

As a North Dakota resident and parent to three amazing children, I hope that ND can show that we are a state that accepts all people. Legislating marriage is allowing government overreach in dictates private relationships, which should not be governed by the state out other government bodies.

Jonna Reule