What would Jesus do? Definitely, not live in North Dakota.

Surely, Jesus would not ask to see a child's genitals to confirm their sex. Human beings who don't have gender dysphoria will be unaffected if the bill passes or fails. Which one of the Senators Clemens, Vedaa, or Weston will sleep better at night after children who don't receive gender affirming care commit suicide or live lives with PTSD. Surely, the Senators are experts in gender and sexuality if they feel so inclined to punish others for seeking out professional medical and mental health practitioners regarding their gender and sexuality.

Not only do the Senators want to know if what is in one's pants matches their view of social norms, they also want to test one's DNA? North Dakotans value freedom and liberty and testing the DNA of people because they can't imagine someone living a life different to theirs.

When will North Dakotan Republicans quit obsessing over their constituents genitals and start obsessing over on how to bring young adults back to ND.

Jesus definitely would not want to see if I had a penis or vagina. Jesus was created without either of them.
