secondary and higher education levels.

We find ourselves in a very fast-moving age. We must constantly ask ourselves if the curriculum of required subjects is really preparing our students for the life that is unfolding before them.

It was frightening to notice that our nation's political leaders were afraid to call for a tax increase to balance the war-swollen national budget at a time when this could have halted the start of inflation and climbing interest rates. These national politicians did not believe that the public would understand why the tax increase would be in their own best interests. The traditional teaching of arithmetic without applying it to relatively easy and very basic economic principles regarding federal fiscal policy has created this sad situation.

We are faced with a rapidly declining quality of life in many places in our nation and world. Our educational system, while serving brilliantly in some schools in the closely related fields of ecology, environmental management and conservation, has nevertheless failed to prepare enough of our people for the understanding necessary to demand those actions that are needed for human survival.

I believe there is vast room for new and vigorous leadership in curriculum planning at primary, secondary, and higher education levels to prepare our young people for a future that will be far different from the past.

We continue to have our teachers attracted by higher salaries, greater benefits, and better working conditions in other states. We should improve our teacher retirement program and bring it up to the level of the retirement program now available to state employees.

State aid to non-public schools will be discussed widely in this session. It is a subject that provokes considerable emotional reaction and, for that reason, is difficult to view clearly. But when we talk of schools, we should never lose sight of the child in every community in our state who must depend upon us to make it possible for him or her to have an education.

Non-public schools have operated in many communities of our state for decades. They have never been supported by tax money. Because of changes in our society, economy, and within religious organizations themselves, it is becoming increasingly difficult for non-public schools to continue without some tax money assistance.

If all non-public primary and secondary schools were suddenly to cease operating, a substantial additional educational tax burden would be thrust upon the citizens of our state, and in some communities that tax burden, as well as public school administrative and facility problems, would be very serious.

In bringing this matter before you, I do not take a stand for or against the concept of the non-public school. I bring it to you because it is apparent that if some form of state aid is not forthcoming for non-public schools, there will be a continuation of the well established trend of having them closed down.

Again we must return to the question of what is best for the individual child in every community. We should agree that a child's best interest is served by receiving an accredited education, whether in a public school or in a non-public school.

In order to safeguard the children who might be caught in the strained circumstances caused by the closure of a non-public school, I would not oppose a suitable program of minimal state aid to existing non-public schools. I would be opposed, however, to any program which would encourage the proliferation of the non-public school program in this state.

Such a state aid program should not be allowed to jeopardize the existence of any public school, for it is just as serious to deny a youngster a good education in a struggling public school as it is to deny sufficient help to maintain a non-public school.

Our Democratic Representative System

By decision of the United States Supreme Court, the principle of one man one-vote has now been firmly re-established. This principle causes this session of the Legislature to reapportion itself by recognizing changes and shifts in population as determined by the 1970 census.

When new legislative districts are drawn, the principle that calls for reapportionment also calls for the breakdown of multi-Senate seat districts into single Senate seat districts. Under the one-man one-vote principle, it is indefensible to permit one voter to cast his ballot for two, three, and even four Senators. Massive disenfranchisement is now going on in multi-Senate seat districts.

It is understandable why political parties in power seek to favorably affect their election prospects by writing advantages for themselves into the law. Many of these instances have existed for years and should be remedied.

The placement of candidate names for the State Senate on voting machines in Fargo apparently influenced the outcome of the Primary Election for that Senate seat and there was a great hue and cry over the unfairness of the situation.

This example pales to insignificance when compared to the long-standing unfairness of party column placement on the ballot. The principle of granting favoritism under the law to a party on the basis of a previous election win is indefensible.

All of the huffing and puffing about our great democratic system becomes a hypocritical mockery, especially to our youth, when we continue to build into the election system, favoritism for any particular candidate or party.

The cost of campaigning for public office has become so great that it eliminates many potential candidates or it forces some candidates or some campaign organizations to accept large gifts of money with expressed or implied strings attached. This is an unwholesome and intolerable situation.

I believe that limits must be placed on the amount of money that can be spent in a campaign, and who spends it. Limits must be placed on the amount from each contributor.

Since there is obvious widespread circumvention of the laws forbidding corporate contributions to state and especially national campaigns, I believe the present law should be substantially modified.

Corporations, cooperatives, associations, labor unions, partnerships, and individuals should be permitted to contribute to the candidate or party of their choice up to a reasonable amount, provided their contribution is listed as public information on a special line on their state tax returns, and provided they have also contributed at least fifty percent as much to the opposing candidate or candidates and their parties.

This would legalize and place some control over what is now being done illegally without public disclosure. It would also provide a source of funding for opposition candidates and parties in order that the voting public would not suffer from a contest unfairly staged by a preponderance of financial support on one side.

I believe it would be appropriate for this Legislature to ask Congress to place limits on campaign spending at the national level. If this is not done, we will find North Dakota being used time and time again as a state of heavy outside campaign expenditures because of the ease of affecting election outcome for federal office with relatively less campaign expenditures here.

These heavy influxes of uncontrolled outside campaign contributions and expenditures can have an adverse effect on the quality of state and local contests in the same election.

The percentage as well as the number of youth in our population continues to increase. Our young people have shown an impatience over some of the hypocrisy and shortsightedness of our society. They are often told to work out their frustrations by seeking change through our established political system. There are indications that a growing number of them are willing to do so.

Since the Supreme Court has upheld the reduced voting age requirement for federal elections, I recommend that we do likewise for state and local elections in order to conform to the federal law. I believe that in placing greater responsibility on our young people, it will help our state maintain a youthful and inquiring attitude.

National, State and Local Government Organization

National Government

Our federal system is made up of three distinct levels of government — the national level, the state level, and the local level. Much of our state and local government procedures and services are determined by national legislation, and certain national legislation in such activities as farm programming, transportation, medical services, education, and taxation affect us directly as states.

Because of this state-federal relationship, I believe we can no longer sit on the sidelines and view the government activities at the federal level as being beyond our responsibility or interest.

The administration of our federal government does not belong to the President and his aides. Rather it belongs to each one of us. The Congress of the United States does not belong to 100 men and women in the Senate and 435 Congressmen in the House of Representatives, but rather it belongs to every man, woman, and child in America, including North Dakotans. The Supreme Court of the United States is not the sole property of nine Justices, but it belongs with equal shares to every citizen in every county and township and village in this nation, and that of course includes North Dakota.

Some dramatic improvement must be made at the national level in our system of government if it is to respond to the fast moving needs of our state and our nation. Congressional reform should be at the top of the list of desperately needed changes in America.

I believe our Legislature would be strengthening a movement that has already begun in America if it would petition all of the members of Congress to bring about needed changes in the Congress of the United States.

It is incredible that Congress cannot manage its own affairs in such a way as to complete its routine work in a year-long session. Yet we saw just that happen in 1970. Something must be done to change that sorry record. Let me make some suggestions:

It is a mark against our system when the Congress can block consideration of the President's program. The people of this nation have the right to have their elected Chief Executive's program considered and either voted in or out in the session in which the program is submitted.

The seniority system in Congress is a travesty against Americans. The average age of Congressional leadership is far too old. Congress has established retirement ages for federal employees, but apparently feels that those ages are not applicable to the legislative branch.

I am not suggesting that Congressmen should be forced to follow the rules of retirement set down for federal employees, but I am strongly suggesting that Congressmen not be eligible for committee chairmanships after the age of seventy.

Once again, Congress does not belong to Congressmen or to senior Congressmen, but rather to the people. At present, committee chairmen are chosen by seniority which amounts to their physical ability to outlive their peers. The result has caused a reduction in the average energy, innovation, and imagination in Congressional leadership. Congressional chairmen should be chosen by their committee members and should be responsible to those committee members.

The seniority system has made it possible for committee chairmen to exert far more power than other committee members by being able to block legislation and to deny consideration of the President's program. To give any committee chairman that kind of power denies the one-man one-vote principle, which should give all Congressmen identical power no matter what their seniority might be or the state from which they are elected.

Congressmen should stand or fall on their record. We the people should have a right to an electronic accounting of Congressional votes, just as has been done in our State Legislature for decades. The ponderously slow, outmoded voice voting is an incredible waste of time, especially in view of the fact that Congress has not, in 1970, been able to finish its routine yearly business.

Unless the public rises up to demand Congressional reform, we will find Congress continuing the indefensible, archaic procedures which are at the heart of the frustration that youth feels in the unresponsiveness of our political system. I hope this session of the Legislature will join me in openly and firmly requesting Congress to reform itself. It is in the best interest of state and local government, as well as for America.

State Government

Periodically, our state has prepared for large-scale state and local government reorganization. The first major attempt was in 1931. The crushing depression that followed made it barely possible to continue state and local government as it was, without charting any new courses.

In 1941, Governor John Moses, State Senator Milton Young, and Representative Targie Trydahl made up the North Dakota Governmental Survey Commission which authored another major attempt at state government reorganization. World War II diverted our attention from that excellent study, but many subsequent legislative sessions returned to the study to adopt some of its recommendations.

The study is still valid and I recommend it as a reference to students of government. There is still much in it which should be implemented.

There is weakness in our state and local government which has been fixed upon us by our state constitution, written more than three-quarters of a century ago. There are improvements, however, that can be made by the Legislature even under our outmoded constitution.

As a thumb rule, we should always follow legal or implied responsibility with adequate legal authority. There is a tendency to believe that many state departments and agencies are so important that they should be removed from any political influence and should be allowed to exist as small dynasties unresponsive to the direction of any election official. This type of government is uncoordinated and unresponsive. We have too much of it in North Dakota.

A Governor should have the authority and power to implement his administration soon after his election. He should not have to wait for the appointments of board and commission members and department heads to expire at some point months or even years after he has taken office.

I have recommended in the past, and I do so again, that the term of office of all members of boards and commissions, as well as major department heads, should expire with the term of Governor. In order to provide continuity, I recommend that the Governor should have to appoint a minority of members of boards and commissions from incumbents. However, he should be able to appoint a majority of all boards and commissions within the first six months if he wishes to, so that his administration can be implemented immediately.

Our state government is too loosely strung together. All agencies and commissions should be divisions of a closely related department. For example, the Department of Agriculture should have as divisions such agencies as the Wheat Commission, the State Seed Department, the Livestock Sanitary Board, the Poultry Improvement Board, and the Dairy Products Promotion Commission. The State Library Commission, which has been revitalized under the capable leadership of Richard Wolfert, should be placed under a department having to do with education.

I recommend that the State School at Grafton and the Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Dunseith be transferred to the Department of Health along with other agencies having to do with health such as dairy products inspection and various duties of the State Laboratories Department.

I would look favorably on the development of a Department of Transportation and a Department of Conservation to include all present state services that are related to those two fields of state endeavor.

Because of the need to integrate state planning according to state service functions, I have established a State Planning Council in the State Planning Agency to coordinate the planning of related departments and agencies. The Planning Council is a means of compensating for a lack of adequate administrative reorganization. It can proceed without additional personnel or without reorganizational legislation.

Local Government

An excess of local government continues to plague our state. The overlaying of such legal entities as counties, townships, school districts, water management districts, drainage districts, irrigation districts, park boards, zoning boards, etc., with independent levies, has created administrative problems.

I believe citizens should have the services of as much local government as they want and can afford. However, the high cost of duplication should make the people of each locality take a long, hard look at their local government.

For several sessions, I have recommended that townships be strengthened and enlarged to coincide with high school district boundaries. I still make that recommendation. I have also suggested that there may be a few counties which, because of population or valuation limitations, could strengthen their county government by joining with an adjacent county.

I emphasize in these recommendations that the determination of the changes that are made in local government should be left to the majority of voters who are affected.

Law Enforcement and the Courts

The Uniform Crime Report for 1969 issued by the Federal Bureau of Investigation shows North Dakota enjoying the distinction of having by far the lowest rate of violent crime in the nation. The report shows that North Dakota experienced 35.8 violent crimes per 100,000 residents during the year, compared to 77.4 for South Dakota, 98.3 for Montana, and 142.0 for Minnesota. North Dakota is also among the lowest in non-violent crimes.

Our low crime rate has made us a little less aware than some other states of the need for improved law enforcement and court reform.

North Dakota's Law Enforcement Council has been very active in reviewing improvements that are needed at the local and state level. I am pleased with their hard work. We are making progress in improved law enforcement as is exemplified by the Law Enforcement Training Center authorized by the last session of the Legislature and which will become operational in 1971.

Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court Warren Burger has done an excellent job of alerting the public as to the reforms that are needed in our law enforcement system and our courts especially.

Justice Burger spoke to an executive session of the National Governors' Conference at their 1970 meeting. He emphasized that there are many cases that come before the United States Supreme Court that have an impact on the states and local government. We should have an interest in United States Supreme Court reform.

But as badly as the United States Supreme Court needs reform, according to Judge Burger, the states' court system needs it even more. He recommended that our courts use modern business methods and that their operations be handled by professional court administrators such as are being trained at the Institute for Court Management in Denver, Colorado.

He pointed to the many problems that come about in a multiple judge district where one judge might be a hard working person, while a fellow judge might be the eleven o'clock in the morning until three o'clock in the afternoon, two days a week, variety.

Judge Burger stated that there is no excuse for court calendars to become overloaded and court decisions to be delayed for months or even years. He gave some hope that a report on judicial review would be out in a year or two and would point the way to state court reform. He recognized New Jersey, New York, and California as states which had done much in court reform.

Because North Dakota has a low population and because our court cases, if our crime rate is any measure, are less than many other states, it would seem to me that it should be relatively easy for North Dakota to reform its court system and be able to boast of the very best court system in the United States.

I, therefore, urge the Legislative Council to take under intense study the court system in North Dakota so that at a later session we can take advantage of that study and the recommendations in the judicial review to make our state court system more responsive to its mission in our society.

Judge Burger went on to be very critical of the nation's corrections system. He recommended to all the study of the American Bar Association on Correctional Systems by a commission headed by the former Governor of New Jersey, Richard Hughes.

The Chief Justice issued a stinging rebuke against our prison system. He said, "I hope the concern that Congress and the press show for prisons in South Vietnam can be shown also for prisons in America."

"We cannot pour millions of dollars into the process of the trial and then be miserly about the process after the trial."

He went on to say, "Most ardent advocates of prison reform are the men who run the prisons."

He may have been including North Dakota when he said, "Seventy-five percent of prison facilities in the United States are inadequate."

There is much to be done in the way of managing and rehabilitating those who must be sent to jail or to prison in our state. Many local jails can be justified for overnight safekeeping of prisoners, but certainly cannot qualify as humane places to hold people for an extended length of time.

Director of Institutions Walter Fiedler has been working with a committee on corrections and has recommendations which should be followed to improve our state prison and rehabilitation program.

I can go back to the 1941 Report of the North Dakota Governmental Survey Commission where they say, "To the Department of Public Welfare should be transferred the State Penitentiary and Training School. The administration of general laws pertaining to children, to various relief programs of the state and federal governments and to various services performed by the state for persons in need should be coordinated and unified."

Thirty years ago it was recognized that our correctional institutions needed to be brought under a department which contained staff who must be authorities in rehabilitation of individuals and families who are not able to find their way in our society.

It is even more true today. I recommend that this change be made. The State Industrial School and the State Penitentiary, as well as our parole system, should be made a division of the State Public Welfare Board.

Economic Changes and Needs

Transportation

Vast changes affecting our state and local economies are sweeping across us like enveloping tides. Because of our geographical location and our limited political clout at the national level, we must wage an uphill battle to maintain our economic health.

We have watched our transportation system change, in some ways deteriorating and in other ways improving. The small towns in our state have already entered a crisis stage because of the abandonment of rail passenger service and less than carload lot freight service. Many branch railroad lines have eliminated depots, stockyards, and finally trains. The mails have been shifted to trucks. Branch line bus service is fast withering away.

Our exceptionally fine highway network has kept our head above water by permitting trucks and automobiles to take over as the railroad and bus service receded. But there are thousands of people in our small towns virtually stranded because they do not own or drive a car. Hundreds of small businesses are closing in small towns because they can no longer get economical delivery of the products they buy or sell.

The transportation crisis is forcing people to leave rural communities in order to live in the larger cities where they are within walking or city bus distance from the services they must have.

With each major change in rail service, we have been assured by the railroads that they were acting in the best interest of the public they served. Ten years of experience have caused us to wonder if yards and yards of wool have been pulled over our eyes.

We were told, when we protested the merger of the major east-west rail lines, that this would provide savings in freight rates and improved service for the state. Freight rates have gone up and rail service has diminished. North Dakota is almost at the point of providing only a right-of-way for transcontinental rail movement.

