Claudia Hebert-Low

My name is Claudia Hebert-Low. I have been following this iconic historic herd of horses for several years. I purchased a yearling from the park in 2016 and after relocating to West Texas from North Dakota in 2019, I continue to assist with documentation and preservation of this historic herd. As a member of North Dakota Badlands Horse Board of Directors, I would like to see this Resolution PASS.

As for the wording "significant" concerns regarding the current management by the Park, I am not in agreement. I feel the Park Management wants to collaborate with the public and I have no significant concerns with the Park's current ability to create a sustainable reproductive herd as they have committed to already. Collaboration requires discussion and compromise and stating Park management efforts are "significantly" concerning directly contradicts a group's ability to work together. I believe the experts in TRNP have the herd's best interest in mind and it will take time to develop a comprehensive plan.

Thank you for continuing to support the horses of TRNP. I appreciate your willingness and concern.
