Senate Bill 2032

Fiscal Note Attachment:

At the present time, major cities having fire departments with full-time fire inspection programs conduct inspections of schools. This bill places the responsibility for school inspections within those cities upon the State Fire Marshal. To eliminate redundancy between state and local government, the State Fire Marshal may delegate authority to political subdivisions, if the political subdivision is willing to accept the responsibility. The fiscal impact of this bill is dependent upon the delegation of authority. If all political subdivisions currently conducting school inspections accept the delegation of authority, no fiscal impact will be experienced. If no political subdivision accepts the responsibility, approximately 200 additional school inspections would become the responsibility of the State Fire Marshal, and the fiscal impact is projected at $110,000. These costs include 1½ FTE salaries, operating expenses, and equipment. The fiscal note impact indicates a range of $0 to $110,000.