Unfair rail rates continue to plague us as they have since statehood. The rate to ship barley east to market is a case in point. The twenty-five cent greater cost per bushel for shipping wheat from Williston to the West Coast compared with the rate from Fargo to the West Coast is another shocking situation. Our mid-continent geographical location makes maladjustment of freight rates especially disadvantageous to our economy.

We should join a national effort to have the Interstate Commerce Commission and its rate structure changed to provide equal opportunity for economic growth on the basis of rail rates, no matter where in the United States an industry or business might want to establish itself.

It would be timely for us to memorialize Congress in this regard. It is already late for America to establish a national policy of opportunity distribution which would in effect cause a voluntary distribution of jobs and hence population so desperately needed.

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe has submitted a rail passenger plan for the nation. It appears to have bypassed North Dakota entirely. A strong protest would be in order. The Rail Pax Plan appears to be crisis-motivated in that it seeks to move people from one congested area to another. It does nothing, in my estimation, to encourage the development of economies and populations in those regions that are best equipped to expand.

With the demise of local rail and bus service, we find that improved airline service is not capable of meeting short-haul requirements. As a matter of fact, our airline service is not adequately serving our long-haul requirements. Once again, the distribution of opportunity in America will depend on the wisdom in laying out airline routes and the application of needed subsidies.

There is a peculiar situation existing in North Dakota that is not found in very many other states. One airline virtually monopolizes our east-west transcontinental traffic movement. A recent prolonged strike in which North Dakota citizens and their political subdivisions lost millions of dollars emphasizes our precarious position.

There is no reason under the sun why one airline should be granted a perpetual monopoly. We have other airlines flying over this state now which could be granted some of the flights held by the monopoly airline. If this were done, we might see some competition between the two airlines in building better service for North Dakota. We would also have a more flexible position anytime either of the competing airlines could not or would not serve us.

I urge strong legislative action directed toward the Civil Aeronautics Board to ask for the certification of transcontinental flights to a competing airline flying east and west in North Dakota.

Finance

Our economy can grow no faster than our ability to finance it. The Small Business Administration has been improving its service to our state. The Bank of North Dakota, whose purpose is to encourage and promote agriculture, commerce, and industry has worked vigorously to do just that. It will participate in a state development corporation with other banks in order to provide a pool of credit for industrial risks. In addition, I would recommend that $500,000 of unappropriated profits from the Bank of North Dakota be set aside to establish a guarantee program for first mortgage loans on industrial real property.

There is no question but that the Garrison Diversion Irrigation Project will require mammoth amounts of individual farmer financing as it becomes operational. I do not believe an adequate mechanism now exists to handle the financing that would be required. I recommend a Legislative Council study on what will be needed to adequately finance the intensive farming under irrigation conditions.

Two sessions ago, we adopted the Uniform Commercial Code in order to facilitate business in our state. I now recommend that we consider the Uniform Credit Code as a means of making our state more attractive to those who would invest. I am well aware that some consumer groups oppose the Uniform Credit Code. Their objections must be weighed against probable advantages.

Labor

We are losing tens of thousands of our young North Dakotans. They leave here to seek job opportunities which seem to them to exist in other states. One of the opportunities that they find in many other states is a higher minimum wage and the protection of union representation in their work. I believe it is in the best interest of an expanded economy in our state, as well as an inducement to our young people to stay here and seek jobs, if our minimum wages were raised and if our so-called right to work law were repealed.

Agriculture

Agriculture continues to be our basic industry. The position of agriculture in the nation's economy is slipping in part because of the weakness of rural states in mustering the political leverage necessary to maintain adequate farm programs. Even in North Dakota we have not pulled together as a state in support of agriculture.

To those who shrug off the importance of farm programming, it is well to note that the annual income to North Dakota farmers from the Wheat Certificate Program alone exceeds $100 million annually and represents a greater gross income to our state than that from all our extractive industries, including crude oil and lignite coal. Furthermore, all of the Wheat Certificate income is spread throughout all of the rural communities and none of it is shipped to investors in other states.

We must intensify our research in enterprises that will be adaptable to irrigation such as sugarbeets and livestock feeding. At the same time, we must not lose sight of the vast dryland farming base of our state. There are many crops, including feed barley, which must be constantly upgraded through plant breeding in order to keep our farmers competitive.

Population Centers

When President Nixon visited North Dakota last summer with his Cabinet officials and met with Governors of the Upper Midwest concerning population distribution, the subject of "growth centers" came up. There were those who believed that only cities above 50,000 people had the capacity to absorb the rapidly growing population and thus become growth centers.

I disagree strongly with this concept. Every city, no matter how large it might be today, started as a tiny village of a handful of people. I believe that any village or town in North Dakota has the potential to be exactly what its people want it to be. I believe that in the years ahead, certain towns in North Dakota will emerge as growth centers because of what their present citizens plan and work for.

Our state efforts and planning should be directed toward making services available to people out in the rural countryside in order that hopefully some day the movement to the cities can be stemmed and the small towns can grow.

Over-congestion creates some terrible social costs, but when over-congestion is caused by depleting the countryside of population, then the depleted countryside also suffers severe social costs. This phenomenon is man-made and man can reverse the trend if we only recognize it and plan to do so. A strong resolution to the President and to Congress supporting the concept of opportunity distribution and hence population distribution throughout the United States might be helpful.

Tourism

Our greatest potential for economic growth outside of our basic industry of agriculture is tourism. We have made fantastic advances in the business of entertaining visitors to our state. Our excellent highway system with its rest-stops is well known to the traveling public. Our growing park system can barely keep up with the surging demand from tent trailers, pickup campers and travel trailer operators.

Every historic site that we renovate becomes a subject of eager visitor interest. Every boat ramp and picnic ground established soon hums with activity. On Labor Day at the state-owned marina at Sakakawea State Park, 1800 gallons of gasoline were pumped into motor boats using the facility.

We need to continue a steady outdoor recreation development program. We need to continue to improve and expand our state park system. We must also become aware of the deep heritage that could be illustrated in the restoration of historic sites from Pembina to Medora and from Fort Buford to Fort Abercrombie.

The Old West Trail started by North Dakota in 1961 and including South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, and Nebraska has been extremely successful in promoting tourism. North Dakota this year launched the first international tourist loop, the Explorers Highroad, in conjunction with Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Minnesota.

Economic development calls for a climate for profitable investment in order to produce new jobs. I believe that North Dakota has, through legislation, done as much as any other state in producing that climate. I believe we will see the efforts of this legislative session and those of the recent past pay off in the years ahead.

Who Are We?

We are Americans, of course, but we are also North Dakotans. This land which is North Dakota has a rich and colorful history that goes back to those centuries when the red men fought among themselves for territory. The ebb and flow of the American Indian in the years before the first white men came is an epic in itself.

Five distinct flows of humanity have populated what is now North Dakota. The Indians were first and came over the top of the world across the Bering Strait. Centuries later, the first white men made their way into the continent's heartland by using the Great Lakes as a means of transportation. These were the adventurous French, whose intermarriage with the Indians created a whole new identifiable population known as the Metis.

The English, who were out to make money, entered the territory from the north down Hudson's Bay and the Red River. They were followed by the third wave of people who came up the Mississippi River, intent on building a new empire with their homesteads which first crept into the Red River Valley in the mid-1850's. The last distinct movement of people were those adventurers, trappers and explorers who used the Missouri River to gain entrance to what is now North Dakota.

These first ripples of settlement became great waves of immigration from the Scandinavian countries, Germany, and other northern European countries. The settlement of North Dakota and the sacrifice and privation of those early pioneers was a part of a heritage that was taking firm root in those days.

Americans are a mixture of many races, colors, and nationalities, and from this mixture we have drawn great strength. North Dakota is no different. We still take pride in the nationalities of our ancestors. But there is value in North Dakotans knowing of this state's past in order to understand their own identity.

It would be very valuable if we developed a Heritage Center which could explain, through interpretation, the events and people and technology that went into the making of our land's natural history and the history of our people. North Dakota is mature enough to build a Heritage Center that would be a credit to the memory of all those who have gone before and would be an inspiration to all those who must face the future.

The Heritage Center has been under study for nearly ten years. The brochure that was distributed to all members of the Legislature explains in a colorful manner the historical, educational, cultural, and tourist development advantages that would go with a Heritage Center, as well as furnishing a headquarters for the State Historical Society and a place where historic artifacts could be collected, studied, and distributed to community museums. We need to start laying aside funds to build a Heritage Center.

The year 1976 will be the Bicentennial of the American Revolution. Already by invitation of the President of the United States, I have appointed a North Dakota Bicentennial Commission to plan events statewide to help commemorate two centuries of freedom as Americans. I can think of nothing more appropriate than to break ground for a Heritage Center in 1976, a Center built by both public and private funds.

1976 is also the 100th Anniversary of the last march of General George Custer and his troops to an event which has become world renowned. This anniversary is a very significant event in the struggle between the Indians and the white settlers, so firmly embedded in our heritage.

We are what we think, and what we do, and how we do it. Many have cast a disparaging look at the culture of the Great Plains. Even so, we have a growing interest in such things as drama, music, and art, which are expressive and creative parts of our culture.

The Commission on the Arts and Humanities has struggled along with too little encouragement. Their assistance to communities in developing cultural advantages is impressive. I recommend that their accomplishments be noted and that they be funded to continue their work.

One of the most unique cultural institutions in North Dakota is the International Peace Garden Music Camp. Here, more than 2500 young people drawn from both sides of the international boundary come each year to continue their musical training in the beautifully quiet and inspiring surroundings of the International Peace Garden. This music camp should be encouraged. In order to operate at an optimum economic level, additional dormitory space is required. I recommend that we see that this dormitory space is provided.

Each step that we take to encourage the cultural involvement of our people is a step that leads to a more satisfying life. Each new generation should be proud to know that in addition to being Americans, they are also North Dakotans.

Interstate and Regional Cooperation

More and more, we find ourselves involved with the affairs of other states in our Upper Midwest. This is good, for obviously several states working together can do many things that no one state can do alone.

There are many examples of this growing multi-state regional awareness that have come about in the last ten years. The Old West Trail in 1961 was an effective first step in organizing five of our states in a joint effort at tourist promotion. I have suggested that the Old West Trail organization broaden its mission to now become concerned with regional preservation of natural resources and historic sites. The preservation of such tourist attractions as forests, wetlands, lake shores, rivers, and wilderness areas should be an effort which concerns all of the states through which the touring public, meaning all of us, travels.

In 1970, the first effort in international regional tourist promotion has been launched with North Dakota leading the way, and joined by Minnesota, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan in the Explorers Highway. We expect the international tourism effort to result in closer working relationships in other fields with our adjacent Canadian provinces.

Regional efforts in water resource developments are absolutely necessary for the success of any widespread planning and effective use of water. The Souris-Red-Rainy River Basins Commission is a pioneer in this field. However, we must also take note that the Garrison Diversion Irrigation Unit was designed to serve irrigators in both North Dakota and South Dakota, and is a part of a series of Missouri Basin-wide irrigation projects planned for several states.

Our interest in irrigation underlines the desirability of a Missouri Basin Commission which would help to plan not only irrigation but also all the other beneficial uses that Missouri Basin water should be serving.

The Congress of the United States has approved a $300,000 grant to launch an Economic Development Administration regional project in the same five states as are now cooperating in the Old West Trail. If the President directs the expenditure of this money, we can find North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska and South Dakota working as an economic unit to do all possible to improve its economy.

This would include many, many aspects of our everyday life including such things as interstate transportation rates, truck width and weight regulations, environmental control laws, and zoning laws. The idea would be to make this region, which has a mutual concern in low population growth, do as many things as possible to make it attractive to new industries and a growing population without one state attempting to lower standards in order to be more attractive to industry than its surrounding neighbors.

A resolution to President Nixon requesting release of funds to establish the five-state Economic Development Administration project which includes North Dakota would be beneficial to our state.

There are other interstate efforts which we should support. The common market for higher education between our state and Minnesota should be given every encouragement. Interstate educational television should be supported.

Interstate planning for health regions in North Dakota should extend across our state lines to include all people who are served by a regional or satellite health center, whether they are citizens of this state or not.

Our state should continue to be a member of the Compact for Education, as well as the Multi-State Tax Compact.

We have gained much from being a member of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission and we will host the annual convention of this commission in Bismarck in June of 1971. It is noteworthy that our present North Dakota oil industry laws were patterned very closely after the model code of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

President Nixon has emphasized the need for regional thinking by reorganizing the federal regional offices to make Denver the prime regional center for our state. The federal government has allowed its various departments and agencies over the years to set up their own combination of states into regions and it may be impossible to totally reorganize the federal government's regional dispensation of its services, to emanate from one central point. We may still find ourselves dealing with federal agencies in St. Paul, Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha, as well as Denver, for many years in the future, but the President should be encouraged in his efforts.

It was North Dakota which organized the fifteen-state Midwestern Governors' Conference in 1962. This conference was organized to be concerned with the mutual problems of midcontinent America states and to develop greater political unity in bringing about political solutions.

Other regional groups have sprung up such as the Mid-America Governors' Transportation Council. All of these organizations recognize the intense competition that has developed between various regions in the United States.

It is costly to be competitive and join in regional efforts, but I believe it is even more costly in the longrun to be parochial and uncooperative beyond our state's borders.

GOALS FOR STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT

In order for state or local government to be brought into sharper focus in order that public aspirations may be better pursued, it is well to establish goals.

I would define a goal as a direction in which we strive to move to accomplish those laudable things desired by most people. Goals are general in nature and can never be fully achieved, but we develop programs and objectives to move us in the direction of the goals we set for ourselves.

Many states are now establishing goals to help formulate policies and programs. Unfortunately, the United States of America has never established goals, so there are none on the federal level with which states can align themselves.

As the result of meetings held with people in state and local government, I offer thirteen goals that I think deserve endorsement:

1. To manage our environment to obtain an acceptable ecological

- balance and a wholesome, healthful living condition for our people.
2. To preserve and conserve our natural resources for the benefit of man now and forever.
 3. To seek to eliminate poverty and the associated hunger, malnutrition, and inadequate housing.
 4. To seek to overcome disease and alleviate suffering of our people.
 5. To seek to increase safety, security and domestic tranquility for our people.
 6. To expand and improve all education and make such service available to all.
 7. To work for the dignity, respect and equality of treatment for all our people regardless of race, creed, age, or sex.
 8. To increase both job opportunities and per capita income for our people, as well as the gross product of our state.
 9. To support the concept of democratic process and to constantly seek to bring more efficiency, responsiveness and effectiveness to our systems of government at all levels.
 10. To foster cultural and spiritual enrichment for our people who seek it.
 11. To increase the opportunities for relaxation and recreation.
 12. To seek to build pride and esprit de corps in ourselves and our institutions, and thereby enhance optimism in our future while we foster respect and appreciation of our rich North Dakota heritage.
 13. To work with surrounding states and Canadian provinces to achieve those benefits for our people which we as a state cannot satisfactorily achieve alone.

These goals are not chiseled in marble or hammered in bronze, and can change from time to time, both in nature and in priority.

I believe North Dakota state government should be given goals to pursue if only to document the thinking of the people of this period of time.

CONCLUSION

Morality is the degree of excellence in our practice of that which is right. Morality in our government is the basis of our claim to the finest, most sympathetic government on earth. But legality is not always consistent with morality. Morality must be the strong fiber in the fabric of all legislation.

It is very easy for those who have security to speak contemptuously about the desirability of government being concerned with people's security. We must constantly try to place ourselves in the position of those we represent. This includes the disadvantaged as well as the advantaged. It includes the silent as well as the vocal. And it includes those with philosophies other than our own.

The record of the 42nd Legislative Assembly has not been written. There is yet time to make it great.

HOUSE RECONVENES

The House reconvened pursuant to recess taken, Speaker Bier presiding.

Rep. Streibel requested the privilege of the House for the purpose of approaching the rostrum, which request was granted.

Rep. Streibel then presented to Gov. William L. Guy the National Leadership Award of Excellence from the 42nd Session of the North Dakota House of Representatives.

Rep. Streibel moved that the schedule for chaplains be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Streibel then moved that the House stand in recess until 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 6, 1971, which motion prevailed.

ROY GILBREATH, Chief Clerk

FIRST DAY AFTER RECESS AND SECOND DAY

Bismarck, January 6, 1971

The House reconvened at 1:30 p.m., pursuant to recess taken, with Speaker Bier presiding.

