Dear John:

You sent me a copy of Senate Bill No. 2017 requesting a fiscal note. I believe, John, that this bill does not require a fiscal note in that no additional funds are needed for the administration thereof, nor is extra help needed.

We have been administering this law now and it is of no extra cost either in space, personnel, or money for its administration. The actual construction is done on the local level and by the local school district. The district, of course, issues bonds and borrows money, including advances from the state school construction fund, but this bill itself requires no appropriation and no extra funding.

Yours sincerely,

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION
