

Another bill where our government tells us how to live. Live free, except on Sundays, before noon. I thought Republicans believed a light-handed government?