Speaker Bier announced the appointment of Ernest Meidema, William DeKrey, Carl White, Ralph M. Winge and Mrs. Mushik to the Enrolling and Engrossing Committee.

Rep. Solberg moved that the remarks of Rep. Streibel and Rep. Hoffner in making the National Leadership Award of Excellence to Governor William Guy be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Streibel: "Governor Guy, Mrs. Guy, Fellow Legislators and Friends:

"Shortly after convening at 12 o'clock this noon, the House of Representatives passed a resolution which awards Governor William L. Guy the National Leadership Award of Excellence. This is an award created by Governor Guy to recognize outstanding citizens of North Dakota who have risen to a position of leadership and prominence in our nation.

"It was the thinking of some of us at the conclusion of Governor Guy's presentation to Senator Becker during a social gathering at our organizational meeting in December, it would be appropriate if our Governor be recognized because he was the Chairman of the National Governor's Conference during the years 1966-1967.

"It was my privilege the year that Governor Guy served as Chairman of the National Governors' Conference to be a part of some of the recognition that North Dakota did receive as a direct result of his position of leadership. I recall one occasion when the Telephone Companies of America commemorated the installation of the 100 millionth telephone in America, and to commemorate this occasion, they presented a gold Princess phone to each of the fifty governors, and then the fifty governors were all on a conference call with President Johnson. Some of us were in the office at the time this conference call was placed. If you don't think it gives you goose pimples to be in a room where our State Chief Executive is talking with the President of the United States on a conference call with forty-nine other Chief Executives, then guess again.

"I recall other occasions, such as National Legislative Conferences, where people from Michigan, Illinois, Maine and other states would see a badge which indicated we were from North Dakota, and they recognized us by virtue of the fact that our Governor was Chairman of the National Governor's Conference.

"Governor Guy, on behalf of the other ninety-seven members of the House and myself, who I think represent the people of North Dakota — maybe not in the one man, one vote proportion — but we do represent them nonetheless, it is a great privilege for me to represent my fellow colleagues in the House and present you with this J. F. K. chair.”

Rep. Hoffner: “I would just like to ask the Governor not to use that chair too much in the next sixty days.”

Rep. Streibel moved that the Report of the Legislative Compensation Commission to the 42nd Legislative Assembly be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COMPENSATION COMMISSION TO THE FORTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

House Bill No. 256 of the Forty-first Legislative Assembly created a Legislative Compensation Commission, to consist of five members appointed by the Governor to four-year terms of office. The Governor was also to appoint one of the members Chairman of the Commission.

Immediately following the effective date of the Act, the Governor appointed Mr. John Rouzie of Bowman as Chairman; and appointed Mr. Arley Bjella of Williston; Mr. Gorman King of Valley City; Dr. James Mahoney of Devils Lake; and Mr. Edward Nese-meier of Casselton as commissioners.

The Commission's prime and continuing responsibility is to determine appropriate rates of expense allowance and reimbursement to be paid to members of the Legislative Assembly during the session and for interim committee work. The rates of compensation and reimbursement were to be designed so as to permit citizens to hold legislative office without undue financial sacrifice or disadvantage. The Commission is required by law to report to each Legislative Assembly within ten days after the convening thereof in regular session. The Commission was also authorized to solicit the assistance of the staff of the Legislative Council and such assistance has been provided throughout the biennium.

Since its creation, the Commission has held three meetings. The first meeting was held on July 9, 1969, shortly after the creation of the Commission, and was devoted primarily to organization and a discussion of the scope of the Commission's responsibilities.

The Forty-first Legislative Assembly, in addition to creating the Commission, had also proposed a constitutional amendment to section 45 of the Constitution to provide that legislative compensation should be determined by a lay commission. The Commission was aware of this latter fact throughout its deliberations and believed that any truly realistic solution to the problem of legislative compensation could not be reached until such time as the Constitution had been amended as proposed by the Legislature, or through a similar proposition by the Constitutional Convention. Therefore, the Commission's philosophy was to attempt to recommend adjustments in legislators' session and interim compensation to bring that compensation more in line with current costs, and to attempt, through the vehicle of compensation, to aid in the attraction and retention of competent and dedicated people for service in the legislature.

During the course of the biennium, the Commission received valuable comments and advice from several members of the Forty-first Legislative Assembly. The scope of the Commission's responsibilities was discussed with the legislators who attended Commission meetings, and it was indicated that the Legislative Assembly would probably welcome receipt of recommendations from the Commission in other areas of the legislative process aside from those recommendations strictly dealing with compensation. The legislators who attended meetings of the Commission thought that the legislature would value the recommendations of a lay commission regarding legislative improvements. Consequently, in addition to its specific recommendations regarding legislative compensation, the Commission is also making general observational recommendations regarding other areas of the legislative process.

The Commission believes that the prime responsibility of the Legislative Assembly is to respond to the needs of the people which it represents. The Commission also believes that if the legislature is not responsive to the needs of the people, more governmental power will flow to the Federal Government and away from local and State Government. One of the most effective means of ensuring that the legislature is responsive to the needs of those represented by it is to ensure that the membership of the legislature is made up of highly motivated and competent men and women.

The Commission believes that its primary responsibility is to make recommendations regarding a scale of compensation which will aid in assuring that competent and highly motivated men and women seek to serve in the legislature. However, the Commission recognizes that compensation is only one of many factors which motivate people to seek public office, and the compensation factor should be interwoven with improvements in areas such as physical facilities available, professional staff services available, and time available to the legislator to carry out his functions.

Although there are other factors which are beyond the control of the legislature, the Commission feels that improvements made in these four areas would do much to provide incentive for even greater numbers of qualified people to seek legislative office.

In order to carry out its responsibilities, the Commission studied legislative pay structures in the other States of the Union; expense and mileage allowances paid by the Federal Government, the several States, and several private businesses; and annual salaries paid other state administrative officials throughout the United States. The Commission noted that the latest available composite figures indicate that North Dakota's average expenditure per legislator is approximately $6,850 per year, and that North Dakota ranks 47th among the 50 States in average expenditure per legislator. In regard to the total amount expended on legislative compensation, the latest compilation figures indicate that North Dakota ranks 41st out of the 50 States in the total amount expended on legislative compensation. As of December 1968, North Dakota ranked 47th out of the 50 States in amount of realized compensation paid to an average legislator during a regular session.

The 1968 median annual compensation for a state legislator was $3,769. While the Commission realizes that there is no job completely comparable to that of a state legislator, it is interesting to note that members of the National Legislature receive an annual salary of $30,000. While the positions of state legislators and congressmen are certainly not completely comparable, there is some justification for a comparison. Good representation at the state level is as important as good representation on the national level. State Governments with their "police powers" can affect the life of an individual in more ways than does the National Government. However, due to the greater prestige of Congress and a sharper focus of public attention on the national level, this is seldom realized.

The current trend in legislative compensation is towards increasing it. In the 1950-51 biennium, realized legislative compensation ranged from a high of $10,000 in Illinois to a low of $200 in New Hampshire. In 1967-1968, California provided the highest compensation with approximately $42,000 per biennium, and New Hampshire remained low, retaining the $200 figure. On the whole, legislative compensation rose from a biennial average of $2,460 to $10,124, or an increase of 311.5 percent, during this period.

In order to be able to more thoroughly assess the feelings of North Dakota legislators regarding their present compensation and their opinions regarding what compensation should be in the future, the Commission directed the staff of the Legislative Council to prepare a questionnaire which would seek responses in the areas of legislative compensation, legislative physical facilities, temporary legislative employees, legislative professional staff personnel, and the length of legislative sessions.

This questionnaire was mailed in October of this year to the remaining 143 members of the Forty-first Legislative Assembly. Responses were received from 84 legislators, for a 59 percent response rate. A memorandum collating the results of the individual legislator's replies is available in the Commission's files located in the Legislative Council office.

SPECIFIC COMPENSATION RECOMMENDATIONS

On the basis of its interim study of numerous materials and the collation of the returns to the questionnaire, the Commission is making several specific recommendations regarding legislative compensation. The Commission has also directed the staff of the Legislative Council to draft a bill embodying most of these recommendations. This portion of the report will deal with the Commission's specific compensation recommendations in detail.

The first component of legislative compensation discussed by the Commission was the daily unvouchered expense allowance paid for each calendar day during any organizational, special, or regular session pursuant to section 54-03-20 of the Century Code. The Commission was unanimous in agreeing that the amount provided by this section, $35 per day, was not adequate to reimburse actual expenses incurred by a legislator who was forced to maintain two places of residence and move to Bismarck for the duration of the session. The Commission's beliefs were reinforced by the results of the questionnaire which indicated that 61.9 percent of the legislators answering the questionnaire felt that the session compensation was inadequate or grossly inadequate.

However, the Commission was also of the general belief that all of its recommendations regarding specific rates of compensation must be tempered by two considerations: First, the Commission realizes that it must move toward its goal of ideal compensation in gradual steps; and second, the Commission feels that it must always be aware of the practical aspect of gaining support for any recommendations made.

In light of these factors, the Commission recommends an increase in the daily unvouchered expense allowance of $5 per day, in order to provide a total daily unvouchered session allowance of $40, making the total daily compensation and reimbursement during the session the amount of $45, which figure includes the constitutional salary of $5 per day.

The next specific item on which the Commission is making a recommendation is the monthly expense allowance which is paid throughout the biennium. This allowance is currently set at $35 per month by section 54-03-20 of the Century Code. It is the Commission's belief that the $35 figure was unrealistically low, since that monthly allowance was designed to cover a legislator's postage, stenographic, telephone, and uncompensated travel expenses during the interim.

The Commission felt that a reasonable figure in terms of expenses incurred in time invested during the interim would be approximately $100 per month. However, it was also the consensus of the Commission that a suggested increase from $35 to $100 might not be favorably received at the next session.

The Commission members believe that they should not recommend any large or wholesale increases in either session or interim expense payments, because the Constitutional Convention will, in all probability, be studying the question of legislative compensation in the very near future, and the Commission hopes that the Convention will take action in its constitutional recommendations to bring legislative pay more in line with reality.

Therefore, the Commission recommends to the Forty-second Legislative Assembly that the $35 monthly expense allowance now provided by section 54-03-20 of the Century Code be increased by $15 to $50 per month.

The next recommendation of the Commission deals with the authorization of reimbursement for round trips to and from the Capitol during organizational and regular sessions. The Constitution and statute (section 54-03-20.1) now provide four round trips to and from the Capitol: one trip during the organizational session and three during the regular legislative session. It was the consensus of the Commission that every opportunity should be made available to members of the Legislative Assembly to communicate with their constituencies on a face-to-face basis. The Commission believes that if this line of communication fails, the constituents will take their problems to their representatives at the next highest level of government. Therefore, the Commission recommends to the Forty-second Legislative Assembly that the total number of round trips for which mileage reimbursement is authorized be increased from four to eight. NOTE: Commissioner Mahoney dissented on this recommendation of the Commission.

The next specific component of legislative compensation regarding which the Commission is making a recommendation is the nine cent per-mile reimbursement made for travel to and from interim meetings of Legislative Council committees. The Commission noted that the Constitution provides a mileage reimbursement of 10 cents per mile for round trips to and from the session and believes that it is inconsistent for session mileage reimbursement to be set at a different level than interim mileage reimbursement. The Commission also noted that interim mileage reimbursement is covered by a general statute (54-06-09) which applies to all state officials and employees. The Commission believes, based on its study of federal and corporate mileage reimbursements, that the present state mileage reimbursement is inadequate, and that a realistic figure probably lies in the 12 to 15 cent per-mile range. However, the Commission felt that it was beyond the scope of its responsibilities to make recommendations regarding amendment to a general state statute governing all officials and employees who travel on state business. Therefore, the Commission recommends to the Forty-second Legislative Assembly that it review the mileage reimbursement payments provided by section 54-06-09 in order to determine whether such sums are realistic in light of current automobile operational costs.

The daily "actual" expense allowance paid to legislators for interim committee work is the next component of legislative compensation concerning which the Commission is making a recommendation. This allowance is set by section 44-08-04 of the Century Code, which provides a maximum of $9 per day for lodging and a maximum of $6 per day for meals, for a daily total of $15. The collation of the returns to the legislative questionnaire indicated that 53.6 percent of the legislators answering believe the present statutory limit provided by section 44-08-04 is inadequate. The Commission is particularly concerned with the portion of that statute dealing with maximum reimbursement for lodging, since it believes that, at least in the larger cities in North Dakota, it is difficult to find a decent room for $9 per day. However, the Commission again believed that it was beyond the scope of its authorization to make recommendations regarding amendment of general statutes covering all state officials and employees. Therefore, the Commission recommends that a review be made by the legislature or another appropriate agency of the adequacy of the "actual" expense allowance provided by section 44-08-04, with emphasis being placed on the adequacy of that allowance in relation to legislative interim work on Legislative Council committees.

In regard to the daily payment to legislators for service on interim committees of the Legislative Council, which is presently set at $30 per day by section 54-35-10 of the Century Code, the Commission makes no recommendation for change. Fifty-six percent of the legislators answering the questionnaire considered that the rate of daily interim compensation provided a fair return for time invested and expenses incurred.

The final specific recommendations of the Commission deal with the provision of additional compensation for legislators serving in leadership positions, in order to give recognition to the increased responsibilities which must be assumed by a legislator serving in such a position, and in recognition of the additional time expended by them during periods following the legislative session. Section 54-03-10 of the Century Code, originally passed in 1893, provides historic precedent for increased compensation for legislative officers by allowing the Speaker and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate to receive $2 per session day in addition to their regular compensation.

The Commission believes that the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders of both Houses, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Chairmen of the substantive standing committees of each House should receive increased remuneration in recognition of their increased responsibilities. The Commission also feels that the same rationale should be used to increase the pay of the Legislative Council Chairman and interim committee Chairmen. On the other hand, the Commission believes that the title of President Pro Tempore is to a large degree an honorific, and it was the consensus of the Commission that the present provisions for additional pay for the President Pro Tempore should be deleted from the statutes.

Therefore, the Commission recommends to the Forty-second Legislative Assembly that the necessary statutes be amended to provide an increase in daily session compensation for the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders of each House of $5 per calendar day of the session, and an increase in the compensation of substantive standing committee chairmen of $3 per calendar day of the session. The Commission also recommends that the interim pay of the Legislative Council Chairman should be increased by $5 per day spent in attendance at Legislative Council or interim committee meetings and business, and the compensation of interim committee Chairmen should be increased by $3 per day for each day spent in attendance at their interim committee meetings and committee business.

GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS AND CONCLUSION

As was noted earlier in the report, the Commission felt that it would probably be proper to make general recommendations in other areas of the legislative field, because in any study of legislative compensation designed to arrive at compensation figures which will attract and retain competent people for service in the legislature, and allow a greater potential number of people to be able to serve, it is impossible not to consider other means of challenging and encouraging a citizen to serve. Further, the Commission believes that if a legislator's working conditions are deemed by him to be atrocious or if the possibility of accomplishing anything worthwhile is remote, then no amount of money will induce him to run for or continue to serve in the legislature. Therefore, the Commission wishes to make these further general recommendations for the consideration of the Forty-second Legislative Assembly.

The Commission believes that the 60 legislative-day biennial session does not provide enough working time to allow the Legislative Assembly to adequately consider all of the legislation and problems pending before it. The Commission is aware that any drastic increase in the length of the biennial session would cause that session to run beyond the opening of the agricultural productive season, and therefore, the Commission recommends that the Forty-second Legislative Assembly and the Constitutional Convention give consideration either to adopting a recessed biennial session plan or an annual session plan, wherein the length of each annual session would not interfere with the opening of the agricultural productive season. The Commission believes that any such plan which might be adopted should provide that substantive standing committees can continue to hold hearings on introduced bills during the interim period between sessions. The Commission feels that this would permit greater use of available professional staff personnel to serve each of the standing committees, more adequate hearing time for citizen participation, and greater opportunities for reviewing alternative courses of action.

In regard to legislative physical facilities, the Commission recommends that the Legislative Assembly consider whatever means may be necessary to provide additional legislative facilities, with special emphasis on provision of additional and more adequate committee hearing rooms, a legislative lounge, professional staff quarters, and provision for office space for standing committee Chairmen. With the exception of the House and Senate Chambers, the collation of the returns to the questionnaire indicated that almost every existing physical facility which the legislators were asked to rate was rated by the majority from "fair" to "poor".

