The governing body of any county may levy a tax for emergency purposes not exceeding the limitation in subsection 22 of section 57-15-06.7. The emergency fund may not be considered in determining the budget or the amount to be levied for each fiscal year for normal tax purposes but must be shown in the budget as an "emergency fund" and may not be deducted from the budget as otherwise provided by law. Each county may create an emergency fund, and all taxes levied for emergency purposes by any county, when collected, must be deposited in the emergency fund, and must be used only for emergency purposes caused by the destruction or impairment of any county property necessary for the conduct of the affairs of the county, emergencies caused by nature or by the entry by a court of competent jurisdiction of a judgment for damages against the county. When the amount of money in the emergency fund, plus the amount of money due the fund from outstanding taxes, equals the amount produced by a levy of five mills on the taxable valuation of property in a county with a population of thirty thousand or more, ten mills on the taxable valuation of property in a county with a population of less than thirty thousand but more than five thousand, or fifteen mills on the taxable valuation of property in a county with a population of five thousand or fewer, the levy authorized by this section must be discontinued, and no further levy may be made until required to replenish the emergency fund.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

SEN. FLAKOLL rose on a point of personal privilege.

REMARKS OF SENATOR FLAKOLL

MR. PRESIDENT: I would ask the Senate to pause from its important work to thank the flood fighters who are currently doing battle with high waters in the eastern part of the state. This battle was begun nearly two months ago and continues to be hard fought.

To give perspective on the immensity of the issue, Mr. President, I would ask all in the chamber to look up at the ceiling. The distance from your eyes to the ceiling is about the same distance that the water is above flood stage. As of today, that distance is about 21 feet, and it is rising.

At its crest, the river will have a flow equal to more than 11 million gallons, or the equivalent of almost 24 water towers, in a single minute. The rain and high wind forecast will also prove to be obstacles during the continued fight this weekend, leading many to predict this flood to be one of the top five floods in the history in my community.

Nonetheless, the people of North Dakota and the Red River Valley are resilient. During times of crisis, we hear a lot about "heroes". Now, not all heroes or super-heroes wear capes or have an "S" on their chest. In fact, the heroes I thank today often wear quite different attire. It may be a student in a Bison sweatshirt who is standing next to another wearing a UND hat. Next to them in the sandbag line may be an MSUM Dragon fan or a Concordia College student. The flood fighting effort includes everyday heroes who were born and raised in North Dakota as well as those from out of state. Even international students are pitching in to help save their new home community.

These volunteers are essential to the ongoing flood fighting effort and provide proof positive why this is the greatest place in the world to live.

Mr. President, I would ask the Senate to join me in recognizing and thanking the city and county workers as well as the men and women of the North Dakota National Guard who have been mobilized to help in this fight.

I would also like to extend a special thank you to the thousands of volunteers who have put in countless hours of their personal time to help preserve not just my home, but the homes and businesses of thousands of people.

These volunteers and professionals are a testament to the strength and will of the North Dakota people. Their tireless effort to protect and preserve the homes, businesses, and great economic engine of our Red River Valley epitomizes the spirit of our state to withstand adverse conditions and overcome great obstacles.

With a combination of modern innovation, true grit, and the North Dakota spirit, we must and we will triumph.

REQUEST

SEN. FLAKOLL REQUESTED that his remarks be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.
