Honorable Kevin Kramer, Commissioner, Public Service Commission:

Rep Froseth: Mr. President Kramer isn't this diminishing the prestige of your position be reducing it from president to chairman?

Kevin Kramer: It would except now I get to hold that title forever. No, actually, I suppose it does to some degree but not being one to care much about titles nor do my fellow commissioners, I think to be technically accurate and a better description of the position is probably better in prestigious company. I will tell you though it is a bit odd when we were at the national meetings and stuff and heard it, for there entities of course it is just on titles and it is peculiar.

Vice Chairman Randy Boehning: Any other questions for President Kramer? Favor? Opposition? Closed the hearing on 2132.

2009 TESTIMONY

TESTIMONY

Chairman Dever and members of the Senate Government and Veterans Affairs Committee, it is a pleasure to appear before you this morning. I am Public Service Commissioner Kevin Cramer and I am here to testify on SB 2132, which the PSC has introduced for your consideration. The legislation makes a small change to the statute which organizes the Public Service Commission. Current state law provides that the PSC shall elect one of its members to serve as "President" of the Commission. The term "President" however, is one that is rarely used among regulatory bodies across the United States. This bill would change the title of our Commission's presiding officer to the much more commonly used, and more technically correct title of "Chairman."

The main reason we have introduced the bill is that in North Dakota the term "President" of the PSC is a misnomer. The title of President generally infers some sort of executive authority that differs from that of the other members of the body. In the case of the Commission, this is not the case. Much like Committee Chairmen in the legislature, the presiding officer of the North Dakota PSC is a "first among equals" position. Commissioners have an equal say in all matters that come before the Commission and the role of our presiding officer is mainly to call meetings to order and facilitate proceedings.

Among all the 50 states, the United States Territories and the federal government, North Dakota's regulatory commission is unique in how it is organized. Only four other states use the term "President." In all but one, the President is a gubernatorial appointment. Of all the other elected state commissions, only Alabama uses the term "President," but even it differs greatly from North Dakota. In Alabama the President of the Commission specifically runs for that position on the general election ballot. The other two members of the Alabama Commission run specifically for "Commissioner" positions.

One final point before concluding this testimony. We understand that the Legislative Council is attempting to make the code gender neutral over time so we specifically asked for guidance on the proper term to use. The title "Chair" is apparently frowned upon because Council views a chair as a piece of furniture rather than a proper title. Chairperson is perhaps better, but is considered somewhat awkward. Instead, we were counseled that in the legislative arena the traditional preference is to consider the term "Chairman" itself gender neutral, with female Chairman to be referred to as "Madam Chairman" and male Chairman as "Mister Chairman."

That ends my testimony. I would be happy to answer any questions you have.
