POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. TVEIT rose on a point of personal privilege.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE TVEIT

MR. SPEAKER: My Pastor, Alan L. Hathaway, Riverdale Community Church, shared the following thoughts. My intent is not intended to offend anyone, but rather to describe the importance of Sanctity of Human Life Sunday and Martin Luther King Day, which ironically are back to back on the calendar. These thoughts reflect who I am, who I have become, and one of the many reasons I have chosen to serve in the North Dakota House of Representatives.

Alan Hathaway stated, "In 1973 the United States Supreme Court determined that abortion was acceptable throughout gestation, up to the moment of birth, and no state could (by state law) restrict access to abortion. This view is established on the principle of right to privacy which has dubious legal standing within the Constitution of the United States. In fact, most legal scholars see Roe vs. Wade as poorly written legal precedent. Those who defend abortion on demand, now defend it as settled law which derives its authority based on longevity and acceptance by the community. Surprisingly, this was the same argument used by pro-slavery advocates who argued that while the allowance of slavery within the Constitution of the United States was inconsistent with the principles stated in the same Constitution, the longevity and acceptance of slavery indicated that it was an acceptable practice. Christianity from its beginning was opposed to abortion as was the Jewish community in which Christianity came into being. The reason Christianity challenged the Greco-Roman culture on this point was that Christians, along with the Jewish people, saw humans in every aspect as being created in the image of God. The wanton taking of human life at any stage was viewed as an offense against God's creation. Both the Old Testament and New Testament support this view. This is the reason I am pro-life."

Although Martin Luther King's involvement was well after the abolition of slavery in this country, he led the charge fighting for equal rights and justice for all. May God help us to remember as we, in the work of this assembly, strive together to respect and honor each other regardless of race, color, or party affiliations. With God as our judge, may we stand together defending today's slavery victims; the slaves of human trafficking, those with mental and physical disabilities, the elderly, the helpless, and the unborn. Their well-being is in the palm of our hands. Never shall we allow any of the above oppressions to become the acceptable law and practices in America based solely on the law of longevity of existence.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. POLLERT rose on a point of personal privilege.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE POLLERT

MR. SPEAKER: On this third Monday in January, as we do every year, we honor the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This holiday has become engrained in our state's tradition and reflects many of the values we hold dear as North Dakotans. Today, we honor the boldness of Dr. King to believe, as our founders did, that the equality of all men is self-evident. As history reflects, Dr. King is remembered as many things. He was father, a husband, a reverend, and a man of deep faith. He was a civil rights leader who was grounded in the most basic principles of democracy and courage. However, it's important to note he was also unpopular at times. In his pursuit for equality, Dr. King was routinely slandered in the media and the public square, arrested nearly 30 times, and regularly stood face-to-face with threats and violence against himself and his family. Nonetheless, against great opposition, Dr. King pushed forward a message contrary to that of many during that time: nonviolence and peace. Dr. King's message of unity, equality, and nonviolence are as pertinent today as they were in his lifetime. Throughout the civil rights movement, he worked with members of both political parties, religious leaders of all denominations, and people of all colors to bring about the societal change that we recognize today. His efforts of partnership and cooperation, even with those he disagreed with, serve as an example and inspiration for us today. With the current divides which exist in our state and country, it is crucial that members of this legislature remember the efforts of Dr. King and work together to best represent the people of North Dakota. In one of his many incarcerations, King wrote his "Letter From Birmingham Jail", in which he stated injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. You see, even in his darkest moments, King worked with a sense of hope and conviction that continues to embody the American spirit today. The people of our state have elected each and every one of us to be leaders. We therefore must continue the fight to address injustice, to give grace, to show respect, to seek truth, and to listen with humility. I hope that we can be inspired by the courage and conviction of Dr. King as we represent our districts in the Sixty-seventh Legislative Assembly.
