

In Direct Opposition to HCR 3013.

-It is not the government's responsibility to decide who can marry who. It is a waste of taxpayer money to try to enforce this. What's next? Catholics can't marry Baptist? All weddings must be approved by a priest? Stop trying to enforce ideological control over people. Its unconstitutional and immoral. This is a waste of government time and does nothing to improve the lives of citizens. Just stop trying to force us into your religion. All it does is push more people away from your church.
