Senate Education Committee:

This is in strong opposition to Senate Bill 2303. With the slogan of "competition in education", Competition does bring out the best in educational institutions. Along with that comes "choice in education". We already have that choice in North Dakota. Students can attend a school of their choosing with the current laws of open enrollment, non-tuition agreements, private schools, and home schooling. The bigger question should be is who is to pay for a private or home-schooled education?

If the state wishes to spend money on non-public schools, should the state not make the rules of equal balance and enforcement of education law equal? Tilting the rules in favor of one organization over another that is geared toward the same goal of education is what I consider a violation of equal protection under the law.

If the State of North Dakota wishes to adopt this legislation, the legislative body should either have all private schools and home school parents follow the same rules as Public Schools do. The other alternative is to abolish all rules that the Public Schools must follow that Private Schools currently do not have to follow.

The current bill as written also has the following flaws and questions:

- The $8,858 payment or 80% for the program. After the mill levy deduct, the LaMoure School receives $8,198 from the state based on our Weighted Student Units. Based on these numbers, this is 74% of the Per Student Payment Rate from the state.
- The proposed legislation states a student (home school) shall not enroll in a public school. We have home school students in our district that enroll in music class, athletics, speech services, CTE class etc... does that mean now that they need to discontinue those public-school services?
- Will the state of North Dakota still support a private institution of education with state dollars if the focal point of their religion and school mission statement is controversial and not within the current religious affiliation we currently have for private schools in North Dakota?
- Will the state of North Dakota support a Private School Academy such as the IMG Academy in Bradenton Florida which is a private school that is sports-oriented around its students and programs. Should state dollars be used for this type of school?

The Education Savings Account bill is intended to strengthen the education system in North Dakota. I believe it will have the opposite effect. This will lead to weakening of the public school system. It sends the message from the legislature to our public schools and teachers that they are not doing their job. That is the furthest thing from the truth.

It is my hope that the legislature will pass legislation the "lifts up" our public education system and the educators in North Dakota who dedicate their lives to educating all students that come through their door. If this legislation is to pass, I foresee this as another point of chipping away at our public school system that will have an effect on recruitment of teachers to the public school system and the profession.

Below is a shortened list of the North Dakota Century Codes that apply to School Districts (Public Schools) that the laws do not pertain to Private Schools.

Respectfully Submitted - Mitch Carlson, LaMoure Public School
