Minutes: Chairman DeKrey called the committee to order on HCR 3051.

Rep Klemm: We were discussing HCR 3008, which provided for a constitutional right for an individual privacy, there were a lot of questions and concerns. People said that this was an issue that should be studied before any action was taken. What HCR 3051 does is to call for a Legislative council study of the issue, relating to individual privacy. If selected would mesh with the SCR. In the February issue of Newsweek, I was reading about Spyware, and the NECI Quick Click. Click on any word and it gives you information about that word. He then reads the paragraph out of Newsweek of February 19th. Talking about the computer revolution. "While there is a revolution going on, but it is happening outside our computers. As information gets stuff from them and gets transmitted to commercial concerns, its a silent revolution. While engaging in Internet activity, most uses are not aware that they are beaming out stuff they would prefer to leave on their desk tops. There is a word for programs that quietly transmits those nuggets. Spyware. It is fair to say that it applies to anything that is under our personal radar that sends out personal information about us or our habits. One case in point is Quick Click. Though it does perform a neat function, creating sometimes useful links for words that are not already hooked to related web sites, it works is problematic.....All users are given a unique identifying number, that is transmitted..... So that when you use Quick Click, information about you is given back." This is the kind of thing that concerns me. I know that the concern is more than in North Dakota but nationally. If this is selected may or may not come up with some sort of constitutional amendment. I would request a DO PASS on this resolution.

Rep Eckre: Isn't the Attorney General going to do a study on privacy.

Rep Klemin: The Attorney General can go his own thing, but what has happened is at his request Senate Bill was introduced. That is limited to financial privacy.

Rep Eckre: How would this study address the issue for North Dakota and then nationally. What can we do by ourselves.

Rep Klemin: It goes back to what is stated on the dollar. "Out of many one", North Dakota can't effect anything national, but if all the states work on it, some positive impact can result.

Chairman DeKrey: Are there any further questions, if not thank you for appearing. If there is not one else to testify on HCR 3051, we will close the hearing on HCR 3051. What are the wishes of the committee.

Minutes: Senator Traynor, opened the hearing on HB 3051.

Rep. Klemin, district 47, testified for the bill. Has the impact on the right to privacy. A lot of people were concerned about privacy laws. Hot issue is individual privacy with the information age.

Senator Nelson, your specific to red flag issues, abortions don't need to be known.

Rep. Klemin, I think it would be a good study.

Senator Traynor, are you familiar with other states?

Rep. Klemin, I would say that they don't have privacy bills coming up every session.

Senator Traynor, if this was in the constitution, wouldn't the court decide what's confidential?

Rep. Klemin, they are doing it now.

Senator Traynor, but the legislature does it now with individual cases. If a privacy provision is in the constitution the legislature will not be able to do anything.

Senator Watne, couldn't this bill change the laws we passed?
