Invocation and Welcome
Speaker Robin Weisz

Ladies and Gentlemen, esteemed guests, and cherished family members,

Thank you for joining us at this very special event.

Today we are gathered here to honor those who have served in this chamber but are no longer with us. I have had the privilege to serve with several that we are honoring today. I remember the laughter, the debates, sometimes the tense moments, but always friends, but also the regrets. Regrets in having to miss that music recital or volleyball game or being able to be there to help deal with all the daily problems families deal with.

I want to say a special thank you to all the families here for the support and sacrifices you made so that your family member could serve our great State. We may not say it enough, but we truly appreciate everything you have done so they could serve. So again, Thank You!

Let us pray.

Memorial Poem

"Yesterday"

Composed and Read by Rep. Bernie Satrom

Yesterday. . . They left their work, their farms, their businesses, their homes. . .

Sent by their families, friends, neighbors, and communities, to this place.

Yesterday. . . They were here. . . They sat in these chairs. . . Their voices rang in these halls. They pushed. . . They pulled. . . Not for themselves, but for others, and for the least of these. They won, they lost. Over and over and over. . . Thousands of times, they chose. Some choices were easy, many were not, some with celebration, some with anguish and lost sleep.

To you who were spouses. Yesterday. . . You were there. . . You sent them off. You kept it together. . . Work, farm, family, you took up the slack. And many times, it was you who bound the wounds of the warrior and gave them the courage to fight again.

Today we honor them. . . Their memory, their legacy, their work, their contribution that has given us the quality of life that we now enjoy. . .

And today, on behalf of the grateful State of North Dakota and the people, we honor You. Your sacrifice behind the scenes, that made a difference, then, now, and for our future.

REMARKS OF MAJORITY LEADER

REP. LEFOR

Mr. Speaker and members of the assembly, today we gather in remembrance of those members who have come before us but are no longer with us. Though this service is often somber and solemn, it's also a celebration. We celebrate the distinguished lives and careers of the members we lost in the last biennium.

These men and women were not just legislators; they were husbands, wives, mothers, fathers, friends, and colleagues. Because of the strides and sacrifices made by each of them, North Dakota is a better place.

Every member of this body understands the special privilege we are blessed to serve in the legislative assembly, but we also recognize that we stand on the shoulders of giants. It is those we honor today whose efforts laid the foundation for this chamber. Trust me when I say, our legislative accomplishments would not be possible without the hard work and dedication of those that came before us. We now follow in their footsteps and pray we can have the same impact on future generations that they have had on us.

Serving in this Assembly is not just a sacrifice for us as members, but also for our families. Everyone in this chamber understands first-hand how difficult it is to leave our loved ones and communities behind for four months at a time. Undoubtedly, our service to the state of North Dakota would not be possible without our families. We are honored and grateful to have the family members of our former representatives here with us today.

We recognize your service and sacrifice and the role you have played in making North Dakota the great place it is to live, work and raise a family. Thank you for sharing your loved ones so that the people in your communities could have a voice in this chamber.

We often refer to this chamber as the people's House, and I truly believe it is. Every other year, these members would drop everything and head to Bismarck to do the people's work. They left behind their families, friends, loved ones, and careers. They did so willingly out of a sense of service to our great state. These men and women were regular North Dakotan's who chose to do extraordinary work. They believed their efforts would make a difference in their communities and build a brighter future for their children and grandchildren, and it has.

I want to thank all the families for coming today and we invite you to join us for a reception at the conclusion of the service.

REMARKS OF ASSISTANT MINORITY LEADER
REP. DOBERVICH

Today, as we gather to honor and remember North Dakota public servants, our friends, mentors, and role models who are no longer with us, let us reflect on the lasting impact they had during their time in office. Through their work, they shaped policy, advanced causes, and left an indelible mark on our state. We are forever grateful to each of them for their service to the people of North Dakota and the lasting impacts for generations to come.
