The estimated cost for the biennium of paying a salary of 19 court reporters, providing fringe benefits to court reporters, and providing travel expenses to court reporters is $1,067,800.

This sum has been included in the requested appropriation for the unified judicial system (S. B. 2038) to the extent that that bill provides for the state financing of the district courts.

In regard to the matter of the state paying for the transcripts involved in criminal appeals, this cost is presently unknown, however, S. B. 2038 (the appropriation for the unified judicial system) has contained within it the amount of $686,600 for the payment of indigent defense counsel fees; which expense would include the cost of the transcript in a criminal appeal.
