"Representative Robert Reimers is a native North Dakotan, and was educated at North Dakota State University. He is eminently successful both as a farmer and as a businessman.

"He has served seven sessions in the North Dakota Legislature, being first elected in 1960. Committees on which he has served are Education, Agriculture, Natural Resources, and Industry, Business, and Labor.

"He is best known for his excellent work as Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. He has been Chairman of the interim Budget Committee and a member of the Majority Policy Committee.

"As Speaker of the House, he will serve the best interests of all the people of North Dakota.

"I deem it an honor and a privilege to place in nomination as candidate for Speaker of the House the name of a fine gentleman, Representative Robert Reimers of the 29th District, and ask your support for him."

Rep. L. Hausauer:

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Assembly:

"I am very happy to have the privilege of seconding the nomination of Robert Reimers, a gentleman respected and recognized for his knowledge of State Government. I have served on committees where he has served as chairman. He has shown superb leadership ability, and I know he will be a just and fair Speaker. It is a privilege to second the nomination of Robert Reimers for Speaker of the House."

Rep. Dotzenrod:

"Mr. Speaker and Members of the 44th Assembly:

"I am honored to rise and place in nomination our Party's choice for Speaker of the House, a man of diverse qualities and abilities.

"He will bring to the office of Speaker of the House equal ability and sense of fairness in the discharge of those duties that were displayed by the Speaker of the 1973 Session.

"In his two terms in this Assembly, he has demonstrated a keen grasp of the issues involved and has approached problems with vigor, intelligence, and integrity.

"These attributes are important qualifications for the important office of Speaker of the House.

"The election of this candidate would demonstrate also a most commendable spirit of bi-partisan cooperation, which this session needs for the good of the state. His election also presents an opportunity to impress the electorate and possibly confuse the press.

"Should he, through some slight mischance that I do not now visualize, fail to achieve a majority of the votes for this office, I trust you will realize it is not through a deficiency in the qualities required for the Speakership, but rather that I have failed to elaborate further on his ability and impress you more emphatically in behalf of his candidacy.

"It gives me pride to place in nomination for Speaker of the House the Honorable Charles Mertens of Devils Lake."

Rep. Solberg:

"Mr. Speaker:

"I rise to second the nomination of Rep. Mertens to be Speaker of the House. I have served with Rep. Mertens on the Appropriations Committee for two terms and have also served with him on the Interim Committees of the Legislative Council. He has always shown a quality of fairness and impartiality that is necessary to anyone seeking the Speakership.

"I deem it a privilege and an honor to second the nomination of Rep. Mertens of the 15th Legislative District to be Speaker of the House of Representatives."

Rep. Strinden moved that nominations be closed, which motion prevailed, and the roll call was taken.

Mertens Reimers

Rep. Mertens:

"Mr. Speaker — Members of the House of Representatives:

"The very fact that you are here today is testimony that you won your last election. I would like to tell you how it feels to lose.

"As is always the case, 'I can't understand what went wrong.' Maybe I should have spent more time campaigning and less time writing my victory speech.

"Fortunately, some of the speech can be salvaged. I was going to congratulate all of you on your remarkable display of wisdom.

"I wish to thank my party for their faith in me. All that kept us from victory was a few votes. This may be the first time you heard that line during this session, but I predict it will not be the last.

"I congratulate Mr. Speaker. It seems I have acquired a habit in the past two sessions of losing by a narrow margin to my colleague from the 29th District. It may take some time to get used to addressing Bob as Mr. Speaker instead of Mr. Chairman.

"I congratulate this body on their choice for Speaker. As a two-term member of the minority party on the House Appropriations Committee, I can attest to the diligence and fairness of Bob Reimers.

"A word of warning to the Chairmen of the House Committees. Bob expects the work done on time and he expects it done right. If this legislative body gives the Speaker its cooperation and lives up to that rule, we will have a successful assembly.

"I enjoyed working with Mr. Speaker on his committee in the past, and I look forward to working with him as 'Mr. Speaker'."

Rep. Strinden moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the newly elected Speaker to the rostrum, which motion prevailed. Speaker appointed Representatives Larson and Solberg.

Speaker Reimers was escorted to the rostrum.

Rep. Strinden moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Associate Justice Knudson to the rostrum to administer the oath to the new Speaker, and Reps. Rundle and Opedahl, which motion prevailed. Speaker Bunker appointed Reps. L. Hausauer and Winge.

Associate Justice Knudson administered the oath of office to Speaker of the House Reimers.

Speaker Reimers:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, all of you.

"Of course, it is a privilege and an honor to me to be elected Speaker of the House, as it would be for any of you. It certainly would be for you, Chuck.

"To the best of my ability, I will be as fair and honest as I can, and I hope, as I have demonstrated throughout the years.

"I would say to the lady who nominated me, I am sorry my folks were not here. My father would have liked it, and my mother would have believed it.

"I really appreciate having the opportunity to serve you as Speaker of the House of Representatives. It is the intention of myself as Speaker and certainly of the Floor Leader, Rep. Strinden, that we will have as much a team effort as possible in the legislative process. My friend, Rep. Backes, sat in front of me for years until finally he graduated to the other side. While his threats of leading us in the majority did not come to pass, and I am sorry for you, Rep. Backes and glad for us, I hope that politics in the North Dakota Legislature are not as deeply ingrained as the people are led to believe. There are not a lot of politics in the legislature as most of it is grinding out hard work for the people and state of North Dakota in their best interests and working out compromises of differences. We rarely have big political fights.

"I appreciate the honor and privilege of serving you, and I hope I can live up to the billing you have given me, and do as well as my predecessor.

"Thank you very much."

"Now, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"This is the time in the Opening Days of the Legislature when the outgoing Speaker receives the gavel that he kept us in order with two years ago, and once again, it really is a privilege for me to give this to Art. He has done a superb job and kept humor and dignity at all times, which are necessary to make a successful session.

"Mr. Speaker, with thanks for all the things you have done for this office, on behalf of myself personally and all of the Representatives.

"Thank you."

Former Speaker Bunker:

"Best of luck to you people. Thank you for those kind words.

"I would like to express my gratitude to all of the members who were here last time. Some have died, some have retired, some did not seek re-election, and some who did seek re-election did not succeed. They all are my friends.

"Thank you very much."

Associate Justice Knudson administered the Oath of Office to Reps. Rundle and Opedahl.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

ORGANIZATIONAL SESSION

44th Legislative Assembly

December 3, 1974

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the 44th Legislative Assembly:

"Congratulations on your elections. More importantly, congratulations are in order because of the faith which your constituents have in you to represent them. Congratulations to the newly elected leaders of this session.

"You gather here with some of the toughest issues in North Dakota history facing you. It will not be an easy session because of some of the decisions which must be made. Quite possibly, the results of this session will affect the history of our state for decades to come. You and I will consider and act upon the highest budget in the history of our state to date.

"I am pleased that you have this pre-session period to elect your leadership and to organize so that you are prepared to begin hearings when you convene in January for the regular session. It has not always been this way. While pre-session orientation meetings were held during the 60's, it was not until amendments to the Constitution were approved by the voters in 1968 that the legislators could officially organize as you are doing today. One of the amendments provides that the term of service of the members of the legislative assembly shall begin on the first day of December following their election, or at such other time as may be prescribed by law. Prior to this the legislative term of office did not begin until January following the election. I was one of nine members in the 1967 session who sponsored House Concurrent Resolution "O" that placed the proposed Constitutional amendments to a vote. Other members were Representatives Winge, Giffey, Streibel, Aamoth, Williamson, Solberg, Davis and Haugland. It is interesting to note that of these nine only three are still members of this body today. Death has taken two and the others are no longer with you for a variety of reasons.

"This rather substantial turnover may be either good or bad depending upon the point of view from which one looks at it and also depending on who gets turned over. This turnover is proof of the need and value of the orientation aspects of this pre-session meeting. Under the expert and experienced guidance of the Legislative Council, directed by Emerson Murry and staff, and with the help of veteran members of the legislature, you who are here for the first time will be better prepared to function in a meaningful and productive way the first week of the regular session than new members were in the closing weeks of sessions in former years. Only a couple of weeks ago many of you took advantage of the opportunity to see and hear the full Legislative Council receive proposed legislative reports of Council subcommittees.

"In my first session in 1947, we had none of this. If a new member was lucky enough, as I was, to have a senior member or two sort of 'take you under his wing' and if you were not too embarrassed to ask lots of questions (as I was not, my mother and father always said I asked more questions than any kid they ever knew) then toward the end of the session you could triumphantly show a visitor how well acquainted you were by directing that visitor to the lunchroom.

"I encourage each of you to make the most of this pre-session. While you don't check in or check out, you will be the loser if you cut too many classes.

"This orientation session should be of great benefit to all new legislators and to former members as well in getting ready for the 44th annual session.

"Because of my own experience in the legislature, I realize the importance of cooperation and communication which is necessary between the executive and legislative branches of government. The branches are appropriately separate units of government, yet our joint responsibility in serving the people of the state must bring us together to work for the good of all.

"During this session, we truly are facing a decade of decision. As you prepare for the session now, elect your leadership and make your plans, I know you will bear in mind the significance of each act, of each decision. The people of North Dakota are counting on us to act in their best interests.

"I share your concern that we serve our state in the best manner possible. Because of this shared concern, I want to be as helpful as possible in the important work of cooperation between the executive and legislative branches. Communication is a key word in cooperation, and you can be sure that my door is open to legislators of both parties at all times. Please accept this as a standing invitation.

"The business of serving the people requires that special, personal and purely political interests be put aside to serve a greater purpose.

"Let us dedicate ourselves to proceed with that greater purpose today.

Thank you."

Following the adoption of that Committee report which prevails, the House shall proceed in accordance with this rule. If a report for indefinite postponement is adopted under this subsection, it shall remove the measure from further consideration by the House for that session unless revived by a motion to reconsider.

Following the Fifth Order report of a committee, no motion relating to the committee report except a motion to re-refer shall be in order until the measure or report is reached on the calendar on the next legislative day.

THE STATE OF THE JUDICIARY MESSAGE BY
RALPH J. ERICKSTAD
CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE NORTH DAKOTA SUPREME COURT

Thank you Lt. Governor Sanstead, Mr. Speaker Reimers, Governor Link, Lt. Governor Sanstead, members and staff of the legislative assembly, other guests, friends — all.

I thank you for this kind invitation to give the second message on the State of the Judiciary. Difficult as it will be to follow the late Chief Justice Strutz in this responsibility, I shall do my best.

Since I was privileged to serve six years in the Legislature and consider that the most interesting and enjoyable phase of my life to date, I envy you in your opportunity to serve in that very challenging and fulfilling office.

Being vitally interested in improving the Judiciary, I am very happy to learn of your continued interest in it, and on behalf of our entire Judiciary, I thank you.

Viewing recently the T.V. presentation of Winston Churchill's rise to the Prime Ministry reminded me of what he said about democracy:

"Many forms of government have been tried and will be tried in this world of sin and woe. No one pretends that democracy is perfect or all-wise. Indeed, it has been said that democracy is the worst form of government except all those other forms that have been tried from time to time."¹

I'm firmly convinced that our system of government is the best in the world, but that does not excuse me or you from realizing and admitting its inadequacies and from attempting to improve it.

Our nation has just gone through some trying times, and no doubt it has more trying times ahead. Many have been critical of it and its leaders, and some criticism has been merited. But the solution requires more than criticism and more than protest. It requires deliberative action.

One of the greatest attributes of our system is that it has within it the ability to change as the needs of the times require and to do so from within without its destruction.

In the early and very depressing days of the Civil War, Abraham Lincoln said:

"The dogmas of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present. The occasion is piled high with difficulty, and we must rise with the occasion. As our case is new, so we must think anew and act anew. We must disenthrall ourselves, and then we shall save our country." 2

Just as reappraisal was necessary then, reappraisal is necessary now; just as deliberative and decisive action was necessary then, deliberative and decisive action is required now; and just as we, as one of 50 states of the United States, must improve our system if we as a nation are to survive, the Judiciary, as a coequal branch of our state government, must improve if our state government is to remain viable.

Before I speak, however, about the changes that I think we must make affecting the Judiciary, let me speak briefly about some of the accomplishments and improvements made in the Judiciary since you last met as a legislative body.

In Chief Justice Strutz's message to you in 1973, he told you that we had adopted amendments to our Rules of Civil Procedure which became effective August 1, 1971; adopted new Rules of Appellate Procedure which were to become effective on March 1, 1973; and that a Joint Committee of The State Judicial Council and The State Bar Association was nearing the completion of a six-year study looking to the promulgation of New Rules of Criminal Procedure.

I am happy to report that this committee completed its study and submitted a comprehensive set of Rules of Criminal Procedure to our Court early in 1973. We adopted those Rules with only minor changes on August 17, 1973, to become effective November 1, 1973.

Through the efforts of our Librarian, Mr. Elmer Dewald, we have been able to consolidate those Rules with the other Rules of our Court into a desk book for the purpose of exchange with other states.

Professor Larry Kraft of the Law School of the University of North Dakota presided over a committee that compared our Rules of Criminal Procedure with the seventeen volumes of the Standards of Criminal Justice of the American Bar Association, that Committee found our Rules, for the most part, to meet those standards.

About the time that our Rules of Criminal Procedure were adopted, The National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals published its five task force reports: Criminal Justice System, Courts, Police, Corrections, and Community Crime Prevention. Those reports have been compared with the American Bar Association Standards by a National Committee secured by the American Bar Association's Section of Criminal Justice. There were only sixteen instances involving only portions of five volumes of American Bar Association Standards, where the National Advisory Commission Standards and Goals were inconsistent in principle.

So that our Rules of Criminal Procedure may be examined in light of those comparative analyses and those studies, The Joint Committee of our Judicial Council and the State Bar Association has been reconstituted, numbering eighteen members. Justice Robert Vogel served as its chairman for the first year.

Through support of the Combined Law Enforcement council and The Emergency Commission, we were able to secure funds for a staff consisting of one lawyer and one secretary to assist this committee until July 1, 1975. Since this is a very rapidly developing field of the law, I suspect that this committee is going to recommend that it be continued and expanded in scope to cover other areas of procedural law. Development of Rules of Evidence and Analysis of Nationally Recommended Standards for the Improvement of the Judiciary are two areas that this expanded committee should address. To do this, we will need your support for at least the funds to match combined Law Enforcement Council Grant Funds.

On December 18, 1973, our Judicial Council adopted, with minor amendments, the Code of Judicial Conduct approved by the American Bar Association. Our Supreme Court, as the final rule-making authority in our state, adopted the Code of Judicial Conduct at Justice Philip Johnson's urging and motion made on the 11th day of December, 1974. The code became effective January 1, 1975.

With the approval of House Concurrent Resolution No. 3017 of the 1973 Legislative Session by the Citizens of our State at the General Election on November 5 of last year, you were given, in addition to the impeachment power, the authority to provide for the retirement, discipline, and removal of Judges of the Supreme and District Courts.

Since the passage of that amendment to our State Constitution, the Special Committee on the Judiciary of our Judicial Council (presided over by Judge A.C. Bakken, the Past President of the District Judges Association) has studied statutes, constitutions, and court rules of other states relating to this subject. This committee recommended to our Judicial Council a bill which would create a Judicial Qualifications Commission, patterned mainly after California provisions. This bill was reviewed by a subcommittee consisting of Mr. Alan Warcup, Past President of the State Bar Association; Mr. Armond Erickson, President-elect of the State Bar Association; and Justice William Paulson.

The Judicial Council reviewed this proposed legislation, amended it, and recommended it for passage at this session of the legislature. The motion to approve the bill and to submit it to you was made by Mr. Ward Kirby, the President of The State Bar Association. Thus we have the past, present, and future Presidents of the State Bar Association supporting this bill. Suggestions as to changes in style submitted by Judge Eugene Burdick, the Dean of our District Judges, have now also been incorporated into the bill so that it should now be ready for your consideration.

