

Please support SCR 4006. The wild horses in Theodore Roosevelt National Park have long been a viewing tradition for my family, and many other North Dakota families, as well as visitors to our beautiful park. It is one of North Dakota's treasures that we need to preserve for our future generations.