In the following <sup>Legislative Council</sup> space note the fiscal effect in <sup>1/17</sup> dollars of <sup>75</sup>

the legislative proposal. If additional space is needed, attach a supplementary sheet. (Please type)

North Dakota law now requires that new license plates be issued every four years. If the issue were extended to six years the savings at today's costs would be approximately $1.6 million in the cost of plates, plus a potential savings in postage of $400,000 over a 12 year period. In the event plates can be designed to wear for a period of more than six years, the savings would be increased accordingly.