I would highly recommend this bill in light of the great success that California has had since the adoption of similar provisions establishing a Judicial Qualifications Commission in that state.

According to Chief Justice Donald Wright of California, with approximately 1,150 trial and appellate judges, nearly 1,200 complaints were processed and 333 investigations were undertaken during the period of 1967-1973, resulting in the resignation or retirement of nineteen judges.

The California Commission on Judicial Qualifications functioned so well that it was not until 1973 that the Supreme Court of California, which has the last word in disciplinary and retirement proceedings, was required to act.

This bill, which our Judicial Council has approved, establishes a Judicial Qualifications Commission consisting of nine members.

The Commission would consist of one judge of the District Court, one Judge of the County Court of Increased Jurisdiction, one Judge of the County Court Without Increased Jurisdiction, one County Justice who is licensed to practice law in this state, one Judge of a Municipal Court, two lawyers who have practiced law in this state for at least ten years, and two citizens who are not judges, retired judges, or lawyers.

The commission would have the power to investigate complaints against any justice, judge, or magistrate in the state and to conduct hearings concerning the discipline, removal, or retirement of any justice, judge, or magistrate.

On recommendation from the commission, the Supreme Court could (A) retire a Judge for disability that seriously interferes with the performance of his duties and is or is likely to become permanent; and (B) censure or remove a Judge for action occurring not more than six years prior to the commencement of his current term that constitutes willful misconduct in office, willful and persistent failure to perform his duties, habitual intemperance, or conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute.

We have included in the proposed bill not only the Supreme and District Court Judges but judges of all our other courts as well. If our people are to receive justice, the judges who are to preside must be qualified, and they must all be held to the high standards of the Code of Judicial Conduct.

It is our thought that if the bill is passed and the Judicial Qualifications Commission is adequately funded so that it may do its work, that our Court will adopt rules to implement the statute similar to the rules adopted by the California Supreme Court. For that reason the statute is quite general in terms with the specifics to be supplied by court rule as experience may dictate.

Considering the problem of backlog of undecided cases in the courts of this country, we are especially pleased to be able to report to you that as of the commencement of our September term, our Supreme Court was completely current. We reached a goal we have been striving for for years. In other words, we had no case fully submitted to us that was undecided as of that time. Credit for that accomplishment must be shared by the Judges who wrote the opinions, with our Law Clerks and the other members of the Staff of our Court, with the District Judges who served with our Court when our Judges were disqualified, and with you and the combined law enforcement council who provided us with funds to employ the necessary staff. With a consolidation of the December term with our January term, our new Judges commence their duties at a time when our court is completely current.

In our budget we are asking that you permanently fund the staff that has helped us reach this goal so that we may hopefully maintain this level of proficiency. I am also hopeful that you will give our staff — along with the other state employees — a salary increase equivalent to the increase in the cost of living since July of 1973 effective the first of this year.

If development of our coal occurs, as some predict it will, the added growth in population which this will bring to our state may necessitate the expansion of our Judicial System and possibly require the creation of an Intermediate Court of Appeals.

Massachusetts and Maryland have recently joined 25 other states in establishing such a court to relieve the pressure on the Supreme Court.

For now, to meet the pressure upon our District Courts that increased litigation has brought, we are including in our proposed budget for the District Courts a request for two more District Judges. In light of the increased case load in our District Courts, it would be unwise not to provide the necessary help.

You will be pleased to know that our Court utilized the superintending power authorized under section 86 of our State Constitution, especially in light of the encouragement you gave us in enacting Senate Bill No. 2331 in the 1971 Session of the Legislature, when we executed Administrative Order No. 1, appointing a presiding District Judge in each of the Judicial Districts of our State.

Those judges were utilized only a few weeks later when they were called upon to conduct the U.S. Senate Election Recount.

We have high hopes that they will facilitate the assignment of cases and judges, and that the result will be the improvement of the administration of justice in the District Courts.

This brings us to a consideration of the other courts in our system. As you know, we have approximately 200 Municipal Judges, of whom less than one-fifth are law trained. Some are still paid on a fee basis, and some are lacking the most fundamental tools with which to do their work.

Three training seminars have been held in the last two years for our Courts of Limited Criminal Jurisdiction through the efforts of Cal Rolfson, our Court Administrator, The Bureau of Governmental Affairs at the University of North Dakota, The Combined Law Enforcement Council, The National College of the State Judiciary, The State Highway Department, and The State Judicial Council. Although those who have attended have been enthusiastic in their approval, the attendance in numbers has been disappointing.

It is for this reason that I recommended to our Judicial Council that it support legislation making attendance of Judicial Educational Seminars compulsory. The Council has approved such legislation, and you will receive it soon.

We have in the past been able to secure funds from the Combined Law Enforcement Council and The Traffic Safety Division of The North Dakota State Highway Department to help finance these seminars. With your help we will be able to continue, expand, and improve these seminars. With ninety percent of our people never witnessing anything but the performance of the courts of limited criminal jurisdiction, it is very important that these courts be improved or that something else be substituted for them.

The other courts of limited criminal jurisdiction, namely, the County Justice Courts and County Courts, are for the most part law trained, but they must be afforded continual education to keep abreast of the changes in the Laws and Rules of Criminal Procedure. We therefore hope that you will provide the necessary funds for this purpose.

As a result of a request from our court, the Combined Law Enforcement Council set aside $25,000 for the preparation of a comprehensive model of traffic and criminal ordinances for use by North Dakota municipalities. It is planned that after model ordinances have been agreed to and published, sixteen sessions in different parts of the state will be held to explain the ordinances and to encourage municipal leaders to adopt them. Ted Gladden and Howard Olson of our Court Administrator's staff will be following through on this project.

Incidentally, through a combination of Highway Safety Funds and Combined Law Enforcement Council Funds, we hope to be able to publish and disseminate a Trial Manual for Courts of Limited Criminal Jurisdiction which our Judicial Council Committee on Courts of Limited Criminal Jurisdiction, under the chairmanship of Judge Glaser, has been preparing for the last two years. Howard Olson is giving this project special priority at this time.

As you know, our North Dakota Criminal Justice Commission, consisting of fifty members selected from throughout the state, is now functioning. I suspect that you will receive many suggestions for legislation from them. We hope that by the time of your next session that the task force on the courts will have a comprehensive plan for the unification of our court structure to submit to you. For now, we will have to depend on you for legislation that will temporarily assist us in the administration of our courts.

According to the standards relating to court organization of the American Bar Association Commission on Standards of Judicial Administration, a Unified Court System has a structure with the following characteristics:

“(A) Uniform Jurisdiction. The jurisdictional authority of the courts in the system should be defined in a uniform way, such that all courts at each level in the system have identical jurisdiction.

“(B) Simple Jurisdictional Divisions. The jurisdictional divisions between courts in a system should be simple. The basic division should be between courts of original proceedings and appellate courts.

“(C) Uniform Standards of Justice. The procedures by which the court system administers justice should be based on principles applicable throughout the system, and, so far as practicable, should be uniform in their particulars. The court system should have:

“(I) Uniform Rules of Procedure, promulgated by a common authority;

“(II) Rules of Court Administration that are uniform so far as possible and have local variations only as approved by an appropriate central authority in the court system;

“(III) A continuous program of professional education and training for judges and auxiliary court personnel;

“(IV) A program of conferences and consultations for judicial and auxiliary personnel, the bar, and the public, on problems and needed improvements in administering justice;

“(V) Consistent administration of policy.

“(D) Clearly vested policy-making authority, responsibility for making policy, including regulations concerning court administration and participation in making procedural rules, should be vested in the state's highest court or in a council made up of judges.

“(E) Clearly established administrative authority. Administrative supervision of the court system as a whole should be exercised by a Chief Justice, The policy-making body referred to in paragraph (D) should serve in an advisory capacity to the Chief Justice in his performance of administrative responsibilities. Responsibility for administrative supervision of subordinate units within the court system should be vested in Presiding Justices or Judges . . . , and acting in consultation with advisory groups where appropriate. The administrative duties and powers of such officials should be specified, together with those to whom they are responsible and who in turn are responsible to them.”³

We shall look forward to the recommendations of the Criminal Justice Commission on this very important subject.

With a grant of $91,030 from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, our Court secured funds for the addition of three people to our Court Administrator's staff. Mr. Bill Bohn will aid us in fiscal matters and will inventory court facilities in our state. Mr. Ted Gladden will assist us in providing continued judicial education and in developing a judicial management information system. Mrs. Mary Splonskowski will provide much needed additional secretarial assistance to the Court Administrator staff. A portion of these funds, $45,000, will be used to secure a special consultant to examine our courts in depth. By next session that report should be available to help us further improve our system.

Perhaps you wonder what the Judges of our Supreme Court do when they are not hearing cases, studying in the library, dictating their opinions in their offices, or fighting to preserve those opinions in the conference room. All of these activities require considerable home reading, night work in the office, and weekend and holiday study. Besides serving on various committees of the Judicial Council, some represent us in conjunction with nationwide activity.

In addition to serving as Chairman of our Special Committee on Court Administration, which supervises the work of our Court Administration Staff, Justice William Paulson represents our court at the Conferences of The American Law Institute, which institute publishes the restatement of the law. Justice Harvey Knudson represented our Court on The National Center For State Courts. I have earlier explained some of the extra-curricular activities of Justices Robert Vogel and Philip Johnson, two Justices who have been of special help to us in becoming current and in writing some of the most difficult cases to come out of our court in recent months.

During the last biennium, our State Court Administrator and his staff have provided daily managerial services and assistance to the more than 300 judges at the six jurisdictional levels in the state — of which approximately 70 percent are lay men and women.

A few of our court administrator's activities have included:

(1) Supervision of over 20 federal grants to the judiciary totaling over $160,000, involving judicial training and education, equipment and library purchases, employment of additional staff, and studies of judicial needs;

(2) Assistance with the management of three in-state seminars for Judges of Limited Jurisdiction; and

(3) Receiving and investigating complaints against judges throughout the state.

There is much more that I could talk about, such as what we are doing in disciplining lawyers through our Grievance Commission, how we are receiving new lawyers each year through our Bar Board examinations, and how well our new Senior Practice Rule is working at our Law School. But for now, I shall refer you for more specific information to Mr. William R. Pearce, Chairman of The State Bar Board; to Mr. Lowell O. Tjon, Chairman of the Grievance Commission; or to our very capable Clerk of Court, Luella Dunn, who is also the Clerk of that Commission and Board; and to Professor Bruce Bohlman of the Law School who supervises the seniors in their practice.

With the aid of a $9,400 grant from the State Emergency Commission, the support of the Director of Institutions, the able and patient supervision of our Clerk of Court, the cooperation of our Librarian, the aid of our law clerks and other staff, we were able to completely reorganize the space in our basement vault where valuable records of our Court, dating back to territorial days, are preserved.

For years we have been troubled about the problems which arise when indigent defendants in criminal cases appeal to our court.

Issues over the cost of the trial of indigent defendants rarely come to us, but issues over the assignment of counsel, the cost of transcripts, and other costs of appeal regularly come to us, and we have no recourse but to direct the appropriate Court to assign counsel and to order the county in which the prosecution was maintained to pay for those costs on appeal.

County Commissioners complain about these expenses to the District Courts and they complain to us. No state funds to date have been appropriated to take care of these appeals on a statewide basis.

Very recently we learned that those who have been involved in the Ten-County Regional Public Defender Program Plan to secure the passage of legislation that would establish a statewide Public Defender Program which would include an appropriation from the general fund of the state.

If such legislation were successful, the problem would be taken care of.

Pending the success of this legislation, we ask that you authorize funds to be matched with Combined Law Enforcement Funds or added to Continuing Education Training Act Funds for a limited State Public Appellate Defender Staff of one attorney, a secretary, equipment, supplies, and funds for transcripts.

Matching funds for such a program, as well as for continuing the staff for the committee on Rules of Criminal Procedure, and for other innovative but not yet decided upon programs, are provided for in our budget as submitted to you, with your support of our budget we will be able to continue to do a better job for you.

There is one final item I would like you to consider: we are happy in our quarters, but we are cramped for space. If you would like a tour of our facilities, please contact us. We think you should begin today to provide the space for our court and its related boards, activities, library, and official records by appropriating funds for a new state supreme court and judicial administration building. To help you think about this, we will provide you in the future with a proposed bill. We will then leave it to you to do what you think is best.

We each have our own responsibilities but perhaps if we could remember Edwin Markham's Philosophy as expressed in his poem "A Creed," the world would be a better place in which to live.

I quote:

"There is a destiny that makes us brothers;
None goes his way alone:
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own.

"I care not what his temples or his creeds,
One thing holds firm and fast —
That into his fateful heap of days and deeds
The soul of man is cast."

Thank you very much.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

by

Arthur A. Link
Governor of North Dakota

Introduction

Members of this 44th Legislative Assembly, officers of the executive and judicial branches of our state government and friends:

Greetings to this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly. Two hundred years ago the basis of this democracy was being established. The great philosophers and conceptual leaders of the democracy had tremendous foresight for the problems which would beset our form of government. The vital principles set down at that time have provided for the individual and group freedoms which we enjoy. This foundation for freedom has taken on increasing importance and dimension in the addition of amendments to the United States Constitution.

The manner in which man governs himself is a complex business. The issues of the day which may seem overwhelming are commonplace to government. Government leaders may frequently feel that the problems they face are the most serious and have the greatest long-term implications of any problems which have ever confronted the people. The truth is, of course, that each age must deal with a different set of crises.

As governmental leaders, each of you has been elected because your constituents believe in your ability to represent them. This is truly a mandate for responsible and considered action on the part of each individual in this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly.

Truly, this can be entitled North Dakota's Bicentennial Legislative Assembly. The laws and amendments that this session adopts will help direct the course of our state and nation into the third century of our democracy.

While prophets of gloom and despair and skeptics and critics of democratic, representative government may predict the failure of our system, we in government have not only the opportunity, but the responsibility to build on its strengths and thus overcome its weaknesses.

The National Bicentennial threefold theme of Heritage '76, Festival '76 and Horizons '76 is most fitting and should serve as an inspiration and challenge to each of us during this legislative session.

I am looking forward to working with each of you, and I want you to know again, that the door of my office is open to every legislator. I invite your counsel and friendship in dealing with the important issues which will confront all of us.

My message to you today will deal with recommendations, some general and some specific, for your consideration. In addition, coupled with these recommendations, will be information about the condition of the state.

It is important to note that my message to you is the result of consultation with many of you on both sides of the political aisle over the past month. In many instances, recommendations in this message are affirmations of proposals by the Legislative Council or other boards, commissions and committees. In addition, the input of various state agencies, officials and employees has been invaluable to the preparation of this message.

The 200th birthday of our nation calls upon each of us to reaffirm principles on which this country was founded, and to apply them to the challenges which will face us in our day to day living, and, for each of you, in this Bicentennial Legislative Session.

I believe that good government is government which is fully responsive to the needs of the people, granting full participation in line with the important freedoms first stated in the United States Constitution.

North Dakotans have a kinship to the people who founded this great nation 200 years ago in that we have a basically agrarian social and economic system similar to the society which existed in the 13 colonies prior to the revolution.

Our people, like the colonists, believe in the rights of self-determination and are committed to the basis which the revolutionary leaders provided this nation.

The American revolution must be an on-going process through which the people of this nation and state will build a culture of benefit to all of its people.

The issues of today are an important part of this on-going process within our state and federal system.

I believe the issues considered by this Legislative Assembly might clarify themselves if each legislator would review and contemplate the basic documents upon which this nation was founded.

I have reviewed these documents and have found in them a tremendous basis for the decision making which I must pursue in my office during the next two years.

The Bicentennial is a historic time in which to live and in which to serve our fellow citizens as governmental officials. I hope you will join in the observance of this important period in this nation's history and commit yourself to building a stronger, more just democracy.

In line with the bicentennial goals and philosophy which will benefit all of our people, and in keeping with our interests in building a quality of life for all North Dakotans, I present this message to you. I look forward to the record which will be written by an assembly of true patriots who make up this historic Bicentennial Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota.

