To whom it may concern,

The restaurant and bar industry have taken a large hit this year with Covid-19, because of occupancy restrictions and the reduction of hours of operation.

Having the ability to serve alcohol at the same time as the other 6 days of the week would help & allow business owners to help recoup some of those losses. Many sporting events take place before noon on Sundays, also many people would enjoy a mimosa or champagne with brunch.

It should be up to each individual owner if they would like to be open. If restaurants and bars can serve alcohol every other day of the week at 8:00 am then why not Sundays?

Thanks for your consideration,