The Commission recommends that the Forty-second Legislative Assembly also give consideration to increasing the number of professional staff personnel available to serve the legislature. The Commission feels that, in light of the responsibilities and operational workload of the present Legislative Council staff, an increase of at least two professional personnel could be considered, in order to allow more adequate attention to be given to current areas of responsibility.

Finally, the Commission wishes to recommend that the legislature, in any study wherein the question of the size of the Assembly is discussed, should not attempt to increase the membership of the body, and that long-term consideration should be given to the possibility of decreasing the size of the body while still retaining its representative character. The Commission believes that a well-planned decrease in the size of the Legislative Assembly which does not seriously detract from its representative nature would allow physical facilities and professional staff personnel to be used in a more efficient manner, and would also allow the establishment of a more realistic legislative compensation plan without greatly increasing the overall legislative appropriation.

In conclusion, the Commission wishes to state its intention to meet with the appropriate committee or committees of the Constitutional Convention, should the Convention so desire, in order to discuss the Commission's viewpoints regarding legislative compensation, personnel, and facilities with the Convention delegates. The Commission hopes that the Convention will see fit to make appropriate recommendations to ensure that legislative compensation is put on a realistic basis with a continuous review capability built-in to any constitutional compensation plan.

Rep. Streibel then moved that John Rouzie, Chairman of the Legislative Compensation Commission to the 42nd Legislative Assembly be given the privilege of addressing the assembly explaining the report, which motion prevailed.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

To: The 42nd Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota
 From: J. O. Wigen, Commissioner of Insurance

Subject: S.B. 383 of the 41st Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota

The 41st Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota enacted Senate Bill No. 383 into law. This new law was approved on March 29, 1969. The provisions of this law are as follows:

"Study by Insurance Commissioner. The Commissioner of Insurance is hereby directed to study during the 1969-71 biennium the problems of pro-rata liability provisions, otherwise known as coordination of benefits provisions, of group and individual health insurance policies and non-profit medical and hospital service plans. The Commissioner shall report his findings and recommendations to the 42nd Legislative Assembly."

Pursuant to this directive the Commissioner's office has made a study of the subject of overinsurance generally as it pertains to both the use of pro-rata provisions applicable to individual policies and Coordination of Benefit (COB) provisions applicable to group health insurance.

Recognizing fully the importance of both the directive and its subject matter, the Commissioner's office has proceeded in a manner it deemed best suited to produce a report and recommendations that are as responsive and complete as possible. Toward this objective, the broad areas of study have included (1) a review of existing applicable insurance laws of North Dakota, (2) a review of the Department's experience with matters pertaining to the filing and approval of health policy forms, (3) a review of policyholder complaints, their merits and dispositions, (4) the status of the related existing laws of other states, (5) a review of studies made by the insurance industry, and other non-regulatory groups, (6) a review of studies made by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC), and (7) recommendations of the NAIC for uniform laws, regulations and guidelines.

Findings of Fact

Within the scope of the study the following conclusions and findings of fact were ascertained.

1. Overinsurance exists when, through duplicate coverages covering the same loss, the insured is paid total benefits in an amount exceeding his total medical expenses.
2. The existence of overinsurance can often be determined only at the time of each individual claim.
3. Overinsurance is not in the best interests of the insurance buying public. It tends to increase utilization and the costs of health care services, thereby increasing health insurance premiums and deflating the value of the public's health care dollar.
4. Overinsurance violates the basic principles and purpose of insurance. To fulfill its social function as a means of risk sharing, insurance should make reimbursement for actual losses, and not provide benefits in the form of profits over and above the actual loss incurred.
5. The use of overinsurance provisions in individual health insurance policies is controlled by statute. These provisions are contained in paragraphs c through f of subsection 2 of Section 26-03A-03 of the North Dakota Century Code. Chapter 26-03A was enacted in 1953 and consists of the Uniform Individual Accident and Sickness Policy Provisions Law adopted by the NAIC in 1950. This uniform law has been enacted in all 50 states.
6. The uniform individual overinsurance statutes are obsolete and unworkable. Today, with the exception of a few policy forms, these policy provisions are not used.

7. The Commissioner's office has experienced no particular filing problems with regard to individual policies. The statutory over-insurance provisions are optional. If they are used, they must be in the wording prescribed by the statute, or in such other wording as may be approved by the Commissioner which is not less favorable to the insured. The use of these provisions, however, offers little or no real solution to the problems of over-insurance.
8. The NAIC adopted, in 1963, and recommended for legislative enactment in each state, uniform over-insurance provisions for individual policies. These uniform provisions are intended to replace obsolete existing statutes and are designed for use in all modern forms of health insurance. This model legislation has been enacted in two states (Delaware and Wyoming) and its provisions adopted by regulation in one state (New Hampshire).
9. There are no statutory provisions in North Dakota relating to the use of overinsurance provisions in group insurance policies. No other state has any statute prescribing the form or content of group overinsurance provisions.
10. Substantially all group insurance policies contain overinsurance provisions, referred to as Coordination of Benefit Provisions (COB), developed after several years of study by the American Life Convention, the Health Insurance Association of America and the Life Insurance Association of America.
11. The recommended group COB provisions (finding of fact No. 10), or modifications of them have been approved by the Insurance Commissioners of all 50 states since the early 1960's.
12. Because of the lack of total consistency among group COB provisions currently used, administrative incompatibilities sometimes exist which impede the proper coordination of the benefits among two or more group plans. This most frequently occurs due to the use of slightly modified group COB provisions, the use of "excess" provisions, and the practice of compartmentalizing benefits in some non-profit hospitals and medical service corporation contracts.
13. The NAIC at its December 1970 meeting adopted uniform Guidelines concerning the use of group COB provisions for life insurance companies as well as non-profit hospital and medical service corporations, and recommends the adoption of these Guidelines in each state. These uniform Guidelines provide for the use of consistent provisions as well as means to promote public understanding of how COB provisions operate.

Conclusions and Recommendations

Based upon the above findings of fact, it is the recommendation of the Commissioner's office that some remedial legislation is needed in North Dakota through which the problems of overinsurance can be resolved and the best interests of the insurance buying public protected in a uniform, just and equitable manner. In order to achieve these goals, with regard to individual policy overinsurance, it is recommended that the uniform model provisions of the Seventh Status Report on Overinsurance, adopted by the NAIC in 1963, be enacted in lieu of paragraphs c through f of subsection 2 of Section 26-03A-03 of the North Dakota Century Code. With regard to group policy overinsurance, it is recommended that legislation be enacted authorizing the Commissioner to adopt reasonable and proper regulations for the implementation of the uniform Group COB Guidelines adopted by the NAIC in December of 1970. Information for drafting the above recommended legislation is in the hands of the Legislative Council.

House Bill No. 1111. A Bill for an Act to permit a physician to examine and treat a minor for psychiatric problems, venereal disease or pregnancy without parental consent.

Which was read.

Rep. DeKrey requested that the following remarks be printed in the House Journal on House Bill No. 1111.

Mr. DeKrey:

"Mr. Speaker and Fellow Legislators, mine may be a far-out approach to Bill No. 1111. It is an emotional approach, so turn off your hearing aids.

"Let me say first of all as my defense, I've spent hour upon hour in the study of a religion founded on love. Okay? Christianity itself. In it do I not find the family as the first concern? The existence of it in fact makes Christianity possible. The day of the patriarch is ended; still, it has been said that we live in three generations — our own, our parents and our children. Through this and perhaps one more generation, the family ties continue. Quite a formidable array.

"Further, I believe that the founding fathers of our nation never in their deliberations lost sight of the family unit, knowing that on this solid foundation a nation could be built.

"Later in my life — I've been around a long time — I read all I could lay my hands on concerning another ideology in which the state is supreme and can do no wrong. This form of government does work; however, it produces few men or women of caliber or note.

"In House Bill No. 1111, this confrontation shouts so loud that the balance of the bill to me is of little importance. This bill permits the state to invade the sacred premises of the home.

"Generation gap? I say to you this statement is baloney. I am the product of the generation gap. I was born of a forty-year-old mother. Could she and I communicate? She was my mother.

"Again that emotional approach. How could I talk to her on equal terms? It is impossible? Still necessary in this relationship and possible.

"Then as a parent the position was reversed, and the ties to the children of the second generation are those of fierce compassion. Without the consent or knowledge of any of this group — the parents especially, as this is their child — we will give the state the right to invade the sacred hearth, so to speak. Again I say to you, parents were made before doctors. I find the present day physician as a man to talk to about as chummy as a turtle with his head drawn in. Now then, back to religion, when I was young, head shrinkers were so few and far between, we did not even know about them. We had our clergy. If I am not mistaken, they are still around. We still are not too good or too smart not to seek counsel when the world is too much for us, Catholic and Protestant alike. Here is our relationship to our Church, our fellowmen and our God.

"If our children find it hard to communicate with us, and they do when guilt is involved, and because of this, we with them. By following the precepts of our religion, I am sure love, emotional again, within the family is there in the most trying situation, and it will prevail without the state taking over, and the end result will not be too tragic. The bill is based on the breach of one or more of the mighty 'Ten', and even Christ himself did not remove justice from the breach of these.

"So I very much oppose this bill in its present form.

"Thank you."

Which was read.

Rep. Hoffner requested that his remarks be printed in the Journal on House Bill No. 1144.

Rep. Hoffner:

"Mr. Speaker: I would like to commend the Compensation Commission and Mr. Rouzie. This is a commission made up of citizens, not legislators.

"We have heard so much about improving state Government.

"I am sure all of you are interested in improving the legislature.

"In order to improve and strengthen the states so they can play a greater role in the Federal system, we need to strengthen the legislature.

"In order to have a strong legislature it has to be a representative legislature, a legislature that makes it possible for all segments of our population 'regardless of economic status' to serve.

"Let's not think of how this bill will affect you here today, rather how will it affect future legislatures.

"Many of the proposals that have been approved by the Legislature have been rejected by the people in referendums by big margins. I feel, part of the reason for rejecting these proposals is because people have felt they were not truly represented in the legislature.

"I'm sure all of you here realize the massive and important job we have.

"The people of North Dakota do not want a legislature made up of only those that can afford to serve and those that are willing to make the sacrifice.

"For these reasons I feel that this bill No. 1144 we have before us is a move to strengthen our legislature."

SECOND READING OF HOUSE BILLS

House Bill No. 1038. A Bill for an Act to repeal sections 48-05-02 and 48-05-04 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the use of native fuel by public institutions.

Which was read.

Rep. Rundle requested that his remarks on House Bill No. 1038 be printed in the Journal:

"Mr. Speaker, Members of the North Dakota House of Representatives, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"If this bill passes, we are serving notice on the people of the world that our lignite coal is no good. It is just as simple as that. If our two largest colleges can't burn lignite, why should we expect others to?"

"This and other legislatures have spent thousands of dollars in trying to promote industry to come into the state and here we have a long established, operating industry and we are doing our best to kill it.

"Lignite coal can be burned more cheaply than natural gas. Lignite coal costs 31¢ per million BTU's. Natural gas costs 65¢ and oil is 77¢.

"The engineers have testified that it costs more to install equipment to burn lignite, but I submit that much of the equipment is already there and in working order. In fact, some of it is less than six years old. When natural gas is burned, a standby fuel is necessary and in this case it would be oil, which costs even more than gas to burn. Furthermore, special equipment is required to burn oil such as huge storage tanks heated with coils, different burners and so on. The lignite industry furnishes 1,000 carloads per year. It takes about eight miners to mine the coal, 11 people to work in plants, and the work of several railroad employees to haul the coal. If this bill passes, there will be more than 30 North Dakotans out of work. Even worse, the gas to be burned would come from Canada. It is estimated that this gas would cost from between $275,000 and $323,400 per year. The price of this gas was recently raised 10%. It could happen again any time and North Dakota will have no control over it.

"To sum it up, we will be saying that lignite coal is no good. We will put at least 30 North Dakotans out of work. We will be sending up to $323,400 of our taxpayers money to Canada. I don't think we can afford to do this and I sincerely urge you to vote NO on this bill.

"Thank you."

Rep. Rolfsrud asked to be excused from voting on House Bill No. 1038 because of a personal interest.

Rep. Weber moved that Rep. Rolfsrud be allowed to vote, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Murphy asked to be excused from voting on House Bill No. 1038 because of a personal interest.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Rep. Jenkins asked that his remarks concerning his vote on Senate Bill No. 2071 be recorded in the Journal.

Rep. Jenkins: "I would like to explain my vote. Four years ago we had a bill in here to change our pollution laws in the State of North Dakota, and we had a committee report. With all due respect to my colleague, Mr. Hentges, I don't happen to agree with his philosophy on Mr. Nader, and I voted NO on this bill four years ago.

"We passed a pollution control act. At that time I was one of the few that voted against that bill, and the reason I voted against that bill is the same reason as now. At that time it was cautioned it would have an impact on our livestock industry in the State of North Dakota, and those of you who have taken the time to look at the new regulations promulgated by the Health Department regarding the livestock industry, I think should be concerned. Those regulations that were to help the farmer that were authorized to be set up are so stringent they could put every livestock feeder and cow on the side of a hill out of business.

"We should be careful about things that we vote on as far as federal regulations on any ecological and pollution controls are concerned."

SECOND READING OF A HOUSE BILL

House Bill No. 1174. A Bill for an Act to amend and reenact section 57-50-03 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to claim for refund of motor fuel tax.

RECOGNITION

Speaker Bier introduced to the House the Hon. J. E. Snedker, Speaker of the Saskatchewan Legislative Assembly.

Rep. Streibel moved that the chair select a committee to escort the Hon. Snedker to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker Bier appointed Reps. Streibel and Hoffner to escort Mr. Snedker to the rostrum.

Rep. Streibel moved that the remarks of the Hon. J. E. Snedker be printed in the House Journal, which motion prevailed.

Hon. Speaker Snedker:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives:

"When I arrived here last night and read one of your daily papers and looked at your calendar and estimated the workload of this Legislature, I wondered if I should even take one minute of your time because it was obvious that time was at a premium in this Assembly. However, after being taken through your Legislature this morning by one of the most wonderful men I could have in the person of your Speaker, and seeing the dispatch with which your Legislature deals with business, you will make the grade by the deadline. So with the promise to take just a few minutes, I wish to extend the very sincere greetings from the Legislature and all the people of Saskatchewan to the House of Representatives and all the people of the State of North Dakota — our neighboring state with whom we have so much in common.

"When I received the invitation to interview your Legislature, I was reminded of a farm boy from Saskatchewan who kept company with a girl for ten years without the proposal of matrimony. The reason for delaying the proposal so long was that he was a sound and serious fellow who had certain things in mind he should achieve before he proposed. These objectives were: he should have clear title to a section of land, a line of machinery and car paid for, cattle debt free and $1,000 in the bank. This was quite an objective to set. However, in the tenth year of striving to achieve these objectives, he sold some cattle and suddenly he had the $1,000, the last of the objectives to achieve. He raced to the phone, called his girl, and said, 'I have clear title to a section of land, a good herd of cattle, machinery and car paid for and $1,000 in the bank. Will you marry me?' She said, 'You're darned right I will. Who's speaking?'"

"When invited to visit your Legislature, I accepted with alacrity, and to have what I thought was a good reason to get a first-hand look at the Session at work. I am pleased to see so many students in the gallery. We have an ever-increasing student load in our gallery. In 1966, I mingled very often with the students and answered many of their questions, and as a result, I decided to take another step and give a lecture program on parliamentary procedure. I conducted these lectures — fifteen minutes for lecture and fifteen minutes for questions and answers. Naturally, I find these young people very intelligent, sincere, precocious, and serious, and you are going to have to be smart on your feet to field the questions they throw at you. Very often I was asked to describe to these students the Congressional System practiced in the United States. I have no problem explaining the Parliamentary System, but when I got to the point of orally explaining the Congressional System, I found myself at a loss. While I read a good many books on this subject, I found my answers as dead and dry as the books from which I had gotten the answers. I wanted to not only give the rule but the reason for the rule, and I wanted the answer to sparkle with the warmth of human feeling which is necessary if we are to describe the Congressional System. I wanted to be able to give them a real factual explanation of both systems that are in use in our two great countries. For this reason I was extremely happy to accept the invitation of your Speaker to come to the Legislature of your state.

"I cannot speak too highly for the time and trouble that have gone into my visit to show me the manner in which you practice this system. I appreciate the manner in which my understanding has been increased, so I can give better lectures and do a better job so those young people can take their proper places in our free self-governing country. Thank you very much for your courtesy and for the wonderful welcome you have given me in the State of North Dakota."

