Narrative:

This bill enables the attorney general's office to authorize a person, who is not a member or employee of an eligible (gaming) organization, to assist in the holding, operating, or conducting of games of chance at a site. In application, based on certain standards of accountability and recordkeeping that would be embodied in administrative rules promulgated by the attorney general, the attorney general may authorize an employee of a licensed alcoholic beverage establishment to pay players the value of prize winning charitable gaming tickets purchased by players from a charitable gaming ticket dispensing device located on the site. This would enable gaming organizations to operate games of charitable gaming tickets at an additional 450 licensed alcoholic beverage establishments that are otherwise considered unprofitable sites by gaming organizations.

The state general fund fiscal effect includes license fees, gaming tax, and 2% excise tax.

Adequate regulation and enforcement of the provisions of this bill and anticipated administrative rules requires the funding of 2 Auditor II's for the attorney general's office. This cost for the 1991-93 biennium would approximate $107,000.
