- 10 b. If that disclosure is made pursuant to a federal or state law that is designed to 11 protect the public health or safety.
- 12 3. Except for the failure to report information required by chapters 23-07, 23-07.1, 13 23-07.3, or 23-07.4, or any other law requiring disclosure of information regarding

29 that threat, may disclose protected health information about that subject to a health 30 care practitioner, health care facility, law enforcement authority, or emergency 31 medical personnel to protect the health or safety of that subject.

- 1 2. In the event of a threat of harm to an individual other than the subject of protected
2 health information, a public health authority may disclose protected health 3 information about that subject if:
- 4 a. There is an identifiable threat of serious disease, injury, or death to an 5 identifiable individual or group of individuals;
- 6 b. The subject of the protected health information has the ability to carry out that 7 threat; and
- 8 c. The disclosure of that information is necessary to prevent or significantly 9 reduce the possibility of that threat.

- 18 1. Notwithstanding any other law, a public health authority, or the agent of any such 19 entity, may disclose protected health information to a law enforcement authority if 20 the state health officer determines that:
- 21 a. The protected health information is necessary to a legitimate law enforcement 22 inquiry that has begun or may be initiated into a particular violation of a 23 criminal law or public health law being conducted by the authority; and
- 24 b. The investigative or evidentiary needs of the law enforcement authority 25 cannot be satisfied by nonidentifiable health information or by any other 26 information.
- 27 2. If a public health authority discloses protected health information under this 28 section, that authority shall impose appropriate written safeguards to ensure the 29 confidentiality of the information and to protect against unauthorized or improper 30 use or disclosure.

- 1 3. Protected health information about an individual that is disclosed under this section 2 may not be used in, or disclosed to any person for use in, any administrative, civil,
3 or criminal action or investigation directed against the individual, unless the action
4 or investigation arises out of, or is directly related to, the law enforcement inquiry 5 for which the information was obtained.
- 6 4. When the matter or need for which protected health information was disclosed to a 7 law enforcement authority or grand jury has concluded, including any derivative 8 matters arising from that matter or need, the law enforcement authority or grand 9 jury must either destroy the protected health information, or return it to the person 10 from whom it was obtained.
- 11 5. To the extent practicable, and consistent with the requirements of due process, a 12 law enforcement authority shall redact personally identifying information from 13 protected health information prior to the public disclosure of that protected 14 information in a judicial or administrative proceeding.
- 15 6. Any disclosure of protected health information under this section must be limited to 16 the minimum amount of information necessary to fulfill the purposes of this section.

- 19 8. Protected health information disclosed under this section must be clearly identified 20 as protected health information that is subject to this chapter.
- 21 9. This section may not be construed to limit or restrict the ability of law enforcement 22 authorities to gain information while in hot pursuit of a suspect or if other exigent 23 circumstances exist.

24 23-01.3-07. Disclosure of a public health incident.

- 25 1. Notwithstanding any other law, the state health officer may disclose confidential 26 information or protected health information to a health care provider or the public if

 - 28 a. Disclosure of information is required to prevent the spread of disease;
 - 29 b. Disclosure of information is required to identify the cause or source of 30 disease; or

1 c. Disclosure of information is required to allay fear and aid the public in 2 understanding the risk of its exposure to disease.

3 2. The state health officer may disclose protected health information only to the 4 extent necessary to accomplish the purposes of this section, and may require any 5 health care provider receiving confidential or protected health information under 6 this section to keep that information confidential under written terms.