Rep. Streibel moved that the absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Streibel moved that the House stand adjourned, which motion prevailed.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Senate Chamber

Bismarck, January 25, 1971

Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to return:

Senate Bill No. 2187

Which the House has requested.

LEO LEIDHOLM, Secretary

MOTION

Rep. Wagner moved that the House reconsider the action by which Senate Bill No. 2187 was lost.

Rep. Rundle requested that Rep. Kingsbury's remarks in regard to this motion be included in the Journal.

Rep. Kingsbury:

"Mr. Speaker, I question that Senate Bill No. 2187 is properly before the House at this time.

"Rule No. 9 of the Joint Rules, in the last sentence its states 'In case action has been had, then it shall require a two-thirds vote of the House asked to return a bill or resolution called for.' The Senate had already acted on Senate Bill No. 2187, and they should not have returned it when they did not have the two-thirds majority called for."

The question then was on the motion of Rep. Wagner to reconsider the action by which Senate Bill No. 2187 was lost, which motion failed on a division vote.

Replacement value at 90% is 125 million — we carry 107 million, thus the 18 million we carry without insurance is an amount we could owe in time. Our estimated cost to carry this replacement is $178,000.00 per biennium.

"When we find various buildings being insured at about replacement, and others at 50%, we then, as trustees of this building, should in case of fire be willing and ready to appropriate the difference — as we knowingly have made this decision."

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Appropriations to whom was referred House Bill No. 1003 has had the same under consideration and recommends that the same be amended as follows:

On page 1, line 4, after the word "center" insert the words ", and declaring an emergency."

On page 1, line 13, delete the sum $2,555,108.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $2,675,358.00.

On page 1, line 19, delete the sum $1,838,614.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $1,837,614.00.

On page 1, line 24, delete the sum $161,300.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $232,900.00.

On page 1, after line 24, insert the following lines: "Equipment $49,650.00" and "(The above line item of this Act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval)"

On page 2, line 1, delete the numerals $2,545,108.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $2,665,358.00.

On page 2, line 9, after the word "total" insert the words "highway fund transfer and appropriation" and delete the sum $2,645,108.00 and in lieu thereof insert the sum $2,675,358.00.

"SECTION 3. EMERGENCY.) This Act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval on such items or subdivisions as are designated to be made available immediately on passage and approval."

And renumber the pages and lines accordingly.

And when so amended recommends the same do pass.

Statement of the Purpose of the Amendment: The equipment line of $161,300.00 is increased to $232,900.00 to allow the Highway Patrol to purchase the 80 new patrol cars authorized in its budget. The increase is necessary because of an estimated increase in the cost per car since the time the budget was prepared because substantial discounts to States and Political subdivisions have been discontinued. Also included in this increase in the equipment line is an amount to provide for air conditioning in each car. The emergency measure of $50,000.00 is to cover the additional cost of the 42 cars to be purchased in February 1971 which cost shall also include air conditioning. The estimated cost of air conditioning per unit, taking into consideration trade-in value, is estimated at $125.00 per unit. However, because the patrol cars constitute a place of work, the legislative assembly believes air conditioning is justified. This amendment is not to be construed as agreeing to the need for air conditioning in all other state owned vehicles.

House Bill No. 1308. A Bill for an Act to repeal section 35-05-01 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to security interests in crops.

Which was read.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. W. Erickson requested that his remarks in regard to House Bill No. 1308 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. W. Erickson: "Mr. Speaker: House Bill No. 1308 is a very simple bill. It is only two lines on the sheet. But, it repeals the Crop Mortgage Law. I do not know just when the law was put on the statute books of our state, but I believe in the early thirties. I also believe it was put there for a good purpose. The Legislators at that time saw what was happening to the farmer. He was struggling to make a living for his family, and was running into one adverse year after another. He would mortgage his crop to a lending agency. Then, when the fall came, the lending agency promptly took his crop and the farmer was worse off than before. I think we as farmers are getting in about the same circumstances as then. The lending agencies have money to lend, and at a very high rate of interest.

"We are receiving a lower price for our grain every year, our expenses are getting higher, the price of machinery and repairs are increasing by leaps and bounds.

"I believe that to allow crop mortgages now would only tend to hasten the day when our small farmers must leave the land. We had no testimony from farmers for this bill. Those testifying were lending agencies and banks.

"At the present time, crop mortgages are permitted only if held by the United States, the State of North Dakota or a county, or to secure the purchase price, rental costs, or improvement cost of the land.

"I would ask for a no vote on this bill."

PRESENTATION OF COMMUNICATIONS STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA CERTIFICATE

I, C. A. Blankenship, Clerk of the House of Delegates of the West Virginia Legislature, hereby certify that the following and hereto attached instrument of writing is a true and perfect copy of House Concurrent Resolution No. 9, relating to revenue sharing, which was adopted by the West Virginia Legislature on January 20, 1971.

Given under my hand at the City of Charleston, this Twenty-first day of January 1971.

C. H. BLANKENSHIP

Clerk of the House of Delegates

Mr. Speaker (Mr. Boiarsky) and Mr. Seibert offered the following resolution, which was read by its title and referred to the Committee on Finance:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 9. — "Memorializing the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the sole purpose of amending the United States Constitution to provide for intergovernmental sharing of federal income tax revenues."

WHEREAS, A resolution of our Nation's myriad and diverse problems is contingent upon a viable partnership between the Federal Government and strengthened state governments; and

WHEREAS, The Federal Government, by its extensive reliance on the graduated income tax as a revenue source, has virtually preempted the use of this course from state and local governments, thereby creating a disabling fiscal imbalance between the Federal Government and state and local governments; and

WHEREAS, Increasing demands upon state and local governments for essential public services have compelled the states to rely heavily on highly regressive and inelastic consumer taxes and property taxes; and

WHEREAS, Federal revenues based predominantly on income taxes increase significantly faster than economic growth, while state and local revenues based heavily on sales and property taxes do not keep pace with economic growth; and

WHEREAS, The fiscal crisis of state and local governments is the overriding problem of intergovernment relations and of continuing a viable federal system, and the only solution to this problem is a meaningful sharing of federal income tax resources; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States, despite the immediate and imperative need therefor, has failed to enact acceptable revenue sharing legislation; and

WHEREAS, In the event of such Congressional inaction, Article V of the Constitution of the United States grants to the states the right to initiate change by applications from the legislatures of two thirds of the several states to Congress, calling for a constitutional convention; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States is required by the Constitution to call such a convention upon receipt of applications from the legislatures of two thirds of the several states; therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF WEST VIRGINIA:

That pursuant to Article V of the Constitution of the United States, the Legislature of the State of West Virginia does hereby make application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the sole purpose of proposing to the several states a constitutional amendment which shall provide that a portion of the taxes on income levied by Congress pursuant to the sixteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States shall be made available each year to state governments and political subdivisions thereof, by means of direct allocation, tax credits, or both, without limiting directly or indirectly the use of such moneys for any purpose not inconsistent with any other provision of the Constitution of the United States; and, be it

FURTHER RESOLVED, That this application shall constitute a continuing application until the legislatures of two thirds of the states shall have made like applications and such convention shall have been called by the Congress of the United States unless previously rescinded by this Legislature; and be it

FURTHER RESOLVED, That certified copies of this resolution be presented forthwith to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to the legislature of each of the several states attesting the adoption of this resolution by the Legislature of the State of West Virginia.

Rep. Patrick requested that his remarks in regard to House Bill No. 1387 be printed in the Journal.

"Mr. Speaker: House Bill No. 1387 was a bill to reinstate the State Hail Insurance Department. I feel that by reinstating this department, it would have been a great help to the farmers who are paying high premiums to protect their investments. In relation to the price the farmer receives for his commodities, it is getting so an average farmer cannot afford hail insurance to protect his investment, and I think the department, if reinstated, would have kept the premiums in line.

"In 1967, the State Hail Department was terminated, and it was said the remaining competition would keep the premiums within reason. That was proven untrue.

"Re-establishment of a hail insurance department to give farmers a fair and equitable rate of insurance should be given serious consideration.

"It is not a matter of whether a hail department could be successful or the technical details of the bill itself.

"The one big obstacle is the sympathy or non-sympathy of the Legislature to re-establish a necessary department.

"Too long has the conservative unconcerned attitude been given to agricultural producers."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT.) Subsection 4 of section 61-16-01 of the 1969 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

4. The term "project", as used in this chapter, shall mean, and include, any undertaking for water conservation, flood control, water supply, watershed improvement and drainage of surface waters, or collection, processing, and treatment of sewage, or any combination thereof, including incidental features of any such undertaking.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-12 of the 1969 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

61-16-12. DISTRICT BUDGET — TAX LEVY — FINANCING BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT.) When a water management district has been created and the board of commissioners thereof has been organized, the board shall estimate the expenses of the district from the date of its establishment until the end of the ensuing fiscal year and before July first in each year thereafter shall estimate district expenses for the fiscal year ensuing. Estimates of district expenses may include costs of rights-of-way, easements, or other interest in property deemed necessary for the construction, operation, and maintenance of any ((water conservation or flood control)) projects therein. Upon completion and adoption of a budget covering necessary expenses, the board of commissioners shall send a copy of such budget or apportionment thereof to the county auditor of each county in the district. If a district is situated in more than one county, the estimates shall be apportioned to counties affected. Such county auditor shall transmit the same to the board of county commissioners of his county. The board of county commissioners of each county in which the district is situated shall either disapprove the entire budget, amend and approve the budget as amended, or approve the budget as submitted and, if approved as amended or as submitted, by resolution levy, authorize, and direct their county auditor to extend and spread upon the tax roll of his county a tax of not to exceed three mills on each dollar of taxable valuation in the district or part of district situated in the county in the same manner, and with the same effect, as general property taxes are extended and spread. Funds produced each year by such tax levy shall be available until expended, and if such tax levy in any year will not produce sufficient revenue to cover district expenses, a fund sufficient to pay the same may be accumulated. The acquisition of rights-of-way, easements, and the construction, operation, and maintenance of a project in a district may, in the discretion of the board of commissioners, be financed in whole or in part by special assessments against property benefited by such project, or ((the board may provide for the payment of such expenses)) from revenues realized ((in part)) from tax collections ((and in part from such special assessments)), or from net revenues to be derived from service charges to be imposed and collected for the services of the project, or any combination of such sources.

If the project is one involving the maintenance of a drain, and it is desired to finance such project in whole or in part by means of special assessments, the levy in any year for such maintenance shall not exceed fifty cents per acre on any agricultural lands benefited by the drain. Agricultural lands which carried the highest assessment when the drain was originally established, or received the most benefits under a reassessment of benefits, may be assessed the maximum amount of fifty cents per acre. The assessment of other agricultural lands in the district shall be based upon the proportion that the assessment of benefits at the time of construction or at the time of any reassessment of benefits bears to the assessment of the benefits of the agricultural land assessed the full fifty cents per acre. Nonagricultural property shall be assessed such sum in any one year as the ratio of the benefits under the original assessments or any reassessment bears to the assessment of agricultural lands bearing the highest assessment. In case the maximum levy of fifty cents per acre for any year will not produce an amount sufficient to cover the cost of cleaning out and repairing such drain, the board of commissioners may accumulate a fund in an amount not exceeding the sum produced by such maximum permissible levy for two years. In the event the water conservation and flood control district is dissolved, all unexpended assessments collected for the maintenance of the drain shall be returned to the owners of the assessed property by the board of commissioners on a pro rata basis in proportion with the amount originally assessed.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-21 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

61-16-21. FINANCING PROJECT THROUGH SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS OR PARTLY THROUGH GENERAL TAXES AND PARTLY THROUGH SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS — APPORTIONMENT OF BENEFITS.) The board of commissioners may acquire needed interests in property and provide for the cost of construction, alteration, repair, operation, and maintenance of a (((water conservation or flood control))) project through issuance of (((special assessment))) improvement warrants or with funds raised by special assessments or a general tax or by a combination of a general property tax and special assessments. Whenever a board of commissioners shall decide to acquire property or interests in property in order to construct, operate, alter, repair, or maintain (((such))) a project with funds raised in whole or in part through special assessments, such assessments shall be apportioned to and spread upon lands or premises benefited by the project in proportion to and in accordance with benefits accruing thereto. The board shall assess the proportion of the cost of the project, or the part of the cost to be financed with funds raised through levy and collection of special assessment taxes which any lot, piece, or parcel of land shall bear in proportion to the benefits accruing thereto and any county, city, (((village))) or township which is benefited thereby.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-22 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

61-16-22. FINANCING OF SPECIAL IMPROVEMENTS — PROCEDURE.) When it is proposed to finance in whole or in part the construction of a (((water conservation or flood control))) project by issuance of (((special assessment))) warrants or with funds raised through the collection of special assessment taxes levied against lands and premises benefited by construction and maintenance of such project, and after such project is approved by the commission as provided herein and by the board of county commissioners of each of the counties wherein the district lies, the board, by resolution, shall declare that it is necessary to construct and maintain such project therein. Such resolution shall state briefly the nature and purpose of the proposed project, and shall state the time and place within said district where the board will meet to consider any protests to the proposed project, and, under the conditions specified in section 61-16-23, shall include provision for protesting the levy of the general tax provided in section 61-16-35 to be made by the board of county commissioners. Such resolution shall be given by publication thereof once each week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the district. The hearing shall be held not less than twenty days after the first publication of such resolution. If within twenty days after the first publication of such resolution, the owners of property liable to be specially assessed for the proposed improvement shall file written protest with the secretary of the board, protesting against the improvement, the board at the time set for such hearing shall determine the sufficiency thereof. If the board finds the protests to contain the names of the owners of a majority by taxable value of the land subject to assessment for construction of the proposed project, then the protests shall be a bar against proceeding further with such improvement. If the protests are found to be insufficient or invalid, the board may proceed to determine damages, if any, which will be sustained by owners of affected property and the board may proceed to contract or provide for the construction or maintenance of the project in substantially the manner and according to the forms and procedure provided in title 40 of this Code, and acts amendatory thereof, and supplemental thereto, for the construction of sewers within municipalities. When any district has entered into an agreement pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, under the terms of which the contract for such work is to be let by the United States government or by the state of North Dakota, or by both jointly, the board, after hearing protests and determining to proceed with the improvement, may dispense with the balance of the requirements of this chapter relating to plans for, bids upon, contracts for, construction of, and any other steps leading up to the construction of an improvement by the special assessment method, and the board may proceed to cause assessments to be made as in other cases provided.

SECTION 6. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-23 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

61-16-23. RESOLUTION OF BOARD TO INCLUDE PROVISION FOR PROTESTING AND REFUSING AUTHORITY TO MAKE GENERAL TAX LEVY IN CERTAIN CASES — ELECTION TO BE HELD.) In any case in which that part of the cost of a ((water conservation or flood control))) project allocated to a county shall exceed fifty thousand dollars, the resolution of the board of commissioners provided for in section 61-16-22 shall state that any deficiency or probable deficiency in the special ((assessment)) fund for the payment of project warrants of the district shall be forestalled and the ability of the fund to pay principal and interest punctually shall be restored by a general tax levy upon the taxable property in the counties wherein the district lies, as provided in section 61-16-35 unless ten percent of the electors voting for governor in the last general election in that county, by written protest filed with the board of commissioners within twenty days after the first publication of such resolution, object to the payment of any deficiency or probable deficiency in such special assessment fund by such general tax levy.

If such written protests are found by the board of commissioners to carry a sufficient number of signatures, the board by resolution shall thereupon call a special election in the county or counties from which such protests were received for the purpose of having the electors of the county vote upon the question of whether such general tax levy shall be permitted. The date of such election shall be not less than twenty days from the date of the resolution calling for the election. The board shall cause notice of such election to be published once each week for at least two weeks prior to the date thereof in the official newspaper of the county. Such notice shall specify the date, polling hours, and the polling places of such election which shall be the same as for general elections and shall contain a copy of the resolution calling the special election and a statement of the question to be voted upon as it shall appear upon the ballot. The board shall appoint an inspector, two judges, and two clerks of election for each polling place.

The ballot for such election shall be separate from other ballots used on the same day for other elections, and shall be printed, and shall state the question in substantially the following form:

Shall the board of county commissioners be permitted to levy a general tax on all taxable property in the county to pay any deficiency or probable deficiency that might occur in the project warrant fund of _____ District, (here insert the name of the water ((conservation or flood control))) management district) which fund was established by resolution of the commissioners of said district on _____, (here insert date of such resolution.)

YES
NO

Spoiled or blank ballots cast at such election shall not be counted for or against the question voted upon.

