

These wild horses are a wonderful site to see – running wild as they should be in North Dakota. They bring in tourists so they are positive for the economy. They can clear out dry brush reducing the risk of forest fires. They are a tribute to our dear President Teddy Roosevelt. They deserve to live as they are as a symbol of the untamed lands that started our country. Thank you,

Tamara McCanless