The adjutant general shall have a seal of office and such seal must be delivered by the adjutant general to the successor to that office.

37-03-04. Assistance and expense of office - Payment of accounts.

The adjutant general may have such necessary clerks, instructors, caretakers, employees, and laborers, within the limitations prescribed in appropriations made by the legislative assembly from time to time, as may be required. The adjutant general shall determine national guard membership requirements for employment. The expense of the adjutant general's department, including the salary of the adjutant general and of the assistant adjutant general, clerkhire, the cost of furniture, light, fuel, and postage, and other office expenses, must be paid from the general fund by warrants drawn by the state auditor on the state treasurer upon the order of the governor.

37-03-05. General duties of adjutant general.

The adjutant general is in active control of the military department of this state and shall:

1. Perform the duties pertaining to the adjutant general and other chiefs of staff departments under the regulations and customs of the United States army.
2. Superintend the preparation of all military returns and reports required by the United States from this state.
3. Keep a register of all the officers of the militia and national guard of this state.
4. Keep in the office of the adjutant general all records and papers required to be kept and filed in the office.

5. Cause to be prepared and issued all necessary blank books, blanks, forms, and notices required to carry into full effect this title. All such books and blanks are the property of this state.
6. Adopt any regulations relating to the preparation of reports and returns, and to the care and preservation of military property belonging to this state and to the United States, as in the adjutant general's opinion the conditions demand. The regulations are operative when promulgated in the form of general orders, circulars, or letters of instruction.
7. Render annually to the governor a statement in detail showing the acquisition and disposition of all clothing, ordnance, arms, ammunition, and other military property on hand or issued.
8. Keep in the office of the adjutant general a list of the retired officers of the organized militia, showing age, military experience, and training of each.
9. Perform all other duties prescribed for the adjutant general by law.

37-03-05.1. Biennial report.

The adjutant general may submit a biennial report to the governor and the secretary of state in accordance with section 54-06-04. If submitted, the report must include a detailed statement of all the expenditures for military purposes during the preceding two fiscal years.

37-03-06. Adjutant general responsible for military property in state - Requirements governing shipment - Reports.

The adjutant general is responsible for all arms, ordnance, accoutrements, equipment, and other military property which may be issued to this state by the secretary of defense in compliance with law. The adjutant general shall prepare a return of said arms and other property of the United States at the times and in the manner requested by the secretary of defense. Upon the order of the governor, the adjutant general shall turn into the ordnance department of the United States army the rifles, carbines, bayonets, bayonet scabbards, gun slings, belts, and such other necessary accoutrements and equipment, the property of the United States in possession of this state, which may be replaced from time to time by new arms and equipment sent by the United States in substitution therefor, and shall cause the same to be shipped under instructions from the secretary of defense to the designated arsenal or depot at the expense of the United States. When the national guard of this state is fully armed and equipped with standard service magazine arms and the standard equipment and accoutrements of the United States army, the adjutant general shall cause all the remaining arms and equipment, the property of the United States and in possession of this state, to be transferred and shipped as directed in this section.

37-03-07. Military property - Issuance - Purchase.

The adjutant general shall issue, or cause to be issued, all military property. No military property may be issued to persons or organizations other than those belonging to the national guard of this state or to such portions of the reserve militia as may be called out by the governor. Purchases of property must be by the office of management and budget or as otherwise provided by law. In case of insurrection, invasion, tumult, riot, or breaches of the peace, or of imminent danger thereof, or other exigency, the governor, upon the certificate of the commanding officer of the national guard, may suspend temporarily the operation of this section and direct the adjutant general to purchase in the open market such military property as may be required. The adjutant general shall report such action, with the reason therefor, and a statement of the property purchased and the prices paid therefor, to the legislative assembly at its next session.

37-03-08. Unsuitable military property - Disposal.

All military property of this state found unsuitable after proper inspection must be disposed of by the adjutant general, by sealed bid or at public auction, after advertisement of the same has been published once each week for three consecutive weeks in the official newspaper of the county where the sale is to take place, or it may be sold at private sale when ordered by the governor. In the case of scrap material, it may be sold to established scrap dealers at current prices. The adjutant general shall suspend the sale whenever, in the adjutant general's opinion, better prices may or should be obtained. The adjutant general shall deposit all sale revenues in the state treasury and it must be credited to the national guard improvement fund established by section 37-03-13, which is not subject to the provisions of section 54-44.1-11.

37-03-09. Funds for national guard - Plan of proposed field service to be submitted before receiving.

In order that the national guard may receive the benefit of the funds provided by the Congress of the United States, the adjutant general shall submit a plan of proposed field or camp service of instruction prepared by the commanding officer of the national guard for the ensuing year. Such plan must contain an estimate of the funds required for payment, subsistence, and transportation of that portion of the national guard participating therein. The estimate must contain the details and must be made out in the form required by instructions from the secretary of defense.
