POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. AARSVOLD: Mr. Speaker: I rise on a point of personal privilege and request that my remarks be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.

Congratulations to Coach Tim Miles and the Mayville State University Comets men's basketball team as they prepare to compete in the NAIA national tournament in Napa, Idaho. Co-champions of the North Dakota Collegiate Athletic Conference, the Mayville State Comets will be competing in their second straight national tournament after playoff victories over fine teams from Jamestown College, the University of Mary, and the University of Minnesota at Crookston.

This most recent athletic success is but one indicator of quality programming, both cocurricular and academic. The Blackburn Award presented jointly to Mayville State and Valley City State recognizes the most outstanding administrative leadership model in the United States. The Harvard Medical School came in second. The 1996 accreditation report from the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education includes two rarely given commendations for the exemplary programming. Mayville State University was one of three schools which received National Science Foundation funding for its mathematics specialist program. 142 colleges competed for that funding.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, we commend Mayville State University for its success and wish them the best as they compete for yet another national honor.