If a majority of the votes cast at such election are "Yes" votes, authority to make such a general tax levy shall be deemed approved.

If a majority of the votes cast at such election are "No" votes, authority to make such a general tax levy shall be denied.

The election officials shall be compensated in the manner provided by law for general elections, and the costs of such election shall be borne by the district concerned.

SECTION 7. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-28 of the 1969 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

61-16-28. CERTIFICATION OF ASSESSMENTS TO COUNTY AUDITOR.) When a district board of commissioners has by resolution levied, or caused to be levied, special assessments to cover the cost of constructing a ((water conservation or flood control))) project, the board shall determine the rate of interest unpaid special assessments shall bear, which rate shall not exceed seven percent per annum and shall not be less than the warrant rate. Interest on unpaid special assessments shall commence on the date the assessments are finally confirmed by the board. Special assessments may be certified and made payable in equal annual installments, the last of which shall be due and payable not more than thirty years after date of the warrants to be paid. The secretary of the district shall certify to the county auditor of the county in which the district is situated, or if the district embraces lands situated in more than one county, to the county auditor of each county in which district lands subject to such special assessments are situated, the total amount levied against such lands in his county and the proportion or percentage of such amount assessed against each piece, parcel, lot, or tract of land. The secretary of the district shall also file with the county auditor of each county in which district lands lie a statement showing the cost of the project, the part thereof, if any, which will be paid out of general taxes and the part to be financed by special assessments. Funds needed to pay the cost of maintaining a ((water conservation or flood control))) project may be raised in the same manner as funds were raised to meet construction costs. If the project was financed in whole or in part through the use of special assessments, the board of commissioners shall prorate the costs of maintaining projects in the same proportion as were the original costs of construction or, in the event a reassessment of benefits has been adopted, the costs shall be prorated in accordance with the reassessment of benefits as authorized by section 61-16-26.1.

SECTION 8. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-32 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

Any water conservation and flood control district having outstanding special assessment warrants, payable in whole or in part out of collections from special assessments, which are past due or which are redeemable, either at the option of the district or with the consent of the warrant holders, may issue refunding special assessment warrants or bonds if there is not sufficient money in the project fund against which such warrants are drawn to pay the same. The issuance of refunding warrants or bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the board of commissioners. Such resolution shall describe the warrants to be refunded and the amount and maturity thereof. Such refunding warrants may be issued for any of the following purposes:

1. To extend the maturities of warrants payable in whole or in part by special assessments.
2. To reduce the interest on such warrants.
3. To equalize the general property tax which the ((district)) county or counties may be, or may become obligated to levy in order to cover deficiencies in the fund against which warrants were issued.

Refunding warrants or bonds shall bear such date, be in such denominations, and shall mature serially within such time, not exceeding ((twenty)) thirty years from date of issue, as the board of commissioners shall determine. The average rate of interest on such warrants shall not exceed the average rate of interest on refunded warrants.

The treasurer of the district shall pay special assessment warrants, and the interest coupons attached thereto, as they mature and are presented for payment out of the fund against which they are drawn and shall cancel the warrants when paid.

Any deficiency in any fund created for the payment of district warrants payable in whole or in part out of collections of special assessment taxes shall be the obligation of the district.

SECTION 11. AMENDMENT.) Section 61-16-35 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

61-16-35. FINANCIAL REPORTS — LIABILITY FOR DEFICIENCIES.) On the first Monday of each month the district treasurer shall report to the board of commissioners in writing the amount of money in the treasury, the receipts, if any, in the preceding month and the amount and items of expenditure during that month. Such report shall be verified and filed with the secretary of the district. A verified copy of such report shall also be filed in the office of the county auditor of each county in which the district lies and shall be open to public inspection.

During the month of June of each year the board of commissioners shall prepare a complete statement of the condition of the finances of each district and shall cause the same to be filed with the county auditor of each county in which the district lies on or before July first next following. Such statement shall show separately and in detail the condition and resources of each and every assessment fund for the payment of project warrants of the district, including the amount of any anticipated deficit and the apportionment thereof. At its July meeting next following the filing of such statement of condition of any water conservation and flood control district, the county board shall examine such statement and make inquiry regarding same to determine whether or not the district has defaulted or may soon default on payment of its financial obligations as the same become due.

Whenever all special assessments, taxes, or other receipts, if any, appropriated and theretofore collected for a project are insufficient to pay the special assessment warrants issued against such project, with interest, the board of county commissioners of each of the counties wherein the district lies ((, upon the maturity of the last special assessment warrant,)) shall advance to the district project warrant fund an amount sufficient to pay the deficiency attributable to benefited property in each such county. If it appears to the county board at any time ((prior to the maturity of the last special assessment project warrant)) that a deficiency exists or is likely to occur within one year in such project warrant fund for the payment of principal or interest due or to become due on such warrants, the board of county commissioners of each of the counties wherein the district lies in order to forestall imminent deficiency in such fund or to promptly restore the ability of such fund to pay principal and interest punctually as the same become due shall advance to such project fund the amount necessary to cover the (((deficiency or))) anticipated deficiency attributable to benefited property in such county. In order to make such advances, the board of county commissioners of each of the counties shall levy a general tax upon the taxable property in the county, and may issue certificates of indebtedness against levies so made, or shall pay such advances from its general fund. Advances made by the county or counties shall be obligations of the district to be met out of any surplus in the district project warrant fund, and future district budgets and tax levies for the district after provision has been made for necessary current expenses. No tax limitation provided by any statute of this state shall apply to tax levies made by any county for the purpose of making any advances in accordance with the provisions of this section provided that a board of county commissioners shall not levy the general tax herein provided if the electors in any county wherein the district lies have refused, pursuant to the election provided for in section 61-16-23, to permit such levy to be made."

MOTION

Rep. Streibel moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Hon. Milton R. Young to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker Bier appointed Reps. Sandness and Dick.

Senator Young addressed the Assembly.

Senator Young:

"MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE: It is a great pleasure to be here with you again. I really began my political career as a member of this body in the session in 1933.

"I know there are many national issues and problems such as the war in Vietnam and new Federal programs of all kinds which you are greatly concerned about.

"One that has attracted more than usual interest is abolishing the seniority system. This is one I would like to discuss with you for a few minutes.

"There are a few people who seem to be quite concerned about my having too much seniority.

"Press stories advocating that no one 70 years or older be chairman of a committee of Congress haven't gone unnoted. While I am not up for election until 1974, I naturally wouldn't like to be legislated out of business before then.

"As you undoubtedly noted, there are those in Congress, and particularly in the United States Senate, who have some ideas about abolishing the seniority system. They have already had considerable success.

"This movement is being led in the Senate by an unusual combination. It includes a couple of generals who don't believe their expertise in military affairs has been properly recognized. There also are several liberals who believe they should be elevated to topmost positions almost immediately.

"The foremost Republican leader in this movement is Charles McMathias of Maryland, who claims to be a farmer. He is a leading spokesman for a farm organization that wants to abolish all price support programs. I have some reservations about him as a farmer after seeing a picture on the front page of the WASHINGTON POST of his getting kicked by a champion cow as he was trying to milk her from the wrong side.

"This strange alliance of Senators was successful in getting a rule adopted by the Republican caucus prohibiting any Senator from holding a ranking position on more than one committee.

"A similar proposal was defeated in the Democrat caucus.

"Let me give you an example of how this new seniority rule works on a committee or two. All four of the Republicans on the Rules Committee held ranking positions on other committees, so none could serve as ranking on this committee.

"To resolve this problem one of the ranking Republicans had to voluntarily get off the committee. This was Senator Carl Curtis of Nebraska.

"His leaving the committee permitted the appointment of a new member who didn't occupy a ranking position on another committee — Senator Winston Prouty of Vermont. This made it possible for him to be appointed to the ranking Republican position on the Rules Committee. He is a very fine and able Senator, but has had no experience whatever on this committee where experience is very helpful.

"I got kicked by the same horse.

"Senator George Aiken of Vermont was ranking on both Foreign Relations and Agriculture. Since he is now only eligible to serve as ranking on one committee, he took Foreign Relations and dropped his ranking position on agriculture.

"Being second on Agriculture, his choice put me in first place on both Agriculture and Appropriations. My choice then was whether to be ranking Republican on Agriculture or Appropriations. With great reluctance I took the ranking position on Appropriations. The Appropriations Committee is commonly referred to as the most powerful committee of the Senate, and I felt I should remain as ranking Republican on that all-important committee.

"This left Senator Jack Miller of Iowa, formerly the third ranking Republican on Agriculture, now in the position of being first ranking. The lineup on the Agriculture Committee now is Miller, Aiken, and me. Thus this new seniority system demoted me from second to third place after I served on this committee for 26 years.

"There is considerable difference between being third or second ranking. Oftentimes in the past only five conferees were appointed from the Agriculture Committee to meet with the conferees of the House Agriculture Committee to iron out the differences on a bill passed by the two Houses.

"A good example was the last farm bill. If only five conferees were appointed, I wouldn't have been a conferee on this important farm legislation. Fortunately, I have been assured that in the future there will be seven and not five conferees appointed, so I will continue to be a conferee with the House on all farm legislation.

"As you know, most major legislation is really written by the joint Senate-House Conference Committees. In the past more than quarter century, I have often been the only Republican or Democrat on the Senate Agriculture Committee from a major wheat-producing state.

"Senator Jack Miller, the new ranking member, is a very able Senator and does a good job for corn producers, but since his state produces very little wheat, he can't be expected to have the same interest in wheat as he does in corn.

"These seniority-busting advocates, both here in North Dakota and in the U. S. Senate, want to go further. A resolution has already been introduced which, if approved, would mean that when the 93rd Congress convenes two years from now, no committee assignments would be based on seniority. I doubt if it will pass but, if it did, I wouldn't have the chance of the proverbial snowball of serving as ranking member or chairman of the Appropriations Committee, or any other committee.

"Committee assignments, in that event, would be almost entirely on the basis of which Senator had the support of organizations or groups with the biggest political clout. Organizations or individuals who contributed large sums of money to the election of certain Senators would be in a position to exercise great influence. A Senator from a small state like North Dakota would have little chance of receiving important committee assignments.

"Despite what some are trying to say, the seniority system has been very effective. Even with its faults, and it has some, the alternative of having the chairman elected from the body as a whole would only encourage the selling of "favours" by those interested in getting the chairmanship. Under the present system the chairman and ranking member get their positions without selling their souls.

"The Constitution did attempt to protect the small states from the large. The seniority system does much to preserve this protection.

"I am aware, too, that some hopeful politicians are concerned about my age. They even carry around charts which attempt to prove that they have a much better vote-getting record than I.

"During all the years I served with the late Senator Langer, we got along very well, except in election years. This difference was understandable, as we belonged to different factions of the Republican Party.

"Once, after I had opposed his re-election and when I escorted him down the aisle to be sworn in by the Vice President, he whispered to me: "Milt, don't forget you are up for election next!" That still is pretty good political advice.

"Fortunately, Senator Langer and I resolved our differences before the last time we both faced re-election. This was when the Non-Partisan League split up and Senator Langer and others stayed in the Republican Party.

"I don't know whether I will be a candidate for re-election in 1974 or not. If my health is good and the people in North Dakota want me to run, I may. Senator Carl Hayden, who is now 93 and who served 56 years in Congress, still has a pretty good mind and better judgment than some politicians I know. He always had a stock answer when asked if he would be a candidate for re-election. He would say: "Why not?"

"There were a lot of things about Carl Hayden I liked.

"I will definitely state at least a year, and probably two years before my term expires, what my intentions are. Maybe this legislative body where I started 38 years ago would be a pretty good place to announce my intentions.

"While I have been away from here quite a long while, I have come back each session to visit you, and I still feel as close to you as the day I left. I have no better friends."

House Bill No. 1001. A Bill for an Act making an appropriation for the general operation, maintenance and plant improvements of the state institutions of higher learning of the state of North Dakota.

Which was read.

Rep. Halcrow requested that his remarks regarding House Bill No. 1001 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Halcrow: "Mr. Speaker: It may be a bit unusual for a member of the House Appropriations Committee to oppose H. B. No. 1001 on the floor this afternoon. For several weeks we have worked on this bill in an effort to be as responsible as possible to the people employed in our colleges and at the same time to express the interest and concern of the Committee in maintaining the physical plants in good condition and repair. Many of us believed that instructional salary increases in the Governor's budget were too high. They were set at 6% and 6% while others were set at 5% and 5%, or 5% and 4%. We were not particularly concerned about each individual salary. The proposed reduction of the increase in these salaries was $736,259.00. The Committee felt this was necessary to inform the institutions that we wanted better curriculum control and less duplication. The reduction from 6% and 6% to 5% and 4% with a corresponding increase in building repair and maintenance was affirmed on several occasions with a majority vote in our Committee.

"The college lobby is the most powerful special interest group in this capitol. At least two legislators have more than a passing interest in college legislation and budgets, and this situation approaches the area of conflict of interest. Further, the county containing the largest of our institutions has two members on the house appropriations committee. Contrast that with the fact that there are only two members, (1-Republican, 1-Democrat) from west of the Missouri River.

"There is a bill floating around that provides for a Hockey Arena for half million dollars too.

"Total college operational budgets have grown from 19 million in 1959 to 68 million for 1971-73. We must conclude that North Dakota, with a declining population, and a depression in its major industry cannot stand continuing budget increases of such magnitude. Financial doomsday for North Dakota Education is approaching unless the system and the legislature find alternatives to ever increasing budgets. I oppose H. B. No. 1001 as now constituted. I respectfully request that this body now defeat this bill. Let us then reconsider our action, send the bill back to committee and reduce instructional salary increases from 6% and 6% to 5% and 4% for a total decrease of $736,259.00. Unless such action is taken I must continue to oppose the bill, and other special budget requests for higher education."

 3. The commission may require the subdivider to alter or amend the proposed public offering statement in order to assure full and fair disclosure to prospective purchasers, and no change in the substance of the promotional plan or plan of disposition or development of the subdivision may be made after registration without notifying the commission and without making appropriate amendment of the public offering statement. A public offering statement is not current unless all amendments are incorporated.

SECTION 8. INQUIRY AND EXAMINATION.) Upon receipt of an application for registration in proper form, the commission shall forthwith initiate an examination to determine that

1. 3. If the requirements are not met within the time allowed, the commission shall enter an order rejecting the registration which shall include the findings of fact upon which the order is based. 2. All advertising material of any nature whatsoever prepared for use in connection with the offer and disposition of any interests in subdivided lands registered under this Act shall be submitted to and approved by the commission prior to its use.
3. As a condition precedent to the registration of any subdivided lands, the commission shall require that the subdivider file an indemnity bond running to the state of North Dakota for the use, benefit, and protection of any person and conditioned for the faithful compliance by the subdivider, his agents, and his employees with all of the provisions of this Act, as amended, and with all rules, regulations, and orders made pursuant thereto and for the faithful performance and payment of all obligations of the subdivider, his agents, and his employees in connection with the registration. The indemnity bond shall be of such type and in such form as shall be prescribed by the commission and shall be in such amount as the commission shall deem necessary to protect purchasers when the volume of business of the subdivider and other relevant factors are taken into consideration, but in no event less than twenty-five thousand dollars. Any such bond shall have as surety thereon a surety company authorized to do business in this state.

4. Whenever it appears that a person has engaged or is about to engage in acts or practices which constitute or will constitute a violation of the provisions of this Act or of a rule or regulation or order hereunder, the commission, with or without prior administrative proceedings, may bring an action in any district court to enjoin the acts or practices and to enforce compliance with this Act or any rule or regulation or order hereunder. Upon a proper showing, a permanent or temporary injunction or restraining order shall be granted without bond.
5. The commission may intervene in a suit involving subdivided lands. In any suit by or against a subdivider involving subdivided lands, the subdivider promptly shall furnish the commission notice of the suit and copies of all pleadings.

4. For any person, in connection with the offer, disposition, or purchase of subdivided lands, directly or indirectly, to engage in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deception upon purchasers or the public.