A Special Bicentennial Goal

During the past two years, I have worked with the North Dakota American Revolution Bicentennial Commission to promote activities for North Dakota in 1976.

I have also worked to carry out the legislation passed by the 43rd Legislative Assembly to establish a North Dakota Heritage Center.

Our State Legislature has considered the North Dakota Heritage Center as a program which would preserve and provide for the adequate interpretation of North Dakota's heritage.

I was very pleased that the 43rd Legislative Assembly began the process of appropriating funds for the proposed Center. Efforts to gain widespread public support for the Heritage Center are well underway, and are meeting with success.

The North Dakota Heritage Center must be a project of all the people of the state by this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly acting in their behalf. The project should culminate in construction of a landmark which will provide for the physical needs of the state's historical and cultural programs, and represent the vigorous, independent and strong nature of our people and our way of life.

At this time, experts estimate that, for an adequate structure which will provide for the historical interpretative program necessary to preserve the heritage of North Dakota for future generations, a $10 million structure is required. About 60 percent of this total cost should be derived from public funds.

Construction activities for the North Dakota Heritage Center must begin during the Bicentennial so that the historic remnants of our past will be preserved, so that our descendants will be able to gain insight from past cultures, and so that we and those who follow us may take on a greater pride in the quality of our fellow men and women and their accomplishments.

I urge this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly to appropriate general fund revenues to insure the construction of a modern, adequate North Dakota Heritage Center.

Agriculture: Land and Water Resources

Like our country's founders 200 years ago, North Dakota is an agrarian society with nearly 85 percent of our economy based upon agriculture and related services. We are stewards of this legacy of land — it is our responsibility to preserve and enhance this agrarian inheritance.

As stewards of the land, our first responsibility is to protect the very soil from which we earn our living and feed the world. Surface mining for another North Dakota resource, lignite, will increase in the next several years. We cannot afford to lose valuable productive agricultural land. To protect our land, we must have proper surface mine reclamation legislation. We must provide for adequate enforcement of this legislation.

The Mined Land Planning Group was established through the efforts of my representative on the Old West Regional Commission. This unit has done much to secure information necessary to implement proper reclamation techniques.

The results of this Group's research can and have been utilized in the preparation of legislation to strengthen our present surface mine reclamation laws. We must strengthen these laws and we must continue to fund reclamation research and to upgrade our reclamation laws based on additional scientific information from research.

In addition to the attention given to reclamation, adequate research must be completed with regard to saline seeps and other agricultural problems. Such research could prevent tremendous agricultural loss to North Dakota.

High interest rates and soaring land values have combined to jeopardize the existing system of farm unit transfer from a retiring generation to beginning farmers and ranchers. A strong agricultural economy depends upon the farmer's or rancher's ability to acquire land and their ability to finance a healthy operation.

We must continue to seek solutions to this end. The Province of Saskatchewan has taken positive steps by creation of the Saskatchewan Land Bank, a system whereby land can be more easily transferred from generation to generation. Saskatchewan officials report this experiment has been quite successful. The Province of Manitoba has a similar program in operation.

A bill to establish a North Dakota Land Bank System to be administered by the Department of Agriculture will be introduced. Such a measure and other methods of easing the burden of the beginning farmer or rancher deserve your serious consideration.

During the last biennium, North Dakota farmers experienced shortages of fuel and fertilizer. These types of shortages can jeopardize our state's economic base. I believe our long-range planning should consider the possibility of North Dakota producing fuel and fertilizer from lignite for our own use — thus protecting our agriculture economy. I urge you to consider funding increased research for this specific purpose. It would also be an appropriate interim Legislative Council study.

North Dakota has continually faced encroachment on irrigable land. The State Water Commission, of which I am chairman, has the affirmative duty to develop lands for irrigation. The Commission feels that the irrigable potential of land is actually diminished by the construction of electrical transmission lines across irrigable land. For this reason, the State Water Commission has found it necessary to oversee certain power line construction by placing siting conditions on water permits issued to electric generating companies. North Dakota must prevent creation of a virtual spiderweb of power lines across our state which would not only reduce the use of irrigable and tillable land, but also diminish the aesthetic beauty of the countryside.

We must act decisively now because transmission lines are built to last 30 to 40 years. This type of long-term commitment would effectively divide farm land well into the next century. Also, the one-time payment and unregulated eminent domain are undesirable.

Promoting North Dakota's agricultural productivity by proper utilization and control of our water resources is a primary concern. The Garrison Diversion Project deserves our continuous support. However, initial land acquisitions have pointed out the need for revision of our eminent domain laws to make them fair and equitable. We must communicate and work to overcome any negative aspects of what is, overall, a positive program for North Dakota.

Recognizing concerns which exist in regard to Garrison Diversion, I initiated talks with Premier Edward Schreyer of Manitoba which resulted in the establishment of a joint ad hoc committee of professionally qualified persons to study the situation. I also requested the Garrison Diversion Conservancy District to establish an ombudsman to assist in hearing landowners' complaints and a land acquisition or grievance committee to assist in resolving complaints.

The Apple Creek Unit of the Pick Sloan Plan and the West River Diversion Program will be before the Legislative Assembly for funding. Proper utilization of water in the areas affected could significantly enhance the agricultural productivity of western North Dakota, and it would also have a major impact on municipal water supply and industrial diversification for western North Dakota.

However, I have some concerns about the balance of utilization of the proposed West River Diversion Project. I am concerned that the area citizens, who will be most affected, have primary input into the plans for the proposed West River Diversion Project, and that agriculture be given adequate consideration for the use of the water rather than primarily for expanding the lignite mining and energy conversion industry in western North Dakota.

Flooding has been a significant problem for agricultural interests and others in the Devils Lake Basin. I personally met with officials in Devils Lake to consider flood damage in the community during the last biennium and activated a program of aid for this and other flood damaged areas.

Frequent flooding in the Devils Lake Basin has caused severe economic stress for agricultural interests. On the other hand, indiscriminate drainage of this major national waterfowl flyway would be a severe blow to conservationists and hunters. A rational compromise is necessary.

To obtain a workable solution, I have asked legislators, interested individuals from the Basin and a recently created Subcommittee of the Natural Resources Council to work together.

Based on their recommendations, I urge the Legislative Assembly to support and fund a mechanism to develop a master plan for managing the water and related land use of the entire Basin. The State Water Commission should also receive sufficient authority and funding to implement the master plan.

Progress is being made toward a solution of the problems of the border drainage area of the Pembina River in northeastern North Dakota and southern Manitoba. Representatives of the external affairs offices of Canada and of the United States have been working with state and provincial officials in this matter.

The Souris Red Rainy River Basins project is worthy of our continued support.

In another agricultural area, North Dakota should continue to pursue international agricultural opportunities. While in Japan in 1974, I discussed with Japanese governmental officials the possibility of establishing a grain storage reserve for Japan in our state utilizing North Dakota wheat. The plan, which has the support of the Industrial Commission, the State Wheat Commission and the Management of the State Mill and Elevator at Grand Forks, would utilize up to three million bushels of unused grain storage space at the Mill and Elevator. Considerable interest has been shown and discussions are continuing.

A Charge: Responsible Resource Utilization

When this nation was founded 200 years ago, the agrarian community recognized the importance of land productivity and stewardship of soil. As 20th century stewards, we have an opportunity to insure the proper utilization of our resources. We in North Dakota are facing a decade of decision with regard to resource development.

North Dakota must direct any future developments on our own terms. We cannot wait until billions of dollars have been invested in gasification or electrical generation plants, or until we experience the influx of thousands of out-of-state employees.

We must continue to control our own destiny. We must insure, for example, that new jobs related to any development go to North Dakotans.

To help in coordinating natural resource activities, I have appointed a coordinator of natural resources in the Executive Office to assist communication and action in the area of natural resources on behalf of the citizens of the state.

It is obvious that the topic of natural resources has received much exposure in the media in the past two years. Although there are many other essential issues facing you this session, the attention which has been given to natural resources utilization and development is deserved. I have given it much attention during the past two years as Governor, and you know of my concern. I established a Natural Resources Council to increase and improve communication with all state agencies dealing with natural resources. In addition, I established a Governor's Energy Task Force with legislative assistance to study coal development impact.

I am pleased to report that through the Old West Regional Commission, we have secured more than a half million dollars for study of the impact of lignite utilization and mined land reclamation in North Dakota. The Mined Land Planning Group, composed of ten professionally qualified North Dakotans from our universities and related services, are in charge of the major portions of this project.

The Legislature can do much in this session to act on behalf of the people of North Dakota and in their best interests. Legislation must be passed to regulate coal leasing practices. A strong coal leasing practices act would be a step in the right direction.

Surface ownership of land ought to be the dominant estate. The owner of the mineral rights also has a contract that must be honored, but certainly not at the expense of the surface owner. I urge you to support significant surface owner protection legislation.

Among the hazards of increased resource utilization are air and water emissions and the degradation of water quality caused by surface mining. Unless these factors are strictly regulated, North Dakotans and their descendants could be the losers. I urge strong legislation for air pollution control for establishing overall state environmental policy and for setting a state environmental law enforcement policy.

Several executive agencies have been working with the Legislative Council and two universities for the past few months developing a project known as a North Dakota Regional Environmental Assessment Program (ND-REAP). If properly funded, this proposed project could provide a broad new dimension of information to assist legislative, executive and local community planning efforts. The project could pay dividends through this projected period of natural resource utilization in the state by coordinating the research and technical efforts of the universities, state agencies and the legislature. It is appropriate during our Bicentennial to learn from history in planning for the future. Historically, North Dakota passed through the wheat rush and the oil rush and now we are faced with the coal rush. Little, if any, planning preceded the former two. In the wheat rush, the dream of the immigrants who homesteaded here in the early 1900's was over for many North Dakotans by the 1930's. Our population had peaked at 680,000. Drastically low farm prices for all coupled with drought and crop failures for many caused mass abandonment of farms and communities because of taxes and mortgages they could not meet.

The oil rush of the 1950's did not directly affect the entire state. Legislation that provided for a return of a portion of the oil and gas production tax to local units of government where the oil production took place is all that saved many counties, school districts and cities from irreparable financial depression. Even so, there are instances where the boom effects of oil development have since subsided leaving the communities little the better off than before. The question is constantly raised: Why does gasoline produced from North Dakota crude, refined in North Dakota refineries cost more here close to the refineries than, for example, in Minneapolis? The benefits to our state from the oil rush may some day be questioned if in return North Dakotans must continue to pay a premium price for the petroleum products derived therefrom.

We must make sure first of all that we do not experience a "coal rush." "Cautious, orderly development" must continue to be our watchword. Further expansion of energy conversion facilities should be in keeping with the overall impact on our quality of life.

We must make sure that our productive land is preserved for future generations. We must make sure that if we share our energy resources, that it is not at the expense of feeding the world. We cannot afford a foodstuffs versus energy standoff. We are charged as public officials with assuring responsible resource utilization.

Government Organization/Open Government

Two hundred years ago when our nation's founders were forging a system of government, they proposed certain organizational units in order to best serve the people.

It is appropriate during this Bicentennial year and as North Dakota approaches its own centennial, that we continue to provide the best organizational tools for effective state government for all the people of North Dakota.

To be an effective tool for the people it represents, government must adapt itself to a continually changing world. I believe it is essential for this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly to act responsively in meeting people's needs today, just as our forefathers did two hundred years ago. This responsiveness means efficiency and economy in government through reorganization of government. I believe we must examine the complete structure of state government.

Soon after taking office, I requested that the chairman of the Legislative Council establish an interim legislative committee to examine the organization of our state institutions. This committee recommends transfer of the Grafton State School and the State Hospital at San Haven from the Director of Institutions Office to the Department of Health. I concur with this recommendation and I urge the Legislature to consider this transfer as recommended.

Legislation has also been recommended permitting the Director of Institutions to transfer the educational program for the deaf-blind from the Grafton State School to the School for the Blind in Grand Forks. Both these proposals concerning institutional organization merit passage.

The Legislative Assembly has studied and discussed the concept of a Department of Natural Resources since 1942. The time has now come to act. A Department of Natural Resources is a sound proposal for consolidation of related natural resource management agencies. The concept of consolidation bears repeating — the Department of Natural Resources would not create a new agency; rather, it would consolidate existing agencies such as the State Water Commission, the Game and Fish Department, the Reclamation Division of the Public Service Commission, the Geological Survey, the Park Service, the State Outdoor Recreation Agency, and the Forest Service into one cohesive agency. Such an agency will permit a more interdisciplinary, coordinated approach to natural resource management.

At no time in our state and nation's history has it been more important to deal in the most effective manner with natural resources. A Department of Natural Resources for North Dakota is needed, it is right, and it is long overdue.

Any large organization must rely heavily on an effective personnel system. State government is the state's largest employer. However, it does not have a centralized, modern personnel system. The foundation for a comprehensive personnel system has been developed during the interim so that a working personnel system model could be presented to the Legislative Assembly. The personnel system has been guided by a joint legislative-executive steering committee. Other centralized services of state government, such as purchasing, data processing and payroll have proved to be invaluable for economy and efficiency in state government. The model Central Personnel Division has already demonstrated the service it can extend to the state through interim salary administration. It is important, however, if we are to avoid the serious problems we have encountered this past year, to have a mechanism that will allow for long-range salary planning. I believe a central personnel system will be as valuable if permitted to prove itself.

Efficiency of government depends greatly upon the housing of the agencies and their employees. The Capitol has been an excellent investment for the state. It, however, is not large enough to contain all state agencies, and it is in need of major renovation. Additional space must be provided.

The State Land Department has proposed the financing and construction of an office building as an investment for the schools of North Dakota. The concept is sound and has received the endorsement of the Capitol Grounds Planning Commission. I believe approval should be given as soon as possible for the new building.

Concerning the existing Capitol, I have recommended $2.65 million in the Executive Budget to install a modern environmental control system for the building which would help preserve the condition and value of our Capitol, improve working conditions within the structure as well as conserve at least 50 percent of the natural gas presently being consumed every year. Both proposals are sound capital investments and good business as they will ultimately repay the taxpayer well for the initial investment.

The State and Federal Committee has done fine work concerning upgrading the existing communications system. The state communications system needs improvement, but in doing so we must be careful not to place total reliance on telephone or wire communications. In floods, blizzards or other natural disasters, we need the flexibility of the radio and microwave, such as in the present Highway Department system.

After working with the model personnel system this past year and after witnessing the problems in implementing the deferred compensation program enacted by the past session, I became acutely aware of the inadequacy of the numerous retirement programs for state employees. To provide state employees with deserved and adequate retirement income, and to improve employee retention rates, it is necessary to enact sound retirement programs. The Legislative Assembly should study both the possibility of incorporating the benefit-formula plan into the North Dakota retirement program, and it should study the entire retirement program for the possibility of integrating the numerous existing programs into one comprehensive state system.

The need for more responsive government is evidenced by reorganization efforts and other proposals. In attempting to better serve the people of North Dakota, I have assigned a full-time staff assistant in revenue sharing to coordinate revenue sharing monies coming into the state.

The Bank of North Dakota has proven to be a very effective tool for the people of North Dakota. To make the Bank more responsive, I urge your support of legislation which would provide for the establishment of a municipal bond bank within the Bank of North Dakota. The creation of a bond bank would do much to assist political subdivisions in seeking adequate low interest capital to finance public improvements by providing for the purchase of municipal bond issues by the bond bank and by providing for the sale of bond bank bond issues.

Open Government

North Dakota's open meeting policy should be encouraged and continued. Recorded roll call votes are likewise a necessary ingredient of open government.

Planning

I support a strong planning program as a means of achieving the orderly development of our state's human and natural resources. The New Federalism, designed to improve state-federal relations, requires that states provide adequate planning to qualify for state administration of federally funded programs.

I believe comprehensive land use planning is the logical approach to facilitate the wise and discriminate use of these valuable resources. The ultimate decisions for land use planning rest primarily with local government and I believe the legislation being recommended by the natural resources committees support local government by providing enforceable and adequate zoning laws and ordinances. The state has an obligation to provide technical and financial assistance in the development of these local plans through the State Planning Division and the Regional Planning Councils.

