BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 23-01-18 of the 1995 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

23-01-18. State department of health responsible for control of rabies. The state department of health is responsible for the prevention and control of rabies. The department shall place its primary emphasis on human exposure cases. The department may provide rabies vaccine for individuals whose net financial resources and income are insufficient to enable them to obtain the vaccine.

1. As used in this section:
 - a. "Bite" means any penetration of the skin by teeth.
 - b. "Confinement" means separation of the domestic dog or cat from humans, other than the owner, caretaker, or members of the owner's family or the caretaker's associates, and other animals by restriction of the animal in a house or building, fenced yard or pen, or through use of a leash or tether.
 - c. "Exposure to rabies" means any bite or nonbite by an animal as defined by the advisory committee on immunization practices.
2. Any animal, other than a domestic dog or cat, whether private property or not, which is not shown to have been currently vaccinated for rabies by a vaccine approved for use on that animal by the national association of state public health veterinarians, inc., and for which there is probable cause to believe has exposed a person, as defined by the advisory committee on immunization practices, must be seized and examined for rabies by the state public health laboratory upon order of the state health officer. The owner of an animal, if any, may not obtain an injunction or otherwise prevent the seizure and examination of the animal for rabies, but is entitled to money damages in the amount of the replacement value of the animal which the person legally owned and possessed if the state health officer had reliable evidence, the preponderance of which shows that the animal was vaccinated by a vaccine approved for use on that animal by the national association of state public health veterinarians, inc., and that the animal had not exposed a person as defined by the advisory committee on immunization practices, before ordering the animal to be seized and examined. In addition, the department has the authority to quarantine or exterminate any animal suspected of rabies. If requested to do so by local authorities, the department shall assist them in the prevention and control of rabies where an emergency exists.

4. Any domestic cat or dog that bites or otherwise exposes a human to possible rabies, and when the owner can not produce evidence of appropriate rabies immunization, must be confined at the owner's residence or impounded for a period of at least ten days from the time of the bite or exposure. Judgment regarding impoundment or confinement must be made by a law enforcement officer having appropriate jurisdiction. The officer may consult with a veterinarian, health officer, or physician before making the judgment. The animal must be confined or impounded and observed at the owner's expense. Access for evaluation must be made available to a licensed veterinarian at any time during the confinement period. The cat or dog must be evaluated by a licensed veterinarian at the beginning of confinement, at the first sign of any illness during confinement, and before release from confinement. If at any time the cat or dog becomes ill during the confinement and in the opinion of the examining veterinarian the cat or dog has signs or symptoms of rabies during the confinement period, the animal must be humanely destroyed in a manner that preserves the animal for appropriate rabies examination by the department.
5. Any stray or unwanted domestic cat or dog that bites or otherwise exposes a human to possible rabies must be humanely destroyed in a manner that preserves the animal for appropriate rabies examination by the department as soon as possible after the exposure.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 23-01-19 of the 1995 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 23-25 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

¹ Section 23-01-02 was also amended by section 13 of Senate Bill No. 2052, chapter 432.

Requirements for adoption of air quality rules more strict than federal standards.

