This bill is utterly insane. It would require law enforcement to know every single person in the state's assigned sex/gender at birth, as well as require them to check it anytime a person called another person by a pronoung that might not match their appearance.

This bill would be nearly unable to be enforced, and people call other people by pronouns besides their agab all the time.

Keep in mind, that pronouns include the words you, I, me, us, she, her, he, him, they, them, it, its, and that's not even counting any neo pronouns or nonbinary pronouns.

Just normal every day words that people use.