I stress the importance of the State Planning Division because it is the agency responsible for the overall coordination and implementation of the planning programs.

I also emphasize that planning must be decentralized to the level of authority responsible for its implementation — local governments.

Education

In our country's beginning, education was not an opportunity readily available to all. The broadening progress of education in our society is one of the very positive results of our democratic foundations.

North Dakota must continue this democratic principle in extending educational opportunities.

In keeping with this tenet, it is necessary for North Dakota to increase foundation payments for schools.

Senate Bill 2026 provides a per pupil base of $620 the first year and $680 the second year in the biennium. This is an increase from the present $540 base of the last session. School districts will contribute 20 mills of their local mill levy, counties 21 mills and the balance of money needed to make the payments will be paid from a state appropriation.

Transportation is also equalized to school districts by the inclusion of support programs. School districts, however, are not required to contribute to the transportation support program.

A major change recommended in SB 2026 will permit all school districts in the state to establish mill levy ceilings. This previously was limited to school districts with a population of 4,000 or more. This statutory change recognizes the impossibility of meeting inflated costs with a fixed support program. School boards, therefore, are allowed some flexibility in meeting rapidly inflating costs.

Payments for existing kindergarten pupils are included in the Executive Budget, as recommended in the committee legislation. However, these kindergarten monies and legislation only provide for those students now in kindergarten. Should more schools implement a public kindergarten program, then the Legislature should make provisions through necessary legislation.

Legislation also has been suggested which would permit school boards to establish kindergarten programs on their own motion. A school board establishing a kindergarten program would have the authority to submit a question of providing a mill levy sufficient to finance the program to electors of the school district. Any mill levies approved by the voters would be levied until the kindergarten program was discontinued or the school board determined the levy was no longer necessary.

I recommend favorable consideration of measures relating to kindergarten for all of North Dakota.

I have recommended an additional 38.4 million dollars in the Executive Budget, which is the amount recommended by the Committee on Education "B" for the foundation program.

I have also recommended an increase of over four and a quarter million dollars in special education. It is vital that we provide quality education for our citizens at all levels.

There is legislation before you concerning cooperative vocational education centers and programs. I support the philosophy of creating multi-district vocational education boards by three or more school districts. I also feel that allowing accreditation of courses in cooperative vocational education courses, providing state transportation aid for cooperative vocational programs, and permitting a mill levy for participating and approved cooperative vocational education programs would vastly strengthen this area of education in North Dakota. This action will permit the state to move forward in providing quality vocational education to the less populated areas of our state.

Two hundred years ago, our country's founders created a Committee of Correspondence to provide an adequate communication system during the Revolutionary War. Today it would be appropriate, as we observe the Bicentennial, to further our heritage of democratic communication by extending more opportunities to all of our citizens through public television.

Education is a continuing process throughout life. Statewide public television will continue the educational opportunities for people at all levels, and provide fine entertainment alternatives. To initiate a successful public television system, I have recommended $4,570,980 for capital outlay in operating expenditures in the establishment of statewide public television.

The impact of modern television on the mind and behavior of young children is beyond comprehension. The time is long overdue that we provide more wholesome, educational viewing and learning television programs for our children. I urge your approval of statewide public television.

Taxation With Representation

Many decades ago when our country was founded, the revolutionary cry of outrage was "Taxation without Representation." Ever since then, officials of our representative democracy have tried to make sure that any taxation was in the best interests of all of the people. It is with the citizens of the state in mind, that I make the following recommendations with regard to taxation.

First of all, North Dakota needs a comprehensive proposal for taxing future energy development. Your responsibility and mine is to evaluate our present laws to determine whether they accurately prepare North Dakota for the immediate and long-range prospects of coal development.

North Dakota's lignite resources are estimated to be 350 billion tons, and to constitute 22 percent of the total lignite resources in the United States. Several hydro-electric and electric energy generating plants are utilizing coal and are generating, in total, 1,302,100 kilowatts.

In addition to electrical energy production, North Dakota is facing the introduction of an additional energy producing industry: coal gasification.

If such coal utilization continues and expands, for the remainder of the 20th century and for many years thereafter, North Dakota will experience an alteration in the economic, social and environmental lifestyle to which it has been accustomed. A responsible state government is sensitive to the fact that early planning for the effects of mass energy development is not at all a premature task. Whether or not the state prepares itself and its citizens for the era of energy development and the long aftermath, depends primarily on the state's fiscal stability. Economic preparedness is directly related to the taxation of new industries, and under present laws of the state, North Dakota is only prepared to meet the challenges of limited energy development.

Most of us generally agree that our present system of taxation requires several revisions in relation to energy development, because we recognize that while much of our lignite coal is laying dormant and continues to be abundant at the present time, the reality of mass coal production in the immediate future means that North Dakota's recoverable coal deposits could be virtually depleted within one person's lifetime.

I am concerned that the citizens of North Dakota be protected when and if this one-time harvest comes about.

I believe that a severance tax must be enacted into law to reimburse the people of North Dakota for relinquishing a precious natural resource. The severance tax passed by the last Legislature, which would have gone into effect July 1, 1975, was totally inadequate (5 cents per ton) to provide for the needs of the people of this state. I vetoed that severance tax because it would not have gone into effect until July 1, 1975, and because I felt we had time to develop an adequate tax proposal. Our chance to do this is now.

The design and implementation of a taxing system requires cautious, protective consideration so that a new taxing program is both equitable and mindful of the fact that North Dakotans must bear the least possible hardship for sharing their mineral wealth with the out-of-state consumer in the years that follow.

The following Severance and Energy Conversion Privilege Taxation Program is designed to achieve these objectives:

Part 1 — A severance tax would be imposed on all lignite mined in North Dakota. Since estimates illustrate that future large scale strip mining operations would rapidly deplete the state's supply of lignite, the revenues from a severance tax may very well be needed in the future to assist North Dakota in searching for alternative sources of energy for its own use as well as to supplement possible tax base loss due to strip mined lands. The severance tax would be implemented in the following manner:

10 percent of the value or 25c per ton, whichever is greater, effective July 1, 1975

20 percent of the value or 50c per ton, whichever is greater, effective July 1, 1977

30 percent of the value or 75c per ton, whichever is greater, effective July 1, 1979

Part 2 — An annual Energy Conversion Privilege Tax would be levied on coal gasification plants, on electrical energy generating units of 250,000 kilowatts or larger, and on all facilities used for the transmission of electrical energy, water and synthetic gas which are built in conjunction with the energy plants. The Energy Conversion Privilege Tax would be administered at a rate of 1½ percent of the value of the energy plants and the transmission facilities. Electrical energy generating units beginning construction before January 1, 1975, together with their transmission facilities should continue to be taxed according to the provisions of present law. The 1½ percent tax on the value of energy plants and transmission facilities would be in lieu of property taxes on those installations. However, the land on which they stand would be subject to local real estate taxes.

Part 3 — Concurrent with the imposition of a Severance and Energy Conversion Privilege Tax Program, there would be the elimination of the 4 percent sales tax on all coal sales, now taxable under the sales tax law, and on all electricity sold to North Dakota consumers.

Part 4 — In distributing the revenue collected from the severance tax on coal and the Energy Conversion Privilege Tax, both the immediate economic impact on coal development and the long-range effects of energy production must be taken into consideration.

Distribution of Revenue Received From the Severance Tax on Coal

Fifty percent of the revenue from the severance tax would be placed in a state permanent trust fund. By allocating a large proportion of severance tax revenue to a trust fund, the state accomplishes the purpose of planning for future, potential ramifications of energy development that perhaps cannot be forecast at the present time. Forty percent of the revenue received from the severance tax would be placed in the state general fund to assure that the performance of state government, in providing for its citizens' economic needs, is not impeded or retarded during the years of coal production activities. The remaining 10 percent of the revenue received from the severance tax on coal would be returned to counties which serve as locations for mining operations, in order that those counties and other political subdivisions might use the additional revenue to compensate them for the effects of coal development on their communities.

Distribution of Revenue Received From the 1½ Percent Energy Conversion Privilege Tax

Local government would receive 15 percent of the Energy Conversion Privilege Tax revenues. However, the 15 percent allocation would only be returned to those counties which serve as locations for electrical energy generating plants and-or coal gasification plants, and the counties would share this allocation with the political subdivisions. The remaining 85 percent of the revenue received from the Energy Conversion Privilege Tax would be placed in the state general fund. A portion of the revenue placed in the state's general fund through the generation of the 1½ percent Energy Conversion Privilege Tax would be made available by legislative appropriation to an Impact Commission for the purpose of reimbursing counties and other political subdivisions that incur additional costs that occur because of coal development. For example, an electrical energy generating plant may be located in one county, but an increase in population resulting from the construction of the plant may cause a neighboring county to bear part of the responsibility for providing services to new residents in the area. The neighboring county would be able to apply to the Impact Commission for financial assistance to meet the impact of population growth.

In accordance with guidelines established by the Impact Commission, the State Planning Division would screen applications and forward them to the Impact Commission with appropriate recommendations attached.

The membership of the Impact Commission would consist of:

1. The Governor of North Dakota (or the Governor's representative), who will also be the chairperson of the Impact Commission.
2. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction
3. The President of the League of Cities
4. The President of the County Commissioners' Association
5. The Chairperson of the North Dakota Legislature's Budget Section
6. The State Tax Commissioner
7. The State Health Officer

Integral to choosing a method of taxing coal development is the decision to build a comprehensive tax program which would both prepare and protect the state and its people. At the same time, a realistic tax program must be fair and equitable to all industries subject to taxation. The rapid influx of energy producing industries, the large scale mining expansions, and the construction and operation of huge power plants, will temporarily and perhaps permanently alter the character and quality of life in this state.

This Tax Program illustrates that a system of taxing the development of North Dakota's lignite coal can and will work toward good government and above all work for the benefit of the people of this state. This would truly be taxation with representation.

Property Tax Classification

This past November, Tax Commissioner Byron L. Dorgan and Agriculture Commissioner Myron Just conducted a hearing on the concept of a property tax classification law. The hearing produced a general consensus that the assessing system in North Dakota needs to be reformed and changed substantially in order that we may attract more qualified assessors and provide them with better tools to do their jobs. Based on the hearing, I recommend that the Legislature designate this area as a subject of an interim study during the two years between the 1975 and 1977 Legislatures.

Legislative action should be taken that would limit the amount of increases that a taxpayer will experience in his or her property tax bill during the coming two years. This feature would give some protection to the North Dakota property owner from excessive increases in property taxes as a result of the inflationary pressures that have been driving property values upward at an unprecedented rate.

We need to modify our laws granting property tax relief to senior citizens. I recommend that we adopt a "circuit breaker plan" for giving assistance to low income and senior citizens. The circuit breaker plan would prevent property tax overload by measuring property tax to a person's gross income and then providing a method of helping those citizens whose income is declining while the tax on their property is increasing.

We should begin now to eliminate the Vietnam bonus surtax. We should appropriate sufficient monies out of the general fund to eliminate two years of the surtax during the coming biennium. We should continue this practice during succeeding bienniums also. This will relieve the taxpayers of this added tax, and will pay off our obligations from the general fund two years at a time.

I believe you should consider eliminating the business privilege tax and couple this action with an adjustment in the corporate income tax rates to make them equitable with individual income tax rates.

Our state estate tax laws need to be modernized and updated. I recommend that we adopt at least a basic $60,000 exemption in our estate tax law and that the total estate tax collections be earmarked for local government.

Transportation and Safety

Like the founders of our country 200 years ago, we, as public officials, are concerned with the safety and welfare of our citizens.

This means that we are concerned about improving law enforcement tools for traffic control.

While traffic deaths are down for 1974, it is significant that 160 people have died as a result of traffic accidents this past year, and more than 3,000 were injured as a result of traffic accidents. In economic terms, our state suffered a loss of some $15 million this past year as a result of traffic accidents.

I support "per se" legislation to assist in controlling highway deaths due to alcohol. This type of legislation would assist law enforcement in making it an offense "per se" to have ten hundredths of one percent of alcohol in the blood while driving a motor vehicle. Alcohol was a factor in 69 percent of the state's highway traffic fatalities in the first 11 months of 1974. I urge the Legislature to pass this important legislation to help save lives in North Dakota.

Another vital safety assist would be the passage of a motor vehicle inspection law. This is essential for the safety of our people.

North Dakota can reasonably anticipate that the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration will penalize the state by cutting off all highway safety funds — approximately $700,000 per year — and 10 percent of federal aid highway construction funds — over $3 million — as of July 1, 1975, unless the 44th Legislative Assembly enacts an appropriate motor vehicle inspection law.

We have had similar threatened deadlines in the past which have not materialized and have tended not to react seriously. However, in view of the present position of the Department of Transportation and the pending consumer suit against the Secretary of Transportation to require that he impose sanctions against those states which do not comply with all Federal Safety Standards, I anticipate that no reprieve will be extended beyond July 1, 1975, for North Dakota.

The need for public transportation in rural areas and less populated urban areas is being increasingly recognized in order to enhance access of rural population to employment, health care and public services. The aged, handicapped and persons without private transportation should not be isolated. The solution would be to allow the Highway Commissioner to receive and expend funds made available by Congress for rural transportation. I hope you will approve legislation to facilitate these rural and small urban area transportation programs.

Labor

As we reaffirm the principles upon which our nation was founded during this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly, I believe we must be concerned about giving people equal opportunities. This means giving employees equal opportunities also. For this reason, I urge your support of a North Dakota Equal Employment Opportunity Act, which prohibits an employer, employment agency, labor organization or licensing agency from discriminating in employment practices because of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age (40-65) or marital status.

I know that you are considering legislation which would extend to public employees the opportunity to bargain collectively with their employer. I support such legislation. Employees deserve the right to be listened to with respect to their concerns over their working conditions and their rates of pay. These matters can be negotiated into a contract within the private sector and that privilege should be extended to the public sector. A law of this nature would provide a mechanism to resolve disputes that could potentially interrupt service to the public.

I believe we must give consideration to legislation which would extend Workmen's Compensation coverage and improve the benefit formula for individuals covered by Workmen's Compensation. I feel it is time we make Workmen's Compensation benefits available to agricultural employees throughout our state. They deserve the same protection in the event of an injury or serious illness as any other employee. The benefits should also be increased to provide compensation equal to two-thirds of the weekly wage of the employee.

I also encourage a study of the problem that exists for those individuals receiving Workmen's Compensation benefits who became eligible many years ago and whose benefits are no longer adequate in view of today's cost of living. Inflation has created a severe hardship for these recipients. I pledge the full cooperation of the Workmen's Compensation Department to work with you in finding a solution to this problem.

You will be discussing legislation to expand coverage of unemployment insurance and improved unemployment insurance benefits to two-thirds of an individual's existing wage not to exceed 50 percent of the average weekly wage.

Again, I believe unemployment insurance must be made available to agricultural employees as well as public employees. Over 18,000 employees are in these two categories.

The purpose of Unemployment Insurance and Workmen's Compensation is to provide income maintenance at two levels. These programs help individuals avoid personal economic hardships and they also sustain purchasing power on the main streets throughout our state. This kind of income maintenance is particularly important in our smaller towns and communities.

Each of these areas of legislation that affect workers in our state give the people of North Dakota an opportunity to determine their conditions for their own well-being.

I believe if we fail to act in these areas, we will abrogate our responsibilities and the federal government will assume the responsibility. I do not believe the people of North Dakota want this.

I am pleased to report that two federal job programs have been able to assist North Dakota in providing more services for its citizens. Two federal job programs have provided more than $900,000 during 1974 to hire personnel for state agencies and state institutions. These programs are the Public Employment Program (PEP) and the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA). I have given special attention to these programs within my office, in an attempt to make sure that these employees were placed where the need was greatest and to serve the greatest number of people possible.