1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this title, the department may not adopt air quality rules or standards affecting coal conversion and associated facilities, petroleum refineries, or oil and gas production and processing facilities which are more strict than federal rules or standards under the Clean Air Act [42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.], nor may the department adopt air quality rules or standards affecting such facilities when there are no corresponding federal rules or standards, unless the more strict or additional rules or standards are based on a risk assessment that demonstrates a substantial probability of significant impacts to public health or property, a cost-benefit analysis that affirmatively demonstrates that the benefits of the more stringent or additional state rules and standards will exceed the anticipated costs, and the independent peer reviews required by this section.
2. The department shall hold a hearing on any rules or standards proposed for adoption under this section on not less than ninety days' notice. The notice of hearing must specify all studies, opinions, and data that have been relied upon by the department and must state that the studies, risk assessment, and cost-benefit analysis that support the proposed rules or standards are available at the department for inspection and copying. If at any time the department intends to rely upon any studies, opinions, risk assessments, cost-benefit analyses, or other information that were not available from the department when it gave its notice of hearing, the department shall give a new notice of hearing not less than ninety days prior to the hearing that clearly identifies the additional or amended studies, analyses, opinions, data or information upon which the department intends to rely and conduct an additional hearing if the first hearing has already been held.
3. In this section:
 - a. "Cost-benefit analysis" means both the analysis and the written document that contains:
 - (1) A description and comparison of the benefits and costs of the rule and of the reasonable alternatives to the rule. The analysis must include a quantification or numerical estimate of the quantifiable benefits and costs. The quantification or numerical estimate must use comparable assumptions (including time periods), specify the ranges of predictions, and explain the margins of error involved in the quantification methods and estimates being used. The costs that must be considered include the social, environmental, and economic costs that are expected to result directly or indirectly from implementation or compliance with the proposed rule.
 - (2) A reasonable determination whether as a whole the benefits of the rule justify the costs of the rule and that the rule will achieve the rulemaking objectives in a more cost-effective manner than other reasonable alternatives, including the alternative of no government action. In evaluating and comparing the costs and benefits, the department shall not rely on cost, benefit, or risk assessment information that is not - accompanied by data, analysis, or supporting materials that would enable the department and other persons interested in the rulemaking to assess the accuracy, reliability, and uncertainty factors applicable to the information.

- b. "Risk assessment" means both the process used by the department to identify and quantify the degree of toxicity, exposure, or other risk posed for the exposed individuals, populations, or resources and the written document containing an explanation of how the assessment process has been applied to an individual substance, activity, or condition. The risk assessment must include a discussion that characterizes the risks being assessed. The risk characterization must include the following elements:
- (1) A description of the exposure scenarios used, the natural resources or subpopulations being exposed, and the likelihood of these exposure scenarios expressed in terms of probability.
 - (2) A hazard identification that demonstrates whether exposure to the substance, activity, or condition identified is causally linked to an adverse effect.
 - (3) The major sources of uncertainties in the hazard identification, dose-response, and exposure assessment portions of the risk assessment.
 - (4) When a risk assessment involves a choice of any significant assumption, inference, or model, the department in preparing the risk assessment shall:
 - (a) Rely only upon environmental protection agency approved air dispersion models.
 - (b) Identify the assumptions, inferences, and models that materially affect the outcome.
 - (c) Explain the basis for any choices.
 - (d) Identify any policy decisions or assumptions.
 - (e) Indicate the extent to which any model has been validated by, or conflicts with, empirical data.
 - (f) Describe the impact of alternative choices of assumptions, inferences, or mathematical models.
 - (5) The range and distribution of exposures and risks derived from the risk assessment.
- c. The risk assessment and cost benefit analysis performed by the department must be independently peer reviewed by qualified experts selected by the air pollution control advisory council.

4. This section applies to any petition submitted to the department pursuant to section 23-01-04.1 that identifies air quality rules or standards affecting coal conversion facilities or petroleum refineries that are more strict than federal rules or standards under the Clean Air Act [42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.] or for which there are no corresponding federal rules or standards, regardless of whether the department has previously adopted the more strict or additional rules or standards pursuant to section 23-01-04.1. This section also applies to any petitions filed under section 23-01-04.1 affecting coal conversion facilities or petroleum refineries that are pending on the effective date of this section for which new rules or standards have not been adopted, and the department shall have a reasonable amount of additional time to comply with the more stringent requirements of this section. To the extent section 23-01-04.1 conflicts with this section, the provisions of this section govern. This section does not apply, however, to existing rules that set air quality standards for odor, hydrogen sulfide, visible and fugitive emissions, or emission standards for particulate matter and sulfur dioxide, but does apply to any new rules governing such matters.
