5 WHEREAS, supplemental security income rescues from poverty over 7,650 low-income 6 individuals with disabilities in this state; and

7 WHEREAS, many older residents depend on social security benefits for retirement income; 8 and

9 WHEREAS, the income of a recipient's spouse is considered in calculating the benefits for 10 a recipient; and

11 WHEREAS, benefits for a married couple, both of whom receive supplemental security 12 income and have no other income, are 25 percent less than the total they would receive if they 13 were living together but not as husband and wife; and

21 affordability; the ability of married recipients in this state to meet their basic needs; whether the 22 marriage penalty holds married recipients below the poverty level in this state; and the manner 23 in which other states address the impact of the marriage penalty;