State Employee Salaries

One of my major concerns during the past two years has been state employees' salaries. I met with state employees at the Grafton State School to discuss their salary problem. With the assistance of the Emergency Commission, we took action to alleviate state employee salary problems at the Grafton State School, the State Hospital and the State Penitentiary.

Recognizing the overall inadequacy of state employees' salaries, I have included salary increases and upgrading in the budget which I have already presented to you.

I met with legislative leaders this fall to discuss the immediate implementation of salary increases when the session begins.

I hope, and I am confident, that you will give state employees' salaries your very first consideration during this legislative session.

To avoid a recurrence of past state employee salary adjustment problems, I recommend amending present state law in this area.

I suggest that when the Emergency Commission determines that an extremity exists, the legislative subcommittee on the budget would be notified for action based on the following provisions:

—Salaries payed to state employees may be adjusted by the legislative subcommittee on the budget, according to the National Consumer Price Index for urban wage earners and clerical workers which is published by the United States Department of Labor.

—The adjustment of salaries be computed by using the percentage yearly change on all items from June of the preceding year to June of the present year, but in no event should salaries be increased more than six percent in any given year above the amount provided for in the biennial budgets.

This would give us a vehicle to provide inflationary relief to state employees.

I hope that consideration will be given to this recommendation.

Energy

As I have stated, energy was the first problem I dealt with after my inauguration two years ago. The careful utilization and conservation of our energy resources on an immediate and long-term basis is still of paramount concern to all of us.

I established an Office of Energy Management to assist in dealing with this problem. This office has been helpful in making sure that North Dakotans had necessary fuel resources.

On November 21, 1973, I proclaimed a state of disaster emergency for North Dakota since I found that the probability of a critical fuel shortage constituted imminent threat of widespread or severe damage, injury, or loss of life or property to the State of North Dakota and that emergency action was necessary to avert such damage or danger. I have renewed the proclamation monthly to continue the state of disaster emergency.

On the same day, by Executive Order, I directed that the speed limit in the State of North Dakota be reduced. This Executive Order should be replaced by legislation at the earliest opportunity by the necessary statutory amendments. Immediately upon passage of legislation reducing the speed limit, or when the Legislature by concurrent resolution so directs, I will terminate the state of disaster emergency pursuant to Section 37-17.1-05 of the North Dakota Century Code.

There were three very positive and tangible results from the emergency reduction of the speed limit:

Motorists used about 10 percent less gasoline this past year as compared to previous years. The North Dakota Highway Department reports that gas consumption the first ten months of 1974 was 158.7 million gallons, compared with 176.5 million gallons during the same period in 1973.

Highway fatalities dropped from 208 in 1973 to 160 in 1974.

The state was brought into compliance with federal law requiring the 55 mile per hour speed limit.

A Challenge of Concern: Human Resources

An early American governmental philosopher, John Wise, writing before the American Revolution, said: "The end of all good government is to cultivate humanity and promote the happiness of all, and the good of every man and all his rights . . . and in his life . . ."

To further this end there will be proposed in this session the 27th Amendment to the Constitution. Although the 14th Amendment, effective in 1868, guarantees all "equal protection of the laws," it is evident that this constitutional mandate has not been applied to men and women alike. It is difficult to believe that women did not get the right to vote until 1920.

No doubt the debate over women's suffrage was accompanied by dire predictions of far-reaching adverse consequences. Yet who would stand up and deny their right to vote today. The Equal Rights Amendment for Men and Women deserves favorable consideration by this Legislative Assembly.

As we approach the Bicentennial of our nation, it is especially appropriate that we consider the special contributions and needs of our native Americans. The Indian people of North Dakota have a rich heritage. This heritage should be provided in curriculum studies for all the school systems in the state. The historical foundation begun by this state's first citizens must be fully represented in plans for the North Dakota Heritage Center.

From our earliest beginnings, we have been concerned with human resources in America. In North Dakota, we extend this to mean concern for human beings in relation to their total being — their health and the social services which they require.

The future of health care and local public health services in a rural state is a critical area and one which deserves our careful concern and attention.

Providing health services takes money, and I have covered the budget needs for the Department of Health in my budget message. I hope that the broad program of the State Department of Health merit legislative and financial support to maintain a better quality of life for North Dakotans.

The mental health centers in North Dakota have developed outstanding community programs for serving the mentally ill. Each center should be financially supported.

A maximum security facility for the mentally ill offender is needed in North Dakota. Last spring I asked a task force in cooperation with administrators of the State Hospital and the State Penitentiary to conduct a study of this need and recommend a solution. It is recommended that the facility be built on the grounds of the State Hospital and funds for its construction are included in the executive budget. This facility is needed to serve the Penitentiary inmate who is in need of psychiatric service, the individual referred by courts for pre-trial and-or pre-sentence evaluation, and for Hospital patients who are considered dangerous or unmanageable.

To insure high-quality health care for all citizens in rural areas, we must concentrate on the availability of doctors complimented with paramedics and medical technicians. At the same time as we continue to upgrade health care, we must work toward minimizing total medical costs to insure that all our citizens can afford adequate medical care.

In these days of rapidly shrinking purchasing power, we must be mindful of the financial plight of families and aged and disabled individuals who must rely on Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Medical Assistance, Food Stamps, and Supplemental Security Income (SSI), or other forms of fixed income for their livelihood. In some instances, families and individuals with no income or very limited incomes may not qualify for these programs. For example, there are many persons who are too seriously disabled to work, but who do not meet the stringent "disability" criteria of the federal government and, therefore, do not qualify for SSI. These persons often have no recourse but to apply for the county General Assistance Program, with its limited funding base, for maintenance and, in some cases, expensive medical care.

A new program which will be presented to you by the Social Service Board of North Dakota is one which would provide the state's share of an $8 million Medicaid Program for medically needy children. It is estimated that in North Dakota there are approximately 6,000 children under age 21 who would be eligible for this Medicaid program under Title XIX. At the present time some of this medical expense is borne by county welfare boards with no help from the state or federal government. Some of the cost is absorbed by providing medical services, but many children go without needed medical care.

In this biennium, nearly $5 million ($4,928,500), or 57 percent of the cost of the program, is available from the federal government, provided that the state provides $3,193,200, or 37 percent of the cost, and the remaining 6 percent of the cost — $515,700 — be charged to county government.

This is a new program and it is one which I believe deserves your consideration.

In view of the general trend toward a longer life span and early retirement, the needs of the state's 94,000 older North Dakotans deserve fair and equitable consideration. Opportunities and services for older citizens to enable them to maintain a meaningful role in their communities have expanded substantially in the past few years. Social service programs have been designed to meet their personal and social needs by providing transportation, legal counsel, friendly visiting, health services, and well-balanced meals in individual homes or in social centers. In addition, two adult day care centers have been developed as alternatives to nursing home care. While much has been accomplished, a great deal remains to be done. Many older citizens are being served, but many more remain isolated and must be provided with services which will enhance their senior years.

One of the primary goals of all social service programs in North Dakota is to help make it possible for people to remain in their homes and communities whenever possible. One of the hallmarks of North Dakota history is the strong drive of its people to be community and family oriented. Most people want to be in their home community — close to their friends and loved ones. Community service programs such as Meals on Wheels and Homemaker Home Health Aid Services are being developed to allow the elderly and the ill to remain in their own homes for as long as possible.

At this time, an effort is being made to develop community facilities which enable institutionalized individuals to return to community living. Programs such as Hostels or Halfway Houses can serve individuals who are retarded, physically handicapped or mentally ill or individuals who have come into conflict with the law thus easing their transition back into a productive place in society. I encourage the continued expansion of these types of services in North Dakota.

These administrative and supervisory agencies are required to deal with an array of increasingly demanding federally-imposed, accountability standards in all programs. To illustrate, new regulations released by the Department of Agriculture for the Food Stamp Program call for a much more complex application process, more intensive supervision, greater outreach efforts, and more demanding quality control features. Failure of a state to meet these standards, scheduled to be effective shortly, could result in failure to qualify for the 50 percent federal matching of administrative costs of the program. You may want to consider the increase of several staff persons in this administrative area to insure that our state meets federal qualifications in this area.

The Governor's Council on Human Resources has prepared an extensive legislative report from the Committee on Children and Youth, the Committee on Aging, the Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped, and the Commission on the Status of Women. I call this to your attention because this report contains many valuable suggestions in each of the four human resources areas with which the Council deals.

For all officials elected by the citizens of North Dakota, people must be our main priority.

Economic Development, Tourism and Recreation

During 1974, new and expanding industry provided more than 2,000 new jobs in North Dakota. Industrial capital investment totaled nearly $100 million during the same period, and this figure does not include the investment in electric generating and transmission facilities.

North Dakota seems to be bucking a national economic trend in some respects. In October of 1974, unemployment in North Dakota was 2.9 percent, the lowest ever recorded for that month. At about the same time, the nation was reporting an unemployment rate of 6.5 percent, the highest in 12 years.

In many ways, we have been fortunate in terms of our state's economic situation in recent years — in a state in which agriculture is the number one economic base.

However, we do have economic concerns. We are concerned about young people leaving our state, after receiving education and training. We are concerned about meaningful job opportunities for all North Dakotans. We are concerned about economic diversification.

You may wish to consider a strengthening and expansion of our state's Business and Industrial Development Department to deal with some of these concerns. I hope you support BIDD's recommendation.

You may wish to facilitate a community development program similar to the one operated by BIDD from 1959 to 1968. A community self-help program could assist North Dakota communities in expanding their economics and avoid many of the problems which result from lack of planning and preparation.

An expanding and contributing economic force in North Dakota is tourism.

When our nation was founded, a trip to the nation's Capital City was an extensive journey from almost anywhere in the country. Today we travel from coast to coast to enjoy and learn about the heritage of our country. This "pioneer trekking" spirit can be expected to continue as we approach our nation's Bicentennial year, 1976.

The people of North Dakota are gaining substantial benefits from such travel and from governmental activities in the area of tourism and recreation. Tourism programs provide our people with tax relief, employment and the opportunity to meet vacationers from other states and nations. Recreation is the key to the health and well-being of our people and great strides have been made to make quality recreation available to our people and visitors.

Tourism is North Dakota's third largest industry. It is impressive and pleasing to note that since the establishment of the State Travel Bureau, employment in North Dakota's service industry involving automobile food, and lodging services has doubled. Literally millions of dollars in sales and gasoline taxes accumulate in the State Treasury because visitors choose to spend part or all of their vacation in North Dakota.

Recreation developments include an excellent state park system with an impressive record of service to our people and the ever increasing requirements of Americans for leisure time activities. In 1974, visitation to North Dakota State Parks alone increased to nearly 800,000. In addition to park service sites, we can point to the value of water impoundments for recreational purposes and historical sites which bring meaning to our history in the minds of our youth and our visitors.

North Dakota's recent success in building economic benefits from tourism and quality recreational facilities can be traced directly to the quality environment in which we live. Programs in these important areas which relate so directly to the welfare of our people must receive sufficient funding to meet the demands placed upon the respective programs. Closely related to adequate funding for programs in this area, will be legislative efforts which protect our environment and the future of North Dakota's outdoors for generations to come. Programs which protect our clean air and wildlife, clean water and entire natural environment are in the best interests of tourism, recreation, our people and our visitors. I urge you to look favorably on programs related to economic development, tourism and recreation.

Conclusion

I claim not to have covered or addressed myself to all of the important issues or services of our state, or those that will be considered by this Bicentennial Legislative Assembly. I have attempted to indicate broad general areas of concern, with accompanying observations and comments, to indicate the tone and direction that I believe will best meet the present and future needs of our people.

As we once again embark upon the biennial meeting to attend the affairs of state, let us do so with the resolve that if we have differences of opinion, they will be honest differences and if we make mistakes, they will be honest mistakes. For there is no fault in one's failure to find the solution to a problem — fault lies in one's failure to attempt the solution. I know that your commitment is the same as mine — to make every attempt possible to find solutions to our problems.

I need and solicit the help and counsel of you and your leadership from both the Senate and House and from both sides of the political aisle. I look forward to a hard working and productive session. It will be so if each of us assumes our full share of the responsibilities of the office to which we were elected. We can offer no more than that to the people of our state — they deserve no less.

As we look forward to this nation's third century, I hope that this session will write a record worthy of the title, North Dakota's Bicentennial Legislative Assembly.

Legislative Budget Message From Governor Arthur A. Link

To the 44th Legislative Assembly — 1974

Pursuant to Chapter 54-44.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, I hereby submit the Governor's Budget Report for the 1975-77 Biennium for your consideration and action.

This is the first Biennial Budget that I have had the privilege to submit to you. This budget proposal has been assembled with the aim of granting immediate salary adjustments to our state employees at all levels of state government and consideration of this need deserves first priority.

The budget which I proposed to you is fiscally sound and programatically adequate; it has been developed with full regard for both real needs and valuable resources. It is my policy to meet all legitimate needs while at the same time carefully conserving our resources.

It is an adequate, accurate, and responsible budget. Any budget plan effectively forces subsequent year decisions at the time of its unveiling. We have been blessed with high economic activity in this state over the last two years. General Fund revenues for the current biennium are now estimated to exceed our original estimates by some $106 million. Coupled with our income estimates for 1975-77, we have approximately a total income of $524 million from taxes and accumulated reserves.

For the biennium 1975-77, I recommend a total General Fund budget of $438,867,353. This is an increase of $164,182,116 over the present biennium.

Special features of the General Fund budget for the 1975-77 biennium are:

(a) It is a balanced budget calling for expenditures within our estimated growth in revenue and accumulated surplus.

(b) It does not necessitate the need for any new taxes.

(c) It forecasts an unobligated General Fund balance in excess of $85 million on June 30, 1977.

We have established a budget level that will adequately fund education, institutions, environmental protection, human assistance programs and all of the other government services required by the people of North Dakota.

Education

Elementary and Secondary: I have recommended an additional $38,400,000 for the Foundation Program based upon legislative study. Within these additional dollars are funds for present public kindergarten enrollment. Consideration should be given to possible future enrollments.

I recommend an increase of $4,252,096 in Special Education. The time has come for us to provide the best quality education for all. I trust that this additional effort will make that come true.

Higher Education: I suggest a general fund budget for the universities and colleges under the Board of Higher Education an amount of $91,314,107 which includes operating funds and funds for plant improvements. These additional dollars provide for salary adjustments and also takes into consideration that some of our institutions are still declining in enrollments.

Social Services

To assure human services needs are met in North Dakota, it is necessary in the coming biennium to increase our state matching monies in order to receive federal dollars. Because of the increase in our state's per capita income, the matching ratio of federal dollars to state dollars is going from a present 70.12 percent to 57.59 percent. This event and allowing for inflationary costs account for an increase of $17,636,359 or 77 percent from the General Fund.

Health

Recognizing the impending impact in this state from coal utilization, I recommend an increase in personnel in the Department of Health in the areas of air and water pollution control. This is a must if this state is to protect its natural resources and quality of life as we consider future resources utilization.

Charitable Institutions

To better serve the needs of some of our people and because of the Federal Wage Law, it is necessary to provide additional staff at Grafton State School and the State Hospital. I hope that this effort will give us a well balanced work force and also allow us to pay a reasonable wage to those residents who provide a service through employment at these institutions.

General Government

One of my objectives when I became Governor was to provide an adequate Classification and Compensation Plan for all of our state employees. Through Executive Order, I created a Division of Personnel in the Department of Accounts and Purchases. It is my hope that the Legislature will enact on a permanent basis a personnel system which will eventually bring about equity in compensation and classification.

Capital Construction

I am recommending the following appropriation for building construction:

Agricultural Science Building	$4,724,000
Maximum Security Unit	$1,500,000

New Programs

My budget recommendation calls for the establishment of Statewide Public Television. The projected cost for capital outlay and operating expenditures amount to $4,057,980 from the General Fund. The plan calls for television channels in the Minot, Williston, Dickinson and Bismarck areas as well as the absorption of existing channels at Fargo and Grand Forks.

