Minutes: Rep. Devlin, Chairman opened the hearing on SB 2116, a bill for an Act to create and enact section 10-15-01.1, a new subsection to section 10-15-36, a new subsection to section 10-15-54, and section 10-15-62 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to legal recognition of electronic records and electronic signatures, exempting some information from open records laws, and fees for filing documents with the secretary of state; and to amend and reenact section 10-15-01 and subsection 1 of section 10-15-29 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to definitions and officers of cooperative associations.

Clara Jenkins Director, Business Division, Secretary of State appearing for Al Jaeger the Secretary of State explained the bill. She followed very closely her prepared statement. A copy of her prepared remarks is attached. The bill allows the Secretary of State to legally accept electronic signatures on documents filed in their office.

Rep. Ekstrom (7.8) Would this preclude the regular way of signing documents ?

Clara Jenkins No -- we will accept almost anything including pencil.

Rep. Devlin, Chairman (8.5) How many you get that you can't find the proper entity to return the check to ? What happens then does the entire amount go to abandoned property and then into the General fund.

Clara Jenkins - probably less than a half dozen -- we don't have that many left any more. We do have to transfer the entire amount to abandoned property division.

Rep. N. Johnson (9.0) Section 5 doesn't make sense because it is not a complete sentence.

Clara Jenkins --That is a new subsection to that section and when this is finally drafted that will find a number in the law.

Rep. Kaldor (10.1) I don't know who drafts these bill but does seem that could have been an amendment.

Rep. Ekstrom Section 10 -15 and it should or begins section 14 --no --- here she quotes the section from the code.

Rep. N. Johnson What qualifies as an electronic signature?

Clara Jenkins (11.5) that section was changes which reflects that electronic signature to anything the filer intended as his signature -- It is a font built into his computer -- it will be encrypted and may be almost anything or even an "x" if that was determined what he wanted.

Rep. Kaldor (12.2) Looking at the first draft of the bill as it was in the Senate -- what is the difference?

Clara Jenkins --the old difference is on page 3 -- the Information Technology Department wanted us to include that subsection 5 under 10-15-01.2 to be sure that nothing here was contrary to the electronic __?__.

RE: SB 2116 – Relating to definitions and officers of cooperative associations

The adoption of this bill will do the following:

Amendment: After introduction of this bill, the Secretary of State became aware that an amendment was needed on page 3 after line 8. A copy of the amendment is attached to this testimony.

Section 1: Introduces electronic record and filing definitions to the Cooperative Association Act. These definitions are identical to the definitions currently appearing in the Business Corporation Act, the Limited Liability Company Act, the Nonprofit Corporation Act, and all of the partnership entity chapters of the North Dakota Century Code. The Cooperative Association Act is the only business entity chapter that does not presently contain a reference to electronic filings.

Although Chapter 9-16 of the North Dakota Century Code pertains to the Electronic Transaction Act and it enables the electronic filing of documents, the Secretary of State has never received a single cooperative filing by electronic means. Most cooperatives function with volunteer boards or boards that are minimally compensated, and rarely with legal counsel.

Therefore, by including limited electronic filing provisions within the Cooperative Association Act, it provides a more direct exposure to cooperative associations. This may motivate cooperatives to consider electronic filing of annual reports and other cooperative related filings with the Secretary of State.

Providing the electronic provisions in the same chapter by which cooperatives are governed is more efficient for the managing boards. In addition, it is also easier and more cost effective to instruct cooperatives in the filing processes when all relevant provisions pertaining to them are embodied in the same chapter of the Century Code.

Section 2: Confirms the legality of an electronic record. The amendment being offered to this section refers to Chapter 9-16 of the North Dakota Century Code and confirms that the electronic provisions provided in the Cooperative Association Act do not limit or supersede any provisions of Chapter 9-16.

Section 3: Allows a cooperative to maintain a treasurer only if their bylaws dictate the necessity of a treasurer. At present, a treasurer is required under North Dakota Century Code 10-15-19 subsection 1. Even with this requirement, there are cooperatives filing with the Secretary of State's office that indicate that they do not have a treasurer. Often they have a secretary or a manager filling the role of a treasurer, but they do not designate the position as the treasurer's position. By making the treasurer an optional position, it enables all cooperatives to be in compliance with state laws regarding officers.

Section 4: Enables the state to retain fees submitted for the filing of an annual report, even when the annual report cannot be filed because of deficient information or incorrect submission of fees. This same provision in this bill, as it relates to annual reports filed with the Secretary of State, is being proposed for all other business entity annual reports in a separate bill being introduced this session.

