

Testimony

Presented to: Interim Committee on Transportation

Presented by: Jon Mielke, Researcher
Upper Great Plains Transportation Institute

Date: January 30, 2008

Chairman O'Connell and committee members, my name is Jon Mielke. I am a research associate with the Upper Great Plains Transportation Institute.

I appeared before you at your last meeting and briefed you on an outreach effort that is designed to generate public involvement and input on issues related to transportation infrastructure and personal mobility. I asked Chairman O'Connell for some time on today's agenda so I could update you on our efforts.

Since your last meeting, we have expanded this project's steering committee and finalized plans for eight public informational input sessions. A list of steering committee members is attached to my testimony.

The informational input sessions are scheduled for the last week in March and the first week in April. These workshops will be held in each of the state's regional centers. The dates and locations for these workshops are identified in the informational brochure that is attached to my testimony.

The agenda for these workshops will be divided into two distinct parts. The initial presentations at each workshop will be largely informational and will focus on North Dakota's existing transportation infrastructure and related service providers. Latter portions of the program will be designed to elicit attendee input concerning the adequacy of existing facilities and services and suggestions for possible modifications. These discussions will also involve existing funding sources and future options.

We will attempt to generate input in several ways, including structured luncheon discussions, a panel of local leaders, an open microphone session, and a questionnaire that attendees can fill out on site or via the project's web site. A draft copy of the input questionnaire is attached for your review.

We have developed an extensive list of invitees for these workshops. As the attached list indicates, it includes elected officials and other community leaders, service providers, transportation planners, law enforcement personnel, school administrators, energy industry representatives, major shippers, and the media. We are in the process of mailing out invitations to approximately 4,500 North Dakotans.

These eight workshops will be followed up by a state conference which will be held in Mandan on May 1st. This conference will summarize the input that was received at the local workshops and solicit further input concerning specific recommendations related to future infrastructure and personal mobility needs and funding options. We hope to provide a related report to your committee shortly thereafter.

Chairman O'Connell and committee members, that concludes my presentation. I would be happy to respond to any questions that you might have.