Conclusion

These are the major policy and program proposals for my 1975-77 budget. Further details are contained in the larger budget document. I urge your consideration and adoption of this budget and I pledge my support to work with you during this legislative session to help bring about better government to the citizens of our great state.

REPORT
LEGISLATIVE COMPENSATION COMMISSION
submitted to the
Fourty-fourth Legislative Assembly
January, 1975
MR. GORMAN KING, Chairman

Chapter 429 of the 1969 Session Laws created a Legislative Compensation Commission consisting of five members appointed by the Governor to four-year terms. The Governor was also to appoint one of the members Chairman of the Commission. The current membership of the Commission is: Mr. Gorman King, Valley City, Chairman; Mrs. Mavis Couchigian, Grand Forks; Dr. James Mahoney, Devils Lake; Mr. Edward Nesemeier, Casselton; and Mrs. Florence Olson, Enderlin.

The Commission's principal responsibility, as outlined in Sections 54-03-20.2 and 54-03-20.3 of the Century Code, is to make recommendations concerning appropriate rates of expense allowance and reimbursement for legislators during legislative sessions, and for interim legislative work.

The Commission believes that rates of compensation and reimbursement should be designed to permit citizens to hold legislative office without undue financial sacrifice or disadvantage, but should not be designed to work a detriment to the citizen-legislator concept.

The Commission is required by law to report to each Legislative Assembly within 10 days after it convenes in regular session. The Commission is also authorized to seek the assistance of the Legislative Council staff, which assistance has been provided during this biennium.

The 1973 Commission Report contained two specific recommendations concerning legislative expense reimbursement, and a third recommendation that the Constitution be amended to create a Legislative Compensation Commission. The two specific reimbursement recommendations were that the daily Session unvouchered expense allowance be increased to $50 a day, and that the monthly, unvouchered expense allowance for the Speaker, and the Majority and Minority Leaders of both Houses, be increased from $50 to $75 per month. The latter recommendation was not accepted, but the former recommendation and the recommendation proposing a constitutional amendment to Section 45 of the Constitution were accepted by the Forty-third Legislative Assembly.

The 1971 Report of the Commission noted that North Dakota ranked 47th among the 50 states in average expenditure per legislator. A table in "The Book of the States (1974-75)", published by the Council of State Governments, notes that North Dakota ranks 45th in estimated biennial compensation paid to its legislators. Estimated biennial compensation is defined to include unvouchered expense allowances, and to exclude vouchered expense reimbursements and per diem for interim committee work.

As it has done in the past, the Commission sampled the thinking of several legislators concerning needed changes in the current compensation or expense reimbursement schedule before it formulated its recommendations.

Additionally, the Commission considered a "typical" legislator's compensation and expense reimbursement during the current biennium based on the assumption that the "typical" legislator served on one interim committee of the Legislative Council, that he lived 100 miles from Bismarck, that he was not the chairman of a standing or interim committee, and that his interim committee met 10 times during the interim. The total dollars received by that "typical" legislator during 1973-74 would have been $7,093.00. The average amount received per month would be $295.54. Of this amount the actual compensation received (i.e., daily constitutional salary during the Session of $5, and interim "per diem" of $30) equals $840, and the average compensation per month equals $35. The average compensation per day spent on legislative work excluding work in the legislative district for constituents or while campaigning, was $7.78 per day.

The Commission reasserts its belief that the prime responsibility of the Legislative Assembly is to respond to the needs of the people of North Dakota. The Commission believes that if this response is not forthcoming from the Legislature, governmental power will assuredly continue to flow to the Federal Government and away from state and local government. One method of assuring a Legislature responsive to the needs of its constituency is to attempt to make sure that the legislative body is made up of highly motivated and competent men and women.

Although the Commission hopes that its compensation recommendations, if adopted, would aid in motivating competent men and women to seek or remain in legislative office, the Commission realizes that the compensation factor is only one of a combination of factors which motivate people towards public service. The Commission believes that improvements in the total range of legislative compensation and expense reimbursement should be added to improvements in physical facilities available, to additional professional staff services, and to the length of time available for legislative business.

If improvement is made in all four of these areas, the Commission feels that even greater numbers of highly qualified people would be motivated to seek legislative office.

SPECIFIC COMPENSATION RECOMMENDATIONS

The Commission recommends that Section 54-03-20 be amended to increase the daily legislative unvouchered expense allowance, paid during Legislative Sessions, from $50 to $60 per day. This amount is to be paid for each calendar or natural day during any Organizational, Special, or Regular Session, as well as for each day, or portion of a day, spent in traveling to or returning from those sessions.

The Forty-fourth Legislative Assembly convened on January 7, 1975, and the sixtieth legislative day ends on Tuesday, April 1, 1975. Including two days for travel to and from the Session, the 1975 Session could cover 86 natural or calendar days. Under the current language of Section 54-03-

20, the expense allowance for living, which includes meals, lodging, uncompensated travel, and other necessary expenses, would be $50 a day or $4,300 during the Session. Under the Commission's recommendation of a $60-a-day unvouchered expense reimbursement, the amount would be $5,160, or an increase of $860 for the Session.

The Commission recommends further amendment to Section 54-03-20 to raise the monthly unvouchered expense allowance from its present $50 limit to $150 per month. This will result in an increase of $2,400 during the biennium at a total monthly unvouchered expense allowance during the biennium of $3,600.

With respect to reimbursement of specific incurred expenses, the Commission is recommending amendment to Sections 44-08-04 and 54-06-09 to increase the interim mileage reimbursement from twelve cents per mile to fifteen cents per mile and to increase the lodging and meals allowance to a total of $30.

The latter figure would break down as follows: The nightly lodging would be in the actual amount, but not to exceed $20 per night; and the meals allowance would be increased to a total of $10 per day.

In addition to the foregoing specific dollar recommendations, the Commission also makes a recommendation that the monthly unvouchered expense allowance for the Floor Leaders of both Houses and the Speaker of the House be set at an amount higher than that received by the remaining members. However, the Commission did not desire to recommend a specific amount in this report.

Finally, the Commission recommends to the Legislature that, in its consideration of constitutional amendments that may be proposed to the people, it consider submission of a constitutional amendment to create a Legislative Standards Commission, which would be a constitutional body authorized to establish legislative compensation and expense allowances, among other duties. The Commission is having a concurrent resolution to accomplish this result prepared for introduction into the Senate. A similar resolution was defeated at the General Election on November 5, 1974. The Commission believes that with the proper explanation, a new constitutional amendment proposal will be accepted.

GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

The Commission believes it is proper to make general recommendations in other areas of the legislative field. This is so because it is impossible not to consider other means of challenging and encouraging citizens to serve in the Legislature, while studying legislative compensation for those same purposes. Further, the Commission believes that if a legislator's working conditions are deemed by that legislator to be atrocious, or if the possibility of accomplishing anything worthwhile is remote, then no amount of money will induce him to run for, or continue to serve in, the Legislative Assembly.

The Commission discussed numerous general recommendations, and in the past has made many, which the Legislative Assembly could refer to. However, in this report, the Committee is limiting its general recommendations to one.

That recommendation is with respect to legislative space needs. The Commission believes that the Legislative Assembly should give serious thought to providing different facilities for Executive Branch agencies, so that adequate space could be made available in the Capitol proper for legislative use during any Session, and during the interim. The Commission's recommendation does not include specifics on whether this space should be provided by construction or rental.

Rep. Lundene: "Mr. Speaker:

"It is with a good deal of pride and satisfaction that I introduced this House Concurrent Resolution in this 44th Legislative Assembly. And I thank you for your support in recognizing one of the really 'greats' from Walsh County.

"She has received awards, and medals from all parts of the country since 1950. Her name has appeared in any number of Who's Who books and dictionaries. She has earned membership in poet organizations in several foreign countries as well as our own North American Continent. Three of her books are available at the Public Library.

"I have on my desk, a display of some of her work, which we invite you to look over when you are free to do so. I would like to include in my recorded remarks a short poem which is her way of describing a monument which stands on these Capitol Grounds that most of us pay little attention to.

"SAKAKAWEA IN BRONZE

by Lydia O. Jackson

"Esthetic sunbeams have reserved the spot
Where, with her child, Sakakawea stands
In muted statue-bronze, designed and wrought
Without a flaw, by gifted artist-hands.
She stands in sculptured beauty, glory-sheened,
Who once led freedom's trek on trackless ground,
Benignant . . . gazing westward . . . justly queened,
Sheather in its lauded splendor, honor-crowned.
She stands in triumph on its scripted base,

Cast in art's perfectness, in league with time,
 Above the trivial, the commonplace,
 Above the things that have no reason, rhyme.
 So may she ever stand in bronze array
 For beauty is intact when art holds sway."

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Rep. Wagner: "Mr. Speaker:

"I wish to explain my vote on House Bill No. 1096.

"I am a great advocate of the metric system, having used it for many years in my profession. However, I cannot believe under any circumstances there will not be a fiscal impact by passage or implementation of this particular bill, and I believe a bill of this type should have the fiscal impact with it. Anyone can see that if you convert the signs, it is going to cost money. If you are going to have double signs of both the metric and English systems it will cost money."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Lee: "Mr. Speaker and Fellow Legislators:

"I am going to vote for this bill. I believe that it is a good bill. Mr. Ployhar is to be complimented for composing such an inspiring march. He is an excellent musician and composer. But, Mr. Speaker and colleagues, are we establishing a trend? We have a state bird, a state tree, a state flower, a state mineral. It seems that in nearly every legislative session a bill is entered to designate something or other as a state symbol. Who knows? Very likely we will have bills for specifying a state fish, a state insect, a state rodent — perhaps even a state snake.

"Now, Mr. Speaker and colleagues, may I suggest that we specify a state nut, and designate the members of this Assembly as prime examples?

"Now, all foolishness aside, I repeat, this is a good bill, and I certainly urge that you support the recommendation of the Political Subdivisions Committee for passage of House Bill No. 1160."

Rep. Gackle moved that the amendments to House Bill No. 1024 as recommended by the Committee on Finance and Taxation as printed on page 328 of the House Journal be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Rep. Bunker moved that the amendments to House Bill No. 1039 as recommended by the Committee on Industry, Business and Labor as printed on page 328 of the House Journal be adopted.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Kelly: "Mr. Speaker:

"I request that my remarks be printed in the Journal.

"I believe it is imperative that we address two issues before we consider the proposed amendments to House Bill No. 1039. We must consider first of all that our intent is in passing a bill to end discrimination in employment. Secondly, if our intent is clearly to guarantee equal employment opportunity and equal pay for equal work, we must consider the degree of enforcement this bill will allow in order that North Dakota be able to act responsibly to end job discrimination.

"What is our intent, specifically? It is to:

"1. enact a law which fits the unique needs of North Dakota. We are a small rural state where ten to eleven thousand of the fifteen thousand

North Dakota employers employ fewer than 15 people. Of the 80 stores at West Acres in West Fargo, 61 employ fewer than 15 people. We are not a state that is dominated by giant industries. If we pass an amendment which limits the number of employers affected by this bill to mean employers hiring 15 people or more, then we are losing the intent of this bill to assist all of our people.

"2. Our intent is to return to North Dakota the job of guaranteeing equal treatment for all potential employees. A victim of job discrimination is presently forced to file a complaint with the federal government at its Denver office and wait a year — perhaps two, for justice to be done. We have before us an amendment that limits the number of people who can assist the labor commissioner in enforcing this bill. If we allow this amendment, we will fail to improve upon the federal government's slow, ineffective system of enforcing the Equal Employment Opportunity Act.

"3. Our intent is to encourage businesses, employment agencies, and labor unions to perform in preventing job discrimination. Yet, we have before us an amendment that would say to a business or labor union or employment agency, you need not keep records or reports or other pertinent data that would assist you and the government in assuring that job discrimination does not occur.

"How shall we enforce our Equal Employment Opportunity Act if we include the proposed amendments? Can state government enforce the law if we in the legislature prohibit the labor commissioner from employing additional staff to carry out the function of the law? I say we cannot.

"We are not being honest with ourselves if we in one instance endorse equal employment opportunity as well as equal pay for equal work, and in the next instance refuse to permit the state to hire additional personnel to assist in compliance with the law.

"I urge you not to accept the proposed amendments because they reduce the effectiveness of this bill. Let's face it. With these amendments, we will not be able to assure the opportunity of North Dakotans for equality in employment. These amendments nullify the intent of this bill to protect the citizens of this state from job discrimination."

The motion of Rep. Bunker prevailed on a verification vote.

SEVENTEENTH DAY

The prayer was offered by Rev. George Dahl, Pastor, Dovre Lutheran Church, Osnabrock, North Dakota.

The roll was called, and all members were present except Reps. Fleming, Gustafson, Haugland, A. Hausauer, and McGauvran.

REP. GUNDERSON, Chairman

Rep. Olson moved that the report be adopted, which motion prevailed.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Rundle: "Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"This week I found a copy of the United Plainsman News of Bismarck, North Dakota, on my desk, and it was dated January 24, 1975.

"On page 7 of this pamphlet, in regard to House Bill No. 1058, was this statement: 'Even that didn't please the crusty New England rancher, however. Rundle was the only one of 102 Representatives who voted against the measure on the floor.' This is a bald-faced misstatement of fact. As of this date, January 29, House Bill No. 1058 has not yet been voted upon.

"Page 269 of the House Journal shows that House Bill No. 1058 was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and it is there now. No final vote has been taken, so how could I vote on it?

"I will vote yes when it comes up, not because of any influence of the United Plainsman either way.

"Rick Maixner, the very new employee of the United Plainsman, has been outside the state of North Dakota for seven or eight years, and just came back last spring. Maybe he doesn't understand our legislative process; maybe he can't read; or maybe he is playing politics.

"I suggest the United Plainsman and their employees be more careful in their statements in the future.

"Incidentally, I am not in the least bit insulted at having been called 'crusty.' At least no one has called me a 'yes man' or a 'pushover.'"

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Rep. Murphy: "Mr. Speaker:

"I would like to explain my vote and would request that it be printed in the Journal.

"This is the third or fourth time a bill has been before the Legislature taking the limit off mill levies or raising them substantially. At least in most, if not all cases, this is without a 60 per cent vote of the people.

"I supported this bill because I offered to accept a limit. There are several more bills somewhere floating around that would do the same thing. At least partly, because of this type of legislation, that practice can become confiscatory of property in certain school districts.

"Some land has been sold in one of these districts. Another section is for sale, and very possibly another 1600 acres will be put on the block shortly, and it is very possible that all of this land will go off the tax list entirely."

"I have to speak against House Bill 1295; and it is not easy. You are damned if you vote for this bill and damned if you vote against it. If you support this bill, you would seem to be for abortion. If you vote against it, you would seem to be against good medical care in a hospital.

"I am neither pro or con on the abortion issue. I am pro children. Rather than a 'Right to Life', I think children have a right to a good life. They have a right to be born to loving parents who want them. They have a right (especially in the richest country the world has ever known) to be well clothed, well fed and they have a right to the best education society can give them.

"It should be the right of all of us to achieve our full potential as human beings. A child born to a mother who does not want him has a very slim chance of any kind of a 'good' life. Unwanted children are the ones who grow up to be maladjusted members of society; and society can not afford them.

"They clog our hospitals, prisons, mental institutions and welfare rolls. They create our monstrous drug problem. They account for our outrageous crime rate.

"Have you read the case histories of Lee Harvey Oswald? James Earl Ray? Sirhan Sirhan? or Arthur Bremer? They all testify to what childhood environments do to twist the minds of children.

"Abortion should be a personal problem — not a political one — or even a religious one.

"And I am certainly not opposed to good medical care in a hospital.

"Personally, I do not believe in abortion. But even more strongly — I do not believe I have the right to impose my moral beliefs on others.

"In committee, we listened a long time to Dr. Fortman explain this bill. He made numerous references to 'we believe this', 'we decided this' and 'we wanted this.' I do not know if Dr. Fortman was a member of the interim study committee; but he is not a member of the legislature. He is, however, a leader of the Right to Life Movement in North Dakota. I believe this is a Right to Life Bill.