An annual report is for a cooperative's previous fiscal or calendar year. The filing fee is $20, or if filed after the due date, $25 or $35. When an annual report is rejected and the filing is never completed, the Secretary of State sends a minimum of four letters requesting completion. If no response is received, the entity is ultimately dissolved.

Under present law, if the filing process of the annual report is never completed and the entity is dissolved, the previously submitted fee must be refunded. However, because of the time that has elapsed, the state refund check most often cannot be cashed because the organization no longer has legal existence, and in most cases, the entity has ceased operations and the board has been disbanded. As a result, the check becomes an abandoned property and considerable administration costs have been incurred. Retention of the fee in these situations will offset the considerable expense that has already been expended in communicating with an entity, which is no longer operating.

Section 5: Establishes the same fee that is currently paid by all other business entities when they submit documents to the Secretary of State for pre-approval prior to the time of submission. With cooperative merger transactions, they often are quite complex and lengthy.

Section 6: Provides the same provision that now exists in all other business entity chapters, which maintains the confidentiality of social security or federal identification numbers that may be found within the cooperative records filed with the Secretary of State.

RE: SB 2116 – Relating to definitions and officers of cooperative associations

The adoption of this bill will establish the same procedures and options for cooperative associations that now exist for all other business entities filed with the Secretary of State's office and it will do the following:

Section 1: Introduces electronic record and filing definitions to the Cooperative Association Act. These definitions are identical to the definitions currently appearing in the Business Corporation Act, the Limited Liability Company Act, the Nonprofit Corporation Act, and all of the partnership entity chapters of the North Dakota Century Code. The Cooperative Association Act is the only business entity chapter that does not presently contain reference to electronic filings.

Although Chapter 9-16 of the North Dakota Century Code pertains to the Electronic Transaction Act and enables the electronic filing of documents, the Secretary of State has never received a single cooperative filing by electronic means. A relatively large percentage of cooperatives function with volunteer boards, or boards that are minimally compensated, and rarely utilizing legal counsel.

Therefore, by including limited electronic filing provisions within the Cooperative Association Act, it provides a more direct exposure to cooperative associations. It may motivate them to consider the electronic filing of annual reports and the electronic submission of other cooperative related documents with the Secretary of State's office.

Providing the electronic provisions in the same chapter by which cooperatives are governed is more efficient for the managing boards. In addition, it is also easier and more cost effective to instruct cooperatives in the filing processes when all relevant provisions pertaining to them are embodied in the same chapter (Chapter 10-15) of the Century Code.

Section 2: Confirms the legality of an electronic record.

Section 3: Allows a cooperative to maintain a treasurer only if their bylaws dictate the necessity of a treasurer. At present, under N.D.C.C. §10-15-19(1), a cooperative is required to have a treasurer. Nevertheless, there are cooperatives filing reports with the Secretary of State's office indicating that they do not have a treasurer. Often they have a secretary or a manager filling the role of a treasurer, but they do not designate the position as the treasurer's position. By making the treasurer an optional position, it enables all cooperatives to more easily comply with state laws regarding officers.

Section 4: Enables the state to retain fees submitted for filing of an annual report, even when the annual report cannot be filed because of deficient information or incorrect submission of fees. This same provision, as it relates to annual reports filed with the Secretary of State, is being proposed for all other business entity annual reports in separate bills being introduced this session, HB 1273 and HB 1391 (which have both passed the House).

An annual report is for a cooperative's previous fiscal or calendar year. The filing fee is $20, or if filed after the due date, $25 or $35. When an annual report is rejected and the filing is never completed, the Secretary of State sends a minimum of four letters requesting completion. If no response is received, the entity is ultimately dissolved.

Under present law, if the filing process of the annual report is never completed and the entity is dissolved, the previously submitted fee must be refunded. However, because of the time that has elapsed, the state issued refund check most often cannot be cashed because the organization no longer has legal existence, the entity has ceased operations, and the board has been disbanded. As a result, the check becomes abandoned property and considerable administration costs have been incurred to refund money to a non-existent organization. Retention of the fee in these situations will offset the considerable expense that already expended in communicating with an entity, which is no longer operating.

Section 5: Establishes the same fee that is currently paid by all other business entities when they submit documents to the Secretary of State for pre-approval prior to the time of submission. With cooperative merger transactions, they often are quite complex and lengthy.

Section 6: Provides the same provision that now exists in all other business entity chapters, which maintains the confidentiality of social security or federal identification numbers that may be found within the cooperative records filed with the Secretary of State.

Your favorable consideration of this bill is requested.
