The costs of administering such a program would depend greatly on the demands made by election officials. As I understand the bill I would oversee the conduct of all elections. This would mean that a staff would likely be necessary consisting of at least one attorney. Because of the limited time period for examining ballots, machines, etc., it may be necessary for more than one attorney to be on the road examining voting machines. Assuming that the demands upon me would be great in the first biennium and assuming several meetings of the advisory board would be necessary I offer the following "rough" estimate:

One full-time attorney	$36,000
Secretary	14,000
Equipment (desks, typewriters etc.)	2,000
Fees and services (mileage per diem)	3,500
	$55,500
