

The horses in TRNP are the only wild horses roaming free in the state of North Dakota and should be considered a treasured resource.