"I personally object to this bill because it does not allow counseling; it imposes the will of the husband on the woman; and because there are hospitals in North Dakota which will not allow abortion.

"We heard testimony in committee that the Supreme Court decision on abortion is unconstitutional. I do not think we can go on that assumption.

"I have to vote no on this bill because I do not believe any religious group has the right to force its ideas of morality on the rest of the population.

"I believe in the complete separation of church and state."

Rep. R. Metzger: "Mr. Speaker:

"I request that my remarks be printed in the Journal.

"I support House Bill No. 1295, not because I am in favor of abortion, but only because this bill allows the maximum protection possible to all unborn children and the mothers under the existing law of the United States of America.

"Also, I would further ask that the citizens of North Dakota continue to reject abortions on demand at any stage of pregnancy."

also eat insects and worms that destroy crops. Those of us who have visited Salt Lake City have probably seen the statue that was erected by the Mormons to the Seagulls. In the early history of their colony, the crops were infested by an infestation of locust. The seagull came along and devoured the locust and saved them from possible starvation. The Bird Pet Industry is a large one in this country. We in North Dakota benefit from this industry, and we have two plants in southeastern North Dakota that produce a large amount of bird feed. Birds are used as symbols of various kinds. Doves are associated with peace, and during Biblical times, it was a dove that was sent out by Noah to see if the flood water had receded to start a new world. The Bald Eagle has been chosen as our American symbol and appears in our great seal.

In the Governor's reception office there is a picture that was presented to him by his staff as a Christmas gift. It is a picture of a meadow lark and the picture contains the signatures of the various governors in the states where the meadow lark is their official bird. These states are Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota and Oregon.

In the recent issue of the REC Magazine, there is an article that concerns birds, and I quote, "Now we don't mean to insult our canine friends but, ecologically speaking, birds are really man's best friends. They thrive largely on insect pests that destroy the plants in your gardens. A bird daily consumes nearly its weight in insects. One bird authority reports that in one 25-day period a single chickadee destroyed more than 138,000 cankerworm eggs. A flicker can toss off 5,000 ants in a single meal, while a wren eats 500 insects a day and warbler 10,000 tree lice.

"However, even if they never ate a bug, birds would still be treasured for their music, beauty and fascinating activities. So bird lovers ... unite!"

SECOND READING OF A
SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4007. A concurrent resolution for the ratification of a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prohibiting states from denying a citizen equality of rights under law on account of sex.

Was read the second time.

Rep. Wentz: "Mr. Speaker and Members of the House:

"I ask that my remarks be printed in the Journal.

"I rise in support of the Equal Rights Amendment. As a legislator, I would like to stress the bi-partisan nature of this resolution.

"Every president of the United States from President Dwight Eisenhower to President Gerald Ford has given unqualified support to the Equal Rights Amendment and the concept of full legal equality between men and women. On August 26th of last year, President Ford issued a proclamation calling upon all Americans to observe that day as Women's Equality Day. In so doing, he declared: quote 'In 1970 on the floor of the House, I said that the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution was an idea whose time had come. Today I want to reaffirm my personal commitment to that amendment. The time for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment has come just as surely as did the time for the 19th Amendment.' End of quote.

"The Equal Rights Amendment was proposed as an amendment to our Constitution by an overwhelming vote in the United States Congress. The Senate passed it by a vote of 84-8. It passed the House by a vote of 354-23. An examination of the committee hearings and floor debate will show that Congress at that time considered all of the emotional arguments we are hearing today in opposition to this amendment and overwhelmingly rejected them.

"It is also interesting to note that support for the Equal Rights Amendment has previously been voiced by this Assembly when in 1947 the Senate and House of North Dakota passed a resolution calling upon Congress to take positive action on the Equal Rights Amendment.

"As a Republican, I am proud to stand with Senator Milton R. Young and Congressman Mark Andrews in support of the Equal Rights Amendment.

"Both Senator Young and Congressman Andrews voted for ERA in the United States Congress and they recently reiterated their continued support for the Equal Rights Amendment.

"It is more than 50 years since women finally gained the right to vote. On August 26, 1920 the 19th Amendment was ratified as a part of our Constitution. The Equal Rights Amendment is a culmination of women's efforts to achieve full legal equality. The right of women to own property, to vote, to hold public office, to hold positions of responsibility in our society have all been fought with the same arguments of resulting social chaos that are being used against the Equal Rights Amendment today.

"Legal equality is a fundamental right. It belongs in our Constitution. Our founding fathers provided that basic rights of individual citizens must be Constitutionally protected and not subject to the whims of individual states and individual legislatures. For example, slavery was abolished under our Constitution over a century ago and the right of women to vote was given Constitutional protection in 1920. Yet Mississippi has never approved the 13th Amendment and Georgia only recently ratified the 19th. We would all agree that the right to be free from slavery and the right of women to vote are fundamental rights and are not subject to revocation by any state. I submit that legal equality between men and women is a similar fundamental right and that it belongs in our Constitution.

"In closing, I would like to read the following letter which summarizes my feelings. The letter is from Mrs. Beatrice Howard of Minot, North Dakota.

Dear Representative Wentz,

I am a 90 year old great-great grandmother. When women's suffrage was realized, I was in my thirties and a widow supporting four children by working as a chambermaid. I have struggled all of my life under unfair laws that have supported discrimination against women.

Before I die, I would like to see equality for women become a reality. Please continue your support for ERA.

Sincerely,
Beatrace Howard"

Rep. Jaeger: "Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

"I would like to enter my remarks into the Journal.

"I would be the first to admit that there has been much injustice against women in the past. Social attitudes change. Laws that were once thought to be protective turned out to be suppressive.

"As the woman's role has changed, so has society's attitudes. Even without the Equal Rights Amendment the courts have found sufficient grounds to strike down injustice.

"The 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution provides: . . . 'No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States: nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law.'

"The courts have repeatedly held that women are persons and should be granted the full protection of the United States Constitution. Injustice is being corrected in an orderly fashion. The 14th Amendment assures women the protection of all their rights; but leaves it open for the states to extend certain privileges to women that are not extended to men.

"It is my contention that with the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment the individual states will no longer have this option open to them.

"We must recognize that the needs or desires of the people of the different states may vary and that each state needs some latitude in which to shape its laws in order to satisfy its people. ERA would put the individual states into a straightjacket and make it impossible for their elected representatives to exercise their right of self determination.

"Now that the attitude of the courts are changing, I think the 14th Amendment will suffice to do the job and that the Equal Rights Amendment will possibly do more harm than good.

"I do hope you will see fit to vote no on this proposal."

Rep. Dotzenrod: "Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

"I rise to oppose the ratification of S.C.R. 4007, better known as the Equal Rights Amendment. For women it should be known as the Equal Obligation Amendment.

"From the evidence and study I have given this amendment, and the opinion of those qualified in understanding constitutional law, I believe this ERA would prove detrimental to women generally.

"I share the concern of those who support the effort for equality of rights for all people. I share the desire for the goals many people hope this amendment could secure. They are the goals I too would desire for all our citizens of any race, sex, or creed. I know how desperate many women must feel to give support to this amendment despite the unfair obligations the enactment of it would impose upon the women of this nation. These obligations in their legal determination would exceed, in the name of equality, what any other civilized nation demands of their women. I cannot consent to recommend or give affirmation to an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, regardless of its nobility of purpose, that would impose on the emerging generations of women and those generations yet to come, a denial of what to this date has been their birthright, such as protective laws and exemption from forced and mandated compulsory military service.

"This amendment would do nothing at all in the area of pay and promotion. However, we have the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Equal Opportunity Act of 1972 that provides for this.

"We have had reliable evidence that this amendment would do but little in the area of additional rights for women but would greatly increase their obligations.

"In spite of the fact that girls are born into this world with an obligation men can never share, this amendment would declare all other obligations equal. Therefore, the so-called 'weaker sex' would assume the greater burden and obligation. Is this equality?

"I have great respect for every member of this assembly; and I'm sure you each feel the responsibility of casting your vote in the best interests of the women of this country. We had a lecture on responsible voting a few weeks ago. In this decision, it could well be that one vote in this assembly could decide the ERA, not only for North Dakota, but for the nation. Your individual vote might well decide whether this proposed 27th Amendment becomes a part of our Constitution; and we know how irrevocable an amendment once established can be. In our 200 years, only one amendment has been removed.

"Therefore, a solemn responsibility is imposed on each of us. A responsibility that goes beyond the preference we may have stated in a poll. It goes beyond playing the 'Good Fellow' to an ardent pleader. It goes beyond agreeing to vote for ratification to get persons or groups 'off your back'. It goes beyond fearing the political consequences of an uninformed electorate. It goes beyond party affiliation, and the pressure from my party has been massive. It goes beyond agreeing to support this amendment because it is simpler to say 'I'm for equal rights' than it is to explain the inequality that this amendment would impose.

"It also goes beyond yielding to the sugar-coated persuasion of the lobbyists who have been prowling the halls and corridors of this capitol for these many days. It goes to the seat of our own informed good judgment and personal responsibility.

"For men concerned about men, this is an amendment such men could eagerly embrace. The benefits to men are too numerous to mention. There are no extra obligations whatever; in fact, there is a relaxing of obligation.

"For men concerned about women, the ERA is totally unfair in the obligations imposed — also, instead of broadening their freedom, it is curtailing and restraining it with the long arm of the federal government creeping into their lives.

"A physician prescribing drugs for a patient must determine if the drugs he prescribes have more beneficial effects than adverse effects. If you watched the documentary film on prescription drugs a couple of weeks ago, you know that most prescription drugs have harmful effects as well as beneficial effects, and in many cases kill the patient.

"The equal opportunity act was killed in this Assembly last week with the help of its supporters when it came out of committee with the many adverse effects. I hope they will be consistent. When we ratify an amendment to the Constitution to correct an ailment, we must make a judgment like the physician. Is this more beneficial than harmful?

"To determine this we certainly need the advice of those learned in Constitutional law. We have this advice from a number of competent people; and we find the 27th Amendment deemed, not only detrimental, but unnecessary.

"A member of the House of Representatives from Texas appeared at our hearing. He told us Texas ratified the ERA early in 1972 shortly after Congress had passed it out to the states. This was done without floor debate and no study of its implications. They are now hopeful of recinding their action in this winter's session.

"This amendment has such far reaching implications that we should be guided by the recommendations of those well versed in Constitutional law. Sam Ervin, known in Washington as 'Mr. Constitution,' has said this is the most drastic measure in Senate history. Susie Sharp, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, says it is a man's bill and detrimental to women. North Dakota has some expert advice. Unlike Texas, we know the dangers involved in the ERA. Our eyes have been opened; and we have been warned. We have the advice of those expert in Constitutional law. These are the people who should be guiding us to make our decision, and not an appeal based on emotion or party loyalty.

"John Kennedy once said, 'Too often we enjoy the comfort of opinion without the discomfort of thought.'

"Today we rely for help and guidance on specialists in many fields from obstreticians, financial counselors, tax consultants, etc. If a woman needed an obstretician, I'm sure she would not take advice and counsel from the tax consultant.

"In considering a constitutional amendment, we should also be advised by those who are specialists in constitutional law rather than 'man in the street' opinions or because one stack of letters is bigger than the other. If we disregard these warnings, then we are reacting no better than a motorist driving a strange highway and paying no attention to the signs that are placed there for the safety of all.

"There are two more sessions in which this amendment can be considered. Once we have ratified, there is a doubt that a state can rescind its action. Let us reject it now with the hope other states also do so. Let it go back to Congress unratified. Let Congress adopt either the Ervin or Hayden Amendment and then we would have an ERA that people could support.

"No civilized nation now drafts women for combat duty. Israel did this at one time. The soldier boys did not object to having soldier girls in their foxholes, but in time of battle were so concerned about protecting the girls that their efficiency and effectiveness was seriously diminished. Therefore, using girls in combat was discontinued in the Israel army. They now have units called CHEN, similar to our WACS and they serve in support units.

"The great designer of mankind did not create man and woman equally in all respects. Women were designed to be more attractive so that men would fall in love with them and perpetuate the human race. Women were also created with tender emotions and with a more sympathetic heart. How else could they ever agree to marry men and have babies?

"It has been said that the accumulated wisdom of the ages can best be condensed into a sentence of nine words. They are, 'There ain't no such thing as a free lunch'. The passage of the ERA could be a lunch for women, but a banquet for men; and who picks up the tab? The women of course; not only for their lunch, but for the sumptuous meals that men enjoy. It will not be paid for by women sitting in this Assembly, but by the emerging generations of women who will have no reason to look back in gratitude to those who here favor mandated regimentation of women and loss of protective rights.

"As time passes, there is less and less reason to have this ERA. The Supreme Court decisions, the integration of women is about all the areas that have been largely man's domain. The cooperation of state legislatures that have been working to eliminate discriminations.

"The recent Supreme Court decision that Sam Ervin referred to will have far reaching effect in removing discriminations based on sex.

Rep. Cann: "Mr. Speaker:

"I would like to have my remarks recorded in the Journal.

"People say often, 'I don't know anything about art, but I know what I like.'

"Of course, the reason they do not know anything about art — or music — or theatre, is because art, music and theatre have never been a part of the educational background of most people

"This is true all over the United States — not just in North Dakota. A chart composed in 1971 by a national art organization gives the following per capita support for the arts by countries: West Germany — $2.42; Sweden and Austria — $2.00; Canada — $1.40; Israel — $1.34; Great Britain — $1.23; and the United States — 7½ cents.

"Another chart prepared in 1974 ranks support for the arts by state population, appropriation for the arts and per capita. On it, North Dakota ranks 55th of 50 states and 5 territories.

"An excellent elementary school art program in Fargo was ruined four years ago by the school administration. Because of pressure by parents, a new program was started this year using an arts coordinator and the cultural facilities of the community to bring all of the arts to all of the children so that all children will have their backgrounds enriched and expanded to include art, music, theatre, poetry, literature and dance. These are assets they will have all of their lives — not as artists or musicians or writers, but as people who lead fuller lives because they appreciate and enjoy the arts.

“House Bill No. 1345 would create an office for the Alliance for Arts in Education — a national program sponsored by the National Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Kennedy Center to promote the arts in the schools and to find and help talented students.

“It, too, is designed to use the cultural resources of the state to bring the arts to children. Since it is a going program in several states, which like North Dakota have neglected education in the arts, this seemed like a good place to start.

“It does carry a fiscal note of $51,975 for the biennium.

“I ask your support for this bill.”

The motion prevailed, and House Bill No. 1483 was indefinitely postponed.

Rep. Hilleboe moved that the Committee Report for indefinite postponement on House Bill No. 1510, as printed on page 457 of the House Journal be adopted,

Rep. Jaeger: "Mr. Speaker:

"I would like a few facts placed in the Journal.

"Jack Neckels, Director of the State Planning Division, is a federal employee, and it appears that the State Planning Agency is sort of a transmission valve between the Federal Government and the Planning Divisions of our counties, and that should the Federal Land Control Bill ever pass the U.S. Congress, I do believe that this agency will be a very intricate part of extending federal control all the way down to our local county and city level of government.

"I urge you to vote against this indefinite postponement, and at least send it over to the Senate and shake up this State Planning Division just a little bit. I think they need some shaking up."

Rep. Schuett: "Mr. Speaker:

"I request that my remarks be placed in the Journal.

"I am one from a city that feels a State Planning Committee has done a wonderful job helping small cities and large cities obtain federal funds for their cities. The counties and townships will be faced with funding planning programs by themselves without funding from state and federal levels. I don't believe they can afford this. Also, the cities without planning programs will not qualify for water and sewer programs, recreational facilities and community development programs.

"The Clearing House Bill A-95 Review would require, before federal funds are granted, approval. Thus far in this biennium, the State Planning Division has reviewed $1.25 million worth of grants of which $260,000 were approved. I don't believe North Dakota can afford to lose this funding.

