

I don't understand why tax payers without children in the school system should have to pay for the meals of those that do.