

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly

* * * * *

Bismarck, January 17, 2001

The House convened at 1:00 p.m., with Speaker Bernstein presiding.

The prayer was offered by Peter Young, Interim Conference Minister with Northern Plains Conference, United Church of Christ, Bismarck.

The roll was called and all members were present except Representative Lloyd.

A quorum was declared by the Speaker.

MOTION

REP. MONSON MOVED that a committee of two be appointed to escort MISS NORTH DAKOTA CARRIE HABERSTROH to the rostrum. Speaker Bernstein appointed Rep. Huether and Rep. Grumbo to such committee, the motion prevailed.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

REP. MONSON MOVED that a committee of two be appointed to escort Miss North Dakota Carrie Haberstroh to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

REMARKS OF CARRIE HABERSTROH, MISS NORTH DAKOTA

Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Representatives. Thank you so much for the honor to speak to you and it has been an incredible honor to represent the great state of North Dakota. I have enjoyed this opportunity to return to North Dakota and to travel throughout, speaking to different schools and community organizations.

I speak about Alzheimer's disease and also about my experiences growing up, in a speech entitled "A Will and A Way." As a girl I was overweight, quiet, and very introverted, but I managed to turn that around. I became very active in different organizations and athletics. I worked hard to achieve my five-year goal of winning the state discus title. My activities and achievements opened the door to Harvard and other Ivy League schools--opportunities I had never dreamed of.

So I encourage kids to reach for their dreams and avoid putting limits on what they can achieve.

I have really enjoyed my education at Harvard. I have learned a lot. But the person I am, my ideals, morals, and my work ethic are still very much a product of this state.

I am also an accurate representative being half German, a quarter Swedish, and a quarter Norwegian. I had the wonderful opportunity to visit Norway as an Ambassador this summer on a two-month exchange program there. It was really an incredible learning experience. So traveling abroad and meeting students from all over the world has really helped me to realize how fortunate I am to have grown up in this state. I am really impressed with students around the state as well. During my speeches, I ask the kids--what would you like to be when you grow up? I get this wide range of answers--from microbiologists, paleontologists, farmers, and meat cutters. I said, "A butcher?" "No, a meat cutter." I remember one preschool boy last week said he wanted to be a power ranger. The kid next to him slugged him and said there are no power rangers in North Dakota. There aren't any power rangers in North Dakota, but this state is full of many heroes--in the school systems, in our communities, and there are many right here in this room.

I have realized one really unique aspect of this state is the North Dakota networking, and how no matter where I travel people know people from my hometown that are relatives. I even experienced this at the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey. I was in the Boardwalk Parade and I was wearing a costume that was supposed to represent my state. So I wore a white fake fur jacket and white fur-topped boots and there was a giant thermometer on the side reading about 40 below. All along this six-mile parade route it was crowded with people, and every so often I would hear a person yell--Fargo or Bismarck or Minot. I would look and wave at them and there was this gleam in their eyes like--I know someone there, I've been there. I thought to myself later, I bet Miss Florida doesn't ride this parade and hear "Miami" and turn and wave, but that is something really special about this state. Being a contestant at the Miss America Pageant was really memorable and an exciting experience.

I have also enjoyed the opportunity to speak about Alzheimer's disease, my national platform issue. My grandmother has had this disease for about 12 years now, and she is in the very late stages. When I was a little girl, Mom told me that Grandma has a disease where she forgets things. I could understand when she forgot where her jacket was or where ever she was going the next day, but it was really hard for me to understand why she didn't recognize me and she didn't know my name. So I try to explain this to kids and try to help them understand it better. This summer I went to Washington, D.C., and spoke with a head advocate for Alzheimer's disease. He told me about the latest advancements and also about a rural initiative program. This is currently in Minnesota and several rural states, they are hoping to bring it here. It is about bringing information and resources to people in rural areas, and this is especially helpful. Seventy percent of all people with Alzheimer's disease are cared for in the home, and so bringing information and conference calls and technologies like this to those people is really helpful, to help them to understand the disease and how they can take care of these people. It is sad to think of how hard my grandparents worked to provide for their children and themselves. Now their life savings is vanishing at $6,000 a month to cover my grandmother's nursing home care. This isn't a small problem, currently there are 4 million people in the nation who have Alzheimer's disease, this is projected to be 14 million in a matter of decades. We are very hopeful that a vaccine will be achieved within about 10 years. That really depends, how soon or how late we get it, on the funding and support provided. So I just ask you to keep the victims of Alzheimer's disease and their families in your hearts when you deal with bills related to this issue.

I appreciate your time. This has truly been a great honor, and as the Norwegians would say "tusen takk," a thousand thanks.

MOTION

REP. BELTER MOVED to print Miss North Dakota's remarks in the House Journal, the motion prevailed.

"SECTION 17. AMENDMENT. Section 54-44.3-12.2 of the 1999 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-44.3-12.2. Employee complaints - Cooperation in development and implementation of basic agency grievance procedures and a statewide appeal mechanism - Appeals. It is the intent of the state of North Dakota to assure fair and equitable treatment and promote harmony between and among all classified employees. To ensure this the state desires to resolve bona fide employee complaints as quickly as possible. The division shall cooperate with and assist the various departments, agencies, and institutions of the state in the development and implementation of basic agency grievance procedures and a statewide appeal mechanism. The division shall certify appeals from nonprobationary employees in the classified service which are related to discrimination, merit system qualification, reprisals, reduction in force, forced relocation, demotion with loss of pay, suspension without pay, and dismissal, and from applicants for positions in the classified service related to discrimination. Upon receipt of an appeal, the division shall submit a written request to the director of the office of administrative hearings to designate an administrative hearing officer for the division to conduct the hearing and related proceedings, including receiving evidence and preparing findings of fact, conclusions of law, and issuing a final decision. The moving party in the initial action bears the burden of proof in the appeal. An appeal to the district court from the determination of the administrative hearing officer must be filed according to chapter 28-32, but neither the division nor the office of administrative hearings may be named as a party to the appeal under chapter ~~23-32~~ 28-32 unless an employee of one of those two agencies is involved in the grievance.

SECTION 18. AMENDMENT. Section 57-38-71 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-38-71. Definitions applicable to sections 57-38-71 through 57-38-74. As used in sections 57-38-71 through 57-38-74, unless the context otherwise requires:
