

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Sixty-first Legislative Assembly

* * * * *

Bismarck, March 19, 2009

The House convened at 1:00 p.m., with Speaker Monson presiding.

The prayer was offered by Pastor John Fanella, Beulah Congregational Church, Beulah.

The roll was called and all members were present except Representatives Bellew, Metcalf, and Porter.

A quorum was declared by the Speaker.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. R. KELSCH: Mr. Speaker: I rise on a point of personal privilege.

Rep. Todd Porter and I are proud to honor the team, the coaches and the Mandan Braves boys' basketball program today and we are pleased to have them with us in the Chamber today.

On Saturday, March 14, 2009, the Mandan Braves boys basketball team defeated the West Fargo Packers by a score of 57 to 46. The state championship capped off an excellent season in which the Mandan Braves had a record of 24 wins and only one loss. This is the fifth state boy's basketball title for the Mandan Braves. The last championship came in 1981, when Rep. Todd Porter's brother, Tracy, played on the team.

In addition to the team victory, Mandan Coach Jason Horner, was voted the Coach of the Year in his first year coaching the Braves. Mandan Junior Brian Kielpinski, was named MVP of the tournament and Kielpinski, Jordan Maurer and Jordan Thilmony were named to the "All-Tournament Team".

Not only are these young men outstanding on the court, they also excel in the classroom and are active in the community.

District 34, the City of Mandan, and the State of North Dakota are very proud of Coach Horner, his assistant coaches, and all of the Mandan boys basketball players for their accomplishments. Congratulations to the Class A Champions, the Mandan Boys Basketball team!

MOTION

REP. VIGESAA MOVED that the remarks of Rep. R. Kelsch be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 34-01-20 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

34-01-20. Employer retaliation prohibited - Department of labor assistance - Civil action for relief - Penalty.

1. An employer may not discharge, discipline, ~~threaten~~ ~~discrimination~~ ~~intimidate~~, or penalize, ~~discriminate against~~, ~~threaten any of these prohibited actions against~~, or otherwise retaliate against an employee regarding the employee's compensation or benefits, conditions, location, terms, duties, or privileges of employment because:
 - a. The employee, or a person acting on behalf of an employee, in good faith, reports a violation or suspected violation of federal, state, or local law, ordinance, regulation, or rule to an employer, a governmental body, or a law enforcement official.

- b. The employee is requested by a public body or official to participate in an investigation, a hearing, or an inquiry.
 - c. The employee refuses an employer's order to perform an action that the employee believes violates local, state, or federal law, ordinance, rule, or regulation. The employee must have an objective basis in fact for that belief and shall inform the employer that the order is being refused for that reason.
2. An employer who willfully violates this section is guilty of an infraction.
 3. An employee asserting a violation of this section may bring a civil action for injunctive relief or actual damages, or both, within one hundred eighty days after the alleged violation, completion of proceedings under subsection 4, or completion of any grievance procedure available to the employee under the employee's collective bargaining agreement, employment contract, or any public employee statute, rule, or policy, whichever is later.
 - a. If the court determines that a violation has or is occurring under this section, the court may order, ~~as the court deems appropriate,~~ reinstatement of the employee, backpay for no more than two years after the violation, reinstatement of fringe benefits, temporary or permanent injunctive relief, or any combination of these remedies. Interim earnings or amounts earnable with reasonable diligence by the employee, from the same employer, must reduce backpay otherwise allowable. In any action under this section, the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party as part of the costs of litigation.
 - b. An employee whose collective bargaining agreement, employment contract, or public employee rights provides a process through which recourse for conduct prohibited by subsection 1 is available must exercise that process to completion before commencing an action under this subsection, and if that process provides for judicial review by statutory appeal, then recourse under this subsection is not available.
 4. The department of labor shall receive complaints of violations of this section and may attempt to obtain voluntary compliance with this section through informal advice, negotiation, or conciliation. In order to receive assistance from the department of labor, a person claiming to be aggrieved by a violation of this section shall file a complaint with the department within three hundred days after the alleged act of wrongdoing. An employee is not prohibited from filing, or required to file, a complaint with the department of labor under this subsection before proceeding under other provisions of this section.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 34-11.1-04 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

34-11.1-04. ~~Violations for misuse reported by employee - Reprisals~~
Employer retaliation prohibited - Furnishing false information - Department of labor assistance - Civil action for relief.

1. ~~An employee may, without fear of reprisal, report in writing to the employee's respective agency head, a state's attorney, the attorney general, or an employee organization the existence of:~~
 - a. ~~A job-related violation of local, state, or federal law, rule, regulation, or ordinance.~~
 - b. ~~The job-related misuse of public resources.~~
2. ~~For having made a report under subsection 1, no employee will:~~
 - a. ~~Be dismissed from employment.~~

- b. ~~Have salary increases or employment related benefits withheld.~~
 - e. ~~Be transferred or reassigned.~~
 - d. ~~Be denied a promotion that the employee otherwise would have received.~~
 - e. ~~Be demoted.~~
 - f. ~~Be discriminated against in any term or condition of employment.~~
3. An employer may not discharge, discipline, intimidate, penalize, discriminate against, threaten any of these prohibited actions against, or otherwise retaliate against an employee regarding the employee's compensation or benefits, conditions, location, terms, duties, or privileges of employment because:
- a. The employee, or a person acting on behalf of an employee, reports to the employer, employee organization, the attorney general, the state auditor, the labor commissioner, or a law enforcement official:
 - (1) A violation or suspected violation of federal, state, or local law, ordinance, regulation, or rule; or
 - (2) A job-related misuse of public resources.
 - b. The employee is requested by a public body or official to participate in an investigation, a hearing, or an inquiry.
 - c. The employee refuses an employer's order to perform an action the employee believes violates local, state, or federal law, ordinance, rule, or regulation. The employee must have an objective basis in fact for this belief and shall inform the employer that the order is being refused for that reason.
2. An employee who intentionally furnishes false information is subject to disciplinary action, including suspension or dismissal as determined by the employee's appointing authority or designee. An employee dismissed under this subsection may appeal first to the ~~state personnel board~~ human resource management services division and then to the district court in the manner prescribed by chapter 28-32, or to other appropriate offices and then to district court if the employee is not under the jurisdiction of the ~~state personnel board~~ human resource management services division.
3. An employee asserting a violation of subsection 1 may bring a civil action for injunctive relief or actual damages, or both, within one hundred eighty days after the alleged violation, completion of proceedings under subsection 4, or completion of any grievance procedure available to the employee under the employee's collective bargaining agreement, employment contract, or any public employee statute, rule, or policy, whichever is later.
- a. If the court determines that a violation has or is occurring under subsection 1, the court may order reinstatement of the employee, backpay for no more than two years after the violation, reinstatement of fringe benefits, temporary or permanent injunctive relief, or any combination of these remedies. Interim earnings or amounts earnable with reasonable diligence by the employee, from the same employer, must reduce backpay otherwise allowable. In any action under this section, the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party as part of the costs of litigation.
 - b. An employee whose collective bargaining agreement, employment contract, or public employee rights provide a process through which recourse for conduct prohibited by subsection 1 is available shall exercise that process to completion before commencing an action under this subsection, and if that process provides for judicial review by statutory appeal, then recourse under this subsection is not available.

4. The department of labor shall receive complaints of violations of subsection 1. In order to receive assistance from the department of labor under this subsection, an employee claiming to be aggrieved by a violation of subsection 1 shall file a complaint with the department within three hundred days after the alleged act of wrongdoing. Except as provided under this section, an employee is not prohibited from filing, or is not required to file, a complaint with the department of labor under this subsection before proceeding with any other legal remedy available.
- a. An executive branch state employee whose collective bargaining agreement, employment contract, or public employee rights provides a process through which recourse for conduct prohibited by subsection 1 is available:
- (1) May file a complaint with the department of labor for assistance in obtaining voluntary assistance under subdivision c; and
 - (2) May not file a complaint under this subsection seeking an administrative decision.
- b. Except as provided under subdivision a, if an executive branch state employee files a complaint of violation of subsection 1 with the department of labor, upon receipt of the complaint, the department of labor shall establish whether the employee seeks assistance in obtaining voluntary assistance or whether the employee seeks an administrative decision.
- (1) If the employee seeks voluntary assistance, the department of labor shall review the complaint to determine whether the complaint may be substantiated. If the department determines the complaint may be substantiated, the department shall attempt to obtain voluntary compliance with this section through informal advice, negotiation, or conciliation. A department of labor determination under this paragraph is not an appealable order.
 - (2) If the employee seeks an administrative decision, the department of labor shall review the complaint and shall issue an administrative decision. The department of labor decision may order reinstatement of the employee, backpay for no more than two years after the violation, reinstatement of fringe benefits, temporary or permanent injunctive relief, or any combination of these remedies. Interim earnings or amounts earnable with reasonable diligence by the employee, from the same employer, must reduce backpay otherwise allowable. Additionally, the decision may award reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party. A party may appeal the decision in the manner prescribed by chapter 28-32. If an employee seeks an administrative decision under this paragraph, the employee may not bring a separate civil action for injunctive relief or actual damages.
- c. If an employee not covered under subdivision b files a complaint of violation of subsection 1 with the department of labor, the department shall review the complaint to determine whether the complaint may be substantiated. If the department determines the complaint may be substantiated, the department shall attempt to obtain voluntary compliance with this section through informal advice, negotiation, or conciliation. A department of labor determination under this subdivision is not an appealable order."