 - b. Require the applicant to submit reports prepared by competent engineers as to any hazard to which any subdivision offered for disposition is subject or any factor which affects the utility of interests within the subdivision, and require evidence of compliance in removing or minimizing all hazards reflected in engineering reports;
 - c. Require an on-site inspection of the subdivision by a person or persons designated by it. All expenses incurred in connection with an on-site inspection shall be defrayed by the applicant, and the commission shall require a deposit sufficient to defray such expenses in advance;
 - d. Make public or private investigations within or outside this state to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate this Act or any rule, regulation, or order hereunder, or to aid in the enforcement of this Act or in prescribing rules and regulations and forms hereunder; and
 - e. Require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise as the commission determines, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated.
2. For the purpose of any investigation or proceeding under this Act, the commission or any person designated by it may administer oaths or affirmations, and upon its own motion or upon the request of any party shall subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any matter which is relevant to the investigation, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of relevant facts or any other matter reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of material evidence.
3. Upon failure to obey a subpoena or to answer questions propounded by the investigator and upon reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, the agency may apply to the district court for an order compelling compliance.
4. The commission may permit a person registered with the commission whose conduct or actions may be under investigation to waive formal proceedings and enter into a consent proceeding whereby orders, rules, or letters of censure or warning, whether formal or informal, may be entered against said person.
5. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, all proceedings under this Act shall be in accordance with chapter 28-32.

SECTION 14. CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS.)

1. If the commission determines after notice and hearing that a person has

2. If the commission makes a finding of fact in writing that the public interest will be irreparably harmed by delay in issuing an order, it may issue a temporary cease and desist order. Prior to issuing the temporary cease and desist order, the commission, whenever possible, by telephone or otherwise shall give notice of the proposal to issue a temporary cease and desist order to the person. Every temporary cease and desist order shall include in its terms a provision that upon request a hearing will be held promptly to determine whether or not it becomes permanent.

 - d. Failed faithfully to perform any stipulation or agreement made with the commission as an inducement to grant any registration, to reinstate any registration, or to approve any promotional plan or public offering statement; or
 - e. Made intentional misrepresentations or concealed material facts in an application for registration. Findings of fact, if set forth in statutory language, shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts supporting the findings.
2. If the commission finds after notice and hearing that the subdivider has been guilty of a violation for which revocation could be ordered, it may issue a cease and desist order instead.

SECTION 16. JUDICIAL REVIEW.) A person who has exhausted all administrative remedies available within the commission and who is aggrieved by an order pertaining to registration, a cease and desist order, an order of renovation, or any other final decision of the commission is entitled to judicial review in accordance with chapter 28-32.

SECTION 17. REAL ESTATE LICENSE REQUIRED.) No real estate broker, salesman, or mortgage broker shall offer or dispose of subdivided lands within or from this state, except in dispositions and transactions exempt under section 5, unless said real estate broker, salesman, or mortgage broker is licensed pursuant to chapter 43-23.

SECTION 18. CIVIL REMEDY.)

1. Every disposition made in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, or of any order issued by the commission under any of the provisions of this Act, shall be voidable at the election of the purchaser. The person making such disposition, and every director, officer, salesman, or agent of or for such person who shall have participated or aided in any way in making such disposition, shall be jointly and severally liable to such purchaser in any action at law in any court of competent jurisdiction for the consideration paid for the lot, parcel, unit, or interest, together with interest at the rate of six percent per year from the date of payment, property taxes and assessments paid, court costs, and reasonable attorney's fees, less the amount of any income received from the subdivided lands, upon tender of appropriate instruments of reconveyance made at any time before the entry of judgment. If the purchaser no longer owns the lot, parcel, unit, or interest in subdivided lands, he may recover the amount that would be recoverable upon a tender of a reconveyance less the value of the land when disposed of and less interest at the rate of six percent per year on that amount from the date of disposition.
2. No action shall be brought under this section for the recovery of the consideration paid after five years from the date of such disposition nor more than three years after the purchaser has received information as to matter or matters upon which the proposed recovery is based, whichever occurs first.

4. The rights and remedies provided by this Act shall be in addition to any and all other rights and remedies that may exist at law or in equity.

SECTION 19. JURISDICTION.) Dispositions of subdivided lands are subject to this Act, and the district courts of this state have jurisdiction in claims or causes of action arising under this Act if

1. The subdivider's principal office is located in this state; or
2. Any offer or disposition of subdivided lands is made in this state, whether or not the offeror or offeree is then present in this state, if the offer originates within this state or is directed by the offeror to a person or place in this state and received by the person or at the place to which it is directed.

SECTION 20. EXTRADITION.) In proceedings for extradition of a person charged with a crime under this Act, it need not be shown that the person whose surrender is demanded has fled from justice or at the time of the commission of the crime was in the demanding or other state.

SECTION 21. SERVICE OF PROCESS.)

1. In addition to the methods of service provided for in the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure and statutes, service may be made by delivering a copy of the process to the office of the commission, but it is not effective unless the plaintiff (which may be the commission in a proceeding instituted by it)

- b. The plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this section is filed in the case on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.
2. If any person, including any nonresident of this state, engages in conduct prohibited by this Act or any rule or regulation or order hereunder, and has not filed a consent to service of process and personal jurisdiction over him cannot otherwise be obtained in this state, that conduct authorizes the commission to receive service of process in any noncriminal proceeding against him or his successor which grows out of that conduct and which is brought under this Act or any rule or regulation or order hereunder, with the same force and validity as if served on him personally. Notice shall be given as provided in subsection 1.

SECTION 22. EVIDENTIARY MATTERS.)

1. In any action, civil or criminal, where a defense is based upon any exemption provided for in this Act, the burden of proving the existence of such exemption shall be upon the party raising such defense.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 3032

1 A concurrent resolution congratulating Satchel Paige on his
2 election to the Baseball Hall of Fame.

4 WHEREAS, the ageless Satchel Paige, one of baseball's
5 truly great right-handed pitchers, has been elected to that 6 sport's Hall of Fame; and

7 WHEREAS, selection to the Hall of Fame is considered
8 the highest honor baseball can bestow upon its own; and

9 WHEREAS, Satchel Paige's remarkable baseball career
10 has stretched from 1926, when he broke into organized base-
11 ball with the Chattanooga, Tennessee, Black Lookouts, to the 12 Kansas City Athletics, where he pitched his last major league
13 curve in 1965, to the Atlanta Braves, where he is currently 14 a coach; and

15 WHEREAS, a portion of his early career was spent in

17 Corwin-Churchill Motors semiprofessional baseball team in 18 Bismarck; and

19 WHEREAS, during his time with the Corwin-Churchill team
20 he won 84 games, once pitching 29 games on 29 consecutive

1 mately 3,000 games, won approximately 2,500 games, and tossed
2 in his own words, "a hatful" of no-hitters, to far outdistance
3 in these categories even the legendary Cy Young who set the 4 major league record for career victories with 511 and who
5 appeared in 906 major league games; and

6 WHEREAS, he has made numerous appearances in the State
7 since that time, giving baseball exhibitions and earning the 8 respect and admiration of countless North Dakotans; and

9 WHEREAS, his strong character, optimistic outlook on 10 life, and enduring philosophy have provided guidelines for 11 persons of all races and all ages to follow;

12 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF
12a REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE
13a CONCURRING
14 THEREIN:

15 That the Forty-second Legislative Assembly, on behalf
16 of all North Dakotans, extends to a former North Dakota
17 resident, Satchel Paige, sincere congratulations for capping
18 a lifetime of baseball achievement with election to the 19 Baseball Hall of Fame, and sends along to him its wishes
20 that each of the next years may be his best in baseball; and

21 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State send 22 copies of this resolution to the Baseball Hall of Fame,
23 Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, the Atlanta Braves, and 24 to Satchel Paige.

Rep. Halcrow requested that his remarks regarding House Concurrent Resolution No. 3032 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Halcrow:

"Mr. Speaker: On February 9, 1971 Satchel Paige was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, New York. There he will take his place as one of the greatest baseball pitchers of all time, in the same company with Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Sandy Koufax, and others.

"It is interesting to note that Satchel Paige has no rancor in his heart for any of his associates during his long and distinguished career in baseball. He said yesterday that each succeeding year has been his best in baseball, and we hope that each succeeding day will be the best of his life.

"North Dakota is proud to have had him during the peak of his career. Satchel Paige is more than a baseball immortal. He is a most distinguished citizen of the United States, above and beyond the ordinary prejudices of life or race, or color, or creed. We salute him as such."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Thorsgard requested that his remarks be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Thorsgard: "Mr. Speaker: Because I have been very much impressed by the sincere concern each member of this assembly has evidenced for our youth, the willingness to protect, to educate, and to sacrifice for them, I hope the following remarks will be in order.

"Miss Nancy Tangen thrilled me when, as a 12-year-old girl, coming home from a week at a Church Camp, she, with her song and her attitude, let me know her convictions. Later, visiting in our home, she always had something extra. During the year she was Miss Durum North Dakota. I thought the Durum wheat grew taller.

"I was again encouraged when I was first elected to this Honorable Assembly, as I received a card of Congratulations, informing me she thanked God for that and would remember me in her prayers.

"I was thrilled again this week when Representative Bunker invited this Assembly to the Campus Crusade for Christ breakfast, where we heard her and several other U.N.D. students give their testimony and told us of the work and needs of that organization and of the active role they play on campus life. They have six full time young people employed and a very active group.

"Nancy was first elected as a UND Sorority Queen.

"Following are a few of her statements at the breakfast:

"My year as Miss North Dakota will not only be remembered by what I have taken from it, but what I have become by it.

"This crown has offered many valuable gifts, sparkled with thousands of miles of travel, and glowed with those priceless friendships and remarkable people whom I could not have met under any other circumstances. It has also reflected a bright new world of knowledge to grow, both mentally and spiritually.

"These lasting life changing gifts deserve a thank-you to many wonderful people, but most of all to God for giving me an open mind and an open heart to take the gifts and use them.

"I ascended my throne last June with my biggest responsibility to live up to my Christian testimony and that the Bible was the most important book I owned. And as I descend that throne next June I'll have the same thoughts with the scriptural promise — And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose. (Romans 8:28 KJV).

"So you see, I won't be stepping down, I'll be stepping up to a new life. A new life and a new challenge."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Hilleboe: "Mr. Speaker: I would like to bring to the attention of this House the fact that I asked to have House Bill No. 1098 placed on the calendar. I would like to draw this House's attention to Section 50-01-08 of the Century Code which states that any person under the age of twenty-one years who consumes an alcoholic beverage, which includes beer, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and Section 50-01-09 states that any person who provides to any person under the age of twenty-one years an alcoholic beverage, which includes beer, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

"I would also like to bring to your attention Section 50-02-10, which provides that anyone having information concerning anyone providing beer to a person under the age of twenty-one may bring this fact to the attention of the State's Attorney for prosecution. I expect every member of this Assembly whose son, grandson, or nephew who is under the age of twenty-one who comes home from Viet Nam with his battle stars and ribbons and is served a beer would be prosecuted. And if any member of this Assembly who has a son or daughter who might come home with a child or from college and is under the age of twenty-one, you abide by this section of the statute, and turn these people in if they drink a beer. Turn them over to the State's Attorney for prosecution. This includes the battle veterans of nineteen and twenty — turn them over and get them into jail where they belong — if this is what the law says. If you served him the beer, you go with him.

"These statutes are on the books, and they will remain on the books because we have put a clincher on it. I don't know how many members of the Legislature don't know what the law was, but you must now go home and not allow any person in your community whom you know has been drinking beer under the age of twenty-one to go unpunished. You cannot let this person or youngster get away with it any more — including your son or daughter who might come off the fields, dusty, dirty and dry after plowing, who might only be twenty years of age with a wife and child. If you catch him or her having a beer, turn them in, and if you gave the beer to them, you go with them."

SECOND READING OF A HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

House Concurrent Resolution No. 3073. A Concurrent Resolution expressing concern for prisoners of war and men missing in action in Southeast Asia, and urging the Congress and the Governor to proclaim the week of March 21-27 as a special week of concern and March 21 as a special day of prayer for the prisoners and men missing in action.

Was read the second time.

Rep. Raymond requested that his remarks in regard to House Concurrent Resolution No. 3073 be printed in the Journal.

Rep. Raymond: "Mr. Speaker: When the bell of freedom peals across this land, our men held captive in Indo-China do not hear;

"When you and I celebrated Thanksgiving, there was no Thanksgiving in the stark prison camps of North Vietnam;

"When many in the world arose in joy on Christmas Day, joy was not a gift which these prisoners were able to cherish;

"When the New Year dawned bright and clear with a new hope for us, hope was but a word without meaning to our men.

"Hanoi, the Viet Cong and Pathet Lao have blatantly disregarded humane treatment of Americans held prisoner. The enemy has said there is no war and these men are criminals. They have refused to abide by International Red Cross rules and they have totally disregarded the Geneva Accords.

"All men of war rate their own contribution to war by their exposure to danger; by their degree of isolation; by their exposure to physical discomfort, and by the length of their separation from loved ones.

"By any or all of these standards, the 1,500 American men missing in action or held prisoner have given beyond that measure which we call sacrifice.

"This nation owes them a debt of gratitude of such magnitude that we shall never repay it. But we can try. When the world counts those who stood on behalf of our men, let them count us as standing with them. And standing with them, we owe them more than gratitude. Gratitude alone cannot repay their wives and their children or their widows and orphans, as the case may be. We must here dedicate ourselves to a unified effort to bring them back.

"We ask that this body join in pending national legislation to set aside the week of March 21-26 as the "Week of Concern" for our fighting men missing or held prisoner in Southeast Asia war action. But more than that we ask the President of the United States and the Governor of the State of North Dakota to set aside Sunday, March 21, as a Day of Prayer when as a God-believing nation we shall gather each in his own way, to pray for the safety and release of these men.

"The words of Air Force Capt. Cliff Cushman seem to be especially fitting at this time. Cushman, from Grand Forks, was shot down in Vietnam action in 1966. He is listed as missing in action and believed a prisoner of war. He was one of the greatest athletes to come out of Grand Forks. He won a silver medal in the 1960 Olympic hurdles. In try outs for the 1964 team, his foot hit the fifth hurdle and he sprawled ingloriously to the track. In the aftermath of that fall, he wrote a letter to the youth of Grand Forks. The words stand like sermons in stone:

"Do not feel sorry for me. I feel sorry for some of you. I would much rather fail knowing I had put forth an honest effort than never to have tried at all. Unless your reach exceeds your grasp, how can you be sure what you can attain? I know I may never make it. The odds are against me but I have something in my favor — desire and faith.

"I dare you to look up to the stars, not down at the mud, and set your sights on one that, up to now, you thought was unattainable. Who knows? You may be surprised at what you can achieve with sincere effort. I dare you." Cliff Cushman.

"So: For Capt. Loren Torkelson and for Major Keith Hall, prisoners of war, we ask your support of this resolution. We ask your support for men listed as missing in action: Capt. Clifford Cushman, Major Martin Stern, Lt. J.G. Bill Christianson, Lt. Glen Belcher, Lt.

William Potter and others whose names have not come to our attention.

"The resolution explains our stand. We ask you to stand with us."

The question being on the final adoption of the resolution.

So the House Concurrent Resolution was declared adopted on a voice vote.

Rep. Streibel moved that the absent members be excused, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Streibel moved that the House be on the Ninth Order and at the conclusion of the Ninth Order, the House stand adjourned, which motion prevailed.

On page 1, line 17 delete everything after the numeral "4." and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Minot, Pt. Ward	4	49,205	-2.4"
------------------	---	--------	-------

On page 1, line 18 delete everything after the numeral "5." and insert in lieu thereof the following:

On page 2, line 29 delete everything after the numeral "30." and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Bismarck, Pt. Burleigh	3	39,180	+3.6"
-------------------------	---	--------	-------

On page 3, after line 13, insert the following new sections:

"SECTION 2. LEGISLATIVE FINDING.) The legislature was cognizant and has taken into consideration the methods and procedures employed by the census bureau in taking the census and the creation of enumeration districts, which do not necessarily coincide with the geographic boundaries of political subdivisions such as townships and smaller cities. The legislature in numerous instances was required to interpolate and intercalate the population in rural areas, including townships and small cities, on information available. It is also known that many persons maintained a dual residence, one for voting purposes and one where they physically resided. It has been common practice for many persons (farmers) upon reaching semiretirement age or upon retiring, to locate in a city, but retain their residence on the farm. However, for census purposes, they were listed in the city's population. Because of these items, mathematical exactness or precision in population is impossible, and because of the cost and effort to produce the necessary information to accomplish this, it is impractical.

SECTION 3. NUMBERING LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS — CLASSES OF SENATORS TO PROVIDE STAGGERED TERMS.) Senators shall be divided into two classes; those elected in legislative districts designated by even numbers shall constitute one class, and those elected in legislative districts designated by odd numbers shall constitute the other class. The senators of one class elected in the year 1972 shall hold their office for two years, those of the other class shall hold their office four years, and the determination of which class shall be elected for four years and which class shall be elected for two years shall be by lot. The president of the senate shall perform the lot in the presence of the majority and minority floor leaders of the senate and shall certify in writing the results of such lots to the secretary of state within thirty days after the effective date of this Act.

SECTION 4. LEGISLATIVE SUBDISTRICTING — METHODS.) Upon a petition accompanied by a map showing the boundaries of the proposed subdistricts and accompanied by a written description thereof filed with the secretary of state containing the signatures of at least that number of qualified electors of the legislative district equal to ten percent of the electors of the legislative district that voted for the office of governor at the most recent general election at which such office was voted upon, asking that such legislative district be subdistricted into single-member representative districts or, in legislative districts with more than one senator, to be subdistricted into single-member senatorial districts, or both, the secretary of state shall determine and count the number of signatures and if such petitions contain the required number of signatures, such petition shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the district for their approval or rejection at the next special, primary or general election held in such district.

SECTION 5. ELECTION ON PETITION — BALLOT FORM — VOTE REQUIRED.) The ballots used for submitting the question of subdistricting legislative districts in all cases wherein an election is required shall be substantially the following form:

“Shall the (number of legislative district) legislative district be subdivided into (senatorial or representative districts or both) described as follows:

(here insert description of subdistrict as described in the petition)

YES	<input type="checkbox"/>
NO	<input type="checkbox"/>

If there shall be more than one petition for subdistricting of the same legislative district, each different description of the subdistrict shall be placed upon such ballot and the ballot shall be marked “VOTE FOR ONE ONLY”.

If one of the subdistricting descriptions as presented on the ballot shall receive a majority of the legal votes cast at such election, the secretary of state shall issue a proclamation stating such legislative district to be subdistricted pursuant to such description. Thereafter, senators or representatives shall reside in and be elected from such subdistricts as set forth in the approved petition for subdistricting.

The question of subdistricting a legislative district shall not be voted upon more than once every two years."

And renumber the lines, sections, and pages accordingly.

MOTION

Rep. Rolfsrud moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Hon. Arthur A. Link to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker Bier appointed Reps. Rolfsrud and Murphy.

Congressman Link addressed the Assembly.

Congressman Link: "Mr. Speaker,

"I think this is indicative of the close association that develops after many years of working together in a body such as this. Mr. Majority Floor Leader, Minority Floor Leader, Bryce and Buckshot, your assistants, Rep. Strinden and Rep. Weber, I know the tremendous job that you are playing in conducting the affairs of this body. Perhaps one of the greater rewards of going away from home at any time is the opportunity to come back, and truly perhaps one of the most welcome reminders of this body is that beautiful board of red and green lights. How we miss it!

"I think it would be most fitting on this day that we recall again those who are departed, and we are at this time saddened by the death of a former member of this body and one who started in the Legislature here, the former Representative and then Senator, Senator Lowe who has departed, and I share with you in remembering former Representative Lowe, a very good and conscientious member of the State Legislature.

"You know, after twenty-four years and being in the majority only once in this body, I thought there ought to be another way to become a member of the majority party. Since that was accomplished, there are constant reminders the Republicans are very much in evidence. On the floor where my office is located in the Longworth Building, there are only two Congressional offices in this corridor — the one that belongs to me, and the other that belongs to freshman Congressman Bill Archer, Republican from Texas. Then around the next corridor, there are no Congressional offices, but on the doors of three of these offices are signs that read like this, 'Republican Policy Committee', 'House Republican Conference', and 'Republican Research Committee.'

"Whenever one mentions that he is from North Dakota, the people in the East and South constantly remind us of the fact we are supposed to have inclement weather. I must say that not only the weather we are experiencing now surpasses anything we have had in Washington up to this time, but the warmth and cheeriness in this chamber surpasses any we have had up to this time. Not the least in these chambers — as in the past sessions — you have continued the tradition of the flowers at the Stations of the Roses in the Assembly, and they truly brighten up your Assembly. To those Representatives for remembering our fair members, congratulations.

"While you might expect me to discuss legislation, bills before Congress, major issues of concern to all of us, I have chosen a slightly different topic, but one not foreign to those of you in this Legislative Assembly. I have chosen this topic deliberately because I hope I will indicate to you before I get through, it is in my opinion one of the most important concerns that legislative bodies should have at every level, and I think in the great debate before those bodies, it perhaps receives the least attention. So perhaps of greater difference than any climatic weather conditions, the thing that impresses me most is the difference of the climate in the national House of Representatives. Even though this did not come to pass until January 22, when the 92nd Congress convened.

"As most of you know, my former exposure to the Legislative process was obtained in the North Dakota House of Representatives, beginning in 1947. I can clearly recall the method of oral roll call, where the Chief Clerk of the House read off in rapid succession the 113 names which was the membership of our House at that time. However, that was the last session of oral roll call in the North Dakota House. Depending on the speed of the clerk, the call of the roll would take from five to ten minutes. For more than twenty years now, we have utilized the electric roll call and tabulating system.

"To be sure, I knew the National Congress had not yet recognized the need for conserving countless hours of time and still proceeded to call the roll of its members, which in the House totals 435, by voice.

This takes almost thirty minutes. The very first call was for attendance of the new Congress, and I felt no impatience, for after all, a new group of Congressmen were again convening — some new, most former, but all, I am sure, with a new resolve to tackle once again the problems unfinished from the 91st Congress and the new ones of the 92nd. And, after all, wasn't it important to know that they were all present? However, attempts to get on with adoption of rules ran into controversy necessitating two quorum calls and a roll call. All together, four full oral calls in succession were taken. The afternoon was gone, and little had been accomplished, but to determine the new Congress was in session.

"Certainly, it was pleasant to visit with the many fine men and women and learn to find one's way around. So time did not lag, but the slowness of this method in contrast to our own State Legislature had by that time made its full impact on me.

"In response to inquiry of a former member, I was told the matter of electronic roll call was under consideration. Research by a member of my staff discloses that while no immediate steps are before Congress, we do have a letter indicating the system is being considered. So more than twenty years after our State Legislature with 113 members, now 98, has used the electric roll call system, the National Congress with 435 House members is considering it.

"What would you think if the chairmen of the standing committees of our State Legislature were chosen solely on the basis of seniority?

"What would you think if the chairman and ranking minority member of each committee were ex officio members of each sub-committee with a right to vote thereon? While we have few sub-committees at the State Legislature, I doubt this practice would be acceptable. We grant the majority and minority leaders full committee participation on all committees but deny them the right of vote in the committee.

"Sub-committees are an important legislative process at the national level. For instance, the committee on Agriculture of which I am a member has ten sub-committees.

"What would you say if proxy voting were permitted in committee at the State Legislature? Very recently in Congress, it was possible for the chairman or another committee member to carry the proxies of a number of absent members who had not heard the testimony and vote them, thus determining the final decision of a committee, contrary to the decision of the majority present.

"While proxy voting continues to be used, it is now required that the member who plans to be absent at a vote sign a statement, showing in whose favor the proxy is given, the bill or resolution it is to be used on and how he intends to vote.

"What would you think if after the Education Committee or the Social Welfare Committee or any other standing committee of our State Legislature after having completed hearings and made its recommendation on a bill could not report the bill out for action by the House until an all-powerful Rules Committee said it could be reported out? Now there are some logical reasons for the orderly processing of legislation, and within limits can be justified.

"To minimize undue delay, this session of Congress attempted to adopt the 21-day rule and for a time it seemed we may succeed. It would have given the Speaker, after 21 days, authority to call a bill out of committee if he felt it should be reported. We succeeded in a majority caucus, and were defeated by the entire House.

"Last Wednesday the District of Columbia Committee, upon which I will serve, held its organizational meeting. Following a concerted effort by former members who saw the need for reform of the rules of the D. C. Committee, we were successful in providing categorical designation of four sub-committees, such as Health and Safety, Education, etc. The Chairman will now be required to refer bills to their proper committee. Heretofore, he had his sub-committees numbered 1, 2, 3, 4 and directed bills at will to committees of his choice. This former method could deny members who had interest and expertise in special areas from considering bills related to their chosen field. And this is the committee that governs our nation's capital city — a city with a population greater than the State of North Dakota — 880,000.

"Lest you think I am going to spend all my time and energy opposing the 'establishment', let me say I have given considerable forethought to discussing these issues with the citizens of North Dakota. My decision to do so is based on several reasons.

"First, with State Legislative experience, I believe the deficiencies at the Congressional level are more apparent to me than if I had not had such experience, and therefore I have a responsibility to point them out.

"Second, it is a human and somewhat natural tendency to give in, or as some have said, 'If you want to get along, better learn to go along.'

"Ladies and gentlemen, if the Congress of the United States goes along without meaningful, responsive reform and continues to lag in assuming its rightful, responsible place in our government, there won't be anything to go along with.

"We will have lost the race which is ever increasing in speed and intensity, a race of coming to grips with the problems before the problems grip the nation with a paralysis from which we cannot recover.

"So, I have decided to speak out, and while you as individuals may feel unable to assist in this effort, only an informed and concerned citizenry can at times bring about difficult and important change.

"No power is stronger in the political arena than the power of public opinion.

"The astute politician unknowingly will find himself in the position of an ancient chieftain who said, 'I must follow my people, for, after all, am I not their leader?'

"Abraham Lincoln said, 'Public opinion is everything. With it, nothing can fail. Without it, nothing can succeed.'

"The message I want to leave with you this afternoon is threefold. First, though we can take a degree of pride and satisfaction in the knowledge that our North Dakota Legislature ranks 22nd among all states in the nation, we cannot rest on our laurels. Where would you be today with the volume of bills again before you if no electric roll call were used and few, if any, of the other numerous reforms of procedure had not been adopted? Continue your Legislative procedure and arrangements.

"Second, each of us has a responsibility to expect our National Congress to take the necessary steps to improve and reform its methods of procedure in keeping with the needs of our times. Members of the Congress should assume responsibility for necessary reform. They alone can make the changes and should make their positions known on this vital issue.

"Third, the most important legislation cannot become law without the necessary orderly procedure to transform an idea into a working reality. Whether on the state or national level, this premise holds true.

"Best wishes for a successful session, and come visit us in Washington when you can."

Rep. Rolfsrud moved the remarks of Congressman Link be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Lee announced that a former Representative was in the chambers, and requested that the House recognize former Rep. Helen Ferguson, and Rep. Ferguson was thereupon introduced to the House.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Wilkie: "Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege:

"Yesterday, when House Bill No. 1338 was on the floor of the House, the question of constitutionality arose as to whether or not we had the right, as a state, to limit campaign expenditures of those seeking state or national offices. The bill was already killed when a call from Washington, D. C. came to my desk and contained the following information:

"The Corrupt Practices Act, Title II, of the United States Code Section 248 says generally that any candidate for any state or national office may not spend in excess of limitations imposed by the state.

"It appears to me that states have no problem with the constitutionality of limiting expenditures in a campaign."

The amount of such distribution shall be determined as follows: The county auditor shall certify to the state tax commissioner as soon as possible after the effective date of this Act the amount of each such levy made by and spread for each political subdivision on taxable real property in the county in the year 1970; the tax commissioner shall forthwith determine the correctness of such amounts and certify to the state treasurer for immediate payment to the county an amount that is determined by dividing the total of such levies made and spread in 1970 on taxable real property in the county by the growth factor that is provided in the first paragraph of this section; the county treasurer within fifteen days after the receipt of such revenue from the state treasurer shall allocate and remit to each political subdivision its proportionate amount of that revenue.

MOTION

Rep. Streibel moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Hon. Mark Andrews to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

Speaker Bier appointed Reps. Bunker and Weber.

Congressman Andrews addressed the Assembly.

Congressman Andrews: "Mr. Speaker, Members of the House:

"It is a privilege to be here. Coming down the aisle with Hank Weber and Art Bunker, I thought maybe we were making up the North Dakota beef trust. It is good protection when you are coming to a chamber.

"Really, I am proud to be here because members of the Legislature have a unique rapport one with the other. I am also proud because so many faces are the faces I have come to know through my travels around North Dakota. Some of you actually got me started in politics. I can remember Brynhild Haugland's encouragement when I needed a lot of encouragement, and no one can give you better advice — she is really the dean of your House. You notice how she always sits close to the rail, close to the people.

“North Dakota has several unique problems. In the beginning we were worried about how to secure equity for our farmers. We are still facing the same problem. Here in the Legislature, you have another challenge because you have to understand the people. Not too long ago I was privileged to serve as a mission for the State Department to Southeast Asia, and I saw a unique example of how our commercial competition in that area understands the people. In New Zealand, in one of the largest meat packing firms in the world, they process 12,000 sheep and 1,500 a day. Here, over spotless stainless steel, runs corned beef, which is deliberately packed in tins bearing old paper labels, on which is a picture of a red spotted cow and a couple of white sheep, and carries the word ‘Bullamacow’, and in this way they are catering to what the people understand, what they need and what they want.

“Actually our state has a big challenge in understanding our problems, because North Dakota is unique. Not too long ago I was the commencement speaker at the Wahpeton State School of Science with some 800 students. Fifty years before there were 40 graduates, an increase of twenty-fold. All of our institutions have had the same rapid growth, but today we have fewer people in North Dakota.

“Our commercial and industrial property in North Dakota accounts for only 11% of our assessed valuation. The average for the nation is 25% — and is 38% of assessed valuation in the State of New York. When you buy a combine from Illinois, you are contributing to the education of Illinois children. When you buy a car from Michigan, you are contributing to the education of Michigan children. Sixty-three percent of our assessed valuation comes from agricultural land. You can see the problems we face in this.

“The entire principal of representative government is the concept of those privileged to serve as representatives . . . as you do here in the legislature . . . having the deep understanding of the people who honored you by sending you here.

“Along this line, I was interested to see a headline in this morning’s paper: “Guy Charges Andrews Misunderstanding Him.” You know, he’s right.

“Since what I had to say Monday night dealt with North Dakota and its future, perhaps it’s important here to review the whole matter.

“I was talking about revenue sharing with an effort factor and how important it is to North Dakota’s future. I also stressed how we’re in a neck-and-neck battle to have it enacted in Congress. Revenue sharing’s chief rival — federal take-over of state and local welfare payments — has a 50-50 chance of replacing it.

“I said Monday it was unfortunate that the Governor — who says he supports revenue sharing — also supports the proposal advanced as its chief substitute.

“Agile though he may be, you can’t ride two horses at once, particularly when they’re as mismatched a pair as this.

“The evolution of revenue sharing has been a long process. It has been talked about much during the last decade and I have personally introduced revenue sharing bills in the last three Congresses.

“As with any new concept, those who disagree begin to promote their own approach. The opposition comes from those who do not feel local city, county and state government can be responsible or reliable.

“Two or three years ago, most of the opposition began promoting federal payment of state and local welfare as the substitute to keep control of the money and programs in Washington.

"Mistrust of local government is bad enough, but also it would mean less than half the dollars North Dakota can expect under revenue sharing.

"As this approach began to gain support, imagine my surprise when I saw Governor Guy's statement.

"Shortly thereafter I pointed out in a newsletter that the Governor's position wasn't supported by the people of North Dakota.

"I got an answer from Walt Christensen, one of the Governor's chief apologists, stating that this proposal was really Governor Rockefeller's . . . and Bill Guy was wholeheartedly in support of it.

"I know why Governor Rockefeller likes the idea of federal government taking over welfare payments. New York . . . along with California and Massachusetts would get over 50% of the total funds under such an arrangement. Under the plan, North Dakota's share would be $9 million . . . $11 million less than under revenue sharing and this would perpetuate our economic disadvantage.

"Bill Guy may say I don't understand his thinking.

"I don't.

"I do understand revenue sharing and what the effects of his action can be on our chances for enacting this vital legislation.

"This is what concerns me because it concerns the future of North Dakota.

"Maybe I have spoken too plainly here today. I think we in North Dakota can disagree without being disagreeable, and the place to talk about issues, facts and figures is where we are together, whether Democrats or Republican. We are all for building a better North Dakota, and we must keep some of the money from slipping away from us and get an even break for North Dakota.

"The problems you face here, and I face and other farmers face trying to pay their real estate taxes on the farm and support our schools, etc., are going to grow worse rather than become resolved. This is why the time has come for us to do some straight thinking and plain talking about where we are going.

"I realize you are putting in long days and longer weeks, trying to find a way to build a stronger North Dakota, and I salute you for the job you are doing.

"Thank you very much."
