Thank you, Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives, friends. It's indeed a pleasure for my colleagues and me to be here in your House of Assembly. It's a pleasure to meet with and talk with our neighbors and friends from across the border. I only live 25 miles from the United States border. Most of my relatives live in the United States, so as in many cases in my constituency and indeed across Saskatchewan, we are family and friends. That's why it's extremely important for all of us when we do have some reasons to discuss issues that we do sit down in a friendly manner like neighbors across the fence and talk over these issues and see if we can't come to some sort of a mutual understanding and resolution that benefits both of us. I noticed this morning the weather is a little inclement and when I watched the news report this morning it's snowing at home, also. So just like farm prices, when it's low here it's low in Saskatchewan. When oil prices are down here, they are down in Saskatchewan and we get the same weather. So ladies and gentlemen, we need to talk, we need to be friends, we need to work it out to our mutual benefit. Thank you very much.