"Also, the budget submitted to the Executive office was $3.7 million—mostly federal money. This was later reduced to $2,790,573 but $226,389 of that came from the general fund, or 8 percent of the total. I believe it is worthwhile to invest $226,389 of state money to feed $260 million back into

Statement of the Purpose of the Amendment:

Subdivision 1.

The budget for the Indian Affairs Commission provides for a salary of $14,000.00 for the first year, and $16,000.00 for the second year of the biennium for the executive director, and does not include funds for an assistant director. The Scholarship Fund is being funded in the amount of $75,000.00 as compared to $45,000.00 appropriated for this purpose in the previous biennium. Twenty thousand dollars is included in the budget for the Indian Development Fund which doubles the current amount of funding provided for this purpose.

Subdivision 2.

The budget of the Department of Veteran's Affairs reflects a reduction in salaries to a 5 percent increase each year of the biennium. Fees and services were reduced $2000 reducing travel and legal services by $1000 each.

Subdivision 3.

The committee did not feel the budget should include funds to replace federal funds for use in employing an assistant director. Salaries and wages were arrived at by the 5-5 formula. Fees and services were set by the 6-5 percent formula over the past biennium. Supplies and materials were budgeted by a reasonable increase for supplies and printing.

Subdivision 4.

The salary and wages item was reduced to the 5-5 concept. The supplies and materials was reduced from the executive budget. The $228,750 figure represented too large an increase. The present biennium provided $93,000. However, there was an $8500 transfer and a deficit of $50,000 is anticipated for this biennium. The deficit is taken care of in a deficiency appropriation.

We are looking at a $151,000 budget for the biennium for supplies and materials. A reduction of $20,000 will reduce the executive budget to $208,750 and this still represents a 38 percent increase. This will reflect the actual amount necessary for operations during the next biennium.

Subdivision 5.

The purpose of the amendment is to removed general fund money and to allow existing services with Federal funds.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Rep. Haugland: "Mr. Speaker:

"I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I wish to have the opportunity to thank each member of this assembly for the lovely terrarium sent to me. I appreciate the lovely flowers sent by the chairmen and vice chairmen of the committees, majority leadership and the Speaker of the House. Members of the Social Welfare Committee were thoughtful to send me flowers at home in Minot, and I hasten to say thank you to my friends in the Democratic caucus and to my eleven colleagues of the Fifth Legislative District for the roses they sent to me. I appreciate the many flowers, cards and letters and messages of cheer and inspiration sent by friends in and out of the North Dakota Legislature.

"At this time I want to especially thank Rep. Art Raymond for the excellent work he did as Vice Chairman of the Social Welfare Committee, and for the fine cooperation given him by the members of that committee.

"I wish to thank Cecil Crandell and Jack Whereatt for delivering mail to me at the hospital, and to each of you I say a sincere thank you."

MOTION

Rep. Strinden moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Hon. Mark Andrews, United States Congressman, and Mrs. Andrews to the rostrum.

Speaker Reimers appointed Reps. Eagles and Tennesos.

Congressman Andrews addressed the assembly.

Rep. Olin moved that the following remarks of Congressman Mark Andrews be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

Congressman Andrews: "Mr. Speaker:

"Thank you. It is a privilege to be here. I was one of those, and it was not a partisan thing, who thought Congress should stay at work instead of coming home for a vacation, but we lost. Here I am, and it is great to be home, even if we have a lot of work down there.

"It is a privilege to be with you who represent all of the counties and all of those legislative districts. It is great work you are doing to build our state, to make it even better. Things are different in the National Congress. I read a lot of North Dakota newspapers, and I was happy to see that both our Republican and Democratic friends are having open caucuses and wide-open voting. We have a new system down in Washington, and I don't know exactly if we can get it shaken out. There is a secret vote, and that means that 145 members of the House can speak for 435, and things are going to be strange for a while until this shakes itself out.

"One of the questions I am most often asked is, 'What is going to happen to agriculture, which is so important to North Dakota, what is going to happen with the change in Committee Chairman?' Tom Foley is one of the most capable, competent and best friends of the farmer we could hope for. He knows wheat, he knows feed grains, and he will do all right on his own. If he is dictated to by a few from the East, the food supply of our country and of the world may be in jeopardy. The sub-committee I serve on has had problems with the Environmental Protection Agency. You have had some problems with them, and you know how hard-nosed they can be when dealing with the farmers. We have had our jurisdiction taken away from us and transferred to the Environmental Protection Agency. This might move us toward wormy apples or less food. This is one of the challenges we are facing.

"Energy is the big issue — food energy and fuel energy. We have seen a great deal more in the press about fuel energy. A federal tariff is costing us in a big way in solving our fuel problems, and don't let anyone kid you on this. We imported $27 billion worth of fuel from overseas, and you know that caused a problem in our balance of payments, which is part of our unemployment crisis today.

"You have a time limit in the North Dakota Legislature. We don't, in Washington. We can delay and delay the time for action, and the time for action on fuel is now. The President is putting a $3.00 tax on a fuel price which is already too high. The $3.00 tax won't prevail, but this was the only alternative the President had.

"Last week the energy czar met with a group of rural Congressmen in my office, and he agreed to give special recognition to farmers. We farm in a fuel intensive way, and we can't pass on the cost through the cost of products because we are told what we can get for our products. That night in the White House, the President confirmed that there will be a pass-through for farmers for any fuel cost rises through imposition of a tariff on imported oil. The pass-through will be handled on your Form 1040, just as you handle the excise tax.

"Heating fuel is also going to be a big problem in the northern tier of states. Waiting for heating fuel in Washington, D.C., Florida or some place in Kentucky is an inconvenience. In North Dakota it could be disastrous. We have to have adequate supplies of fuel, and we are fortunate in North Dakota to have an adequate supply of lignite fuel, and you in the Legislature can provide for orderly development of this fuel and still protect our land. I believe in some way or another we should find a way of processing anhydrous ammonia from our lignite. Twenty years ago there was a firm working on this, and one of its directors was the present U.S. Senator Bob Taft. There was an Arthur B. Little study which proved this could be done for $36 a ton — which up-dated cost is now $80 a ton. This would help our farmers in cutting of production costs, and perhaps something can be done with this.

"We need a long-range supply of fuel. There is a pipeline going across the Northern tier of our country. I share concern about this with you and people of Montana. I intend to join with Congressman John Melcher of Montana in fighting that pipeline. We will take some flack, but it seems ridiculous to me that a pipeline will bring gas across North Dakota with no provisions to dedicate part of this for the future of North Dakota. Mr. Melcher feels the same way for Montana. As you know, John is a Democrat and I happen to be a Republican. We do have a supply of fuel energy in North Dakota, and we must use it to grow food energy. If we can develop these supplies and provide them to the world which needs them more and more, then the future of our state and the free world looks bright.

"The work you are doing in this Legislative Session will go a long ways in improving these conditions.

"Good luck to you, and thank you."

REP. WAGNER, Chairman

House Bill No. 1011 was placed on the 6th order of business on the calendar for the succeeding legislative day.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on State and Federal Government to whom was referred House Bill No. 1543 has had the same under consideration and recommends that the same be amended as follows:

Page 1, line 1, delete everything after the words "A BILL" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "for an Act to create and enact new sections of chapter 50-22 and to amend and reenact sections 50-22-01, 50-22-02 and 50-22-05 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to registration of charitable organizations, professional fund raising counsel and professional solicitors and providing a penalty.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1.) A new section to chapter 50-22 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby created and enacted to read as follows:

REGISTRATION OF PROFESSIONAL FUND RAISER, PROFESSIONAL SOLICITOR AND CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS WHO ENGAGED THEM.) The secretary of state or his designee shall examine each initial application of charitable organizations for the right to solicit funds and each renewal application of charitable organizations for the right to solicit funds, and if the solicitation is to be made in whole or in part by a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor shall determine whether or not the arrangement for payment is found to be in conformity with the requirements of this act and all relevant rules and regulations, it shall be approved for registration. Any applicant who is denied approved registration may, within fifteen days from the date of notification of such denial, request in writing a hearing before the secretary, which hearing shall be held within fifteen days from the date of the request.

No person shall act as a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor for a charitable organization subject to the provisions of this act unless he has first registered with the secretary. Applications for such registration shall be in writing, under oath or affirmation in the form prescribed by the secretary and contain such information as the secretary may require. The application for registration by professional fund raiser or professional solicitor shall be accompanied by an annual fee in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100). A partnership or corporation which is a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor may register for and pay a single fee on behalf of all its members, officers, agents and employees. However the names and addresses of all officers, agents and employees employed to work under the direction of a professional solicitor or fund raiser must be listed in the application.

Every charitable organization engaging a professional solicitor or fund raiser and which submits a proper registration to the department shall pay an annual registration fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) if the charitable organization solicits and receives gross contributions from the public of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less during the immediate preceding fiscal year. Every charitable organization engaging a professional solicitor or fund raiser which submits a proper registration to the department shall pay an annual registration fee of one hundred dollars ($100) if the charitable organization solicits and receives gross contributions in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) during the immediate preceding fiscal year. A parent organization filing on behalf of one or more chapters, branches or affiliates and a federated fund raising organization filing on behalf of its member agencies shall pay a single annual registration fee for itself and such chapters, branches, affiliates or member agencies included in the registration statement. If any charitable organization, professional fund raiser or professional solicitor fails to file any registration application or other information required to be filed by the secretary of state under this act or otherwise violates the provisions of this act, the secretary of state, upon notice by registered or certified mail to its or his last known address, may deny or suspend the application for registration if the information is not filed or if the existing violation is not discontinued within two weeks after the formal notification or receipt of such notice. All proceedings under this act shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 28-32 unless otherwise specifically herein provided.

SECTION 2.) A new section to chapter 50-22 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby created and enacted to read as follows:

LIMITATIONS ON AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS FOR SOLICITATION OR FUNDING.) No charitable organization shall pay or agree to pay to a professional solicitor, professional fund raiser or his agents, servants or employees in the aggregate a total amount in excess of fifteen percent (including reimbursement for expenses incurred and direct payment of expenses incurred) of the total moneys, pledges or other property raised or received by reason of any solicitation activities or campaigns.

No charitable organization shall incur solicitation and fund-raising expenses (including not only payments to professional solicitors, but also payments to professional fund raisers and internal fund raising and solicitation salaries and expenses) in excess of thirty-five percent of total moneys, pledges or other property raised or received by reason of any solicitation, gift and/or fund-raising activities or campaigns. As used in this subsection, the term "internal fund-raising and expenses" shall include, but not be limited to, such portions of the charitable organization's salary and overhead expenses as are fairly allocable (on a time or other appropriate basis) to its solicitation and/or fund-raising expense. In the event special facts or circumstances are presented showing expenses higher than thirty-five percent, the secretary has the discretion to allow such higher funds and may impose such conditions as he shall deem necessary for such exemption.

For purposes of this section, the total moneys, funds, pledges or other property raised or received shall not include the actual cost of the charitable organization or professional solicitor of goods sold or service provided to the public in connection with the soliciting of contributions.

Every contract, written agreement or written statement of the nature of the arrangement to prevail in the absence of a contract between a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor and a charitable organization shall be filed with the secretary of state within ten days after such contract, written agreement or written statement is concluded. If the contract or arrangement with a professional solicitor does not provide for compensation on a percentage basis, the secretary shall examine the contract to ascertain whether the compensation to be paid in such circumstances is likely to exceed fifteen percent of the total moneys, pledges or other property raised or received as a result of the contract or arrangement; if the reasonable probabilities are that the compensation will exceed fifteen percent of the total moneys, pledges or other property, the secretary shall disapprove the contract or arrangement within ten days after its filing. No registered charitable organization or professional solicitor shall carry out or execute a disapproved contract, or receive or perform services, or receive or make payments pursuant to a disapproved contract. Any party to a disapproved contract shall, upon written request made within thirty days of disapproval, be given a hearing before the secretary within thirty days after such request is filed.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT.) Section 50-22-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows:

Statement of the Purpose of the Amendment:

Extension Service:

Salaries and wages were reduced to the five percent per year concept for a reduction of $317,150. In addition we disallowed the five new positions allowed for in the executive budget for a total further reduction of $239,936 making a grand total reduction of $557,086. These positions were not allowed since we do now have a new man heading this division and it is felt that he should concentrate on improving present operations and then he will be in a good position to assess future direction of the extension service. The adjusted total appropriation still does allow a 46½ per cent increase over past bienniums and we feel this allows more than an average increase.

Main Station: To correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula to deny 30 positions in original request and to include fees and services, supplies and material, and equipment for 32 new positions allowed. Remodeling of dairy unit disallowed.

Dickinson: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula, allow a combine and disallow the swine farrowing unit.

Hettinger: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula, and allow one half time position.

Langdon: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula.

North Central: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula, allow 1 new position and one tractor with cab, if income is sufficient.

Williston: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula, allow one new position and a tractor and loader plus combine.

Carrington: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula, allow one secretary plus seed storage and paving project if income is sufficient.

Agronomy Seed Farm: Correct salaries and wages to a 5 and 5 formula.

REP. WAGNER, Chairman

House Bill No. 1002 was placed on the 6th order of business on the calendar for the succeeding legislative day.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Appropriations to whom was referred House Bill No. 1013 has had the same under consideration and recommends that the same be amended as follows:

And renumber the lines accordingly.

And when so amended recommends the same do pass.

Statement of the Purpose of the Amendment:

Subdivision 2.

The amendment adjusts the salaries to include the 11.9 per cent salary increase which was not included in the executive budget and includes a five percent salary increase for each year of the biennium. Three clerical positions were added, bringing the total new positions to seven. A total of $50,000 was added to fees and services to reflect actual amount necessary for operation in the next biennium.

Subdivision 3.

The amendments to this subdivision were made to correct an error in the amount allowed for fuel of $111,367 as well as return a total of $65,633 to fees and services primarily to allow for repairs in anticipation of a twenty-four hour operation, and interest expense, if wheat prices remain at or near the present level.

The amendment reflects a correction in the number of pupils enrolled in elementary and secondary education.

Subdivision 2.

Salaries and wages were computed on the five percent per year basis. However, the base for the 5 percent-5 percent had not been computed on the 11.9 percent increase in House Bill 1016. Therefore, an increase is shown.

The $48,000 is for an addition to the building for film storage.

Subdivision 3.

The amendment is to correct salaries and wages to reflect the increase caused by House Bill 1016 and continue that level of funding on a five percent per year basis. Fees and services were reduced to a six percent and five percent rate.

REP. WAGNER, Chairman

House Bill No. 1005 was placed on the 6th order of business on the calendar for the succeeding legislative day.

Subdivision 1

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE OF AMENDMENT: The appropriation to the state health department was adjusted to reflect the continuation of salaries for present employees and to provide five percent per year salary increases for each year of the next biennium. The following positions which are presently vacant were deleted from the corrected budget:

- Dental Hygienist I
- Public Health Representative I
- Public Health Planner I
- IDARP Clerk-Stenographer
- Occupational Therapist Consultant

The appropriation to the health department for fees and services was increased to provide funds for rental space for the mental health division and to adjust costs for new positions. The appropriation for supplies and materials was increased to reflect adjusted costs for new positions. The appropriation for equipment was increased to reflect adjusted costs for new positions. Also, a correction was made to estimated income to reflect the appropriate matching percentage between state and federal funds.

Subdivision 3.

The line item of salaries and wages was adjusted to reflect a five plus five percent increase and the deletion of new positions except for $100,000.00 to supplement available federal funds for nurses on an educational leave of absence to upgrade their qualifications. In addition, $100,000.00 was added for patient labor in lieu of other new positions requested. The adjustments to other areas of the budget reflect an adjustment to a six percent the first year, and a five percent the second year, increase in expenditures. Adjustments to the appropriation to the south central mental health center and the vocational rehabilitation unit at the state hospital reflect adjustments necessary to pay salaries on a five plus five basis.

Section 2.

The purpose of the amendment is to reflect in law the allocation used by the executive office of the budget to make funds available to the various human service centers and mental health and retardation units, and to provide moneys for a mental health unit in the human services center, Devils Lake, North Dakota.
